

Chapter 100

The notice about expelling Jason Qin from the Computer Science Department.

Jason frowned and glanced at the content below.

"Because of Jason Qin's bad life style and the abnormal relationship with women in society for a long time, it had seriously affected the school morals. After a discussion, the leaders of the school decided to report to the school dean's office for approval. They had made a special decision that Jason Qin would be disqualified from the graduation certificate and degree, and then expel him from the school. We hoped that the teachers and students take this as a lesson.

The Office of Academic Affairs of Nandu University."

"I was expelled?"

Jason looked at the notice in front of him with a blank face. At the same time, John and Colin also turned their heads and found Jason. Without saying anything, they pulled him aside.

"F*ck, what's wrong with you, J? Are you really being kept as a mistress? Now you've even been expelled. What a loss!"

John widened his eyes and looked at Jason with a look of exasperation.

In his opinion, during this period of time, Jason had bought them mobile phones, cars, meals, and drinking. It turned out his money had been given by the woman who had raised him.

03:06

But this guy actually dared to deceive him that he got the money from demolition. If the notice hadn't been sent out, he didn't know how long he would have been hidden.

"Yes, J, if you don't have enough money, just tell us. When did we stand by when you were in trouble in the past four years? Now it's good, four years in vain, what a great loss."

Colin Chan, who had always been shy, could not help but curse.

Jason had been squinting his eyes. He felt as if he had thought of something.

Not only him, seeing Jason in this state, John also thought of something. He looked at Jason suspiciously and asked, "Did that guy do it? When we were in the night barbecue last time, he said that he would make you regret it..."

Jason shook his head and didn't say anything. He turned around and walked toward the office building.

Along the way, Jason could feel the strange looks coming from all directions to him.

To keep him as a lover?

Jason laughed in his heart.

If that was the case, it should be he keeping others as mistresses.

03:06

"When it's someone else's turn to raise me?"

However, if it was really Simon who did it.

On the contrary, Jason felt that it was becoming more interesting to have this person.

At the door of the Director's office.

Jason met Simon Lin, who had just pushed the door.

Simon was not a student of this school, and he had graduated from school for many years. The reason why he was here today was to see with his own eyes and whether the notice of Qin Junfeng being expelled from the university was posted or not.

"It's you."

When he went out and saw Jason, Simon Lin was not surprised at all.

This was exactly what he wanted. So he tidied up the collar of his shirt and looked at Jason indifferently, as if he was a winner.

"Is Dean Wang in there?" Jason asked.

"Well, yes, but I think he seems to have no time to see you now. After all, you are no longer a student in this school, right?" Simon laughed.

Jason glanced at him, then turned around and walked into the Director's office.

Mr. Wang, the dean of the Computer Engineering Department, was in his forties. He could be regarded as a middle-aged man who had achieved his ambition.

He was a little fat with a white and clean face.

Wearing a fitted black suit, a dark tie, and an expensive gold-framed glasses, he looked very elegant and refined.

At this time, he was standing at the edge of the fish tank and attentively taking care of the three "Golden Fox" sent by Simon Lin. He said casually, "Didn't you hear that I am busy now? When expelled, you don't follow the rules?"

Simon deliberately pointed out Jason's identity at the door so that Dean Wang in the room could be prepared.

"Dean Wang, you said that I was kept by a woman outside and had an improper relationship. Do you have any evidence?" Jason stood in the room and said.

"Jason Qin, do you think that the school will make a decision so easily without evidence?" Dean Wang hooked his head with a infatuated look and drifted from these three expensive fish from the Atlantic.

"Well, what's the evidence?" Jason asked.

"The photo, the video, and the testimony of witnesses. The school is a place for teaching. Do you doubt that a higher learning institution as big as Nandu University will make things difficult for you as a student?"

Dean Wang finally put down the fish materials in his hand and wiped his hands with a clean towel. Then he turned around and sat on his chair.

"Well, I want to see these things." Jason stepped forward and reached out his hand.

"These things have been sealed up in the school library, but the contents are all written into your file in the form of text. They will accompany you for a lifetime. If you want to see them, you can read them slowly after expelled."

Dean Wang had a background of studying abroad. He had 50% of talent, 40% of background, and 10% of luck. He really had some means to sit on the position of a dean in just a few years.

"That is to say, I can't even confirm how I was expelled?" Jason frowned and asked.

"You are suspecting the decision made in the department and school!"

Dean Wang looked at Jason indifferently and said, "If you are not convinced, you can report this to the school dean's office, or you can directly go to find Principal Zhang. A student has no appearance like a student at all. You are doing those foul things outside and disgracing the school. Is this what you, a student, should do?"

While talking excitedly, Dean Wang patted the table hard while glancing at Simon Lin, who was still standing at the door, with an ingratiating look.

However, he said this because he wanted to cut off Jason's escape route.

After all, the final decision was made and posted by the office of school affairs. As a student, how could he let the university dean to take back his word and overthrow his decision? It was impossible!

As for going to find Principal Zhang, it was even more impossible.

Not to mention whether he could meet Principal Zhang or not, even if he did, in the whole Nandu University, everyone knew that Simon Lin's father, Jack Lin, was the board of the school and had a good relationship with Principal Zhang. It was said that the school was about to build a new school building and it asked the Lin's Group to provide support with money. If this guy really wanted to go to Principal Zhang, it would save him a lot of trouble.

However, to Dean Wang's surprise, Jason was silent for a moment, then nodded and turned to go outside.

Jason vaguely remembered that Yennie had told him that although no one in Shen's family was in a position in Nandu University, Principal Zhang, who was mentioned by Dean Wang, seemed to be a disciple of Shen's family.

"The disciples of the Shen Family are in charge of the school, but I was expelled?"

This was ridiculous.

Even with Jason's character, he was completely unable to accept it.

He turned around and was about to go to the principal's office.

"You don't have to find someone. You want to see the evidence, right? I have a lot of things here."

As soon as Jason walked to the door, he saw a figure appear outside the corridor. She came over with a sneer and said, "What else do you want to say, adulterer and adulteress?"

Sherry Lin?

Jason looked at Sherry in surprise. At the same time, when he saw Simon and Sherry looking at each other from the corner of his eyes, he seemed to vaguely understand why this scene would happen.

"If you want others to know, don't do it yourself. Now your evidence is in my hand. Don't you want to see it? Come with me."

After she finished speaking, Sherry turned around and walked into the office.

Jason thought for a moment and followed in.

He really wanted to know what these people had photographed so that the school would expel him without asking.

"I took photos of him with that woman, as well as videos. They are all in my phone."

Sherry took out her mobile phone from her bag. After pressing a few keys, she held up the mobile phone to let Dean Wang and Jason see it clearly.

Sure enough, the photos on it were taken at the door of the clothing shop on the second floor of New World Building when Jason and Yennie were together.

It was shot by Sherry Lin who took out her mobile phone secretly when they were not paying attention to her.

Jason frowned. He didn't expect Sherry to be so thoughtful.

At that time, he thought Sherry was just saying the vicious words.

"What does this mean?" Jason asked.

After all, in the photo, Yennie only gently held his arm, and the two did not do anything intimate.

"Well, what about these?"

Sherry stretched out her finger and slid quickly on the screen.

One photo after another flashed by quickly when he and Yennie were buying clothes in the LV store, but this was obviously not Sherry's ultimate goal.

In the end, she clicked on a video. When the video was played, even Jason could not help but be moved and his heart jolted a beat.

Chapter 101

In the video, it was Jason's first meeting with Yennie Jiang and helped her across the road.

Jason carried a pair of black high heels in his hand and held Yennie at the same time. He crossed the road and went all the way to the entrance of the Jade Valley sales building before getting on the Bentley of Yennie.

Originally, Yennie could not walk because she broke her high heels. It was completely reasonable for Jason to help her get in the car.

However, both Yennie's appearance and figure were excellent.

The dressing she wore that day, was sexy.

A beautiful woman driving a Bentley appeared on different occasions with a student.

They were so close to each other.

It was hard not to induce outsiders to think about something.

However, where did Sherry Lin take this video?

The Jade Valley was next to St. De Hospital. It was not a commercial place. How could she happen to show up there?

"This is an ordinary friend of mine. I happened to bump into her and she fell on the ground that day. No matter what, it should not be a problem for me to help an injured woman get on the car, right?"

Jason took a deep breath and started to feel that things were getting a little tricky.

"No problem?" Sherry Lin sneered. "Is there such a coincidence that you could meet her many times? Why don't you say it's arranged by God? If she didn't support you, how can you afford to live in such a good hospital? And if I'm not wrong, you haven't been discharged yet. I've inquired about it. It's the best private hospital in Nandu. It costs thousands of yuan a day. Where did you get the money? Don't tell me it's all from the demolition compensation. Even if all the demolition funds are given to you, you won't be able to afford the expanse during this time!"

This video was actually taken by Sherry when she followed Jason to the hospital.

She also waited until the workers got off work and caught a nurse passing by to ask about the hospital's situation.

When she learned that this hospital was a high-level hospital with a fee of 5,000 yuan per day, and not everyone was qualified to go in and see a doctor, she wondered if Jason might be a hidden super-rich second generation.

However, when she saw Jason and Yennie appear together several times, and saw that Yennie drove a luxurious car like a Bentley, and even Simon Yuan was so afraid of her, Sherry realized that Jason was not a rich second generation at all, but was supported by this woman!

03:06

Originally, she took these videos in order to post them on the school forum in the future, which would completely ruin Jason's reputation.

However, she did not expect that this loser even dared to offend Simon Lin. These videos became evidence of the expulsion of Jason. So as soon as she received Simon Lin's phonecall, she immediately rushed over and determined to expel Jason from this school!

Jason, of course, did not know these things. He was just still curious. If Sherry Lin really did nothing else during this period, but deliberately followed him, and then took these videos to make himself be expelled, then this woman would be a little horrible.

While pondering, Dean Wang pointed at the table and said, "Yes, we did find out that you have had obviously extra consumption recently. You bought fruit iPhones for your roommates, led your evil friends to eat and drink outside, and even went to some illegal places. Your consumption has far exceeded the standard situation of your four years in college. If I guess correctly, the Mercedes-Benz that your roommate Roy Wang is driving now worth nearly two million yuan, is also under your name, isn't it?"

"Mercedes-Benz? What?"

Sherry also looked at Dean Wang in surprise. "Dean Wang, you must have made a mistake. Even if this loser is kept as a mistress by a woman, how can the woman be willing to buy such an expensive Benz for him? It's impossible. You must have made a mistake."

Dean Wang looked at Sherry with a headache silently. "If you don't give me an explanation, it's ok. But you are now fooling us for Jason's biggest source of funds. You're really a stupid woman."

However, Sherry quickly reacted and said, "However, today, I also saw Jason shopping with that woman on LV store. You didn't see them holding hands with each other... So close..."

"Why do you have to say that I am supported by a woman? Even if I have a good relationship with a female friend, I don't violate any of the school rules, do I? I think it is too far-fetched for you to expel me with these." Jason said faintly.

"Dean, do you hear that? He admitted it. There is nothing else to say." Sherry sneered on the side.

"Then tell me, if the video spreads on the Internet and your identity was exposed by the netizens, how big an impact will you cause to your university? Do you know what kind of behavior you are doing? It's corrupting the social morals! The school's reputation accumulated for decades would be destroyed. As a student, can you bear this responsibility?!" Dean Wang's voice was full of anger, and the table was patted by him.

Originally, the decision to expel Jason had become a fact. There was no need for him to explain so much.

But now the Internet was too prosperous, Dean Wang was still worried that Jason would spread this matter to the Internet. If the inside story was revealed by the netizens, he didn't believe that Simon Lin's father would protect him. Giving up the little soilder to protect the general was the favorite thing of these profiteers.

"Corrupting the social morals? Destroying the school reputation?"

Jason smiled. If this could be considered as immorality, some rumors inside the school of some improper relationships among students, were far more worse.

However, because the speed in university was faster, the information could not be found online.

"Well, Jason Qin, go back to the dorm and pack up your things. I will ask the dorm manager to give you two more days. Find a house and move out in two days. If you exceed the period, we'll throw your things out, and don't complain that the school doesn't give you any mercy."

Now, Dean Wang was focused on the three fish that Simon had just sent, so he could not wait to send Jason away.

Jason nodded, turned around and left the office.

In his opinion, this was a foregone conclusion, so there was no need to waste any more time.

Jason went downstairs directly to the school office building. At the same time, he took out his cell phone and called Uncle Dong, asking him to inform President Zhang that if there was nothing important, he hoped that the president could wait for him in the office for three minutes and he would be there right away.

Hanging up the phone, Jason just walked downstairs, and saw a beautiful figure running fast toward him.

"Jason, are you all right? I just got the news and wanted to see you. I didn't expect you to be here."

Jenny Huang, wearing the British school uniform, appeared in front of Jason, gasping for breath.

When she just knew that the school had just punished Jason for expelling him from school, she was packing up in the dormitory and was going to do an internship. Upon hearing this, she immediately put down her things and wanted to take a look at the announcement at the school gate in person. She did not expect to meet Jason here.

"Well, I'm fine. By the way, do you know where the president's office is?" Jason asked.

"The president's office?"

Jenny looked at Jason in surprise, grabbed his arm and said, "Don't do stupid things. I'll go to the dean's office with you. If it doesn't work, let's go to the management office. What's the level of our president? Not to mention whether you can see him or not, even if you meet him, he won't intervene."

Jenny was right.

For a student, expelling him was a very big deal.

But for a principal of a university who was in charge of tens of thousands of students, it was not a matter at all, and he didn't even have the mood to ask about it.

03:06

"I just came over from Dean Wang. Take me to the president's office. Don't worry, I won't mess around." Jason said seriously.

Although there was still some hesitation in her heart, looking at Jason's persistent look, Jenny gritted her silver teeth and thought, "I will beg the headmaster together with him. The principle should remember her as that the school scholarship in the past few years was awarded by Principle Zhang himself."

The two of them came to the office building in the school affair area. They took the elevator to the ninth floor and appeared at the gate of the president's office.

At this moment, the people in the office were just going to the conference room to hold a meeting soon, so no one noticed the appearance of the two students.

Looking at Jenny's nervous fists and sweat on her face, Jason smiled and raised his hand to knock on the door of the president's office.

"Who's there?" A vigorous reply came.

"Jason Qin."

Jason said flatly.

Chapter 102

At this time, Grand Zhang had just hung up the call from Uncle Dong.

He did not have time to think about why the Young Master of the Shen Family, whom Uncle Dong had mentioned, had the surname Qin.

He only knew that the Young Master of Shen Family had been studying in his school all the time, but he was not aware of it at all.

"Young Master Shen is too low-key. I don't know which class he is in. Why does he come to find me when he is about to graduate? It's better to inform me early so that I can make preparation..."

Grand picked up the phone and wanted to inform the office to cancel the afternoon meeting, but he did not expect Jason to arrive so soon.

He tidied up the collar button of his suit and quickly left the office table. Standing at the doorway, he took a deep breath and stretched out his hand to open the door.

At this time, Jenny was still persuading Jason that he should not be so rude to the headmaster. He should first greet the headmaster, tell him which school does he belong to. Only in this way could he leave a good first impression on the headmaster.

03:06

However, when she saw the door open, she stopped at once.

"Are you Jason Qin?" Grand looked at the boy in front of him, whom he had never seen before, with a smile on his face.

"Hello, Principal Zhang."

Before Jason could say anything, Jenny immediately greeted him respectfully.

From her point of view, it was too impolite for Jason to knock on the door and not to greet the principal when he saw him.

It was natural for students to respect their teachers, not to mention that the students had something to ask for help.

"Are you Jenny Huang?"

Looking at Jenny holding Jason's arm tightly, Grand thought for a while and asked with a smile.

"Ah, Principal Zhang, you really know me!"

Jenny's eyes widened. She didn't expect that Principal only gave her scholarships three times, but he could still accurately call out her name. It was incredible.

"Well, I personally gave you your three national scholarship. You are the excellent graduate of Nandu University. On the day of the graduation ceremony, I have to personally give you an honor certificate. You have to keep it a secret. Don't tell anyone."

Grand was in his fifties. He was steady and a little shrewd. It was not easy for him to become the head of a university and be promoted to the deputy director's office.

Then, Grand invited them into the office and poured tea for them.

"What can I do for you today?" Grand, who was sitting opposite Jason, asked tentatively.

"It's like this..."

Jenny was afraid that Jason would say nonsense again, so she spoke out all the statements she had prepared on the way before he spoke.

However, she was too nervous.

Jenny had been talking for a long time, but Grand still frowned and cast his eyes to Jason for help.

"I was expelled," said Jason.

Puff!

Grand spat out a glass of tea that he had just swallowed.

Master Qin was expelled?

Which b*stard who was sick of living did this?

I just got the news that the young master of the Shen family was studying at our school five minutes ago, but you expelled him in five minutes?

F*ck, are you not going to give yourself a chance to live, or not?

No wonder the young master had been here silently for four years. Today, he would take the initiative to come to him.

It turned out that such a big thing had happened.

Grand took a deep breath and tried not to embarrass himself too much. Then he smiled and said to Jenny, "Well, Jenny, since this matter involves the privacy of Jason, why don't you leave for a moment and let's talk alone?"

"Have a private chat?"

Jenny hesitated at once.

She was not worried that Principal Zhang would embarrass a student, but the student was not good at talking.

Jenny was afraid that things would still have a chance to turn around, before Jason kept talking about it. If he couldn't even get through with Principal Zhang, then there would be no hope for this matter.

"I'll take care of the matter seriously. Don't worry," Grand added.

Jason also nodded, indicating that he had no problem.

"Well, then you have to talk to the principal. Note your tone and attitude. If you really can't do it, call me and I'll be at the door."

Jenny whispered a few words in Jason's ear uneasily and then left reluctantly.

Seeing Jenny close the door and leave, Grand put down the teacup in his hand, stood up, slightly bowed to Jason and said, "Mr. Qin, this is my dereliction of duty."

03:06

The principal bowed to the students to apologize. If someone else saw this, he would surely be so surprised that his chin may drop to the ground.

However, Grand didn't feel any discomfort or humiliation in his mind at this moment. Instead, he felt very fortunate and grateful.

He felt that after Jason was expelled from the college, he did not leave the school at the first time, but found himself. It was obvious that Jason was giving him a chance.

An opportunity to make up for it.

In the face of a colossus like the Shen family, Grand felt that he, the so-called headmaster of the university, was too small.

"Well, it doesn't matter. I just came to explain the situation to the principal. It will only take a few minutes. It won't be long."

The two of them sat face to face. Jason told Grand about what had happened.

Not to mention those videos Grand hadn't seen. With Jason's identity as the young master of the Shen Family, how could anyone support him in Nandu? It was absolute nonsense.

What's more, this woman was Yennie Jiang, a famous strong woman in Nandu, the public relations manager of Shen's Family. Grand found it even more ridiculous when he heard her name.

However, he didn't show it on his face.

He always felt that there must be some unknown reasons behind this sloppy decision. He had to figure it out before he could give the Young Master a satisfactory explanation.

Grand glanced at the map of distribution of the leaders on the wall, and then said to Jason, "In addition to the dean's office reporting to the school management office, the management office has to find the executive vice president who is in charge of the official affairs to sign a seal. It will be re-examined and sealed by the three branches, so there is really no need to report to me."

"It seems that I have offended a big man." Jason said with a bitter smile.

"Yes." Because of the Shen Family's relationship, Grand had nothing to worry about. He said, "Plans are divided into two types: conspiracy in secret and in open. I am not afraid of others using conspiracy in secret, because in that case, all we need to do is to break it down."

"But now, what others use is open conspiracy. I can immediately resume the young master's registered education, but once these videos and photos are spread among the students, the young master's reputation will inevitably be greatly affected. This is the real weak point."

In Grand's view, Jason should not care about just a bachelor's degree.

With the Shen Family's strength, no matter how good the bachelor's degree was, it was still a piece of paper. Ph.D.

03:06

students from top international university like Yennie Jiang were still working for the Shen Family, and there were many such people in the Shen Family.

The most urgent thing at present was to save the face for Master Qin!

However, Jason shook his head and said, "No, you don't have to worry about other things. You just need to cancel the punishment."

"I don't need to worry about it?" Grand frowned and didn't understand what Jason meant.

"Well, I'm going to graduate soon, and I won't have much time in school. There's no need to bother."

After saying that, Jason thought for a while and added, "I will solve my private affairs by myself. Principal Zhang, you don't have to worry about it."

"Well, let's do everything according to the young master's wishes." Grand said respectfully.

When Jason left the office, he found a middle-aged man in a suit waiting at the door.

Seeing Jason come out, the middle-aged man smiled at him and walked into the office.

"It looks a little familiar to me."

As Jason was thinking, Jenny, who had been eagerly waiting for him, stretched out her hand and pulled him over. She asked hurriedly, "What did the headmaster say? Is he going to re-examing this matter? Is there a chance? You didn't talk nonsense, did you?"

03:06

In the face of Jenny's interrogation, Jason smiled and said, "Well, Principal Zhang said that he would return justice to me, so you can rest assured."

"That's good."

Jenny patted her chest. She didn't seem to notice the teasing in Jason's words. Instead, she took his arm and whispered, "Did you see that man just now?"

Jason nodded and said, "I saw him, and feel a little familiar."

"Of course he looks familiar. He's one of the top businesses in Nandu, and the board member of our school. His name is Jack Lin, and he's always on TV..."

Chapter 103

Jack Lin?

Jason frowned.

This man turned out to be Simon Lin's father.

"No wonder he looks so familiar."

However, Grand's words just now reminded Jason a lot.

Since Simon had used his schemes for the sake of his face.

He felt a little sorry if he did not return the favor and give something to them, or he would break the good tradition that had been circulating in the Chinese nation for thousands of years.

Hence, he said goodbye to Jenny at the school gate. Then he called Uncle Dong and arranged the time and place to meet him.

At the same time, he also received a call from the monitor.

The last two public lessons of this semester would be finished. The class would organize a class gathering, and he inform Jason to attend it at night.

After hearing that, Jason was very curious.

The notice that he had been expelled from school had been posted for the whole morning. Not everyone in the school knew about this, at least all the students in their department knew but the class monitor was still inviting him to the class reunion. He was really a little touched.

However, after thinking for a while, Jason refused and said, "Forget it. You know my reputation now. How ugly the party will be tonight if I go. You can get together."

"What are you talking about? We've been classmates for four years. We don't recognize you just because of a notice, are you kidding? We'll inform you when we've discussed the time and location. If you don't come, we'll forget that you're our classmate. It's up to you!"

The class monitor hung up the phone directly and blocked Jason's words.

He didn't expect that the class monitor cared so much about him.

He did not choose to keep a distance from him because of the hollow things that had been posted.

