Chapter 3817

Gordon Moreno and the others did not want this to happen. They were still screaming at Harvey York moments before but already bowing in the next second.

There was no other choice. Their bosses had already made the call.

Since three out of four great directors of the World Martial Arts Alliance agreed to the condition, what else could the representatives even do?

Colton Torres was completely frozen.

Dane Benett and the others were shocked as well.

At this point, they could not even believe what was happening before their eyes.

"I oppose this! Country H's Martial Arts Alliance cannot be allowed to be one of the great directors!" bellowed Clyde furiously.

"We know what we're capable of! Country H's Martial Arts Alliance isn't suited for that!"

"Not only are you pushing us to go against the Far East and South Sea regions..."

"You're trying to kill Country H's Martial Arts Alliance here!"

"I'll never agree to this!"

Then, Clyde coldly glared at Emilio Garcia and Haru Miyamoto.

His intention was clear. He wanted the two to stand with him as well.

After all, he knew that his conditions and reasons were not justifiable at all.

Emilio and Haru simultaneously looked away, desperately trying to escape the subject.

"You're just a half-blood, Prince Osborne. What right do you have to talk about Country H's Martial Arts Alliance like this?"

Harvey glanced at Clyde calmly.

"Are you even worthy?"

"You b*stard! I'll never allow this!"

Clyde pointed toward Harvey's nose.

"Talk! What sort of heinous things did you do to let the four great directors agree to this?!"

"How much of the country's interests did you sell out for this to happen?!"

"The country will not pay such a huge price just for a simple victory!"

Naturally, Clyde was already going a little out of control.

He desperately tried to blame Harvey for whatever reason he could think of.

He knew if Country H's Martial Arts Alliance were to rise to power, Harvey's efforts would be immensely appreciated.

How could Clyde even take his revenge against him after that?

How could he possibly take him out?

"Enough! Shut up already, Prince Osborne!"

Gordon stepped forward before he swung the back of his palm across Clyde's face.

"Let me tell you something! Country H's Martial Arts Alliance being one of the great directors is already set in stone!"

"Country H has five thousand years worth of history! They've also won their fight against India this time!"

"If they're not appointed after that, how would that even be fair?!"

"Besides, you're just an outsider! You're not a part of the four great Martial Arts Alliance, nor are you from Country H's Martial Arts Alliance! What's the point of you opposing anybody here?!"

"Step aside!"

Harvey curiously watched the sight.

Because of his phone call, the Empire of the Sun that Never Sets had constantly been putting pressure, causing the four great Martial Arts Alliances to crumble.

The Far East and South Sea Martial Arts Alliances had no choice but to carry out the four great directors' commands.

India and the Island Nations' Martial Arts Alliances felt utterly resentful, but they would not even dare speak up about it.

Clyde was the only one left jumping around like a clown. It was a spectacular sight.

Chapter 3818

The others became extremely sluggish after hearing those words.

Nobody expected that Clyde Osborne, who seemed like the instigator, would be slapped around by Gordon Moreno.

'What exactly happened here...?'

"How dare you touch me, you b*stard...?"

Clyde wanted to kill off Gordon, but he managed to hold back.

He could take out someone like Gordon in a heartbeat...

But he was being supported by the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance. Clyde also could not afford to go against them.

"What? Do you think you're impressive just because we call you 'Prince'?"

"Do you want to come at me right now?!"

Gordon disdainfully pushed Clyde aside.

"You're useless! All you can do is run your mouth!"

"Let me tell you something! No matter how hard the decision is or how many people are against us, the Far East and South Sea Martial Arts Alliance will stand with Country H!"

"We'll get our members to sign the contract to nominate Country H's Martial Arts Alliance as the fifth great director!"

While Clyde gritted his teeth, Gordon strode toward Colton Torres and said, "Leader Torres! We'll have to congratulate you first!"

"The South Sea Martial Arts Alliance will follow your lead now!"

"Congratulations, Leader Torres! The Far East will now be under your command!"

"Thank you, representatives."

Colton did not know how things turned out this way. He was showing a bright smile at this moment.

"I'm honored that Country H's Martial Arts Alliance is able to become one of the five great directors. Don't worry. We'll also consider the Far East and South Sea's interests in the future!"

Bam!

Clyde slammed his hand on the table when he saw the sight, snapping it in half.

"The table's made out of yellow flower pear wood. It costs fifteen million dollars."

"Just you wait, Harvey..."

Clyde trembled before he wrote down a check while gritting his teeth before leaving the place.

Emilio Garcia and Haru Miyamoto looked at each other before following Clyde out of the room.

"What just happened?! Tell me!"

When the three came to their parked van, Clyde kicked a small table aside.

Emilio momentarily hesitated before he replied, "The Chief Instructor himself called the Empire of the Sun that Never Sets yesterday.

"He said that he knew this would happen.

"He didn't ask for anything, but the Empire held an urgent meeting after they got spooked by the call.

"That was how it all happened.

"Prince Osborne! Since the Chief Instructor knows about this, we have no chance against Harvey!

"We need to stop this!"

"The Chief Instructor?!"

Clyde came to his senses after hearing that name.

"That b*stard! No wonder he's acting so high and mighty today! He's being supported by such a prominent figure?! 1

"Why would the Chief Instructor be interested in that small fry, though?!"

"When all this blows over, I want to see how Harvey will die!"

Clyde thought that Harvey was actually impressive enough to get ahold of the four great Martial Arts Alliances' secrets while forcing the Empire of the Sun that Never Sets to get Country H into position.

'The Chief Instructor was behind all this, after all!

'At the end of the day, Harvey's still just filth!'

Chapter 3819

On the next three days, Harvey York had to deal with Country H's Martial Arts Alliance's matters along with Colton Torres.

Along with the Far East and South Sea Martial Arts Alliances' sending their recommendations ... Country H's Martial Arts Alliance had successfully become one of the great directors.

Other than that, not only did the attacks toward Country H citizens from abroad stop, they were all fully compensated for the damages.

After dealing with the matter, Harvey told Rachel Hardy and the others to stay in Flutwell and cooperate with Mandy Zimmer to run the Hearthstone Corporation.

As for the Martial Hall, Elanor Stanton and Layne Naiswell would be in charge.

