The strong sensation of pain made him feel a little suffocated.

"It'll be done very soon!" said Hu Song as he smiled and pushed the needle down, holding it with two fingers.

Tang Yin could feel a gentle vibration coming from the silver needle and along with it, he could feel a warmth flowing through his knee.

It was a very comfortable feeling compared to the stabbing pain he felt earlier. They were completely different experiences.

After a while, Hu Song removed the silver needle and said as he nodded to Tang Yin, "You didn't injure any bones. It was just an avulsion of the knee tendon which caused a blockage to your blood vessels. If it was left in such a state for any longer, you'd definitely have a bigger problem..."

"Thanks a lot, Mr. Hu!" said Tang Yin gratefully.

Hu Song did not pay him any mind as he turned to walk out of the room.

Tang Yin laid on the bed and took out his phone to call a mystery number.

After a few rings, a husky voice was heard coming from the person on the end of the line.

“Hello...”

“How’s the investigation going?” asked Tang Yin in a low voice.

“Both Wuhan and Beijing are in the hands of Tang Wei. Moreover, Milan is also succumbing...”

The corner of Tang Yin’s mouth lifted and he gently nodded. “What about the others? Are they up to anything?”

“Yes, they are! However, they aren’t doing anything too aggressive.”

“If you are able to get Tang Wei’s schedule, do tell me beforehand!” Tang Yin nodded, his eyes flashing as he hung up.

This mystery number was very important to Tang Yin as it belonged to the undercover agent who had been in the Tang Family all these years.

Tang Wei had her plans. Naturally, Tang Yin would not just sit around and do nothing. He disliked the Tang Family’s way of survival, but if it involved the safety of the people around him, Tang Yin would go all out to protect them.

He had a good night's sleep and the injuries on his body were slowly healing.

When he woke up the next morning, his knee injury was already under control and there was an obvious improvement. On the other hand, the injury on his shoulder was still present, but much less painful now.

After going over to Ji Youyou's ward to have breakfast with the two girls, Tang Yin started getting his infusion on a drip for today.

He finished his infusion close to midday when he received Steve's call. After hesitating a little, he planned to give Pei Ruo a call when Yuan Zhian barged into the ward.

Tang Yin was disgusted by this woman and refused to see her.

"I'm here to pick you up. Mr. Steve said that an unusual situation happened today..." said Yuan Zhian as she stood obediently in front of the hospital bed and carefully studied Tang Yin's expression.

Tang Yin was too lazy to deal with her. Hence, he just stood up and headed downstairs.

Once he got into the car, they rushed to the Lakeside Residences.

Mr. Steve was already standing by the door and he seemed to be frowning. When he saw Tang Yin arriving, he immediately welcomed him and said, "Hi, Tang Yin! I noticed something very unusual!"

"What is it?" Tang Yin walked over and entered the house with Mr. Steve.

Mr. Steve continued to explain, "I've studied polio for a very long time and I know this disease very well. Besides, I can be sure that the patient is currently in paralysis. However, what is more important is that she has the symptoms of a bulbospinal polio!"

Tang Yin frowned a little as he was not very adept in the subject..

"Bulbospinal polio usually causes high fever, restlessness, convulsion, lethargy and coma. It can also cause paralysis due to the spasms on the upper part of the cervical spinal cord. However, this patient is in way worse condition than what I had imagined... This is a new discovery for me!" said Steve with a sigh as he sat on the sofa and looked at Shen Xin with a frown on his face.

"Could it be hybrid type polio?" asked Tang Yin, who was frowning.

"It can't be!" Steve spreaded out his hands and said doubtfully, "I have also researched hybrid type polio for a very long time, but it does not match the current symptoms! Most importantly, I noticed a very odd behavior of the patient..."

"What behavior?" asked Tang Yin.

"She sleepwalks!" said Steve.

"Sleepwalk?" Tang Yin was a little surprised as he stole a glance at Shen Xin.

Shen Xin was obediently sitting on the sofa. She was looking at Tang Yin and Steve for the whole time, Mrs. Shen beside her. Mrs. Shen looked at them coldly and it was obvious that she was not as friendly as she was yesterday.