And insisted to let him participate the gathering.

The feeling of being closed to someone made Jason's mood soar.

In a good mood, Jason took out the VIP card that Riley gave him and dialed the manager's phone to tell him that he would book the whole restaurant tonight. At the same time, he needed a bus and the fee would be paid when he arrived.

After the phone call, Jason stopped a taxi on the side of the road and directly drove to Emily's home.

Due to the change in land ownership, the demolition of the last two-story building temporarily stopped.

Xia's mother was standing on the stairs on the second floor, looking down from the handrail.

Five black Mercedes-Benz S600 parked neatly on the side of the road. A group of middle-aged people in black suits were anxiously waiting at the moment. Obviously, they were looking forward to the arrival of some big shot.

"Well, a small company is still pretending. When you can't do it, it will still be taken over by Lin's Group. It's just broken cars. What's there to pretend to be?"

Looking at the people and cars below, Xia's mother sneered in her heart.

In her opinion, Lin's Group just occurred a temporary problem, so the land would be taken over by such a small company that no one knew where it came from.

As long as she didn't sign the demolition contract, they couldn't move this unfinished building.

As time went by, the government would certainly inquire the company.

At that time, they would have to obediently hand over the land to Jack Lin. Furthermore, she was Jack's future in-laws, so she would be able to get whatever she wanted.

Xia's mother sneered in her heart. She spat at the people downstairs and then turned back to her room.

Soon, a red taxi stopped at the side of the road.

Jason paid to get off the car.

03:06

Leo Shen had been waiting for a long time. In addition to him, some of the senior executives of the Shen Group's Real Estate Department were basically in their fifties. They, in suits, came forward to welcome Jason.

"Young Master, you're here."

Leo looked at Jason with a face full of excitement. Although his surname was Shen, he was not a member of the Shen Family's branch family. He was less than fifty years old, but he had already taken the position of the real estate department's director.

"We arrived as soon as Uncle Dong called. I heard that Your Young Master want to know more about the details of this land. Do you want to listen to it now?" Leo said respectfully.

Jason nodded and said, "Tell me now."

"Young Master, in addition to the pond and hill from this land, the flat land available at present is 180 acres. According to the calculation rate that has been approved by the Decision Making Committee, we can build a total of 24 unit buildings with 4 units each floor. The highest floor can't exceed 16 layers. Of course, it can only be achieved when the area of the minimize green coverage is guranteed..."

As Leo introduced, he took Jason around the unfinished building to the construction site behind.

Jason was secretly surprised when he heard this. It seemed that this land was not as valuable as he had imagined. Besides, the section was too remote. It was hard to make full use of it and sell it at a good price.

"It seems that I've made a loss in my first transaction..."

Jason suddenly felt extremely painful.

Even though a hero saving a damsel in distress felt good, the price he had to pay was painful.

Moreover, this land was robbed from the Lin's Group on the halfway. The price they paid must be much higher than the normal price of taking this land.

This was too much pain.

"Manager Shen, I remember you said that this land can be used as a business place. Would the value of that land be higher?" Jason asked.

Leo nodded and said, "The value of a commercial land is far more than that of the residents, but the land around the age is all education and green coverage. It is impossible to build a large-scale residential area. The location here is remote, so if you build a shopping mall here alone, it is hard to attract people. And once the surroundings can't be made full use of, the commercial value of the land will not equal to the cost."

"Then how much is the cost of this land?" Jason asked.

"Adding the land auction and land extension, it is a total of 170 million yuan." Leo told the truth.

"How much did Lin's Group pay at that time?" Jason asked.

"110 million." Leo replied.

Sure enough...

Jason gritted his teeth that he let the Lins profit 60 million. The more he thought about it, the more he felt sorry for himself.

However, when he turned around and saw Leo's confident expression, he couldn't help but ask, "Have you already made a better plan?"

Leo nodded and said with a smile, "Young master, in fact, you also contributed a lot."

"Me?"

"Yes, that's right."

Leo said, "Young master, you should know that our group has always cooperated with Nandu University, right?"

Jason nodded and said, "I know."

However, looking at Leo's silent smile, Jason first thought about what he had just said and suddenly realized, "Are you going to build a new campus area for Nandu University?"

"Young Master is right. Based on the planned of this land and the surroundings, we are already in contact with Nandu University and plan to build the newly established art academy of Nandu here and build an art building with the landmark nature of Nand, as well as a music hall. Also, school dormitories and the shopping mall are going to be established. It is believed that these sites would be built in less than three years. The old music center in Nandu will be eliminated due to the greening, transportation, atmosphere of the art school here. All large-scale conferences, performances, and reports will be concentrated. This piece of land will become the new art center of Nandu. The value of the land will also change day by day, inestimable ... "

Listening to the exploitation of the future value of this land by Leo, even Jason couldn't help but be excited.

That's right. Due to traffic issues, the old city area in the south of the capital had already been blamed.

The simplest example was that the last time Jessica's concert had paralyzed the center of the city for an entire day. The Chen family could only rely on helicopters to bring their two daughters out. John and the rest didn't reach the South Street until early in the morning. It was so crowded that they could imagine what would happen.

However, this region was different.

All roads were 6 lanes with two different directions. For the modern city, it was self-evident how important the road was. Moreover, the green coverage and the lake hillside were well-arranged. Once the corresponding land was completed, plus the Nandu Academy of Art and the concert square, and the residential district that had been planned, this land would be very expensive in the future. It was just around the corner.

At that time, as soon as one walk out of one's home, you will be surrounded by green lakes, and then you will see long-legged student who can move around freely...

Just thinking about it, Jason felt that it was very exciting!

Chapter 104

Jason told Leo about the future of the land in his heart.

After Leo heard this, he nodded and said, "Young Master, you really do have a unique eye for wisdom. In fact, we didn't think about so much at first, everything is based on saving the cost. Later, we thought of this plan to develop together with Nandu University. According to the estimate from our colleagues, the value of this disciple will reach nearly 10 billion in the next ten years, which is at least 90 times. As long as we reach an agreement with Nandu University, everything will be under control!"

"Then do my parents know it now?" Jason asked.

"Boss Shen and madam haven't asked about this matter yet. After all, it is not a particularly big project. And I think this matter must be carried out secretly. After a certain result appears, Young Master could report it to Boss Shen and madam in person. I believe that they will definitely get an unexpected surprise!"

Looking at Leo's confident look, Jason was also a little excited.

In the future, this land, even the new art center of Nandu, would be controlled in his own hands. What a sense of achievement it would be, and it would even become the most accomplished birthplace of Jason in the coming few years. It was not impossible.

He thought that he was still worried about getting married and buying a house after graduation a month ago.

But now he was making plans for the future of the entire Nandu, which made him extremely excited.

Jason nodded, took a deep breath, and asked, "Which other projects in this land haven't been completed yet?"

"First of all, it's demolition. At present, it's at the unfinished building you just passed, there is the last one who has not been reached an agreement with us. As long as they signed, our construction team can enter the foundation at any time. Secondly, we need to sign a contract with the Nandu University about the construction of the new campus area. Our real estate departments and Nandu University have cooperated for a long time. There is generally no problem with such a project of mutual interest. As long as the detailed cooperation and the future development of the project are drawn into the contract, it can be signed soon!"

Leo's eyes were filled with hope, as if the prosperity and construction of the land's future had already appeared in his sight.

However, Jason frowned slightly.

There was no problem with the contract with Nandu University. Even if the real estate department couldn't finish it in a short time. As long as he went to negotiate with Principal Zhang as the young master of the Shen family, he believed that no matter what, the principal would give him some face and let the contract be completed in the planned schedule.

But why hadn't the demolition been settled yet?

Jason looked back at the unfinished building behind.

In his impression, it seemed that only Emily's parents still lived here, and the other residents had already moved away.

Was it because Emily's parents were not satisfied with the new compensation standards and refused to move?

Thinking of this, Jason asked Leo, "What is the surname of the last hold-out?"

"Surname is Xia." Leo said honestly, "I heard that when Lin's Group was in charge of the demolition of this land, this family was a well-known hold-outs, but we have agreed to compensate the family with nearly twice the price of Lin's Group and advised them to move as soon as possible. But I don't know why they refused to move, as if they were waiting for something..."

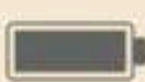

"What are we waiting for?"

Jason frowned slightly.

However, less than a minute later, he suddenly realized something and laughed to himself.

What else could Emily's parents be waiting for? They just wanted to wait for the Lin's Group to take over the land again and be Jack Lin's relative in law, so as to ask for more reward.

After all, the seven million from Fred's hands were left only to 500,000 in the end.

With such a big psychological deviation, with Emily's parents' insatiable greedy nature, they naturally could not accept it...

"Is there any response to Lin's Group recently?" Jason came to his senses and asked.

"They don't have much of a reaction. After all, we already have the land. As long as we don't take the initiative to give up, it's impossible for him to have any more opportunities." Leo said.

"Well, when you go back, make a plan for the construction of the next five years according to the previous thinking. If there's any need in cooperation with Nandu University, I will talk to Grand Zhang personally. As for the demolition house, you don't have to worry about it. I'll handle it."

Looking at Jason's solemn face, Leo immediately bowed and said, "We'll listen to the young master's arrangement."

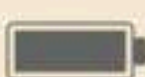

Then, he took Jason to visit some lakes and hills on this piece of land.

He mainly talked about how to properly use the resources in the following development of land.

By the time Jason left, it was already five o'clock in the afternoon.

Jason felt that his way of doing things was beginning to become swift.

Since he had agreed to participate in this school, he quickly began to take action.

On the way back to school, he had arranged everything properly.

When all the students in his class arrived at the school gate, a bus had stopped there, waiting for them.

Jason could ask a Mercedes or a Bentley motorcade to serve him.

But clearly, there was no need.

"I'm just going to have a meal with my classmates. It's too conspicuous to ask for a luxury car motorcade."

Using a bus was also convenient for classmates to communicate with each other.

He did not even let Roy drive the Mercedes-Benz G.

Even so, all the students were surprised by it.

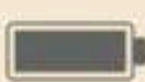

"Jason Qin, is the notice posted at the gate of the school true? You used to be quite thrifty. Why are you suddenly so generous?"

"What are you talking about? No matter how rich Jason is, he still remembers his classmates. Originally, I was worried that the taxi was not easy to get, but now everything is settled!"

Jason became the center of the people.

"My uncle is working in the bus company. He's free today, so I asked him to help. It doesn't matter."

Jason said with a gentle smile.

Subsequently, everyone got on the cars one by one.

Even Jason was no exception.

Although Leo Shen had arranged a Mercedes-Benz S600 to send him back to school, which was parked at the school gate at the moment.

But instead of acting like a loner, Jason chose to sit on a bus with everyone.

And Jason also noticed that Sherry did not come today.

Maybe it was because the gathering place tonight was too ordinary for her.

Sherry was no longer what she used to be.

She had to use famous brands both in clothing and food.

The places she went to were all high-end.

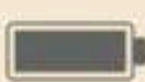

It had been a long time since she came to the school, nor did she participate in any class or any activities.

However, to everyone's surprise, Jenny Huang, the campus belle of Nandu University, might come to this party.

This was only said by a girl in the class who had a good relationship with Jenny. It was not certain whether she could come on time.

While everyone was talking and laughing, they quickly reached their destination.

The party was held in a dry pot restaurant, which was on the street of Barbecue.

There were all kinds of dishes and dry pots here. The price was affordable for the students. It was very suitable for these college students to get together.

The meal among students was usually quite simple.

It often including boasting, eating, and drinking.

However, they all knew what was going on and did not mention that Jason had been expelled from school.

After all, as a college student, many were persuaded to withdraw halfway, and many dropped out of school to start their business. They had wide choices and there were even many boys who envied Jason, who had found a stable job before graduation.

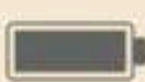

There was a saying.

People who didn't get drunk because he didn't drink much. Men who were not fascinated by women because he hadn't seen enough. Those who were virtuous because he could not beat others, those who didn't emphasize wealth because they didn't have other choices.

Anyone in this place, who could be supported by a beautiful woman, would not hesitate. How could he refuse?

After eating and drinking, everyone went Dutch to transfer the money to the class monitor, and then got on the car, thinking that they had to go back to school to sleep.

However, when the bus drove some distance away from the restaurant and headed towards the center of the city, some people began to realize that something was wrong.

"Jason, where are you going to send us? Are you going to introduce wealthy women for each of us when you're drunk so that we won't have to work hard to find a job after graduation, haha!"

Someone teased him while he was drunk.

It immediately caused a burst of laughter among the bus.

Jason could hear it, there was no hostility in everyone's laughter, he also gave a carefree smile.

"It's okay. This might be the last gathering for us. Naturally, it can't be too simple."

"What's more, at such a critical time, you don't dislike me but still treat me as a friend, I will thank you all. I can only make up for my guilt by having fun with you all today."

Chapter 105

Since it was his treat, of course, he couldn't make it too simple.

Although Royal Rolly was not the top-class entertainment place in Nandu, for these students who had never entered the society, it was already a top consumption place.

Upon reaching their destination, many students opened their mouths in surprise.

Because the place in front of them was not a bar, but a legendary club.

It was even a very high-end type.

The student who got out of the car first couldn't help but stop. He had a feeling that he didn't dare to go in.

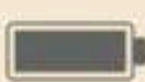

Even Jason, who was the instigator, could not help but feel a little regretful.

"If I had known it earlier, I would have invited them to go to Melody Karaoke. They are familiar with the place and he can also meet Ynonne by the way, and ask her about what really happened last time."

Although it was very upscale for them, in Jason's eyes, no matter where they went, they just had a meal or a drink. There was no difference at all.

There was no such thing as luxury or not.

Looking at Jason's indifferent expression, everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

After all, he was a sugar boy of a female manager. It would be a waste if they don't waste his money.

Then, under the leadership of Jason, a group of people entered the club.

They were such a large group, and they looked like students. In such a high-end club, they would naturally attract other guests' attention.

Many people were amazed.

"Are the students these days so rich that they can actually afford to come to this kind of place? Are they all in a large group?"

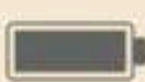

It was clear that quite a few people were strongly doubtful of the current capability of the consumption of the students.

Fortunately, Jason had already called the manager of the Royal Water Club in the afternoon.

Even if the guests were suspicious, under the leadership of the manager, all the waiters maintained their professional and respectful manners.

Not to mention that someone would suspect this group of students' consuming ability.

Jason's current idea was very simple. Since everyone in the university now suspected that he was being supported by the beautiful woman.

Then, he would let them admire him.

Not everyone could be so lucky to be kept as a mistress of such a beautiful manager.

Jason went forward and had a talk with the manager of the water union, and then asked the waiter to take the students into the water meeting.

More than forty people were sitting in the hall that had been booked, making the place somewhat empty.

In the manager's suggestion, another group of guests were put in.

And only girls can get in.

Whiskey, Bailan, Jack Danny, Royal Water Cannon...

All the drinks that could be ordered here were sent to the table in front of each person under the help of the waiter who was dressed in the bunny costume.

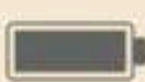

The rich-man-like enjoyment made all the students couldn't help but swallow saliva.

In addition, considering that some students didn't like Western wine and couldn't drink much, Jason specially asked the manager to add a portion of the Chinese liquor, which was Maotai.

The red wine was Lafite, but not the kind in 1982.

Jason said that it was better to buy some ordinary wine than let these people drink Lafite in 1982.

"D*mn, it's so luxurious. I've only seen this kind of wine on TV. It's my first time drinking it in real life. Jason, you're too awesome now."

Many people were surprised by the luxury wine tonight.

They never thought that in their lifetime, they could actually come to such a top club as Royal Water Club to spend and drink the most expensive wine in the legends. It was just like a dream.

Therefore, many people secretly suspected that the woman who kept Jason as her mistress was actually the boss behind the club.

In this way, there would be even more people who envied him.

However, they were all adults. Jason was so generous to treat them to drinks. In addition to gratitude and enjoyment, no one was willing to think so much.

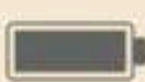

Jason stood in front of the counter, holding a bottle of cocktail in his hand. Seeing the students' happy faces, he was naturally in a good mood.

He knew in his heart that this was probably the last dinner between his classmates.

There were the last two public classes. Everyone had to go their own way. It was very likely that they would have no contact with each other for the rest of their lives.

That's how the university works.

When they were in school, it might be because of a dormitory and a game. Everyone gathered together, and they were as close as brothers.

But once they graduated, for the sake of their own future, everyone was in a strange city that was hundreds of miles or thousands of miles away. They worked hard and had no common topics. The friendship behind them would be dimmed.

"Last night, I forgot to send you a message. You can drive the car for the chairman of the Prosper Group. The Mercedes-Benz S600, 5500 a month. Don't go back to the training school. What do you think?"

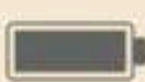

Jason looked at Roy Wang, who was drinking happily, and said with a smile.

"Really? The Mercedes-Benz S600? Can you help me get inside?" Roy said with a red face.

Jason nodded. "I'll take it as an agreement. When I go back, I'll tell them that you go to work next Monday, and I'll send you the phone numbers and addresses. Don't be late, okay?"

Ron Li, the CEO of the Prosper Group, only met Jason today in the construction site.

The size of the company was not bad. It was a listed company. The boss drove a Mercedes-Benz S600. Jason thought the boss was simple and honest. So he planned to let Roy go for some time. When he got used to the working environment, he would find a way to transfer Roy to his own side.

03:07

"D*mn it. Thank you, J. Let's not talk about anything else. I'll have three glasses first!"

After that, Roy excitedly drank up the wine in the glass.

Jason looked at the noisy and joyful atmosphere.

He was also very happy in his heart.

In fact, he suddenly felt a little grateful to Simon Lin and Sherry.

If they didn't spread rumors everywhere in the university, I haven't had a chance to invite these old classmates to dinner yet?

Now, he was known as being kept as a mistress of the female president. No matter how much money he spent, it was still reasonable.

Jason was not shameless.

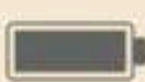

After so many years of hard life, he had long gotten used to not caring about how others viewed him.

When a person couldn't even get food, who would care about-face?

Faces were things the rich liked to play. Jason had just started. He wanted to pay more attention to the future plan of business and life. Of course, Emily was included. Others were not under his consideration.

After the atmosphere became cheerful, everyone became more relaxed and drank more happily.

But soon, Jason was in trouble.

Under Roy's encouragement, more students began to propose toasts to Jason.

Their purpose was naturally not to intoxicate Jason.

Instead, he thought that after Jason was drunk, he could speak out the truth and talk about the romantic story between him and the legendary female president.

For a boy at this age, there was nothing more attractive than a woman who had a good career, as well as excellent appearance and figure.

Jason tried to lead their target to John Huang.

After all, it was him who said that Jenny Huang might come tonight, but she hadn't arrived yet.

As a result, John had no choice but to turn the phone into a hands-free and call this distant relative.

On the phone, Jenny said that she was on her way. She would arrive soon and let everyone drink first.

All of a sudden, the audience burst into cheers.

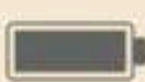

Jenny.

The goddess with a babyface.

She was the goddess that the entire boys in Nandu University admired and wanted to protect.

As long as her name was mentioned.

Every boy would imagine her petite figure, her cute and seductive sailors' outfit and knee-high stockings...

At the time of graduation, such a goddess actually appeared such a gathering where boys are outnumbered. Many couldn't help but wipe their saliva and looked toward the entrance.

However, to everyone's surprise, two uninvited guests appeared at the entrance before Jenny's arrival.

A man and a woman, judging from their clothes and clothing, were not ordinary people.

Standing at the door, the woman proudly held her hand and pointed at the waiter's nose and said, "Who the hell dares to book the whole place Royal Rolly Club? Do you know who we are? My husband's friend is Simon Lin, the son of the dignified Lin's Group! What fools! Hurry up and drive away the people inside and let us in!"

Jason looked at the entrance. Sherry Lin, wearing a black hip skirt, held Sean's hand tightly and said to the security guard at the door.

Chapter 106

Sherry Lin?

Jason shook his head and turned to stand on the side of the bar.

He did not want to have any more contact with this woman.

No matter where he went, there would be no good things as long as he met this woman.

"I can't afford to piss you off. Can't I just run away?"

However, even if Jason tried hard not to be noticed by the two.

But the students in the hall had already greeted Sherry and Sean.

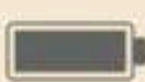

"Hey, Sherry and Sean, why are you here?"

A girl who had a good relationship with Sherry took the initiative to stand up and wave at the door.

Immediately, many students noticed the arrival of the two people. They thought that they were arranged by the class monitor, so they all stood up and smiled and greeted.

"Why are these people here? This is Royal Water Club. Can these loser students afford it?"

Sherry glanced inside with suspicion, and then said to the security guard at the door with arrogance, "See? They are all my classmates. Get out of my way and let us in!"

03:07

After that, the two pushed the security guards aside and walked into the hall.

Sherry was the class belle.

Sean, on the other hand, was a famous rich second generation in the university.

As soon as the two appeared in the hall, they were immediately surrounded by the students, and then greeted everyone familiarly.

"Crap, it's indeed Jason's treat, but why does it seem like they paid for it? What the hell?"

Roy looked at Sherry and Sean, who were familiar with each other, couldn't help but spit on the ground.

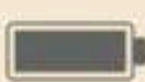

"Well, when will Jenny come? If she doesn't come, I want to go home to sleep."

Colin yawned.

As a typical indoorsman, he was really not interested in this occasion. If it weren't for the fact that he heard that Jenny would come, he would go back to the dormitory after having lunch.

John checked the time and said, "She should be here soon. She said that she was going to have dinner with her colleague after today's internship, so she is nearby. It is estimated that she has something else to do may be delayed for a while."

While they were talking, Sherry and Sean, who were in the crowd, also knew why these students were here.

"Hasn't Jason Qin been expelled? How can he still have the face to attend the class reunion? And he invited you to such a high-end place. Is he trying to do something to you?"

Sherry said with disdain, with her arms around her shoulders.

"We are classmates, and we are going to graduate soon. What can he do?"

The class monitor was a plump girl wearing glasses. She was shy and always took her classmates into consideration.

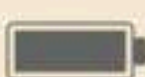

"Well, classmates? Do you know where this place is? Royal Water Club! The cost per person is at least one thousand yuan. And look at the wine you ordered. Each price is expensive. I guess you can't leave tonight without hundreds of thousands of yuan." Sherry sneered and said firmly.

"No way! It's so expensive!"

Seeing that the students around were getting embarrassed, Sherry said proudly, "Well, it's your first time to come here. Of course, you don't know it very well. Brother Sean and I often come here, and we also have VIP card."

