

Chapter 238 Birthday Felicitations.

In the Atrium, Hugo sat at main seat and Carson was presenting his birthday gift to Hugo and expressing his best wishes to him.

After Carson and members of his generation presented their gifts and sat next to Hugo, then it was the turn for Alfie and his generation to present their gifts.

Alfie straightened up his clothes, walked up to Hugo with a long red sandalwood box in his hand, and then he opened the box.

“Grandfather, I wish you all the best with a piece of jade.”

“Well. I’ll take it.” Hugo said with a smile.

Tommy came over holding a statue of the god of longevity and said with a smile on his face, "Grandfather, I wish you a long life and a good health with a stone-carved God of Longevity."

"Well, Tommy is also a good boy."

Maggie walked to Hugo with a brocade box, then she opened the box, in which lied an old ginseng.

"Grandpa, I'd like to give you the hundred-year-old ginseng and to wish you happiness and longevity."

"My sweet granddaughter, I like it so much."

Jessica and Oscar came forward together, then Jessica took out a Hotan jade pendant of the Goddess of Mercy,

"Grandpa, I wish you a good health and longevity with this Hotan jade pendant of the Goddess of Mercy."

"Ha ha." Hugo grinned broadly with a great joy.

“Dad, Drew is here and he has been busy up to now in preparing for your birthday gift.” Carson said with a smug smile.

Hugo looked out of the door with a smile on his face, “Is he? It’s no wonder that I did not see him today. It turns out that he was preparing a gift for me. What a good boy!”

Dressed in a Louis Vuitton suit, Drew walked into the hall in high spirits, looking steadily forward, like an outstanding youth obviously.

Noticing Drew’s temperament, they all nodded, thinking that Drew was an extraordinary young man.

Hugo looked at Drew and laughed.

“Grandpa, I’m sorry I am late.”

“That’s all right. I know you are quite busy.” Hugo looked at Drew with doting eyes.

Glancing at Alfie and others next to him, Drew took out a document with a smile and handed it to Hugo.

“Grandpa, this is for you.”

Seeing Drew’s gift, everyone present was curious what Drew would present.

Hugo was also curious. After he opened and glanced at the document, he was so excited that his hands were trembling.

“Is that true?” Hugo asked in surprise.

“Yes. I’ve been busy for days preparing this birthday gift for you. And I worked overtime to solve all problems before I could get the land document. I’d like to give you the contract for the development of wasteland in the southern outskirts of H City as your birthday gift.”

The crowd was in an uproar when hearing the contract for development of the wasteland in the southern outskirts of H City.

Although it was still a wasteland, it would be a new economic growth drive as long as it was developed, and it even represented the future economic development of H City!

It was not a wasteland at all, but a gold mine, which could bring fortune in the future!

Because it was the wasteland purchased by the Topyuan Group, which would be built into the largest medical group in H City!

That piece of land was the most popular now, since it was purchased at the price of billions of dollars!

“Hugo is really blessed with such a smart and capable grandson. If you can have connections with the Topyuan Group, your family will surely prosper and become a first-class family in H City.”

“You have such a great successor. Your family will definitely be promising in the management of Drew, who enjoys great potential.”

“What a capable man! There are many consortia who are trying to get the development contract. It’s out of expectation that Drew won it firstly.”

The praise of the guests made Drew so proud that as if his chin was almost raised to the sky.

“Good boy, come and sit next to me. You live up to my preference for you.”

While saying, Hugo nudged Gibson, “You change your seat with Drew.”

Carson glanced at Gibson proudly and he couldn't help laughing out when he saw Gibson's constipation-like expression.

"Gibson, I'm sorry that you have to change the seat since our father is in favor of Drew."

Gibson nursed a grievance. It would be more difficult for him to stand out in the Wright Family, on account of his disadvantageous position in the family competition, and now the presence of Drew.

At present, Gibson was driven directly to the next table, and he felt that Hugo was implying that he had been out.

Wearing a bitter expression, Gibson reluctantly stepped aside and walked towards the table with heavy steps where the younger generation like Alfie was sitting.