"That's right! Sleepwalking! Can you imagine someone who is paralyzed by polio sleepwalking? How is this even logical?" Steve continued to say in disbelief, "This proves that she had a strong muscle reflex... We all know that due to the condition of their body, paralyzed people cannot walk or carry out any physical movements like a normal person. However, this little girl was able to move like a normal person when she was sleepwalking... "

Tang Yin touched his chin as he also felt that this was a little unbelievable.

According to what Mr. Steve said, there must be distinct differences between someone who could sleepwalk and someone who was paralyzed. Nonetheless, Shen Xin was displaying characteristics of both situations.

"Jenny... I think we're just wasting our time here... We should be properly enjoying our holiday and not staying in this hellhole!"

Frank was talking upstairs.

Jenny retorted, "This is research! It is science!"

"Go to hell with science..." chided Frank. "Have you forgotten who we are? We are members of the American Medical Association. Should we really be coming to a poor country like this just because of a simple phone call? There's many more research opportunities waiting for us in America; we shouldn't be playing games here with some yellow monkey... "

Jenny came down from upstairs, an ugly expression on her face.

Tang Yin frowned as he heard what Frank said and stole a glance at Mr. Steve.

Steve heaved a sigh and said, "Tang Yin, I am very sorry for what my student just said. You should know that no matter where we are, there's always one rotten apple that's out to spoil the whole barrel!"

Tang Yin nodded in agreement but his eyes were cold.

As soon as Jenny came downstairs and saw Tang Yin, her eyes immediately lit up with excitement, "Mr. Tang, you're here! I sorted out your medical history last night and formulated the best treatment plan for you. I believe that the injury on your knee will completely heal after a week of treatment!"

Tang Yin smiled and said, "My knee is fine now! "

"That's not possible!" Jenny shook her head; she clearly did not believe what Tang Yin said. "Mr. Tang, you need to believe in science; you can't just believe what you're feeling. You should not take this matter lightly! The medical treatment in America is the best in the world. Trust me! It'll take one week..."

"Jenny..." Frank had come downstairs and was looking at what happened furiously, "What are you doing? Begging people to get our treatment? Since when is the medical treatment in America so worthless? Do we just treat any Chinaman? If he is not willing to get treated, it is his problem and we will not be held responsible when he is paralysed in the future..."

Tang Yin's face turned sour and he frowned as he looked at Frank.

Jenny shook her head in disagreement and said, "Medicine is all about helping mankind. It is not limited to a certain country or a certain person..."

Tang Yin glanced at the serious look on Jenny's face and had no choice but to smile and say, "It's true. My knee injury had completely healed yesterday!"

"Mr. Tang, I really hope you'll listen to a doctor's advice, okay? I don't think there's any medical treatment in China that is capable of completely healing you in one night!" Jenny looked at Tang Yin and said in a serious tone.

Tang Yin had no choice but to look at Steve for help.

"Why don't you show Jenny..." suggested Steve.

"F*ck..." cursed Frank as he turned to walk out. "What a bunch of losers..."

Steve's face turned stony, but he did not bother about Frank and continued to stare at Tang Yin.

Tang Yin hesitated for a moment. Then, he sat down on the sofa and rolled up the leg of his trousers.

Steve walked over to take a look at Tang Yin's knee and a hint of surprise flashed in his eyes.

"T-T-This is impossible!" Once again, Jenny used two fingers to pinch Tang Yin's knee. She could feel that the extravasated blood under the skin of his knee had very much dispersed. "Mr. Tang, how did you do it? I've thought long and hard about it yesterday and I've even considered surgical methods, but still, I was not able to come up with any excellent management..."

Tang Yin glanced at the surprised look on Jenny's face and felt a sense of relief. This meant that Old Man Hu Song's treatment yesterday had indeed brought results.

"This is our country's art of healing. You wouldn't understand even if I told you!" said Tang Yin as he rolled down the leg of his trousers.

Jenny was astounded. "Your country's art of healing? Is it Chinese Medicine?"

