

Chapter 125

The slap came out of nowhere and was inexplicable.

Nina was completely confused. She didn't understand why she had suffered such an unexpected disaster.

She and Lillian had never liked each other for a long time, but they had kept a distance from each other, never stepping out of their boundary.

After all, Lillian was the vice director of the financial department of the Limsy Group, and she was superior to Nina in social and group status.

Although Nina's position was not as good as Lillian Li's, she was younger and beautiful than Lillian. Moreover, she was supported by Erik, the vice president of the Prosper Group. Therefore, she had looked down on Lillian. She always wanted to find an opportunity to embarrass Lillian on some occasions, so that Lillian could bow to her.

Was it because of this that Lillian came over and slapped her?

However, she had never revealed it directly. How could she know?

Nina's skin was white and tender. When Lillian slapped her, a purple palm print immediately appeared on her cheek.

Nina opened her mouth and wanted to ask why. "I didn't provoke you, why did you hit me?"

03:11

in front of him.

When he learned that the intern he humiliated and expelled from the group that day, was the one of the Shen Family that he wanted to flatter, Erik looked at Jenny with a complicated expression. He directly got in the car and ordered the driver to leave.

Soon, under the leadership of Neil, the project department of the unfinished building, which was under the supervision of the Limsy Group and was under the construction of the Prosper Group, was formally established.

The chief manager of this project, the current acting chairman of the Limsy Group, Carey Lin.

The deputy director of this project and the chairman of the Prosper Group, Todd Li.

The CFO, Jenny Huang.

The financial supervisor, Lillian Li and Nina Lyu.

.....

Most of the people here, except for the two chairmans, did not know the background of Neil and Jenny.

Moreover, the position of the CFO was lower than that of the two chairmen.

However, judging from the position of the spot, no one would doubt that this CFO would play an important role in the new project in the future.

After the announcement, Jenny as the chief financial officer of the new project, held a higher status than the two chairmen and gave a speech on the mobilization of the establishment of the company's development department.

Then, the members greeted each other and introduced themselves.

Jenny stood on the rostrum eagerly, trying to find a familiar figure among the crowd.

"Why doesn't he come to such an important day..."

Nandu City, North Ring Street.

"There are so many cars. I thought only those people at the dinner table would come."

Jason looked at the road that was almost blocked, and he didn't want to go in.

"Young master, it seems that the employee ceremony is over. Do you still want to go?" asked the driver.

Jason thought for a moment and said, "Forget it. I don't want to go. Send me to the St. De Hospital. Thank you."

Because of the construction site, Jason had not visited Emily for two days.

Now that the project office was settled, he could relax for two days before Grand came back from Hong Kong.

When they arrived at the hospital, Emily was doing her body function recovery training with the help of a physical therapist. Jason did not disturb her. He found a corner silently, took out his mobile phone and chatted with his brothers in the dormitory group.

As for Roy Wang driving for Todd Li, Jason had already told Todd that Roy had been preparing for the graduation report for the past two days. When he finished the report, Roy could directly go there, which could be regarded as a wish of Jason.

Colin Chan was preparing for the postgraduate entrance examination. He planned to stay in the university to teach and become a teacher for the rest of his life.

As for John Huang, he was a little lazy and clumsy. He asked his family for some money to rent a single room near the school and bought a computer and live broadcast equipment. He had already started a broadcast on the Boonie Bears live-broadcasting platform and became a game anchor like the YouTuber.

Upon hearing this news, Jason couldn't help but think of his own plan, he was planning to establish the E-sports competition club.

However, this idea flashed through his mind.

John was not good at playing games. He was more suitable for the entertainment game anchor who was good at making jokes. He was still far from a professional e-sports player.

After chatting for several minutes, Jason saw that Emily's training was about to end. He just said goodbye in the group chat and ended the conversation.

03:11

At this time, John suddenly mysteriously sent a private message to Jason, saying that they were going to organize a graduation outing in a few days. Jenny would be there too, and she would take a lot of beautiful women from the School of Management, so he asked if Jason would go or not.

In fact, Jenny was embarrassed to ask to see Jason, so she asked her cousin to tell Jason in private.

She knew that Jason had the best relationship with the few people in the dormitory, so he would not refuse.

Jason didn't let him down. After thinking for a while, he agreed.

Turning off his mobile phone, Jason accompanied Emily in the hospital and didn't leave until night.

When he walked into the Jade Valley and passed by the gate of Yennie's villa, he couldn't help but stop again.

The damaged Bentley had been dragged away by the insurance company. There was nobody at door of the villa and no lights inside.

"Not at home?"

Jason frowned and thought of what the man who made trouble outside the door said last night.

In fact, after learning that Yennie graduated from Eton School, Jason knew that her identity was definitely not as simple as a public relations manager of Shen's Group.

Now that her family had found her, Yennie might have to leave.

"What a strange woman."

Jason shook his head and walked back to his villa.

But as soon as she opened the door, she found that Lusa waiting at the door, as if she had been waiting for her for a long time.

Lusa was a very easy-going person, which was similar to Emily. It was rare to see such an urgent look on her face.

"What's wrong?" Jason asked curiously.

"This is a note that Manager Jiang left for you this afternoon. She said that if she doesn't go home before ten o'clock in the evening, she needs you to find her," Lusa said anxiously.

"A note?" Jason took over the note handed over by Lusa. When he unfolded it, he found that there were three words on it: Maple Leaf Mountain.

Maple Leaf Mountain?

Jason thought for a while and didn't have any impression of this place.

"What else did she say?" Jason asked as he entered the room.

"No, but when she came here at that time, she drove a particularly beautiful red sports car. The sound was so loud that I heard it before I went up the mountain. Then she found me and gave me this," Lusa said, recalling.

"Haha, women really pay attention to different places."

Sitting on the sofa, Jason took out his mobile phone and called Yennie.

But when the phone prompt the other party had turned off the phone, he couldn't help but look at the time: 10:20.

Thinking of the location on the note, Jason said to Lusa, who was texting, "Lusa, help me check where Maple Leaf Mountain Mountain is."

"Okay." Lusa quickly logged out WeChat. Soon, she googled the name of Maple Leaf Mountain. After a while, a lot of information about Maple Leaf Mountain in Nandu City appeared.

Jason looked up for a while, and his face suddenly looked a little gloomy. He hurriedly picked up the phone and called Yennie again.

"D*mn it, why did you turn off the phone?" Jason stood up from the sofa angrily and asked Lusa, "Can you drive?"

"Yes," Lusa said.

"Then you call Fred Wu now and ask him to arrange a car for you. There's something urgent!"

When Jason spoke, he had already walked to the door. Then, as if he had heard something, he suddenly stopped and said, "I need a sports car, it has to be a sports car! Hurry up and let him send it to me now!"

Chapter 126

Yennie liked drag racing.

After her father gave her a pink Ferrari sports car on her 18th birthday, she fell in love with such a speedy and passionate game.

Her mother died early, and her father was very busy every day.

The only one who could accompany her was that car. Only when she drove the love car racing with others, she would not feel lonely. She felt that the empty space in her heart was fulfilled. At that time, she was not alone.

Moreover, every time she had drag racing, her mood would be much better, and all the grievances and bad feelings would be swept away.

After a few consecutive attempts to speed up, the pointer on the clock dial had already pointed to 290kph. Although this speed was still a lot slower than 354kph, the highest speed of this Ferrari F12Belke, the night wind blowing in from outside the window made Yennie squint her eyes slightly, with her beautiful hair flying in a mess.

As she was controlling the steering wheel with one hand and turning on music with the other hand, the very unique voice of Jamesfold, a music poet, rang in the car, along with a low and rhythmic melody.

Yennie was different from the common Drag Racing Tribe. She liked to completely release negative emotions that were suppressed in her heart in the car engine's irritable sound.

At the same time, she also listened to the slow and low music rhythm of the music.

One was chaotic, and the other one was peaceful.

One was sound outside and the other one was kept inside.

This made her completely immersed in her own world and let her double-sided character be completely released.

At this moment, a silver Aston Martin was driving side by side with the red Ferrari.

The window was also opened, revealing a defiant young man with a silver stud on his left ear.

"Hey hey, although I have never been a match for you before, you haven't been racing for a long time. Are you really so confident that you can win tonight?"

The silver Aston Martin approached, and the young man with earrings laughed wildly.

Yennie somewhat disliked his arrogant face, but she still said, "You just need to remember the contract between us, and you don't have to worry about anything else."

"You just don't want to be my woman?" The young man laughed.

"That's my business. You'd better keep an eye on the road so as not to fall into the ditch." Yennie stepped on the gas pedal, and the red Ferrari instantly disappeared in the bend like a roaring beast.

"Haha, you'd better wait and see. I'll see how arrogant you'll be on the mountain pass of Maple Leaf Mountain!"

After the young man whistled, he made a gesture to a Porsche sports car behind him. Then the two cars roared past and rushed to the parking lot of Maple Leaf Mountain.

Late at night.

At the foot of the Maple Leaf Mountain in the Nandu.

It was supposed to be an open space, but at this moment, it was full of all kinds of cars.

Most of them were cheap modified cars, as well as Porsche and Maserati, and there were also many top sports cars like Ferrari and Lamborghini.

The four three-meter-high loudspeakers played the hottest theme song "GangUp" in a drag-racing movie. The volume was adjusted to the maximum. At the same time, there was also a sexy beauty standing on it. She was wearing a ten-centimeter red high heels, swinging wildly with the rhythm and the beat.

There were also countless young men and women dressed in strange clothes gathered here. They smoked, drank, laughed loudly, and unscrupulously made dirty moves...

There were also the well-dressed business elites and city white-collar workers in the daytime. They were tired of bar and KTV, and they also rushed here to find the deadly stimulation brought by speed, showing the defect side that others usually didn't know.

Lusa parked the black Hennessy vipers, worth more than 8 million yuan, on the side of the road less than 500 meters away from the parking lot.

It was the first time for her to drive such a good car. When she got off the car, her back was soaked with sweat and her legs were shaking desperately.

"Master Qin, what is this place? At this time, there are so many people, and it looks like there are many luxury cars."

Lusa gently gasped and looked at the parking lot in the distance with a surprised expression.

Jason also walked down from the co-pilot's seat. He frowned and said, "The racing ground on Maple Leaf Mountain is the place where rich people in Nandu City and even the whole Nandu Province like to play fast-speed vehicles. The mountain roads here are long and rugged, but the road is flat. And it is far away from the city center. The illegal racing here is very difficult for the police to notice."

"No way. Manager Jiang looks so dignified that she likes to race such an exciting sport. No wonder you don't let the driver arranged by Director Wu to take you here. If other people know this, they will definitely gossip it for a long time."

Lusa opened her mouth in surprise. In her mind, Yennie was the typical kind of successful woman, arrogant and cold.

She should be a woman who was monotonous in the relationship and amateur life.

But racing... was too exciting.

Jason did not speak, but just frowned and shook his head.

What he was worried about was not the gossips and opinions of others, but the news about the racing in Maple Leaf Mountain that he saw online.

Although the mountain road here was suitable for these people to pursue excitement and race in the wild, it was still dangerous!

The mountain road here was too rugged, and most of the roads were not separated from each other, and the lighting was very bad. Every year, there would be many damaged sports cars and corpses in the cliff at the bottom of the mountain, which led people to call here with another name, the Death Mountain.

Almost every month, there was a serious car falling down the cliff.

Seeing this news, Jason did not dare to hesitate for a minute. He asked Fred to send a car and got to here as soon as possible.

"Master Qin, what should we do? Are we going to look for them one by one now?" Lusa was shocked by the distant place full of hormones. It turned out that there was such a kind of person in this world, which she had never come into contact with and thought of before.

"There's no need. Wait for me here. lock the door and wait for my call."

After Jason finished speaking, he stepped towards the parking lot.

When Jason walked to the parking lot under the guidance of the noise, he suddenly heard a hoarse female voice coming from behind him.

"Little brother, are you looking for someone?"

Jason turned his head and saw a sexy beauty standing behind him, looking at him carefully.

She had shoulder-length short hair and exquisite and charming makeup. A sexy white shirt was only tied with three buttons, and her hip was wrapped in a skirt. She was wearing a pair of thin and high heels under her black legs, which blow people's minds. She held the arms in front of her chest and held a lady's cigarette in her hand, which was full of fatal temptation.

"Yvonne Liu?"

Although she had short hair and the light around was not very sufficient, Jason would not forget the charm that this woman exuded from her bones.

Yvonne took a drag on her cigarette gracefully and said with a smile, "You're looking for Yennie Jiang, aren't you?"

Jason immediately said happily, "Do you know where she is?"

03:24

He remembered that Yvonne and Yennie knew each other, but he hadn't figured out the relationship between them.

"Follow me."

Yvonne turned around gracefully, swung her long legs and left gracefully.

Jason followed Yvonne. When they appeared at the start of the racing field at the foot of the Maple Mountain, Jason saw a red Ferrari sports car, which was very similar to what Lusa described.

At this time, the red Ferrari and a black Lamborghini had stopped side by side in the middle of the runway. However, through the open window, Jason did not see Yennie.

"Get in the car."

Yvonne pulled up the scissors door of the Ferrari and stepped into the car with her slender legs. She sat in the driver's seat and said to Jason.

"But..."

Jason opened his mouth. He wanted to say that he was here for Yennieg, but at this moment, the window of Lamborghini sports car next to him was slowly put down, revealing a bald man with a strange smile.

"Is this the person you want to carry in your car? It looks a little small..." The bald man said with a smile.

According to the rules of racing, there must be a person in the car. Generally, it was a male driver, accompanied by a female.

In the co-pilot seat of Lamborghini sat a beautiful woman with a figure that could be called as the best. She had a red lip and a bold dress. She held a small mirror in her hand and was putting on makeup on her face.

"Can't I?" Yvonne held a cigarette in her hand and asked calmly.

"Of course you can, but I don't know if this little brother can do it. Don't scare the little brother because of the short mountain road. Don't you want to lose your bed partner tonight? Ha, ha, ha!" The bald man laughed.

"Don't talk nonsense. If you lose, your car'll be detained. If you win, I'll be yours tonight."

Yvonne put out the cigarette in her hand, opened the co-driver door, and motioned Jason to get in the car.

Chapter 127

"Me?" Jason pointed at himself. "Didn't you take me to see Yennie?"

"Get in the car. You can see her when we get to the top of the mountain."

Jason hesitated for a moment and chose to get in the car.

There was no doubt that Yvonne would not harm him.

When the two top sports cars closed the windows, the whole venue became quiet.

All the cars around turned off their engines, and only the two cars at the starting point of the track were making a stir in the engine, making a burst of thrilling sound.

"Have you been on a roller coaster before?" Yvonne suddenly asked.

"A roller coaster? No..."

"What the f*ck!"

When the sexy beauty in the middle of the track just waved the flag, the red Ferrari shot off and disappeared in an instant, rushing toward the mountain pass of Maple Leaf Mountain Mountain.

140!

03:24

170!

200!

◦ ◦ ◦ ◦ ◦

Looking at the fast-changing number on the red instrument, Jason only felt that his heart was about to jump out of his throat. He opened his mouth wide, but the scream was stuck in his throat, but he couldn't say it out.

"He ran really fast."

Looking at the Lamborghini that had already taken the lead in turning into the mountain road, Yvonne smiled gently. The gas pedal was stepped down again!

"What the f*ck!"

"Slow down!"

"I can't do it! I can't do it! Stop the car. This is not a car going up the mountain. I want to get off the car!"

"Turn around! Be careful to turn around!"

The mountain pass of Maple Leaf Mountain Mountain was the holy place in the mind of all the speed lovers of Nandu and even of Nandu Province.

They were bored to gallop on the straight road.

The mountain path was rugged and steep, with winding rings. One moment of carelessness, they would cause them to fall into the deep valley without a fence, and both people and cars would be destroyed.

This kind of fatal stimulation and temptation was not enough for the improvement of speed alone.

The mental stimulation was far more intense than any physical climax!

230!

When the red number reached 230, Jason only felt that he was in the clouds. He held tight the window with one hand and pinched Yvonne's leg with the other hand. When the speed of a Ferrari flashed into the mountain road of Maple Leaf Mountain Mountain, he let out a heart-wrenching scream.

Yvonne was focused on driving, frowned and said, "Just yell as you wish, but can you not pinch my thigh?"

Jason lost the strength to answer her question.

A pungent liquid rushed out of his stomach and into his nostrils along the esophagus, and his tears were almost choked out.

"Let go! If you don't let go, both of us will have to rush into the cliff!" Yvonne was also pinched so hard that she couldn't stand it and shouted anxiously.

Jason looked out of the window at the night view and weighed the pros and cons. Finally, he loosened the hand and turned to grab the control armrest.

"Have you never tried this before?" Yvonne suddenly asked.

"I don't know how to drive..." Jason said awkwardly.

"You'll know after tonight."

Yvonne smiled and kicked the gas again. Jason was shocked and reached out his hand to grab her thigh.

The bald man suddenly slowed down the Lamborghini on a bend. At the same time, he clicked on the Bluetooth headset on his ear.

"How's it going?" The man's voice was deep and cold.

"Don't worry. Everything is going according to plan. It's just that there's a little boy in his car. Are we going to solve it together?" The bald man asked.

"Little boy?" The other side was silent for a moment and said, "What does he look like?"

"He is 18 or 19 years old. It seems that he should be a student. I don't know where Yvonne got him, he must be the filler, but I am worried that he will expose what happened tonight..." The bald man hesitated and said.

"Well, I know who the boy is. According to the original plan, make a car accident scene and kill both of them."

Jerry Sun sat in the magnificent private room. After hanging up the phone, there was a fierce look in his eyes.

For the matter of Phil Long, he had already prepared for it. He had to give up the car to save the goods. He could abandon Phil, but he had to keep that batch of goods anyway.

However, he didn't expect that Yvonne, who came out halfway, not only wanted his people, but also handed the goods to the police. She let him not only lose a general, but also nearly ten million yuan!

And what made Jerry mad the most was that at that time, he had done everything he could and almost keep Phil's mouth shut, but Yvonne directly ruined his plan, which made him lose all he got and lose face in front of Horace Jiang, the big shot.

Therefore, Jerry swore that no matter what, he had to let Yvonne disappear in Nandu. Otherwise, he would not be able to lift his head for the rest of his life and no one would do business with him anymore.

After turning off the Bluetooth headset, the bald man looked at the red Ferrari that quickly rushed over from the side and sneered. He stepped on the accelerator again and accelerated to catch up with them.

"Hurry up, hurry up, he caught up!" Jason looked at the Lamborghini lights in the rearview mirror, which looked like a beast opening its eyes, and patted Yvonne's thigh nervously.

Yvonne was so angry that she was speechless.

If she had known that she should let the little girl who came with Jason get on the car, it would be better than Jason now, who was making trouble in the car.

"Shut up!"

Yvonne said coldly, and then she sped up. A beautiful tail wagged, drifted across the corner, and rushed into the next corner.

Two top-tier supercars, one red and one black, galloped on the mountain road of Maple Leaf Mountain. They were so fast that even the light on the taillights dragged out a long streamer in the middle of the night. In the dark night, they went straight to the top of the mountain along the mountainside.

Jason took a look at the rearview mirror.

Behind him, someone on the Lamborghini's passenger seat stretched out a middle finger covered with red nails and kept making dirty moves at them.

"Do the same!" Yvonne said.

"I don't know how to do it." Jason said.

"You don't know anything about mid-finger combat?" Yvonne smiled contemptuously. "Haven't you had a girlfriend before?"

Jason's face was full of confusion.

"Does it have anything to do with having a girlfriend?"

"The last seven consecutive bends. Grasp the armrest firmly... Forget it. If you want to pinch it, just do it."

Before Yvonne finished her words, she suddenly turned the steering wheel and pulled the brakes at the same time. The tires rubbed against the ground and made a harsh noise. Dust rose up in all directions. The whole Ferrari rushed into the mountain road in a sliding posture.

Almost at the same time.

Seeing the taillights of the Ferrari disappeared in front of them, the bald man completely slowly parked the car on the side of the road.

"A tired bird returning to its nest. It's time to close the cage."
He picked up the walkie-talkie and said.

At this time, Yvonne had already driven the car and passed through five consecutive bends in a row. Just as she wanted to speed up, she was about to rush straight to the top of the mountain. When she was rushing to the top of the mountain, her cell phone on the central control suddenly rang.

She looked at the rearview mirror and found that there was no sign of follow-up car behind hers. Then she connected the phone and started to dial.

"Don't talk! Listen to me! No matter what you are doing now, stop the car on the side of the road and get out of the car. Hurry up!"

As soon as the radio was connected, Yennie's urgent voice came from the other end of the phone.

At this moment, Yvonne looked at the bend in front of her. It seemed that there was a flash of strong light. At this time, Yennie's anxious voice was still ringing in the Bluetooth headset. Although Yvonne had more or less understood something, she was speeding up the bend at this time. Once she slowed down the car forcibly, the result would be that she would hit the mountain and die. But when she saw that the glare seemed to flash again and the distance between the two sides was closer, she couldn't care too much. She stared at a huge maple tree on the roadside, slammed steering wheel rapidly towards the right side, and rushed out of the other side of the cliff!

Buzz!

Almost at the same time.

A heavy truck with a bright light, like a ghost, suddenly appeared in the bend that was about to pass through. It ran at full speed and rushed over.

The glare of this big truck was too dazzling.

At this moment, Yvonne and Jason felt that their eyes seemed to be blind. Their vision in front of them was white, and they couldn't even see the big truck clearly. They only heard the rumble of the engine passing by themselves. Then there was a loud 'bang', accompanied by the spinning of their bodies. The crazy Ferrari finally stopped.

"Am I dead?"

This was Jason's only thought at that time.

Chapter 128

When the bald man saw the heavy truck coming from the mountain, without the sound of Ferrari echoing through the whole mountain, he proudly took out a cigarette, walked out of the car, and started smoking lightly.

Soon, the heavy truck appeared in sight and slowly stopped on the side of the road.

"How did it go? Did you hit them?" The bald man laughed.

"No, they avoided my car in advance." The driver on the truck wore a mask and said in a low voice.

"Avoided it?" The bald man was stunned. "How could it be possible? Wasn't she on the consecutive bends at that time? It was so close and so fast, how could she avoid..."

"She actually did it. But she just rushed to the cliff." The driver interrupted him.

"A cliff? Haha, good, good. Tsk, tsk, such a high cliff, she would be dead completely and suffer more falling off the cliff than being hit by you. If you go down the mountain now, someone will give you the rest of the money. If she really falls down from the cliff, the accident scene must be very exciting, I have to personally check it out. haha!"

After the bald man got rid of the driver, he got on the car again and drove quickly toward the mountain road ahead.

At this moment, everyone was quiet.

The mountain road in the middle of the night was in the dim. Even if they were only 20 meters away from each other before crossing the bend, it was impossible for them to see each other.

Yvonne saw two flashes of light in the bend in front of her. It was the truck that passed through the bend. Because the light of the high-speed light was too strong, it reflected from the mountain to the residual light in the air.

What's more, the mountain road on the Maple Leaf Mountain tonight was blocked by the racing club.

Yvonne quickly realized something when she saw a car going in the opposite direction and the urgent call from Yennie from the top of the mountain.

However, the mountain path was narrow and curved. She could not ensure that she could avoid the impact of the retro-powered car after she forced the car to stop. On the other side, there was an abyss, all she could do was to minimize the damage, so she slowed down by turning the car rapidly, and then hit the big maple tree standing on the edge of the cliff.

