

“Auntie Mei, do you know where Fan has gone?” asked Xu Lei after chatting with Ye Xi-Mei for a while.

Surprisingly, Ye Xi-Mei was no help to Xu Lei as she didn't know Ye Fan's whereabouts either.

“What about Yunzhou? Has Fan gone back?” asked Xu Lei again gently.

Ye Xi-Mei shook her head. A look of worry quietly appeared on her face. “No, he hasn't. Mu-Cheng called me a few days ago asking about him too. She said Fan hadn't contacted her in days. Sigh! Even though he's a grown-up, he keeps making us worried. No matter how busy he is, he should at least call his family, so all of us know he is safe .”

Ye Xi-Mei sounded worried.

Xu Lei frowned when she heard this. An ominous feeling suddenly emerged in her heart.

She knew Ye Fan well, and she knew that he was a family-minded man.

Unless he had a special reason, he wouldn't suddenly disappear without a trace.

Did something happen to Ye Fan?

Despite Xu Lei's fears, she comforted Ye Xi-Mei gently, "Auntie Mei, don't worry. Fan is no ordinary man. Nothing will happen to him. I'm guessing he might have gotten held up. Why don't I go out and find him? You can stay home and wait for my call."

"Okay then. Leilei, I have a lot of work waiting for me at the office, so I have to trouble you to help me with this. If you hear of any news about Fan, you must call me right away," urged Ye Xi-Mei.

After Xu Lei left Mufan Group, she made a few calls asking about Ye Fan.

In Xu Lei's opinion, Ye Fan was the King of Jiangdong, so all eyes were on him, and the leaders of Jiangdong would definitely have some news about himself.

But as Xu Lei was busy calling around asking his whereabouts, an old man stood on the banks of the Yellow River in Jiangdong with his hands behind him and stared into the skies.

The river before him surged like unbridled wild horses.

The sound of their waves echoed through the fields like thunder.

The old man went into a daze as he looked at the land before him.

He could almost see the past in his murky eyes.

Moments later, the old man raised his hand and pointed at the river before he said, "Eigetsu-chan, do you know how this 100 meter river channel came about?"

Suzumiya Eigetsu looked at the river and guessed, "I guess it was left behind by ancient people."

The old man shook his head. "No, it wasn't. I was the one who created the river with my sword."

What?

Eigetsu inhaling deeply.

She covered her trembling lips with her hands.

“What...I...is that true?”

Amid her shock, Suzumiya Eigetsu could almost envision her master being so powerful that he could change the geography with a single blow.

“Although I could create a river with a single blow, it was a pity I couldn’t kill him,” sighed Mochizuki Kawa as he looked in Yanjing’s direction.

“It has been 30 years, Ye Qing-Tian. I’m back! This was the spot where we fought back then. My swordplay wasn’t as good, so I sadly lost. This time, I will come looking for you after I kill that punk. I wonder if you are still deserving of your title as the God of War?”

HUUU!

The cold wind gusted, causing waves to surge in the river.

The flood of water converged and flowed towards the ocean.

Then Mochizuki Kawa suddenly got up and turned to leave.

“Let’s go, Eigetsu-chan. Come with me to meet that young grandmaster.”

“But we don’t know where he is, Master. How can we locate him?” asked Suzumiya Eigetsu quizzically.

Mochizuki Kawa waved his hand. “Why should we look for him? Isn't he the so-called King of Jiangdong? I have my ways to make him come to us!”

Mochizuki Kawa laughed gently while his deep voice swept across the land.

No one knew what was going through Mochizuki Kawa’s mind now.

The next day.

It was first light and a new day had begun.

Chapter 811 A Storm Commences

At Jianghai's international airport.

An international flight had just landed.

A handsome old man was dressed in a suit and wearing sunglasses as he walked through the noisy crowd proudly.

A young man and young woman followed behind him, calling him master.

“Oh wow.”

“Master, you certainly are the president of the Jiangdong Martial Arts Association. You explained such a profound subject perfectly during your lecture at the international martial arts exchange. It was perfect!”

“Just you wait, Master. I will get the media to report it tomorrow. Then everyone will come flocking to the Ultimate Martial Arts Academy to sign up. ”

The man and woman kept flattering him nonstop.