With the two together, they would have both connections and the strength to do anything.

Martial Hall's development would naturally be on track, along with the Torres family supporting them.

After that, Harvey told Rachel to buy him a plane ticket before he went off.

Dean Cobb's injuries were still untreated after his fight against Julio Garcia.

From a certain standpoint, Harvey was also responsible for his injuries.

That was why Harvey would not just sit back after making some free time for himself. He was planning to head to Blackburn City as soon as he could.

After getting to the airport, Harvey received a call. It was from Mandy.

After hesitating for a moment, Harvey picked up the call.

"I heard your subordinates say you're heading to Blackburn City..."

"I'll be back after a few days," replied Harvey quietly after hesitating momentarily.

"What's the matter?"

"A senior of mine got hurt.

"As his junior, I need to go take a look."

Mandy was dead silent for a while.

"Do you remember what we talked about before?"

Before Harvey could even say anything, she continued speaking.

"I won't be staying in Flutwell after dealing with the matters here. I'll be heading to Golden Sands after this.

"If you still haven't changed your mind by then, come find me there.

"Safe travels..."

Mandy hesitantly hung up the phone.

Harvey showed a faint smile when he heard the busy tone.

It was rare for Mandy to show her caring and jealous side.

Right when Harvey was about to put his phone back, another call came through.

The call came from overseas. The string of numbers was beautiful.

After picking up the call, Katy Cobb's anxious voice could be heard.

"This is bad, Sir York! My grandfather's condition is getting worse...

"Please save him!"

"Slow down. What happened exactly?" asked Harvey with a stern look on his face.

"He was still barely conscious before. He could talk for a bit and eat porridge on his own...

"But he coughed up a lot of blood just now! When the doctor we hired was about to stick needles in him, his skin was so hard he couldn't even do that!

"At this point, my grandfather might just not make it..."

"Skin as hard as metal, and coughing up dark blood. He's going berserk..." said Harvey quickly after changing expressions.

"Get a bucket of ice water and soak your grandfather in there. Add more ice every half an hour.

"My plane's almost here. I'll be in Blackburn City soon."

After giving a few more instructions, Harvey hung up the call before heaving a huge sigh.

He was glad he managed to deal with the four great Martial Arts Alliance relatively quickly.

If not, he would not be able to get time to visit Dean.

Chapter 3820

After the phone call with Katy Cobb, Harvey York gave Queenie York and Yoana Mendoza a call.

He was going to Blackburn City so he could help Dean Cobb. Katy would definitely arrange everything for him properly...

But it was still better to prepare for the worst, just in case. After all, Blackburn City was outside the borders.

Harvey called Queenie and Yoana since Hong Kong and Las Vegas were enclaves of Country H in the South Sea region. It would be easier to send more men to Blackburn City than compared to Mordu and Buckwood.

Then, Harvey walked up the VIP passageway before boarding the plane.

He rested his eyes for about ten hours before the plane landed.

When he opened his eyes again, he could already feel the warmth and calm breeze of the South Sea

It was already around nine o'clock in the morning. The plane was about to land in Blackburn City.

The passengers started to collect their belongings.

Harvey did not bring a lot with him, though. Then, he wanted to freshen up himself in the restroom.

After all, he would at least need to look presentable to meet up with Katy after a long while.

When Harvey went back to the VIP cabin, a man with a musky smell walked past him before moving his hand around Harvey's luggage without looking back.

"Wait.

Harvey immediately pulled the person back.

"Give it back!"

The man was swift, but Harvey could still tell that he had snatched the wallet from his luggage.

Mobile payment was popular these days, but people from the South Sea were still used to making payments in cash.

That was why Harvey carried some with him.

He did not expect that someone would already do such a thing before the plane even landed, though.

"What are you doing?!" exclaimed the man.

He wanted to break free, but he never managed to do so.

"Give it back," demanded Harvey.

"You're not from the South Sea?"

After hearing Harvey's accent and sizing him up, the man let out a cold scoff.

'Let me tell you something, kid! This isn't Country H! This is the South Sea!

'How dare you provoke us in our own turf?! Do you understand what you're trying to do here?!

'Nobody will even stand up for you if I take you out right now!

'I suggest you get out of here as far away as you can!"

A lot of passengers gathered to the sound of the conflict.

Some people were frowning when they looked into Harvey's eyes. Since the flight made a transfer from Hong Kong, most of the people on the plane were from the South Sea.

After seeing a man from Country H do this to their own people, the passengers were filled with utter disdain.

'I'm telling you this one more time. Give me back my wallet," replied Harvey calmly.

"Screw you!"

"Why would mighty people from the South Sea like us even steal your wallet?!"

"Let me tell you something! We're all honest and righteous people here!"

"If you keep running your mouth like that, you'll have to pay the price of law!"

"Even if I did take your damn wallet..."

"You have no choice but to treat it as a welcoming gift for me! Do you understand me?!"

The man showed a prideful look on his face, as if he was the king of the world.

Harvey let out a sigh before he swung his palm across the man's face.

Slap! 1

"Aaagh!"

Along with the screams of pain, the man was sent flying before he slammed into the edge of the cabin. He could not even stand back up as he covered his face at that moment.

The crowd was completely shocked.

'How dare a man from Country H even do this to a man from the South Sea?'

'He's lawless!'

"Looks like you're a tourist here, young man..."

"Don't you know that peace is the most important thing when you're in a foreign country?"

"Don't you know that you people need to pay your respects to the people here? We won't make it any harder on you if you just pay a small tip when you're coming and leaving here!"

"It sure looks like you're standing up for yourself, but you're actually dooming every single citizen of Country H!"

"No matter what reason you have, you're committing a crime for assaulting someone in South Sea's airspace!"

"Apologize! Apologize this instance!"

A few men in suits started yelling at Harvey while pointing at his nose.

A few women quickly lifted the man on the floor with pitiful looks on their faces.

At the same time, they were glaring at Harvey angrily.

'How dare this man even lay his hands on a mighty citizen of the South Sea?!'

'Doesn't he know that everyone from Country H is despised by the citizens here?!'

'How dare he hit someone now?! He must have a death wish or something!'