Jason and Yvonne were wrapped in a carriage covered with white airbags. Jason struggled hard and finally pulled out an arm from the gap of the airbag. Suddenly, there was a click, as if there was a loud sound of trees breaking, and the whole car began to shake gently.

"Are you okay?" Yvonne asked weakly.

Jason took a deep breath and said, "I'm fine. What was the sound just now?"

"The tree is about to break. We have to leave quickly, or we will fall into the cliff with the car."

Their vision was blocked by the expanded airbag, so they could not see clearly what was going on outside the car.

But Yvonne remembered very clearly that at this moment, the car should have hit the maple tree that she had seen before, so it did not fall into the cliff. However, according to the sound now, the tree might not be able to withstand the high-speed impact of the car, so it almost could not hold them anymore.

Her head, under the fierce impact of the airbag, was a little dizzy.

But the strong sense of survival made Yvonne struggling to open the seat belt with her hands. She opened the door and fell to the ground from the driver's seat.

At the same time, Jason also climbed out of the passenger seat. Looking at the cliff close at hand, and the gravel rolling down the cliff because of his move, he couldn't help but feel a little scared.

But almost at the same time, they heard the sound of the tree trunk breaking and the sound of the soil loosening. Yvonne shouted and ran away. The two struggled to get up from the ground and ran to the opposite direction of the cliff without looking back.

Boom!

He turned around in astonishment and found that the maple leaf tree standing on the edge of the cliff could no longer support to be snapped under the violent impact of the car. At the same time, the tree was pulled up by the roots, together with the car that was already badly damaged, all fell into the deep abyss.

Jason was dumbfounded by what he saw.

He looked at the empty cliff in front of him and saw a crack on the edge of the cliff. His back was drenched with cold sweat in an instant, and an extremely horrible thought instantly occupied his mind.

"Let's go. It's estimated that their people will come to examine the body soon." Yvonne took a deep breath and whispered.

Jason nodded, turned around and put his hand on Yvonne's shoulder, and left this place as soon as possible.

Because Yvonne's mobile phone was lost in the car, no one else could contact her.

Yennie made phone calls one after another, but no one answered. Later, she heard the sound of a car crash at the foot of the mountain. Yennie immediately called Jay Shen and explained the situation here to him.

Jay had no son and treated his daughter as treasure. How could he tolerate her to go to such a dangerous environment? He immediately asked the driver to prepare a car and quickly arrived at the foot of Maple Leaf Mountain. After learning that the road to Maple Leaf Mountain was blocked by people, Jay immediately felt that something was wrong. After seeing the dressing and behavior of these people in the parking lot, Jay called the Municipal Bureau. Berton Yang, the Director of the Municipal Bureau, led the team personally, led a large number of police and detained vehicles to come and control the scene. Jay personally drove to the top of Maple Leaf Mountain.

Twenty minutes passed.

Jason and Yvonne supported each other and appeared on the top of the mountain.

Yennie had been waiting here for a long time. When she saw the two people appear, she hurried to meet them.

"Master Qin, why are you here?"

When Yennie saw Jason, who appeared at the same time as Yvonne, her face was full of disbelief.

However, when he saw Jason's face full of injuries, her eyes showed a look of sudden enlightenment.

"Your Ferrari is scrapped. I can't afford it."

Yvonne sat on the ground and touched her body. Jason took out a cigarette from his pocket and handed it to her.

"Why do you like smoking this kind of cigarette at such a young age?"

Yvonne glanced at Jason. Jason did not answer and handed the lighter to her hand.

Phew...

Yvonne skillfully took a deep drag with smoke. Her slender and attractive figure gently leaned against the black MiniCooper and looked away.

"Was it man-made?" After a long silence, Yennie took the initiative to ask.

Yvonne nodded with a smile. "It should have been done by Jerry Sun. The goods he had hidden were transferred to the police by me. He could have got ten million yuan with that, that money is enough for him to retire. Haha."

"Jerry Sun?" Jason frowned.

"Well, it was the guy who was filled with indignation in the KTV and wanted to disable Phil Long on the spot," Yvonne said flatly.

"It's all my fault. If you didn't replace me to do this car competition, you won't be such a dangerous situation." Yennie sighed and said.

"Forget it. With your bad skill, if I really let you do it, I guess that you have been taken to the bed by that fiance, Walter Ye. Will you still have a chance to apologize here? You'd better save your energy and thank Master Qin tonight. He came all the way here and almost died in the car. You have no other way to repay them except to marry him and serve him in bed at night."

Yvonne smoked gracefully, but the words that came out of her red lips made Yennie and Jason blush.

From the beginning to the end, although Jason did not say a word, he also understood what had happened tonight.

It turned out that the person who made trouble at the door last night was Yennie's fiancé, but according to Yennie's state, it seemed that she did not pay attention to him.

However, the reward Yvonne just mentioned was really a little attractive...

"Hey!"

Jason was lost in thought, so he did not notice that his eyes had been falling on Yvonne's sexy and attractive long legs at this moment. Yvonne raised her hand and patted his head, Jason looked up and asked blankly, "What's wrong?"

"Hum, what's wrong? You have seen enough and touched me enough all the way. But I tell you, you can flirt with any woman in this world, but me. Do you understand?" Yvonne stared at Jason with a complicated expression.

"Why?" Jason asked subconsciously.

"Because..." Yvonne wanted to say something but stared at Jason. "No reason, you just can't. If you can get me into the bed, believe it or not, your parents will be the first to go crazy, huh?"

While she was talking, Yvonne suddenly turned her head and saw an Audi A6 with a white license coming from the foot of the mountain.

Chapter 129

"Did you call him?"

Yvonne put out the cigarette and stood up from the ground.

"Well, the situation was too dangerous at that time. Except for Chief Shen, I really don't know who I can look for."

Yennie nodded and said in a helpless tone.

"You drive me downhill. I don't want to see him."

What Jason did not expect was that Yvonne's face changed instantly when she saw this car. She directly turned and sat in the back row of the Cooper, and then closed the door.

At the moment of confusion, the Audi parked by the roadside. Jay walked out with an anxious look.

"Jason?"

When Jay saw Jason, he was stunned for a moment and then hurried forward. He groped Jason's face and body with his hand and asked nervously, "Jason, why are you here? What's wrong with the wound on your face? Will those people do anything to you? Tell me, I have already controlled the mountain completely and will never let a bad guy escape. No matter what, I will avenge you!"

"Well, I'm fine, but Yvonne's feet are not very comfortable. Why don't you go and see her first?" Jason reminded him.

Jason wanted to know what the relationship between

Yvonne and his Uncle Jay, the head of the department.

"Chief Shen, Miss Liu may be a little uncomfortable now, so she rests in the car for a while," Yennie explained aside.

"Uncomfortable?"

Jay glanced at Yennie thoughtfully, then turned around and walked to the side of the black Cooper.

"Is it because of you? Does it have anything to do with the batch of drugs you gave me at Melody Karaoke?"

Jay deserved to be the leader of the police system in a province. He had already understood the ins and outs of this matter through simple analysis on the road.

"This has nothing to do with you. I will solve it myself."

Even through the window, Yvonne's impatient tone could be heard.

"But you did car racing illegally here, did it have anything to do with me as well?" Jay said grumpily, "Such a serious car accident has happened here, I have asked the Municipal Bureau to control the scene. You either go home with me or go back to the detention center for interrogation with the people of the Municipal Bureau. You choose."

Go home?

Jason frowned and looked at Yennie incredulously.

"I'll say it again. You don't have to worry about me. It's just a detention house. I've been there before. You've been busy dealing with everything in the hall for a long time. Don't waste time on me, okay?"

After Yvonne finished speaking, she did not give Jay a chance to speak. She continued to say, "Manager Jiang, I am tired. Please send me home. Thank you."

Seeing Jay's flushed face, Yennie stepped forward and whispered to comfort him, "There is nothing wrong with her body. I will send her to the hospital for a check-up first? If there is anything wrong, I will inform you immediately. Is that okay?"

Jay was silent for a moment, then nodded and said, "Okay, you can send her to the hospital first, but if you are free tomorrow, you'd better come to my office. As for some details about tonight, I hope to get some information from you."

"Chief Shen, don't worry. I will definitely go tomorrow," Yennie said.

"Then that's it. When you go back, you have to thank your sister Jiang very much. If it weren't for her, you would have waited in the detention center tonight!"

After Jay said that, as if he was still puzzled, he added, "Yennie, I tell you, don't get involved in such a shady thing in the future. Do you really think that you are capable and capable, those leaders will give you face? Let me tell you, if I didn't help you behind your back, you would have been in jail long ago. Forget it, you should take care of yourself in the future. Call me if there's anything wrong... Forget it, just let it be like this."

"Jason, do you want to go back with me?" After Jay finished, he turned to look at Jason.

"No need, Uncle Jay. There is a car waiting for me at the foot of the mountain. I will go down with them," Jason said with a smile.

"Well, be careful. Call me if you need anything."

Jay got in the car and left. Yennie watched him leave and then sighed silently. "Get in the car."

Yennie drove the car while Jason and Yvonne sat side by side in the back seat.

They were speechless all the way.

It was not until they drove down the mountain that Yvonne stretched out two white fingers in front of Jason to ask for a cigarette.

"You are not allowed to smoke in the car," Jason said grumpily.

"This is my car." Yvonne's beautiful eyes were full of anger. She put her hand directly into Jason's trouser pocket and took out all the remaining half packs of cigarettes.

"Swoosh!"

Jason's face suddenly changed.

He subconsciously moved his ass aside and kept a safe distance from Yvonne.

"Ha!"

Yvonne lit up the cigarette and gently took a sip from her red lips. She looked at Jason with disdain in her beautiful eyes.

"If you take the cigarette next time, can you say it in advance? There is a difference between men and women, and I didn't say I won't give it to you..." Jason felt too embarrassed to finish the whole sentence.

Yvonne snorted, and there was a slight sneer on her red lips.

"Are you afraid?"

"Er... It's better not to make such a joke between sister and brother..." Jason said nervously.

"Sister and brother?" Yvonne looked at him mockingly and said faintly, "You didn't treat me as an elder sister in the car before. You have touched me for so many times, how is it? Feeling good?"

"Ah?" Jason was stunned and said subconsciously, "Your skin is soft..."

"Do you still want to touch it?" Yvonne turned her head and looked at Jason with her beautiful eyes.

"Ha, ha, ha... No need... One time is enough. I won't touch it." The cold sweat came down from Jason's forehead. He didn't know what his cousin was going to do at all.

"Alright, Miss Liu, you are Jason's sister. Don't flirt with him anymore." Yennie said as she drove in front of them.

Yvonne nodded and looked at Yennie in the rearview mirror. The corners of her mouth were slightly raised. "I almost forget that he has to save his strength and enjoy your reward at night."

Yennie didn't expect that Yvonne would talk more and more openly and even shifted the topic to herself.

Suddenly, her chest rose and fell in anger, and she said grumpily, "Then he has to dare to do it."

Jason's body trembled and he raised his head in disbelief. "Are you serious?"

However, before Yennie spoke, Yvonne laughed. "Yennie, am I right? This kid is still interested in you. In my opinion, you don't have to worry about your finance the Ye Family. You have to get my brother tonight. With the Shen Family to back you up, the Ye Family is nothing."

"Yvonne Liu!"

Even Yennie, such a top-grade domineering lady, couldn't stand Yvonne's flirting.

Her pretty face was slightly red, and she stepped hard on the gas pedal. She drove the MiniCooper at a high speed just like she was driving a sports car. She drifted down the mountain all the way and stopped Yvonne who wanted to continue.

They arrived at the foot of the mountain.

There were police cars with sirens everywhere. A large number of policemen arrived and used the warning cordon to completely block the foot of the Maple Leaf Mountain. They recorded these people one by one. If there was any suspicion, they would be directly taken to the detention car and then directly pulled to the detention center.

The Lamborghini, which was used to racing with Yvonne, was quietly parked outside at the moment. The bald man in the car had already disappeared. However, since it was Chief Shen's order personally, and he had already known the cause of the matter, it was only a matter of time to solve the case. There was no need for them to worry about it.

When they were driving to the intersection, they were stopped by the police and were asked to go on the record.

Berton Yang, the director of the Municipal Bureau, was listening by the side in person, hoping to find some key clues to solve the case as soon as possible.

"Director Yang, thank you for your hard work with the brothers in the bureau. I'll treat you to supper tonight." Jay greeted Berton Yang with a smile. Although he was Berton Yang's superior, he had to do what he should do.

"Chief Shen, you're welcome. Municipal Bureau's responsibility should take the blame for making your daughter in such a dangerous situation. But please rest assured, Chief Shen. We will solve the case as soon as possible and give your daughter an explanation!" Berton Yang said seriously. He did not dare to put on airs in front of Jay.

Jay nodded, looked at Cooper that was receiving an examination, and asked, "Has my daughter finished recording?"

Chapter 130

When the car was released, Jason looked at Jay, who had been standing in the rearview mirror for a long time, and could not help sighing.

"Do you think I'm ruthless?" Yvonne suddenly turned her head and asked.

Jason didn't know how to answer, so he chose to remain silent.

"Not everyone looks like that. You think I'm ruthless. It's just that you haven't seen something and someone more ruthless."

Yvonne was smoking elegantly. She narrowed her eyes slightly, which made her eyes look long and sexy.

Jason opened his mouth, but when he looked at Yennie in the rearview mirror, she was looking at him with a complicated expression, so he closed his mouth obediently.

The car drove to the Merlin Community. Yvonne got off the car here, and then Yennie drove back to the Jade Valley.

Lusa had been driving the black Hennessey Venom GT, following them all the way.

Lusa's vanity was greatly satisfied for the first time, because of the perfect shape and the sound of its engine of those top-level sports car like Lamborghini, all these making young people envious. Even on the road at midnight, it still attracted everyone to wait and see, and it also made Lusa proud.

Cooper and enom GT slowly entered the villa area.

Lusa went home first, and Yennie invited Jason to go home.

"Are you really going to repay my kindness?"

Jason got off the car, lit a cigarette, and watched Yennie's more enchanting figure when she bent over and opened the door.

"Come in for a rest."

Yennie stroked her hair and stepped into the villa in high heels.

Jason stood at the door and didn't enter until he finished smoking.

For some reason, he felt a little nervous.

At the same time, he was a little excited.

Was it because he got out of the car?

Jason sat on the sofa, thinking about it. Then, he noticed that Yennie had casually kicked off her high heels in the living room.

Yennie liked to wear high heels.

Almost every time Jason saw her, her beautiful feet would be on a pair of delicate high heels.

The high heels of nine centimeters could make her perfect figure more tall and straight, and her beautiful legs were even more unparalleled, which made people can not take the eyes off her.

Jason glanced upstairs and thought it might take a while for Yennie to change her clothes and remove her makeup, so he bent down and picked up the exquisite high-heeled shoes, looking at them carefully in front of his eyes.

"Er, Jason?"

Just as Jason was immersed in the delicate fantasy of Goddess's high heels, Yennie's surprised voice suddenly sounded by his ear.

Jason raised his head in surprise and looked at the confused eyes of Yennie, the goddess.

Their eyes met!

Jason felt so embarrassed.

Holding Yennie's high heels in his hand, Jason chuckled and said, "You don't have to remove your makeup?"

"Er... Not now. I'm going to do that later."

Yennie's eyes had been falling on Jason's hand, he was holding the high-heeled shoe that she had just taken off.

"Do...do you like it?"

Stunned for a long time, Yennie didn't know why she suddenly asked this question.

Jason was also confused by the question.

If I say yes, Is she going to give me her shoes or something...?

"I'll just take a look. Well, you have a good taste, and even your shoes look so good. Hehe..." Jason held Yennie's high heels in his hand and smiled awkwardly.

Yennie gasped gently, and her cheeks were inexplicably hot.

"I...I am going to pour you some water. You can continue..."

Yennie stepped down from the second floor with a pair of cotton slippers, and a pair of her beautiful white legs attracted Jason. She glanced at another high-heeled shoes on the ground and went into the kitchen.

"D*mn it..."

Jason looked at the high heels in his hand and took a deep breath.

It seemed to have a little fragrance?

But at this time, Yennie had already come out of the kitchen with a cup of hot water.

Jason hurriedly put down her high heels on the ground, stood up awkwardly, and took the cup.

"Well... if you like it, I can give it to you." Yennie held the teacup and said with a strange look in her eyes.

"What?" Jason looked confused.

"High heels," Yennie said.

"What do I need it for..."

"To use."

After a brief panic, Yennie had gradually recovered.

"How to?" Jason still asked with a puzzled look.

"You can use it as you like. If you don't like it, there are still a lot of heels in the cloakroom upstairs. You can choose by yourself."

Yennie looked at Jason with a side face. Her attractive peach blossom eyes sparkled slightly, and there was a hidden smile in her eyes.

"Forget it. I think I'd better go home. It's too late. You have to rest."

Jason drank up all the water in one breath, got up and was about to leave.

"Don't you want me to repay your kindness?"

Looking at Jason, who did not dare to look at her from the beginning to the end, Yennie couldn't help but laugh.

"Repay?"

Jason turned his head in surprise.

Yennie was undoubtedly the most charming woman Jason had ever seen.

She was as beautiful, and had a indifferent temperament.

However, her attractive eyes and enchanting body made people feel that she was charming and fascinating.

She was cold and elegant and she had a curve.

More importantly, she was five years older than him.

She was the perfect woman in Jason's heart.

At this moment, she was sitting on the sofa, holding her beautiful chin gently with her hands. She was looking at herself with a faint smile.

"What...what are you gonna do?" Jason felt that his throat was a little dry.

"Puff!"

Yennie suddenly laughed.

Her smile was as beautiful as a flower, and her seductive figure quivered when she smiled. However, she seemed to think of something and her expression darkened.

"It's okay. I'm just kidding. Are you really going to let me serve you?" Yennie joked.

"Oh, if there's nothing else, I'll go first. You've been tired for the whole night. Go to bed early."

Jason nodded. Just as he was about to leave, he heard Yennie saying, "I want to go to Sanya next month. Do you have time?"

Jason took a deep breath and asked, "What day is it?"

Yennie looked at the calendar and said, "25th."

"I'm going back to book the hotel now. I'm afraid that they would have been booked. Please remember to send me a text message of your choice before 12 o'clock, or I'll go to bed if it's too late."

Jason strode out of the villa. He didn't start to speed up until he reached the hillside. He rushed into his villa in one breath. While Lusa was stunned, he directly took her hand and sat down on the sofa.

20 minutes later.

Lusa went back to her room, changed her nurse dress and dirty stockings, and went to the study on the third floor with Jason to choose a room in Sanya and make a trip plan.

Jason also learned from Lusa that Yennie's so-called leave was really a vacation.

For rich people like them, they usually had their own holiday villas in Sanya, even if they didn't, they would rent a villa in the Yalong Bay in advance.

Every day, they would wake up naturally and eat nutritious meals. Then, they would bask in the sun by their villa's swimming pool, rent a yacht to go to the sea, take a sunbath on the deck of the yacht, and drink champagne. Those who liked fishing could also fish on the yacht. The yachts were also equipped with high-level chefs. Once the fish was caught, they could directly make sashimi and eat it at that time.

It was not until Jason heard it that he suddenly realized what was going on.

No wonder it was difficult to see the pictures or news of celebrities or rich people playing with water on the beach.

They all directly drove the yacht to go to the sea, just because they didn't want to join in the fun in crowded places.

In her imagination, Yennie, such a perfect domineering lady, dressed in a bikini, was lying gracefully on the deck of the yacht...

Jason wiped his saliva and asked Lusa, "Do we have villas and yachts in Sanya? If we have one, we won't rent it. We have to pay it back when the time is up. It's too troublesome."

Lusa shook her head. "I don't know. You can ask Director Wu about this. I remember that there are also our sanatorium in Sanya, but this is beyond my authority. I can't help you find out."

Jason nodded.

This was not a big deal. If Director Wu didn't know, he could directly ask Uncle Dong. Anyway, Jason remembered that the Shen family had a lot of fixed assets in Sanya. He didn't know if there was a yacht, but he knew they definitely had houses.

Chapter 131

In the morning.

In the St. De Hospital.

Emily looked at herself in the mirror, put on the nurse uniform again, and her mood was slightly ups and downs.

She thought that once she jumped from the third floor that night, she would completely bid farewell to this world.

But she didn't expect that half a month later, she once again put on her favorite nurse dress and reappeared in the hospital as a senior private care.

She wore a nurse's cap and white cotton stockings with excellent texture on her legs.

The nurse card was still on Director Wu's side. With that nurse card, she would become the nurse of the St. De Hospital again.

Emily took a gentle breath, smiled, turned around and was about to leave the dormitory.

"Why is someone here?"

The door of the dormitory was pushed open. A woman in the same nurse's dress looked at Emily in surprise.

"Who are you?" The nurse frowned and asked.

"Hello, my name is Emily Xia."

Emily noticed that the work card on the young nurse's chest was written "Nursing Intern". She should be the new intern in the hospital.

"Emily Xia?" The little nurse looked at Emily suspiciously and then asked, "Why are you in my dormitory?"

"Your dormitory?" Emily turned her head and looked at her own belongings and the room number on the door. She smiled and said, "Little sister, do you get the wrong room number? This is my dormitory. Why don't you go to another room to have a look?"

The benefits of St. De Hospital were extremely superior. Not only could they work here, but they could also buy the commercial houses owned by the Shen Family's Real Estate Department at a low price. Even the staff dormitory was also a single room with independent bathroom.

"Nonsense, I have the proof. It's 307. You can read it by yourself!"

As the nurse said, she took out a note from her bag and stuffed it into Emily's hand. Then she held her shoulder and looked at Emily arrogantly.

"Nursing Intern Cindy Liu. Room 307?"

Emily frowned and gave the note to the nurse.

"How is it? This is my room, isn't it? Besides, who are you? How can you casually enter the room and mess things up? Those ragged clothes and boxes are yours, right? Hurry up and throw them away. Now get out of here with your things. I don't want to argue with you."

The nurse glared at Emily impatiently. She reached out her hand and pushed Emily again. Then she walked into the dormitory arrogantly.

"Geez! How can I live in such a messy dormitory? So dirty. Clean me up quickly. The furniture I ordered will be moved in immediately. Don't waste my time."

Emily didn't prepare and was pushed directly to the ground by Cindy. As soon as she looked up, she saw Cindy standing in front of her with a disdainful expression, as if she was entering a toilet instead of a dormitory.

Although Emily felt a little dizzy, she still stood up and said to Cindy with a smile, "Did the hospital management make a mistake? This is my dormitory all the time. I have been working here for several months. How can the hospital management distribute the room to you?"

"You came earlier than me?"

The little nurse looked suspiciously at Emily's chest and scornfully said, "What are you pretending to be here with me? You don't even have a nurse card. Hurry up and throw away your rubbish, and then clean up the dormitory for me. Otherwise, I will call the security guards to take you away now and check how you get into our St. De Hospital. Who knows if you are a thief or not?"

"You!"

Emily was so angry that her face turned red. This was her dormitory. How could she be kicked out by a random person? How could she say that she was a thief? It was too unreasonable.

But at this time, she suddenly heard heavy footsteps behind her. Emily turned her head happily, thinking that it was an acquaintance in the hospital who passed by.

But when she saw some workers carrying some furniture into the dormitory one by one, she suddenly frowned.

"Don't move first."

