

Chapter 3923

"Oh? Are you calling people?"

"You're getting backup now?"

Harvey York calmly smiled.

"Then, I'll give you ten minutes.

I'll kneel if the person you calls manages to scare me.

"If not, you and your baby boy will have to kneel instead!"

Gael Padlow and Rhett Padlow's faces instantly turned dark before they looked at each other with wretched smiles.

Obviously, they both knew who was coming.

Vroom!

In just ten minutes, the door was kicked open once again.

A group of people in robes walked inside with cold expressions.

A middle-aged man was standing in front.

His face was as sharp as a blade, with a scar showing from the corner of his left eye to the right side of his chin.

Not only did the scar not hurt his facial features, but his fierce attitude was also emphasizing it. It was apparent that he was an extremely prominent figure.

Harvey squinted at the person while Julian York frowned behind him.

"Sir York, this is the leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance, Chase Smith."

Harvey merely smiled. He knew that Gael's father could only do this much.

He did not even bother to step out. He only sat on the couch when he opened the Dragon Set and poured himself a glass.

"You're here, Leader Smith!"

Gael and Rhett respectfully walked toward Chase after seeing him arrive.

Rhett hesitated speaking while Gael gritted his teeth.

"I'm really sorry to bother you in the middle of the night, Leader Smith.

"There's just no other choice. This ignorant fool disrespected our organization and even took down dozens of our men and hurt my father! He's a tough nut to crack!"

"Only you can stop this arrogant b*stard in the city right now!"

The others shyly got closer before respectfully bowing in front of Chase

"Hello, Leader Smith!"

"All hail Leader Smith!"

"We're saved with Leader Smith's help!"

All the beautiful women were seductively looking into Chase's eyes, desperately wanting to leap into his arms.

Gael and Rhett occasionally glared at Harvey, as if he was already a dead man.

Harvey remained expressionless. He was not scared at the sight at all.

"You disrespect the organization and hurt the vice leader himself?"

Chase completely ignored the people indulging him and glanced around him disdainfully.

"Whoever it is, you're being a little cocky!"

"Do you have a death wish or something?"

Gael excitedly pointed at Harvey.

"That's him, Leader Smith!" he exclaimed.

Chase shifted his gaze toward Harvey before sizing him up momentarily.

"You must be pretty impressive to be able to hurt Rhett, young man!"

"Judging by your appearance, you're probably not from here either!"

"Come! Tell me where you're from!"

"I'm curious as to who gave you the courage to hurt my people on my own turf!"

"I don't care who you are. I don't even care who you have behind your back! You have to die here!"

"It's a shame that an outstanding young man like you to lose your life here, but there's no other choice. The organization can't afford to be shamed like this!"

Chapter 3924

"I'm not scared of whoever's behind you either. I'll dig out every single person who's on your side!

"I'll make them all pay!"

Chase Smith was being extremely dominant. He was prepared to crush anybody in his way.

Harvey York took a sip of his wine before showing a faint smile.

"As expected from Leader Smith. What a majestic and dominant man!

"If I heard you correctly, you're planning to take advantage of everyone here, right?"

"Damn straight I am!" exclaimed Chase with a cold look.

"You're not happy about it?"

"Then, come at me!

"I'll let you have a taste of your own blood!

Chase then pointed at Harvey.

"Stand up and show me your face!"

The beautiful women felt weak when they saw the sight.

'He's too strong!'

'Leader Smith's so dominant! That's what a real man looks like!'

Harvey crossed his arms and legs while raising his head with a disdainful look.

The crowd scoffed when they saw the sight.

'What the Hell?!'

'Is he still trying to show off?!'

'He has a death wish or something!'

Gael Padlow let out a wretched chuckle.

"You're still pretending now?!"

"Do you want to die or what?!"

Chase could see Harvey's face clearly while everyone was utterly furious.

His body trembled while he showed a horrible look on his face.

He was the leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance. Of course, he would know what Harvey looked like. ③

After all, the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance told him not to go against the man in front no matter what. He was also ordered to do everything in his power to assist him.

Chase had never seen Harvey in action before, but he already had information about his terrifying achievements from other people.

At this very moment, Chase did not care about the people around him, nor did he have the luxury to think about his pride.

He instantly held back his rage before jogging toward Harvey with his hands on his side.

"Governor York! Pleased to see you!"

The title Harvey got from the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance was not just for show.

The person with the title would be on par with the leader of the organization and be served by thousands of people. This was not just a joke either.

"Looks like you're pretty informative. I didn't expect that you'd actually recognize this face.

Harvey smiled before patting on Chase's face.

"If I heard correctly, you were trying to take advantage of people in front of me here...

"Who do you think you're going up against?"

Harvey showed a faint smile while Chase's eyes frantically twitched.

He knew full well that he could not go against the man before him.

He instantly slapped himself across the face without hesitation.

Slap!

"This was my fault!"

Gael and Rhett Padlow were shocked. Explosions were going off in the back of their heads.

'Chase hit himself in the face?'

Everyone was staring at Harvey at the moment. They had never heard of Harvey's title at all.

They could not fathom why everything happened in the first place.

'That's Chase Smith right there!'

'The leader of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance!'

'He's a prominent figure on par with the three great families of the South Sea!'