Drew sat on the seat given by Gibson proudly and asked about Hugo's health intimately.

Hugo grinned and held Drew's hand.

"Drew, our family's prosperity depends on you. You did a really nice job this time to seize the opportunity for our family."

Hearing Hugo praising Drew, the guests on the side also complimented Drew and Hugo.

"Hugo, you do have a good grandson. You can hand over the Wright Family to Drew, so that your family will made rapid and great achievements."

"That's right. Drew is so excellent. Is there anyone of the same age as outstanding as Drew in many families in H City? Absolutely not!"

“Drew is the ideal person to take charge of the family. If he becomes the master of your family, he will certainly be able to lead your family to a path of prosperity.”

The guests were flattering Drew at this time to make Hugo happy, and on the other hand, what Drew had done was awesome actually.

Their flattery made Gibson uncomfortable. He did not say a word, thinking a way to change the topic to avoid his embarrassment.

Hugo was very pleased to hear the flutter, then he took Drew’s hand, “You are right. I also intend to let Drew take over the position as the future master of Wright Family. I’d like to ask your kindness to give Drew a hand in the future.”

The crowd showed their pleasure to take care of Drew and to help Wright Family as well.

Carson pleased with himself and said, "Drew, your uncles are so kind to you. Why don't you make a toast to your uncles?"

Drew understood that his father was hinting him to take advantage of the opportunity to build a good relationship with the guests and to make his inheritance of the position of the head of the family a reality.

"Thanks dad for reminding me of this. I'd like to propose a toast to uncles for your favors and supports for me."

Seeing that Drew was going to make a toast, Gibson could not stand, but said with a sullen face, "There is no need to make a toast in such a hurry. Maximilian and Victoria have not yet present their birthday felicitations."

Chapter 239 The Extremely Deluxe Birthday Gift

Gibson's words reminded the crowd of Maximilian and Victoria, who had attracted great attention earlier.

Alfie stared at Maximilian with venomous eyes and sneered, "How indifferent and passive you are. Have you held a grudge so you don't take the initiative to present grandfather your gift?"

Victoria was panicked. It was not because she did not want to give their gifts, but she really did not prepare for it and had no birthday gifts for Grandpa Hugo.

Although Maximilian had assured her the gift, she did not believe it at all. So she did not know what to do when Gibson mentioned the gift.

Noticing Victoria's panicked face, Alfie smiled with greater joy, "Aa ha, you don't prepare it at all, do you?"

Victoria bowed her head in embarrassment, not knowing how to retort. She opened her mouth and said faintly, "I'm so sorry."

When she finished her words, there was a silence on the hall and everyone looked at Maximilian and Victoria with strange eyes.

Laura and Marcus were stunned and rooted to the spot, speechless. How should they forget to bring the gift on such an important day! Who would believe it? How would the guests present think of their family?

Marcus was roaring silently in his heart. Laura's mind went blank and she could not think of anything.

"Ah ha." Alfie laughed out, "Are you kidding us? Do you regard us as mentally retarded with an excuse that you forgot our grandpa's 70th birthday gift?"

"Even if Maximilian, a loser does not care about it, as the granddaughter of our grandpa, Victoria, how could you forget it? There's no excuse for such behavior."

Tommy was also blaming them.

Alfie wanted to humiliated Maximilian and Victoria, while Tommy helped his father turn aside the topic under discussion and stopped Drew from being in the limelight.

The two had different purposes, but both aimed at attacking Maximilian and Victoria.

Jessica smiled and squinted at Victoria contemptuously, "Victoria, as Hugo's granddaughter, grandfather used to hold on to you first in the past. When you've got the good things, I had no choice but got whatever you left. So it's reasonable that you should give grandpa a better birthday gift than mine. How could you forget about it at all?"

"They are quite ungrateful. Perhaps they have intended to mess up grandpa's birthday banquet. Otherwise, no one can do such shameless things." Oscar said in support of Jessica.