The nurse came out in time, looked at Emily coldly, and said, "See, my furniture has arrived. Give you ten minutes to get your trash out of the room. Otherwise, I'll call the security guard now and ask him to throw you and your things out. Believe it or not?"

"Little sister, the hospital's dormitory don't allow unauthorized modification or large furniture. Didn't the staff of the hospital tell you?" Emily frowned and asked.

"Hehe, not allowed? My mother just donated more than 10 million sets of equipment to the hospital. Now the hospital is going to hold a press conference and treat us to dinner. Just now, Director Wu asked me if I have any requirements. If I had known earlier, I should have asked him for a note. It said that I, Cindy Liu, can do whatever I want in this hospital, and then put it on the door, so as not to talk nonsense with you, who don't even have the internship qualification!"

The more Cindy said, the more excited she became. Her voice became louder and louder, which attracted a lot of nurses around the door. They were gossiping about Emily while pointing at her.

"Who is she? She doesn't even have a nurse's badge. Is she a social member sneaked into our hospital with a malicious attempt?"

"That's right. It seems that the nurse dress is not new. Maybe it was picked up from the hospital's medical rubbish. But it's no wonder because our St. De Hospital is so famous. It's not impossible for some gold-diggers to sneak in disguised as a nurse and want to find a sugar daddy."

In the face of the criticism of the crowd, Emily turned her head in shock.

"You are..."

Emily had never seen a group of girls in the nurse dress of the St. De Hospital. Their faces were very strange, but everyone had a nurse card in front of their chests, which read, "Nursing Intern."

Why did the hospital find so many intern at once?

Was there not enough nurses? Or was the hospital going to expand?

When Emily was stunned, Cindy suddenly pushed on her shoulder again. Emily was absent-minded and fell to the ground immediately.

"See, this person is a thief. She has been hiding in my dormitory. If I hadn't found her in time, I wouldn't know what she would stole."

03:26

Cindy pointed at Emily from a high position, and then said to the workers, "Get this thief aside first, and then throw away all the garbage in the dormitory. It's annoying to look at it. There are so many people in the world, and all the things she uses are in rags. It's disgusting."

Emily fell to the ground and opened her mouth, but the figures of Cindy and others in front of her suddenly began to blur, and even her brain began to feel dizzy.

"What are you waiting for? Get the thief out of my way! You want to pretend to be sick and blackmail me? Let me tell you, even if you die here today, I can afford to pay for it!" Cindy shouted loudly.

Most of these interns knew Cindy Liu.

Knowing that her family was super-rich, in order to let her enter the St. De Hospital, they donated equipments worth 10 million yuan to the hospital without hesitation. Many people were still worried about having no chance to flatter her. Now hearing her words, two nurses immediately looked at each other and came up to hold Emily's arm. One by one, they dragged Emily out of the dormitory on the floor.

"Who dares to touch her!"

Just as these people gloated at Emily who was lying on the ground, behind the crowd, a white figure rushed in quickly. Without saying a word, she ran directly to Emily, held her from the ground in her arms, and patted Emily's cheek hard.

"Emily Xia, wake up, wake up!"

"Sister Chou..." Emily opened her eyes blankly. When she saw Lusa in front of her, her eyes suddenly turned red and she murmured weakly.

"Phew... thank God. What's going on? Why did they do this to you? Where's Director Wu? Where's the head nurse? Where's the security?"

Senior private assistant?

After seeing the work card on Lusa's chest, those intern nurses who were watching the scene of bustle were scared to step back, for fear that they had something to do with this matter.

Especially the two who had just dragged Emily out of the dormitory and ran to the back of Cindy in a hurry, not daring to say a word.

"Humph, it's just a senior personal care. She's just a little higher than the average nurse. Why are you scared like this?"

Cindy snorted disdainfully, pointed at Lusa, and said, "What's the relationship between you and this thief? Are you her accomplice? It seems that the security measures of the hospital are not so good. Everyone can get inside, and they don't deserve my father's donation. If I knew it, I wouldn't have come. What's the difference between this and an ordinary county hospital?"

Chapter 132

Emily was gradually calming down.

Lusa helped her stand up from the ground, then turned her head and looked at Cindy calmly.

"Did you push Emily to the ground just now?" Lusa asked.

"Yes, so what? She is a thief. And she even sneaked into my dormitory in the disguise of our colleagues. Fortunately, I just talked with Director Wu for a while and came back a little later. If I came back early, I don't know what terrible things would happen."

Cindy patted her chest with her hands, with a look of fear on her face.

Lusa paid no attention to her, but looked around. Those intern nurses all stood on Cindy's side. It was obvious that she was the boss of these newly recruited nurses.

"I heard a few days ago, because of some special reasons, a large number of nurses in the hospital resigned. The hospital's management had no alternative but to recruit you temporarily to fill the vacancy of the nurses, so as to prevent any unnecessary problems in the hospital during this period of time."

In order to avoid affecting the public, Jay secretly destroyed the photos of that Dr. Liu messing around with some female nurses.

However, those nurses who were involved in the scandals were worried that it would be still troublesome. After thinking it over, they chose to resign and leave the hospital. Some of them even left Nandu directly to avoid any bad influence on themselves if this happened again in the future.

Among the seven nurses in the incident, a total of five people had left the hospital successively. The hospital's management had to consider the hospital's tasks. Just as Lusa said, Fred Wu, the director of the hospital, recruited these new internship doctors.

Among these internship nurses, this one, Cindy Liu, was the most special.

Her family was engaged in medical equipment. She didn't know where she learned that this hospital was actually the Shen family's private sanatorium. In order to get to know the Shen family, she spent a lot of money to donate two medical equipment worth nearly ten million yuan to the hospital. In this way, her family won this precious internship opportunity for Cindy Liu.

But Cindy didn't want to work at all. She spent all day buying luxury goods. This time, her parents threatened to freeze her bank account, so she went to work in a bad mood.

Moreover, she had always been used to being domineering. Today, when she saw Emily, who was more beautiful and had a better figure than her, wearing a nurse's skirt without a work card, she immediately became even more uncomfortable. She directly vented all the anger that she had suppressed in her heart on Emily.

Moreover, relying on the money her family had donated to the hospital, she naturally didn't care about a high-level private care.

"Haha, you did know a lot. You should also know who my father is, right?" Cindy laughed sarcastically.

Lusa nodded. "I heard from my colleagues that your father is a medical equipment dealer. He is quite famous in Nandu. He donated two medical machines worth more than four million yuan to the hospital so that you can have the qualification to work here today."

"Haha, you'd better get out of here as soon as possible. Do you know what does that mean? The annual mechanical budget of a top three hospital is only eight million yuan. My dad donated ten million yuan to the hospital at once, and even your director has to fawn on me. Who do you think you are?" Cindy looked at Lusa with a disdainful face.

"Well, yes, in the face of ten million yuan of medical equipment, I am really nothing, and I am not qualified to say these words in front of a young lady like you. After all, in your eyes, we nurses are just workers, no different from the civilian workers who do physical work in the construction site."

Lusa looked at Cindy indifferently, and her tone was also extremely calm.

"I didn't expect that you are quite conscious." Cindy said proudly, "In that case, I won't argue with you today for the sake that you are working in the same hospital with me in the future. Now let go of the woman in your hands and do what you should do. I'll let it go."

03:26

Lusa shook her head. "No, I can't do that."

"Why?" Cindy suddenly burst into anger. She had been talking to her for a long time mercifully, but she just said that she could do it?

"Yes." Lusa nodded, then helped Emily up and said, "She is in a bad condition now. I'll take her downstairs for a check-up. If something happens to her, I'm afraid that you guys will not just lose your job. Behave yourself."

After Lusa finished speaking, she helped Emily out of the room and went downstairs to find a doctor.

What's more, she was not exaggerating at all.

Although she was not willing to admit it, everyone in the whole St. De Hospital knew that Emily was Jason's woman. When Emily jumped off the building before, Jason directly called over the German Doctor Martin. He did not hesitate to spend millions of medical resources to pull Emily back from the jaws of death.

As a result, as soon as the illness was cured, some nurses hurt Emily again. Once there was something wrong with Emily, Lusa had reason to believe that not only these initiators, but also Fred Wu, all the people in the hospital, including the people in the hospital, would suffer the most horrible anger of Jason.

Seeing Lusa swaggering away, Cindy suddenly scolded, "Stop them! Why did they leave like this? That thief hasn't apologized to me yet!"

Lusa was a senior private care of the hospital. Except for Cindy, the rest of the people were just ordinary nurses. Without Cindy's family background, they naturally did not do anything out of line in such an occasion.

They were watching from a distance and did not dare to take a step forward.

"I'm so pissed off. You good-for-nothing, come with me if anyone wants to become a full member in the future. I want to see what's so great about this woman. Maybe she's pretending to be sick and wants to take the opportunity to escape. In her dreams, I can't give her this chance!"

With this, Cindy hurried out with the two girls who had dragged Emily out.

The other intern hesitated for a while, and then they all left and ran to the second floor.

"Sister Lusa, thank you."

On the way, Emily gratefully looked at Lusa and said.

"Don't thank me. I'm just protecting myself. If anything happens to you again, with Master Qin's temper, our hospital will close down. If I lose my job at that time, who would take care of my meals," Lusa said grumpily.

When it came to Jason, Emily's white cheeks suddenly turned red. "What about Jason? Isn't he coming to the hospital today?"

"Er... Maybe he'll come later. He had something to do last night and slept very late. He hasn't got up yet."

Lusa came to the hospital in the morning to find Fred and conveyed Jason's order that he might use the manpower of the Seasides Sanatorium next month, and by the way, she wanted to see Emily. She didn't expect to encounter such a scene.

"And don't talk anymore. I feel that your current symptoms seem to be the recurrence of old injuries. You have to operate immediately. I'm afraid you will be in trouble if you are late."

Lusa had always paid attention to Emily's condition, and she was very clear that it was not easy for Emily to survive this time. Once the old injury relapsed, the consequences she was going to face would be unpredictable.

As soon as the two of them appeared in the lobby on the second floor, the nurse at the nurse station saw Emily in Lusa's arms with a pale face.

The nurse on duty panicked in a sudden. She rushed forward and took Emily from Lusa's hand. At the same time, a nurse slapped the emergency button and installed it in every corner of the hospital. Every office, operating room, and the alarm device of the ward rang in an instant. For a moment, the emergency ring was sound in the whole building.

"Did something happened to the Shen family?"

Hearing the alarm, Fred immediately hung up the phone to talk with the Provincial Health Department. He stood up at once and rushed out of the office.

At the same time, he dialed the phone to the surgical office.

"Order, all the doctors on duty and on duty are on standby in the operating room. All nurses who don't have an emergency care task should gather in the hall on the second floor. The emergency channel is open. Everyone should give way to the patients in this emergency. Hurry up!"

"In addition, don't allow the new group of nurses to step into the operation area. If anyone dares to make any mistakes at this time, no matter who he is, he will be fired immediately!"

"Also, immediately let the hospital office contact the German medical research center, quickly set up a video guide channel, and connect it directly to the operating room. Do it now!"

One after another, orders were issued quickly in the hospital.

Although Fred had made sufficient mental preparation, when he came to the ICU on the second floor and saw Emily had been lifted to the stretcher and was quickly sent to the operating room, his legs were still soft and he sat directly on the ground.

"It's...it's really her..."

Chapter 133

Jason didn't go to bed until dawn because he had searched for the travel strategy on the Internet last night.

By the time he woke up, it was already noon.

He got up and called Emily first. When he found that no one answered, he called Fred's office, but no one answered.

"D*mn it. Isn't the hospital also on vacation together? There's no one here?"

Jason walked down the stairs gloomily, and then he found that Lusa was not here.

Standing in the empty villa, Jason inexplicably had a feeling that he had been abandoned by the whole world.

After being stunned for a minute, Jason had to call Yennie, and then went out to go out to have breakfast.

However, when they reached the foot of the mountain, Jason was attracted by the scenery of the villa in the distance.

Or, he was attracted by a woman inside.

The woman was watering the flower with the flower shower in her hands. She was like playing with her most precious treasure.

That woman was wearing a white cotton casual suit with a height of 1.7 meters. When she bent over, her plump chest could be seen completely. As she moved, his boobs were like a waterdrop that was about to fall at any time.

Perhaps Jason had been standing there and watching for too long, and he had attracted the attention of women.

Then he turned his head and glanced at Jason.

With only one glance, Jason's feeling of praise was extinguished by half.

Cold!

It was too cold!

They didn't know what the woman had experienced. Her eyes were as cold as knives, making people feel cold.

Jason finally understood why those rich children were used to calling the sisters of the Chans "the Ice Goddess".

Everyone was in a hurry to avoid the elder sister Stephanie Chan.

Now, Jason wanted to run away as well.

Stephanie was looking at Jason. At the same time, a middle-aged man appeared behind her.

"Hey, isn't this Master Qin? Have you had lunch yet? Come and sit at home."

Even if the distance between them was not very close, William Chan still left the yard enthusiastically and walked toward Jason.

"Haha, I'm going to my friend's house. She made lunch lunch and is waiting for me."

03:26

Jason didn't have the face to say that he went to have breakfast, so he found an excuse casually.

"What a coincidence!" William said with some regret, "We have cooked Haliotis today. If Master Qin could come, our two daughters must be very happy..."

Two daughters?

He remembered the scene when Riley Li was in his bedroom that morning...

Jason shivered for no reason and said in a hurry, "Hehe, it's really not necessary. I have a deal with someone. Let's forget about Haliotis. Next time, thank you for your kindness, Mr. Chan."

After that, Jason was about to run away.

A sarcastic voice came from the yard.

"Ha, who cares?"

Jason looked sideways in surprise and saw Riley in a black short skirt, walking towards the yard with her snow-white long legs. She looked at Jason with disdain.

"D*mn it, that disdainful look!"

It was exactly the same as the last time she was in the bedroom!

The corners of Jason's eyes twitched, but at this time, the phone in his hand rang.

"Would you like me to order takeout for you at noon? There's something wrong with the group. I have to go now."

03:26

As soon as the phone was connected, Yennie came straight to the point.

"What happened to the group?" Jason frowned and asked.

"It's nothing. It's just a small matter, but I have to deal with it myself. I'll call you when I'm done with my work. See you later."

After Jason hung up the phone, he saw William staring at him with a smile on his face and said, "Young friend Qin, can you go to my humble house to have lunch now?"

Seeing William so enthusiastic and he really had no other options, Jason had to thank him with a smile.

Compared with his house and Yennie's house, William's home looked much more luxurious.

The European-style decoration was everywhere, the Roman column, spiral staircases, red carpets, and famous foreign paintings hanging on the wall...

It seemed that William wanted to make this place into an ancient castle style. Although the area here was large enough, the structure of the ancient castle and the villa was still very different. Although it looked like the ancient castle of European nobles at first glance when they first entered the door, it was not as good as the old castle of swan castle in his family.

After entering the door, the pair of sisters, Riley Li and Stephanie Chan, had been waiting in the dining room. There were two little maids busy serving dishes. Jason did not see Mrs. Chan. Maybe she had not come downstairs yet.

"Master Qin, come and sit down. Let's have a drink?" William invited Jason to sit down with a smile on his face.

"I don't think we should drink during the day. There might be something else in the afternoon." Jason said with a wry smile.

"Dad, he's just a little kid. Do you really think he's an adult?" Riley sat opposite Jason and said with a disdainful look.

"Riley, what are you talking about in front of Master Qin? Just finish your meal. Don't interrupt!" William scolded.

"It's true! A child hasn't grown up yet. Why should he drink? There is still a box of yogurt in my bedroom. Let Auntie Wang take it for him. This is what he should drink." Riley glared at Jason grumpily.

"You child! How dare you say anything in front of the guests? Why don't you learn from your sister? You only know to make trouble all day long. Shut up and eat it now. If you dare to say one more word, I will lock you up. I will see who you still talk nonsense with!"

Seeing that William was really angry, Riley muttered in a low voice and stopped mocking Jason.

Jason sat there, very embarrassed.

Riley was clearly saying that she was in the bedroom that day and felt that it was a small matter, but he couldn't defend himself. He let her look at him with disdain while eating. It was really a grievance.

Stephanie, on the other hand, looked like a lady from a rich family. Perhaps it was because she was cold, she sat there straight and took a bit of the food sometimes, as if it had nothing to do with her.

"Look at you! If you go on like this, I'll see who dares to marry you in the future!" William looked at his youngest daughter with a disappointing look and then asked Jason, "Little friend Qin, am I right?"

"Well... it's okay. Miss Li is so beautiful and so elegant. It's impossible for her to be worried about getting married." Jason said politely.

"Do you really think she is so good?" William pointed to Stephanie, who was sitting opposite him, and asked, "What do you think of my eldest daughter?"

"Ah? Not bad." Jason answered perfunctorily. And in his mind, although Stephanie was colder than his sister, in terms of temperament and education, he thought this cool beauty might be easier to get close to.

At the very least, after the concert that day, she still kindly wanted to take her on the way.

"Do you think she's good?" William asked.

"Yes, you're right. Stephanie is cold-tempered and Riley is straightforward, which makes up for each other's character. It's good for them to have a care for each other." Jason braced himself to answer William's question. He always felt that William's question was strange.

03:26

"Then how old are you, young friend Qin?" Williamn changed the topic and asked.

"When the birthday is over, it's just 20 years old." Jason answered honestly.

"Well, what a great age. A twenty-year-old is the real age for a man to face the world. When I was twenty years old, I married your Aunt Liu. It can be said that in that time, without your Aunt Liu's help and support, I don't know how many difficulties I would have faced with and it would have been difficult for me to cheer up again. What's more, in today's society, the situation is far more complicated than that at that time. It's really hard to stand by relying on one person's strength..."

Seeing William inexplicably start to recall the past, Jason didn't know exactly what his purpose was. He could only sit on the side and nodded, and he couldn't interrupt.

"And I have always thought that my eldest daughter, Stephanie, is like Xia's mother. Although she doesn't like to talk, she knows everything in her heart. If she marries someone in the future, she will definitely become a very good help and support her man to achieve a career."

"Well, Sister Stephanie is very good, and Uncle Chan will choose a good son-in-law for sure." Jason nodded and replied.

"Well, since you agree, I am willing to marry my eldest daughter to you," William said solemnly.

03:26

At that time, Jason was completely shocked and confused.

Chapter 134

"Uncle Chan, I think it depends on fate. Stephanie is so beautiful that there are many men who like her. How can't she get married? Uncle Chan, I'm afraid you worry too much."

Jason smiled stiffly, and the muscles on his face were almost cramped.

"Then you mean that I can't get married?"

Clap!

Riley patted the chopsticks in her hand on the table.

Jason didn't expect that what he said would piss Riley off, who was eating.

He looked up in astonishment, only to see that Riley's thin face was full of rosy, and her flirtatious eyes were full of anger as if she were a tigress.

"Riley, what are you doing? What does this have to do with you?" William said discontentedly.

"You just look down on me!" Riley put down her chopsticks, stood up, and rushed to the upstairs.

"I'm full, too. Please continue to eat. I'll go persuade my sister."

On the contrary, the ice goddess Stephanie appeared to be extremely calm. After putting down the chopsticks, she wiped her mouth gently with a paper towel and followed him to the second floor.

Looking at the backs of the two sisters disappearing at the stairs, Jason and William looked at each other and smiled bitterly.

"Hey, young friend Qin, I am not joking. And you can see that although my eldest daughter is indifferent, she does not show any objection to this matter. If you also intend to do it, I am really willing to help you..."

Looking at William who wanted to say something but stopped, Jason comforted him and said with a smile, "Uncle Chan, in fact, I know what you mean. But now, it's the 21st century. There are only men who worry about marrying. How can a woman worry about it?"

"Don't you worry? Stephanie is 26 this year. Four years have passed in the blink of an eye. At that time, she will be 30 years old. I don't want others to laugh at me. They said that I have the title of the richest man in Nandu, but I got a leftover daughter. I can't lose my face at this age." William tried to comfort her.

In fact, Jason was very clear that the reason why the richest man in Nandu City was so anxious to get his eldest daughter to marry him, it was that he was interested in Jason's relationship with the Shen family in the concert that day.

He was indeed a businessman, anything could be regarded as a deal in their eyes. An arranged marriage of his daughter could make him become friends with the Shen family.

Although it was a little risky, William's reputation as the richest man in Nandu would be in vain if he did not have the courage to do so.

However, this kind of thing was enough to be kept in his heart. It was not good to say it face to face. Jason had to smile.

After dinner in a hurry, William deliberately invited Jason to dinner at home. The two exchanged phone numbers with each other and then personally sent Jason away.

It was not until Jason walked in front of Yennie's villa that he wiped his sweat with fear.

William just saw that he had some relationship with the Shen family, so he was anxious to marry Stephanie to him. Wasn't it too hasty?

What's more, Jason even turned down the request of Marvin. How could he agree the William's, the so-called richest man in the Nandu?

"I'd better go to the hospital to see Emily. These people are too unreliable."

Jason shook his head. When he was about to walk out of the community, he saw a black small car coming from the mountain road from far to near.

"Ah, Master Qin, why are you here?"

The car slowly stopped at the side of the road, and Yennie walked down in surprise.

"You're just coming back. Take me to the St. De Hospital. I'll go to see Emily."

As Jason said so, he opened the door and was about to get into the car.

"Wait a minute!" Yennie suddenly rushed to Jason and stopped him.

Jason was shocked.

But when he saw the rare nervous look on Yennie's face, he asked curiously, "What's wrong? Did you just come back from the St. De Hospital?"

"No, no..." Yennie denied.

"If you don't, where did you get such a strong smell of disinfectant? Not only did you go to the hospital, but you also went to the ICU?"

Jason frowned. Emily was arranged in the ICU when she just finished the operation. Every time Jason went to see her, he had to disinfect his whole body before entering. He was very familiar with this taste.

"No... I went to the group to deal with something. I didn't go to the hospital..."

Yennie subconsciously lowered her head and smelled it at the collar, and her face suddenly looked a little gloomy.

Jason did not speak. Instead, he took out his mobile phone and dialed Emily again.

Her phone's been dead all morning

Then he called Lusa.

The same.

Then he dialed Fred's private number.

No one answered.

"Haha."

Jason put the phone into his pocket and stretched out in front of Yennie. "Give me the car key."

"The car key?" Yennie frowned and said, "You don't know how to drive. Why do you need the car key?"

Jason took a deep look at her, directly reached out and pushed Yennie away, then stepped into the driver's seat.

The key of the car was still inserted in the keyhole. Jason stepped directly on the brake and turned the car to turn on the engine.

Although he didn't drive, just like what Yvonne said last night, after experiencing the car racing in Maple Leaf Mountain, Jason probably understood what was going on.

After starting the engine, Jason hit the gas pedal of the black Cooper car.

"Master Qin!" Yennie panicked.

Yennie stepped on high heels and walked forward quickly. She reached out to open the door and said to Jason, who was expressionless, "I'll send you there!"

North Ring.

In the St. De Hospital.

In the intensive care area on the second floor.

Fred looked at the missed call on his phone, sweating.

"It's estimated that Master Qin is already on his way here."

Lusa glanced at Fred indifferently and said.

"I know..."

"How are you going to explain it to him?"

"I..."

Fred opened his mouth, but at this moment, the tightly closed operating room door was suddenly pushed open, and the attending doctor walked out with a serious face.

"The patient's brain was hit, and the injured tissue in the brain that has not yet fully healed was bleeding again. Although there is a video chat guidance from Professor Martin, the medical equipment in our hospital is limited, I am afraid that it can't be fully recovered. I am afraid it will be very difficult to even stop the bleeding."

