

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress

Chapter 1046

Chapter 1046 Jumped off the Building

Nicole took a deep breath and sent a copy of the video she had to Julie.

She then handed it over to Kai.

Kai watched it in silence. His face became even gloomier and more unsightly.

"I've handed Roman over to the police. Even the best PR team won't be able to handle the situation online now, so we can only rely on the police to clarify after investigating this matter clearly. At this time, we shouldn't even make a sound."

Nicole pursed her lips.

If they spoke up at this time, it would only increase Julie's burden.

It would not work.

The living room was silent and cold.

Suddenly, the maid outside shouted.

"Ah-Ms. Nixon jumped off the building!"

Kai suddenly rushed out like a gust of wind.

Nicole and Yvette also ran out.

Julie, who they had not seen for a day and who had not eaten anything all day, was lying on the ground with blood flowing out from her head.

This image was incredibly heartbreaking to witness.

Yvette was already crying.

Kai went over and held Julie carefully. His face was miserably white.

His eyes were desolate and filled with agony.

"Jules..."

Not far away, countless cameras flashed.

It was very obvious, but no one cared anymore.

Nicole's heart suddenly felt empty. She walked over as her heart ached.

"Quick! Send her to the hospital!"

Nicole was so flustered that her hands were shaking as she made a phone call.

She asked the maid to find the number of the private hospital from her phone, so that they could make preparations.

When they arrived at the hospital, Julie was taken into the emergency room.

Kai's eyes were red and bloodshot, which were somewhat morbid and gruesome.

He wanted to follow Julie in but was prevented from doing so.

Kai slammed his fist heavily on the wall, so much so that his fist was bleeding.

Yvette fell to the ground and bawled. "Julie Nixon! What's the big deal?! What's the big deal..."

'Why did she decide to leave us? How could she just concede defeat?!

Julie, who had survived countless adversities and who never admitted defeat, actually conceded after being scolded by netizens.

Julie's defense only brought on more scorn, as if her existence represented the darkness of the circle.

She was at fault if she lived and breathed, so she deserved to die.

A man dressed as a doctor approached and poked his head in.

"Is Ms. Nixon in there? Is she still alive?"

Nicole keenly realized that he was definitely not a doctor.

Kai's eyes widened in anger as he walked over and picked that impostor up. "Do you hope that she's alive or dead?"

The man took off his mask in surprise. "You're Kai Stanton?! Why are you here? What's your relationship with Ms. Nixon?"

Kai narrowed his eyes. A dense chill instantly enveloped him.

Nicole quickly went over to stop Kai.

"You're a reporter?"

She questioned in a cold voice.

The man nodded sheepishly.

"It's not just me. There are other reporters outside. Aren't you all going to answer these questions? If you're not answering, does that mean that you acquiesced to it?"

He asked Nicole, but his gaze was aimed at Kai.

Nicole gritted her teeth. "Fine, I'll answer. Let's go. I'll go and answer all of your questions."

She walked over and ripped off the man's doctor's coat with one hand.

Then, she dragged him by the clothes and left.

The man reluctantly followed behind. He was actually there because he wanted to get first-hand information.

After this incident, there were more security guards near the emergency room.

The entire hospital became off-limits and heavily guarded.

As soon as Nicole went out, countless cameras started flashing.

Nicole had experienced such scenes countless times, but this time, she was not as calm as usual.

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress

Chapter 1047

Chapter 1047 Arrogant Woman

"Ms. Stanton, you're good friends with Ms. Nixon. Do you have anything you want to say for her?"

"May I ask if it's the norm in this circle for lady bosses to demand sex from their male subordinates?"

"Did Ms. Nixon jump off the building in shame? Is her life in danger now?"

"Why hasn't Ms. Nixon come out to explain for so long?"

“Roman accused Ms. Nixon of deliberately setting him up. Is that true?”

“Are Ms. Nixon’s nudes real?”

Nicole took a deep breath. Her face was sullen and cold. Her voice was clear and stern.

“Everyone, today’s events are truly unfortunate. I feel that all of you should at least give the patient a chance to breathe at the hospital. You all were probably the first to see how Julie jumped off the building, but all you care about are these scandals. There’s no doubt that Roman is a drug addict. The facts will prove whether or not his words are believable.”

“Ms. Stanton, do you mean that Ms. Nixon will put out evidence?”

A reporter pursued the question.

Nicole looked at him with a clear and cold gaze.

“We have already involved the police in this. After the police investigation, everything will naturally come to light.”

“That is to say, Roman’s accusation of Ms. Nixon setting him up is fake? Then, are Ms. Nixon’s nudes real?”

The reporters were more concerned about this.

Now, many netizens claimed that the photos were not photoshopped.

If they said that the pictures were photoshopped and edited, they would be slapping themselves in the face.

Nicole’s face turned cold as she looked at the reporter who asked the question.

“Do you hope that it’s real or fake?”

Whether it was real or not, prying into a girl’s privacy and criticizing the girl on her moral turpitude before everything came to light was enough to break the girl’s heart.

The reporter was speechless for a moment.