"I guess you can call it that!" Tang Yin smiled and said no more.

Jenny grabbed Tang Yin and said with a look of regret on her face, "I'm so sorry! I apologize for my arrogance and ignorance before this. I did not expect to see such a result with Chinese Medicine! I had given this a very long thought yesterday and I was only able to come up with a treatment plan that would take one week's time for you to be completely healed. On the other hand, the management of the injury on your knee is truly eye-opening. May I ask you how it was treated?"

"That's a secret!" Tang Yin smiled and looked at Shen Xin instead.

His knee injury earlier was just a brief interlude; this little girl was their main focus.

"Tang Yin, I've thought about it just now. In regards to her condition, we'll probably need to keep observing her, and I mean a 24-hour uninterrupted observation!" said Steve softly as he shook his head.

Tang Yin hesitated and turned to look at Mrs. Shen.

Although Mrs. Shen looked extremely unhappy, she still nodded after a brief hesitation when she saw Tang Yin looking at her.

The impact Tang Yin had on her was too great! Even though Mrs. Shen was a harridan, she was unwilling to have any conflict with Tang Yin. Besides, she had also inquired about Steve and his team privately. It turned out that Mr. Steve was really a member of the American Medical Association and he indeed did have a very high attainment in the research of polio.

"Well, a 24-hour observation is possible..." Tang Yin nodded. Then, he looked at Mr. Steve and said, "However, it'll be a great

"It's okay! It will be a great help to my subject!" said Steve with a nod.

Tang Yin agreed to make the arrangement and had a brief chat before he turned to head out of the house.

Jenny chased after him and shouted for Tang Yin from a distance, "Tang Yin, can you take me to meet the Chinese Medicine practitioner when you have the time? I would love to learn more about it!"

Tang Yin tilted his head to size up Jenny. He realized that the American girl was pretty good-looking. She had a pair of fair, long legs and her blonde locks were slightly curly. She would stand out very much in a crowd.

"I guess I'll have time for that!"

"It's a promise then!" said Jenny as she smiled happily.

Tang Yin turned to get into the car and headed out of Lakeside Residences.

Yuan Zhian was still dressed in a pair of denim hot pants, but she had changed into a pink top, her perfectly curvaceous figure on full display.

“Tang Yin, I know a very good Western restaurant. Would you like me to bring you there to try it?” asked Yuan Zhian as she turned to look at Tang Yin.

“No!” said Tang Yin coldly.

There was an awkward look on Yuan Zhian’s face as she said, “Tang Yin, I’m not the kind of person you imagine me to be!”

“I told you that I’m not going!” said Tang Yin, sounding unfriendlier than before.

“Tang Yin...” Yuan Zhian sounded a little angry. Then, she slowed down the car and grabbed his fingers with one hand as she said, “I’ve never felt this way about anyone

Tang Yin shook off Yuan Zhian's hand and said as he pointed at her, "I'm warning you to know your place and stop showing me this look of yours!"

Yuan Zhian looked at Tang Yin's angry face and her eyes reddened. However, she was on cloud nine because of the invigorating feeling she was having inside.

Pfft! she scoffed.

When the car stopped, Yuan Zhian looked at Tang Yin with her bloodshot eyes. "Tang Yin, you may think that I'm a materialistic girl, but I came to realize that you carried weight in my heart and I really do like you..."

As soon as she finished, Yuan Zhian unlocked her safety belt and threw herself at Tang Yin.

Tang Yin got a shock and hurriedly pushed

"Tang Yin, I really do..." Yuan Zhian grabbed onto Tang Yin with her hands, a look of desperation on her face.

Tang Yin pushed her away as he looked at her with disgust.

"Tang Yin, why don't you just hit me! I know you find me disgusting, so hit me then..." Yuan Zhian grabbed Tang Yin's wrist and aimed it toward her face.

Tang Yin's heart was filled with anger when he saw her behaving like this. He immediately pushed the mad woman away and got out of the car.

If Ji Youyou was an obedient, timid little girl and Pei Ruo was a graceful, emotional scoundrel, Yuan Zhian was a complete nutcase among the scoundrels.