"He stole my wallet before he started acting all high and mighty in front of me. How am I in the wrong for hitting him?" reasoned Harvey calmly.

A bald man in a suit coldly chuckled.

"We didn't see that happen, but we did see you slapping that man aside! You're completely lawless!"

A beautiful woman scoffed.

"Don't you know just how rich and powerful the South Sea actually is?! You rich people from Country H just love taking vacations here!"

"Do you really think a country like this has thieves?"

"You must be too used to your own country, kid! You don't even know what the outside world looks like!" exclaimed the others disdainfully.

"You should know that your authority and influence in Country H has no damn use whatsoever in the South Sea!"

"Don't think you're on the same level as us just because you're sitting in the VIP cabin!"

"In our eyes, citizens of Country H are just trash!"

"You stupid people are just funneling money right into our country!"

"Bunch of idiots!"

Harvey shook his head. He could not stand the ignorant people flaunting their nationality.

He calmly pushed the crowd aside before grabbing his wallet from the man's pocket.

At the same time, he opened up his wallet and found his credentials.

Any sane person could tell that the man was clearly a thief!

The crowd froze instantly.

The citizens of the South Sea felt extremely awkward. Their faces were all bright red at this time.

"So what?!" exclaimed a beautiful woman.

"Even if we took something from you by mistake, you should feel honored!"

"Besides, the South Sea is different compared to Country H! We're in a law-abiding society!"

"Even if our people were to do something wrong, you still shouldn't just hit someone like that!"

"You think a country bumpkin like you can do whatever you please here?!"

"Let me tell you something! You should apologize to this man right here, or you won't hear the end of this!"

A group of people started to distort the truth while blatantly insulting Harvey.

The thief also let out a cold scoff as he looked at Harvey.

Naturally, similar incidents had already happened quite a few times.

He would always be at an advantage in the South Sea.

This was his only reason for being this arrogant.

Chapter 3822

"Do you want me to apologize to this clown? Are you kidding me?"

Harvey York glared derisively at the crowd.

"How dare you?!"

A woman with exquisite makeup walked out before glaring at Harvey with a bossy look.

"Not only did you assault this man, you even insulted us noble people from the South Sea!

"If you don't give us a fair statement right now, you'll be in big trouble!"

"Do you want a statement?"

Harvey showed an indifferent expression.

"Who do you think you are? You think you can just ask for a statement / this?"

"You didn't give your wallet to us noble people! You beat up one of our people and slandered everyone here! You're obviously in big trouble right now!ong

The beautiful woman took a step forward with a furious expression.

"Kneel and apologize!"

Harvey squinted at the woman before coldly exclaiming, "And what if I refuse?"

"Refuse?"

GR

"If you refuse, we'll get you locked up by the airport police for three whole days! You won't even get a chance to get inside South Sea!

"This is what you get if you go against us!"

The woman stepped forward dominantly while squinting, as if she was a proud little peacock.

GHY

"Let me tell you something! Even if you sit in the VIP cabin appropriately dressed, you're still nothing in my eyes!

"I'm counting to three! If you don't kneel after that, I'll slap you to death myself! "I'm counting to three! If you don't kneel after

"One! Two! Three!"

When the woman saw Harvey standing still after the countdown, she furiously walked forward before swinging her palm toward Harvey's face.

A few people who saw the sight immediately rolled their sleeves up, wanting to teach Harvey a lesson.

Harvey did not hold back at all. He instantly sent the incoming people flying before they slammed into the wall.

The others were completely sluggish when they saw the sight.

They were already used to their own people flaunting their strength and taking advantage of others...

But it was their first time seeing such a ruthless man like Harvey. They had no idea what to do against him at this moment.

Slap!

Harvey took a step forward before he kicked the thief aside.

"Who's going to tell me that I'm in trouble now?"

"You're finished, you b*stard! You're done for!" exclaimed a few people while covering their faces.

"We're calling the cops! You'll be stuck behind bars for the rest of your life!"

"You'll also pay a hefty price for this!"

"You'll regret everything because of this!"

Slap!

Harvey slapped the person who spoke up before showing a calm smile.

"I'm sorry, according to international airspace laws, we're still in Country H territory before the plane lands.

"We have the right to decide what happens in our land.

"The laws of your country don't apply here.

"Seems like there's no need for me to pay the price, after all."

Harvey calmly pulled out some tissue before he started wiping his fingers.

A few people gritted their teeth with horrible expressions. They knew that Harvey was telling the truth.

Even if they were to report the incident to the police later, their laws would not be applicable toward Harvey, 2

Chapter 3823

Half an hour later, the plane safely landed at the Blackburn City International Airport.

Harvey York and the others seated in first-class seats got out of the plane as soon as possible. There was also a shuttle bus assigned to pick up the people.

The people who were slapped around by Harvey instantly got on the shuttle bus. The thief took out his phone and fearlessly took a few pictures of Harvey before coldly chuckling.

Ten minutes later, the shuttle bus came to the immigration checkpoint outside the waiting hall.

"You! Stop right there!"

Hundreds of passengers were being inspected before they were let go...

But when it was Harvey's turn, a person in uniform instantly stopped him.

She sized up Harvey with a judgmental gaze before showing utter disdain.

Not far away, the thief cracked a cold smirk.

According to international airspace laws, the South Sea had no right to pursue Harvey for what happened in the air...

But they did have ways to deal with him anyway.

A few towering security guards called Harvey to the quarantine area to be re-inspected.

Harvey seemed indifferent when many passengers showed him cold smirks while running their thumbs across their throats.

They obviously knew that Harvey was inspected because of what had happened on the plane before.

'How dare he still act all high and mighty in another country? Serves him right!'

"Unlock your phone. We need to see if there's any prohibited content."

A few security guards completely tore up Harvey's luggage while they searched his body before asking for his phone.

Harvey looked curious when he saw the woman in front with similar features to the thief before.

"You need to give us your phone password, or we'll have to send you back to your country!" exclaimed the security guard after seeing Harvey refusing to unlock his phone while showing a calm look.

Harvey glanced at the security guard's chest before he saw a nametag labeled 'Daphne Lee'.

"You want me to give me my phone password?"

"Or else you'll deport me?"

Harvey calmly let out a chuckle.

"I'm afraid you don't have the right to that.