Sylvie pulled her face and said, "It's unbearable of you. Victoria, you're so disappointing. Do you know how sad grandfather will be because of your behavior? How could you do that? If I had known you were such an ungrateful person, I would not have picked you up!"

Gibson was rejoiced and secretly applauded for his masterstroke just now that Drew could not show off and the attention of the crowd was attracted to Maximilian and Victoria.

Pop! Gibson was so excited that he pounded the table and shouted, "Maximilian, Victoria, what are going to do? Never mind making trouble before, but you should not forget grandfather's birthday gift. Or are you too poor to buy a gift?"

"Even if you don't have money to buy a birthday gift, you can let us know, and we elders will help you. But look at what you've done! You are disgracing our Wright Family!" Carson frowned and said.

Drew stood by with perplexity. He didn't know about the whole thing, so he did not say anything.

Hugo looked extremely sullen and he was so angry that he even wanted to beat Maximilian to death.

However, the birthday banquet had already begun, so it was not appropriate for him to lose his temper in public. Besides, if the matter was known to more people, the Wright Family would be a laughingstock. So Hugo intended to lay it aside and deal with it later.

Just as Hugo was about to quite the matter down, the Butler rushed in.

“Congratulation! Master!” There was an excited smile on the Butler’s face.

Hugo looked at the Butler in confusion, thinking that he had nothing to congratulate since his birthday banquet was messed up by the two losers. If words got out about it, it would be the laughingstock around here.

The Butler was so excited that he did not notice the oddities of Hugo and the crowd, and then he took out a gift list and read it.

“Master, there’s a distinguished guest sending you generous gifts to celebrate your birthday. I’ll read the gift list for you.”

The Butler cleared his throat and began to read in a high-pitched voice:

“A set of pure gold statue of the four gods of Fortune, Prosperity, Longevity, Happiness.”

It took the Butler nearly ten minutes to finish reading the long list, and everyone was stunned by the valuable items on the list.

Anyone who sent these gifts must have a close relation with Hugo and must be a quite rich man! The gifts given by Hugo's grandchildren were quite less precious than these things.

The crowd felt like that they were watching a movie, which presented the scene that a major minister were receiving all kinds of birthday gifts in ancient times.

Carson, Gibson and others were dumbfounded, without a clue who would be so rich and generous to give Hugo such precious gifts.

The items on the list cost at least millions of dollars in total. Carson had no idea who could give Hugo gifts which were worth several million dollars.

Gibson glanced at the guests in the hall with amazement on his face. But he found that the dignitaries who had a good relationship with Wright Family were almost here, and it was impossible that anyone else could give such precious gifts.

Alfie was also quite surprised, guessing who could it be.

The guests looked at each other in surprise and asked in a low voice, trying to figure out who gave the birthday gifts.

After a daze for a moment, Hugo felt that it made up for the disgrace just now.

With so many valuable gifts, Hugo felt that his birthday banquet would be the top in H City. There would definitely not be so many precious gifts in others' birthday banquet.

Standing up with excitement, Hugo stared at the Butler, "Who send the birthday gift and where is he? Invite him to come here and I'll express my gratitude.”

The Butler bowed and said, “It’s Mr. Lee.”

Chapter 240 If It's Him, I Can Afford Anything!

"Mr. Lee?" Hugo was a little surprised, then he thought about the big shot surnamed Lee he knew. But he could not figure out any.

The one who sent such deluxe gift was undoubtedly a rich man who owned quite a lot fortune.

Carson and Gibson were also full of doubts, believing that there was no big shot surnamed Lee among the business partners of Wright Family.

But those gifts were right in front of them. Carson and others even guessed if someone sent it in a wrong way.

However, the birthday banquet was held in their own house, instead of in a hotel, so there was no possibility of giving it in a wrong way at all.

The crowd were discussing in a low voice to find out who gave the gift.

“Mr. Brooks, you make acquaintance with so many people. Do you know who is the one that sent me the gifts?”

“I have no idea. I know almost all the guests here today. There is no big shot surnamed Lee, and I have never heard any powerful family surnamed Lee in H City. This one is quite mysterious.”