Sherry lied at once. In fact, it was just her second time to come to such a place today. Last time, she peeped at Jason outside the box for a long time, but she would definitely not say it out loud.

"But Jason is not short of money now. Since he can invite us here, he must be able to afford it, right?"

A boy said doubtfully. In fact, he wanted to say that even if Jason had no money, the woman behind him would definitely be able to afford it. It should not be as exaggerated as what Sherry said.

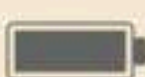

"Well, you are really naive and pitiful. Think about it. He was just expelled by the school today. Why should he spend so much money to invite you to such a high-end place? It's his treat? I guess, someone was expelled by the school, and wants to take revenge on society. He maybe pretentious to ask his classmates to go to such high-end places to consume. When he needs to pay the bill, he will run again and leave you here. At that time, with the Royal Rolly's relationship and influence in Nandu, you will not get the diploma as long as the news was informed to the school so that many of you today would not be able to get a diploma, just like him!"

Sherry's voice became louder and louder, that she wished that all the students present could hear.

Because of the last time she was here, Jason and Jenny were sitting in a private room. She and Sean could only sit outside and felt uncomfortable.

This time, she made great efforts to ask Sean to bring her here again so that she could take photos and show off in her friend circle. Unexpectedly, Jason invited more than forty people of the whole class here for consumption, and they could drink wine as much as they wanted.

In this case, Sherry felt more upset than being slapped in the face.

Therefore, the more she said, the more excited she became, attracting the attention of all the students present, and then pointed at Jason.

"Jason Qin, do you have money to pay the bill? You hide there and dare not come out. Did Sherry really hit the nail on the head? You don't have any money at all. You took us here to deceive us, didn't you?"

The girl, who had a good relationship with Sherry, found Jason at the bar counter. She went straight over and pulled Jason out and questioned him.

The music of was very noisy. Jason stood there and didn't hear what they were talking about at all.

"What money?" Jason asked in confusion.

"Did you see that? He doesn't have any money at all!"

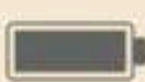

Sherry looked as if she already knew that this would be the result. She sneered and said, "Fortunately, Brother Sean and I arrived here in time. Otherwise, if more consumption would be cheated out by this guy in today, I'm afraid that it would not be just a cancellation of your diploma. Perhaps, you would also be in jail..."

Canceled the diploma?

Go to jail!

The entire Royal Water Club suddenly became quiet.

More than forty students in the class were all shocked by

Sherry's words.

After four years of hard study, they couldn't get the diploma because of a meal, and had to go to jail!

Some people had taken out their mobile phones and began to check how much money they had left on the balance of their bank cards.

But according to Sherry, they at least spent hundreds of thousands of yuan at this meal, and each of them had to pay at least 10,000 yuan to leave.

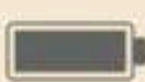

They were all students who had not graduated yet, and their monthly living expenses were less than 1,000 yuan. They didn't even have a job. How could they take out so much at once?

"Jason won't lie to us. We're all classmates. If he doesn't have enough money, we can pay for it."

The class monitor was also a little nervous, but according to her impression, Jason had always been honest and came from the countryside like her. In any case, she did not believe that Jason could treat the future of dozens of people in the class as a means of revenge.

"Oh, you can pay for it yourself. Do you know how much it costs? I asked you when I was at the door just now. You have spent more than 200,000 yuan so far. Plus tonight's booking price is at least 500,000 yuan for the lowest consumption. Can you afford to it?"

Sherry's face was full of disdain.

She had long disliked this class monitor who liked to be a good person. This time, she actually dared to speak for Jason. Anyway, everyone was going to graduate, so she had nothing to worry about. She directly said to the class leader, "And it's you who invited Jason here, right? Don't you know what this person has been doing in society? Now that you have made the whole class like this, don't you think you have to take responsibility?"

Sheery's firm words made all the students in the class very angry.

"Yes, I said that we don't need to call this guy. He was expelled by the school and no longer a classmate with us. Why should we take him with us?"

"Originally, he has done such a shameful thing outside the school. He is a disgrace in our class. I really don't know what the monitor is thinking. It is really not wise to ask such a person to have dinner with us."

"I don't want to come at first. It's you who insist on coming. Now, one person should at least take 10,000 yuan. Anyway, I don't have any money. You can do whatever you want."

...

Looking at these students, Jason sighed in his heart.

"I've already paid the bill. You can enjoy yourselves. I'll go first."

Jason said lightly, then turned around and left the meeting hall.

Chapter 107

Ignoring the shouting of Roy and the others behind him, Jason walked into the elevator and left Royal Rolly directly.

Hundreds of thousands of yuan was nothing for Jason.

What's more, he had the VIP card here.

He spent less than 150,000 yuan in total.

He had planned to give each of his classmates a small gift after the gathering.

He hadn't thought about what the gift was, but it would definitely be meaningful and valuable, as they didn't look down on him that he was expelled from school and still treated him as a classmate to invite him to the party.

However, it was only a few minutes.

He had become a trash, scum, and a bad-mannered student in these people's eyes. And became a disgrace to the class.

Jason had thought this can only be heard from Sherry Lin.

But he didn't expect that even these ordinary students would suddenly become like this when faced with some problems that couldn't be certain.

Therefore, Jason didn't want to stay here for a minute. He left Royal Rolly and wanted to get a car by the roadside, ready to go home.

In less than two minutes, a red taxi stopped in front of them.

03:08

When the passengers in the car paid the bill and got off the car, Jason found that the person who came was Jenny.

It was obvious that Jenny had deliberately dressed up.

Bangs on her forehead, with a pair of ponytails, wore light makeup on her young face, wore a gray JK uniform, and also a pair of knee-high stockings and black leather shoes.

She stood gracefully on the side of the road and looked at Jason with surprise.

"I've just gone home to change my clothes. Is it over?"

Jenny was obviously dressed up for tonight's party, but she didn't have any good friends in the computer department. Naturally, everything was prepared for someone.

"Oh, they are still inside. I have something to do, so I have to go first."

After this, Jason opened the door of the co-driver's seat and was about to get in.

"Where are you going?"

Jenny stared at Jason with anger in her beautiful eyes.

"Who did I come here for? Don't you know that?"

"If you're gone, what the fun I'll have!"

"I'll need to go home." Jason said earnestly.

"Then I'll make up for nothing today!" Jenny said grumpily, "It took me almost an hour to make it up, but now you want to go home. You're really a straight steel man, and deserve to be single!"

Seeing that Jenny turned around angrily and was about to leave, Jason said with a wry smile, "Then where do you want to go? I'll take you there."

"That's more like it!"

Jenny rolled her eyes at Jason and then sat back in the taxi. She then said to the driver, "Let's go to the North Road. The music bar."

The North Road was not far from the land where Jason had just seen in the afternoon.

He spent nearly sixty yuan on the fare.

Jason began to pay attention to these details.

For example, it would take a lot of time and money to turn the former customers who were accustomed to spending in the center of the city to the North part.

This was very important.

If the cost of drinking coffee in the north could be enough to have dinner in the center of the city,

Then, no matter how perfect their expectations for the future were, without the attraction, they were nothing but the beautiful scenery in the air.

The music bar was covered by the night in a flourishing palm tree. On the third floor, there was a wooden spire, and the glass windows were all lit up, which looked like an American countryside one.

Under the lead of Jenny, Jason entered the door and found a corner near the window to sit down.

"Two Fruit Daiquiri."

As soon as Jason sat down, Jenny immediately called the waiter.

Jason had never heard of the cocktail's name, but the price was very expensive, 110 yuan for one glass.

Jason looked at Jenny who seemed to be in a good mood. He didn't know what had happened.

"By the way, I heard in the morning that you seemed to have found a job. Where are you going to work?"

Jason remembered that Jenny had dinner with her colleagues in the new company in the evening. No wonder she was in such a good mood.

"You won't know, anyway. It's just a real estate company. I'm just doing my internship for financial affairs now. The internship period is half a year, and there are three thousand in a month." Jenny said happily.

"Quite a few, and you won't go back to school, right?"

Jason said with emotion.

Jenny had been studying well in school.

She had many certificates. It seemed that this society was still good for those who were capable. Although the internship salary was not very high, it was still good enough compared with other students.

03:08

Jennyn also said happily, "Yes, and our company just got a new project for development. It's not far from here, and it appointed me to be an intern financial supervisor. In the future, I will live at the construction site every day and can't go back until the end of the project."

Jason looked at Jenny's dressing grumpily.

It was really impossible to connect such a beautiful Lolita with a construction company.

However, it was hard for many people to really live according to their wishes.

However, there seemed to be no construction site to be developed nearby...

Jason suddenly realized something. He raised his head and asked, "Where is the construction site?"

"Well, next to the Jade Valley Villa area, there is a half-finished building. It's easy to find. You can see it when you pass by."

Hiss...

Jason gritted his teeth. It seemed that his guess was right.

However, with her education background and working experience, she would not directly enter the real estate department of Shen's Group. It was estimated to be in a subsidiary company.

While Jason was thinking, a white Mercedes C stopped on the side of the road.

When the door opened, a tall woman in a dress walked into the bar with high heels and sat directly next to Jason.

Nina Lyu?

Jason looked at this woman in surprise.

"Manager Lyu!"

When Jenny saw the woman, she stood up excitedly and hurried over.

"Who are you?"

Nina raised her head and frowned. Obviously, she did not remember who Jenny was for a moment.

"I'm Jenny Huang, Manager Lyu. We were having lunch together this afternoon. Have you forgotten?" Jenny explained anxiously.

"Jenny Huang? Oh, the newcomer from the department. Look at the clothes and clothes you're wearing. I can't recognize you."

Nina glanced at Jenny and said, "Don't wear this dress anymore, it will affect the company's image. Do you understand?"

"Er... I only wear the clothes after work. I wear formal clothes in the company." Jenny wanted to explain.

Nina frowned impatiently and said, "You little girl, it doesn't matter whether you go to work or get off work. If I ask you not to wear it, just don't wear it. You don't understand the rules at such a young age, and dare to talk back to your boss in less than two days. You really don't know the world."

Then, her eyes fell on Jason, who had been watching them all the time.

"Jason Qin? Why are you here, loser?"

Nina's look was full of surprise at first, then disdain.

It was a very upscale bar, and the consumption was not low.

It was simply disappointing to meet a loser like Jason.

Jason also didn't expect that.

Last time in DIO Coffee, Nina complacently said that she was working in a big company. Unexpectedly, she was in the branch office of his group. It seemed that she was even a small leader.

With this, she looked down on Emily, who was a senior private attendant of Shen Family in St. De Hospital. It was ridiculous to think about it.

"Yes, I'm here chatting with my friend." Jason responded faintly.

"Your friend?"

Nina's eyes first fell on the empty seat opposite Jason, then looked at Jenny, and said incredulously, "Jenny, is his friend you?"

Jenny nodded and said, "Yes, Jason and I are classmates..."

"It seems that you don't have a good education background. You praised yourself like a flower when we had dinner before that you are capable. What strong ability can you have if you are in the same school with this loser?"

Nina's face was full of contempt. After a pause, she said, "Forget it, you don't need to go to work tomorrow. I don't know what those people in the personnel department are doing. All kinds of cats and dogs can work in the company. Aren't you afraid of lowering the company's reputation?"

Jenny was stunned.

When she saw Nina and Jason knew each other, she was quite happy. But why did Nina fire her?

She hadn't even been to work for a day!

Chapter 108

Looking at Jenny Huang standing there stupidly, Nina Lyu said in a cold tone, "Why are you still standing there? Didn't you hear what I said? Take that loser with you and get out of my sight quickly. Don't delay my business."

"But..."

Looking at Jenny's red eyes, Nina seemed to be even angrier.

"What's wrong with you? Can't you understand human words? Hurry up and get out of my sight with your loser friend. Otherwise, you will not get the deposit you paid tomorrow, and you have to also compensate the company for the penalty charge. Is that clear?"

Nina's aggressive tone made Jenny tremble with fear.

"Isn't it inappropriate for you to do this?" Jason frowned and said, "What kind of mistake did she make? And you just fire her for no reason?"

"Hehe, I'm the manager of the financial department. I can fire anyone I want. There's no need to explain it to you, loser." Nina stared disdainfully at Jason.

"As for you, a loser wants to pick up girls? Get over yourself! Look at you, poor and useless. I don't want any of them as long as they're with you. Do you understand?"

"But Manager Lyu..."

Jenny did not expect Jason to have such a bad relationship with Nina. Looking at her attitude toward Jason, Jenny wanted to leave in a fit of anger, but she needed this job too much.

In the nearly half a year after graduation, she sent resumes to more than 50 companies, finally she got employed by this real estate company with a promising future and a good salary. However, she was fired by Nina, Jenny almost cry with a grievance.

"Manager Lyu..."

Jenny plucked up her courage and was about to say something, but immediately was interrupted by Nina's cold voice.

"Don't call me Manager Lyu. From now on, you have nothing to do with the Prosper Group. Tomorrow, get your resume back from the personnel department, I will call the personnel manager later. That's not any of your concern."

This afternoon, when Nina saw Jenny for the first time, she felt very uncomfortable.

Although this girl had just graduated from college, whether it was her business capability, professional skill, or certificate, it showed that her future achievements were not limited to just a finance intern. But there was only one financial manager, and Nina would not leave such a big hidden danger with herself. Even if she did not meet Jason today, Nina made up her mind that she would find a way to squeeze this girl out of the company sooner or later.

"If you insist on expelling Jenny, it seems that you do have the right to do so." Jason suddenly said.

"Don't talk nonsense. I'm the manager of the finance department of the Prosper Group, and she is just a finance intern in my company. She's my subordinate. I can fire her whenever I want. I don't need your understanding, ok?" Nina said proudly.

Jason shook his head and said, "But even if you have the right, it's just a matter of intention. You can only propose expelling Jenny from the company. In the end, you have to ask the chairman of the company to sign the paper, and then send it to the personnel department to stamp it. Unless the whole process is over, she will not actually be fired, right?"

When Jason was with Yennie some time ago, he also knew some of the company's rules. Although he didn't deliberately take note of it, he was still very clear about it.

"How do you know?" Nina looked at Jason suspiciously and then said with a smile, "Yes, so what? What you said is just a process. As a financial manager, I don't need a deputy director to agree to fire an intern. I just need to tell the personnel department. If you don't believe me, I will call the personnel manager now and let you see her being fired. What else can you say?"

With this, Nina took out her phone from her bag and dialed the number of the personnel manager in front of them.

"Hey, Manager Yang, you haven't had a rest so late..."

"Yes, yes... I'm busy outside... I'm calling you because I just want to fire an intern..."

"Yes, he's just a fresh intern..."

"Well, our department..."

"Yeah... it's the one who just came here today. She looks very honest, but I just bumped into her. Such a girl dressed in bizarre dress outside, just like a cheap girl. She even boasted that she is from our the Prosper Group. It will affect our company's image more..."

"That's right. She's still mixing with some pretty low types..."

"Of course it's true. They are still with me. If such a person still stays in the company, it will have a great impact on the reputation of our company."

"That's right. I'll give you the information tomorrow, and ask her to handle it to you to sign on it, ok?"

"Okay, thank you, Manager Yang. I'll treat you to dinner some other day. Bye-bye!"

When Nina hung up the phone, the tears in Jenny's eyes could no longer hold back and flowed down from the corners of her eyes.

In order to get this job, she had put in too much hard work that ordinary people couldn't understand.

However, before she formally went to the company to register, she saw everything become illusory like a dream and finally break up. Even though she was carefree, she could not bear it in her heart. All the grievances and unwilling turned into tears and came out of her eyes.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk. Look at you. Why are you crying? This is your own fault. Anyway, the matter has been determined. You'd better leave now. I still have an important appointment with my client. If you delay my business, you two will be in deep trouble!"

Nina looked at the two people with sarcasm and said.

Jason frowned and looked at Nina and asked, "If the style of dressing up could become the reason why the company expelled employees, then some people who are the leaders of the company, dressed in sexy and skimpy clothes, sat in front of the camera and asked for money from the fans for gifts and sent indecent photos, would this kind of employees have to be fired even more?"

At the same time, Jason laughed in his heart.

If Nina knew that the man on the list, who she kept sending a private message every day and wanted to meet offline, was the loser in front of her. He couldn't wait to see what expression would appear on Nina's face.

Hearing this, Nina frowned directly. She looked at Jason warily and asked, "What do you want to say?"

Jason stood up and glance at Nina faintly, "Nothing. I just want to tell you that if you treat others better, it's just like to leave yourself a safety net."

"Are you threatening me?"

Nina was stunned for a moment, and then she laughed with her hands on her belly. "Haha, you poor man actually threatened me. Hahaha. Shameless loser, even if you save a beauty from a hero, you don't have to look at yourself first. What qualifications do you have to threaten me? You don't want to tell me that you have always been a boss hidden behind the company, do you?"

Nina smiled and leaned forward and backward. At this moment, a young man in a straight suit came in from outside and went straight to Nina's side.

"What's the matter? Why are you smiling so happily?"

As soon as the young man appeared, Nina's expression immediately returned to normal. She panted lightly and pointed at Jason and said, "This loser threatened me just now, asking me to treat others better. Haha, I really can't hold it back. How can there be such a shameless man in the world? hilarious."

"Is he threatening you?"

The young man frowned slightly, turned his head and looked Jason upside down.

"Were you the one who threatened my Nina?"

Seeing Jason in an ordinary gray short jacket, the young man's eyes became disdainful.

"No, no, we just had a little misunderstanding. Jason didn't threaten Manager Lyu."

The young man's clothes and temperament showed that he was not an ordinary person. Anyway, she had lost her job. Jenny didn't want to get Jason into trouble, so she hurriedly came forward to explain.

Looking at the little girl in a JK uniform in front of him, the young man's eyes flashed a trace of greed.

However, he soon glanced at Jenny's cheek with suspicion and asked, "You're Jenny Huang, aren't you?"

Jenny was also stunned. "You know me?"

"Haha, I've seen your resume. You're a graduate of Nan University. Today, you just became an intern in the finance department of the Prosper Group. Jenny Huang, isn't it you?"

Looking at the young man's smiling face, Jenny suddenly widened her eyes in disbelief. "You, are you Mr. Liu of the company?"

Chapter 109

"Haha, I really can't see it. It hasn't even been half a day since she went to work, and even Mr. Liu in our company knows you. I don't know if you come to our company for work or you have other intentions."

Nina looked at Jenny with disdain, and her tone was full of disdain.

"Haha, why are you crying? Manager Lyu, did you bully your new colleague?"

Erik Liu looked at Jenny's red eyes and said with a smile.

"I..."

Jenny opened her mouth, but was interrupted by Nina in a hurry and said, "Oh, it's not a big deal. You don't need to ask Mr. Liu in person. Sit down, Mr. Liu. I've ordered a bottle of your favorite Brandy today. All the wine has been served. I'll pour you a glass first."

Nina held Erik's arm with a flattering face, pulled him to the chair and sat down.

At the same time, she looked at Jennycoldly and said, "Didn't you see that I am talking with Mr. Liu? Why are you still standing there? You're totally senseless at all. I really don't know what the personnel department is thinking. If they recruit all the senseless people just like you, how can they carry out their work in the future?"

"Is it really all right?"

Erik, who was sitting on the chair, looked at Jenny with a smile and asked.

"Well, I'm fine. Mr. Liu, Manager Lyu, I won't bother you anymore. We are leaving now."

Jenny bit her lip, took Jason's hand and went out.

"Wait a minute." Nina turned her head and said calmly, "Don't forget to go to my office to get the paper tomorrow. I don't have so much time to wait for you."

Jenny stopped in her tracks, nodded silently, and leave with Jason.

Jenny finally couldn't help but squat on the side of the road, and burst into tears with her hands on her head.

She needed this job too much.

Even if she was fired, if she really did something wrong and caused trouble for the department and the company, even if the company did not expel her, she would take the initiative to resign.

But today, because of her style of dressing, Nina said that she was dressed weirdly and directly called the personnel manager in front of her. She made up reasons and directly fired her from the company.

No matter what, she could not accept this.

But there was nothing she could do.

It was the first time that she felt so helpless.

She fell directly from the clouds in the afternoon into the abyss.

Apart from crying, she didn't want to do anything now.

Jason stood aside and sighed silently.

"Since the deputy general manager of your company have just arrived, why don't you make it clear?"

Jason took out a tissue from his pocket and handed it to Jenny.

Jenny still lowered her head and sobbed, "It's useless. When we were having lunch this afternoon, I heard that the relationship between Manager Lyu and Mr. Liu was not ordinary. He even told me not to mess with Manager Lyu in work. I have done very carefully, but why did she fire me and criticize you like that? How offensive it is..."

As she spoke, Jenny burst into tears again.

Jason looked at them helplessly.

This silly girl has been fired, and she still has the mood to care about him.

However, since he wanted to develop the half-finished building, it would be great if Jenny could really stay there to be a financial supervisor.

First of all, Jenny's ability was definitely not a problem.

She was originally a graduate of finance in the School of Finance and Management. During her college years, she had received a three-year national scholarship, and she was an excellent graduate in the whole school. There was no doubt that she was absolutely qualified for this job.

Secondly, Jenny was his friend.

At the beginning of his career, he needed someone who could help him manage financial affairs, which was also an urgent need. Jason really needed people like Jenny to stay in the construction site.

"Do you really want to work in the Prosper Group?" Jason squatted beside Jenny, took out a cigarette, and asked her with cigarette in his mouth.

"Of course, the Prosper Group is a listed real estate company, and its culture and working system are the most perfect. It's especially suitable for college students like us, who have just graduated and have not yet had a social experience. I have spent a total of dozens of resumes to be admitted, but I didn't expect..."

Seeing that Jenny was about to cry again, Jason patted her on the shoulder helplessly and comforted her, "But as far as I know, there is not only a company working on in the unfinished building program, but also a group named the Limsy Group. Why don't you go to the Limsy Group instead of the Prosper Group?"

"the Limsy Group?"

Jenny raised her head, wiped her tears and said, "You don't know anything at all. the Limsy Group is more difficult to enter than the Prosper Group. The minimum requirement of recruitment is to be a fresh graduate of the top ten universities in the country. I don't even have the right to submit the resume. Do you know how much effort I have put in to get to the Prosper Group. ..."

03:09

Jason nodded.

There were five listed companies under the real estate department of Shen's Group, and the Limsy Group ranked first. All the major projects of the real estate department were mainly developed by the Limsy Group, with the Prosper Group as a supplement. When the river rises, the boat floats high. The Limsy Group's welfare was also much better than the Prosper Group's.

"Have you ever submitted a resume to the Limsy Group?" Jason thought for a moment and asked.

The chairman of the Limsy Group was called Carl Lin. Jason met him at the construction site this afternoon, and Jason had his phone number.