"I suggest you call the person with the highest authority here before you regret it."

Harvey casually pulled a chair before he calmly sat down.

Daphne and the others frowned before they disdainfully glared at Harvey.

'Where did this country bumpkin even get the courage from?'

'He wants us to call the person with the highest authority here?'

'Who does he think he is?'

The security guards had seen many so-called tycoons from Country H showing off in the South Sea, but they had no choice but to behave after a good beating anyway.

They believed the man before them was too used to that rundown place to the point where he was this ignorant.

Daphne coldly chuckled.

"Harvey, right?"

"I don't care who you are.

"I also don't care what identity you have.

"But let me tell you something! The tricks you pull in Country H are completely useless here!

"Just tell me if you want anything! I can call the shots!" 1

Chapter 3824

Another woman let out a cold chuckle.

"Don't you dare say you're the young master of some big company or the son of some first-in-command.

"Titles like that are completely useless here!

"Let me warn you something! You better cooperate and give us your password already!

"We need to inspect your phone for prohibited documents!

"If not, we'll lock you up for forty-eight hours before deporting you back!

"We're not responsible for what happens during that period!"

After hearing those words, the other workers and security guards were showing playful looks.

Naturally, they had already threatened many so-called young masters and princes with the same trick.

No matter how much of a show-off they were, they had no choice but to give in.

Some even offered the security guards their cash, watches, and jewelry away without hesitation.

If that were not the case, they would have been sent to the airport police.

"Fine. Since you want to be in charge, I'll give you a chance," said Harvey calmly.

"Give me your phone. I'm going to call someone."

"Oh? Are you calling for help?"

"How impressive!"

Daphne scoffed.

"Which prominent figure from Wolsing do you think you can call right now?"

"Let me tell you something! Even the Big Boss himself won't be able to help you!"

The workers and security guards burst out laughing after hearing those words.

The people who chimed in to watch the show felt extremely prideful when they showed playful and disdainful expressions in front of Harvey.

Safe to say that in their eyes, Harvey meant nothing to them anyway!

Daphne threw Harvey a phone with a playful look on her face.

"Here! Call someone!"

"If the person can actually get you out of the situation, we'll kneel and call you 'Daddy'!"

The crowd started laughing louder. They wanted to see how Harvey was planning to continue showing off.

After thinking about the situation for a moment, Harvey called a number from the South Sea before turning on the speaker.

Soon after, a busy tone was heard.

"Hello, the number you called is not recognized..."

Daphne and the others stood frozen before they burst out laughing.

'He's using an unrecognized number to show off?'

'What a joke!'

Harvey froze before adding two numbers representing the country's call code and made the call again.

A respectful tone could be heard on the other side of the phone.

"What orders do you have for me, Sir York?"

The person was none other than the representative of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance, Gordon Moreno himself.

After being disrespected by Harvey in Flutwell, he felt extremely fearful when he got his call. He figured the ruthless demon was about to demand something out of hand again.

"It's nothing. I just arrived at Blackburn City for business but got stopped at the airport.

"I'd like you to do me a little favor..."

"Or I won't be able to leave this place alive!"

After hearing Harvey's playful tone, Gordon wanted to slam his head to the ground so badly.

He did not know why Harvey wanted to go to Blackburn City, but he knew it would be terrible if the people at the airport were to go against him.

"Give me three minutes. I'll handle this," exclaimed Gordon decisively. 2

Chapter 3825

Harvey York calmly hung up the phone before putting three fingers up in front of Daphne Lee, telling her he only needed three minutes.

"Three minutes?"

Daphne scoffed after seeing Harvey's movements.

"Do you think you can show off just because you have someone putting up a show with you?!"

"It's useless!"

"We've seen country bumpkins like you before! We won't be tricked by such lame party tricks!"

"If you're that confident, we should just wait it out," replied Harvey calmly.

"Fine! I'll wait!"

"If you can't get out of the situation by then, I'll deal with you myself!"

Daphne crossed her hands while looking at Harvey with her nose.

Harvey casually played with his phone when he saw news of Country H's Martial Arts Alliance being the new great director of the World Martial Arts Alliance.

Three minutes had passed, but nothing had changed.

Daphne showed a disdainful look when she looked at her Cartier watch, that no one knew where she got it from.

"Time's up, country bumpkin. You're out of luck.

"Let me tell you something! I'll send you to the airport police right now! I'll teach you a lesson you'll never forget..."

Frantic footsteps could be heard from afar.

A middle-aged man in a suit with a pot belly jogged over while he kept panting.

Dozens of people who seemed like higher-ups followed behind him with anxious expressions on their faces.

Daphne froze before she stepped forward with a warm smile.

"CEO Lee! What brings you here?"

"Is there something wrong?"

The man completely ignored Daphne before he looked around the place. When he saw Harvey calmly sitting on his chair, he quickly ran over before he put his hands to the side.

"You must be Sir York!"

Harvey nodded.

CEO Lee saw the messy luggage and Harvey's faint smile before cold sweats started dripping down his back.

After remembering that a higher-up of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance called, his mouth just could not stop twitching.

"Please forgive my subordinates for acting so recklessly!"

Daphne and the others twitched their eyes. They were filled with utter disbelief at this moment.

They did not expect the airport's CEO to be this respectful toward the country bumpkin when they could not even get close to the CEO in the first place!

CEO Lee belonged to one of the South Sea's three great families!

Why would someone with such immense background even be scared of a man from Country H?

Not only was CEO Lee extremely respectful, but he also seemed quite terrified of Harvey!

'Who is this man exactly?

'Did his call really make such a huge difference?

'He only needed three minutes to deal with this?!'

Without a second thought, Daphne and the others were frantically twitching their eyes.

"Reckless?"

"You want me to forgive them?" said Harvey calmly while playing with his phone.

"Country H and the South Sea are allies.

"I'm pretty sure you've generated at least a billion dollars a year from Country H just from your tourist revenue, right?"

"Yet this is how you treat us?"

"If it weren't for me having connections, you would've already trampled all over me, wouldn't you?"

Chapter 3826

CEO Lee's face darkened in an instant the moment he heard Harvey's words.

When Harvey was done, he quickly replied with a respectful bow, "Don't worry, Sir York."