After the attending doctor came out, he simply reported the operation situation inside to Fred.

Hearing this, Fred's face instantly turned pale. He grabbed the doctor's arm and asked in a panic, "Then, what should we do? Is there no chance?"

"There's one way," said the doctor hesitantly.

"What way?"

"I communicated with Doctor Martin just now, and I could forcefully stop the bleeding to temporarily improve the patient's intracranial failure. But she had old injuries again, so the brain could no longer withstand the operation like before. She could only rely on biotechnology to recover. This is an extremely long process, and it can't be done with the current technology and equipment in the country." The doctor sighed.

"Where can you do this operation?" Fred urgently asked.

"Tokyo." Lusa said, "Tokyo Biomedical Research Institute is currently the world's top. Seven of the doctors here are all Nobel Prize winners. Only as soon as possible to Emily here can she have the chance to survive."

Fred looked at Lusa in surprise, and then asked the doctor, "Is it this place? Does Doctor Martin agree with this place?"

The doctor nodded and said, "I have to admit that the medical research of Japan is indeed ahead of the world. And Doctor Martin said that he can contact this research base, but the biggest problem we are facing is whether they are willing to accept such patients, and she was stopped bleeding temporarily, how can we take the flight from Nandu to Tokyo in such a short time."

Fred's face turned pale when he heard that.

Not to mention whether Emily could stop bleeding as the doctor said.

Just during the period of bleeding, how could he let the research base in Tokyo agree to accept Emily, and then arrange the flight to rush over as soon as possible? This was simply something beyond them.

It was impossible for Fred to mobilize the flight time of the flight company. Moreover, for Emily, who was on the critical verge of death, unless the Shen family asked for help personally, no coal company would be willing to take over the flight.

When he was in a hurry, Fred asked with an embarrassed look, "Then you can stop the bleeding for Emily first. I'll call Mrs. Shen now to see if there is any way to deal with the follow-up."

"No need."

Just as Fred took out his phone and was about to call Mary Chan, the door of the intensive care area was pushed open. Jason strode in with Yennie and Uncle Dong.

Chapter 135

"The Shen family has the 53% shares of the Tokyo biological medical research base. I have already asked the medical department to send a family token to Tokyo. The research base has been ready to accept it. As for the rest, Manager Jiang will arrange it all the way."

"The route from the Nandu City to Tokyo has been approved two minutes ago. Now the plane is parked at the Nandu City Airport. When the patient arrives, the plane can take off at any time."

"All you need to do now is to follow what Doctor Martin said, letting him finish the surgery first. Leave the rest to me. Is there any problem?"

Jason said as he walked. He didn't stop until he was in front of the doctor.

"No, no, I'm going to perform surgery on the patient now!"

As soon as the doctor left, Fred fell to his knees directly on the ground with a splash.

"Master Qin..."

"Get up."

Jason looked at Fred who was kneeling down by his feet indifferently, and there was a trace of disgust in his eyes.

"Master Qin, listen to my explanation first..."

Fred trembled and raised his head, as if he was in a state of grief.

"You don't have to explain to me. Every year, we, the Shen family, invested nearly 200 million yuan in the St. De Hospital. In the end, you still care more about a person who donated less than 10 million yuan of equipment, and even wrote a note for someone. Noting that she could do whatever she wanted here. Fred Wu, you really made me surprised."

Jason's face was full of smiles, but Fred was already shaking, and his face turned pale.

"Master Qin, things are not like what you think. At first, the Liu family only said that they wanted to introduce an intern to us. At that time, I didn't think too much. But since we are all old friends and he donated so many equipments, I intend to let her come in and have a try. I didn't mention that she can do whatever she wants in the hospital..."

"Well, as I said, you don't have to explain."

Jason shook his head and interrupted Fred.

But Fred hugged Jason's thigh and said with tears, "Master Qin, I really didn't mean it. I really didn't expect that such a thing happened to Emily Xia. That Cindy Liu, I have already fired her. All the medical expenses of Emily are all at my disposal. In my next life, I will do everything I can to serve her. Master Qin, since I have been a dog for Shen Family for so many years, please forgive me once. I am really wrong!"

03:27

"Haha, you still don't know what's wrong with you?" Uncle Dong shook his head coldly, and his tone and manner were full of anger that could not be suppressed.

"Uncle Dong! please help me. I have worked in the hospital for so many years and worked for the Shen family. I have done everything I could. Please help me! Uncle Dong..."

Hearing Uncle Dong's words, Fred knelt down in front of Uncle Dong again and begged him with tears.

"Do you know this is Shen's Hospital?" Uncle Dong asked in a deep voice.

"Of course I know. St. De Hospital is run by the Shen family. All the patients here are from the Shen family or their best friends. Even Chief Shen and Mrs. Shen often come here to see patients. I am the director here. I know all of this..."

In the face of Fred's pleading, Uncle Dong shook his head and said coldly, "Since you know St. De Hospital is the Shen family's private hospital, but you still arranged a good-for-nothing who has just graduated from nursing school and has no working experience to the hospital? Today is the first day she goes to work. Emily's life is already at risk. She is lying on the operating table. If that girl continues to stay here for a few more days, will our Shen family have to die in our own hospital? I think we should not call it St. De Hospital directly, we should name it St. De crematorium! So Is this enough for you to meet your great director's wish?" "

In the end, Uncle Dong was furious. He lifted his leg and kicked Fred in the chest.

Puff!

In Jason's surprised eyes, Uncle Dong, an old man in his fifties, actually kicked Fred three meters away, who was in his prime. Fred was lying on the ground, covering his chest with bruises. It was obvious that several of his ribs had been broken.

"Master Qin, Madam specially ordered that she will solve this problem, since Fred will definitely not allowed to work in the hospital. I'll take him away now so as not to dirty the young master's eyes." Uncle Dong said with his hands hanging down.

"Don't worry." Jason sighed secretly and said, "The field medics will go to Tokyo this time. Let Fred go with them."

"Master Qin, what do you mean...?"

"Let him make amends first. When he comes back from Tokyo, I'll hand him over to my mother to deal with him."

After saying that, Jason looked up at the operation timer on the wall and asked, "How long will the operation end?"

"Less than an hour," Lusa said from the side.

"Well, after the operation, just directly asked the field medics to send Emily to the airport. I still have something to do, so I won't wait."

After Jason finished speaking, he turned around and left the surveillance area.

"You guys wait here. I'll go over and have a look."

03:27

Yennie said and followed him out in a hurry.

On the long corridor in the back garden of the hospital, Yennie found Jason smoking.

"The one in Tokyo is ready. Emily will be fine."

After hesitating for a moment, Yennie still opened her mouth to comfort him softly.

As soon as she got in the car, Yennie told Jason what happened in the hospital. She found that Jason's reaction was abnormal.

He was too calm.

He listened to all this with no expression and asked a few more details casually. Then, he didn't say anything.

They got out of the car and saw Uncle Dong, and been told the situation now. Until then, they finally arranged everything properly and went into the intensive care unit.

From the beginning to the end, Jason had not asked what kind of punishment Cindy Liu, the culprit of the matter, had been punished.

He didn't even want to investigate Fred's crime.

He acted as if he was doing something that had nothing to do with him.

But Yennie was very clear that in Jason's mind, how important the girl lying in the operating room was to him, whose life was still at risk.

When Jason finished smoking a cigarette and took out a cigarette box from his pocket, Yennie reached out and grabbed his arm.

"What's wrong?" Jason turned his head and his eyes were full of confusion.

"Don't do this..." Yennie looked at him with almost pleading tone. "If you have a bad mood, you can vent it out. You cant just smoke like this all the time."

"Then you take me to drag the car," Jason said.

"I..."

Yennie sighed, took over the cigarette box in Jason's hand, put a cigarette in her red lips, lit it up, and put it into Jason's mouth.

"No one wants to see what happened to Emily, but it has already happened. We have to make up for it with all our strength..."

"The rest will depend on God's will."

Jason took a deep drag on the cigarette. Surrounded by the smoke, he felt that his hand holding the long chair was gently covered by a warm mass.

"She will be fine." Yennie looked at Jason with a smile. "You can't go on vacation in Sanya like this."

"Vacation?" Jason was stunned for a moment, and then he laughed.

At this moment.

In the Food and Drug Administration Office of the Capital

03:27

City.

A phone call from an office called the Food and Drug Administration of Nandu Province.

"This is the General Administration of Medical Device Inspection Division."

"Hello, I'm Carter Kang."

"Chief Kang, we have received a report that The LIU Medical Equipment Limited Company in Nandu Province, is suspected of selling illegal equipment into the hospital. For the medical accident that may be caused by it, we invite your department to help. First, immediately close down the company and waited for our inspection Team to arrive, and check the financial statements and drug equipment of the company."

"Okay, I see."

Carter put down the phone and dialed a series of numbers with a red phone. After the call was connected, he said, "Director Wu, I am Carter Kang. Please immediately send an inspection team to close down The LIU Medical Equipment Limited Company in Nandu Province. I'll be there soon."

After that, Carter got up and left the office to go to the scene in person.

"Chief Kang, Len Liu is waiting for you downstairs." The head of the office came forward and said.

"He came at the right time. Let Len take my car and go to his company together so that he won't run away." Carter arranged.

Len Liu's company was a well-known medical company in Nandu Province. He had a close relationship with many top three hospitals and research institutes. His network was very wide. Once there was a problem, the whole Nandu Province would be shocked.

"I hope my boss has made a big deal about it. Otherwise, I will be doomed..."

Carter said silently.

Chapter 136

At the Nandu City International Airport.

One after another, the ambulances whistled through the emergency channel and stopped at the periphery of the airport runway.

A plane without any signs of sailing company quietly stopped on the runway.

As the elevator fell, all the medical staff who came ahead of time had already been on standby.

As soon as the ambulance arrived, a large number of medical staff rushed up, opened the door, lifted the carriage, escorted it...

However, two minutes after the car was parked, the patients of the ambulance boarded together with all the accompanying personnel. At the same time, the captain called the tower and asked for flight routes.

At this moment, in the VIP lounge of the airport.

Jason and Yennie stood side by side. Through the glass, they saw that the cabin had been closed and the plane had begun to turn into the runway.

"Are you really not going to Tokyo together?" Yennie asked softly.

"I'm not going." Jason sighed gently. "I'm afraid if I'm by her side. I will lose my mind."

During the last operation of Emily, Jason felt that his whole person had lost two souls. The days guarding by her bed was an extremely painful nightmare, entangling around him all the time.

The breathing machine, the heartbeat and blood pressure detector, and the heavy sound coming out of the oxygen mask...

Jason couldn't face this scene again.

What was more unbearable was that every time the doctors in the sterilized clothes saw Jason, they would reveal helpless faces.

"Just wait, Emily will be fine."

The plane glided into the clouds on the runway. Jason sighed silently and turned to leave the waiting room.

It took nearly five hours to travel from Nandu to Tokyo.

Jason asked Yennie to send him home. After that, he was alone in the bedroom, lying on the bed and looking at the ceiling.

Yennie didn't leave. She had been waiting downstairs with Lusa, waiting for the news from Tokyo in silence.

At 3:30 p.m.

A piece of news notification popped up on Lusa's mobile phone.

"Being suspected of selling illegal products, the LIU Medical Equipment Limited Company from Nandu Province was sealed up today."

03:27

Lusa clicked on the news and handed the phone to Yennie.

"I see." Yennie nodded.

Five o'clock in the afternoon.

"The LIU Medical Equipment Limited Company was sealed up by the police because it sold illegal products. As for the enterprise legal person, Len Liu, he was also arrested by the police because he had maintained a long-term and unfair interest relationship with many top three hospitals."

Lusa lowered the content of the updated news to Yennie in a low voice.

"Well, I know." Yennie's tone was still indifferent.

Later, the news continued to follow up a few more, but Lusa did not read to Yennie but forwarded Jason on WeChat.

And the ending was also within her expectation, Jason did not reply.

It was until 7:30 p.m. in the evening then Annie's cell phone finally rang.

"Hello," Yennie answered the phone.

After being silent for five seconds, he hung up the phone.

"Go prepare dinner for the young master."

Yennie stood up and went upstairs.

She knocked on the door and whispered, "She has already arrived at the Tokyo Institute of Biomedical Research, and the blood loss is under control. All three biomedical experts are there. Rest assured."

There was a moment of silence in the bedroom, and then came a faint voice, "Can you not eat nutritious food? I want to eat fried pork sausage..."

Yennie was stunned for a moment, and then she smiled.

What a boy, he actually liked this thing...

Soon, a man and two women in the villa sat in the dining room. No one spoke, and they just silently ate the first meal of today.

The aroma of the fried pork sausage pervaded the restaurant.

Yennie picked up the largest piece and chewed it gently in her mouth. Then she said, "Len Liu was found to have something to do with the four medical accidents in the past few years. Among the four medical accidents, the patient was infected because he used his company's catheter. Five people died, and seven people became disabled. Except for losing his family property, he won't be able to come out in ten years."

Jason nodded and took a sip of beer.

"There is also Cindy Liu." Yennie added, "Chief Shen has already known what happened in the hospital. Cindy Liu is 19 years old this year. She was arrested by the police because she was suspected of hurting people deliberately.

According to the normal procedures, the court will sentence her for hurting people. Of course, if the Shen family is willing to say something to the judge, her penalty may be increased."

"Let the judge make the final call. We don't have to do the extra thing." Jason grabbed a piece of sausage from Yennie's chopsticks and said.

Yennie was stunned for a moment, then she glared at Jason and said, "Well, judging from Emily's current physical condition, according to the standard of the victim's injury identification, Cindy Liu will stay the jail for at least more than 15 years, and less than 25 years. Of course, if we pursue economic compensation, I'm afraid that their family has no ability to pay any more money."

"In fact, I really sympathize with her." Jason put his chopsticks on the table and said, "Her family suffered a lot because of her. If it was not Emily who was pushed by her at that time, or Emily didn't get hurt that time, maybe things would completely different."

"But she will bully more people in the future," Yennie added.

"She can only blame herself. Every time I thought that Emily was still in Tokyo and her life was at risk, I wanted to kill Cindy Liu myself."

Jason took a deep breath, and a gloomy look flashed across his eyes.

After dinner, Yennie didn't intend to go home. Instead, she asked Lusa to clean up a clean bedroom. She planned to sleep here today.

Then, the three of them snuggled on the sofa and watched TV, waiting for the news from Tokyo.

At 9 p.m.

The rumble of the helicopter made the three people on the sofa all raise their heads.

"A helicopter?"

Jason frowned.

He remembered that there was only a parking apron behind villa No.3 of William Chan in Jade Valley, and only William Chan had a helicopter at home. But it was obvious that the sound was outside the building. Could it be that Riley drank too much again and even stopped the plane in the wrong place?

With the air stirred up by the wings, Jason couldn't help but stand up. He asked Yennie and the Lusa to stay in the house and he went out to check the situation.

As expected, as soon as Jason entered the yard, he saw a helicopter with a searchlight slowly stagnant on the roof, and his cell phone rang at the same time.

"Mom?" Jason answered the phone and looked up at the night sky with a dumbfounded face.

The sound of the air above his head was very loud. Jason could only faintly hear Mary Chan saying on the phone,

03:27

"Jason, I heard that your little nurse was bullied again. I have called your uncle in the Capital City. He said that he would help you out. Are you all right now?"

"Er... It's okay. Emily has been sent to Japan, but you came here by a helicopter just to tell me this?" Jason was speechless.

"Oh, no, your dad and I just finished drinking in a red wine manor in the suburbs. Considering the traffic jam at night, we didn't drive and took two bottles of red wine with you by the way. If you are bored, try it and it will help you sleep!"

Mary said loudly and slowly sent an exquisite gilded wine box from the helicopter. The box was caught by the copper lock, but it was also very easy to open.

Jason took the wine box and looked up. When he raised his head, the plane was slowly rising up. At the same time, Mary said on the phone, "Yennie Jiang is in your house now, right? You open the box and take the wine in, and then find a place to throw the box away. Don't let Yennie see it, understand?"

Jason nodded in confusion. At the same time, he watched the helicopter rise into the sky and disappear in the vast night.

"My mother is really good at playing. She is afraid of the traffic jam, so she just takes a helicopter. If I go to a place where traffic is inconvenient in the future, can I go there by helicopter too? That's so cool." Jason thought.

At the same time, Jason received another text message from his mother on his mobile phone.

"Get married and give birth to a big fat grandson for me. I'll give you a helicopter as a present. What do you think?"

Jason shook his head helplessly and put his mobile phone into his pocket. He was about to open the wine box and take out the red wine inside.

"Wine chest?"

Hearing Yennie's voice suddenly, Jason stood up in a hurry and held the wine chest firmly behind him.

"Ah, why did you come out? My mother came to send me two bottles of wine. You go back first. I have to throw the wine box away, or there will be no place to put it at home." Jason explained anxiously.

"Riversides Manor?"

Yennie looked at the corner of the wine chest that was exposed beside Jason's leg and frowned slightly.

Chapter 137

Jason knew that he couldn't hide it, so he bent down and picked up the wine chest, walking toward Yennie.

"Do you like to drink? I'll give it to you," Jason said.

"No, red wine is not suitable for carrying sausage. You can keep it."

Yennie glanced at the name of the manor on the wine chest with complicated eyes, shook her head, and turned back to the house.

The time difference between Nandu and Tokyo was one hour.

Tokyo was an hour ahead of Nandu.

That was to say, it was already 11:30 p.m. in Nandu, then it was already early in the morning of the second day in Tokyo.

Lusa had been busy in the hospital for a whole day. She leaned her head lightly on the sofa and snored in a low voice.

Jason looked at the sleepy Yennie and said softly, "I guess it will be dawn when the results come out next time. Why don't you go back to your room and sleep first?"

Yennie opened her mouth, but her phone suddenly vibrated.

For the first time, Lusa sat up from the sofa, stared at Yennie nervously with sleepy eyes.

Yennie answered the phone. After listening for less than a minute, she hung up the phone.

"Emily's bleeding stopped. At present, the institute has already collected the sample of her blood and nerve fiber and sent these to the scientific research room to be cultivated. The cultivation will probably be completed within a month, so we can wait patiently."

Yennie gave a detailed account of the information sent by the Tokyo Institute.

"Would it take you a month for such a long time?" Jason frowned.

"It will take half a month or longer to cultivate a common germ, and the institute is making the cells for Emily which could help to fix her internal injury twice. It's very difficult to cultivate it. At present, in the whole world, only this institute can do it."

As senior private care, Lusa started from the basic hospital, so she did learn a lot. In her medical field, she was incomparable to other nurses in the hospital.

"But if the cultivation is completed, it doesn't mean that Emily has a 100% chance of recovery, right?" Jason asked.

Lusa nodded. "In the medical field, there has never been a 100% concept. Once it has been completed, it only helps with secondary healing. After that, Emily will also need surgery, physical therapy, recovery, treatment... In short, cell cultivation is only a very important part of it, but it doesn't represent all."

"It's a pity for you to be just senior private care. I heard that the vice president of the hospital was transferred to the German research institute. Why don't you take this position first? If there is a better one in the future, it won't be too late to change it." Yennie said with a smile.

"Vice...vice chief head nurse?"

Lusa suddenly stood up from the sofa and looked at Yennie and Jason in disbelief.

There were a total of two head instructors in the St. De Hospital.

Among them, the general head nurse was in charge of the ordinary nurses in the hospital. She didn't have much power but was only responsible for arranging watch-ups and tasks for nurses. She could be regarded as the lowest-level managers of the hospital.

Then, the care captain was in charge of the care.

As its name implies, it would supervise and review the internship of all private care and upgrade their level. At the same time, the care captain would also be responsible for connecting with the patients in the hospital. So she could have peripheral contact with the Shen family. Just based on this point, she could directly enter the middle-class and high-level management department of the hospital.

And the chief head nurse was only responsible to the Director.

03:27

She would manage all the medical staff in the hospital, as well as the medical system, and participate in the core management.

Even in the top three hospitals, the power of the chief head nurse was no less than that of an associate Director, let alone in the top private hospital like the St. De Hospital.

"Master Qin, what do you think?" Yennie turned her head and smiled.

Jason nodded and said, "I agree."

"Well, you'd better stay here to take care of Master Qin these days. I'll inform the hospital first. When you're done with your work, you can report to the office directly." Yennie said to Lusa with a smile.

"I, I..."

Lusa looked at the two on the sofa with her red eyes. She was too clear about what kind of changes would happen to her life after tonight.

The vice chief head nurse of the hospital, whose annual salary was up to one million dollars, was only responsible for the dean and the head nurse. He was the core senior executive of the hospital!

She didn't even dare to dream of being a caring captain before.

But now she directly became the vice chief head nurse.

It was no exaggeration to say that there was a huge difference between these two positions!

Seeing that Lusa was so excited that she could not speak, Yennie smiled and said, "Well, you go to prepare some snacks for Master Qin. I have something to say to Master Qin."

Lusa came to her senses and nodded excitedly. "I'm going to make supper for Master Qin now!"

Watching Lusa's figure disappear from the kitchen, Yennie asked Jason with a smile, "If I hadn't taken the initiative to say it, how long would it take for you to treat the little nurse as free labor?"

"Free labors?" Jason frowned and said, "She is taking care of me. Isn't the hospital giving her a salary?"

"Of course, but the hospital only offers normal work salary, but you should pay for the extra work."

Looking at Yennie's eyes with a faint smile, Jason blushed and explained, "Lusa is here to help me with my care, and there is some daily housework and so on. What additional work can she have..."

"Yeah, she is wearing such a beautiful nurse dress at home, and her white silk stockings has never been taken off. Don't think that I don't know your hobby."

Yennie's beautiful eyes glanced at Jason's shy face with malicious intentions. Anyone who was exposed in such a face-to-face way would feel embarrassed.

"However, do you really think she is capable of this position?" Jason asked.

"Did she ask you to do anything for her?" Yennie asked.

"No."

"No?" Yennie raised her beautiful eyebrows. "Then it proves that I am not wrong. A woman who knows to wait for the highest bid is much better than those gold worship women because that gold worshipers are willing to abandon their bottom line for the sake of immediate interests. Keep her. She is a woman that you can trust."

"Okay, I know," Jason said with a smile.

Lusa made supper. After they finished eating and watched TV for a while, they went upstairs to rest.

The next morning, Jason received a call from John Huang.

On the phone, John said that because of Jenny's new job, the outing time had been ahead of schedule today. He asked Jason if he could come.

After the incident with Emily, Jason had planned to have a good rest at home this month. He didn't participate in any activities, but he couldn't bear John's struggle and John even threatened Jason with his death. After thinking for a while, Jason had to agree.

After receiving the time and place on WeChat, Jason changed his clothes and was about to go out.

When Yennie learned that Jason was going to go out for an outing, she agreed with him, but the premise was to bring Lusa along with him.

The reason was simple.

John chose Sunset Mountain, which was located in the western suburbs. Although the scenery there was natural and pleasant, now it was in the rainy season, and there were inevitably insects in the mountains. And once they encountered an emergency, as a caring doctor, Lusa could take care of Jason Qin.

While they were talking, Lusa had already changed her casual clothes and appeared at the door. Jason sighed and let Lusa drive Cooper of Yennie Jiang to the appointed place.

At the Sunset Mountain.

The mountain was with the highest altitude in the Nandu Province and the most famous tourist attraction around Nandu.

Because the class for the senior year had just ended. And it would be difficult for them to get together again once they got a job. Therefore, Jenny set the date of the gathering for today. Naturally, they would split the bill.