'Why would he slap himself in the face after seeing Harvey?!'

'What's actually going on here?!'

Chapter 3925

"This kid's just a kept man, Leader Smith! Why are you hitting your face in front of him?" asked Rhett Padlow instinctively.

Slap!

Before Rhett even finished talking, Chase Smith instantly swung the back of his palm across Rhett's face. Rhett crashed into the marble wall once again. He could not crawl back up for the longest time.

"Why did you hit me, Leader Smith?!"

The others were surprised when they saw the sight. They did not understand why he hit himself and Rhett when he was supposed to be there to help the Padlow family.

Gael Padlow was shocked.

"Did you have too much to drink, Leader Smtih? You're supposed to go against this b*stard here, not my father..."

Slap!

Chase also sent Gael flying to his father. The two lay flat on the wall without moving a single muscle.

"Looks like your reputation isn't good enough in the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance, Leader Smith.

"Not only did your subordinates follow suit when you slapped yourself, they even started questioning you.

"I'm disappointed in you!

Harvey stood up soon after.

"We're leaving, Julian York."

Chase's eyes twitched after hearing Harvey's words.

"Slap yourselves right now!"

"Huh?!"

Everyone froze. They could not process what they had just heard.

"Don't you understand me?!"

"Or do you want me to help instead?!"

Chase furiously turned around before slapping one of the disciples in the face.

The others froze before they started slapping themselves in the face.

As disciples of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance, their orders were absolute.

Rhett and Gael were showing utterly horrible looks on their faces at this point.

They seemed to realize that Harvey was not someone they could afford to go against

The beautiful women watching the show had their jaws dropped. They had no idea how they should feel then.

Because of Harvey's words, not only did Chase slap himself in the face, but he also got everyone here from the organization to slap themselves

The women believed that they were well-informed. They could not accept the fact that some man from Country H was acting so high and mighty in front of this many people.

They did not understand why a country bumpkin like him was so terrifying to someone like Chase.

Slap slap slap!

After slapping himself a few more times, Chase respectfully stood beside Harvey with his hands on the side.

Harvey calmly smiled after seeing the sight.

"Not bad. Your orders are absolute, after all."

Chase's eyes twitched after hearing Harvey's words.

"Thank you for your compliment!" he exclaimed with his head tilted down.

The beautiful women thought they were dreaming. Some even followed suit and slapped themselves in the face a couple of times.

Chase, who had been acting high and mighty, had instantly lost all of his pride, as if he were just a dog on the street.

The disciples were downright sluggish when they felt utterly resentful at this moment.

They had been used to trampling on everyone else their entire lives. This was their first time lowering their heads in front of someone else.

They could not accept that their all-powerful leader was acting so timid before a random stranger.

Chapter 3926

Chase Smith showed a respectful look while completely ignoring everyone else.

"I didn't teach them well enough, Sir York! It was my fault!"

Harvey York swirled his wine glass around and took a sip.

"Do you think I'll just let you go because you said that?"

Harvey was completely looking down on Chase at this moment.

"What are you doing, Leader Smith?!"

"How can you just lower your head in front of a man from Country H like that?!"

"He's just a country bumpkin!"

"Why are you so scared of him?!"

"He's just Katy Cobb's kept man!"

"We were scared of her only because she was still with the Cobb family previously!"

"Why should we be scared of a savage like him now that Katy broke off with the family?!"

"As for Dean Cobb, he still hasn't shown himself after the kid treated him!"

"This is all just a trick!"

"We don't have to be afraid!"

Gael Padlow thought Chase was afraid of Katy and Dean. He believed that this was the only reason why he was this terrified.

He thought he should have pointed out Harvey's nonexistent abilities to relieve Chase.

Before Gael even finished talking, Chase instantly walked toward him before sending him flying with a single kick.

Gael and Rhet Padlow were both pulled up from the ground.

The father and son were slapped around nonstop after that.

Slap!

"Are you blind?! Don't you know who Governor York is?!"

Slap!

"All you do is have fun and take advantage of the people at large! The entire organization's reputation is ruined by you two!"

Slap!

"How dare you keep going against Governor York like that?! Even if he's generous enough to let you two off the hook, I'm not the same!"

Chase was utterly ruthless then!

Gael and Rhet's faces were utterly swollen after taking so many slaps in the face. Even their teeth started to fall off bit by bit.

Compared to the sharp pain on their faces, the father and son could only feel their minds going blank.

'Governor York?!

'He's the man in charge of thousands of people?!

'Even the leader of the South Sea Martial Arts Alliance would need to pay his respect!

The father and son finally realized they were not going against some country bumpkin. They were fighting an extremely prominent figure.

Gael felt sluggish. He was filled with disbelief.

Rhett also showed a cold expression.

With a reputation as immense as his, he naturally knew what the title of governor stood for!

Since ancient times, someone like this would be wielded as the king's weapon, taking out all greedy servants under him.

The beautiful women did not understand what the title meant, but they knew that Harvey's status was extraordinary, judging from Rhett's expression alone.

After all, why would someone like Chase even slap Rhett and Gael around after hitting himself if Harvey was not such prominent figure?

Rooster immediately blacked out. He knew that he was done for!

The disciples of the Blackburn City Martial Arts Alliance were all shuddering in fear. They could not help but slam their knees to the ground.