"I'll give you a fair statement about this."

"From today onward, I'll make sure that any person from Country H will never be treated unfairly!"

Before Harvey could say anything, CEO Lee immediately started swinging his palm around.

His movements were ruthless yet accurate, slapping Daphne and the others around till their faces were completely swollen.

Bam!

CEO Lee then kicked Daphne to the ground, stomping on her exquisite face right after.

Daphne's nose snapped in half; blood smeared her now hideous face. It was a miserable sight.

CEO Lee turned around and looked at Harvey respectfully.

"Sir York! Is this enough for you?" 1

"No."

Harvey smiled, as calm as always.

"How are you going to deal with the thief using Blackburn City's law?"

"I understand."

CEO Lee nodded and waved his hand; many tall strong security guards immediately rushed toward the thief.

Under the crowd's shocked gaze, Harvey calmly packed his belongings before leaving the place.

Ten minutes later, Harvey arrived at the airport's exit.

He looked around the place, but he wouldn't find Katy anywhere. Rather, a Porsche 718 was parked in the waiting area.

The driver was a young woman with a slender body and a beautiful face; she was wearing a pair of Chanel sunglasses while holding a sign that had Harvey's name on it.

Her looks and actions were extremely eye-catching; everyone around was completely attracted by the sight.

A lot of men wanted to talk to her, but they couldn't handle her dominant aura.

After seeing the woman, Harvey took out his phone and saw a text.

Katy told him that she needed to take care of her grandfather Dean and couldn't leave his side. Thus, she had asked her good friend to pick Harvey up.

Harvey sighed before approaching the woman.

"Ellen Moreno?"

Ellen raised her head and frowned before sizing up Harvey.

"Are you Harvey York?" she asked in a South Sea accent.

"Are you the person Katy asked to come?" he asked.

"I heard you can save her grandfather," she said.

"That's me," Harvey said, nodding.

"You just got here?"

"Do you know how long I've been waiting for you?"

Ellen glared at Harvey, peeved.

"My time is precious!"

She was a woman with high standards; she would naturally feel a little angry after waiting for a man for so long the entire morning.

Harvey flashed her an apologetic smile.

"I'm sorry for disturbing your rest."

After seeing how polite Harvey was, Ellen froze for a brief while. Then, she smiled faintly. She thought Harvey was quite different compared to most men in the South Sea.

"Forget it. It's nothing much, anyway."

"I'm Katy's friend. Her problems are my problems. I'm only here to fetch you, anyway."

"Get in! I'll take you to her. Hopefully, you'll be able to get her grandfather back to normal."

Ellen opened the door and gestured for Harvey to get inside. The car zoomed out of the airport at lightning speed, heading toward Blackburn City's downtown area.

Half an hour later, it stopped in front of a villa with a distinct South Sea feel.

Chapter 3827

Security guards with loaded firearms were patrolling every single entrance.

After Ellen made a few phone calls, the guards raised the lever for the car to head inside.

The car arrived at the entrance of the main building. Katy had been waiting there for a while.

Katy walked forward with a smile on her face after the car was parked.

"Thank you for coming all this way, Sir York."

"I'm sorry I had to call you here like this."

Katy already knew about the four great Martial Arts Alliances pressuring Country H, along with all of Harvey's efforts. She was filled with gratitude when Harvey came all the way here as soon as he could.

Harvey smiled.

"It's no big deal, Head Cobb. We're friends. No need to be this courteous."

"Enough with the formalities."

"Didn't Elder Cobb's condition get worse? Let me go take a look."

Katy frowned when Harvey mentioned the situation.

"To be honest with you, I invited a lot of famous families here for my grandfather."

"Martial artists, well-known doctors, and people who are well-versed in witchcraft."

"But right now, nobody managed to figure out a way to bring my grandfather back to normal."

"You're my only hope."

Harvey nodded before walking inside.

Ellen looked at Harvey oddly; she didn't believe that Harvey had anything remarkable to offer.

That said, she just pouted before heading inside the main hall with Katy.

"I tested Elder Cobb's blood when he vomited; there were no toxins inside."

"But judging from his physique, not only did the fracture on his scapula heal in time, it got even worse all of a sudden. This is pretty troublesome!"

"More importantly, Elder Cobb is also a God of War. He's a strong man!"

"We can't use any needles on him, and we can't use any medicine either! This is really bad..."

Katy brought Harvey into the main hall before the surroundings lit up.

A tea set made out of Agarwood was placed in the hall, along with a lot of high-end medical equipment.

A projector was placed on the wall as well.

Many medical experts and martial artists were all sitting in their chairs.

Within the crowd, a few people who were as white as snow and dressed in peculiar outfits could be seen; they were the mysterious sorcerers from the South Sea.

These people all gathered together to investigate Dean's crisis.

Their conversations weren't as intense, but they all had stern looks on their faces.

Everyone started frowning; it was clear they couldn't do anything about Dean's condition.

Bodyguards and maids surrounded the main hall, silently providing the doctors and experts with everything they needed.

Harvey looked around him before spotting a young man in his twenties.

The man was wearing a white t-shirt; he was standing still while he crossed his arms, but his aura alone was enough to attract everyone's attention.

He had a handsome face and a sense of superiority. For some reason, Harvey felt like he had seen the man before.

Katy and Harvey's arrival instantly got everyone's attention.

The man in the white t-shirt's eyes lit up; he stared at Katy with a burning passion.

Chapter 3828

"Miss Cobb!"

The man in a white t-shirt went forward to greet Katy, and nodded at Ellen.

There was a slight fluctuation in his eyes when he shifted his gaze toward Harvey.

"Thank you, Young Master Padlow. Thank you, everyone."

Katy nodded at the crowd before turning to the man in the white t-shirt.

"This is the protege of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance, Gael Padlow."

"He's pretty powerful and has a strong background as well."

Harvey nodded, not saying much. He looked back at Ellen; her face was bright red and she seemed quite anxious.

After looking at Ellen, then at Katy and Gael, Harvey smiled faintly.

He had figured something out.

But before he could dwell on the thoughts, Katy took a deep breath and said, "Thank you all for putting all your strength into my grandfather's condition for the past few days."

