Chapter 2516

Lucas: "I don't have one."

"I don't regard you as a friend." Lucas looked at the long night sky in front of him, "Being friends with someone like me is not good."

"Friends are not for the benefit of the other party. I think friends can share themselves with each other. When the other party's mood is in trouble, you can do what you can. Young master, a person like you deserves to have a good friend, and a person like me deserves a good friend. I had a very good friend when I was young but later we separated."

Siena actually didn't remember very clearly the details of when she and Lilly were together when they were young, she only knew that she and Lilly were best friends.

That kind of beautiful feeling, every time Siena thought of it, she felt warm.

The car came slowly and stopped in front of them.

The two got into the car one after the other.

About twenty minutes later, the car stopped at the station in the city center.

After the two got out of the car, Siena grabbed Lucas's arm without thinking too much.

Siena: "Young Master, there are many people in the city, let's not get separated."

Lucas: "Don't you have my number?"

Siena let go immediately: "Oh, I almost forgot."

"Your brain, how do you get into University of Thopiavelle?" Lucas glanced at her, "Where did you buy the mutton pie?"

"That store is not in the urban area. It's near my rented house." Siena blushed, "You want to eat mutton pie, why didn't you say it sooner?"

"Forget it, just find a restaurant to eat!" Lucas walked aimlessly towards the front.

Siena followed his pace closely.

In the end, Siena chose a shop with a good decoration and a lot of customers.

"Young Master, let's go to this one!" Siena felt that with so many customers, the per capita consumption would definitely not be particularly high.

The two entered the store and sat down in a corner seat for two.

Siena handed the menu to Lucas and asked him to order.

“This meal is my treat.” Lucas glanced at the menu, and then spoke. Afraid that Siena would talk back, he said again, “Didn’t you say we are friends? Ask me after you pay off your debts.”

Siena frowned in confusion: “How embarrassing is that?”

“What’s so embarrassing? Don’t you want to quickly get back your mother-in-law’s bracelet?” Lucas asked back.

Siena shyly said: “Okay! Young Master, thank you! When I pay off my debts and have money, I will invite you to a better place to eat.”

Lucas: “Yes.”

After agreeing, Lucas was very happy.

Soon, the dishes were ready.

Lucas handed the menu to Siena.

Siena glanced at the dishes Lucas ordered, pursed her lips, struggled for a few seconds, and asked, “Young Master, do you have enough money? And we can’t eat so much.”

Lucas showed her the card given by his father: “I have a card.”

Siena: “...”

Siena almost forgot that Lucas was the young master of the Hogan family.

.....

Aryadelle.

Foster family.

Ever since Layla came back and told Avery that Eric was about to quit the circle, and was about to announce his withdrawal at the last concert, Avery decided to go to Eric's last concert at that time.

Elliot usually didn't like to go to crowded places, let alone a concert where a lot of people gather.