Jason was not in the mood to focus on the outing. Sitting in the car, his mind was still focused on Emily, who was in Tokyo.

"Master Qin, I really envy you. I have never been to college. It's the first time for me to attend a gathering of students." Lusa drove the car, with some longing in her eyes.

"It's a pity. If you were in college, you must be the campus belle. There will be a lot of rich second generations chasing after you." Jason opened his eyes and said with a smile.

"I'm not interested in the rich second generation. When I was working in the hospital, the rich patients and doctors often sent me flowers, but I refused all of them." Lusa said proudly.

She was very confident in herself. Although she was not as beautiful as Yennie, she was also comparable to many online celebrities.

Jason nodded his head as if he knew something.

He thought to himself, "Could this be what Yenniemeant by waiting for the highest bid?"

Chapter 138

The stream was flowing, and the waterfall was falling.

The mountains were colorful, making people feel as if they were in a fairyland drawing room.

In October, red maple leaves were all over the mountains and plains, like sunset.

This was the origin of the name of the Sunset Mountain.

On an open field at the foot of the Sunset Mountain, there were several good cars parked side by side, such as Land Rover, Porsche, Jaguar.

The owners were next to him.

They seemed to be very young.

Most of them were in their early twenties.

The man was wearing a Gucci jacket, cropped pants, and Tod's, and the women were all wearing hip-wrapped skirts, silk stockings, and high heels. It was not like they were going to go on an outing. Instead, they were dressed like they were going to a nightclub.

The sun was scorching.

Several girls were moving barbecue food materials down from the trunk of the car, and they were complaining while wiping their sweat.

"Simon, what's wrong with you today? You actually want to take us to this desolate place without saying anything in advance. I thought I was going to drink coffee. How can I walk on the ground with the nine centimeters high heels?"

The long-legged girl, Meroy Deng, in nine-centimeter high heels, stood awkwardly on the sand and stone ground. After nearly falling down several times, she simply threw the oven in her hand to the ground and couldn't help complaining.

"Oh, what do you know? Simon, this is called 'contrast past misery with present happiness'. Once we are tired of red wine and steak, so we came here to have a try. Am I right, Simon?" A girl with pointed chin said ingratiatingly.

At this time, Simon Lin just got down from his Land Rover.

With a cigarette in his mouth, he looked at the girls who were working and said with a smile, "I usually buy you so many LV bags. What's wrong with carrying something for me now? Do you know how much it costs for migrant workers to move bricks in the construction site every day? All of you, work harder. At night, each person could get one bag under 5,000 yuan. Pick whatever you like!"

The two girls, who had been complaining just now, suddenly brightened their eyes when they heard that they were going to buy bags. They quickly took off the high heels on their feet and actively moved the barbecue tools and ingredients to the side of the stream.

At the same time.

A man and a woman also came down from a black Land

Rover.

The man was Sean Chan, and the woman was Sherry Lin.

It was not a coincidence that Simon and they met here.

Today was a good day for the Limsy Group to win the construction project of the North Ring unfinished building.

A project worth total of 80 million.

The money was sent with progress.

The pure profit reached 50 million yuan, which was not a small amount even for the Limsy Group.

For this reason, the group planned to hold a celebration party on the third floor of the Hundred Flowers Banquet tonight.

Moreover, Jack planned to hand over this project to Simon at the celebration banquet. As the first project for him to practice, he would fully let Simon take care of it.

Therefore, Simon called Sean out in advance. After all kinds of hints, Sean called his family first and got the permission of the old man's funds. He decided to pay for all the expenses today. In any case, he had to serve Young Master Lin well and strive to make profits from small projects.

Sherry deliberately put on a very thick smoked makeup today. She held Sean's arm with her hand and said coquettishly, "Honey, you see Simon has bought a bag for his two girlfriends. I also want it..."

"Haha, don't worry. Simon bought it for his girlfriend today.

You have it. Don't worry."

Sean smiled unconcernedly.

However, he cursed in his heart, "What the hell are you talking about? When did you see Simon so generous to women? It's all because I want to take charge of the project in his hands. Today, no matter what the cost is, I'll pay the bill. It's just a bag. Anyway, my father has approved the money, so he can't see through if there are thousands of yuan missing."

More importantly, he had to pretend to be rich in front of Simon today. Otherwise, Simon would definitely think that his family had no money, and would not hand over the project to him without worries.

Sean walked to Simon with Sherry in his arms and said with a flattering smile, "Simon, you are so happy. I thought that I would go to the Red Wine Villa in the eastern suburbs today and let you enjoy it. I didn't expect that you would like this kind of place. You don't want to give me a chance to treat you."

Simon laughed. "You don't know. Now the real rich people go to such a beautiful place. My dad also plans to buy this Sunset Mountain and build a teahouse on the top of the mountain. He specializes in receiving upper-class people in Nandu. That's classy. What do you, a nouveau riche, know?"

"Of course. Simon, you had a Range Rover in your twenties, so you must have a noble status that we ordinary people can't imagine." Meroy flattered him.

03:28

"Yes, yes. In the whole Nandu, there are only a few people who can have a Range Rover as Simon. Sean Chan, although your family was rich, compared with the real rich second generation like Simon, you have a lot of things to learn. Am I right, Sherry?" The girl with a pointed chin also hurriedly followed him.

If it were someone else who dared to provoke her like this, Sherry would have slapped him in the face.

However, she knew that Sean was asking for help from Simon today, so she could only keep smiling and keep saying.

"Get it done as soon as possible. It will be hot by noon." Sean quickly changed the topic and looked a little unhappy.

"Hey, it seems that there's a car coming."

As soon as Meroy moved her mind to the side of the stream, she turned around and looked at the cars that were driving here from the open ground.

"Who is so blind? Don't you know that we're going to barbecue here today? Come and grab a place?" The girl with the awl-shaped face turned her face unhappily.

However, as the car approached, the two of them opened their mouths in surprise.

"Holy crap, Mercedes-Benz G!"

The girl with the awl-shaped face was the first one to react.

"Look, it seems that there are English letters next to the car.

It can't be the W12! A Mercedes-Benz G with 12 cylinders will cost one or two million yuan. Who is so rich? Simon, are they the friend you asked to come here?"

Simon also narrowed his eyes. Looking at the white the Mercedes-Benz G and a small MiniCooper that had slowly parked in, he curled his lips and said, "They don't have license plates. It's a new car. Just do what you should do! What's so good about a broken car?"

Seeing that his limelight had been stolen, Simon naturally felt a little unhappy.

But soon, his eyes were full of hatred.

First of all, from the Mercedes-Benz G driver's seat, it was a little boy he had never seen before.

It seemed that the one in the driver seat was still a student and dressed like a loser. And a cute Lolita in a sailor's suit and a pair of knee stockings got out of the passenger seat, followed by an innocent student-like girl.

Two girls.

It was not a big deal that the little girl was so beautiful.

However, even though the pure-looking girl was not as good as the two cosmetic girls who followed him at first glance, but he gradually found that that girl was natural and innocent. She looked so well-behaved that when a man saw her, he couldn't help but have the desire to protect her.

"D*mn it, how did this guy hang up to such a pure girl? I used a lot of means before, and I didn't succeed once."

Simon cursed in his heart.

But at the same time, he noticed Lusa, who had just stepped down from the Cooper.

Lusa was wearing a simple white T-shirt and jeans today.

Without any make-up, her hair was tied up high in the air.

Her skin was as white as suet jade. The T-shirt tightened the upper part of her body, and her slender waist was also very slim. Her slender legs wrapped in white jeans were well-proportioned and powerful.

There was a black backpack on her back, which gave off a youthful vigor.

As soon as he saw Lusa, Simon didn't realize what was going on.

She just felt that the woman in front of her could be said to be the best based on the number of women he had met.

However, when Jason got down from the passenger seat with a grin, he was stunned. Then he remembered who this woman was.

"Why are they here?" Sean stood next to him, frowning.

But then, he laughed and said, "A group of losers has nowhere to go and come here to have dinner. It's really disappointing. If we had known this earlier, we would have changed a place. We were in the same place as them, which simply lowered our level."

"He is not loser." Simon looked at Jason and shook his head.

"Isn't he a loser?" Sean said disdainfully, "I know him. If he is not a loser, anyone can call themselves rich and handsome."

"Ha, ha..." Simon shook his head. "Have you ever seen a loser treat you to a meal, and directly pay 300,000 yuan by card?"

Chapter 139

Last time, Simon had heard from Sherry that Jason had invited his classmates to dinner with 300,000 yuan at the Royal Water Club.

He had always felt puzzled.

Why would a woman like Emily and Lusa, such a top-grade woman, stay with a loser?

And it seemed that Jason wasn't like what Sherry and Sean said. They said Jason simply lived off women.

After all, without a certain status, no matter how rich they were, they were not qualified to make a block booking in the Royal Water Club.

And Jason still invited a group of students who didn't care about him.

300,000 yuan...

Simon took a deep breath.

Even he thought he didn't have the courage to spend 300,000 yuan on a group of people who didn't have their value.

"Humph, he was raised by a woman. He spent a woman's money to pretend to be rich. This kind of person should be a loser all the time." Sherry had long determined that Jason was raised by a rich woman outside, but when she saw that he had changed another woman today, whose figure or appearance was still much better than herself, the anger in her heart suddenly couldn't be suppressed.

"Forget it. Don't pay attention to them. We can do whatever we want. In such a big place, it won't affect us even if there are a few more people."

Simon looked at Jason with a complicated expression, then turned around and walked to the creek.

Seeing that all the leading roles had left today, Sherry glared at Jason and followed Sean.

At the same time.

The few people who had just got off the car also noticed Simon and others who had already rushed over.

However, they didn't have such a big reaction.

After discussing for a while, they decided to walk more. They moved the stove and ingredients to the other side of the stream, which was separated by a forest. So they wouldn't see each other, out of sight, out of mind.

"Novia, you girls go to find a place first. We boys are going to move things." Roy Wang looked at the pure girl dotingly and said.

"There's no need. We don't have anything to do. Let's move it together for you." The girl named Novia Chen blushed and refused in a low voice.

"Oh, how can you let a girl do this kind of physical work?"

03:28

Leave it to our boys. Colin, John, and the rest, hurry up and move things. We've said that today the girls are only responsible for eating, and nothing else."

Roy, with great masculinity, commanded everyone to start moving things.

"It seems that your roommates have been cheated." Lusa smiled and whispered in Jason's ear.

Jason also felt a headache.

It was said that a lot of students came together to do graduation trips.

As a result, there were only four boys in the dormitory. The girls were Jenny Huang, Lusa Chou, and a girl named Novia Chen.

And from the current state, it could be seen very clearly that Roy wanted to hook up with girls. He was embarrassed, so he called a few people in the dormitory as a cover and let them work as a coolie at the same time.

"Forget it, since everyone is coming out to play, as long as we are happy, don't worry about other things." Jason said indifferently.

Barbeque, streaky pork, pork skin, lamb kebabs, leek, beer...

03:28

"The loser is the loser. What trash do they eat? Just eat Kebab after driving so far, the cost isn't not enough for cost of gas..."

When passing through Simon's group of people's territory, Sherry couldn't help pinching her nose and turning her face to one side, full of disgust.

"Well, we just like to eat mutton kebabs. What's wrong?"

Jenny was passing by, and when she heard the murmur, she started to refute directly.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk. It's as if you can eat anything else. We've brought the best steak in Australia, together with fresh vegetable mutton. Even red wine is carried from France. You'd better keep the stove away later so as not to affect our appetite by the smell of mutton. I'll ask you to pay for it." Sherry said with disdain.

"That's right. With such a good car, the food is so cheap. I think some girls have to be careful. It's only a few hundred yuan a day to rent a car. Don't lose yourself to a loser for the sake of face." The girl with a pointed chin was also very unhappy.

"You!"

Jenny suddenly stopped and was about to speak when she was stopped by Jason and John.

"Forget it. Let's start dinner. It's not like we're doing all this for them. At least we know what's good about it. There's no need to argue with them."

03:28

John pulled Jenny's arm and hurried to the other side of the stream.

"Hey, now you're putting on airs? You've forgotten what the school post said in the notice board at the school gate? Take the money from the sugar daddy and mommy to hook up with girls. Only you such losers can do it..."

When they walked to the other side, they could hear Sherry's mocking voice coming from behind.

"Why is this woman so disgusting? Didn't Jason break up with her? Why is she always so aggressive? It seems that everyone owes something to her."

Jenny was already in a bad temper, but now she was provoked by Sherry in front of her, which pissed her off.

"Forget it, don't argue with her. She is such a person."

John persuaded Jenny. At the same time, everyone found a open ground by the stream and began to set up the stove.

When Jason was looking for firewood to light a fire in the nearby forest, Jenny looked around and followed him in a low voice.

"Should I call you Jason or Master Qin?"

Jason turned his head in surprise and saw Jennyg bending down behind him, looking at him up and down with a teasing look.

"What are you doing?" Jason asked nervously.

"Nothing. I just want to see how can someone hide so deep.

03:28

"Do you come to school for study or for experiencing life?"

Jenny sounded a little angry.

He was the Young Master of the Shen Family, but he made all kinds of troubles in school, which made her worried, especially when he was fired. This guy had a good relationship with Principal Zhang. He pretended to be an innocent victim in front of her, which made her nervous at the door for a long time. She even wanted to give up the excellent graduate nomination and wanted to help Jason get justice. As a result, Principal Zhang was his friend!

Was it fun?

Jenny felt that her young mind had been cheated.

"Er... In fact, I didn't know it until not long ago, and I didn't lie to you on purpose..." Jason explained powerlessly.

"Thank you." Jenny suddenly became serious and said, "Although I know that it is because of you that I have such a good opportunity to work in the Limsy Group and the real estate department, but I still want to tell you that if you are not wrong, I will definitely do my job well. At least I will finish the project of the unfinished building and not let you down."

"I'll prove it to you!"

In the end, Jenny added.

Just like this?

Jason let out a sigh of guilt, then smiled and said, "Okay, I'll wait for you to prove it to me."

03:28

Jenny and Emily were the same kind of girls.

Although they looked weak and delicate, they were eager to do well in everything.

They wouldn't accept other people's gifts or charity easily.

Even if they accepted it, they would try hard to prove their value in this position.

That was why Jason wanted to help Jenny.

At the very least, no one would say that Jason used his identity as the young master to arrange a good-for-nothing to enter the Shen's Group.

After picking up the dry firewood, the two of them went out of the woods.

However, as soon as Jason stepped out, he heard a crisp sound of tearing, followed by Jenny's cry.

"What's wrong?"

Jason turned his head in a hurry and saw Jenny lowering her head with one hand covering her thigh wrapped in knee socks.

Following Jenny's palm, Jason saw a horizontal and sharp branch diagonally across Jenny's silk stockings. The stockings were cut with an inch long gap above her knees. Under the pleated skirt, the white and dazzling delicate skin was exposed.

"What are you looking at?"

Jenny raised her head and looked at Jason who was about to drool. She immediately scolded him angrily.

"Er... You're not injured, are you?" Jason was stunned and asked awkwardly.

"No, but I'm sure I can't take this silk stockings anymore. It'll be too embarrassing if anyone knows that."

The cold expression on Jenny's face had yet to change, but she immediately showed a teasing look.

"How did you get it that night? Anyway, there was no one here. Let me take off my stockings. Can you show me?"

Chapter 140

At the Sunset Mountain.

In the forest by the stream.

Two girls with high heels on their feet walked slowly along the stream.

They had gone far, and their feet were swollen. However, the side of the stream was full of pebbles, so they couldn't walk with bare feet, so they had to walk up in their shoes.

"No, no, no, I can't go. I'm right here. They should be here soon."

Sherry tilted her feet and found a flat place by the stream to sit down. She bent down and rubbed her ankle with her hands, groaning in pain.

"We've walked so far. Can they really find us?"

Meroy also followed him and asked with a worried face.

"Of course we can. This is a scenic spot. We are walking along the road. As long as they are willing to look for us, they will definitely be able to find us." Sherry said with her head lowered.

"But what if they really don't care about us, what we're going to do? There's no one here. I'm a little scared...Simon hadn't agreed to buy me LV bags...."

Meroy looked around with a worried look. Although she left in a huff, there were only two girls in the deep forest. She was still a little worried.

"Look at how worthless you are." Sherry looked at her and said, "Simon is so rich. Why didn't he buy you an LV bag? Wasn't it a thousand yuan higher than the budget? It's not enough for him to have a meal. Why couldn't he buy a bag for us?"

Sherry stole a glance at Meroy and continued, "I tell you, although you are not Simon's official girlfriend, in terms of spending money, you must let him listen to you. Otherwise, what's the meaning of being with him? You are not beautiful, and your legs are so long. Are you afraid that you can't find a man? Why should you be wronged by him? Am I right?"

"Actually, didn't he already agree just now..."

As soon as Meroy opened her mouth, Sherry interrupted her impatiently. "What did he promise you? I tell you, you must not be cheated by him. In fact, today when you came out to play, all the expenses were paid by my husband. Just now, he told my husband in private that these were all what he promised to you on the surface. At that time, as long as my husband and he found an excuse, you could not buy anything. Understand? So you should let him to spend money on your own, otherwise, what's the point of being with him?" "

Seeing Meroy's thoughtful expression, Sherry comforted her and said, "Don't worry. When they find you later, I will tell them that you are so tired after picking up dry firewood for him. Your feet are all twisted and hurt. Once he is distressed, he will definitely buy it for you."

"Well, I believe you." Meroy nodded.

At the side of the creek.

Sherry looked at Meroy who had been waiting here in peace, and suddenly smiled proudly in her heart.

When the two girls were discussing how to cheat Simon and Sean to buy more expensive bags, an abrupt man's voice woke them up.

"Mike, here! Here! Oh, someone is resting here!" They heard a strange man shouting.

Sherry and Meroy quickly sat up from the stream. When they saw a tall man with blond hair striding toward them, they were flustered and asked, "What are you doing?"

Then, another man appeared behind the blond-haired man. They all had the tall and strong bodies. They were carrying huge bags on their backs, and a professional-level camera was hanging on their necks.

The sight of two sexy girls jumping out of the grass made the two guys very happy.

"Oh, I'm sorry, lady." The latter one, Mike, took the initiative to apologize to Meroy and Sherry. "My friend is too rude. We passed by here to take some pictures of the nature. I didn't expect to disturb you two beauties. I'm really sorry."

Mike explained politely to them.

However, seeing that the two girls had not put down their guard, he pointed to the camera hanging on his neck and said, "I and Abbott are photographers, and we work for the <STYLING> magazine. Today, we originally invited two models to come here to shoot photos in nature, but we didn't expect they didn't come. But I met you, two such beautiful women. This is simply God's arrangement."

The STYLING magazine?

Meroy was stunned. Obviously, she had never heard of the name of this magazine.

However, Sherry's eyes lit up and she blurted out in a hurry, "Is it the magazine discovering the big model stars? I am your loyal fan, and I have to watch almost every episode!"

STYLING magazine was a well-known magazine in the world. It was thought by cultural judges to be the record of the world's fashion history, this magazine was so popular. Moreover, they never looked for big stars to shoot, because any model who could be in their magazines would become a celebrity.

Sherry liked reading this magazine very much.

Her understanding of famous brands was also learned from this magazine.

Seeing that the girl relaxed her vigilance, Mike's smile on his face became more charming.

He took the initiative to reach out his hand to Sherry and said, "Hello, I'm Mike. This is my companion Abbott. Nice to meet you..."

03:28

"I'm also very happy," Sherry said excitedly.

Then, with a professional look at the surrounding environment, Mike said to Sherry and Meroy, "Misss, I have a very important thing to ask of you. Please promise me."

"What?"

"Could you please be our model?" Mike said sincerely.

"To be a model?"

Meroy was still confused, but Sherry couldn't wait to confirm, "Are you going to take pictures of us, and put in on your magazine? "

"Yes," Mike said in an extremely serious tone.

"But Sherry, we've never been models before, and we're in the mountains..."

Seeing that Meroy was still hesitating, Abbott went up to her and explained, "If you like to watch our weekly magazines, you should know that we never take big shots. On the contrary, ordinary people like you are the targets that our magazine photographer wants to dig for the rest of our lives. I and Mike were still upset because of the appointment before. But when I saw you two, I felt that all of this was destiny."

"Yes." Mike stood in front of Sherry with greed in his eyes. "If you are willing to be our model, once the photo is published in 'STYLING', hundreds of millions of people in the world will know you, and you two will also become the world's celebrities... At that time, I believe that you two will no longer have to do other jobs, because you will be the most popular faces in the world..."

"Agree to us." Abbott said sincerely, "We very like you could grasp the chance. At the same time, we very much hope that you can be the CoverGirl of our magazine. You know, not everyone can be the Covergirl fo the STYLING magazine. Even those popular actresses don't have this qualification."

Sherry and Meroy looked at each other. Meroy took the lead and said, "Thank you for your kindness, but I am really sorry, we refuse to do that."

"Meroy, what are you talking about? Why don't you give up such a good opportunity?"

Sherry didn't expect that Meroy would refuse. She suddenly became anxious. "Why do you do this? Do you know what 'STYLING' is? Once our photos are published on it, you don't need to rely on Simon in the future. We will be richer than Simon, even richer than his father. All the luxury goods will come to us. You refuse such a good opportunity. Are you out of mind?"

Hearing Sherry's words, Abbott and Mike looked at each other secretly.

It seemed that the fish had taken the bait.

They had cheated a lot of women before with this trick.

Especially those women who wanted to make a name for themselves overnight.

03:28

There was no need for them to waste any effort. In just a few words, they got those girls on the bed.

At least until now, they had not failed.

"This lady is right. If you feel that something wrong, we're willing to pay you a reward," Abbott emphasized.

Seeing that Meroy was still hesitating, Sherry directly stepped forward and grabbed Mike's hand. She said, "Forget about her. Is it okay to just take pictures of me alone?"

Chapter 141

At this moment, Jason and Jenny just came out of the woods.

The stockings that had been torn apart by the branches were still on Jenny's legs.

Of course, Jason would not perform for her on the spot.

In his opinion, it was a very humiliating thing.

When the two of them returned to the stream with dry firewood in their arms, John had already set up the roasting rack. Lusa and Novia were washing vegetables by the river. Colin and Roy had categorized the kebabs brought over, smeared them with oil. They could start barbequing once the fire got going.

However, the hole in Jenny's stockings was still very obvious.

Her legs were too pale.

And her stockings were black.

With such an obvious contrast, it was hard for people not to notice.

Especially when she squatted next to the fire, the guys' suddenly cast admiring expressions towards Jason.

The hills and the water was green, and the sunshine was just right.

03:29

In addition, they were friends who knew each other well. These guys and ladies gathered to bid farewell to their college life.

Jason thought, this must be the taste of youth.

"Jason, you're back. Let's take a photo as a souvenir." Lusa and Novia came back from washing the vegetables, smiling.

"Okay, okay. Get into position, I'll take the photos for you."

Jenny happily took out the camera from her bag, pointed it at the other side of the stream, and focused it.

"Hey? Where are they?"

Then, she let out a sound and turned her head to ask Novia, "Where are the people on the opposite side? Why are they all gone?"

"Yeah, they seemed to have gotten into a quarrel just now. Two girls entered the mountain, and the others drove away," Novia said.

"They're too much. They let the girls stay in the mountains and they went home by themselves. If something happens, who will be responsible?" Jenny said grumpily.