Tang Yin found a woman like her to be too unbearable. Hence, he got a taxi and left.

Yang Zhian looked at Tang Yin's retreating figure. Her eyes were a little red and she had one hand on her cheek. At that moment, she was feeling extremely invigorated and trembled with excitement on the inside.

The emotions that she was having made Yuan Zhian feel a little exhilarated.

In fact, a few days ago, Yuan Zhian consulted a few psychologists about this and the answer they gave her was that she had a severe masochistic tendency. However, her masochistic tendency was due to her succumbing to a certain person. Hence, it was a specific masochistic tendency.

No one in this world other than Tang Yin would be able to make her feel this way.

"I need your help to get Tang Yin. If you can't do that, get the hell away from me! Don't you dare be a dog in the manger!" Yuan Zhian harshly scolded.

Yang Qin panicked a little and she said, "President Yuan, I've given it a thought. If you would listen to me, I can help you chase Ji Youyou away in three months. Then, you will be able to get together with Tang Yin!"

"Three months? You need f*cking three months?" shouted Yuan Zhian as she got extremely furious. "Three months would be too long! Ten days! I'm only giving you ten days! You know both Tang Yin and Ji Youyou really well, so you must be able to give me what I want in ten days!"

"Ten days?" exclaimed Yang Qin in shock.

"Do tell me! What way is that? If it can help me get together with Tang Yin, I wouldn't care even if everyone in the whole world had died!" said Yuan Zhian.

Yang Qin was a little shocked and she hurriedly said, "Don't worry! It's not as serious as that and it will definitely work! I know the two of them very well. Tang Yin is soft-hearted and Ji Youyou is a girl with low self-esteem. You should go to the hospital these few days and do as I tell you. Find Ji Youyou and tell her... "

Chapter 143 The Brewing of An Evil Plan

"What am I supposed to tell Ji Youyou? Do you even know how much Ji Youyou trusts Tang Yin now? Whatever I say will be useless!" questioned Yuan Zhian sternly.

Yang Qin hesitated for a moment. She had originally planned to create some rumours to sabotage the relationship between Tang Yin and Ji Youyou. However, that seemed impossible now after hearing what Yuan Zhian said.

"Then, we are only left with our last option!" said Yang Qin coldly.

"What option is that?" asked Yuan Zhian.

"Drugs..." Yang Qin replied.

"Drugs? You're planning to drug Tang Yin?" Yuan Zhian was slightly caught by surprise, but she thought that it was a good idea.

"That's right! We'll drug Tang Yin and make him make out with you. Then, we'll take a Yuan Zhian thought about it for a very long time. Then, she quietly hung up the phone.

This is a very good idea indeed!

If this plan worked, there'll be no problem at all. Besides, if I do manage to make out with Tang Yin, it wouldn't matter whether Ji Youyou leaves or not as I would have at least had some degree of bodily contact with Tang Yin.

At this very moment, a detailed and evil plan was brewing in Yuan Zhian's mind, adding to and perfecting itself.

On the other side, Tang Yin got out of the car and went back to the hospital.

When he got back to his ward and saw Ji Youyou getting chummy with Meng Wan, he pouted his lips and sulked.

Ji Youyou has betrayed me!

Ever since I entered the room, she did not even bother to lift her head to look at me anymore!

"Ehem..." Tang Yin intentionally walked up to them and coughed drily to express his displeasure.

Ji Youyou was turning the pages of a book and whispering to Meng Wan about something, as though she did not care about Tang Yin at all. In fact, she had noticed him as soon as he entered the room. Furthermore, at this very moment, her heart was racing and she was blushing a little.

It was not her intention to ignore Tang Yin, but she did not know what she was supposed to say. Besides, she was also still not used to carrying out simple conversations with Tang Yin with other people around.

"Ehem..." Tang Yin coughed once more before taking a seat beside Ji Youyou.

Ji Youyou was frightened out of her wits and she hurriedly leaned toward Meng Wan with a face so red that she dared not lift her head.