Although the old man smiled quietly, a look of pride emerged on his face.

Then wind suddenly gusted as they walked out of the airport.

“Hmm?”

The old man instantly halted.

“Master, why did you stop?”

His disciples’ perplexed voices came from behind.

But the old man didn’t say a word and just kept standing there.

He looked around solemnly with a cold look in his eyes and stared dead straight in front of him.

After a long time, his lips trembled as though he had seen a ghost. He pointed and stammered, “You...you are the Sword God of Japan.”

The silhouette before them coldly laughed when he saw the fear in the old man's eyes.

“I didn't expect you to remember me after 30 years.”

At the drop of his voice, an explosion rumbled through the air.

The old man instantly collapsed and his blood sprayed all over the ground.

The silhouette quickly disappeared into the crowd.

“Master, are you okay?”

“Master...”

His disciples anxiously ran over and cried when they saw their master breathing his last breath.

He gritted his teeth as blood gushed from his mouth and told them in an almost inaudible and trembling voice, “Hurry...hurry up. Tell Master...Master Lei San that Mochizuki Kawa has returned.”

A few hours later.

At Chen Group’s Ao Tian Martial Arts Academy.

Many flowers stood outside its entrance while guests filled the hall.

A brand new red carpet went on for a hundred meters.

All the décor was done in a festive red.

It was Ao Tian Martial Arts Academy's fifth anniversary, so the head of the academy had invited all the elites of Jianghai to join in the celebration.

"Oh wow!"

"Congratulations, Master Wu."

"You are certainly one of the best martial arts masters in Jianghai. As a master of Wing Chun, Ao Tian Martial Arts Academy has seen roaring good business ever since you took over."

"You must have over 1,000 disciples by now, right?"

"I think before long, you will become the president of Jiangdong Martial Arts Association."

Chapter 811 A Storm Commences

Everyone flattered Wu Qing, the head of the Ao Tian Martial Arts Academy.

BAM!

A dull thud suddenly came from outside.

Then the stone statue standing outside the academy instantly shattered.

“Who’s that?”

“How dare he!”

“How dare he make trouble with Master Wu standing right here?”

Everyone was instantly startled by the commotion and looked around angrily.

At the end of the path, the silhouette of a man and woman gradually emerged.

The man was an elderly person.

Despite all his white hair, he had stern eyes, and his green robes fluttered in the wind.

The woman was young.

She was dressed in a Japanese kimono and looked stunning.

But a murderous and cold look was radiating from her ravishing face.

“Heh? I was wondering who it was. It’s just some old man and a stupid girl. If you don’t want to die, then get lost now! We are having a party today and don’t want to get into a fight,” said someone contemptuously with a smile.

No one noticed Wu Qing’s face had turned cold as he stared with his eyes wide at the old man.

“You...you are Mo-Mochizuki Kawa?” shouted Wu Qing madly as he trembled with a frown on his face.

“Congrats, you got it right.”

Suzumiya Eigetsu calmly laughed before she pulled out her sword.

A green light flashed, and vividly colored blood sprayed into the air.

Wu Qing abruptly fell to the ground.

Then everyone watched in terror as the old man and young woman left.

In a matter of days, the same scenario played out repeatedly at similar locations throughout Jianghai.

Other famous martial arts academies in Jiangdong, like Thunder Martial Arts

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

Academy, Scorching Sun Martial Arts Academy, all got attacked.

All the heads of their martial arts academies either got killed or maimed.

Some family leaders from renowned martial arts clans who founded famous techniques such as Wing Chun were visited by this calamity and were either killed or beaten up.

This catastrophe swept through the Jiangdong martial arts circles like a typhoon!

Before long, everyone felt like they were in danger.

Suspicion, the stench of blood, and terror swept through Jiangdong.

All kinds of emotions flooded their hearts.

Countless people were curious. Who on earth was doing this?

Who would have the confidence to challenge the entire Jiangdong martial arts circle?

Was the previous richest man of Jiangdong,

Zhao Wu-Ji, making a comeback?