"No..." Jenny shook her head. "Their company's recruitment requirement is high. I'm not highly educated and don't have enough work experience, so they won't see my resume."

"I see..."

Jason sighed, turned his head and said to Jenny, "How about this, you go home tonight and have a good sleep, then get up and sort out your resume. I have a relative working in the personnel department of the Limsy Group. I will call him later to see if he can do me a favor and let them accept your resume first. As for the rest, let's see what happens later."

03:09

"Do... do you have relatives in the Limsy Group?"

Jenny opened her eyes wide and looked at Jason's eyes in disbelief.

"Yeah, a distant relative. A few days ago, he also called me to ask if I had a suitable student to recommend him. I can take this opportunity to do him a favor. How about that? Is there any problem?" Jason said seriously.

"Really?"

Jenny stood up excitedly and looked at Jason dumbfounded. "Don't... don't lie to me. Although I have lost my job now, I will try my best to find a company that wants me. At most, I will start working in a small company. But I hate being cheated by others, especially the people I care about..."

At the end of her sentence, Jenny's voice was as small as a mosquito's snort, and her cheeks quickly turned red.

Jason also stood up and said seriously, "Don't worry. No matter where the capable person is, he will not be drowned. I will send you home now, and then call my relatives. You just need to wait for news."

In the night, Jenny looked at Jason with her big eyes full of tears. She nodded heavily and said, "Well, I believe you!"

After seeing Jenny off, Jason took a taxi back to the Jade Valley.

At the gate, he smoked the cigarette and dialed Carl's number.

"Master Qin?" Carl's slightly trembling voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Well, Mr. Lin, I want you do me a favor." Jason said.

"Master Qin, if you want to ask me to do something, please just tell me. Don't say 'do you a favor', I dare barely afford your modest attitude."

Carl's tone was very excited. It must be a great thing that could make the Young Master of the Shens make a call to arrange it in person at midnight!

Moreover, he didn't ask Uncle Dong or Leo Shen for help on such a matter. Instead, he went straight to him.

What did this mean? It meant that from now on, he was Master Qin's man!

He, Carl Lin, had become the chairman of a real estate company listed on the market until now, just because he had flattered Leo Shen, his distant relative who was of a higher status than him.

Compared with the Eldest Young Master of the Shen family who was talking on the phone, Leo was just like a complete loser, who couldn't be compared with Master Qin at all!

Listening to the heavy breathing sound from the phone,

03:09

Jason smiled helplessly and said, "In fact, it's nothing serious. I just want to ask if your company still recruit people. If you want to recruit people, I have a very good friend who wants to recommend you to your company for training. Mr. Lin, I don't know if it's inconvenient for you to do so?"

"It's absolutely convenient!" Carl said without hesitation, "It's absolutely convenient! Master Qin, what position do you want? I know that the chief financial officer of our company is currently vacant, and also the director of the administrative department. If Master Qin doesn't mind, I will call them now to arrange it. Oh, no, I will go back to the company and arrange it in person. What do you think, Master Qin?"

"Emm..."

Jason took a drag on his cigarette awkwardly and said, "Well, what about an intern in the finance department. Is that ok?"

Chapter 110

At half-past eight in the morning.

When Jason got up and walked down the stairs, he saw Yennie, who had been sitting on the sofa and waiting for him for a long time.

Yennie sat gracefully on the sofa with her close-fitting shirt tight, one-step dress wrapped in a perfect curve, and a pair of black stockings with beautiful legs were shining.

Jason couldn't help but feel his heart beating faster.

Although he had been in contact with Yennie for a short time, every time he saw her, he couldn't help but look her up and down. He didn't get tired of her beauty for more than ten years.

"Why is Manager Jiang here? Isn't the company busy?"

Jason knew that Yennie didn't leave that day just for the company affairs. She was still a little worried about being humiliated by Jack Shen, that b*stard.

Seeming to notice Jason's retaliatory tone, Yennie froze.

"The group belongs to your family. No matter how important the company's business is, it's not as important as your business."

"My business?"

Jason walked to Yennie's side and found that she was holding a thick stack of documents in her hand.

"Is there a new report?"

Taking over the report in her hand, Jason looked serious as soon as he glanced at the title.

Report on the Feasibility of Expanding the Group's Entertainment Industry And Investment in E-sports Projects.

"Are we really going to push into the e-sports industry?"

Jason raised his head and looked at Yennie in surprise.

He didn't think that she was serious about it last time, and he didn't expect that in just a few days, she had already made a report on it and signed it on his name.

"With the young master's current qualifications and the situation of the current market industry, the traditional industry is not suitable for the young master to take as your first business project. As for the E-sports industry, little investment but rapid development. It is very suitable for the young master to practice in the early stage," Yennie said.

Jason nodded and carefully went through the report in his hand. Then he asked, "The nine million investment in the early stage was mainly spent on the construction of the stadium and the purchase and improvement of the equipment. But the expanse of land on the report will cost just nine million yuan, right?"

Although Jason didn't know much about the cost of building the stadium, he knew about the estimated cost of the land, based on the fact that he had learned about the price of the land in the past two days.

"The young master, you have already bought the land, hasn't you?" Yennie stared at Jason with her beautiful eyes and said calmly.

"I have bought it?" Jason was stunned. "When did I buy the land, that is, the half-finished building's land..."

"You don't want to build the stadium on the land of the half-finished building, do you?" Jason suddenly said excitedly.

"Yes."

Yennie did not deny it and said faintly, "I heard from David Shen that Young Master has planned to build that piece of land into the future art culture center in Nandu, and has been discussing the project of the new school campus area of Nandu University. It's such a good vacant space, why don't you make full use of it? Young Master, what do you think?"

Jason took a slight breath and tried to calm down his excitement.

"Although the land of the half-finished building looks a little remote at present, once the new school campus area of the Nandu University was built here, many businessmen will move in, so the mid-term appreciation of the land will be achieved in a short time. Just based on this point, the group will be able to keep the cost less than it costs, and there will be no hidden danger of a big loss of the project."

Speaking of this, Yennie stopped.

Her beautiful eyes were staring at Jason, and there seemed to be an unspeakable emotion in her eyes.

Jason was silent for a moment, then said thoughtfully, "As the largest comprehensive university in Nandu, Nandu University has more than 60,000 college students, more than 20,000 masters and doctoral students. It seems that the number of teachers has not exceeded 7,000 yet. Even if the proper in new school campus area is only one-fifth of the total number of the whole school, there are still nearly 20,000 students who will live and live here as soon as possible after it is completed in the new campus area."

Yennie nodded and said, "This equals to the number of residents in the four large districts."

"This does not include the businessmen, training institutions, hotels, and staff of the catering service industry around the university. Moreover, on the surrounding residential buildings, we will also build several large-scale living community. The conservative estimate is that the first batch of people who live in the New District will be between 30,000 to 30,000 to 50,000 people."

Yennie looked at Jason with interest and said, "Go on."

Jason nodded, thought for a moment, and said, "Every green land here may be a park in the future. All we need to do is to gather resources, integrate the green land here, and build a life and leisure park that is enough to change the entertainment of the citizens in Nandu City in the future. I think in such a crowded and noisy city environment now, this free and open park is absolutely attractive enough for most of the urban citizens. They will prefer to purchase a house here."

Jason said this completely out of his own life experience.

Nowadays, the plot ratio of the real estate was getting lower and lower, so many people's living area was completely limited to the residential building after school and getting off work.

There was no green land in the community. If you wanted to take a walk after dinner, you had to walk on the side of the big road crowded with the car. Jason felt that the damage caused by the smoke, that was sucked into the lungs along the way could not be compensated by just taking a walk.

"Of course, this should be carried out on the premise that the funds are very sufficient." Jason thought and added.

"Money is not a problem. For the establishment of any new district, it is bound to be very difficult to have the return on investment in the early stage in a short period of time. These can be written in the plan, is there any other?" Yennie asked.

"That's all for the time being," Jason said.

"Then I will write down your suggestions temporarily in the report. If you have any better suggestions or opinions in the future, you can call me to supplement at any time. I will not turn off my phone."

Although Yennie did not directly deny the idea proposed by Jason just now.

03:09

However, Jason could feel that in Yennie's eyes, he seemed to haven't think what she was really looking forward to. Or in other words, Jason had not considered the most important part that Yennie thought.

However, Jason could feel it.

Yennie was already training him. This morning's report was just a beginning.

Lusa Chou came over and poured a cup of tea for each of them. Yennie took a sip and continued, "David called me this morning and said that Grand Zhang, the headmaster of the Nandu University, wants to go to the unfinished building in person these two days. Master Qin, If you are free, you can choose a time to go there in person. After all, with your identity, you may facilitate the project with Nandu University, and it will bring greater advantages to the next negotiation of the real estate department."

Jason nodded.

From the way he met Grand for the first time, he thought that Grand, the president of the Nandu University, was very respectful to his identity.

If he personally came forward, it can bring more benefits to the group, he naturally had no reason to refuse.

"When?" Jason asked.

"As soon as possible," Yennie said.

"What about this afternoon?"

03:09

"Not convenient."

"Why?" Jason asked in surprise.

"At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Mrs. Shen arranged a blind date for you. She has already decided the time with the other party. If you don't show up, I am afraid that Mrs. Chen will feel embarrassed."

"What the f*ck?"

Jason stood up from the sofa and stared at Yennie who was calm. "A blind date? Why I know nothing about it?"

"Mrs. Shen called me last night to tell me about it, but now it's just in the morning, you still have plenty of time," Yennie said calmly.

"Are you sure?" Jason remembered what Mary Chan said to him when he went to Shen's Mansion that day. He suddenly felt a little upset.

"Well, the woman's name is Phoebe Wen. She has just returned from her studies in Australia and is currently working in the office of the municipal party committee. She is in the deputy director's office," Yennie said.

"Umm, it's an office staff..."

Jason breathed a sigh of relief.

Now he was most afraid of being with a strong woman like Yennie Jiang. The pressure was too great. In front of such a woman, he seemed to be naked and could be seen through at any time and at any time, which made him feel extremely insecure.

03:09

However, last time, Mary also said that she would find a perfect match for him. Why did she also think that working in the department was the best job in the world?

This was completely not Mary's style as a rich lady.

"Phoebe Wen's father is Marvin Wen, a Ministerial-level official in the capital City. He is also Governor Wen who is about to take up the post of immediate office in our province."

Yennie glanced at Jason and added lightly.

Chapter 111

At half past two in the afternoon.

Jason took a taxi and appeared in the cafe as planned on time.

Maybe because of the special family identity, she didn't choose a luxury cafe, this cafe was not too costly. It cost at least 20 yuan per coffee, and even Jenny can afford a more expensive one than this.

A long-haired beauty was sitting at table No. 17 in the corner. She gently held her chin and looked at the door indifferently, as if she was waiting for someone.

Jason walked to her seat and sit down in front of the beautiful woman.

"It's you?" asked the long-haired beauty.

Jason nodded and said, "Ah, it's me."

"But why do you look different from the one in the photo?"

The long-haired beauty frowned.

"Er... The photo might have been beautified."

Jason said awkwardly.

Mary hadn't asked him for a photo yet.

However, Mary had already added Jason's WeChat account, and the photo was probably also found in her friend circle.

Looking at the jeans on Jason's body and the unknown brand black shirt, the long-haired beauty frowned even more.

"Are you going to meet me dressed like this?"

"Ah? Is it inappropriate?"

Jason lowered his head and looked at it. It was Yennie who deliberately ask him to wear before she left.

She was a daughter of a high-level official family, so she was relatively low-key.

Therefore, when they met for the first time, they were not allowed to wear famous brands. Even if they were famous brands, they had to pull down the hanging cards, and they should keep a low profile when talking. He should try to talk about some topics that girls were interested in, such as the concert, entertainment, and life dreams, which seemed to be noble, but they were not related to money.

To meet these requirements, Jason didn't even have lunch, so he boned up on the relevant knowledge for the whole afternoon. However, as soon as they met, she said that his clothes were not a nice pick.

"I bought this shirt at the school gate. It's very comfortable to wear. If you don't think it's inappropriate, I'll go back and change it now?" Jason really didn't know how to deal with this kind of situation.

He had been very reluctant to come, and he just didn't want to get her stood up .

After all, her father would soon become a governor in charge of a province's power. He could not allow himself to refuse as directly as he did last time. And Mary was very kind to him as his biological mother.

The long-haired beauty snorted and said with great dissatisfaction, "It's really bad luck for me to meet such a freak like you on a blind date. I don't know how they arranged it for me. Such a waste of time."

"Don't be angry, don't be angry..."

She's a highborn child, so it's normal for her to have a little temper...

Jason secretly breathed a sigh of relief and said with a forced smile, "What do you want to drink? I'll order it."

"No need." The long-haired beauty's attitude was cold, with disdain and indifference. She didn't want to waste her time on this loser anymore. She asked directly, "Do you have house in Nandu?"

Jason nodded and said according to Yennie's instructions, "A house with two living rooms, with a total of 90 square meters."

The beauty sneered, "That's it? How can you have the nerve to come here for a blind date just? What about the car?"

"Pa..." Jason looked at the Gucci bag in her hand, and said with hesitation, "Panamera."

"You have Panamera?" The beautiful woman was obviously incredulous. "Living in a 90 square meter house, driving Panamera? Are you kidding me?"

03:09

Jason laughed and said, "The 90 square meters house is only in the Southern District. I have a 400- square-meter independent villa in the Northern District. There is a new Mercedes-Benz G for your friend, and then..."

"Stop it! Can you stop bragging?" The beautiful woman interrupted Jason and looked at him with disdain, saying, "Spend some money on your clothes before bragging, ok? Dating me in such a low cafe, and wearing shabby clothes. what villa? what Mercedes- Benz G? How can you be so shameless? Full of lies, can you just tell me the truth?! Such a waste of time!"

The beautiful woman's attitude was very cold, and the sarcasm and disgust in her eyes had reached the extreme.

Jason said helplessly, "I'm telling the truth."

At this moment, an old black Passat stopped at the door of the cafe.

Through the floor-to-ceiling glass, Jason's eyes were fixed on the old-fashioned Passat.

The long- haired beauty also glanced out of the window, curled her lip, and said, "What era is it? Is there anyone who still drive this kind of old car? Can this old car still work?"

But soon, their eyes were attracted by the girl who got out of the car.

The girl was wearing a baseball cap, and her black long and soft shoulders were scattered on her shoulders. Her cheeks were delicate and lovely, and her eyes were black and bright.

03:09

Her eyes were like crescent moons. Her eyelashes were long, and she looked very beautiful.

Her skin was white and her body was slim. However, through the window, Jason actually felt that this girl seemed to be taller than him.

Of course, Jason felt that it was because she was wearing a baseball cap, and he was still sitting there.

The girl was wearing a red hoodie and calmly walking into the cafe. She was wearing headphones, listening to music.

When he saw someone sitting at table No. 17, a strange pair of men and women, she couldn't help taking off one of her headphones and asked, "When did you come? Is there anyone else here?"

"You are Phoebe Wen, aren't you?" Jason asked with a smile.

Seeing Jason greeting him with a smile, the girl also smiled slightly. Her big eyes were more like crescent moons. She reached out with a smile and said, "You are Jason Qin, right? Hello, I am Phoebe Wen."

"You're not Tom Zhang!" The long-haired beauty realized and said with her eyes full of resentment, "If you are not Tom Zhang, why didn't you say it earlier? But I came here first. You can find another place yourself."

"Oh, okay."

Jason didn't mind. At this time, there were many empty seats in the cafe. He found a window seat and sat down face to face with Phoebe.

03:09

"Did you just mistake that beauty as me?" Phoebe asked with a smile.

Jason smiled awkwardly. Just as the waiter came over, he hurriedly ordered two cups of coffee.

Phoebe had just come back from Australia, and she liked espresso coffee. Jason was very familiar with the information of her.

Then, there was a long silence.

As a girl, Phoebe had always been reserved, so it was normal for her not to take the initiative to speak.

But Jason came here with the casual attitude, so he couldn't find a common topic.

The silence seemed to continue. Hearing Phoebe humming along with the music in the headphones in a low voice, Jason gritted his teeth and asked directly, "Where did you buy this hat?"

Phoebe was stunned. She raised her head silently and stared at Jason. "Why are you surnamed Qin? And your father's surname is Shen, and your mother's surname is Chen?"

This question had troubled her for a long time, and she had been thinking about it on the way.

"Well, I was kidnapped by traffickers when I was very young. It was not until some time ago that I could reunite with my biological parents." Jason told her the truth.

03:09

"A trafficker?" Phoebe frowned. "Have you caught that trafficker?"

"No, it's been too long. My adoptive parents don't have their contact information. It came to nothing." Jason said.

"I see..." Phoebe said with a regretful face, "I haven't seen traffickers before. I'm so disappointed..."

"..."

"But these people are really terrible. When my dad comes, he will help you catch them and lock them up and shoot them all to death!" Phoebe patted the table angrily. The girl did this kind of bureaucratic action, which was extremely cute.

"Yes, I will." Jason replied with certainty.

"Then promise me that if you meet a trafficker again, you must call me and let me see with my own eyes, okay?" Phoebe asked eagerly.

"I..."

Jason opened his mouth, but before he could say a word, the girl's phone on the table rang.

"Well, okay, I know. I will come now."

Phoebe hung up the phone, and then said to Jason with regret, "Sorry, the department temporarily asked me to go back and sort out the materials for the mayor. Let's make an appointment another day."

Jason nodded, that was exactly what he wanted.

03:09

Afterwards, the two exchanged their phone numbers and bade farewell to each other at the entrance of the cafe.

Looking at the back of the old Passat, Jason touched his nose and suddenly frowned.

"Fk, I'm a little familiar with the tricked set of answering the phone..."

Was I dumped by this girl on my first blind date?

Chapter 112

"Haha, I've guessed it a long time ago. Such a beautiful girl won't notice you at all."

Jason stood at the door and heard a burst of sarcasm behind him.

He turned around and saw a beautiful woman with long hair walking out of the cafe.

"Why are you also alone?" Jason asked curiously. He remembered that there was a man sitting with her just now, but it seemed that he left ahead of time.

"Haha, I've dumped him. He's a manager of a listed company, having a Mercedes-Benz GLE SUV, but dating me? he's not even close!"

The long-haired beauty's eyes were full of pride. At the same time, she glanced at Jason and said, "How dare you come out for a blind date when you're dressed like this? Even if you pretend to be rich, go hard at it! Now all the luxury cars in the car dealer can be rented. Why don't you just rent a Panamera directly? Maybe the girl would have left with you."

Jason nodded wholeheartedly and then a pink Bentley sports car drove toward them from a distance.

"Young Master, get in the car."

The window slowly roll down, revealing Yennie's perfect side face.

03:09

"Young Master?"

The long-haired beauty widened her eyes.

She knew the brand of this car, Bentley! It was a luxury car worth millions of yuan, and it was driven by such a beautiful woman. But why would the owner of this car call this loser young master?

"Look, I'm not boasting, am I?"

Jason sat in the car and smiled at the long-haired beauty. Then he started the Bentley again and drove away under the suspicious eyes of the long-haired beauty.

In the car, Jason looked at Yennie's beautiful side face and asked curiously, "How do you know we ended so quickly?"

"I don't know. I just went to Nandu University, so I planned to wait for you on the way," Yennie said.

"Nandu University?" Jason was a little surprised.

"Well, Grand Zhang will go to Hong Kong for an examination project tomorrow. He won't come back in half a month, so I set an inspection time for the new school campus area an hour later. David Shen and others have arrived, and now they are all waiting for you."

After Yennie finished speaking, she looked sideways at Jason and said, "Why did you end so quickly? Are you not happy with the conversation?"

Hehe...

Jason smiled awkwardly and said, "It's pretty pleasant, but

03:09

Miss Wen felt a little regretful."

"For what?"

"She didn't see a human trafficker."

Yennie pursed her lips and gave up the idea of asking more.

When the Bentley appeared in front of the unfinished building, Leo Shen, Carl Lin, Todd Li, and other senior executives of the real estate department had been waiting here for a long time.

Among them, Grand Zhang, the headmaster of the Nandu University, and the Vice President in charge of the construction of the school, and all the leaders of the construction department were waiting here.

It was still very hot at the end of summer in the Nandu City.

The sun was blazing.

These people were all wearing ties, shirts, and leather shoes.

His clothes were soaked in sweat, but no one dared to move. They all stood on the side of the road, staring at the water-pink Bentley from far to near.

Squeak!

At the moment when the Bentley stopped, Leo took big strides to the passenger seat, bent down and opened the door respectfully.

Grand followed closely behind, standing behind David with a big smile on his face.

"Hello, Master Qin."

Seeing Jason get off the car, Grand hurriedly said with a smile.

"Hello, Principal Zhang." Jason nodded with a smile and said, "I'm sorry that I was delayed for a while just now."

"Don't say that, Master Qin. Today, Master Qin, you have already show your respect when you came here, I just said to Mr. Shen that since Master Qin has personally paid attention to this project, then there is nothing to talk about. Just sign the contract directly. But Mr. Shen is unwilling, so I am really ashamed to let Master Qin visit the construction site under such a big sun. ..."

Seeing that Grand, the principal of the school, was almost groveling to him, Jason sighed in his heart.

In fact, with Grand's current position, he didn't care how much the Shen family could bring him. He was the president of the university, and the Shen family was a businessman after all. No matter how close they were, he would not have many opportunities to get. On the contrary, they would be easily noticed and accused of doing anything wrong.

But he insisted on doing so.

It was completely for the sake of his own mother's family.

Grand was only in his early fifties this year, and his political career was in a period of heyday. If he wanted to go further, he could only go to the Department of Education or the Ministry of Education. The Shen family might not be of much help to him in this aspect, but it was very simple for Mary Chan's family.

03:09

Jason had seen all the people from the Shen's Group yesterday.

Even if he couldn't recognize them one by one, he could probably call the names of several main characters.

For example, Carl Lin.

Carl Lin was a fat middle-aged man.

As the chairman of the Limsy Group, the real estate company's listed company, he worth over one billion yuan. However, on such an occasion, he just stood far away and looked at Jason respectfully, not daring to approach him at all.

After a brief exchange of greetings, Leo walked in front and led the crowd to investigate of the land behind.

As he walked around the unfinished building, Jason raised his head and saw the scruffy woman, who was peeking down stealthily on the second floor.

Their eyes met.

The scruffy woman acted like a thief. One blink later, she just disappeared.

"What's wrong, Master Qin?" Leo asked with concern.

Jason shook his head and asked, "Haven't the family moved away yet?"

03:09

"Well..."

Seeing that even Leo's face showed a look of embarrassment, Jason asked curiously, "What's the matter? Is there anything wrong?"