"That said, he still hasn't gotten any better. Rather, he's in worse shape than before."

"I'm not blaming anyone for this, but I think the attempts should stop here."

"Go back home and have some rest. The Cobb family will compensate you for your efforts.”

Katy covered her mouth and whispered, “My grandfather’s in the backyard, Sir York. I’ll take you to him right now.”

Harvey looked at the projector before nodding; he followed behind Katy soon after.

“Please wait, Ms. Cobb!”

Gael immediately stepped in front of the two.

The crowd looked over at the sight.

Ellen had an odd look as well; she was glaring at Harvey with a judgmental look, as if she knew that something was up.

Gael smiled.

“I heard you said you were planning to fetch an important person. If I guess correctly, this young man must be him.”

“You just brought him here, yet you’re already dying for him to see Elder Cobb. This isn’t appropriate, is it?”

“He looks like he’s from Country H, too.”

“I know that country has five thousand years worth of history. I know that the people there are quite talented, too.”

“But you of all people should know how your grandfather is doing right now.”

“He’s on his last breath! He cannot accept any more useless treatments!”

“We can’t keep putting in useless effort!”

"If you let this young man treat Elder Cobb, he might just come out in a worse state than before!"

"He might even die because of this!"

"Please listen to me. You need to think this through!"

Gael had a sincere look on his face. Then, he glared disdainfully at Harvey.

"Are you from one of Country H's sacred martial arts training grounds, or one of the four cornerstones?"

"Maybe you're from a family of talented martial artists?"

"Tell us! If you don't, how are we going to know if you have the talent to treat Elder Cobb's condition?"

Gael came all the way here to treat Dean so he could win the heart of the woman he loved.

Even though Katy was being extremely respectful, she still didn't ask Gael to save her grandfather. Rather, she got Harvey all the way here to do just that.

Gael was completely infuriated because of this. 1

Chapter 3875

The crowd went dead silent.

"This tourist is a little too cocky!"

*Inspector Miller already gave up, but he's still trying to exploit him! This is just awful!"

Inspector Miller stumbled off the ground. He could not tell just how powerful Harvey York actually was when he looked into his eyes again.

He was boiling with anger.

"Don't you dare cross the line, kid..." exclaimed Inspector Miller resentfully.

Slap!

Harvey swung the back of his palm across Inspector Miller's face.

"You should know when to admit to your faults."

"How do you not understand such a simple concept?"

Inspector Miller clenched his fist while he gritted his teeth. He wanted to gun Harvey down then and there but could not muster the strength to do that.

"I'm sorry!"

Naturally, he was not afraid of Harvey. He was actually afraid of Inspector Failes.

He would not dare go against Harvey since that was the case.

After hearing the apology, Harvey stepped forward before patting Inspector Miller's face.

"Leave!"

Inspector Miller stumbled his way out of the place with the rest of the inspectors. They were clearly showing gloomy looks on their faces while they were leaving.

The crowd became instantly sluggish. They never expected Harvey and the others would actually have this much power.

Not only did they chase Inspector Miller away, but Harvey also managed to get a few slaps in before that.

"Looks like I'm underestimating you. I didn't think you'd have such an impressive background....."

"But no matter how strong you actually are, no matter who's supporting you behind your back...."

"Our support is a hundred times stronger than yours!

"You're dead for going against me!"

"Is that so? Aren't you scared of me crushing down the hospital with a single phone call?" replied Harvey.

"You want to crush the hospital down?! You talk big. I'll give you that!

A disdainful voice could be heard at this very moment.

"And who even are you?"

"Young Master Padlow!"

Nellie Padlow's expression was instantly relieved after hearing those words before turning around to see a group of people behind her.

"Perfect timing, Young Master Padlow! This kid's been causing trouble here the entire time! Not only did he hurt our people, he even smashed up the entire hospital! You need to help us!"

A handsome-looking young man with a personable attitude walked out with an entourage of a dozen people.

Rayne Bell and the others screamed in unison when they saw the man's face.

"Young Master Padlow!"

The young man caressed Rayne before squinting at the sight before him.

"This is Gael Padlow, kid!

"He's from the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance!

"You wouldn't dare go against him!

Nellie was filled with courage when her support came. She was pridefully pointing at Harvey without any hesitation at that moment.

"Young Master Padlow is the shareholder of the hospital and also my dear brother. If you go against Young Master Padlow, you're also going against the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance!

"What right do you have to go against the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance?!"

"They won't talk to you about rhyme or reason either..."

"So, kneel already!"

Nellie's arrogant attitude was fully showing.

Rayne and the others raised their heads. They finally felt relieved when someone stepped up for them.

After all, they believed that no matter how powerful and influential Harvey was, he would have to kneel to the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance.

Even the government of Blackburn City would have no choice but to pay respects to the organization.

'Harvey's just an outsider. What right does he have to show off in front of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance?'

Chapter 3876

"Gael Padlow?"

Harvey York calmly smiled at Nellie Padlow

"He's your major shareholder and your biggest support?"

"That's right. Are you scared already?"

"You better kneel and lick my shoe clean right now!"

"Let me break your leg, and you ante up 1.5 million. Only then I'll consider asking Young Master Padlow to let you live!"

"If not, every single one of you will get it!"

Nellie showed a disdainful look. She thought Harvey was completely inferior compared to Young Master Padlow and the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance.

"Sir York, Young Master Padlow is a top talent of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance. His father is the vice leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance. He's a bit troublesome to deal with."

Harvey merely nodded with a smile on his face.

"No matter. They're just clowns anyway."

"Just clowns?"

Nellie let out a cold scoff after hearing Harvey's words.

"Who gave you the courage to say something like that?"

"Do you know who we are?"

"This is the daughter of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance's vice leader.

"This is the top talent of the organization.

"And this is the exchange student the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance sent.

"Not only are we extremely skilled fighters, but our authority is also immense!"

"How dare a small fry like you call us clowns?"

The group of people stepped forward when they disdainfully glared at Harvey with cold smirks.

"You messed up big time, kid! You'd still pay a huge price even if you don't die from this!"

Naturally, those people were already planning to do whatever they pleased to Harvey and the others like fish on the chopping block.