At this moment, Jason also noticed that the group of people across the stream had disappeared at some point. The car had also been driven away, leaving only two roasting racks and a few bags of unopened ingredients.

"They still left some things there. I guess they just had a little conflict, they will be back soon. Don't worry about them. Let's take pictures first."

As Jenny spoke, she directed the crowd to stand at the edge of the stream, gave them a few postures, and then kept pressing down on the shutter.

Snap! Snap!

After Jenny took the photos, Novia immediately came out to replace her.

After a few rounds of photo taking, the charcoal fire was ready. Everyone sat around the fire, took out the beer that they had soaked in the stream, and were ready to indulge in their celebration.

"Help, help!"

Splash!

The forest behind John was suddenly pushed open. A girl in rags with bloodstains on her body stumbled out of the forest and rushed to the front of the crowd.

John was shocked.

With a roar, he jumped up from the ground.

Roy cursed and stood up in a hurry to help the girl who was lying on the ground.

"What, why is it her?"

Roy looked at the woman in front of him in confusion.

Her whole face was swollen.

03:29

It was red, and one could vaguely see the bruising palm print on her skin.

At the same time, there were also dazzling scratches on her neck, wrist, and thighs.

Especially her two ankles. They didn't know how she got there. It seemed that she had broken the leg, and there was only the skin connecting them and it would break off at any time.

"Wasn't she with Sean Chan? How did she go to the mountains and end up in this state?"

Jenny still remembered that when she passed by the creek, this girl and Sherry had mocked them together. Although her face was almost deformed, her long legs were still very easy to recognize.

"Of the two girls I mentioned that went into the forest, one of them is her," Novia said from the side.

"What about the other one?" Jenny asked.

"I don't know. The other girl was in a short red skirt. She is also quite beautiful. I think she is also from our university..."

"It's Sherry Lin."

Jason took a gentle breath and said to Lusa, "Check her legs first and see what's the situation."

"Okay."

Lusa took her backpack and pulled out the first aid kit. She opened it and skilfully removed some emergency supplies and medicine.

03:29

Then she knelt on one knee with a serious look and started checking Meroy's injuries.

"Holy crap, you are a doctor..."

Seeing Lusa so skilled with the first aid kit, the people around her couldn't help but open their mouths wide.

Jenny's beautiful eyes were full of surprise, and her hostility was gradually reduced.

"She's just exhausted. I guess she ran down from a distance and her calf is fractured. I can disinfect her wounds but she has quite a number of scratches from falling. I'm worried that she may have fell from somewhere, so she needs to go to a hospital for a check up, otherwise there may be other side effects."

As she spoke, Lusa took out disinfectant and medicine from the first aid kit and began to help Meroy disinfect her wounds and stop the bleeding.

"Oh, I forgot to say." Lusa suddenly said, "Most of the wounds on this girl are inflicted by someone else. There are also small scars at the root of her thigh. In view of uncertain factors, we'd better call the police quickly and then leave."

Seeing this group of students staring at her with their mouths agape, Lusa frowned and asked, "Is there any problem?"

"No, no, I'm going to call the police."

"I'll call 911."

03:29

"Okay."

"It's really strange."

Lusa shook her head in confusion. She only focused on checking the girl's injuries and explaining her condition, but completely ignored that a beautiful girl like her, appearing at such a critical moment and showing off her professional medical skills, was extremely shocking for university students who had not seen much of the world.

"Ah!"

When Lusa was checking Meroy's bones, she suddenly woke up. Meroy lifted her head and tried to grab Lusa's face, but Jason was prepared and pressed her down.

"Thank you."

Lusa took a look at Jason and quickly fixed Meroy's two dislocated ankles at the same time. Then she turned her head and said, "I have already stopped your bleeding, disinfected and set your bones back in place. I am afraid that it will take a while for the ambulance to arrive. Do you still feel uncomfortable now?"

"Sherry... Sherry is still in their hands. Hurry up and save her... Hurry up..."

Seeing Meroy anxiously grabbing his hand, Jason frowned and asked, "Where is Sherry now?"

"They are still in the mountains. They took Sherry to the mountains. Please go save her. Please... they are in the mountains..."

03:29

Seeing that Meroy was beginning to become incoherent, Jason directly interrupted her and said, "Do you mean that there's more than one person?"

"There are two people. They have knives in their hands. I asked Sherry to leave, but she didn't go. They wanted to do... something to me and Sherry. In order to escape, I bit him down there, but Sherry didn't dare, she, he..."

"Roy Wang, John Huang!" Jason turned his head and shouted.

John and Roy had just finished calling. They came over and said, "The police and the hospital have sent people over, but we're too far off. It will take more than half an hour. And the weather forecast said that there will be rain at noon. The police suggest that we leave now and send the patient to the hospital first."

"No!" Hearing that they were going to leave, Meroy immediately became anxious. "Sherry is still in those people's hands. If you don't care about her, Sherry will definitely die in their hands!"

As she spoke, Meroy seemed to have thought of something extremely horrible. Her pupils contracted violently, and her whole body immediately curled up into a ball, shaking.

"Sherry?" Roy looked at Jason with some embarrassment and said, "Jason, is Sherry still inside?"

Jason nodded and said, "There are two people who have taken Sherry to the mountain."

03:29

"What should we do? Should we go save her?" As soon as John opened his mouth, he suddenly found that Roy and Colin had a strange look on their faces.

Not only him, but even Jason could see that everyone present, except for Lusa and Chen, didn't look too good.

"I know what you are thinking, but a life is at stake here. I believe that if anything happens to Sherry because of us ignoring her, we won't be able to live with it. A person's life is at stake. No matter how evil she was previously, she doesn't need to die like this. What do you think?"

Chapter 142

Seeing that everyone was silent, Jason nodded and said, "Bring the wounded to the car first. Roy, drive the girl back. John, Colin and I will go into the mountain, and we'll just search for half an hour. The police will arrive then, and won't need us. Let's do this."

Maybe even Jason himself didn't notice it.

When he was saying this.

A sense of never before seen confidence and trustworthiness appeared in him.

After he finished speaking, several people, especially the girls, were stunned, and they didn't know what to do for a while.

"Roy, you are the only man here who can drive. First, send the wounded to the hospital, and then send the girls home. Is there any problem?" Jason asked Roy, who looked a little absent-minded.

"Well, no, no problem." Roy nodded.

"I'll go with you too." Lusa stood up and said, "If Sherry is not in a good condition when we find her, I can do some first aid to prevent any accidents."

"Me too!"

Jason glared at Jenny as soon as she spoke.

03:29

"Okay, but you have to follow us all the time. No matter what happens, don't leave, understand?" Jason looked at Lusa and said seriously.

Lusa smiled and said, "Don't worry. I used to follow the emergency team to support the disaster area. There is no problem."

After that, the boys lifted Meroy and took her to the Mercedes-Benz. When they came back, they picked up the knife that Simon used earlier to cut the meat, and some other self defense items from the car. Then, they headed for the forest where Meroy emerged from and went in.

Sunset Mountain was a famous scenic spot in Nandu.

Although this place had not yet been completely protected, after a lot of cleaning and improvement by various government departments, as long as they did not wander into the back mountain, the front was still relatively safe.

They shuttled through the woods, following the trail of Meroy's escape to the depths.

"High heels, mobile phone, the bag..."

On the way, the crowd constantly found some things that Meroy had dropped while she was in a hurry.

"It seems that she was right. If we walk further, we'll be able to find the site of the accident. And then we can follow the traces to find Sherry. Besides, they have a woman with them, and it's a mountain road, they wouldn't be able to walk fast."

Jason tried to call Sherry as he spoke, but as expected, her phone was not picked up.

"Found it!"

After walking for more than ten minutes, John, who was leading the way in front, suddenly shouted and ran forward in a hurry.

By the stream outside the forest, they finally found the place where Sherry and Meroy had run into the two strange men.

It was very messy.

Sherry's bag and mobile phone were all left here.

At the same time, there were torn clothes and cloth pieces, as well as underwear.

"Phew..."

Looking at the mess on the scene, they looked at each other silently and sighed heavily.

"The underwear should be from the girl just now. I examined her earlier and she was naked below." Lusa suddenly said.

Jason nodded. "It seems that in order to get a chance to escape, she did have physical contact with those two people. However, it is not easy to find three people in such a big mountain."

"There's a road here. Could they have gone up the mountain from here?"

John's eyes were sharp, and he found a narrow path up the mountain between the cracks of the side of the mountain. The trees on both sides were twisting onto the path, and they didn't know where the path led to.

03:29

"It's been almost half an hour."

They stood at the intersection, looking up at the sky.

The sky was clear before, but now they could see the dark clouds coming from the west. It seemed that a storm was coming.

"We don't know where's the end to this path. I think the police will arrive soon. Let's go back and tell them what's going on here. There's no need to go up."

Although Lusa made the proposal, she looked at Jason with concern.

Jason knew what she meant. He nodded and was about to speak when he saw a figure appear on the path.

When they saw someone appear, they quickly hid the knives in their hands behind a stone to avoid unnecessary misunderstandings.

At the same time, they was also vigilant. They never knew if he was part of the two people who had kidnapped Sherry.

"Hey, it's going to rain soon. Are you still not going home?"

When Abbott saw Jason and the others, he reached out to greet them enthusiastically.

Another man?

They were slightly stunned.

"Hello, do you need my help?"

The smile on Abbott's face became even brighter when he saw that they were all students.

03:29

"Hello, we're looking for a lost friend in a red dress. Did you see her?" John took the initiative to ask.

"Sorry, I haven't seen anyone else here. If you can describe your friend's features more carefully, maybe I'll remember," Abbott said regretfully.

"It's a girl. She's quite pretty. She was wearing a red dress and high heels. She got lost somewhere here, and there may be two men along with her. My friend is in danger now. Could you recall if you've seen her? Thank you." Colin said.

Abbott's eyes swept over the four people in front of him.

When he saw Lusa, who was pretty and had a good figure, standing behind Jason, a trace of greed flashed in his eyes. Then he said, "Well, now that you've said that, I seem to remember seeing a beautiful girl, but the two men by her side looked a little dangerous."

"Have you really seen them? That's great!" Colin said excitedly, "We have already called the police, and they're on the way. Can you tell us which direction they left in? This is related to the safety of my friend's life, please let us know."

"I didn't see them. My friend, Mike, just mentioned it to me. If you're in a hurry, I can ask him, but my mobile phone is with him now. If you're willing to wait, I need to travel for half an hour. I don't mind making a trip for your friend."

I have a mobile phone." John hurriedly handed the phone over, but Abbott shook his head and said, "I'm sorry, but we're not local. We haven't gotten a local number yet, so your phone can't get through."

At this time, the faint thunder in the distance could be heard.

The rain was about to fall, and the trees were rustling in the wind.

"Sorry, it's going to rain. I'm afraid I can't help you." Abbott said apologetically.

"We'll go with you." Jason said, "The journey to and fro takes half an hour, and it will only take a little more than ten minutes to get there. When we get there, we can call the police directly, so that we can save some time. What do you think?"

"I agree!" John raised his hand and agreed without saying a word.

At first, Colin was a little hesitant. After all, they were deep in the mountain and the weather was changing rapidly. He was worried that it would be difficult for them to get out of the mountain in a while when the rain became heavier.

"I'm really touched by your friendship with your friend, but we have to hurry. If the rain gets too heavy, even the police won't be able to go up the mountain."

Abbott said with a smile on his face, and then he led everyone up the path.

Along the way, Abbott told them about his profession and purpose of coming to Sunset Mountain.

03:29

When John and Colin heard that the man in front of them was working for the famous magazine STYLING, they had an envious look on their faces.

At the same time, Abbott complimented Lusa and said, "You are the most beautiful woman we have seen since we came here. Although the model that we scheduled has quit on us, we ran into you. I believe that all of this is arranged by the Almighty."

In the face of Abbott's flattery, Lusa nodded slightly and did not speak.

"And I believe that once your photo is published in our magazine, your face will be known by everyone in the world. Then countless advertisements and film and television companies will come to you, and your life will be completely changed."

Abbott felt that this girl was very strange.

How could she refuse? Didn't she want to become famous overnight?

Weren't girls at this age the most tempted by money?

Lusa wanted to refuse again, but Jason tugged at her arm.

Because, at this moment, they had come to the door of a wooden house.

Chapter 143

The wooden house looked small and a little rundown.

Hidden in the towering forest, if they had not come nearer, it would have been hard to detect.

They arrived at the end of the mountain path.

Seeing the surprised expression on everyone's face, Abbott explained with a smile, "Mike and I are fans of farmland living. We hate the buildings and cars in the city, so as soon as we came here, we were introduced to this area by our friends and bought this small house."

"I see, please ask your friend to come out and meet us. We are very anxious, apologies." Jason nodded and said.

"OK, it's very simple."

Abbott turned around and shouted at the door, "Mike, I brought four friends over. They came here because they want to look for the girl in the red skirt, and hope to get your help."

At this time, the mountain wind was already very strong.

Accompanied by the faint thunder, the dark clouds overhead, it became very dim around them as well.

Creak...

The wooden door was pushed open, and a man walked out of the house.

03:29

"Hey Mike, these are some friends who need your help. You can tell them where the girl in the red skirt and the two men have gone." Abbott introduced them enthusiastically.

"Oh, sorry, I'm guessing they headed in the direction of the back mountain. I'm afraid it will be difficult for you to catch up with them at your current speed."

Mike pointed to a mountain path next to the wooden house and said apologetically.

"To the back mountain?" John said anxiously, "The back mountain hasn't been fully developed yet. I heard that there are a lot of wolves and wild boars there. Why did they bring Sherry to that kind of place? I hope that it's not to dispose of the corpse..."

At this point, John shivered and stopped talking.

"Don't talk nonsense. Since we already know where they are, we'd better go back first. When we meet the police, we'll report what we've found to them in detail."

Although every boy had a dream of being a detective.

But looking at the impending storm that was about to fall on the deep forest, and two missing men, along with Sherry whose condition was unknown, everyone was a little nervous and wanted to get out of this place as soon as possible.

"Well, thank you for your help. It's going to rain, we'll go back first." After saying that, Jason turned around and was about to leave.

"Hey beautiful lady, are you really not going to consider my previous proposal to be our model?" Abbott shouted, not giving up.

Lusa just stopped for a moment, then turned around and walked down the mountain with Jason.

Crash!

Loud thunder cut through the sky.

Nandu, which had been dull for half a month, finally received the first storm at the end of summer.

Rain started coming down heavily, and the whole mountain forest seemed to be covered with a dense rain curtain. The rain poured on everyone, and even their vision became blurred in an instant.

"What should we do? Should we go down the mountain?"

As soon as the rain began to fall, the few of them panicked.

"Don't worry about it. Let's go back by the same route!"

Jason growled, grabbed Lusa and started running downhill.

"What's wrong, Jason? Did something happen?" Although John and Colin hadn't reacted yet, they noticed that Jason and Lusa's faces did not look too good. They didn't care much and hurriedly followed them down.

Abbott was stunned. He knew that these students had already seen through their intentions.

He hurried to chase after them and shouted at his friend at the same time, "Mike, don't let them run away!"

03:29

Upon hearing this, John and Colin suddenly shivered with fear. Only then did they understand and began to run down the mountain like crazy.

"D*mn, why didn't that b*tch tell us that those guys felt odd? Fourth, how did you see through that?" John shouted while running.

"STYLING did not even enter the China market. The Newhouse family boss once invited Yennie Jiang to be the CEO of the magazine, but she rejected because she didn't want to marry Samuelson's grandson!"

The Newhouse family?

Yennie Jiang?

Although John and Colin were confused, when they saw Jason's solemn face, they had to nod and then ran down the mountain desperately.

But the rain was too heavy.

It was heavy enough to prevent people from looking up the path clearly. They kept falling, Colin slipped twice but was grabbed by the quick-handed John.

They ran so fast, but Abbott and the other man were not slow either.

Seeing that they were about to catch up with them, Lusa shook off Jason's hand, took off her backpack, and threw it behind her without looking back.

"F*ck!"

03:29

First, a curse came from behind them. Then, because of the strength, she used to throw the bag, Lusa lost her balance. She went sideways and slid down the muddy slope.

"Lusa Chou!"

Jason jumped sideways towards her and grabbed Lusa's wrist. Although he grew up in the countryside and was used to running on muddy paths, the force from Lusa's throw made him lose his footing and he slid down with her.

"Jason!"

John watched the two slide down from the mountain, then looked back at Abbott and Mike who were rushing over angrily. He gritted his teeth and said lowly to Colin, "You must go down the mountain alive and tell the police what happened on the mountain. Then tell Jenny to say more good things about me in front of my parents. I'm not as terrible as they think!"

"Colin!"

"We can't outrun them!"

When Colin was confused, he saw John suddenly shout and turn his head. With a roar, in the heavy rain, he rushed back towards Abbott and Mike who were chasing after them!

"Colin!"

"Colin!"

Colin cried as he ran. They were just a group of roommates who stayed in the dormitory all year round and even escaped from PE class. They couldn't hold on for more than three kilometers, much less running on a mountain path on a stormy day, avoiding the attack of two strong men behind them.

03:29

He climbed down the mountain, crossed the stream, and ran back to the place where they had their barbeque.

The dark charcoal was still lying on the ground and had long been soaked in the rain.

Colin plunged into the stream and swam to the other side of the river. When he saw the policemen shining their flashlights in the distance, Colin reached out his hand and opened his mouth. His vision went black and he fell onto the ground.

"At 11 o'clock today, the city encountered the heaviest rain in the past 30 years. The rain reached 700 millimeters in 25 minutes, causing a flood in the mountainous areas and landslides. Nandu City's disaster prevention office would like citizens to stay indoors before the rain subsides, and to stay away from the mountainous areas.

The host, dressed in a grey professional suit, said to the countless audience in front of their televisions. The background was the most famous Nanhe River in Nandu. The water level of the river was rising, far exceeding the expected water level warning line.

"This is the situation now."

David signaled Uncle Dong to turn off the TV and spoke to the middle-aged men in front of him.

03:29

The leader was Jay Shen, the head of the Public Security Department of Nandu Province.

He had just rushed over from the provincial hall and had not even removed his uniform. He frowned and said, "Now there have been three landslides in Sunset Mountain. The rescue team we sent out has been pushed down. If we continue to fight, I am afraid that there will be casualties in the team. As soon as the superior finds out..."

"Yes, I know that." David nodded and interrupted him. "I am asking you now. If the Shen family wants to use their own resources to solve this matter, will there be any trouble?"

Jay frowned, sighed, and said, "It depends on the purpose."

"To save people, save my son! Is this purpose okay?" David raised his tone and said.

"Yes, yes, that's..."

David waved his hand and interrupted Jay. "Old Dong, how many helicopters can we mobilize in Nandu?"

"13. They've already done an emergency take offs. They're on their way to Sunset Mountain," Uncle Dong said, hands hanging by his side.

"What about the security personnel of our family?"

"The first batch of 360 people have already arrived at the foot of the mountain. They can immediately go up the mountain after Chief Shen's orders. There are still four groups following, and they are also on their way."

03:29

"Then, please give the order, Chief Shen."

Jay stood up and was about to leave with his hands clasped behind his back.

Clang!

But at this time.

The door of the villa was pushed open, and Marvin Wen walked in with a smile.

"There is no need to mobilize so many people. In order to protect the personal safety of every citizen of Nandu, I have mobilized the special troops of the Silver Bear Special Forces from the military region of Nandu. According to the time, they should now be above Sunset Mountain."

Chapter 144

So cold...

In the dark, Jason curled up his body.

His last trace of consciousness remained at the moment when he rolled down from the mountain.

He was holding onto Lusa's hand, and the two of them rolled down the mountain with gravel and mud. At the last moment, he saw Lusa falling on him, followed by infinite darkness.

After a moment of distraction, Jason's body felt very sore. He couldn't help but open his mouth and let out a long groan.

But then, his body was slowly enveloped by warmth.

"Lusa, is that you?"

Jason opened his mouth with difficulty, but the answer to him was the endless silence.

"Lusa Chou?"

Jason couldn't help calling softly again.

"Yes, it's me, young master. Are you okay?"

Finally, Jason heard Lusa's voice and heaved a sigh of relief.

"I'm fine. What about you? How are you?"

In the dark, Jason couldn't see anything. He could only feel that a delicate body was holding him in her arms. Although the smell of soil filled the tip of his nose, he could faintly smell the fragrance from the girl's body.

"I'm fine as well, but it seems that the situation outside is not very good now. Young Master, you should be mentally prepared."

Lusa had always been an optimistic person. No matter how serious things got in the hospital, he had never heard her voice tremble.

"Alright, let me go first. I'm fine."

Feeling that his body was slowly released, Jason sat up with the help of Lusa. Immediately, a dazzling light broke through the darkness and illuminated the scenery in front of him.

At the cave.

It was narrow and damp.

He was surrounded by thick layer of mud that rushed in from the outside of the cave, over his feet.

However, the position where he was lying should have been cleaned up by Lusa. Although it was a thin layer, it didn't affect anything.

"Is the cave sealed?"

After checking out his current situation, Jason turned his head and looked in the direction of the light at the moment.

At this moment, the small entrance of the cave was tightly covered by several huge stones, and soil mixed with rain constantly flowed in through the crevices. The loud sound of the rain outside the cave was deafening.

03:29

"Fortunately, I found this cave. In less than a minute, the hillside we rolled down collapsed, and then the hole was sealed," Lusa said with a lingering fear.

"Thank you."

Jason turned his head and saw Lusa turn her head in a hurry and face the other side.

"What's wrong?"

Jason frowned and reached out his hand to hold Lusa's cheek.

"Don't, don't look..."

Although Lusa refused, it was Jason who insisted. Her face, which was cut by gravel, came into Jason's sight in the dazzling light.

"I thought it was serious. It's just a small wound. You don't even dare to look at me now?"

Jason smiled, then looked at it carefully and said, "It's okay. It's just some skin trauma. When we go back, I'll ask the hospital to arrange the best plastic surgeon for you. You just need a little treatment. It's fine."

"Really?" Lusa asked in disbelief.

"Of course. I have been in the hospital for so long. I gained so much medical knowledge that I'm almost a doctor. I can see that it's a small issue. It's okay. Don't worry." Jason comforted her with a smile.

At the same time, his heart was in a mess.

Fortunately, in the dark, Lusa did not see the change of expression in Jason's eyes. As soon as she calmed down, she said with some loneliness, "Master Qin, we may have lost contact with the outside world."

"Lost contact?" Jason frowned.

"Yes, your cell phone broke when it fell. You can't turn it on now. Although my cell phone is fine, there is no signal in the cave, so we can't contact the outside world." Lusa explained.

"Broken?" Jason then noticed that the mobile phone parts that were lying on the ground were from his phone. He couldn't help but curse, "What kind of lousy mobile phone cost over ten thousand yuan? I won't buy this damn brand again in the future."

"But don't worry, Master Qin. I believe that when your two classmates escape from the mountain and deliver the news to the police station, the police will come to save us." Lusa whispered to comfort him.

Would they escape?

Jason shook his head.

He knew too well about the physical stamina of his friends from the dormitory.

They almost had asthma attacks when they ran more than 1000 meters in their physical exam. Racing with two healthy men in this environment, he was afraid that their current situation would only be worse, and maybe their lives would be in danger.

However, in this situation, the most important thing to do was to stabilize the soldiers' morale.

No matter what, Lusa was a girl. Although she tried to be calm, Jason could still feel the helplessness and panic radiating from her cold palm.