“Can it not be that someone gives the gifts but has no relation with Wright Family? Maybe he wants to ask the Wright Family a favor with the gift? But it doesn't make sense.”

The crowd was muttering, but they could not figure out who sent the gift.

Hugo sighed, then he arched his hand and said, “I'd like to ask the distinguished guest of honor to show up.”

There was silence in the hall and there was no response to Hugo at all. Then Hugo had no choice but to sit down.

Alfie glanced at Maximilian accidentally, and said with a sarcastic smile, "Maximilian Lee, are you the one who give the luxurious gift?"

In an instant, everyone's attention was focused on Maximilian.

Victoria also looked at Maximilian doubtfully, realizing what he had said to her. Was it really him?

"Ah ha." Tommy could not but help laughing and said with disdain, "Maximilian, the loser must have nothing to do with that Mr. Lee who sent the gift. If Maximilian can give such a gift, I can afford anything!"

"If the poor guy can give such gift, he must flaunt it earlier before, rather than be in silence.” Jessica mocked in a cold voice.

Oscar shook his head in disdain, “The loser has only a few hundred dollars a month as living expenses, and it is given by Victoria. It is impossible for him to prepare such luxurious gifts, even if he sells his all organs, like heart, liver, spleen, lungs and kidneys.

Victoria sighed silently and gave Maximilian a glance. She felt a little relieved when she saw calm expression on his face, as if he did not care about these words.

Sylvie sneered and said, “Our grandfather will be happy enough if the loser can give one of the items on the list, but he is just a good-for-nothing. He can’t give anything, but just hide in the corner.”

When Carson realized that they had not found out the Mr. Lee, he was trying to bring the topic back, thinking that he should not let Maximilian spoil his eldest son's chance to be in the limelight.

"Don't let the loser, who was disappointing and upsetting, spoil our good mood. Drew, raise your glass and propose a toast to your uncles now."

Drew stood up with the glass in his hand, then he raised his glass to the guest with respect, "I'd like to extend my gratitude to my respectable uncles for you taking care of me. I hope you will give me the honor and offer me your advice and suggestions on many things in the future."

Drew said beautiful words, which not only exalted himself, but made the guests happy.

The crowd raised their glasses and drank with Drew.

"Drew is really outstanding. This time he not only gets the development contract for the wasteland in the southern suburbs and gets in touch with the Topyuan Group. He must have a promising future."

"Topyuan Group has invested quite a lot this time. I heard that the consortium behind is very wealthy and powerful. As long as one can get close to them, he will definitely make a lot fortune in the future."

"If the wasteland can be well developed, your Wright Family will prosper and step on a path of rapid development. Drew had brought your family a cornucopia."

The crowd was willing to give their praise to Drew. If Drew could lead his family to a new level in the future, they may need the help from Drew.

Hearing the compliments of the crowd, Drew was pleased, feeling that this day was the most brilliant day in his life.

Carson smiled proudly, believing that his branches of Wright Family had been in a leading position, and everything in Wright Family would be decided by his offspring.

“Thank you for your favor of Drew. Drew is still a young man, so we need your help in the future. I’d like to propose a toast to all of you.” Carson raised the glass and drank it up.

Hugo nodded and applauded Drew and Carson for their performance. “Drew, you are a nice boy. Continue to improve yourself. You are the best among your siblings, and you should give your siblings a hand so that all of you will have a bright future.”

“Grandpa, I get it. I’ll try my best to help my brothers and sisters, including Victoria’s husband.”

The faces of Laura and Marcus suddenly turned pale, having a feeling that Drew might have done something against Maximilian from his words.

Sylvie glanced at Laura, whose face was pale, then she smiled, “It’s said that one should give a hand to those in need rather than the poor. Drew, you should help others in moderation. Don’t be kind enough to help others, but end up being badgered and treated with ungratefulness.”

Drew smiled proudly, “That’s right. I got it. I’d like to help him find a good job then improve himself step by step.”

