

Chapter 2287

After the badge was found, people from the upper social circle around the district gossiped incessantly.

“My God! Mandy Zimmer really is nasty. How dare she steal the Fourth Young Master’s casino license?”

“She must have a death wish!”

“There are only six of them throughout Las Vegas! They’re worth a fortune! If some outsider actually managed to steal it, the Fourth Young Master won’t be able to keep his position anymore!”

“It’s said that the Fourth Young Master even opened a casino with her. He’s basically just taking one-sixth of the casino license’s profits to work with her! I can’t believe she’s being this greedy!”

“Serves her right for doing this to the Fourth Young Master after all that he’s done for her!”

“That bastard! The Fourth Young Master treated her so well too!”

“M’lady is right! These b*tches from Country H are always trying to get married into a wealthy family from Las Vegas!”

“We should just slap the devil out of these people!”

The crowd was shaking their heads in unison.

Naturally, people from Hong Kong and Las Vegas despised those from Country H.

Seeing a beautiful woman like Mandy being a thief, everyone showed disgust on their faces.

Mandy covered her face while looking at Jax Hamilton.

“I really didn’t steal your badge, Fourth Young Master.

“I only came to Las Vegas to audit accounts!”

“You disappoint me, Mrs. Zimmer,” said Jax indifferently after a long while.

He was quite personable when he met Mandy the day before, saying that auditing accounts were just a small matter. He even showed Mandy around the Mordu Casino-Palace that they were working together on.

But in just a single day, his charm was entirely gone. Only a cold expression was left on his face at that moment.

“I was willing to continue the contract after you’ve replaced Prince Jean as the head of the ninth branch and work with the Jean family to establish Mordu Casino-Palace.

“To show you my appreciation, I even took you to have a look at my casino license.

“But then you had other plans. You got someone to steal the badge for you!

“For the sake of the Jean family, I can silence the matter...

“But you have to sign this contract!

“The contents are simple. You’ll forfeit all the shares of the Mordu Casino-Palace.

“From today onward, you have nothing to do with the establishment.”

“Sign it already, Mandy,” exclaimed Ellie Palmer coldly.

“We won’t pursue the matter any further as long as you give up the shares. I’m already being extremely generous here.”

Mandy's body trembled, then bitterly chuckled.

“I see. No wonder.

“Fourth Young Master, I can understand you stopping me from auditing accounts and trying to keep all the shares to yourself.

“I might even accept your offer to buy my shares ...

“But aren't you a little too ridiculous to frame me with something like this?!”

Slap!

Ellie chuckled coldly before slapping Mandy in the face.

“Nonsense!

“Who do you think the Fourth Young Master is?!”

“Everyone knows that he's the most gentle and personable young master out of the four!

“He’d even donate millions of dollars as charity for the poor around the mountain range.

“Why would a big character like him even try to frame you for some money?

“Aren’t you thinking a little too highly of yourself, Mandy?

“I’m quite impatient, Mrs. Zimmer. The proof is right here. Even if you don’t want to, you have to admit it. Don’t make me force my hand here...”

<https://t.me/maileyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2288

Mandy Zimmer's face was completely swollen then.

“Are you sure you want to frame me this way, Fourth Young Master?” exclaimed Mandy coldly.

“You of all people should know that I'm the head of the ninth branch in the Jean family.

“Are you not scared of the family plotting revenge against you for doing this?”

“Mordu's Jean family?”

Ellie Palmer scoffed, then walked beside Mandy.

“How are you this naive, Mandy?” whispered Ellie coldly with a tone only Mandy could hear.

“I don't understand how you're able to be the head of the ninth branch with that brain of yours.

“Do you think we’d dare go against you like this without any support?”

“Even if we kill you off today, the Jean family will just accept it and move on. Do you hear me?”

“After all, you’re obstructing someone else’s path!”

Ellie took a step back while showing a playful yet derisive expression.

Mandy froze slightly. Realization showed on her face before it was then replaced with a bitter expression.

Obviously, she was not an idiot either.