"In fact, it's not..." Leo looked around and whispered, "Master Qin, you forgot that when you first called me, you said that after buying this land, no matter what, we must take good care of the family..."

Upon hearing this, Jason suddenly realized what was going on.

At first, he asked Leo to take over this piece of land was to prevent Jack Lin from using compensation as a threat, who will threaten Xia's mother to force Emily Xia to marry Simon Lin.

But what Jason didn't expect was that Xia's mother had already regarded herself as Jack's mother-in-law. She couldn't wait to send Emily to Lin's family, so that she could live a life of ease as a rich madam.

Now that the land was taken away by Jason, Xia's mother lost the bargaining chip to force Emily to get married. She planned to be a hold-outs here. She dreamed that the Limsy Group would be able to take away the land one day and compensate her with a huge amount of money, so she could continue to fulfill her dream of being a rich madam.

But what Xia's mother didn't expect was that this day would never come.

03:09

"We can do whatever we want. As long as it doesn't harm their personal safety, we need to finish the demolition in the shortest time and level the land. Don't waste any more time."

After Jason finished speaking, he walked straight forward.

On the empty ground, Leo began to explain the future structure of this land to Grand and the leaders of Nandu University in detail.

Jason stood aside and listened silently. At the same time, he asked Yennie, who was beside him whether he had the right to choose some staff from the real estate company, and arrange them to take charge of some practical projects of the construction site.

He still wanted Jenny to come here to take charge of financial affairs.

Especially when he found that the chief financial manager of the Prosper Group turned out to be Nina Lyu, he became more determined to hold this idea.

"You can just arrange David to do this kind of small matter directly. You don't need to ask him in person," Yennie said.

Is it a small matter?

Jason touched his nose. He remembered that the village chief's son worked as a supervisor in other construction sites. Every time he went home, he looked very awesome.

At this time, Leo walked up to Jason and asked in a low voice, "Young Master, I will hold a banquet in the Bloom Revolving restaurant tonight. At that time, all the leaders of the real estate department and Principal Zhang will come. Everyone wants to admire you and can also talk about the construction project in the new campus area of Nandu University. I don't know if you can give this face..."

"Well, I'll go."

Since he was in charge of this project now, it would be better for him to meet the people from the real estate department earlier.

Besides, these people were all working for their families. To go to see them by himself was to steady the team before the project began, and to hold the group together.

"Okay, I'll tell President Zhang and inform the real estate department to get ready."

"Call all the people involved in this project from the Limsy Group and the Prosper Group. I want to see them."

Jason added in a hurry.

Chapter 113

5:30 p.m!

In the building of the Limsy Group in the Nandu City.

It was time to get off work. The lights in the building were still on, and the staff of the Limsy Group were busy.

"When did the company get a piece of wasteland in the North Ring? And it's jointly developed by the three departments. What a amazing cooperation."

Some employees who didn't know about the project department were listening to each other, when they saw piles of materials that were constantly sent in.

"I don't know. This land is less than 200 acres. When did our company get a land that is less than 1,000 acres? Are they going to build a hospital or school on the land? Otherwise, it will have no value to invest at all." A clerk analyzed.

"Haha, you're right. I heard that this piece of land is a cooperation project with Nandu University, they will build a new school campus area, as well as an art building and music hall. They want to make it the landmark buildings in Nandu University. It's a big investment." An anonymous informed person said.

As one of the most listed real estate companies in the country, the Limsy Group usually took over the construction of the New District in a city, as well as the main body construction of the landmark. It was indeed the first time for such a small-scale land development.

"Besides, it seems that Mr. Lin will also invite the head of this project to the Bloom Revolving restaurant for a celebration party. If there is only a big school district's construction project, why will Mr. Lin pay so much attention to it?" Some people were looking through the resources and didn't agree with the informed people.

"Yeah, our group hasn't done such a big thing for many years. Last time we gathered the person in charge to celebrate before the launch of the project, that was five years ago, I remember that project was to build the national hall in Shanghai. That hall was especially used to entertain foreign leaders. Is it this time..."

Speaking of this, everyone's eyes were focused on this young female staff, with a look of sudden enlightenment.

Then, they envied crazily.

"D*mn it. When I got the data of this project, I thought it was a project derived from a big project, but I didn't care about it. If I had known this, I would have taken the initiative to take it. When the project was over, I could have been promoted... What a loss!"

"Yes, yes, if it's really like Chen's speculation, there must be a lot of high-ranking leaders who will attend this celebration banquet, and a lot of high-level disciples. I'm so regretful..."

Standing in the exclamation of the people in the project office, the finance department appeared unusually quiet at the moment.

the Limsy Group was a listed company, so the finance department was the core department of the group. The entrance and exit of the group needed face recognition. Every employee who could enter here were all excellent in the financial field. There were not many people, but any of them could be powerful in the group.

Finance department grasped the core secret of the group!

The deputy director of the finance department was a middle-aged woman who was over 40 years old.

She was born to have the pride and arrogance of a science lady.

She was wearing a black uniform dress and a pair of black-framed glasses. Her face was like a thousand-year-old iceberg, quiet and reticent, giving people a feeling of aloofness and pride, and it was very difficult to get close to her.

At this moment, she was sitting in front of the deputy director's desk, with her hands on the black-framed glasses, and said to the eight employees of the finance department in a cold tone, "I'm sure everyone knows that the group will make a big move on the construction site of the North Ring unfinished building this time. According to the regulations of the company, we need to send one or two financial supervisors to live in the construction site, and together with the chief financial officer of the Prosper Group to supervise all the day-to-day account and rules of the company, and report to the company in time.

"As usual, we will arrange an experienced old employee to lead the most inexperienced employee, so the intern can learn financial supervision experience."

"But this time the situation is different from usual. According to Mr. Lin's attached importance to this project, the experienced employees are completely not qualified for this job. In order to ensure that it will be foolproof, so I decide that I will personally go to the construction site to be in charge of the financial supervision this time. Others should take the full responsibility in the company and cooperate with my work at the construction site at any time. Do you understand?"

Lillian Li said blandly, and at the same time, she carefully observed the reactions of these employees.

In particular, Jenny, the new financial intern.

Everyone understood, but they didn't say anything.

Lillian had been working in the financial company since she was twenty years old, and she was still a deputy until now. These people were very clear about this. She had been waiting for such an opportunity to participate in the major projects of the company, and get a large amount of money from the company. Only in this way could she be qualified to go directly to Mr. Lin and talk about the promotion.

"Jenny, as a newcomer, don't you have any objections to my arrangement?"

Seeing that no one was talking, Lillian was very satisfied with their reaction. Then, she turned to look at Jenny, who was extremely nervous.

"Ms, Ms. Li, I have no objection," Jenny said in a hurry.

"Well, that's good." Lillian- nodded and said, "As an intern who just came in the company, the chairman's office gave you this opportunity to you according to the rules, they don't know the construction site. So after I go there, if someone asks about it, you explain to them by yourself and say that you feel that you felt not qualified and give up the chance voluntarily. Do you understand?"

"Got it..." Jenny bit her lip and agreed in a low voice.

"It's okay as long as you understand. After everyone gets off work, Jenny Huang, clean up the office area and recite detailed information about this project. I'll go to the Bloom Revolving restaurant to attend the group's celebration party later. When I come back, I want you to report this detail information of the project to me, so I won't read it again, I will check! Meeting adjourned!"

Lillian patted the table. Then, everyone got up and left the office.

Jenny sat still and waited for everyone to leave before tidying up the office and cleaning up.

"I don't know where she came from. She wants to grab Ms. Li's supervisor's qualification as soon as entering the company. Look at herself. She's tired of living."

A financial officer, who had yet to walk out of the door, quickly leaned over to Lillian's side and tried to suck up to her.

"Yes, it is estimated that she is a relative of a staff member in the chairman's office. I guess her relative doesn't want to do it anymore. Directly give such an important project to Jenny instead of the supervisor Li. Ms. Li is also good-tempered. If I were her, I would directly let this stupid girl get out of here. Why let she stay in the Finance Department? Do you think there are too many idle people here?"

"Hah, young people need to learn some lessons in order to be sensible. In the future, don't do the chores by yourself. Give them all to Jenny. She likes to do finance, so let her do it."

Jenny sat on the chair and clenched her fists tightly. They didn't care about whether she had heard their sarcasm or not.

"It was Jason who helped me get this job. No matter what others said, I have to work hard. I can't let Jason down!"

Jenny was thinking to herself when her phone suddenly rang.

"Hey, Jason, why did you call me?" Jenny took a deep breath and reluctantly answered the phone with a smile.

"Well, did you get off work?" Jason asked.

"It's time to get off work, but I may have to work overtime.

03:09

What's wrong? Are you looking for me?" Jenny was very happy that Jason could call her on his own initiative.

"Why do you work overtime on the first day of work? Are you free now? I want to treat you to dinner."

Jason was a little confused. "Shouldn't Jenny be on the way to the Bloom Revolving Restaurant as my personal financial supervisor? Why would she stay in the company and work overtime?"

"But..."

Jenny looked at the piles of documents of the project in front of her and hesitated, "I may have to work late. Besides, it's you who introduced such a good job to me. I should invite you. Can you see me tomorrow night? I won't be very busy tomorrow night. You can tell me what you want to eat. I'll treat you!"

"Are you so busy?" Jason turned his head, glancing at Carl Lin, who was on the phone, and thought for a while, "Well, you can do your work first. Call me when you are done. I will treat you to the midnight snack then."

Chapter 114

"Ms. Li, who do you think is Jenny's relationship with? She came to our finance department as soon as she entered the company. She was even nominated to be a financial supervisor by the chairman's office. Is she a relative of the chairman?"

On the way to the Bloom Revolving Restaurant, Maria Chen, the finance department staff who drove for Lillian, said grumpily.

"Haha, she was definitely not Mr. Li's relative. I know his family very well, and he don't have any relatives surnamed Huang."

Lillian was sitting in the back seat, putting on makeup on her lips with a bright red lipstick.

"Besides, I don't care who she is, Jenny, a newcomer, dares to compete with me for the position of financial director. As long as I am here for a day, she can't live a good life."

Maria said with some concern, "Aren't you afraid that she will complain to the leader?"

"Complain?" Lillian sneered. "Do you think she'll be able to stay here for a few more days? Remember the wrong report which cost the company's 90,000 yuan last time? Change the information and let her check it out again. When she gives it to you again, just put the blame on her. Just fire her."

There's no need to wait for that long."

Maria was stunned for a moment and then said happily, "Awesome! Ms. Li. In this way, we can not only fire this girl but also make up for our loss last time. Ms. Li is Ms. Li, who is different from ordinary people."

Lillian stared at her red lips in the mirror of her make-up. The corner of her lips curled into a vicious sneer.

By this time, the car had arrived in front of the building of the Bloom Revolving restaurant.

The building, which had reached a height of 49 meters, was like a pillar of heaven. The roof was straight into the clouds. The words "Bloom Mansion" were hidden in the late-night clouds, looming, like stars in the sky.

There were business, catering, meetings, and office buildings in one place. On vacation days, there was a light performance, which was one of the landmarks of Nandu. The revolving restaurant on the top floor had a six-star standard of service. All the people in the Nandu had dreamed of visiting here once in their lifetime.

It was also Lillian's first time to visit a place like this.

Even with her nearly six-digit salary every month, she couldn't afford the consumption of this kind of place.

Therefore, today, Lillian deliberately changed into the dress and shoes of the "Balenciaga" that she had only worn once. Carrying an LV black handbag in her hand, she pretended to be arrogant and walked into the door.

03:09

"Since Mr. Lin personally hosted the banquet, there must be a lot of rich people in the upper circle of Nandu City to come to present their gifts. If I can hook up with one or two bosses of listed groups, I didn't spend years waiting for a rich man in vain. Finally, I grasped the chance."

Lillian looked at the brilliant night view of the Nandu outside the elevator. At the same time, she thought of Jenny, who was still working overtime in the office to check the document for her, and the pride in her heart couldn't be concealed.

"Hello, lady. The revolving restaurant has been booked tonight. Please show us your invitation letter."

The elevator stopped on the 103rd floor. The door of the elevator opened, and a beautiful waiting staff in a pair of silk stockings and hip skirt stopped Lillian with a smile.

Invitation letter?

It seemed that Jenny didn't mention it.

"I know. It's President Lin of the Limsy Group who is holding a celebration party here. I'm a senior executive of his company. I don't need an invitation letter."

Lillian went inside haughtily as she spoke.

"I'm sorry, Ms. Lin. If no one doesn't show the invitation letter, they can't attend tonight's banquet."

The beautiful waitress reached out and stopped Lillian. Although her tone was respectful, it was irresistible at the same time.

03:09

At this time, the two distinguished guests who were sign-in at the sign office also cast their curious eyes on Lillian.

Lillian's face instantly turned pale. She looked at the waiter and said, "Show me what the invitation letter is."

The beautiful waitress smiled and showed Lillian the red card with the words "Bloom Mansion VIP" in her hand.

"If you don't have this invitation letter, I'm sorry. We won't let you attend tonight's dinner party."

Lillian stared at the red card and laughed. "It turns out to be this card. Of course I have it, but I didn't take it at home. I'll go in first, and let my assistant send the card to make up for it later. Is it okay?"

"Sorry, it doesn't conform to our rules." The beautiful waitress refused with a smile.

Lillian watched as more people walked out of the four elevator behind her. When they were all waiting behind her, Lillian's face was drained of its colors. She said haughtily to the waiter, "What's your service attitude? It's just an invitation letter, isn't it? Now, I'll ask my assistant to send it to me. But with your service attitude, I'll definitely complain to your manager. What a bad manner!"

Lillian said arrogantly. After that, she walked aside and took out her phone to make a call.

"Jenny Huang! What's wrong with you? Do you want to get fired? Just say it. Don't play this trick with me. Believe it or not, I can fire you now!"

03:09

As soon as Jenny answered the phone, she heard Lillian's curse.

Jenny was reciting the financial budget data in her office. She asked in confusion, "Ms. Li, what's wrong? Is there something wrong?"

"What happened?" Lillian asked with a sneer. "Tell me, do you have an invitation letter to the Bloom revolving restaurant?!"

"An invitation letter?" Jenny was also stunned. She rushed to the bag with one hand and found the red card with the words "Bloom Mansion VIP" on it.

"I think I have a red card..."

Jenny looked at the card and remembered that it seemed to be sent by the secretary in the chairman's office in the afternoon, but she did not tell Jenny what it was used for. It was just that she had to take it.

Before she could finish her sentence, Lillian's vicious words had already reached her from the phone.

"Well, Jenny Huang, I didn't expect you to be such a scheming girl. I used to value you so much. I want to train you to be the backbone of our finance department and gave you such precious documents and reports, but this is how you repay me? How could you even do such a despicable thing? Let me tell you, I'm so disappointed! Don't come to the company tomorrow, put your resignation letter on the front desk and leave. You're fired, that's it!"

Lillian deliberately made a tone of wanting to hang up the phone.

Sure enough, before she finished speaking, she heard Jenny's anxious voice from the receiver.

"Mr. Li, I really don't know what this card is for. I just put it in my bag. Don't be angry. If you need it, please tell me the address and I'll send it to you now. Is that ok?"

When she heard that Lillian was going to fire her, Jenny was scared to death.

She was just fired by the Prosper Group because she offended Nina Lyu. Now, she finally got into the Limsy Group with Jason's help. No matter what, she did not want to lose this job.

Regardless of the fact that the invitation card was meant for herself, she just needed Lillian to calm down.

"Well, since your attitude is so sincere, I don't want to argue with you. Now you can take a taxi directly from the company to the Bloom Mansion and find a red BMW 3 series car with car number 250 in the parking lot. Give the invitation letter to Maria Chen. She will send it to me. Remember, if you meet an acquaintance who asks you why you are here, you can tell her that you are just passing by. Don't say anything else, and don't mention anything about me and the invitation. Do you understand?"

Lillian didn't want Jenny to be discovered by other members of the group now.

03:09

In addition to the department leaders of the unfinished building, other people who could come here today were the leaders of the Limsy Group and the Prosper Group, as well as important businessmen in the business world or political circles.

If Jenny was really a relative of a big shot, then she would be in trouble.

So she decided not to let Jenny show up directly, in case she got into trouble again.

Upon hearing this, Jenny quickly agreed. After hanging up the phone, she left the company to take a taxi and rushed to the Bloom Mansion.

At the same time, Lillian stood on the viewing platform next to the elevator, and sent a text message to Maria Chen that Jenny will bring the invitation letter. In any case, she didn't allow Jenny to appear in front of the people. When Jenny brought the card here, she would immediately drive Jenny away and did not let her stay for one more minute!

Chapter 115

"Aren't you going with me tonight?"

Looking at Yennie, who had just hung up the phone, Jason asked in confusion.

Yennie nodded with an embarrassed look on her face, "Young Master, I'm really sorry. I have a very important friend to meet. I'm afraid that I can't accompany you to the banquet at night."

"Boyfriend?" Jason raised his eyebrows.

"Er... it's my brother." Yennie sighed and said.

"I see." Jason nodded and said, "Then you can go. I'll take a taxi to the Bloom Mansion."

"If you need anything over there, just tell Leo Shen to do it. He will handle everything properly."

Yennie was worried and told Jason a few words, and then she left the car in a hurry.

Jason also left the house, took a taxi and went straight to the Bloom Mansion.

At this time, in the parking lot at the gate of the Bloom Mansion.

A black Mercedes-Benz S350 slowly drove in and parked next to the a red BMW.

A man and a woman got out of the car.

03:09

The man was young and handsome, tall and straight, wearing expensive black tailored suit.

The woman had an elegant temperament. Her long hair was draped over her shoulders. She was wearing a long black dress and silver high-heeled shoes. She looked like a noble princess.

They attracted the attention of many people in the parking lot as soon as they got out of the car, especially of the one from BMW next to them.

The window of the passenger seat was quickly roll down, revealing Maria Chen's surprised face. "Mr. Liu, Manager Lyu, are you also coming to the dinner party?"

The man and the woman were Erik Liu, the vice president of the Prosper Group, and Nina Lyu, the manager of the finance department of the Prosper Group.

Nina was the financial manager of the group, who had been specially nominated by Jason to be in charge of the construction site project, so she received the invitation card of the Bloom Revolving restaurant tonight.

Although Erik was not the head of the department, he was the vice president of the the Prosper Group. His original identity and position were qualified to attend tonight's banquet. Moreover, the two are a couple, so they appeared in the same car at the same time.

Seeing Maria in a BMW car, Erik Liu still didn't remember her. However, Nina, who was also in the finance department as

Maria, knew her. She greeted her faintly and said, "Have you participated in the project this time?"

Maria shook her head. "I don't have the ability. The financial director sent by our group is Ms. Li, Lillian Li, but she has already gone upstairs. I have nothing to do, so I am waiting for Mr. Liu here."

"Is Lillian Li here as well?"

Of course, Nina knew Lillian.

They were both financial manager from different company, the Limsy Group and the Prosper Group, so they had a lot of opportunities to communicate with each other.

However, the Limsy Group's position in the real estate department of Shen's Group was far higher than the Prosper Group's.

Once they participated in the same project, the Limsy Group always took in charge of the core part, while the Prosper Group was in charge of construction.

Therefore, in one aspect, although Lillian was the vice manager of the finance department, she still better than Nina, the manager.

"Well, let's go up first. See you later."

Nina was too lazy to talk to a small staff of the finance department. She took Erik's hand and walked to the gate of the Bloom Mansion.

"Who do you think you are? You just get the financial manager position by getting into bed with a man. If you have the ability, come to our the Limsy Group. Just a loser from the Prosper Group. What kind of person do you think you are?" Maria murmured.

Maria looked at their backs disdainfully, but her face suddenly changed. She paused, covered her stomach with her hand, hurriedly got out of the car, and ran to the public toilet across the street.

Almost at the same time, a red taxi stopped in front of the parking lot. Jenny ran into the parking lot with sweat all over her head. Then she looked around and found the red BMW No.3 parked in the back.

But when she arrived, she found that the window of the passenger seat was open, but Maria was not in the car.

Jenny looked around anxiously. She did not have Maria's phone number. After waiting for three minutes, she quickly called Lillian.

"Is Maria Chen not here? Wait a minute, I'll call her now!"

Lillian hung up the phone in a hurry and called Maria.

"Turn off the phone? Where did this d*mn woman go at the critical moment?"

Lillian looked around and saw that there were already a lot of people in the hall, and many executives of the group appeared one after another, so she couldn't care too much. She hurried to send the phone to Jenny and asked her to send the invitation card to the top floor right now.

03:09

In the end, she threatened Jenny and said, "Don't forget what you have to say when you meet the group members. Otherwise, I can fire you immediately. Do you hear me?"

Jenny had no choice but to agree. She took the invitation card and rushed to the Bloom Mansion.

"Jenny Huang?"

As soon as she entered the elevator, she heard someone calling her name behind her.

Jenny was shocked. She thought she had met her colleagues, but when she turned her head, she found that the two people standing behind her were Nina Lyu and Erik Liu.

"Hello, Mr. Liu and Manager Lyu."

Jenny didn't expect to meet them here either, but she still greeted them in a low voice out of politeness.

"What are you talking about? Who is your manager? You have not been an employee of our the Prosper Group for a long time, don't call me that way. Looking at you now, I'm getting more and more convinced I made a correct decision to fire you." Nina said with disdain.

Jenny had no expression on her face. She was already an employee of the Limsy Group, and she felt this job was much stronger than the previous one. So she simply ignored her and turned around to wait for the elevator to arrive.

Seeing that Jenny did not speak, Nina became a little anxious and said, "You are even putting on airs. Look at you!"

03:09

You are fired by our group and now you come here to work. Do you want to serve dishes or clean the toilet? Would you like to beg Mr. Liu to ask the manager of the restaurant for a job for you? You can clean the toilet in the revolving restaurant, maybe the salary would be higher. What do you think?"

However, when Nina found that there was only 103rd floor on the floor table in the elevator at the moment, she couldn't help but look at Jenny curiously.

"Am I right? You are really sweeping the toilet in the revolving restaurant. Haha, it's really interesting. The employees expelled by the Prosper Group could only go to the mall to sweep the toilet. Mr. Liu, you see, I didn't make a mistake at that time. Fortunately, I drove this woman out of our company. Otherwise, a woman sweeping the toilet? this image would bring shame to our company and I don't know how many troubles she would cause in the future."

Erik nodded, "It seems that those people in the personnel department are becoming more and more naughty. They just blindly recruited some low-lives to the company. Tomorrow morning, I will take her... Jenny Huang, right? Take her as an example and criticize them at the meeting, and let them change immediately. Otherwise, just like her, pack up things and leave. Don't hold on to their post, while doing nothing. I can replace them with someone better."

Listening to the insults behind her, Jenny clenched her fists and didn't say a word from beginning to end.