Meng Wan also blushed a little. After quietly peeking at Tang Yin, she moved her body back a little and wondered if she should leave.

"Time for drip infusion..."

The nurse walked in at this moment, not stopping in what she was doing except to give Tang Yin a stink eye.

Tang Yin had no choice but to get up and leave the 2-bedded ward, pouting.

When he returned to his ward, he saw Hu Song resting inside. Tang Yin hesitated for a moment before going up to him and asked, "Hu Song, is the acupuncture

"Yes, it is!" Hu Song nodded.

Tang Yin smiled and probed further, "Well, will you say that your medical skills are exceptional then?"

"Why are you asking me this?" Hu Song turned to ask as he chuckled.

Tang Yin gave him a smile and replied, "There was an American student from the American Medical Association who had taken a look at my knee yesterday. She told me that it would take a minimum of one week for my knee to heal completely. However, she was extremely shocked and in disbelief when she took another look at my injury today and saw that it was almost healed already! "

Hu Song smiled and said, "They are just barbarians who would not understand the broad and profound art of healing! One week? If it had needed one week, that would have been an insult to me!"

Tang Yin did not expect Hu Song to say something like this. However, after carefully thinking about it, a person like Hu Song was considered a true patriot. He was skilled in kung fu and his medical skills were superb. He was someone who would be highly respected even in the present day.

"Chinese Medicine, huh..." Hu Song shook his head and gently let out a sigh as he said, "The things that our ancestors left us were true treasures. It is a pity that many of us, their descendents, have forgotten all about them nowadays. That is the sad truth of our culture!"

Tang Yin smiled before suddenly remembering something as he asked, "Elder Hu, would you be able to treat polio with Chinese Medicine then?"

"That's right! We usually call it infantile paralysis!" explained Tang Yin as he continued to query Hu Song.

Hu Song thought about it for a long time before he finally said with a soft voice, "You would need someone with superb skills to treat this disease!"

"Can you do it then?" Tang Yin's face beamed and he said, "It's my friend's daughter. She was diagnosed with this weird illness and if you are capable of treating it, would you help her?"

"No!" Hu Song shook his head and rejected, "I can't treat her!"

"Why not?"

"I have made a promise!" said Hu Song after hesitating for a moment.

Hu Song reconsidered it, but then, he gently let out a sigh and shook his head.

When he saw the look on Hu Song's face, Tang Yin immediately started to briefly explain Shen Xin's condition to him. He explained everything clearly, including her sleepwalking habits every night

"Sleepwalking? Paralyzed?" muttered Hu Song to himself as a glint flashed in his eyes.

"That's right!" said Tang Yin.

After muttering to himself for a very long time, Hu Song said, "Why don't you try using your hand to rub her solar plexus region tomorrow? Then, you can try pressing onto the acupuncture point on the midline of her sternum and maybe she will have some response by then!"

"Okay!" agreed Tang Yin as he memorized what Hu Song told him.

Tang Yin was familiar with the solar plexus and midline of the sternum. It would be good to give it a try tomorrow.

After getting his infusion in the evening, Tang Yin took a nap in the ward, not waking until it was midnight.

After waking up, Tang Yin saw Hu Song sitting on the other bed in the ward. He seemed to be meditating.

Tang Yin carefully studied him for a little while, but he could not bring himself to disturb the old man. Hence, he went back to sleep once again.

The next morning, he received a call from Mr. Steve.

Shen Xin had experienced sleepwalking once again last night. Today, Steve wanted to use the equipment once again to examine the girl properly.

As the middleman between Mr. Steve and the Shen Family, naturally he had to go over to the house. After getting his morning infusion, Tang Yin left the hospital by taxi in the afternoon and rushed toward Lakeside Residences.

After parking the car outside the residential area, he saw Mr. Steve standing outside the house to welcome him once again.

When he entered the house, Tang Yin saw Frank fiddling with a few types of equipment with a dissatisfied expression on his face as he said, "There's absolutely nothing wrong with our equipment and there's been no mistake on my part! I'm suspecting that it is not a problem with the equipment; the type of patient is the problem! Honestly speaking, I'm feeling that it is a waste to use such advanced equipment on a yellow monkey!"