After Ellie laid everything out, she clearly had everything figured out.

From Lilian Yates’ kidnapping to what happened that day after rushing all the way to Las Vegas.

Everything was connected.

Mandy thought that Harvey York was the one being targeted.

But then she realized that they were going after her too.

Her position as the head of the ninth branch was an obstacle to many people, after all.

One of the Six Princes of Mordu, Lucas Jean, didn't just leave his position as head of the ninth branch when he died.

Heaps of fortune were left upon his death.

Many people would do whatever it takes to take a bite out of that fortune.

Even the higher-ups of the Jean family...

Thinking back on the time when the Jean family greeted Mandy with passion and respect, her expression was turning a little more scornful.

“Alright. Enough talk.”

Ellie clapped her hands and gestured with a wave of her hand.

Bodyguards from the Hamilton family brought Mandy's subordinates over and kicked them down to the ground in an instant.

Another person pulled out a firearm, took the safety off, and placed it right behind one of Mandy's bodyguard's heads.

“I'm giving you ten minutes, Mandy.

“Are you confessing?

“If you do, I'll let go of your subordinates.

“It's fine if you don't.

“But I'll kill one of them every time a minute passes.

“You’ll be able to make it out without any charges after ten minutes, but your bodyguards will all die because of you!”

At that moment, Ellie was showing a faint smile. Naturally, she had thoroughly researched Mandy’s personality.

There were more people who had their hands in the matter and not just Jax.

The upper social circle was a world where only the strongest survived after all.

Without a strong background and a sudden rise to power, Mandy was deemed easy prey for countless people.

Everyone wanted to take a bite out of her.

Jax then indifferently lit up a cigar.

“Mrs. Zimmer, we were having a pretty good chat yesterday. I’m quite fond of you as well.

“That’s why I wouldn’t want to force my hand against you...

“Sign the contract, and I guarantee that you’ll be able to get out of here alive. You’ll still remain as my most distinguished guest.

“Fifty percent of the dry shares only have around a billion dollars worth of profit. With your generosity, you’d be able to let it go, wouldn’t you?”

<https://t.me/HarveyKorkEnglish>

Chapter 2289

“Ten. Nine. Eight. Seven...”

While Mandy Zimmer was showing a terrible expression, Ellie Palmer had already started counting down.

The Hamilton family's bodyguard casually placed a finger on the firearm's trigger. One of Mandy's subordinates was about to be shot.

The inspectors of Las Vegas, who were supposed to uphold justice, all turned a blind eye to the situation.

Mandy's eyes frantically twitched before she took a deep breath.

“Fine!

“If that's the case, I'll admit it!

“I was the one who stole the casino license. To compensate for what had happened, I'm willing to give up fifty percent of my shares of Mordu Casino-Palace!"

Mandy's expression was utterly horrible. Even though she felt resentful, Las Vegas was the Hamilton family's territory.

She was no match for them in their own turf.

"Hear that, everyone?"

Ellie clapped her hands and looked around her.

"Since Head Zimmer confessed, it's natural for her to give up fifty percent of her shares to pay the price.

"The Hamilton family aren't the ones oppressing outsiders. She did this to herself!

"After all, what goes around comes around!"

The crowd's eyes all lit up brightly.

Even though everyone was already used to the Hamilton family's way of doing things, it was still quite shameless of them to ask for benefits while trying to make sense of their actions!

But since the inspectors were turning a blind eye toward the situation, who would even stand up for an outsider like Mandy?

In reality, the Jean family had already thought of the risk when they decided to work with Jax.

Mandy sighed while preparing to sign the contract.

Bang!

Right at this moment, a bodyguard from the Hamilton family was sent flying with a swift kick as a person walked in.

Bang bang bang!

A dozen bodyguards with firearms were all kicked down soon after.

Ellie felt a sharp pain on her face before she was sent flying off with a slap.

Jax squinted while retreating after seeing the sight, but Harvey was already in front of him.

Before he could come back to his senses, he felt someone grapple his neck.

Crash!

Harvey instantly smashed his face into the wall before he even had a chance to speak.