A few beautiful women were disdainfully looking at Harvey, thinking he was an ignorant man with a death wish for provoking the prominent figures.

Even before Harvey could even say anything, Young Master Padlow stepped forward before he showed a playful smile.

He sized up Harvey before he tapped his head. He naturally knew who Harvey was.

"I was wondering who it was..."

"You're Harvey York!"

Nellie was about to continue insulting Harvey before she froze.

"You know this man, Young Master Padlow?" asked Nellie instinctively.

"Of course I do! Why wouldn't I?"

Gael showed a faint smile.

"Ms. Cobb invited this expert martial artist all the way from Country HI

"Not only is he extremely skilled, but his identity is also quite immense! Ordinary people have no right to even challenge his authority!"

"Director Padlow, for the sake of my relationship with Sir York, why don't you let me handle this instead?"

Nellie froze before she lightly nodded while showing a peculiar look toward Harvey.

She did not expect that Harvey had connections to someone from one of the South Sea's great families

Gael's companions were all showing playful expressions on the side.

Obviously, they also heard stories about Harvey from Gael.

"How about this, Sir York?"

Gael showed a bitter look.

"Since you caused this much trouble and injured so many people here, it's only proper to ask you for compensation, right?"

"You even insulted Director Padlow here for being immoral. It shouldn't be hard for you to grovel before her as an apology.

"Pay a hundred and fifty thousand dollars and grovel in front of her, and we'll pretend that nothing ever happened today.

"Does this sound good to you?"

Chapter 3877

Harvey York calmly smiled before he sized up Gael Padlow.

"What if I don't like that?"

"You dare go against my goodwill?"

Gael showed a playful gaze, as if playing a cat-and-mouse game with Harvey. He wanted Harvey to decline the offer from the very beginning.

"Then I'm sorry, but I can't just let you go for Ms. Cobb's sake.

"My reputation would be completely ruined if I did."

Nellie and the others were showing utter disdain after hearing those words.

"He's still showing off in front of Young Master Padlow?"

"He's literally standing in the face of death right now!"

'You're still not backing off after Young Master Padlow gave you an out?! Your sharp tongue will surely cost you!'

Gael waved his hand before a dozen people in robes walked up from behind.

Every single one of them was showing fierce looks on their faces when they unsheathed their swords.

Nellie, Rayne, and the others were playfully chuckling as they saw the sight.

Gael showed an arrogant expression, as if he was the king of the world.

"Break his legs. Make him kneel," exclaimed Gael while coldly waving his hand around.

"If he resists, kill him immediately!"

Four disciples of the Martial Arts Alliance stepped forward before pointing the tips of their swords toward Harvey's head.

Someone even brought out a baseball bat, ready to break Harvey's legs.

Julian York's gaze turned cold. He wanted to step up for Harvey at this moment...

But Harvey waved his hand. He and Julian were completely fine with fighting...

But it would be bad if Irene Johnson and Ellen Moreno were to be dragged into the fight.

He did not want to see something like this at all.

"I'm curious.

Harvey stepped forward while completely ignoring the swords pointed right at him.

"Are you trying to come at me for the Cobb family's incident?"

"Or are you taking me out because this is your turf?"

"Is there a difference?"

Gael showed a faint smile.

"Of course, if you did this out of jealousy, I'll laugh at you for being naive.

"If you're fighting for your turf, I'll at least praise you for having some courage," replied Harvey.

Chapter 8

"Jealousy? Courage?"

Gael merely chuckled.

"This means nothing to me.

Then, Gael waved his hand.

"Break his legs! Stop wasting time already!"

"Try it if you dare!"

Rapid footsteps could be heard before a pleasant yet distant voice echoed from behind.

A few disciples tried to block the path, but they were ruthlessly pushed aside.

The crowd had no choice but to make way. A slender and elegant-looking young woman could be seen walking out.

A few trusted subordinates were following beside her.

She was none other than the lady of the Cobb family, Katy Cobb herself.

Katy immediately looked at Harvey. She let out a sigh of relief after making sure that he was still in one piece.

Gael frowned.

"Why are you here, Katy?"

Nellie stood frozen.

"Ms. Cobb."

"Ms. Cobb," greeted the others in unison.

Katy completely ignored the others and walked toward Harvey with a cold expression.

"I heard that you're planning to break my man's legs..." said Katy as she glared at Gael.

"You're still not kneeling?! Apologize already!"

"Who even gave you the right!"

Chapter 3878

'Her man?'

Katy Cobb's voice was faint, but everyone was completely shocked after hearing those words.

Katy's identity was immense, after all!

The Cobb family was not as strong anymore, but their authority was still clearly present!

And as the current leader of the Cobb family's head house with Dean Cobb's support...

Her man's power was naturally extraordinary as well!

Besides the Lee family and Moreno family, nobody in Blackburn City would dare go against Harvey while he was being protected by Katy.

Gael Padlow's identity was quite unique. He was the son of Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance's vice leader...

But he would not be able to budge if Katy insisted on defending Harvey either.

Unless the Cobb family actually collapsed and were swallowed whole by Blackburn City's forces, Katy's power would still remain.

More importantly, Gael had always treated Katy as a woman since he had been pursuing her for the longest time.

He was boiling with anger when he heard Katy's words then.

"Ms. Cobb!" exclaimed Gael while taking a step forward.

"We both know where this b*stard came from!"

"You're going this far just to protect him?! Have you thought of the consequences of doing such thing?!"

"You should know who you are as well! You'll put him in grave danger for publicly announcing this!"

"Are you sure you want to do this?!"

"Of course," replied Katy coldly.

"Harvey's my man, and that's the only truth there is!"

"Whoever tries to touch him will have to walk over my dead body first!"

"Do you want to try?"

Gael's face instantly darkened.

"Don't try to cross the line just because you know I'm interested in you, Katy!

"You can't protect this man on your own!"

Slap!

Katy showed a cold expression when she slapped Gael to the ground.

"Are you sure about that?"

"Let's test that, shall we?"

"You..."

Gael covered his face while he stumbled back. He did not expect Katy would slap his face just to protect a random stranger.

Slap!

Katy swung the back of her palm forward.

"Are you about to swallow your words yet?"

"Enough of this, Katy!" exclaimed Gael in rage.