"Do they really have any decent medical treatment here? Please stop joking with me, okay?" said Frank with an exaggerated expression on his face.

"Frank, if you can't maintain a professional attitude, please go back to America!" Steve chided with a cold expression on his face.

With a gloomy look on his face, Tang Yin coldly glanced at Frank.

What a foul-mouthed guy he is! He deserves a beating!

"Tang Yin, I'm really sorry. This is my fault!" apologized Steve.

Tang Yin gave him a smile as he turned his gaze to look at Frank coldly, but he did not

"Is it okay now?" asked Jenny.

"Yes, that's enough!" Frank said as he was looking very unwilling.

Upon hearing that, Frank turned on the switch with one hand.

A faint electric current coursed through the equipment, making Shen Xin's body tremble yet again. Her eyes rolled around uncontrollably as she started foaming at the mouth.

"Stop it! Stop it now!" Steve yelled immediately.

Frank was just about to start the procedure when the figure beside him rushed over quickly.

Tang Yin reacted at lightning speed. He had been paying close attention to Shen Xin, so when he saw that something was wrong with her, he immediately kicked away the equipment before Mr. Steve could say another word.

With aslam, the two pieces of equipment brought by Mr. Steve had been kicked to pieces by Tang Yin.

Frank was taken aback, rage coursing through his veins. "My God, are you crazy? Do you know how expensive this equipment is? How could you kick it like that? You are a barbarian, you know that?!"

Chapter 144 Annoying Frank

Tang Yin just ignored him and hurriedly checked on Shen Xin.

“What's the matter?” Mrs. Shen stood up immediately in panic.

It was the first time that Steve had seen anything like this. He hurriedly stepped forward, took Shen Xin into his arms and caressed her body non-stop with his hands. However, no matter how he consoled her, her body still continued to tremble, making him feel a little horrified.

“Let me do it...” Tang Yin glanced at Frank coldly and suddenly remembered what Hu Song had said yesterday. He took a step forward and put one hand on Shen Xin's belly while his other hand was pressed on the acupuncture point on the midline of her sternum.

“Oi, what are you doing? Teacher Steve, how can you hand the child over to this barbarian? Although this child is Asian, you can't treat her like that...” Frank yelled, annoyed at the doctor.

“Shut up!” Jenny glanced at Frank with dissatisfaction. “If you can't stand it, leave now; no one will stop you!”

Chapter 144 Annoying Frank

“Jenny, do you know who you are talking to?” Frank was a little furious and pointed at Tang Yin. “He just destroyed our equipment with a kick. Do you know how much those two pieces of equipment cost? Can he even afford to compensate us?”

Ignoring Frank’s jabs, Jenny turned her gaze to Tang Yin.

Tang Yin used his hand to pressure and massage Shen Xin's lower abdomen, while his other hand pressed the acupuncture point on the midline of her sternum.

“How is this massage in any way useful? If this massage was truly useful, then what are the equipment for? Who would even need doctors?” Frank yelled and kicked out bitterly.

Jenny also agreed with Frank. In her inherent thinking, everything could be explained by science. Even if what happened couldn't be explained by modern science, it was because science had not progressed to that point yet. However, although what Tang Yin was doing in front of them now had no scientific basis, a miracle happened!

Chapter 144 Annoying Frank

Shen Xin's body, which was initially twitching anxiously, had started to calm down. With that, her mouth had also stopped foaming.

"Oh my God, what have I just witnessed..."
Jenny looked at this scene in disbelief, almost mind blown.

Seeing Shen Xin begin to calm down, Tang Yin gradually increased the strength of his grip, overjoyed.

"Tang Yin, you've really surprised me!"
Jenny said, a little impressed.

Mr. Steve began to record Shen Xin's condition in detail in his notebook and filmed the scene with his camera.

Seeing that Shen Xin was feeling better, Mrs. Shen looked relieved.

Although Shen Xin looked sickly pale, under Tang Yin's massage, she opened her eyes little by little.