A terrifying sound echoed throughout the place while blood spurted out from Jax's head.

Along with another kick, Jax was sent flying before slamming to the ground.

Most of his orifices were trickling with blood.

Even Harvey didn't think this would happen.

He completely beat up Denver, the Third Young Master, just yesterday...

At this moment, he sent Jax, the Fourth Young Master, flying...

“Who are you?!”

“Stop it! You can’t just do whatever you like here!”

A middle-aged man in an inspector’s uniform walked out to stop Harvey.

“How dare you beat up someone like that?! You even hurt the Fourth Young Master of all people!”

“Do you even care about the law?!”

Slap!

Harvey sent the inspector flying with a slap in the face indifferently.

“Why didn’t you stand up when Jax and his subordinates were beating people up then?!”

“Are you all blind?!”

“The Fourth Young Master is trying to catch a thief! It’s normal for him to be a little excessive!”

Slap!

Harvey swung his backhand across another inspector’s face.

“Then, in that case, I’ll be a little excessive toward your face!”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2290

Two inspectors were sent flying in an instant, making the others scream in anger when they were dead silent just before.

“You bastard!”

“Don’t you care about the law?!”

“You must have a death wish!”

Those inspectors were lackeys for the Hamilton family. They didn’t expect that an outsider like Harvey York would beat them up while they were “upholding justice.”

The inspectors were boiling with anger at that moment.

Even though they would usually do as they pleased, no one would dare oppose them.

“The law? You spout things like you actually care.”

Harvey coldly squinted at the inspectors.

“You took the badge here to frame Head Zimmer, forced her to sign the contract and give up her shares, then got everyone here to witness her confession because this was all her fault?”

“Are you people shameless?”

“Or are you still expecting charity when you’re all acting like a bunch of bastards?!”

“You think you can just take advantage of every situation you get?”

Harvey coldly glanced at his surroundings.

“There’s no need to deny it. There are surveillance cameras placed everywhere around the villa twenty-four seven. The footage is uploaded to the servers from the country in real-time!

“Even though you broke my main surveillance system, you can’t stop me from retrieving all that data back.

“What? Do you want to take this to court?

“Or are you waiting for me to upload this to the internet and let everyone comment about it?”

After hearing Harvey’s words, Jax Hamilton and Ellie Palmer’s expressions immediately worsened while they covered their faces.

They had set up an entire plan to numb Mandy Zimmer and greeted her passionately the day before...

But because of some nobody, their scheme was utterly foiled.

“Who are you even, you bastard?!”

“Do you dare tell us your name?!”

Ellie glared at Harvey, full of disdain.

If Jax could take the entirety of Mordu Casino-Palace's shares, his casino license would be complete.

For him, it was an important step to compete for the head of the family's position.

But because of the bastard before him, his plans were completely thwarted. How could Ellie not be angry?

Jax was coldly glaring at Harvey. He was usually extremely calculating, but it seemed that he had a lapse of judgment at that moment.

"My name?"

Harvey was being indifferent.

"Harvey York. Remember it."

After hearing his name, Jax and Ellie stood in place, slightly frozen. They heard of the name somewhere, but they couldn't remember where for the life of them.

Before Ellie even said anything, Jax waved his hand as a silencing gesture and moved forward before sizing up Harvey.

“Harvey, right? I have to admit, you are pretty brave for getting yourself involved in my turf.

“I’ll give you a chance. Break your arms and leave. Only then I’ll let you off the hook.

“If not, don’t blame me for being cruel!”

Jax waved his hand after he was done talking. Countless shooters appeared on the rooftop and aimed their firearms right toward Harvey.

As expected from the kings of Las Vegas, the Hamilton family!

Mandy took a step forward before Harvey could even speak.

“Don’t be rash, Harvey.

“I’ll handle this.”

She then looked at Jax and calmly said, “Fourth Young Master, you can have the shares of Mordu Casino-Palace if you want.

“But I have one condition. I do hope that you will comply.

“If you do, I’ll sign the contract and leave immediately.”

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>