Slap!

Katy kept slapping Gael around. Blood could be seen seeping out from the corner of his mouth at this moment.

"Whoever goes against Harvey in Blackburn City will be considered an enemy of my grandfather, Dean Cobb, and me!

"Not just you; even the Lee family and Moreno family have the right to oppose him!

"I said so!"

Gael was filled with utter disbelief while his entire face was as swollen as a pig.

The crowd froze after hearing those words.

Everyone knew who Katy was...

But they did not think that she would stand up for Harvey during such a trying time for her and her family.

This was enough to show that Harvey was significant to her.

Harvey was surprised that Katy would be this headstrong, but he soon figured this was normal too.

Nellie and the others were filled with rage.

They never expected it would be this troublesome just to deal with Harvey alone.

Chapter 3879

Gael Padlow felt utterly embarrassed as he gritted his teeth.

"You better think this through, Katy Cobb! At this point, your grandfather's no different than a cripple!

"Your position as the leader of the head house might not last long!

"You only have the right to say all this because there are many people who are pursuing you right now! The Cobb family isn't brave enough to cut you out of the family, either!

"If everything you say were to spread, without those young masters' support...

"What kind of authority would you hold within the family?

"How long do you think you can keep putting up this facade?

"Are you sure you're able to keep this man safe?"

Gael was furious, but he still managed to keep his cool.

He would not believe that Katy would cast away her family's safety because of some man.

After all, this was never about fear at all. This was about worth.

"I'll say this now and say it again in the future..." exclaimed Katy coldly.

"Even if the entire Cobb family was here, I'll still tell everyone..."

"That Harvey's my man, and they'll have to go through me to get to him!"

"You..."

Gael was boiling with anger when he gritted his teeth. All he felt at that very moment was anger mixed with jealousy.

"He's just a man from Country H! Why are you so interested in him in the first place?!" exclaimed Gael coldly.

"Even if you don't want to marry anyone, at least find a better scapegoat than that!"

"Do you think we'll believe you have this useless filth of a boyfriend?!"

Nellie Padlow could not stand the sight any longer.

"I don't know why you're protecting this man, Ms. Cobb!" she exclaimed after taking a step forward

"But he needs to pay for causing trouble in the hospital!"

"Are you sure you want to take this responsibility?"

"Do you even understand the consequences?"

Slap!

Katy swung the back of her palm across Nellie's face.

"Step aside! Are you talking to me about responsibility and consequences?"

"Do you even have the right to do that?"

Nellie was filled with fury as she covered her face.

"You hit me?"

"Do you think you can do whatever you want?!"

"Can I not?"

"I belong to one of the South Sea's great families!"

"Do you think we're just easy targets just because we're keeping quiet?"

Katy coldly chuckled before slapping Nellie around again. Her face was bright red when she showed a vengeful gaze, but she still could not fight back.

Just as Katy said, she still belonged to the Cobb family.

Unless the family collapsed, small fries like Nellie would have no chance against Katy in a place like Blackburn City.

"This is a lawful world, Ms. Cobb! We speak reason here!"

"You are recklessly protecting a criminal who will cause trouble to your family!" exclaimed the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance exchange student.

"As a South Sea Martial Arts Alliance student, I'll have to condemn your heinous behavior!"

"Even if Elder Cobb wakes up now, he couldn't keep your entire family safe!"

"You better stop while you still can!"

Slap!

Katy instantly slapped the exchange student away without even paying him any attention.

Harvey showed admiration on his face when he saw the sight. 1

'As expected from the head of the South Sea Gang. Ordinary people wouldn't be able to compare against such dominance...'

Chapter 3880

Gael Padlow showed a horrible expression when Katy Cobb completely maltreated the exchange student.

He knew that he had no chance against Harvey York that day.

"I admit defeat, Harvey, but there's always plenty of time!

"This woman can't protect you forever!

"I do want to see how long you'll last like this!"

He glared at Harvey while chuckling coldly, then slowly walked away.

Nellie Padlow and the others scoffed.

'This outsider thinks he's impressive just because he's being kept by that woman...'

'There's always time for him to suffer his fate anyway.'

"Hold it!

Harvey spoke up after being silent for a long while.

"Did I say that any of you can leave?"

Harvey's invisible aura could be felt enveloping the entire place.

He knew it would be best if he got Katy to protect him...

But he finally managed to figure out her situation while listening in from the side.

Judging from his way of doing things, he would not let Katy suffer for his personal gain.

Everyone was showing odd looks when they saw Harvey step out.

The doctors and nurses were covering their mouths, in shock by Harvey's actions.

They wanted to see if he was actually out of his mind.

'Katy's finally standing up for him against a prominent figure like Young Master Padlow, and yet he's still pulling things like this off!'

'Does he have a death wish or something?!'

Gael stopped in his tracks before he frowned.

"What else do you want? I already admitted defeat!"

Harvey crossed his arms and stepped forward.

"Do you think this is already over?"

"You took my money without even treating the patient and then abused your so-called authority to take advantage of people at large.

"You even tried putting me behind bars and forcing me to kneel by breaking my legs.

"Are you saying that you won't give me a statement about this?"

"Do you think you can just get away with this?"

"If it wasn't for Ms. Cobb, if I was just an ordinary tourist, I would've been dragged around by you people without a way to fight back now, wouldn't I?"

"I'm not a hero by any means..."

"I just think that you people should be taught a lesson.

"I'll make you pay for cheating money out of people's pockets!

"That's why I won't let you go until this is done!"

Harvey smiled warmly, but his words were filled with murderous intent.

Gael and the others were showing horrible expressions on their faces.

Katy froze. She wanted to stop Harvey, but she decided to remain silent in the end.

She wanted to take responsibility for the situation, but she stopped herself when Harvey wanted to deal with it himself.

Besides, she understood what Harvey was trying to say.

Harvey was not just standing up for himself at this moment. He was standing up for every single person from Country H who was taken advantage of in this country.

He wanted those people to understand that people from Country H were not just easy targets for them to prey on.

Only by giving them a proper lesson would they think twice before going against the citizens of Country H

That said, Gael did not feel the same at all. He instantly showed an expression as cold as ice after briefly sizing up Harvey. 2