“Everyone, I hope that you all can maintain the most basic professional ethics and stop leading the online topics at will until the police investigation is over. When my friend wakes up, I don’t wish to see even worse comments bullying her. If you all continue to make up topics at will, my team of lawyers from Stanton Corporation will be waiting for you all at any time.”

That was all Nicole said.

She coldly swept a glance at the reporters and the camera, then turned around without hesitation and went inside.

The last sentence was a blatant threat.

Compared to Julie, Nicole did not care even if someone said that she was arrogant.

That was because Nicole had the power to be so arrogant.

Those reporters did not dare to ask another question.

Nicole seemed to have answered them, yet she seemed to have answered nothing in particular.

However, they vaguely understood the meaning of Nicole's words.

Julie Nixon was Nicole's friend, so no one could bully her.

Soon, Nicole got her bodyguards to disperse all the reporters at the entrance.

The door of the emergency room finally opened.

The doctor came out and sighed.

"The patient had hypoglycemia. Her blood pressure was unstable during the treatment. Her head hit a rock when she fell, but fortunately, the fall distance was not high enough to impact the brain stem."

Everyone looked at the doctor nervously.

"Is she okay?"

Nicole's body was tense as she asked him.

The doctor nodded. "She needs to be observed tonight. If she can come to her senses, it means that nothing is wrong. Now, we'll transfer her to the intensive care unit."

As he was talking, the people behind the doctor pushed Julie out.

Her miserably pale face did not have a trace of blood. Her eyes were closed as she quietly lay on the bed and looked like a gust of wind could blow her away from this world.

Nicole felt extremely sad. She wanted to cry, but she could not cry.

'Poor Julie... Why is her life so miserable? She's been living such a tragic life since she's a child until now...? Nicole thought.

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress

Chapter 1048

Chapter 1048 Apologize to Her

After thanking the doctor, Nicole and Yvette followed.

The intensive care unit only allowed one visitor at a time.

Of course, Kai did not hesitate to get changed and went into the ICU ward.

The police were very efficient.

They only took one night to investigate. In the early hours of the next day, the latest investigation results were released.

They very carefully explained the situation with the timeline from the beginning of Roman and Julie's relationship. Roman drugged Julie and secretly photographed her naked.

Then, Roman cheated on her and became a drug addict. That was why Julie proposed a breakup.

Roman had no money, so Julie lent him some.

When Julie learned that Roman used the money to buy more drugs, she refused to lend him money again.

After Roman repeatedly failed to ask for money, he got the idea to post Julie's nudes. Thus, he made up a lie and uploaded the photos.

His purpose was just to get money.

The police's statement was very official without the slightest emotional bias.

As soon as it was posted on the internet, it set off huge waves again.

Originally, everyone was already condemning Julie Nixon, but who would have known that it was all fake after the investigation?

(What the hell? Julie Nixon is the unluckiest one here. She was cheated on and even paid her cheating ex after the breakup. Rich women looking for men will have to open their eyes!)

[This bastard Roman is really f*cking ruthless!]

(How could Roman be such a scumbag?)

(All those keyboard warriors who scolded Julie are now just playing dead, huh?)

(Julie Nixon is too soft-hearted. She broke up with Roman and was still willing to help him financially. If it was me, I'd just let him starve to death!)

(Look, Julie jumped off a building. Are y'all satisfied now? Everyone has a part in her death!)

[Roman is such an *sshole! This situation reversal is too shocking. Believe the police and apologize to Julie Nixon!]

[Apologize to Julie Nixon!]

(Apologize to Julie Nixon!)

The dramatic reversal of public opinion made everyone breathe a sigh of relief.

Soon, #ApologizeToJulieNixon became a trending topic.

Not a single person broke the flow.

Every comment was: (Apologize to Julie Nixon!)

Those who had scolded Julie began to repent here.

Soon, Roman's social media accounts were blocked, and all those pictures posted were unavailable to view.

This was probably requested by Dominic, who took advantage of the situation and approached the media platform.

With the added support of the police, the media platform would not turn a deaf ear.

Nicole and Yvette did not sleep all night and waited here.

After Yvette saw the online comments, she cried even more.

She fell into Nicole's arms and sobbed uncontrollably.

Nicole also sighed in relief and patted her shoulder.

"It's okay."

As long as Julie woke up, everything would be fine.

The most difficult time passed.

Nicole took out her phone and saw several people asking about Julie's situation.

Ian called dozens of times.

He kept asking Nicole, "Which hospital is Julie in?"

Nicole just saw it and replied to him.

Yvette's voice choked.

"Nicole, I always feel that Julie's the best among us. You rely on your family, and I rely on my mother, but she relies on herself. She just didn't think it through at that moment."

Nicole nodded.

Indeed, Julie was the strongest and the most sensible one among them.

Julie could always fight for her own goals.

Before the three of them hung out with Julie, Julie became more introverted after her family's downfall.

Nicole remembered clearly what happened after. Some people in school looked down on Nicole's superiority. Her good looks and good grades naturally made many people jealous.

While Nicole was away, someone in class was badmouthing her and tried to rope in other students to gossip about Nicole.

They then found Julie.