Laura clenched her fists and was about to say something when Drew asked, "Aunt Laura, where does the loser, oh, I'm sorry, your son-in-law work? What's his position and how is his salary?"

Hearing Drew's words, Laura blushed, then she pretended to drink tea without answering Drew.

But Drew was not angry, then he continued, "I heard that your son-in-law is working in a beauty salon? It's not going to work like this. We have to find him a decent job. What's his highest degree?"

Laura's hand was trembling with the cup in her hand, clenching her teeth to keep herself from crying.

"It's hard to arrange him for a job without a degree. But I think it's appropriate for him to be a toilet cleaner." Someone said sarcastically.

Chapter 241 Master Thomas Came Here?

Both Laura and Marcus bowed their heads and could not say a word.

They all felt they had lost face. It was because of Maximilian's incapability that they could not refute these words.

Drew showed a winner's smile, then he did not continue to say something against Maximilian, but raised his glass to propose a toast and made the atmosphere active.

Because of Drew, there was a warm atmosphere shortly after in the banquet. The crowd was chatting and drinking, and many kept coming to express their congratulations to Hugo.

After a while, Alfie and Tommy were a little drunk. They looked at each other, and then both stared at Maximilian and Victoria.

They two had an idea to pick a hole in Maximilian with the state of mind to have fun.

Alfie held his glass with a bottle of wine in his hand, and wobbled towards Maximilian. Tommy hurriedly followed him and wore a mocking smile on his face.

“You worthless wretch, you’re so impolite that you don’t propose a toast to your brothers, but wait for us to toast you.”

“Victoria, your husband behaves poorly. Considering what he has done today, he should be punished to drink three bottles of wine at least. Ask him to hurry up and drink it up.”

Glancing at the two drunken man, Maximilian just ignored them.

Seeing Maximilian ignoring them, Alfie and Tommy were quite angry with the stimulus of wine.

“Damn it. We are so kind to you. How dare you ignore us? You are such a jerk. If you don’t drink it up, you don’t have to leave here today.”

Alfie handed the bottle in his hand in front of Maximilian and glared at Maximilian, insisting on him drinking it up.

Tommy slapped Maximilian on the back of his head and shouted discontentedly, “Hurry up! Don’t keep us waiting. Do you consider yourself as a big shot? You are just a loser.”

“I can’t drink.” Maximilian said in a cold voice.

“Ah ha, are you really a man? Can’t drink? You will be laughed at if it’s known to others. All right, we’ll teach you how to drink. Now open your mouth and I'll help you."

Tommy held out his hand to grab Maximilian's chin and wanted to open his mouth forcibly. Maximilian turned away to avoid his hand.

Pop! Tommy slapped the table heavily. Then he glared at Maximilian and shouted, "You wretch! Do you want to die? How dare you avoid it when I taught you how to drink? Just open your mouth and let me pour the bottle of wine into your mouth!"

Victoria could not stand it. She frowned and said, "That's enough! Can you stop making fun of him?"

"We just ask him to make amends for his impoliteness. Victoria, you are so kind to him. Is it because he's good in bed and serve you quite well?"

"How can it be? I guess he can just keep for three seconds. Maybe it's because Victoria, you have a special hobby, such as marrying a loser husband and cuckolding him. Is it exciting?"

Alfie and Tommy said harsher words. Victoria was so annoyed that her eyes became red and she glared at the two men.

There was also anger in Maximilian. He stared at them with chill, and he clenched his fists, ready to teach them a lesson.

Noticing Maximilian's eyes, Alfie was slightly afraid, but he forced himself to say, "You wretch, don't look at me like this. Do you think your eyes can kill someone?"

"You'd better behave yourself. This is not a place where you can get your way. You'd better propose a toast for us, or we'll teach you a lesson." Tommy also threatened.

Maximilian had lost his patience. When he was about to beat the two men, the Butler hurried into the Hall.

"Old Master, Master Thomas is here. Manager Thomas of Lasdun is here, and he gives a pair of gold and silver trees to congratulate your birthday."