"Yes, they will find us." Jason said with a smile.

12:30.

The rain outside the cave did not diminish at all.

The air in the cave was getting colder and colder.

The two of them sat side by side and leaned against each other. They warmed each other, spending the most difficult period together.

"If today is the last day of your life, what are you going to do?" Lusa curled up tightly in Jason's arms. Although this boy was several years younger than her, at this moment, Lusa somehow felt a sense of security from him, which made her feel a little warm at her most desperate moment.

"Me... I'd think about the past and see what I have done in the first half of my life, the regrets that I had. Anyway, I can't make up for it, so I'd just reflect in my heart." Jason said with a smile.

"Okay." Lusa nodded and squeezed her cheeks into Jason's arms again.

03:29

"What about you?" Jason lowered his head and asked.

"I'll let you live," Lusa said without thinking.

"Me?" Jason smiled in confusion. "Everyone is going to die. How can you let me live?"

Lusa shook her head and said softly, "I'll tell you when we get there. It's too disgusting to say it now."

"Disgusting?"

Jason was stunned.

But then, tragic scenes of foreign rescue teams saving trapped people, surfaced in his mind.

"I don't have the habit of eating human flesh."

Jason patted Lusa's back, but he forgot that her body was extremely weak at the moment. Feeling the pain, Lusa immediately let out an irrepressible moan.

"You, you're reacting..."

After a while, Lusa said with a red face.

Jason face turned red. The two of them were clinging close to each other, and Lusa could clearly feel any subtle changes in his body.

"Do you need me to help you?" Lusa stretched out her hand gingerly and held him through the space in their bodies...

"Oh..."

The inexplicable heat dispelled the remaining cold in his body.

03:29

Although the contact between the two of them remained light.

But this time, Jason could feel that Lusa seemed to think of this as the last moment of her life and wanted to take the last step with him.

But the environment was too bad.

It wasn't convenient...

Jason was about to cry.

"Are Jason Qin and Lusa Chou inside?"

Suddenly, a sonorous and forceful sound rang out outside the cave.

"We're here!"

Almost subconsciously, the two of them shouted at the same time and quickly stood up. They looked excitedly at the light coming in from outside the cave. At the same time, the noise of the helicopter engine broke through the sound of the rain.

"Please don't worry. Keep calm. I'm Elton Zhang, the captain of the Silver Bear Special Forces in the Nandu Capital Military Region. I'm under orders to rescue you!"

As he spoke, the giant stones blocking the entrance of the cave was fixed onto iron chains that looked like sharp claws. Then, the sound of the helicopter engine grew louder. Suddenly, like the first ray of sunshine after a storm, the entrance opened up and the stone was lifted into the sky by the helicopter.

A column of strong light came in, and dozens of fully armed special forces soldiers stood neatly at the entrance of the cave.

"Hello, I'm Elton Zhang, the Commander of the team, a special field force in the Nandu Military Region. I'm here to rescue you two. Please rest assured that the enemy has been captured and you can leave safely."

Chapter 145

Outside the cave, the heavy rain was still pouring down.

Three modified 'Super Leopard Helicopters', painted in camouflage, hovered in mid-air in the rainstorm.

18 members of the Silver Bear Special Forces were fully armed. They escorted Jason and Lusa away from the cave by a suspension rope and were slowly transported out of the Sunset Mountains.

'Super Leopard helicopters' was used for army transportation purposes, and only in such harsh weather could it be activated. With the help of the Silver Bear Special Forces could Jason and Lusa be rescued safely from the mountain.

On the plane, captain Elton Zhang briefly reported the current situation to Jason.

"For our mission, we have sent three search and rescue teams and one complete combat squadron. According to the information provided by the survivors, the combat squad has already controlled two criminal suspects within ten minutes. One was killed on the spot when he escaped, and the two victims have been safely rescued. They are now at the foot of the mountain, and you will soon see each other."

"Three suspects?"

Jason and Lusa looked at each other.

03:29

In each other's eyes, they could see unconcealable fear and palpitation.

In fact, when Abbott said that he was a reporter working at STYLING magazine, Jason roughly understood what kind of trick it was.

When he was chatting with Yennie before, Jason had asked Yennie how she had trained her keen eye for aesthetics as the styles she picked out were really good. So Yennie told him about her experience with STYLING magazine and the Newhouse family.

However, in order to confirm the specific location where Sherry was hidden, he decided to take the risk and go up to have a look.

But they didn't expect that the sudden heavy rain almost killed them.

What he didn't expect was that Meroy didn't give accurate information about those suspects, and didn't even accurately see how many people there were.

Sitting on the plane, Jason looked at Sunset Mountain, which was getting farther and farther in the storm, and he sighed.

Three 'Super Leopard helicopters' slowly appeared above the open land at the foot of the mountain in a battle formation.

Dozens of black Cadillac cars flashed and split into two rows, extending from the open ground to the national highway in order.

The red cross emergency helicopter also stopped in the middle of the open space. The field was surrounded by the medical staff from the St. De Hospital who had been on standby, as well as the Silver Bear Special Forces. At this moment, Jason could see a grand scene that he could only see in Hollywood movies.

"Uncle Dong!"

As soon as Jason got off the plane, Uncle Dong immediately came up to him with a black umbrella.

"Young Master, you are back." Uncle Dong's deep face showed rare agitation.

"Sorry Uncle Dong, you had to worry about me." Jason said apologetically.

"Hey, Young Master, what are you talking about? It's our responsibility that you landed yourself in danger. But it's good that you escaped. You have so many days ahead, let's talk about it when we get home."

As Uncle Dong spoke, the medical staff from St. De Hospital rushed over and helped Jason and Lusa to the red cross plane.

"Jason Qin!"

At this moment, a hoarse cry came from the side of 'President No. 1's car.

Jason turned his head and saw Sherry, hair dishevelled, leaning out of the window and looking at him with a complicated expression.

"Let's go."

Jason said lightly, and a nurse closed the door. The plane slowly took off in the heavy rain and flew to St. De Hospital on the other side of the city.

The experience in the past few days undoubtedly helped Jason become braver.

He lay on the hospital bed and thought a lot.

About his life experience, his family background, his career, and his feelings...

Gradually, he understood.

The money he gave to his family was not worth mentioning at all.

As Yennie Jiang said, how could a person who had not even seen the sea, design the best cruise ship in the world?

The money that shouldn't be spent, you don't need to spend it, but the money that you have to spend, you shouldn't even scrimp on a cent.

After internalising this point, Jason had a new understanding and goal for his future life.

During this period, David and his wife tried their best to deal with Jason.

No matter how busy David was at work, he would take time to come to the hospital every day.

Mary even cooked three meals a day and took good care of him.

Originally, Michael and his wife were the most worried. After ending the seven-day tour around Nandu, they hurried back to take care of Jason.

However, when they saw Yennie, who stayed in the ward all day long, they were happy and booked themselves a trip elsewhere.

Time passed by inadvertently.

He didn't know whether it was because of Yennie and Mary's care, or other reasons.

Jason's recovery in the hospital was surprisingly good.

It was so good that all the medical staff couldn't believe it.

It should be noted that when Jason was sent to the hospital, he was brought in by a combat helicopter and a helicopter. He was covered in blood and scared everyone in the hospital.

However, only Jason and his attending doctor knew that it was mostly skin level injuries, and some fractures also needed time for recovery. There was no big issue with his body.

However, the news from Tokyo was like a mass of dark clouds, shrouding Jason's heart.

Emily Xia's cells were sent to the research room by the institute to be cultivated.

However, due to the cultivation period, Emily's injury could not be completely suppressed, and she had bled on several occasions again.

03:29

Fortunately, the research base's equipment and doctors were at the top of the class. But would these situations keep happening before the cultivation was complete?

Jenny arrived on the day Jason was discharged from the hospital.

"It was you who called Leo Shen that day, wasn't it?" Jason Qin asked with a smile in the lounge on the third floor.

Jenny nodded. "After we left, it started raining heavily. I called you but you didn't pick up. I had no choice but to tell Leo, and got him to send someone to check it out. Otherwise, I wouldn't feel at ease."

Jason nodded. If Jenny hadn't called Leo in advance, they wouldn't have been able to get themselves out of the situation.

"Thank you," Jason said with a smile.

"Tsk, tsk. The Eldest Young Master of the Shen family also knows how to say thank you. It's not easy."

When Jenny said this, her tone suddenly changed. She lowered her voice and said, "By the way, do you know that Sean was looking for you everywhere when you were in the hospital?"

"Sean is looking for me?" Jason was stunned. "Why was he looking for me?"

03:29

"He wants his woman." Jenny said grumpily, "He told people that you were the one who convinced Sherry to leave that day into the forest. He hasn't met Sherry yet, and keeps saying that you must have done something to her. If he finds you, he won't let you go."

"Ha, I spent so much effort to rescue Sherry from those suspects. It's good enough that I didn't ask him for a reward. He still wants to blame it on me." Jason said grumpily.

"That's right. When they left the two girls in the deep forest, they never came back. Now he has the face to say that Sherry is his girlfriend. How can there be such a shameless man in the world?"

Jenny had always looked down on rich playboys like Sean. In the past, she just thought his lifestyle was the problem, but now it seemed that there was a big problem with his character.

"What about Sherry? Didn't she take the initiative to come out and say anything?" Jason asked.

"Sherry is missing."

"Huh?" Jason was stunned.

"After Sherry was rescued, she was sent to the military hospital in Nandu. She was not seriously injured. After the examination, she got her wound cleaned up and disappeared that night."

"Haven't they looked into the surveillance video?" Jason asked in confusion.

"They did. The surveillance shows that Sherry left the ward at three in the morning. Considering that she didn't have many injuries and didn't need to pay for the medical expenses, the hospital didn't care too much about it." Jenny said helplessly.

She left on her own?

Jason frowned and listened as Jenny continued, "I think Sherry probably doesn't want to face the follow-up police investigation. After all, she has not graduated from college yet. If the matter continues to be investigated and the news is spread out, I'm afraid that she will not even have the courage to live."

Although Jenny hated Sherry, after all, they were both women. With such a big incident, she was quite sympathetic.

Jason nodded and asked, "Did you drive here?"

Jenny blushed and asked, "How do you know?"

Jenny did buy a car for the purpose of shuttling between work and the construction site. It was a little car over 100,000 yuan with a monthly payment of 4,000 yuan. She paid for it out of her salary.

"That's great. You can drive me to Pualy Automobile. I want to buy a car." Jason stood up and said.

Chapter 146

After leaving the hospital, Jason got on the white little Polo parked at the door and went to Pualy Automobile.

"What kind of car do you want to buy?"

Jenny got out of the car and asked curiously.

According to what she knew about Jason, the value of Maseratis and Cayennes dropped a lot over time.

No matter how expensive a car was, ladies didn't know well.

She felt that a car over a million yuan was high end enough.

"Wait and see." Jason didn't think through it as well. What kind of car should he buy for Yennie?

As soon as the two walked into the car shop, they saw Sean choosing a car, accompanied by the sales lady.

"Why is he here?" Jenny frowned and pulled Jason's hand, ready to leave.

Jason stood still, looked at her angrily and said, "Where are we going?"

"To another place. I don't want to be with such a person. I feel uncomfortable when I see him." Jenny said impatiently.

However, the voice of the pair alerted Sean who was looking at cars. He walked over from the display and looked at Jason in surprise. "I thought you were hiding and didn't dare to show up. Are you here to apologise and tell me where Sherry is?"

"Can't we just come to look at cars?" Jason asked in confusion.

"You, here to look at cars? Oh, I know, I see you've received your fee this month? How much did the rich woman pay you? So much that you're here to look at cars?" Sean pointed to the car on the platform behind him. "Is she going to buy Mercedes-Benz or BMW? With the woman's wealth, a car worth less than 400,000 yuan, it might be a little embarrassing right?"

"What I buy has nothing to do with you. If you really have nothing to do, go to the door and wipe the car for me. It's the white Polo."

Jason took Jenny's hand and went in as he spoke.

"You!"

Seeing that he was ignored, Sean was about to throw a tantrum, but the salesgirl came over and asked with a smile, "Mr. Chan, do you still want to see the car?"

"Of course, but you have to be careful of the two people. Maybe they don't even have the money to buy a car, but are here for a free lunch." Sean said with a sneer.

Jason was familiar with this place.

As soon as he entered the door, he found a familiar saleswoman who was sitting at the bar and distributing lunch to the guests and staff.

"Beauty, introduce a car to us." Jason greeted her with a smile.

"Who are you?"

When the saleswoman just saw Jason, she didn't realise, but after that, she widened her eyes and looked at Jason incredulously, saying, "You, you are Mr. Qin."

Jason smiled and said, "It's me. I want to buy a car. Can you recommend one for me?"

"Of course!"

The salesgirl excitedly wiped her hands and said happily, "Mr. Qin, please wait a moment. I'll change my clothes. I'll introduce a car to you right away."

At the same time, Sean was accompanied by another salesperson, looking at the BMW X4 that he reserved.

Over the years, there were a couple problems with Landrovers. The reputation was dropping, so more people turned their gaze to the more traditional Audi, Benz and BMW.

And this year's BMW X3, with its distinctive appearance, new style lights, and up to 12 preferential points, attracted the eyes of more young people.

"See, as soon as they entered the door, they went to the buffet area. These two are not here to buy a car at all." Sean said with a sneer.

The salesgirl also frowned. Although the buffet here was officially open to the public for free, generally speaking, only the people who bought a car here would enjoy it. It was the first time she saw someone head for the buffet area without buying anything.

"Don't worry. If they really don't buy a car from our shop later, I will charge them for their dining expenses. There is no free lunch in the world. I have never seen such a shameless person." The saleswoman said.

"They have done a lot of shameless things. Believe it or not, if you go over to ask them for dining expenses now, they will definitely say that they're here to buy a car. But they got hungry, so they wanted to eat something first. Once you leave, they'll run. If you don't believe me, you can go and try it now." Sean said with a strange smile.

"If it's not what I said, I'll treat you to dinner tonight. What do you think?" He thought for a while and added.

"Really?" The salesgirl's eyes lit up. Sean didn't look much older than 20, and given that he was able to buy this new BMW, he must be a rich second generation man. She was still thinking about how to fawn all over him.

However, the saleswoman who changed her clothes was also very fast. Before the one next to Sean could take action, she saw a saleswoman leaving the service room in a hurry and greeting them enthusiastically.

"It's her again."

The saleswoman's resentful eyes suddenly became 03:30

gloating.

Last time, this new girl mistakenly bumped her way into securing a deal of almost two million yuan. She got almost 100,000yuan in commission, which the old salespeople were very envious of for a long time.

But let's see if you're still so lucky this time round. After she spends her time on the two losers, and they leave after a free meal, she would complain to the manager. Let's see if she gets the month's bonus!

Sean and the salesgirl similarly stopped looking at cars and turned their eyes to the people in the buffet area.

"Sorry to keep you waiting. Mr. Qin, what kind of car do you want to look at this time?" Mag said to them with a smile.

"I want to eat something first." Jason looked at the sumptuous food in the buffet area and explained, "I haven't eaten lunch. Can I eat first before I look at the cars?"

Jenny also nodded from the side. In the morning, she went to the St. De Hospital to wait for Jason, and hadn't eaten either.

"Of course. What would you like to eat? I'll get it for you."

Mag nodded quickly and then began to prepare lunch for Jason and Jenny.

In Mag's opinion, in fact, for these customers who spend a lot of money, there was no need for them to exaggerate the performance and effect of the products.

For most people, as long as the price was reasonable, they would do it decisively, and they only needed to tell them the details of the product in detail and try their best to give a reasonable discount. That would be enough.

So when Jason and Jenny were having lunch, she sat aside with a smile on her face, only asking if they needed more food or water. She did not mention anything about the cars.

Sean noticed all of this.

He turned to the salesgirl and said, "Did you see that? It's exactly as what I said right? After lunch, they will definitely pretend to look at a couple of expensive cars, then say that they'll think about it at home. This escape trick is exactly what these losers do. I won't be fooled by this."

"Mr. Chan is right. Don't worry. If they dare to leave like this, I won't let them." The saleswoman also gloated.

After a few simple bites, Jason asked Mag to introduce a couple of cars that women liked.

"Mini Cooper, Beetle, Mercedes-Benz CLQ, and BMW 3 series. These are of moderate price and are the cars that have been bought by female customers recently. Especially the BMW 3 series, which is new. They are very different from the old ones in terms of function and appearance. Of course, the price is also more expensive for these cars." Mag introduced.

"I also saw the new BMW series when I bought my car a few days ago. It's beautiful, but a little expensive." Jenny said enviously.

"How much is it?" Jason asked.

"Yes... if you're agreeable, the starting price is about 370,000. We can give you some decorations, such as the reverse image camera, the sensor, and..."

Without waiting for Mag to finish, Jason quickly waved his hand and said, "It's too cheap. I want to see a car worth more than four million yuan. You can recommend cars around this price, no price limit."

"Four, four million?"

Almost at the same time, Mag and Jenny's mouths dropped open.

Jason nodded. Afraid that she didn't understand, he explained, "Four million yuan will be the bottom limit. It can't be too cheap. I want it suitable for a lady to drive, it can look more business-like, nothing too old fashioned. It can be customized, but I need it within half a month. I can pay a deposit or full payment right now. I can also pay for it to be rushed out. I just need it on time, is there a problem?"

Chapter 147

Since Jason had planned to keep Yennie with him.

Therefore, there was no need to be stingy when it came to spending money.

This was what David taught him.

For people who were useful, you must not hesitate. If you could stuff them with money, do it. If they were unmoved, stuff them with more money.

What's more, gifting her a car worth millions of yuan might have been an astronomical number for him in the past, something he would never have imagined.

But for Yennie, gifting a watch worth thousands or a watch, was probably as easily as buying a phone.

Yennie's two cars had just been smashed, one destroyed.

He would take advantage of this time to give her a car.

Looking at the expression of the two girls, Jason explained grumpily again. Mag nodded repeatedly, picked up the cup and drank a big mouthful of water in one breath. Then she turned around and took out an ipad and introduced a few models that were suitable for what Jason had just described.

"Breery overflowing, Candy red top luxury, Hong, full of power, the appearance is beautiful, Bentley's unique handmade sewing decoration is even more luxurious, the price is about 5 million to 6 million."

"Bentley Ghost Shadow, an open-air convertible sports car, carrying 6.6T engine, which can be customized in silver or crystal purple. The price is between 5 to 5.9 million."

"Lamborghini Bat..."

At the same time.

Looking at the people in the rest area, Sean frowned and asked, "What are they talking about? They're just staying there, not looking at cars, don't tell me they're planning a conspiracy? Would they often come here to eat and drink for nothing in the future?"

The saleswoman also looked over with a puzzled face. She could see that Mag was holding an iPad to explain to the two people. As a saleswoman, she was very clear that there was only one possibility where the salespeople would be holding an iPad, which was that the car they wanted was not in the store.

But she looked around again.

The Mercedes-Benz, the BMW, the Audi, Honda, cars that the general public usually liked were all there. What cars were they looking at that they required the iPad?

"I got it. They're here to buy a car!" The saleswoman said, suddenly enlightened.

"Buying a car? How can these two people who are supported by others have the face to buy a car? If he dares to buy it, and dares to drive it out, then I'll spread the news that he's being raised by a rich woman. Let's see if he still has the guts to drive it." Sean said disdainfully.

"Haha, Mr. Chan, you think too much. Although they're here to buy a car, it must be worth less than 100,000 yuan." The saleswoman said with certainty.

"Less than 100,000 yuan?" Sean asked in confusion, "How do you know?"

Then, the saleswoman shared her analysis with Sean.

Hearing this, Sean immediately laughed so hard that he couldn't stand up straight. "Hahaha, less than 100,000 yuan, they're probably buying a domestic car. But it's fine. Get the machine and I'll pay with my card now. Arrange for both our cars to leave the store at the same time. I want to see them drive out next to me. Their expressions will be hilarious, haha!"

"Okay, Mr. Chan. I'll key in the order now." The saleswoman said happily.

In less than fifteen minutes, Mag had introduced all the cars to Jason.

It was not that she was lazy and didn't talk much, but there were not many cars at this price. With the conditions proposed by Jason, it was easier for her to narrow them down.

Jason nodded and looked at Jenny, asking, "Which one do you like?"

03:30

Jenny was stunned.

Then she jumped up from the sofa and quickly waved her hand. "I don't want it, I don't want it. This car is too expensive. I can't..."

Looking at the nervous sweat on Jenny's forehead, Jason waved his hand in embarrassment and said, "You misunderstood me. I'm asking you, as a girl, which car do you like? Or which car is nicer."

"Er..."

Jenny's face turned red all of a sudden. She couldn't help but roll her eyes at Jason. Then she sat down and said, "Well, that Bentley looks nice, but I like crystal blue."

"Crystal blue? Why?" Jason asked curiously.

"Because red is too vulgar and suitable for those women who are being kept as mistresses. If it's a gift and the lady is of similar status as you, I think crystal blue would be nicer. It's elegant, classy, looks noble. When people look at this car, they would think that the driver must have a good taste, and looks very high class."

After listening to Jenny's explanation, Jason said with a smile, "Are you trying to say that you have good taste and that you're not old fashioned? You're so shameless, saying that about someone else."

"You!"

Seeing that Jenny's pretty face was red, Jason smiled and said to Mag, "I'll listen to her. Crystal blue, the Bentley. When can it arrive?"

03:30

"Are you... you purchasing the car?" Mag stammered.

"Yes." Jason smiled.

"Don't you want to haggle on the price a little?" Mag swallowed and asked.

"Can I haggle on the price of this car?" Jason suddenly realized and said, "I thought that you couldn't do that for luxury cars. How much discount can you give me?"

"Two..two...two....twenty thousand..." Mag stammered again.

"You said 'two' almost seven times, are you going to give me a discount of 140,000 yuan?" Jason asked with a smile.

"No, no, I can give you 20,000 yuan as a discount. I can ask the manager for more, but I don't think it'll amount to much. This kind of car is made one by one after receiving the order from Bentley production base. It has always been sold at the original price or by raising the price. The 20,000 yuan discount will be sent to you from my commission..." Mag Chen said truthfully.

"Well, forget it."

Jason waved his hand. Under Mag Chen's surprised gaze, he said, "You don't need to give me a discount. You can take the two yuan yourself. As long as the car arrives on time or in advance, I can give you 20,000 yuan. You can go to your manager quickly."

"Okay, okay, okay, okay, please wait a moment..."

03:30

Mag stood up from the sofa like she had just witnessed a nightmare and kept turning around as she left. "Do you really not want a discount?"

Jason waved his hand speechlessly. "There's a mine at home. Just go place the order with the manager."

After Mag left, Jenny looked at Jason incredulously and asked, "Well, you've just become a young master, and now you've learned to keep women outside and give such an expensive gift? The old man was right. It's not easy to turn good, but here you've turned bad..."

"Do you think I still someone to raise me?" Jason said grumpily, "I'm giving it to a very important friend. Since I knew her, the things that she has brought me are worth more than a few million."

"I know who you're talking about," Jenny said with a smile.

"Who?"

"Manager Jiang." Jenny said it purposefully.

"Manager Jiang? How do you know Yennie Jiang?" Jason asked in surprise. He remembered that when they went to Bloom Revolving Restaurant, Yennie didn't appear, and she wasn't from the real estate department. How did Jenny know of Yennie Jiang?