03:09

She knew the Prosper Group and Linxi Group had been working with each other very frequently.

If she did something inappropriate and annoyed these two, Ms. Li had had a problem with her. If Ms. Li listened to them and slandered her again, she would definitely be fired.

Fortunately, although the floor was high, the elevator was very fast.

They didn't say much before the elevator stopped on the 103rd floor. Jenny also hurried out of the elevator and found Lillian who was waiting anxiously next to them.

"You're a good-for-nothing. How can you take such a long time? If you delay my dinner today, I'll teach you a lesson!"

Lillian snatched the invitation card from Jenny and glared at Jenny with hatred. Just as she was about to leave, she saw Mr. Liu and Nina, who were also walking out of the elevator.

"I knew you were coming, Mr. Liu and Manager Lyu. I've been waiting for a while, but I didn't expect you two to be here!"

Although Lillian had looked down on brother companies and Nina, who was also a financial manager, She had to give Erik face, because he was the vice president of the Prosper Group.

Erik just nodded slightly, but Nina saw Lillian talking to Jenny just now. She couldn't help pointing at Jenny behind her and asked, "Do you know this person?"

Lillian was stunned. She turned around to look at Jenny, who was at a loss. Frowning, she asked, "This is a new employee of my company. Do you know her, Manager Lyu?"

"Haha, the person who was fired from the Prosper Group was actually recruited by the Limsy Group. Haha, so funny!"

Nina suddenly pursed her lips and laughed. The sarcasm and complacency in her eyes were undisguised.

"What?" Lillian was also stunned. "Is Jenny an employee expelled from your the Prosper Group?"

Nina nodded. "Yes, I fired her last night. Today, she was recruited by you, the Limsy Group. If this news was spread to our company, I am afraid that they will laugh to death."

Lillian's expression became gloomy all of a sudden.

The Limsy Group had always been regarded as the elder brother and surpassed the Prosper Group. The two companies seemed to be calm and peaceful on the surface, but they had many contests secretly.

Human resources, financial resources, management, welfare, including salaries and projects under control...

the Limsy Group had never lost a single time.

But today, an employee who had just been dismissed from the Prosper Group became a member of her department the next day. She suddenly felt that her face was burning hot, as if she had been slapped by Nina in front of her.

"Haha, maybe there's something wrong with the Human Resources Department. Let's go to the party first. We'll go back to the company tomorrow and I'll handle it."

03:09

No matter how angry she was, Lillian still managed a smile on her face in front of the Prosper Group.

"It's up to you. This is your company's own business, so you don't have to ask us for instructions."

Nina looked at Lillian proudly, then held Erik's hand, showed the invitation card to the waiter, and walked into the revolving restaurant.

"Ms. Li, I..."

Jenny didn't know what to do. She grabbed Lillian's hand in a hurry and desperately tried to explain.

"Stop. I'll ask the Human Resources Department tomorrow if there's anything. If you bring such a shame to the group, you know what to do. You can go."

Lillian shook Jenny's arms coldly and walked into the revolving hall with a gloomy face.

Jenny stood in a daze in the same place.

She didn't know what she had done wrong.

She just wanted to work at ease and do her best to get the approval of her colleagues and leaders.

But why did these people look at her with such a biased look and push her to a dead end again and again?

Looking at the smiling and superior faces in the hall, Jenny bit her lips desperately, trying not to shed tears.

"Jason, I'm sorry..."

03:09

Jenny whispered in a low voice, but suddenly she heard someone calling her name behind her.

"Jenny? Aren't you working overtime in the company? Why are you here?"

Chapter 116

Jenny suddenly looked back.

Jason walked out of the elevator with a big smile on his face and stood beside her.

"Why...why are you here?"

Jenny hurriedly wiped the corner of her eyes with her sleeves and asked in surprise.

"Well, my friend held a dinner party here, so I just came here to attend."

Jason said, but when he saw Jenny's red eyes, he frowned slightly. "What's wrong? Did someone bully you?"

"No, no!" Jenny shook her head in a hurry. She didn't want to tell Jason that he had managed to get her a job, but she lost that job ...

Jason didn't think much about it at first. After all, since Jenny could come here, he thought that Leo arranged for her to come here on purpose after hearing what he said.

However, when he saw that Jenny only holding nothing but a mobile phone, he asked curiously, "Where is your invitation card?"

"What invitation card?" Jenny was confused.

"Well... okay, I got it. Come with me."

Then Jason took Jenny's hand and walked to the entrance of the hall.

03:09

"Hello, sir. Please show me your invitation card."

It was still the beautiful waitress. She smiled and reached out to stop Jason.

"Oh, I don't have it." Jason said.

"Sorry, if you don't have an invitation card, you're not allowed to enter here, because this place is reserved by guests tonight, VIP only," the beautiful waitress smiled.

"It doesn't matter. I'll make a phone call."

Jason's invitation was kept by Yennie. At that time, Yennie left in a hurry, so she did not return it to Jason.

After Jason picked up the phone, he just said, "I'm here." Then he hung up the phone.

Although Jenny felt that Jason seemed to have a well-thought-out plan, she still couldn't help but whisper, "Is your relative in the personnel department inside? Why don't you go with your relative? In fact, I..."

Jenny actually wanted to say that she was going to be fired from the group. She didn't want to make trouble for Jason, suddenly she saw a middle-aged man in a suit and tie with an anxious face at the entrance.

"Mr. Shen!"

Seeing the middle-aged man, the waitress immediately bowed respectfully.

Leo was the guest who booked the Bloom Revolving restaurant today. Every waiter here had seen him in advance.

"Master Qin!"

Seeing Jason standing at the door, Leo strode forward and bowed respectfully.

"Mr. Shen, don't mention it. Let's go inside first. I'm starving."

Jason held Leo up and said with a smile.

"Yes, yes, let's go in for dinner. It's almost seven o'clock. Everyone is waiting for you."

Leo hurriedly extended his hand to invite Jason and Jenny on the behind.

At this time, almost all the guests invited were here.

The magnificent banquet hall was decorated with the bright ceiling and the shining marble floor. The complete French windows could allow them to enjoy the night view of Nandu City from an all-round angle.

Everyone here had good manners and acted gracefully as a gentry.

They spoke in a low voice, acted politely, and looked humble. There was a gentleman's atmosphere everywhere.

Jason followed behind Leo. His arm was tightly pulled by Jenny. At the same time, she whispered in his ear, "Jason, this is your uncle? Why does he look more imposing than Mr. Lin of our group..."

Jason smiled helplessly, "Maybe he has been in charge of the personnel affairs for a long time, so he looks a little serious."

"But it seems that I haven't seen him in the company. When I joined the company today, I went to the Human Resources Department, but I haven't seen this person..."

Hearing Jenny's murmur, Jason thought angrily, "Aren't you talking nonsense? Leo is the supervisor of the real estate department of Shen's Group. How could you meet him in the Limsy Group? Not to mention you, I don't think even Carl Lin has seen him."

Walking around the crowded hall, Leo led Jason to the door of the box of "Bloom Pavilion".

There was only one box in the whole revolving restaurant. Usually, only booked in advance and paid a lot of deposit could they have the opportunity to have a meal in it.

"Are you Jenny Huang?"

Standing at the door, Leo suddenly asked Jenny.

Jenny nodded quickly. "Well, Manager Shen, nice to meet you. I'm Jenny Huang."

Manager Shen?

Leo was stunned for a moment, then smiled and nodded. "Miss Huang, can you wait for a moment outside? We will talk about something for a while, and then come out to pick you up immediately. Could you just wait for a minute?"

Jenny blushed at Leo's polite words. She didn't have time to think about anything and quickly agreed.

Jason did not say anything. It was estimated that Leo would immediately talk with him about some private topics about projects, so it was normal to not get Jenny involved.

After Jenny left, Leo bowed respectfully.

"Master Qin, please."

Walking into the hall, Jason saw a lot of familiar faces.

Grand Zhang, Carl Lin, Todd Li, and the Vice President of the Nandu University, who was in charge of the construction, Jason had met most of them in the afternoon.

However, there were two middle-aged people who stood in the middle. It seemed that their status was obviously higher than the two chairmen of the group, Carl Lin and Todd Li.

"Hello, Master Qin, I am Pete Wang, the deputy manager of the real estate department of Shen's Group."

One of them, a stout middle-aged man with round-framed glasses, took the initiative to introduce himself.

"Hello, Manager Wang." Jason smiled and nodded.

"Hello, Master Qin. I'm Neil Chen, the deputy manager of the real estate department of Shen's Group."

Another tall middle-aged man also came forward to introduce himself.

Jason greeted them one by one, and over there, the waiter came in to serve the dishes and opened the wine.

Jason sat in the main seat, side by side with Grand.

Leo was sitting on the other side, reporting to Jason about the main projects, and projects of the real estate department of the Shen's Group, in the whole country and in Nandu. Neil was mainly in charge of the projects in Nandu. Leo was only in charge of strategizing strategies and seldom had he participated in the real project.

Jason was surprised to hear that. The Limsy Group and Sean Chan's company were actually working for the subsidiary company of the real estate department. Jason thought that those projects were completed by the Limsy Group, in fact, Neil was the controller behind the scenes.

What Jason didn't expect was that even this Bloom Mansion, which he was having dinner in, was a landmark building built by the real estate department and the government of Nandu in the past few years. Moreover, they still held a large amount of shares.

After a brief introduction of the real estate department, Leo proposed to put the next issue on the unfinished building of land on the agenda...

During this period, Jason only listened carefully. This kind of opportunity for the bigshots gathering together was rare. He felt that he must focus on learning now. If he spoke out imprudently, he would be a laughing stock.

After chatting for more than half an hour, Carl raised his hand and looked at the time. He asked doubtfully, "Jenny should be here. She still has the project's budget report."

He thought for a moment and tentatively asked Jason,

03:10

"Master Qin, I don't know if your friend is in the hall now. If it's possible, I want to ask her to explain to you about the project's investment plan. I intend to hand this project entirely over to her."

"Jenny Huang..." Jason nodded and said, "She's outside now. I'll call her in."

"No, no, no. I'll give Lillian a call. She's the chief financial manager of our company. If she help Jenny with her job, I'm sure Jenny would make fast progress."

As he spoke, Carl took out his phone and dialed the number.

"Lillian, I'm in the Bloom Pavilion now, so I need the financial data for the new project. Please inform Jenny and ask her to prepare for it, and then send it to us, okay?"

"What? Are you also in the Bloom Mansion?"

"Say it again?"

Carl looked extremely embarrassed. He took a deep breath, covered the microphone with his hand, and said, "Are you sure Jenny didn't enter the revolving restaurant?"

"Well, well, I let the secretary hand over the financial statement to you personally, didn't I?"

"Now come to the Bloom Pavilion, well, I'll wait for you with a few other chairman of the board. Come here right now."

After hanging up the phone, Carl's whole body was shaking like a sieve.

"What happened?" Leo asked in confusion.

03:10

Carl turned his head awkwardly, especially when his eyes met Jason's. He only felt that the blood all over his body was cold.

"Is there something wrong with the statement?" Leo asked with some displeasure.

"I..."

Carl gritted his teeth and was about to tell Leo the truth in private, then he heard the door of the private room was knocked at this moment.

"Mr. Lin, may I come in?"

As she spoke, the door was pushed open. Lillian stepped on high heels and walked in with a smug look on her face.

Chapter 117

"Hello, leaders. Hello, Mr. Lin. I'm the Chief Financial manager of the Limsy Group. My name is Lillian Li. It's my honor to meet you."

Lillian was a woman who was good at playing tricks.

As soon as she entered this box, she found that Carl, who should have been the host of today's dinner party, was sitting in the most unremarkable corner.

And it turned out to be a youngster sitting in the seat of honor.

However, Lillian found that the fat middle-aged man on the right side of the youngster, he was acting like a high-ranking man, with an imposing attitude. He should be the real host of tonight's banquet.

Therefore, after introducing herself, Lillian's naturally focused on Leo Shen.

"Where's Jenny Huang? Why didn't she come?"

Carl suppressed the anger in his heart, glanced nervously at Jason, who was calm, and asked in a low voice.

"As a rookie in the company, I don't think Jenny is suitable to participate in the top-level activities of this group," Lillian replied.

"Is she not suitable for this job, so you are?" Carl suppressed his anger.

Lillian puffed out her chest complacently, touched her black glasses with her hand, and explained, "As the chief financial manager of the Limsy Group and Jenny's immediate superior, she can be ignorant, but I have the responsibility to remind her to know what should be done and what shouldn't, in case she bring shame to the Limsy Group in such a high-end banquet place."

After that, Lillian seemed to think that this was not enough to show the difference between herself as a leader and an employee, so she added, "As the director of the finance department, I have to do it."

"You!"

Carl flew into a rage.

He really couldn't stand Lillian Li such a stupid woman anymore.

Carl knew better than anyone else what kind of person Jenny was. If Jason didn't refuse his proposal on the phone at that time, the chief financial officer of the Limsy Group was Jenny today. Lillian, who do you think you are?

Moreover, even if Jenny was not Jason's subordinate, she had just graduated from college. As a leader, you did not take care of her or to build up Jenny's business capability. However, on her first day to the company, you took away the invitation card in the name of a leader, and replace her to attend the dinner party shamelessly. Now you are even talking a lot of nonsense her! Carl felt so f*cking embarrassed.

From the beginning to the end, Lillian had not noticed the drastic change in Carl's expression.

In her opinion, Leo was the real protagonist tonight. As long as she tried her best to show her talent and ability and got Leo's approval, she would achieve her ultimate purpose after sparing efforts to suppress Jenny tonight and get the invitation card from her.

"Well, in that case, Manager Li will replace Jenny Huang to take part in the new project and live in the construction site as a financial supervisor?"

Leo smiled faintly and interrupted what Carl wanted to say.

Seeing Leo take the initiative to ask her, Lillian excitedly held her eyes and said, "Of course, as the chief financial manager of the Limsy Group, I think Jenny's business capability and ability are not qualified to take on such a heavy responsibility. Moreover, I just got the news that Jenny was fired by the finance department of the Prosper Group last night. I don't know what method she used to skip our company's recruitment criteria and directly enter our finance department. It's my reservations, but it doesn't mean that I will directly use my right to directly blame the HR Department."

Now, Lillian was completely certain that why Jenny could join the Limsy Group was because she was related to those b*tchy secretaries in the president's office. Otherwise, Jenny would not work in the Prosper Group before, and didn't even dare to say anything after being fired.

"Lillian, mind your manner!"

Carl couldn't stand it anymore. He was afraid that this stupid woman would continue to say so without any restraint, if she irritated Mr. Shen and Master Qin. Not to mention Lillian, even he himself had to be unlucky and bear the anger of the Shen family.

"Mr. Lin, don't worry. I have ordered Jenny to go back and write the resignation report. She will send it to my office tomorrow morning. I will never make things difficult for the HR Department or other departments' colleagues."

Lillian thought that Mr. Lin was worried that outsiders will hear their contradictions within the group, so she hurriedly explained pretending to be thoughtful.

"What? Is this girl fired again?" Jason couldn't help but say grumpily.

But on second thought, it was no wonder.

Now in this society, if you can make everyone like you, unless you have achieved success and become famous, you can make everyone fawned on you. Otherwise, the more hard you work, the more capable you are, the more you will be marginalized by others. This is not strange at all.

In terms of human nature, not everyone would expect you to live a good life, even including relatives and friends.

However, Jason didn't expect that Carl almost fall down from the chair because of his subconscious words.

right now. She will be here soon if I call her" Lillian insisted.

"You didn't see it?" Leo said with a faint smile, "But I want to hear it now, what should I do? You are the financial director of the project. Do we still have to wait for you for half an hour for a financial statement?"

"Well..."

Lillian panicked.

It was not that she didn't expect this to happen.

Therefore, she asked Jenny to stay in the office to recite the statement, in order to deal with this kind of situation now.

And it was not the first time that she had done such a thing.

Ever since Lillian became the vice-general of the finance department, she had practically never taken over any real business.

All the arranged work was directly handed over to her subordinates. After it was done, she would directly report it to the company pretending she had done it all.

This also led to the fact that the whole the Limsy Group knew nobody but Lillian about the finance department.

So until now, she was the only deputy manager in the large finance department. Plus, the manager's position had always been vacant. Even if the staff were angry, they dared not to say anything. They were afraid that Lillian would purposely make difficulties for them and then fire them.

This was a hidden rule that had always been kept under wraps by the finance department. For this reason, Lillian had won a lot of achievements and rewards in terms of performance appraisal. In just two years, she was able to buy a BMW 3 Series,.

But the big shot in front of her obviously acted "out of bounds" and asked her to report the plan by herself. She didn't even finish reading the cover of the statement, she could barely say a word.

"Is there any difficulty?" Leo asked with a smile.

"I think, as a leader, the more responsibility I have to take is to manage the department's system. Let all the staff under my charge take responsibility and complete the tasks assigned by the company. As for the financial statement, I don't need to read it myself." Lillian took a deep breath and explained it in a tough way.

"But now you are not the vice manager of finance, but the financial supervisor of a new project. Although the deputy manager looks superior to the financial supervisor, no matter how superior you are, if you lose the identity of a supervisor, you are not qualified to attend this evening's banquet. But since you have attended it, you can't fulfill the responsibility of a supervisor at all. Chairman Lin, is this the business level and the work guidelines of your group's top leaders?"

Leo held a glass of wine in his hand and asked calmly.

Chapter 118

In the face of Leo's query, Lillian felt embarrassed all of a sudden.

At the same time, she put the blame all on Jenny.

If Jenny this b*tch hadn't offended the Prosper Group staff, she wouldn't have fired her and driven her out of the Bloom Mansion for the sake of her reputation.

Otherwise, she could ask Jenny to wait at the door, then it wouldn't take her half an hour for a invitation card.

Now that she had fallen into this awkward situation, Jenny was the first to blame.

Lillian was glad that she didn't allow Jenny to continue to work in the company. Otherwise, she didn't know how much trouble Jenny would make for her.

So, Lillian rolled her eyes and said, "In fact, it's not that I don't have time to read the statement. It's just that someone destroys the statement as soon as they get it."

"The statement was damaged?" Leo frowned.

"Yes, it's man-made damage!"

Lillian glanced at the expressions on the faces of the people present coldly. When she saw the slight shock in many people's eyes, she felt satisfied and said in a cold tone,

"Actually, I have been investigating this matter, but I don't want to announce it to the public early before I get the conclusive evidence. First of all, this will affect the image of our Limsy Group. At least, I don't think it is suitable to talk about this kind of topic on such an occasion today."

03:10

"Go on."

Leo said, glancing at Jason's face.

"Well, since you asked, then I'll tell you the truth."

Lillian was extremely excited. Knowing that her scheme had taken effect, she pretended to be righteous and said, "When the budget statement of this new project was sent to the finance department, I immediately handed it over to the staff below, and let her get familiar with the contents of the statement in a short period of time, so that it would be convenient for every leader here to get the fastest report when it's needed."

"Although I'm busy with official business, I know very well the importance of the new project. After finishing my work, I immediately ask the staff for the statement. I plan to get familiar with the contents of the statement before the banquet as soon as possible."

"But what I didn't expect was that before I got off work, when I wanted to take over her work and let her go home early to rest, she told me that the statement wasn't on her hand, and she said that I didn't give it to her at all. She didn't even know about the new project. This was the key notice I gave her this afternoon at the meeting. How could she not know?"

03:10

"I thought that she was a newcomer, and it was her first day here, so she may just forget about it and made up such lies to escape from the responsibility. But even I tried my best to persuade her, and told her that as long as she gave me the statement and did not delay the normal work, I would not blame her. But guess what did she said?"

Speaking of this, Lillian paused deliberately to notice the expressions of the people present.

"What did she say?" Carl couldn't help asking first.

"Oh, she actually said that there is no statement. If I dare to ask her for the statement again, she will directly ask her relatives to fire me from the group."

"I don't know what position her relatives hold in the group, but since I'm the manager of the finance department, it's my duty to avoid any possible risks in the group. So I got the invitation card and prepared to report the current situation to Mr. Lin in private. I'm waiting for his decision."

Lillian said righteously, and she didn't worry about being betrayed by the finance department when she got back.

There was a moment of silence in the box.

Leo looked at Carl. "Mr. Lin, what do you think of this matter?"

"Who is this person you're talking about?" Carl asked.

"Jenny Huang," Lillian said smugly. "At the beginning, she was not qualified to enter our company, because she didn't meet our recruitment requirements. So it's obvious that she did have a so-called backer in the company."

Crap!

Carl nearly lifted the table and covered the bowl of soup in front of him on Lillian's head.

D*mn it, how could I not know that Jenny Huang had a backer? I personally called the HR and arrange it all! Why didn't she just say that I broke the group's employment rules and arranged for a good- for- nothing to enter her department?

However, he couldn't say these words in front of so many people, especially when Jason was still on the scene.

Carl begun to hesitate. Was the person arranged by Master Qin was just like what Lillian said? If that was the case, of course, he would not blame Jenny. But in terms of promotion and appointment, he had to pay more attention to it.

After all, if the group really got into any big trouble because of this person, this kind of rich and powerful young master would only think about the business of his family and would not protect the other party.

After weighing the pros and cons, Carl thought for a moment and said, "Do you have any evidence to verify what you just said?"

Lillian nodded. "After I held a meeting this afternoon, I handed the statement to Jenny in front of all the employees of the finance department. They can testify for me."

03:10

"So, this matter has nothing to do with you?" Leo said with a faint smile.

"Of course not, it has something to do with me. As the manager of the finance department, it's my fault that my subordinates made such a mistake. I ask Mr. Lin to investigate my responsibility. I'm willing to deduct the bonus of two months as a punishment!"

Lillian said. After all, every month's bonus was earned by those who worked hard to make statements, she didn't have to do anything. And she could show her noble character in front of these big shots, what a perfect plan!

"Well, I think it's okay." Carl nodded.

"Is that okay?"

Leo smiled, turned his head, looked at Carl and asked, "How does Mr. Lin plan to deal with this matter?"

Carl thought for a moment and said, "Let's do it this way. Jenny is a new employee in our group. She may not be familiar with some rules and environment of the group in many aspects. Young people, it's normal for them to make mistakes. It's better to transfer her from the finance department to my office first. She doesn't need to deal with many issues there, and I can teach her personally if she need help, so she can avoid making many mistakes."

"Well... That's a good idea."

Leo nodded and then looked at Neil. "What do you think?"

Neil smiled and said, "The office is a place to serve people. I think it's better to transfer her directly to our real estate department. We happen to lack a financial supervisor here. I don't want to do selection. Let her do it directly."

03:10

The real estate department?

Lillian's eyes lit up all of a sudden.