There was a sudden silence in the noisy birthday banquet! After three seconds of silence, there was a more fervent discussion, as if the silence just now was because someone pressed a pause button.

The crowd was shocked by the arrival of Thomas and they were talking with each other excitedly.

"Thomas is the top one in managing a catering industry in H City. He's so excellent."

"I heard that Master Thomas is one of the four masters in H City. He not only run a great business, but has a real knack."

"Many banquets for dignitaries and top tycoons are held in Lasdun because of Master Thomas. And many of them are able to negotiate a successful sale with the help of him."

"This is a great honor for Wright Family since a Mr. Lee gave deluxe gifts to celebrate Hugo birthday, and now Master Thomas comes here himself. Hugo can show off this banquet for quite a while."

Not only the crowd was surprised, but so were the Wright Family. Since there was little connection between them and Thomas, so they didn't expect Thomas would come here personally.

Which one of you invites Thomas?"

Hugo looked at his eldest son Carson and asked.

There was no possibility for a great man like Thomas to come here uninvited. Hugo was quite clear about his status and knew that Thomas did not have to curry favor with him on account of his present status.

But Thomas was actually here. Hugo guesses it was a surprise for himself given by Carson and Drew. Since the gift given by Drew just now surprised him a lot.

Carson and others all shook their heads. Then Hugo fixed his eyes on Drew, "Drew, is it a surprise you give for me?"

"Nope, I haven't invited Master Thomas and there's a gap between Mr. Thomas and me." Drew said bitterly.

Hugo was quite puzzled, then he got up in a hurry to welcome Thomas. Since the distinguished guest was here, he must show his attention and welcome. Besides, it would be beneficial for their family to make friends with Thomas.

Carson, Gibson and Drew all went out to welcome Thomas, together with Hugo.

Before they arrived at the door, Thomas had walked into the atrium, then he said with smile, "I'm here to congratulate Hugo's birthday and wish you happiness and longevity."

"Thanks a lot, Master. Thomas. Please come in and sit at the main table." Hugo said warmly.

Thomas stood still and looked around.

Hugo said awkwardly, "Master Thomas, could you tell us the reason why you come here?"

Chapter 242 Phillip, Master Phillip!

Hugo felt a little uneasy, since he had invited Thomas to sit at the main table, but he did not respond at all, as he was obviously not here to celebrate his birthday sincerely.

What was more, Hugo noticing that Thomas was looking around as if he were looking for someone, so he made many guesses. Was he looking for his enemies here? Or his friend? Or...

When Hugo did not know how to deal with it, Thomas has seen Maximilian sitting in the corner.

Seeing Maximilian, Thomas cracked a humble smile, then he pushed aside Hugo and walked towards Maximilian.

"Master Thomas, are you..." Hugo had just said a few words when he saw that Thomas had gone far away, so he had to trot to keep with Thomas with his offspring.

Wright Family could not afford to offend such a powerful man, so they had to treat him with care.

But when they saw Thomas walking towards Maximilian, they opened their eyes wide and round, not knowing what Thomas was going to do.

Thomas went to Maximilian and stand beside him. Then Thomas bowed slightly and said respectfully, "Mr. Lee, I have found you. Would you mind me sitting next to you?"

Maximilian raised his eyes, glanced at him and said casually, "I don't mind."

Thomas carefully sat on the chair next to Maximilian, with only a part of his hip on the chair.

Everyone present was eagle-eyed, as they were quite amazed when they saw Thomas's cautious and respectful manner to Maximilian and Thomas' sitting posture at the moment.

"What's going on? Why should Master Thomas sit like this? It's the manner adopted when the inferior meets the superior and the younger generation meets the elder."

"I think I'm going blind. Who can make Master Thomas behave like this? Who is the man on earth?"

"It seems to be quite unusual. The Wright Family looked down on that man and treated him like that just now. But Master Thomas seemed to be supporting him."

The crowd had their own surmises, considering what Thomas was going to do and the relationship between Maximilian and Thomas.

Carson was dumbfounded, while Alfie and Tommy got their eyes red.