Or had Meng Chun-Hua from the Meng family come back from the dead?

Everyone was baffled by the culprit's true identity when news suddenly struck them, hitting them like a rock had just gotten thrown into the ocean, raising a flood in its wake throughout the Jiangdong martial arts circles!

He was Mochizuki Kawa!

Mochizuki Kawa, Sword God of Japan, the man who attacked the Chinese martial arts circles 30 years ago! He was back!

This news struck the martial arts circle like a nuclear explosion. Many people were terrified and felt vulnerable.

Under the immensely terrifying atmosphere, Lei San immediately contacted all the leaders and decided to convene where the Feast of the Sea and Sky was held to develop a strategy.

That night, regular citizens went home to their families after they finished work to chat with their parents or help their kids with homework or even spend time with their wives, using their bliss to alleviate their exhaustion.

The rest of the world seemed normal.

But no one knew about the surging undercurrents beneath its calm exterior.

That night, many luxury cars suddenly appeared on the highway bound for Yunzhou as the leaders gathered.

They sped towards Yunzhou madly as though their lives depended on it!

Also, local authorities were informed not to stop those cars at the toll gate and to ensure the traffic lights went green all the way. No one was to pull them over.

From a distance, torrents of steel gathered from all directions and merged before flowing to Yunzhou.

“Oh wow!”

“What on earth happened?”

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

“Is something happening in Jiangdong?”

The passersby couldn't help stopping to sigh when they spotted all the luxury cars speeding by.

Meanwhile, at the Haiyuan Restaurant at Yunzhou.

Peng Zhen-Ying received orders from Li Er to clear out Haiyuan Restaurant immediately.

Everyone had to leave regardless of their identity or status.

20 minutes later, Li Er's men would come by and take it over.

Peng Zhen-Ying swore under his breath the moment he received the order.

Damn!

How did they expect him to run the business?

Clear the restaurant?

Why clear the restaurant?

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

Peng Zhen-Ying was on the brink of tears.

Haiyuan Restaurant was called upon to do this repeatedly in the past few months and had offended many patrons in the process.

Why was it happening again today?

Regardless of Peng Zhen-Ying's griping, he had no choice.

Master Li called the shots in Yunzhou!

So Peng Zhen-Ying had to obey him.

Hence, Peng Zhen-Ying went ahead and made arrangements.

"What on earth? Are you clearing the restaurant out again? How can you do that? You already did it to me when I was getting engaged. Why are you doing it to me again when I'm getting engaged to another woman this time? You asshole, are you out to get me? I'm going to kill you!" scolded Chu Wen-Fei furiously with his eyes red inside one of the private rooms at Haiyuan Restaurant.

He was beside himself with fury!

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

And he almost wanted to destroy Haiyuan Restaurant.

But Peng Zhen-Ying had already received the order, so he didn't give a damn about his patrons' feelings.

Then a few security guards went over and kicked Chu Wen-Fei to the ground before taking him to the door and throwing him out of the restaurant.

In ten minutes, Haiyuan Restaurant was cleared out.

In 15 minutes, all the rooms and corridors were cleaned.

In 20 minutes, over 100 burly men dressed in suits entered Haiyuan Restaurant to take over its security officially.

There was a 100 meter radius lockdown, and all unrelated people were told to leave.

In 25 minutes, the local leaders arrived one after another.

In 50 minutes, all of them had arrived at Haiyuan Restaurant.

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

All the big shots gathered around the long table in the private room.

At the helm, the seat remained empty. Since it was Ye Fan's spot, no one dared to occupy it.

"Master Lei, are you going to start? Is there someone else we are waiting for?"

Everyone was here, but Lei San didn't start the meeting even though he was the one who convened it. People quizzically asked when he seemed to have no intention to start.

Lei San looked at his watch and said deeply, "Please hang on. Two more people are on their way."

TAP TAP TAP...

At the drop of Lei San's voice, hurried footsteps could be heard outside.

It was the sound of high heels clipping along on the ground. Before long, two stunning silhouettes appeared before them.

Everyone was shocked to see the woman

Chapter 812 Dangerous Situation

and instantly stood up to greet her.

The Queen of Jiangdong was here.