Although she did not know what kind of company Mr. Chen was in, but in Nandu, except for the Limsy Group and the Prosper Group, no other companies could catch Lillian's attention, let alone the real estate department. When she heard that, she knew it was not a professional real estate company, not mention to compare with the Limsy Group.

So, she hurriedly said, "Well, I also think that a department like the real estate department is more suitable for Jenny, and the real estate department also needs an accountant, right? This job is too suitable for her, it's a perfect choice for her. She should be thankful to find a job as a third-rate graduate, how dare she to be so picky? Mr. Chen, am I right?"

Neil nodded with a smile. "You're right. It's our greatest honor to recruit Jenny into our real estate department."

"That's true. I also hope that Jenny can come to work in our real estate department." Pete also nodded in agreement.

Leo smiled and said happily, "Since the two vice-general generals of the real estate department have agreed, I have nothing to say. Mr. Lin, it seems that I can't avoid taking away people's love this time, and let Jenny work in our

Carl was completely dumbfounded.

He simply thought that Jenny don't need to deal with many issues here, and she will be under his watch, so he could at least prevent her from being bullied by a group of people like Lillian, even though there is no much room for her career development. Moreover, even if she made any mistakes again, he could control it at any time, so the problem would not worsen under his control.

Judging from the opinions of several big shots of the Shen Family's Real Estate Department, how come he became the one who had done something wrong and they was about to beat him down...?"

"However, I don't think Jenny is really as bad as what Mr. Li said. It's still unclear whether Jenny really destroyed the financial statement in order to cover up her mistake, we need to figure it out."

Leo raised his head and said with a smile.

Chapter 119

"I think we don't have to investigate anymore. I've already made it clear, and all the employees in the finance department can testify. Jenny is such a person. What's there to say?" Lillian said disdainfully.

"I also think it's better to find out the truth."

Just as Lillian finished her words, Grand, who had been silent for a long time, suddenly spoke.

Jenny was a graduate of the Nandu University, and Grand was the current president of the Nandu University. Grand felt embarrassed when his university was said to be a third-rate school in public.

"Isn't it necessary? It's just a small employee. After I go back and check it out, I will give the result to the office in the form of a report. Today is such an important day, we don't need to waste time on such a small matter, do we?"

When she heard that everyone sitting in the middle of the two seats was going to find out about this matter now, Lillian felt a little flustered.

After all, she made up the story and stole the invitation card from Jenny. If they really wanted to investigate the truth here, there would inevitably be some mistakes in her lies.

Just as Lillian was desperately thinking about how to stop this matter, Leo had already stood up from his chair and said, "Get yourself a chair. I'll be right back soon."

03:10

After Leo left, there was a long silence in the box.

Carl didn't allow Lillian to sit down. Lillian didn't dare to sit down either. Instead, she cast her eyes on her Boss Carl as if she was trying to please him.

Carl did not pay attention to her. He only felt completely regret.

A slight error in thought may constitute a life long regret...

How could it be!

How could he be so out of mind? Why did he ask Lillian if she had any evidence about this matter? And proposed to transfer Jenny to the secretary office?

Jenny was a girl!

How could these people present not know where the secretary office was?

That's simply...

More importantly, why did he think about how many troubles Jenny would get into in the company in the future?

It was mainly because he saw Lillian's confident attitude towards what she said that time, and he was too gullible.

Now that he thought about it again, even if she was telling the truth, he shouldn't have shown his stance on such an occasion.

It was a matter of standing on the side of the line.

03:10

Carl could even imagine what would happen to him after the banquet tonight.

Soon, the door of the box was pushed open again.

Leo walked in with big strides.

Jenny followed behind him, trying her best to swallow the dessert in her mouth.

How did he know Jenny?

Lillian was stunned when she saw the two of them enter the house one after another.

"Ms...Ms. Li?"

Jenny didn't expect to see Lillian here, either. She cried out in surprise.

"How did you get in?" Lillian asked, frowning.

"Manager Shen took me in," Jenny said subconsciously.

"Manager Shen?"

Lillian suspiciously turned her eyes to Leo.

He's just a manager?

D*mn it, she thought he was a leader of a government agency. It turned out that he was just a manager. It was so embarrassing for her to talk to him so respectfully just now!

"Little beauty, have a seat."

Leo took the initiative to move out a chair, moved his position to the side, and put the chair next to Jason.

Jenny saw Jason Qin and was about to walk over happily, then she heard Lillian's cold voice behind her. "Who is she? What right does she have to sit here?"

03:10

Jenny immediately stopped.

Although she had been fired, she was still afraid of this department manager who was extremely strict both in appearance and in the heart.

"What? Do you think Jenny is not qualified to take a seat?" Leo asked with a smile.

"Haha, Jenny is an employee who has just been fired by our the Limsy Group. As her former supervisor, I'm standing here. How could she sit down?"

After knowing that Leo was just a manager, Lillian's attitude changed a lot.

More importantly, she had been talking non-stop for almost half an hour since she entered the door. She didn't even drink water, and has been standing there all the time.

But Jenny was arranged to a seat as soon as she entered the room.

Their status was to be seen at a glance

Lillian felt even more uncomfortable.

At the same time, they began to suspect that Jenny's relative was very likely to be Manager Shen!

"Jenny, I didn't expect you to have the guts to show up here," Lillian said sarcastically as she stared at Jenny.

Jenny turned her head with a confused loo, not expecting

Lillian to say something like that.

"Right, neglecting your duties, working passively on the first day of work, and losing such important financial statements. I was just reporting all the mistakes you've made to Chairman Lin. I didn't expect you to really dare to come," Lillian sneered.

"Financial statements?" Jenny was stunned, "Didn't you give me the statement when you got off work? It's not lost. It's still in the office."

"In the office?" Lillian suddenly turned her head to Carl and said, "Mr. Lin, did you see that? She didn't admit it in the office before, and now she says that the statement was still in the office. Can you trust such a woman? In my opinion, don't ask her anymore. Just call the police and take her away. Don't waste our time."

Jenny was also muddled. She didn't know what had happened here before, but patiently explained, "Ms. Li, you did actually give the financial statements about this new project to me when you were after work, and then asked me to recite it. When you finish the banquet, I will report it to you. Have you forgotten?"

"Ah, now started to lie? Such an important financial statement, do I need you to recite it and report? Jenny Huang, you think too highly of yourself. Do you fantasize that you are the manager of the finance department? And we have to follow your instruction?"

In the face of Lillian's aggressive attitude, Jenny was suddenly at a loss. She clearly remembered that Lillian Li told her this when she got off work. How did it suddenly become like this? And she never thought about being the chief financial officer.

"You don't dare to speak?" Lillian sneered. "Why don't you admit it yourself? For the sake of you being a rookie, I'll intercede for you in front of Mr. Lin. I won't put this matter in the files, lest you blame me that as a leader, I don't care about my subordinates, and you can't even find a job in the future."

"I..."

"Shut up!"

Lillian interrupted Jenny's words harshly, "How dare you say that? I'll give you one last chance to admit your mistake, and then get out of here!"

She would never give Jenny the chance to explain. Because she had not yet bribed the people in the finance department. Once someone proposed to confront those staff, they will soon find out that what she had said was totally lies. If that is the case, she will end up miserable.

"I don't think it's necessary to apologize."

Leo stood up, turned his head, and said to Carl, "Call now and ask all the employees in the finance department of the group to gather in the company. Then you can go there in person and figure it out face to face."

"Yes, yes, Mr. Shen is right. I'll go back to the company now!"

03:10

Carl stood up as if he was running away, but before he could leave the dining table, he heard Leo Shen say calmly, "Mr. Lin, do you know why I have to personally invite Jenny for such a simple thing?"

"Wh-why?" Carl asked in surprise.

"Because when some people have been sitting in the same position for too long and had some power, they will take it for granted and think they are endowed this power by nature, but they forget who they are working for."

Leo walked up to Carl and said with a smile, "Isn't that right, Chairman Lin?"

"I, I..."

Seeing Carl's pale face, Lillian frowned in confusion.

Who exactly was this manager? Why was even Chairman Lin so afraid of him?

"It's just that there is a small mistake in the company. After finding out the truth, we don't need to always raise some small problems to a higher level. Besides, if you can't solve such a small problem, and rely on us the real estate department to help you solve everything. Why don't we directly let someone who has the ability to do so take this position? Why bother Chairman Lin to go back to the company again?"

Leo looked at Carl with a smile, patted him gently on the shoulder and said, "You don't need to go back to the company, just go home now."

Chapter 120

Carl looked at Leo in front of him, his face turned pale immediately.

"Mr. Shen, I..."

He opened his mouth trembling, only to see Leo shake his head.

"Just go home."

After that, Leo turned around and walked to Jenny. He smiled and asked, "Little beauty, you just said that Ms. Li asked you to take over the statement because she wanted you to recite it and then explain it to her, right?"

Jenny nodded dumbly.

"Well, all the people in charge of today's new project are here. You don't have to recite it. Just tell us about the initial budget and financial overview. Can you do that?" Leo asked with a smile.

"Yes!"

Jenny bit her lip. She looked back at Jason and nodded heavily.

Ten minutes passed.

The whole room was quiet for ten minutes.

When Jenny finished her report and recited all the rules and details of the project budget for the first phase, a warm applause burst out from the quiet "Bloom Pavilion".

"Wow, excellent! Jenny, how long did it take you to recite all these?" Neil couldn't help praising her.

"Two, two hours..."

In fact, Jenny wanted to count the time when she ate desserts while recalling the statement in the hall just now, but then she felt that it was a little embarrassing, so she didn't count that break time.

"Then it seems that our real estate department has found a talent." Pete said with a smile.

"Well, we can't change the three directors of the finance department for the time being, but we can let Jenny start from the chief supervisor of this project and get familiar with our department gradually. I believe that with her occupational accomplishment and professional capability, Jenny will be the best talent in our finance department in the future. She will be irreplaceable."

Taking advantage of the situation, Leo said to Neil, "Mr. Chen, please go back and arrange this matter properly. You have to arrange a good office for Jenny, it must be a southern exposure one. Such a lovely girl must see the sunshine every day."

"Okay, I'll go back now."

Neil stood up with a smile. When he passed by Carl, he shook his head and pushed the door open without stopping.

At this moment, looking at Carl's despairing face, Lillian gaped at Leo and said in a trembling voice, "Are... are you from the Shen family?"

"Oh, you know me?" Leo smiled.

Lillian shook her head. For most people, the Shen family was extremely mysterious and untouchable, but Lillian was currently the deputy director of the financial department of the Limsy Group, so she naturally paid attention to the whereabouts of the company's accounts.

However, she found that no matter if the company's funds flowed in or out, they would transfer to a very strange account. She kept track of that, but she still couldn't figure out anything, only to know that the owner of this account was surnamed Shen.

At first, she thought it was someone whose surname was Shen that created the company's account when the company was just established.

But She didn't know the truth until that time, when the last chief financial officer transferred away, he made a slip of tongue after drinking at the celebration banquet and said that he was actually promoted to the Shen's Group. Since then, Lillian faintly felt that the so-called Limsy Group was just a product of a family or a clan, and the real master behind the Limsy Group was likely to be surnamed Shen!

However, all this had nothing to do with her, a small financial manager. Only when she was idle and had nothing to do, or when she transferred money, would she think of this matter.

But today.

Until now!

She saw that a manager surnamed Shen personally dismissed the chairman of the Limsy Group, from the list of listed companies and dismissed the chairman of the Limsy Group with a simple sentence, she suddenly realized that all the things happened in the past suddenly came to her mind!

Jenny was actually from the Shen family...

She looked at Leo in a daze, and she was completely lost.

"You still have Jenny's invitation card, don't you?" Leo asked with a smile.

"They're in, they're in..." Lillian said in bewilderment.

"Then you keep it well. When you send Mr. Lin out, you can get a gift with a card. Don't waste it." Leo said with a smile.

"Okay, okay..."

Lillian turned around and supported Carl, who had lost his Divine Sense, as well. Then, the two of them walked out of the Bloom Pavilion step by step.

Then, Leo smiled and said to Jenny, who was a little confused, "Now you can sit next to the young master."

"Young Master?"

Jenny looked at Jason, who was stuffing the fish belly into his mouth, and did not realize what was going on for a moment.

She didn't even figure out what had happened just now.

Jenny had never seen Carl before, but she had seen everything that had happened here just now. She vaguely guessed that Carl, the chairman of the Limsy Group, was dismissed by Jason's relatives.

But now he called Jason the young master.

What was the relationship between these two people?

Given Jenny's simple and straight mind, she could not figure it out at all.

The incident at the Bloom Pavilion had finally come to an end.

In the banquet, Jenny was once again shocked by the presence of Grand, the headmaster of the Nandu University.

Through the conversation of the crowd, Jenny finally understood that Jason, who had always been extremely obscene in her mind, was not an ordinary college student. He came from an extremely noble family, which was so noble that both the headmaster of Nandu University and the Limsy Group had to bow to Jason and respectfully call him "Master Qin"!

This led to that Jenny did not pay attention to the food all night long. Her eyes were always inadvertently observing Jason, who was sitting next to her and eating freely.

"Why does he eat so much? He doesn't look like the young master in the Korean TV series either..." she thought.

After dinner, Leo took a group of chairman of the Shen's Group's Real Estate Department and the Prosper Group to the hall to greet other department leaders.

Jason didn't like this kind of too flamboyant activity. While Jenny went to the bathroom, he left the Bloom Mansion alone and took a taxi back to the Jade Valley.

Walking to the hillside of the villa, Jason saw the pink Bentley parked in front of the gate of Yennie's villa.

"Are you back even faster than me?"

Jason changed his route and stood at the door of the villa, ringing the doorbell.

Soon, Yennie, who was wearing a black professional suit, opened the door and invited Jason to her home.

This was the first time Jason came to Yennie's house.

The size and layout of the villa were similar to his own, but the decoration style was completely different.

Jason's decoration style was simple, while Yennie's was completely cold and modern industrial.

Yennie also seemed to have just returned home. Before she had time to change her clothes, she made a cup of coffee for Jason and sat opposite him.

"How's tonight? Did you see all the people in the real estate department?" Yennie asked with a smile.

Jason nodded and said, "Yes, we have seen each other."

"You seem a little unhappy?"

Looking at Jason's worried face, Yennie asked curiously.

03:10

"I don't know what to say."

Jason took a sip of coffee. The bitter taste made him frown slightly.

"Was Leo's arrangement not very thoughtful?" Yennie asked.

"Not really. It's mainly because he's too thoughtful that he fired Carl Lin, the chairman of the Limsy Group..." Jason said gloomily.

"Fire?" Yennie laughed. "Why?"

Jason thought for a moment and then told him what had happened tonight.

He could see that with Leo's new means, Leo could solve the problem tonight with ease. But why did he allow Lillian to do whatever she wanted in the private room and make a fuss about it? In the end, he fired a chairman of a listed group?

This question bothered him all night, and the more he thought about it, the more depressed he felt.

He always felt that it was because of him that Carl was fired. After all, in Jason's opinion, this person seemed to be not bad.

After listening, Yennie smiled.

"What are you laughing at?" Jason said gloomily.

"It's nothing. If I were there, I would fire Carl on the spot, and the way I did it might be more ruthless than Leo," Yennie said.

"Why?" Jason asked in confusion, "It's not a big deal, and Neil has already decided to recruit Jenny to the real estate department of Shen's Group. Carl should know nothing about it. It's a pity to lose the position of the chairman of the listed group."

"Pity?" Yennie shook her head. "If in the future, anyone who has been excluded from the subsidiary company will be arranged to enter the Shen's Group. Then how many positions do you think the Shen's Group has to be left for them?"

Looking at Jason's gradually bright eyes, Yennie said, "The Shen family has never lacked capable people, but loyalty. When the Limsy Group faced the Shen family's problems, his first reaction was not to be loyal to you, but to consider whether he could still be in his position for a long time. This is more serious than his abuse of the group's public funds, or even bribes. Do you understand?"

"Besides, Carl won't be really expelled. I need you to deal with the rest of the things."

Yennie opened her mouth and was about to continue.

But at this time, there was a burst of rapid knocking on the door accompanied by abuse outside the villa.

"Yennie Jiang, you b*tch, get out! If you don't open the door, I'll smash your car!"

Chapter 121

Hearing the curse from outside the door, the conversation in the room came to an abrupt end.

"What's wrong?" Jason frowned.

"Sit down for a while. I'll go and have a look."

Yennie stood up and walked out of the door.

Jason drank the coffee in his cup. He always felt that the coffee was very bitter. He didn't understand why coffee was the most popular drink among the upper-class people.

However, before he finished his coffee, he heard the shrill sound of a siren outside the door.

Jason hurriedly stood up and followed her out.

"Do you want to call the police?"

Seeing Yennie standing inside the door with her eyebrows locked tightly, and there was a sound of sharp weapons hitting the car outside the wall, Jason took out his mobile phone and dialed 911 directly.

"No!"

Yennie was anxious to say it, but when she saw Jason's doubtful eyes, she sighed softly and said, "Let him smash it. The car is insured. It's okay."

However, the sharp alarm of the car quickly attracted the security guards on duty in the community.

03:10

It had to be said that the expensive housing price and property management fee of the Jade Valley were better shown here.

In less than two minutes from the curse to the car being smashed, a large number of security guards arrived quickly with flashlights and security devices, controlling the people who smashed the car outside the door.

"Let me go! You trash! Let go of me! Who dares to touch me again? Believe it or not, I'll cut off your hands!"

The man was forcibly pressed to the ground by a group of security guards. The security captain gave him a cold look, then took a deep breath and came to the door of the villa, and rang the doorbell.

"Ms. Jiang, may I ask if you're at home?"

"Yes, I am," Yennie= answered through the door.

"Sorry, you were frightened by our negligence of work. Do you know this person outside the door? Do you need us to call the police for you?" The security captain asked.

"No, I don't know him. You can drive him away," Yennie= said.

"But your car..."

"You don't have to worry about it. I will ask the insurance company to deal with it tomorrow. Sorry to trouble you."

After saying that, Yennie turned around and was about to leave, but she heard the man outside the door suddenly shouting.

03:10

"B*tch, how dare you say you don't know me? I'm Walter Ye! It's your man! Open the door, or..."

"Take him away!"

The harsh screams pierced the night sky. Yennie's face was pale, and she quickly disappeared in front of the door.

Jason stood at the door and waited until the security guards dragged the man who made trouble away. Then he turned around and walked into the living room.

"Sorry, I'm sleepy."

In the face of Jason's doubtful eyes, Yennie shook her head apologetically.

"I will guard here. Go upstairs and have a rest," Jason said with a smile.

"I..."

Yennie licked her red lips and nodded. Then she stepped on high heels and went upstairs.

This accident seemed to come to an end.

Jason took a nap on the sofa and returned to his villa on the top of his mountain early the next morning.

As soon as she entered the door, she saw Lusa Chou, who was wearing a nurse's dress and white stockings, just washed her face and walked down from the second floor.

"Master Qin."

Seeing Jason coming back, Lusa stepped forward with a smile and took the initiative to take off his coat for him.

03:10

"Are you used to living here these days?"

Jason looked at Lusa. He rarely lived here recently. It was Lusa who lived here alone.

"It's okay. It's just that the young master doesn't come back. It's a little scary for me to stay here alone," Lusa said with a smile.

"Well, then I'll accompany you at home often in the future."

Looking at Lusa's smiling face, Jason thought that maybe nurses were born with a self-healing effect. Anyway, every time he saw Emily and Lusa, he would be in a good mood.

Lusa Chou's pretty face was slightly red. "Master Qin, Mrs. Shen said that you need to go home today when you are free."

"Uhh?" Jason was a little surprised. "Did she call you?"

Lusa nodded. "Well, Mrs. Shen said that your phone couldn't get through, so let me tell you."

"All right."

Jason sighed helplessly. Last night, he could sleep on the sofa, so he played with his phone all night, his phone died.

After going upstairs to take a bath and change clothes, Jason went out to take a taxi without stopping and went straight to Fairytale Mountain.

Although he had come here once, when he stepped into the private manor of Fairytale Mountain again, Jason couldn't help but be shocked by the scenery, he felt like he had traveled to Northern Europe. He opened his mouth slightly in shock.

Jason walked to the gate of the ancient castle and saw Uncle Dong, who had been waiting for a long time.

"Uncle Dong, are you waiting for me?"

Jason knew that although Uncle Dong was the butler of Shen's Mansion, but he was not idle enough to pick him up at the gate at any time.

Unless today's family would entertain important guests.

"Master Qin, you are back."

Uncle Dong waved his hand and the security guard opened the door immediately. Jason saw an old-fashioned Passat parking at the door.

"What the f*ck, she's here?"

Seeing Jason's eyes wide open, Uncle Dong smiled and put his arm around his shoulder. He whispered, "You'd better not talk casually later. Just listen to them by the side. Do you understand?"

Jason turned his head in surprise. "What's going on? Is there anything wrong with our family?"

Uncle Dong shook his head with an enigmatic face. "Don't worry about this. Just do as I say."

They came to the living room.

David Shen and Mary Chan were talking with a strange middle-aged man with a smile on their faces. Seeing Jason, Mary hurriedly waved her hand and said, "Jason, come here! This is your Uncle Wen."

03:10

The middle-aged man also stopped talking and turned to look at Jason.

He was in his fifties, and he was about the same age as David, but his spirit was better.

He looked resolute, dressed in a gray shirt, and did not speak. Sitting there alone, he gave people a feeling of dignity and majesty.

"Hello, Uncle Wen. I'm Jason Qin." Jason immediately stopped when he saw the middle-aged man and greeted him respectfully.

"Well, I have to say, although so many people have been lost, there are still some things in their bones that can't be erased." Marvin Wen's eyes looked up and down at Jason Qin, and there was some meaning in his eyes.

"Something in the bones? What is it?" Jason thought to himself.

"Brother Qin, we meet again." Sitting on the side, Phoebe also greeted Jason with a smile.

Jason also smiled and nodded at her. "Well, hello."

"Where did you go last night? You didn't pick up the phone, I and your mom have worried about you all night. Is there anything wrong?" David pointed to the sofa and gestured Jason to have a seat.

03:10

"It's okay. I'm going to have dinner with the people of the real estate department. I just want to know something about the new project." Jason thought for a while and didn't say anything about Yennie.

"Well, you will graduate soon, and you should be familiar with the things in the group. However, there are some things that should be done by Yennie. There is no need for you to do everything by yourself. If you have time, accompany your mother. Then, Uncle Wen will officially come to Nandu Province to take office. If you have nothing else to do, go to Uncle Wen's house more often. After all, we will be family in the future." David smiled.

The others also laughed. Jason was a little at a loss. He suddenly realized why Uncle Dong had said that to him at the door.