It was a great time to be in the limelight. If Thomas could do this to them, they would be the most striking ones in the banquet. But why Thomas would treat Maximilian, the loser like this?

There were a lot of doubts in Hugo's eyes. After a moment of hesitation, he went to Thomas and said, "Master Thomas, what are you doing? Do you know this man? You are our distinguished guest and please come to the main table."

Although he did not know their relations, Hugo held that he should invite Thomas to sit in the main table. If he just let him sit in the corner, it was quite rude to him as the distinguished guest.

Thomas shook his head slightly and said with a smile, "The place where Mr. Lee sits is the main table in my heart. Hugo, you don't need to say it."

Alfie was so jealous of Maximilian that his eyes turned red, then he roared at Maximilian, "You the wretch just eat. Don't you realize that you should make room for grandfather so that grandpa and Master Thomas can have a talk?"

There was a chill on Thomas face, then he stared at Alfie with cold eyes, "How dare you to speak to Mr. Lee like this? I shall use your blood to add some joy to Hugo's birthday banquet if you keep on doing so!"

Alfie was frightened and his face was ashen. Shivering, he did not dare to say anything and hid himself into the crowd.

The Wright Family and the guests all looked at Maximilian with puzzled eyes, having no idea of the relationship between Thomas and Maximilian and why Thomas supported Maximilian so strongly.

It was known that Maximilian was a wretch who depended on his wife, so it was unreasonable that a loser should make Thomas support him. What interpersonal network and background could he have?

When everyone was confused and silent, the Butler rushed in.

“Master, it’s Master Phillip! Master Phillip sends four hundred-year-old elixir to congratulate your birthday.”

Hiss! The crowd gasped! They all looked shocked!

Hugo turned around with a puzzled look. He was so shocked by Thomas’s uninvited visit, and now Master Phillip also came uninvited. What on earth was going on?

Carson said, "We haven't invited him. Have anyone else invited him?"

Gibson and others all shook their heads. Hugo frowned but said, "Since he has come, we should express our welcome. Come with me to greet him."

By the time Hugo got to the door of the atrium, Philip had already walked in.

Phillip saluted Hugo with his hands folded, "I'd like to congratulate Mr. Hugo Wright a healthy and happy life."

"Thank you for your visit, Master Philip, please sit at the main table."
Hugo said with smile on his face.

But Philip paid no attention to Hugo's words at all, but looked around as if he was looking for someone or something.

Noticing Phillip's behavior, Hugo had a similar feeling. It seemed that Thomas did the same thing just now.

The guests looked at Phillip with envy and inquiry in their eyes.

"It is really Master Phillip. As one of the four masters in H City, Master Phillip was not inferior in status as Master Thomas."

"In terms of interpersonal network, Master Phillip is even more powerful than Master Thomas. It's said Master Phillip has the most powerful interpersonal network."

"It is a great honor for the Wright Family this time. Hugo can be proud of this banquet for the rest of his life."

When the crowd were discussing, Phillip had seen Maximilian. Then he pushed aside the Wright Family members and walked towards Maximilian.

Looking at the same behavior of Phillip as Thomas, the Wright Family members were so confused and they couldn't figure out the reason.

"Why does Phillip look for Maximilian too? Are both Master Phillip and Master Thomas hysteric? Is there anything respectable of the loser?"

"The loser is even not qualified to polish shoes for Master Phillip and Master Thomas. But... how does this weird thing happen?"

"We'd better have a close look. It's not only the courtesy, but knowing the rope. We can't just stay here and wait."

The Wright Family discussed in a low voice and walked to Phillips together with Hugo.

Phillip bowed and greeted

Maximilian. After asked for Maximilian's permission, he leaned to sit down like Thomas. His respectfully behavior showed as if he were a subordinate of Maximilian.

Hugo's face became sullen, and then he tremblingly walked to Phillip.

"Master Phillip, please sit at the main table."

"No thanks! The most striking place is where Mr. Lee is. I'll pick up food for Mr. Lee. You can just go." Phillip whispered with great dissatisfaction!
