

puking!

"Who are you?! How did you know that I would be here?" She suddenly realized that she had fallen into a trap.

Now, she knew that Sebastian would definitely not be there.

It was a trap set up by Lori.

Sure enough, the man smiled extremely tenderly. "Sabrina, you can't be like this to me, can you? You were the one who invited me here, and now you're asking me who I am? Is it because you suddenly met your dad? Then I'll just leave.

"However, Sabrina, I will wait for you here. You need to come and keep me company later, okay?"

After that, the man's mouth, which stank of alcohol, started to move toward Sabrina's face.

What an unscrupulous person!

Sabrina was furious.

She suddenly raised her feet and stomped on the man's foot. The man immediately let go in pain.

Sabrina raised her hand and slapped the man's face.

man's face.

"I don't care who you are, but you'd better show me some respect! Otherwise I won't let you off easily!" She considered that it was a public setting, so she could not go too overboard.

Otherwise, if someone with ill intentions recorded it and spread it on the internet, then Sabrina would be pushed into a storm in minutes.

In the lobby, all she could do was preserve her dignity; she did not do anything like berate anyone.

After being slapped, the man was stunned, and then he said, "Since it's not convenient for you to meet me, I'll leave!"

After that, the man turned around and ran.

Sabrina then turned around to look at Lori, her rage still unsated.

"You! Was this a trap you set up for me?" Sabrina coldly asked.

Before Lori and Jennie could answer, Sean already stood up from his seat.

Sean walked in front of Sabrina, and delivered a slap right to her face.

Sabrina was speechless

Sabrina was speechless.

"Shameless woman! You're really getting more and more brazen! You actually dared to meet another man privately in such a large hotel!"

Sabrina remained silent.

"After you found your grandfather, do you suddenly feel like your grandfather will protect you from everything? So you act so unscrupulously and so shamelessly?"

"Good thing I saw it for myself today. Otherwise, I wouldn't have dared to believe it! You... You shameless thing. How could you do this... How could you treat my son like this!"

Sean was incredibly furious!

At that moment, he wanted nothing more than to beat his daughter-in-law to death.

He had thought that he could not reveal all the dirty laundry regarding his daughter-in-law in front of Jennie and Lori. After all, things like that should be kept within the family.