"Well, you're the only one who doesn't know her. I've heard of her when I was at school. She graduated from Eton School. Even in Wall Street, she was also a famous business genius. She once refused the invitation to be CEO, that was issued by the Newhouse family. Her experience is simply a legend. She is the idol of countless domestic and foreign scholars. Such a powerful person is right by your side. Don't you know that?"

In the face of Jenny's contemptuous eyes, Jason scratched his head with shame and then asked curiously, "Do you know a lot of things about her?"

"Not much. Although Yennie Jiang is my idol, her life experience has always been mysterious. Some say that she is the only daughter of the Jiang family in the Capital City. After all, she could attend Eton School, so her family must be of an extraordinary background. But some people say that she should be from a poor family. Because every year, Eton recruits intelligent and talented people who are born in poor families. Otherwise, after she graduated for so many years, no one in the Jiang family in the Capital City has seen her. I just didn't expect that such a business genius would be in Nandu. And she's your woman, it's really unexpected."

Seeing that Jenny was still so interested in Yennie, Jason suddenly became a little more enthusiastic.

But at this moment, Sean's face suddenly appeared in their sight. With a cigarette in his mouth, he swaggered over and looked down at the two people. He said with a strange smile, "Why? It's difficult to buy a car less than 100,000 yuan, isn't it?"

Less than 100,000?

Jenny frowned. "What are you talking about? It's none of your business on the car we're buying."

03:30

"Of course it's none of my business, but I just bought the latest BMW X3. It's not expensive, and it's only 400,000 yuan. If you want to buy a car here, just tell me. There are not many cars here worth less than 100,000 yuan. I can ask the manager to apply for a discount. It will also reduce the burden. After all, it's not easy for you to make money. Unlike me, buying a car is just a way of transportation," Sean said proudly.

"Didn't you just buy your Land Rover? Why did you change to a BMW?" Jenny asked in confusion.

"Haha, do you know the Limsy Group?" Sean sneered and said, "It's one of the most highly listed real estate companies in the country. My father and Simon Lin's father just received a project from the Limsy Group. It costs tens of millions. It's nothing to buy a car. Let me tell you, X3 is just my way of transportation. When the first deposit comes, I'll change back to a Land Rover. My family's assets will also be increased by several times."

"The Limsy Group?"

Jason and Jenny looked at each other.

When did Limsy Group start construction?

Could it be the land of the unfinished building?

Chapter 148

Seeing the two people's faces full of shock, Sean thought that they were scared by his words.

So he said proudly, "Jason Qin, you'd better tell me where Sherry Lin is now, and then apologize to me. Later on, when the construction site requires more workers, I can arrange a position for you. You can earn 170 yuan a day, 5000 in a month. For a loser from the countryside like you, it is considered a high salary."

"Sherry Lin?" Jason frowned. "Wasn't Sherry Lin always with you? Why are you looking for her here?"

However, when Sean heard Jason saying that Sherry was always with him, his face changed instantly. He pointed at Jason and said, "I'm telling you, don't pretend to be innocent. At that time, I just had some conflicts with Sherry. You seized the opportunity to take Sherry away. You haven't handed her over yet. So many of us have seen it. Don't try to bluff me!"

Bluff? Hand someone over?

Jason looked at Sean's exasperated face and gradually understood something.

"Sean Chan, don't speak nonsense. At that time, we also had so many people watching. It was you and Simon who got angry with the two girls. Then you left them in the deep forest and drove home. You didn't even look back at all. Now you have the face to blame us for taking away the two girls. Why are you so shameless? How can you say such shameless words!"

03:30

Jenny was not as good-tempered as Jason.

Especially because of Sherry and Meroy, Jason and the others almost lost their lives on Sunset Mountain.

She had already held back her anger.

Now when she heard Sean putting the blame on them, she stood up angrily and wanted to argue with Sean.

However, Sean was faster than Jenny. He sneered before Jenny could open her mouth and said, "All along? This proves that you didn't leave at all. You also saw Sherry and the others walking into the mountains. Now let me ask you, where are they? It was raining heavily that day, and you all came back. But where is Sherry? Where is she?"

"It's none of my business where she is. You're the one who argued with them and drove them into the mountain. Why are you looking for them here now?" Jenny said, unwilling to show her weakness.

"Ha, at that time, only you were present, and there was no one else to testify. Now, it's up to you to say whatever you want to say. When the police starts investigating, let's see who they believe." Sean sneered.

"I'm not afraid of you. The truth will prevail. If you have the ability, let's go to the police station and see who the police believe."

Jenny was not afraid of confronting Sean. She was clear about what happened then. However, considering the confidentiality regulations of the Shen's Group, all the actions and information about the Shen family could not be revealed to the public.

"Police station? Do you know how serious the accusation of kidnapping is? Haha, this is a crime! You kidnapped Sherry and hid her, which is equivalent to kidnapping! No matter what happens to her in the end, you can't escape!"

With this, Sean suddenly sneered and said, "Simon Lin's eldest uncle is the deputy director of Nandu's Municipal Bureau. He is also very concerned about this matter. After listening to Simon and my report, he attached great importance to this matter and said that he must severely punish the murderer and bring them to justice."

Sean was deliberately telling Jason about Simon's connections.

Since they left angrily that day, they did not hear about Sherry and Meroy again. They couldn't get in touch with them that day, and only thought that Sherry and Meroy had gone home in Jason's car.

However, when they saw the news the next day, they knew that there was a landslide at Sunset Mountain at noon. Sean quickly called Sherry and Simon. When he learnt from Simon that he couldn't get in touch with Meroy either, they drove back to the scene in a panic.

Seeing that Sunset Mountain was in a mess after the storm, the two guessed that Sherry and Meroy might have died in the mudslide. After discussing for two days, they decided to first accuse others and put all the blame on Jason and the others.

Anyway, Simon's uncle was the deputy director of the Municipal Bureau, and he was in charge of criminal investigation. At that time, the two families would use some money. Even if they couldn't put Jason and the others into jail, they could avoid going into jail as well.

Moreover, although Sean's family was only an upstart in the engineering business, since this matter had something to do with Simon, he had reason to believe that in order to prevent his son from going to jail, with the financial resources of the Lin family, two lives were nothing to him.

Hearing this, Jason and Jenny looked at each other.

"Ha, now it's not too early to feel scared, you still have time to turn yourself in at the police station. Just say that you accidentally lost the girls. Then, for the sake of our old classmates, let Simon plead for mercy from his uncle. At most, he will be detained or fined some money. It's not a big deal. But if the police find out that, because of some of the past grievances, you deliberately pushed Sherry into a desperate situation. It will become a deliberate murder. At that time, even I can't help you."

Seeing that Jason and Jenny did not dare to speak, Sean continued to persuade them.

03:30

"Thank you for your kindness, but my guess is that the police will look for you first, before he comes to us." Jason didn't want to elaborate on this topic anymore, and cut it off.

At the same time, the saleswoman who had put in Sean's order walked over. In front of Jason and Jenny, Sean proudly took out a bank card, swiped his card, and paid.

"Think about it. You're so young. If you're charged with murder, even if you weren't shot to death, you won't be able to walk out of prison for the rest of your life."

Sean said in a threatening tone, and then went with the salesgirl to check the car.

"No wonder they didn't show up for so many days. Instead, they were looking for you, and want to frame you." Jenny took a deep breath and said.

"There's no charge at all. If we investigate this matter, it has nothing to do with them either." Jason said lightly, "But Sean's family took over the unfinished building project. Do you know about this?"

Jenny shook her head. "I only know that only the foundation of the project has been taken by Prosper Group. If Limsy Group took over it, judging from the relationship between Sean and Simon, Limsy Group must have shifted the project to Sean's father."

"Is the second transfer in accordance with the requirements?" Jason asked.

"It's not. In order to avoid the dispute caused by the construction, Limsy Group has made it clear that when they signed a contract with Limsy Group, that Limsy Group must be responsible for the project and the construction of the main body. They must not get third parties to take over. Now it seems that Limsy Group has violated the contract and can be directly be handled by legal. They can ask the other party to pay the default fee." Jenny frowned and said.

"Don't worry. Now I'm just listening to what Sean said. Whether it's true or not is ambiguous. We'd better build it first, or we can mention it after we have solid evidence." Jason Qin thought about it and said.

After the two of them sat for a while, Mag hurried over with the sales manager.

They confirmed the order, Jason used his card, signed it and paid for it at one go.

It was exactly the same as when he bought the Mercedes G previously.

Then, the sales manager also told Jason a piece of good news.

Generally speaking, it was rare to get a car right away, especially the crystal blue Bentley that Jason wanted. They had to report it to the Bentley company first, and then the company would get the production base to produce it, and then they would ship it to Nandu.

However, the car Jason had taken a fancy to, happened to have been ordered two months ago.

03:30

It just arrived in Nandu last week.

However, because the owner suddenly changed his mind and went back on his words, the car was left idle here after he paid the penalty.

After all, it was difficult to buy a five million dollar car in a short time. It just happened that Jason's request fit with the car's requirements. If Jason didn't mind, he could directly buy it on the spot and then drive it away.

Jason nodded after listening, indicating that there was no problem.

Hearing this, the sales manager was very happy. He sold a Bentley which was worth five million yuan, which was a big headache to the whole company. It was more valuable than a new car.

"Mr. Qin, please wait for a moment. I'll get the car cleaned and then I'll drive it over for you.

After the sales manager left, Sean was sitting in his newly bought BMW X3, with a cigarette in his mouth. He proudly said to the salesperson, "When will their car be driven out? I can't wait to see their exciting expressions of being defeated, haha!"

Chapter 149

"Mr. Qin, your car has been cleaned. I'll confirm it again. Do you want me to drive it out, or will you drive it?"

The sales manager and Mag were holding the cloth in their hands, running over with excitement and asked.

"Go ahead," Jason said to Jenny.

"Me?" Jenny was so scared that her face turned pale. She hurriedly waved her hand and refused, "No, no, it's too expensive. I don't dare to drive it. If I crash it, I can't even afford it."

"What's there to be afraid of if there's any insurance? If I ask you to drive it, just drive it. If it's damaged, it's on me. You don't have to pay for it."

Jason stood up, took Jenny's hand, and walked to the garage.

How did it feel when men take a fancy to a car?

Even when the car is in front of you, you just look at it quietly. You'd feel happy, glad, adrenaline soaring...

At this moment, the crystal blue Bentley, like an elegant goddess in a blue evening dress, stood gracefully in front of Jason and Jenny.

She was noble and elegant, with a wild appearance and temperament. Jenny's mouth dropped slightly open, eyes full of amazement.

03:30

"D*mn it, it's time to learn to drive."

Jason looked at the car in front of him in surprise. He felt that the real car was much more beautiful than the one in the photo.

He didn't like sports cars like Ferrari, Hennessey Venom, which were typical race cars.

On the contrary, he liked this kind of model with stable power, but it still looked very luxurious and classy.

This was the first time that he couldn't wait to learn how to drive.

After getting on the car, Jason was also very satisfied with the handmade features and car seats.

The entertainment system was great as well.

When Jenny inserted the car key and started the car, the engine started lowly, and music came out of the British brand Naim speaker. An indescribable sense of luxury suddenly occupied her heart.

"Beauty, could you please drive my friend's car back with us? I'll transfer the taxi money to you on WeChat." Jason pretended to flag down a taxi and smiled at Mag.

"Okay, I'll follow you the whole time," Mag nodded and said.

At this moment.

Sean was smoking, staring impatiently at the rearview mirror.

03:30

"What time is it? When can they get their lousy car? Don't tell me that they got the car, but they're too poor to buy it?"

The salesgirl looked at the time, frowned, and said, "They should be coming out soon. I just saw the manager going to the garage. Maybe there is a big customer coming to book a car, so they have to wait for a while."

"Hmph, I think they just want to take advantage of your buffet lunch. They can't even afford a car worth less than 100,000 yuan, but they insisted on coming to Pualy Automobile. Everyone knows that your car dealer is the best in the south of the city. They just want to get free... What the!"

Sean said scornfully with a cigarette in his mouth. Suddenly from his rearview mirror, he saw a dazzling crystal blue Bentley turn out from the garage and in his direction.

"What kind of car is this? A Bentley?"

Sean poked his head out of the window and gaped at the crystal blue car gradually becoming clearer in his sight. The luxury 'B' letter on the front of the car, the dazzling black net, and the great contrast between the static wheel wheels made Sean inexplicably feel very scared and a little lowly.

This kind of illusion was like when he was showing off to a beggar on the road, and the richest man in the world suddenly passes by him.

The key point was that the richest man was more low-key than him, and glanced over.

03:30

This kind of psychological difference made Sean feel uncomfortable.

"This is the Bentley that someone broke the deal for last time. Who dares to drive it? Which salesperson is it, I have to report it to the manager as soon as possible."

The salesgirl knew about this car. Since the female client broke the contract, it had been parked in the garage and no one paid attention to it. After all, it was worth more than five million yuan. Ordinary people could not easily buy it.

Just as the saleswoman stared at the car warily and was about to call the manager to report, she suddenly saw a familiar figure, who was following after the Bentley, trotting out.

"Hey, what are you doing here? Get the customer to shift the car away, they're in the way!"

The sales manager was so angry and ran to the salesperson to scold her.

"Manager, but, but this car..." The saleswoman still wanted to explain.

"Can't you tell that this car has been bought by someone? Get out of the way quickly. This is the garage passageway. Who got the customers to park here? If something happens, can you afford this responsibility?"

As the sales manager spoke, he hurriedly ran to the window of the driver's seat and said with a smile, "I'm sorry, sir. This is the garage's passageway. No parking is allowed here.

Could you please drive away and make way for the car behind?"

"Er..."

In fact, Sean originally wanted to wait for Jason and Jenny to drive out so he could ridicule them.

But looking at the Bentley which was worth more than five million yuan behind him, he didn't dare to stay for a second, for fear of annoying the big boss in the car. He hurriedly stepped on the acceleration and rushed out of the garage.

At the same time, he drove the car to the side, wanting to see who was the person in Nandu who could afford such an expensive car.

When the two cars passed each other, Sean saw Jason sitting in the back and waving at Mag.

"What the f*ck! Jason Qin?"

Sean's eyes widened as if he had seen a ghost.

But then, he saw that Jenny was in the driver's seat.

Clatter.

The cigarette in his mouth fell on the seat.

"Oh my god! My leather seat!"

Sean quickly picked up the cigarette butt and threw it out of the window. Looking at the two big holes that had been burned out on his leather chair, he wanted to cry.

At the same time, Mag took the car key from Jenny, got on her little Polo, and started the car.

"Did you buy this?"

When Jason was about to close the window, Sean asked in a hurry.

"Ah, what's the matter?" Jason glanced at him.

"I asked you, did you buy this car?" Sean shouted.

"No, what's wrong?" Jason asked in confusion.

"Haha, I know that this car is not yours. How can you, a loser, afford such an expensive car?"

As Sean said, he suddenly realized something and said, "I know. This is the car you bought for your rich woman. She has no time to come today, so she asked you to help her to buy the car. So you brought Jenny along, and pretended to show off in front of her, right?"

The rich woman, was he referring to Yennie Jiang?

If it was her, there was nothing wrong with Sean's words.

He just bought the car and gifted it to her.

"Well, sort of."

Jason closed the window and signaled Jenny to leave.

The crystal blue Bentley was about to turn at the intersection, followed by the small white Polo.

"Damn it, he's just buying a car on her behalf? Don't be so pretentious in front of me. When the Limsy Group project is over, I can also afford a car worth five million yuan!"

03:30

Sean spat at the two cars. Simon had promised to pay his father 20 million yuan for the project. According to Limsy Group's progress, the minimum profit was at least 10 million yuan. Sean's father had promised him to give him half of the money. It was just a car, and he would buy it sooner or later.

"Why didn't you say that you paid for the car? And you also admitted that you were being cared for by a rich woman?"

On the way, Jenny carefully drove the car and asked in confusion.

"If I said that I bought it, would he believe it?" Jason said grumpily.

"Er... That's true."

Jenny shook her head helplessly. Sean didn't believe that Jason had money to buy a car. With his character, even if he saw Jason pay by credit card, he would still say that Jason bought it with the money of a rich woman. So he simply followed his words and didn't want to waste time.

"However, I think that with such a person's character, I'd better go back in the afternoon to find out whether Limsy Group has broken the contract or not. If so, such a big foundation project should be handed over to a reliable company." Jenny said after consideration.

Jason nodded and said, "It's up to you."

Chapter 150

The cars drove slowly into the Jade Valley one after the other.

Jenny first parked the Bentley in Jason's garage, and then switched with Mag. She sent Mag to the gate of the neighborhood and went to work at the construction site.

They were pretty close to each other.

Since it was within walking distance, Jason asked Jenny to go over to rest if she had nothing to do.

After Jenny left, Jason turned around and rang the doorbell.

There was a moment of silence in the villa. He remembered that Lusa, who usually would open the door for him immediately, was lying in a special ward on the second floor of the hospital at this moment.

Lusa's injury was not more serious than Jason's, but because of the wound on her cheek, she had not been discharged from the hospital yet.

A wound that took up one-third of her left cheek!

The scratch was so deep that it was two cm away from the facial nerve.

At the end of the wound, the flesh was exposed and it was deemed as slight disfiguration. She was getting treatment in the special ward.

03:30

This was only the initial stage of recovery.

There was no hospital in the country which had the medical technology to eliminate scars completely. Now they could only help Lusa to treat the wound and sew it up. After the wound was completely healed, they would consider plastic surgery to solve the scar.

Sitting in the empty room, Jason felt somewhat disappointed for no reason.

At that time, when he first discovered the wound on Lusa's face, he didn't tell her the truth. He was worried that in the bad situation at that time, Lusa would be provoked and lose control of her emotions or that she would do something irreparable.

However, although Lusa was fine now, she had completely shut herself up. Except for the attending doctor, no one could see her. Even Jason had been kicked out of the ward for many times.

"She will be fine."

Jason sighed.

He believed that with Lusa's mindset, she would not be so easily defeated.

She just needed time to accept reality.

After lying at home for the whole afternoon, in the evening, Jason ordered takeout, then sent John a voice message.

"Jason, I heard that you were discharged from the hospital. I wanted to go see you, but I have to sign a contract with a union in the afternoon. I can't get away. Don't be angry."

As soon as the voice message went through, he heard John's embarrassed voice.

No one was notified when Jason got discharged, but Jenny had probably told him.

"You ran off so fast. Didn't you say that three of your ribs were broken by the foreigner? You got discharged so fast, and you're doing live broadcasts already?" Jason asked curiously.

In order to buy time for Colin, John stopped the pursuit of the two foreigners with his body and was captured back to the wooden house, where they broke his ribs. Fortunately, the Silver Bear Special Forces appeared in time, Quinn and the other man who did not show up were captured. While the other man was running away, he was shot twice by the field team and died on the spot.

As the saying goes, when you are in trouble, you see your true friends.

Because of two designer bags, Sean and Simon left Sherry and Meroy in the mountain. They ignored the dangers and drove away alone.

However, John was willing to risk his life for his roommate's escape. In contrast, it was clear how strong these relationships were.

"Haha, I'm not so free. After I got my ribs fixed, I left. Anyway, I don't need to do strenuous exercises when I do live broadcasts. Moreover, I deliberately revealed the bandage and talked about our experience at Sunset Mountain in the live broadcast..."

"Wait, did you tell the story about Sunset Mountain in the live broadcast?" Jason interrupted with a frown.

The incident at Sunset Mountain was related to the Shen family's influence and Governor Wen. Although it was not a big problem, once the rumors on the Internet started spreading, it would be a little troublesome. Jason didn't want to cause any trouble for his own biological parents.

Especially Governor Wen who just took office.

"Ah? I didn't. I just said that I met a gangster when I went on an outing. In order to buy you guys more time, I resolutely threw myself at the killer's sharp knife with my body and won the precious opportunity for the police, and then all the criminals were killed on the spot."

John added, "And I didn't mention the time and place, and they don't know I come from Nandu. My fans were more interested in what happened and the death of the criminals. Some even gave me a treasure map, saying that they wanted to express their admiration where I sacrificed myself for my brothers. Haha!"

Hearing this, Jason let out a sigh of relief and then said grumpily, "Was it a reward from a woman?"

"Hey hey, how do you know that? Her ID is Sweetie, a famous local tyrant of Bear Teeth, who has attracted a lot of popularity for me. We're also texting each other in private. She said that although my technology skills are a little lacking, my live broadcast style is interesting, and it will definitely be popular!" John said proudly.

"All right, let's get down to business. Is the 17-year-old genius ADC you told me about still doing live broadcasts? I want to see it." Jason said.

During this time in this hospital, Jason mentioned to John over texts that he was setting up an e-sports club. He asked him to find several promising players for him as backup.

After the incident at Sunset Mountain, John didn't seem to believe Jason, but after a few days of observation, he introduced a relatively reliable broadcaster to Jason.

After clicking on the link that John had sent, Jason entered a live broadcast room in which Bear Teeth was doing a game live broadcast.

In the video, a young boy was leading a fierce group battle in League of Legends.

This was a high level competition that took place at the top of the valley.

The boy was on the red team, and they were fifteen people behind the blue team.

And the limited members on the red team were basically concentrated on defeating the Enchantress.

As for the boy's battle record, it was 2-1-2, which matched the time he needed to replenish his troops.

03:30

It was 35 minutes in, and the group battle in the middle would determine the outcome of this game.

The Enchantress was hidden in the grass. Just as she was about to sneakily attack the last row, ADC had already prepared a hammer, and she was killed.

The group battle broke out.

Jason noticed that in this game, there were many well-known professional players' IDs from the enemy team.

In particular, the enemy ADC was well-known in the professional circle. He controlled the Shadow Hunter, and after he removed the biggest threat for the blue team, he quickly started reaping in profits.

"Alas, we lost this round. This Enchantress is too stupid. She didn't scan the grass beforehand. Judging from the location of the hammer, it's obvious that she has already found him, right?" John's speechless voice came from the earphone.

"Hey, what the heck?"

"What the heck?"

"What the heck!"

With a four time kill appearing on the screen, the paladins under the command of the boy flashed in the opposite direction, and they opened fire on the Shadow Hunter. Then relying on his delicate and coquettish blocking, he quickly killed 1 character, then took another four, and led two team mates to conquer the enemy's base.

"What the heck!"

In the earphone, John's shout was incredulous.

However, Jason's eyes had been staring at the boy who had not changed his facial expression from beginning to end. Then, he sent out a treasure map.

"Thank you."

The boy saw the flashing gift tip on the screen, and his voice and expression were calm.

"Gosh, this rascal is pretending to be big, isn't he? I sent him a set of treasure maps, and he just said 'thank you'? This is tens of thousands of dollars!" John whined.

He was so excited over the treasure map that a woman gave him, and he only had over a hundred fans. The people watching his live broadcast were less than seventy, even if it was a popular host, they wouldn't be so pretentious?

"Forget it, Jason, I don't think this kid can do it. He's too good at acting. Why don't I introduce you to someone else? Bear Teeth doesn't have many things, but we have many game hosts. Tell me what kind you like, and I'll pick out someone for you." John said discontentedly.

At the same time, the boy had already quit the game and entered the match of the next game.

After that, Jason did not say a word. In the game process, he casually clicked on the Treasure Map and the big rocket. 100,000 yuan was quickly sent out. The boy only thanked him when he returned to the city to buy equipment, but he was still expressionless.

Finally, before John lost his temper, Jason lit a cigarette, holding it in his mouth and quickly typed something in the main chat.

"With your skills, you're not going pro but you're going to be a little host here?"