Looking at Jason, Marvin said with a look of nostalgia, "Jason Qin, we owe the Shen family favor. At that time, for some historical reasons, I was transferred to the countryside to transform, and I got sick during that period of time. If your grandfather didn't take the risk of the whole family being arrested and saved me, I am afraid that I, Marvin Wen, should have been a skeleton in the grave, and I wouldn't have had no chance to meet you today."

"Later, after the matter was found out, I was transferred to the county. At that time, your father and your mother was married, and I just got the marriage certificate with your Aunt Meng. Our wives were both not pregnant. I told your

"Unfortunately, you were kidnapped by traffickers not long after you were born. This matter has always troubled me. I came to Nandu this time to let Phoebe recognize your father as a godfather to make up for my guilt for your Shen family's loss. But when I heard that you had come back, I couldn't wait to let Phoebe meet you first, and then finish the office affairs. I planned to finish this matter as soon as possible. It was also a long-cherished wish of our two families."

who was standing at the door and trying sending signal to him.

"Let's do everything according to the elders' arrangements. I have no objection." Jason grinned and said.

Phoebe raised her head and looked at Jason. Her beautiful eyes were full of anger and a murderous look like a tigress. She glared at Jason for a while, making him feel weak...

"Well, Jason is more sensible." Marvin nodded with satisfaction, then turned his head to David and said, "Old Shen, this kind of thing should not be delayed. I think it's better for us to decide the date today so that the two children can finish it early. As for me, because of my identity, it's not suitable to get them a high-profile wedding. I'd better let them get married on trips and go to some fun places abroad. What do you think?"

Before David could say anything, Mary had already nodded excitedly. "Good, we are getting old. If the two children get married earlier, they can give us a big fat boy sooner. Then I and Mr. Shen can enjoy a good life and don't have to worry about the younger generation."

"Well, you're right, Jason. Which country do you want to go on a honeymoon? I'll inform the consulate in advance, so that you won't encounter a lot of trouble if you go there and don't know each other well." Marvin asked with a smile.

"It doesn't matter. Listen to Phoebe. I don't have any objections," Jason said with a smile.

03:10

"Look! Look!"

Seeing that his daughter had put on her headphones, Marvin was so angry that he slammed the table.

"Phoebe, what's your attitude? Are you going to humiliate me in front of Uncle Shen and Aunt Chan? I think you've been spoiled all the time. Look at your manner! You don't know how to respect the older at all!"

Phoebe also took off a headset, stood up, and said, "It's your business to repay your kindness, but I don't want to get married, and I don't want to get married to a little boy. If you force me to get married, then I'll go back to Australia to go back to school. You can try."

After that, she strode away.

A little boy?

Uh... Jason touched his beard that had been scratched in the morning and felt that the characteristics of a man were still very obvious.

"Old Song, go with her!" David said in a hurry.

"Yes, Master." Uncle Dong promised. He looked at Jason worriedly, then turned around and walked out with Phoebe.

"I've spoilt her. Don't mind her, Old Shen," Marvin said apologetically.

"It doesn't matter. It's normal for a girl to have a little temper. She has just returned to China and suddenly said that she would get married. She can't accept it emotionally. It's also human nature." David laughed.

03:10

Marvin nodded and sighed, "In fact, Phoebe has always known about this. Today, I took her here to meet you. I thought she was mentally prepared, but I didn't expect her reaction to be so big. A grown girl can't be kept at home. I can't guess what she is thinking."

"Uncle Wen, I think that Sister Phoebe's thoughts may be a little different from what you think now," Jason said.

"Oh? You are all young people, so you should be able to understand each other's thoughts." Marvin smiled and encouraged Jason to continue with his eyes.

"Well... this, including my current thoughts, may not be the same as yours." Jason braced himself and said.

"Hmm?" The smile on Marvin's face gradually disappeared.

"Sister Phoebe and I can't get married," Jason said with difficulty, as if he had used up all his strength.

The word "imposing" was explained in the dictionary: the strength and power that people and things showed.

In the past, Jason was very vague about that. He didn't have specific concept.

However, when Marvin suddenly changed his appearance, he suddenly realized that,

'The strength and power are complementary.'

Marvin Wen, who had been in a high position for a long time, and was now in charge of the power of life and death of the Nandu Province, was a little angry.

03:11

"Jason, what did you say?" Mary awkwardly pulled David's arm.

David also looked at Jason in confusion.

Although Jason was now the only son of the Shen family and was adored by countless people, David would not be wrong to see people. Especially when he came back from the detention house that day, he eased the grievances between his family and his third younger brother for more than a decade with a few words. This was a very sensible child. He should not say such unreasonable words on such an occasion.

"It's okay. Let the child finish. It's their business after all. As parents, we can't push it too much."

Although Marvin was eager to repay his kindness, when he saw that Jason and his daughter seemed to have expressed their opinion on this matter, he looked at Jason and asked patiently.

"Do you think that Phoebe is not beautiful enough, and she doesn't deserve you?" Marvin asked.

"No."

Jason shook his head.

He felt that his neck was very stiff, and it was very difficult for him to shake his head like this.

"Sister Phoebe is very beautiful, at least more beautiful than most of the girls I've ever seen. It's a little unfair for her to be with me." Jason said truthfully.

03:11

"That's because you have someone you like?" Marvin's brows furrowed even deeper.

"No..."

Although Jason had Emily in his heart, if he pushed her out on such an occasion, it was no different from pushing Emily into a fire pit, which was still very dangerous.

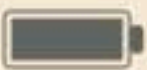

"Then, please give me a reason." Marvin did not ask any more questions, and let Jason take the initiative to confess.

"Uncle Wen, you should know that it's my second meeting with Sister Phoebe today. Simply put, we don't have any emotional foundation, and we're not even friends. If you and my parents let us get married and have children in a hurry, it will be a great impact on our view of love, marriage, or life."

"I'm not even ready for it, not to mention Sister Phoebe. I haven't graduated from college yet, and I'm full of infinite fantasies and expectations for the future. I once thought that I could marry a girl like Sister Phoebe at the appropriate age, who is so good both in knowledge and in terms of conditions."

"But all of this should be based on our willingness. It's done in a matter of course, not the reason why Sister Phoebe sacrificed her life for repay your kindness."

"People will meet many people in their life, but happiness will be fleeting. Based on Sister Phoebe's condition, I believe that she has not lacked a large number of suitors since juvenile, but she is still single until now. This is enough to prove that she has a firm judging standard towards and choice for her relationship and marriage."

"But now you are going to use a engagement to completely end her fantasy of love and future for more than a decade. She can't accept it, and I can't do it either."

"So, let's just let it go? We have to find a solution."

The expression on Marvin's face finally eased.

He thought that Jason had said something selfish, self-centered but dignified. It turned out that he was trying to make up for his daughter's sake.

"It's just a matter of time," Jason replied with a firm tone.

"Haha, what an answer. It's just a matter of time. Okay, Jason Qin, it seems that your Shen family is not like what your father always worried about before. They are afraid that there will be no successor to such a big industry. With your words, you are much more powerful than your father before."

"However, even though you both need time, but you should know each other better, what are you going to do? If you really think that my girl is okay, I can help you create an opportunity. I have been working for the government for a lifetime, and I have never done anything that breaks my promise to others."

"And as you can see, I am not old yet. Nandu Province is just a springboard for me. If I return to the capital city one day, I will be promoted. I am now a minister. If you become my son-in-law, your father will not have to worry about business anymore."

Marvin looked at Jason with a smile, and his tone was full of temptation.

Chapter 123

Marvin was now a prime minister. Once his term in Nandu Province was over, he would definitely be promoted to a higher level. At that time, not to mention in Nandu Province, even he would have a great influence on the whole country.

This would be a great opportunity for the Shen family, who was specialized in doing business.

"Give us a year." Jason said righteously, "Anyway, since you have come to Nandu, we will have more chances to visit each other in the future. You give us one year, and if we still have no feelings or even dislike after a year, that means even if we get married, we can't avoid a lot of conflicts in the future, even divorce."

"But what if you fall in love with Phoebe this year?" Marvin asked.

"Haha, if I like her, I'll get her. Then we can ask you and my father for the household register together and go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get the marriage certificate," Jason said with a smile.

Anyway, this year was just a cover. When the time came, they could say they are both the one for each other directly. Moreover, Phoebe didn't want to marry either. With her cooperation, this play would be very easy to put on.

Marvin nodded. "Although Phoebe didn't show anything about this marriage before, I can see that she is a little resistant. Even if I can really settle things with your parents today, when I go back, I have to persuade her. Since you propose that a one-year plan, nothing forcibly done is going to be agreeable. So I will give you two more times to get to know each other willingly."

"I hope so. Since the two of them don't have the same intention now, we can't force them. And Jason will also graduate a year later. There is plenty of time. Such a big thing, we don't need to rush for a short time." David also praised from the side.

Although Phoebe had run away, this did not affect the relationship between the two families.

David invited Marvin to eat at home, and then Jason took the initiative to leave to find Phoebe.

After going out of the door, Jason directly called Uncle Dong, who asked him to take a sightseeing car to the pasture.

It was a white electric sightseeing car, Jason had only seen it in the TV series where the leading roles played golf.

As he drove down the mountain slowly, Jason saw Uncle Dong next to a cow in the pasture. He was still squatting next to the cow, looking at Phoebe carefully and carefully.

Phoebe had snow-white skin, she wore a simple white T-shirt and jeans, with long hair scattering over her shoulders. One of her ears was covered with headphones, and the other headphone was held in her hand, so she could hear others clearly when they were talking.

There was no makeup on her face, nor any accessories on her body.

However, it was this natural temperament that made people feel like they were out of the secular world.

At this time, she was opening her eyes wide, watching the cow worker pouring milk on the cow without blinking.

"How much milk can this cow squeeze every day? It hurts so much, it's all red..." Phoebe looked a little sorry for those cows.

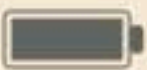

"That depends on how much you drink," Jason said with a smile.

"I only drink two cups of milks a day... huh?"

Hearing that, Phoebe turned her head. When she found that it was not Uncle Dong, but Jason, who was standing behind her with a strange smile on his face, she suddenly stood up angrily. Without looking at the cow, she turned her head and left.

Jason looked at Uncle Dong helplessly and hurried to follow him.

"To tell you the truth, I went to the last blind date with you was just because my dad asked me to. Don't think I like you, and don't threaten me with anything. I have decided to go back to Australia and leave the day after tomorrow, so you'd better give up."

03:11

Phoebe was talking as she walked, without even looking back.

"What good things do you have in Australia? I heard that if you live there, it's possible for you to run into small animals such as pythons and toads at home. Aren't you afraid?"

Jason followed behind her and asked.

She didn't know if Jason's words reminded her of some unforgettable memory. She suddenly stopped and then shivered.

"Why are you so disgusting?"

Phoebe turned her head and glared at Jason with her beautiful eyes.

"There is really a toad here. I just said it casually, but I think it's better to put this thing in a hot pot, especially the whole one. The meat is delicious and smooth, especially the thigh..."

Looking at the face of Phoebe, who was going crazy, Jason waved his hand and said, "Well, well, the toad is so cute. How can we eat it?"

"What the hell are you going to do?" Phoebe felt that this person was simply unreasonable. She had already made her attitude clear just now, but why did he still follow her shamelessly and even said that he was going to eat the disgusting toad?

"Nothing. I'm here to tell you that your father didn't force you to marry. You can go back to eat." Jason said lightly.

03:11

"Do you think I will believe it?"

Phoebe turned her face to the side and glanced at Jason with dissatisfaction.

"Believe it or not, anyway, I've already said it. It's none of my business what you want to do. Goodbye."

Jason waved his hand, turned around and was about to leave.

"Wait a minute!" Phoebe suddenly said, "Did you persuade my father?"

Jason shook his head and said, "In fact, your father loves you very much. You can talk to him about some things. Don't play petty. There is no overnight quarrel between father and daughter. The food there is estimated to be ready soon. You go to have dinner. I'll go first."

Jason felt that his action was very natural and handsome, and he would definitely make Phoebe fascinated.

"There's nothing to pretend to be. I just go for a meal at your home. Look at your long face, you don't dare to look back now."

Looking at Jason's back as he left, Phoebe said grumpily.

It was not easy to take a taxi near Fairytale Mountain, so Jason had to ask Uncle Dong to arrange a car to send him to the unfinished building. This afternoon, the person in charge of the company was going to enter the main project office, so he wanted to go and see it.

Walking to the gate of the mining park of Fairytale Mountain,

03:11

Jason saw that a black Rolls-Royce Phantom had already stopped at the roadside waiting for him.

"It seems that my dad really likes this kind of car. The same Rolls-Royce Phantom with different license, I have seen four of them..." Jason shook his head and said.

Jason was about to go out when he suddenly heard a burst of girl's hearty laughter. Then several girls in miniskirt appeared at the door.

Were they not here to visit my house? Jason thought with an evil mood as he looked at the girls' short skirts.

However, when a girl in the middle turned around and saw her face clearly, Jason couldn't help but curse, "What the f*ck!"

Sherry Lin!

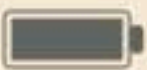

The girls at the door were all from the Nandu University. Sherry stood in the middle, holding a selfie stick and waving it wildly at the door.

Why would they come here?

Jason sighed helplessly and hid behind the security guard pavilion. He wanted to go out after they left.

Since the last time he left the Royal Water Club, Jason did not intend to have any contact with those students from the Nandu University.

Jason felt that he had done what he should do, but all he got was their terrible attitudes. Even though he was kind, he still felt a little disheartened.

Seeing that the group of girls had finished taking photos and gathered together to see the photos, it seemed that they won't leave in a short time, Jason had to take out a cigarette and put it in his mouth, planning to wait slowly.

"Wow, look, it's Rolls-Royce Phantom!"

A girl pointed to the black Rolls-Royce Phantom parked on the side of the road and shouted excitedly.

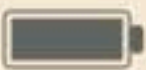

"It's true. The license plate number is 88888. Just this license plate number can buy a Porsche. It's too rich. Whose car will it belong to?" Another girl said enviously.

"Sherry, don't you know a lot of rich second generations? Do you know whose car it is?"

The girl who spoke had a good relationship with Sherry. She liked to follow Sherry and hang out with those rich second generations. She was also in the same class as Jason. The girl who insisted that Jason had no money to pay at the Royal Water Meeting last time was also her.

Seeing that everyone was looking at her curiously, Sherry said proudly, "That's for sure. I've seen almost all the rich second generations in Nandu. Like this Rolls- Royce Phantom, in the whole Nandu, except for Jack Lin, the real estate tycoon, and Simon Lin's father, no one else can afford it."

"Really? Have you ever seen Simon Lin drive this car?" The girl who had a good relationship with Sherry asked enviously.

"Of course I did. Last time, he invited me to the car with Sean Chan. Let me tell you, this car is luxurious. It's better than a Mercedes and Porsche."

Looking at Sherry's proud face, Jason couldn't help but scold, "Idiot!"

Chapter 124

After the excitement, the girls looked around and found no one, then they began to take pictures of the Rolls-Royce.

They were wearing quite sexy.

Camisoles, miniskirts, and heavy makeup.

When they were taking photos, they even stuck their body to the door of the car and writhed around in front of the cameras, flipping their hair and lifting her thighs. All of them were so excited that their faces turned red.

Until the driver, who was sitting in the driver's seat and waiting for Jason showed up, rolled down the window and impatiently drove them away, that girls finally reluctantly leave, while checking the pictures taken just now on their mobile phones.

Jason saw that the girls had left, so he put out the cigarette butt and walked out of the security booth.

"Go to the unfinished building in the North Road."

Jason said to the driver as he got in the car.

"Okay, young master."

When the driver started the car and was about to leave, Jason saw Sherry stepping back on high heels through the front window.

"Why did she come back?"

03:11

Jason frowned and pulled down the window shade.

"Brother drivers! Brother drivers!"

Seeing Sherry knocking on the window of the driver's seat, the driver impatiently rolled down the window a little bit and said rudely, "Miss, if you take another picture, I will call the police."

"No, no, driver, don't misunderstand me. I just want to ask you, how much does it cost to buy this car?" Sherry said with a flattering face.

"How much?" The driver looked at her in surprise. "It's over ten million. What's wrong?"

"It's okay. I'm just asking. Thank you, big brother."

After saying that, Sherry ran away in a hurry.

"Why are girls nowadays so fond of vanity? The car is not hers. What's there to take pictures of?"

After the driver muttered, he found that Jason was still sitting here. He apologized immediately and started the car to leave.

Jason sat in the car, browsing the social circle with boredom.

Cindy Liu, who hadn't made any moves for a long time, posted a friend circle unexpectedly.

It was she in the dance room, and it seemed that she was preparing for a large-scale dance performance again.

Since she left the Melody Karaoke last time, Jason had less contact with her.

Jason felt that Cindy was deliberately avoiding him. As for the reason, he hadn't figured it out yet.

After making a compliment in Cindy's post, Jason planned to turn off his mobile phone to rest for a while.

But at this moment, he saw Sherry's profile photo at the reminder place of the friend circle updated.

"Ten million Rolls-Royce and a man who loves you. Who do you choose?"

At the bottom, there were four matching pictures.

Sherry took photos with this car from four angles.

Looking at the photo, Sherry had an arrogant expression on her face, as if this car was the one she had just brought.

At the same time, a group of students were crazily flattering her.

Sherry also replied quickly in the crowd, "Oh, my good friend's car, lend it to me for a few days."

"Er..."

Jason shook his head speechlessly, and some pictures flashed across his mind. Suddenly, he lost the desire to continue watching.

At the same time.

In the empty space behind the unfinished building.

One after another, the top-end black commercial cars, winding into like black dragons, drove from both ends of the road and slowly drove into the open space of the unfinished building.

03:11

Maybach, Bentley, Sirius, Rolls-Royce...

The communication was continuous. Even the luxury commercial car like the S600 could only stop on the side of the road to make way for the motorcade.

Fortunately, there were not many houses near this area, and few people lived here. The gathering of this level of cars did not cause any sensation or traffic hidden dangers.

However, there were still a lot of private cars coming from the city all the way to see if there were any latest big movements in Nandu City. After all, besides the expensive cars, just the license plate number alone could arouse people's infinite reverie.

"Mr. Liu, why am I an accountant again this time? The Limsy Group can appoint Jenny to be one of the financial supervisor, but they can't do it again, right? Our Prosper Group is not worse than it. Why..."

In a black Bentley, Nina held Erik's arm tightly and said with a reluctant face.

"There is nothing I can do. Every time the Limsy Group group has cooperation, the supervisor arranged by our company will only do financial work when he enters the construction site. The financial supervisor is a member of the Limsy Group, and the chief supervisor seems to have emerged out of thin air. Anyway, I have never seen him before." Erik said lightly.

"Why? I struggled to become the financial manager of the group now, but I'm still a small accountant after entering the construction site. By then, they will definitely piss me off! I don't want to. Mr. Liu, can you arrange that for me? Besides, I do it not for my personal status, but for the status and prestige of our Prosper Group."

In the face of Nina's request, Erik looked deeply at the Rolls-Royce in front of him. He didn't speak for a long time.

In fact, he didn't know much about the Shen family. He had more or less heard of it.

This was also a secret of the top management of the group.

Although the Limsy Group and the Prosper Group were well-known in Nandu, they were clear that the so-called two listed companies were just two dogs of the Shen family.

Every time the big projects started, the two companies had to cooperate.

The Limsy Group took the lead and sent out the financial supervisor. The Prosper Group was responsible for the construction. Although the staff they sent to were also called the supervisor, but they just dealing with the accounting affairs in the construction site.

The real CFO was from the Shen family.

This person's job at the construction site was to supervise the two finance companies and let them supervise each other and watch each other, so as to prevent the two financial groups from colliding with each other and mobilizing the group's public funds.

He was very interested in the chief financial officer of this value.

After all, if he wanted to be promoted to a higher position, it was impossible for him to be the chairman unless the Shen family personally appointed him to be.

The Shen family had always been secretive. Except for the law commander of the chairman of the group, they had almost no contact with vice president like them.

Therefore, if he could be on good terms with the chief financial officer of this project, get promoted, then when he could make rapid advances in his career was just a matter of time.

Seeing that Erik was silent, Nina was about to continue to act coquettishly and force him to compromise, but the car had slowly stopped at the construction site. Someone opened the door from the outside.

After getting out of the car, the two stood side by side. They did not show an improper relationship.

At the same time, on a Maybach, Carey Lin, the acting chairman of the Limsy Group, took the lead in getting off the car, followed by Lillian, the deputy director of the group.

Lillian didn't believe it until now. That night, after the Shen family fired Carl at a lightning speed, they didn't do anything to her. Even she handed over her application to enter the construction site, and the financial director's report was also approved by the vice-chairman.

Although she did not know the reason, she did not dare to ask.

After all, this job was too difficult.

As soon as they met, they immediately greeted each other.

Especially Lillian and Nina, like real sisters, took the initiative to hold each other's hands and kept greetings.

And when she learned that Lillian was the financial supervisor of this project, Nina suddenly said with a forced smile, "Ms. Li, I really envy you. In the following days, I have to rely on Ms. Li to take care of me. Otherwise, I don't want to report to Mr. Liu every time. Although Mr. Liu doesn't mind, I always feel that it's not good."

Lillian also laughed and said, "Look at what you said, you are the manager of the Prosper Group, and I am just the vice president of the finance department of the Limsy Group. In terms of rank, you are half a grade higher than me."

Nina's face was full of pride. "Sister, you are really good at joking, but I still remember that yesterday in front of me and Mr. Liu, you said that you would fire that little b*tch, Jenny Huang. I don't know if you drove her away or not, you won't let her stay in the Limsy Group, will you? Let me tell you, if such a person stays in the group, you will suffer losses from her sooner or later."

Jenny Huang?

Upon hearing the name, Lillian felt as if she had just had a nightmare. Her eyes widened in an instant. Even her hands began to tremble uncontrollably.

"Sister, what's wrong?" Nina was a little scared and took a step back. Then she saw a familiar figure coming slowly from a distance.

"Jenny Huang?"

After seeing the person's appearance clearly, Nina walked over with a sarcastic face and stopped Jenny's way. She looked down at her and said, "Why are you here? Didn't Ms. Li say that she expelled you yesterday? Why are you still here?"

"What do you mean?" Jenny asked indifferently.

"Hey, you are still pretending. Don't think that I don't know that you must have heard the news. Today, there are many senior executives of the group who are having a meeting here. You want to go over the superior and find other leaders directly, but you go back to the company, right? Don't dream about it. Let me tell you, there is no chance for a person like you to enter our group again in your life..."

While Nina was talking complacently, she suddenly felt someone pat her shoulder from behind.

"What?"

Just as Nina turned her head, she felt a sharp pain on her cheeks. Clap! Lillian slapped her face in public.