"What a miracle! This is simply a miracle!"
Jenny couldn't believe it.

Tang Yin breathed a sigh of relief, and then stopped moving his hands as he looked at Shen Xin's eyes, which were squinting in pain, and said hurriedly, "I think we can temporarily stop checking her with the equipment. Let's observe her for a while more!"

"Great idea, I think so too!" Mr. Steve nodded.

"Xin, how do you feel?" Madam Shen cried and hugged Shen Xin.

Tang Yin glanced at them and sighed softly. Then, Jenny, who was by the side, grabbed Tang Yin's hand with a surprised look on her face. "Tang Yin, how did you do it? Can you tell me? Your method is so effective!"

"Jenny, I think it's just a coincidence. The child always feels better after we stop using the equipment on her; this was also the case last time. We must maintain our respect for science. We should stay rational and reject any unscientific methods!" Frank pulled Jenny away.

Tang Yin could see that Frank was very concerned about Jenny, but there was a huge divide between their thoughts.

"Tang Yin, will you enlighten me?" Jenny

Chapter 144 Annoying Frank

still insisted on asking.

Tang Yin tilted his head and said, "This method was taught to me by an old man..."

"See? Didn't I tell you already? That's just a coincidence..." Frank said from the side.

Tang Yin smiled. "Mr. Frank, do you really think it's just a coincidence?"

"How can you explain such a thing aside from it being a coincidence?" Frank looked at Tang Yin somewhat arrogantly.

Tang Yin smiled and said, "I can't give an explanation to you now, but truly my ancestors in China have left behind many brilliant inventions. Many of these inventions have been verified by current science and are proven to be real, like the meridians and acupuncture points in the human body... You are from the U.S, so I don't blame you for being ignorant. After all, your country doesn't have a long history nor exceptional culture..."

"Do you even know what you are talking about?" Frank was a little annoyed.

Tang Yin smiled, throwing up his hands. "I'm saying that you Americans are uncultured... Don't you understand?"

Frank was furious.

Jenny hurried forward and blocked Frank from rushing at Tang Yin. "Tang Yin, can you tell me more about acupuncture and meridian?"

Tang Yin hesitated, not because he didn't want to tell her, but because he himself didn't understand it well yet. He really knew very little about meridians and acupuncture points, so it would be of little use for him to tell her.

"Jenny, for the last time, what happened was just a coincidence. You can forget about it!" Frank grabbed Jenny's arm.

Jenny shook Frank off in disgust and continued looking at Tang Yin. "Your knee injury was cured by this method too, right? This method is very powerful, isn't it?"

"Tang Yin, is the technique you used just now a Chinese medicine technique?" Steve was also curious.

"It is indeed one of the techniques of Chinese medicine!" Tang Yin nodded.

Chapter 144 Annoying Frank

“Chinese medicine is witchcraft! It’s all a load of bullcr*p!” Frank cursed and looked at Tang Yin with disgust.

Tang Yin's expression suddenly turned cold as his eyes stared at Frank blankly. “Mr. Frank, apologize to me now, or else no one is getting out of here today!”

“Apologize? You must be mad! Do you know who I am?!” Frank pushed Tang Yin away.

Chapter 145 First Attempt

Tang Yin grabbed Frank's wrist, twisted it outward, and then punched him in the stomach.

Reacting quickly, Steve hurriedly grabbed Tang Yin's wrist. "Tang Yin, stop it; don't do this..."

An icy chill eclipsed Tang Yin's eyes, anger coursing through his veins. Even the wound on his shoulder couldn't prevent him from wanting to teach the guy in front of him a lesson.

"Tang Yin, don't act impulsively. We have to stay sensible!" Mr. Steve said.

Frank pointed at Tang Yin. "For the last time, what you did was witchcraft..."

Tang Yin said with a cold expression, "You're too ignorant! Although you think that Chinese medicine is witchcraft, it has an indispensable position in China's historical civilization! You just want to show off in front of others by judging the noble Chinese medicinal teachings with your shallow insights! In front of the greatness of Chinese medicine, you are as insignificant as a cockroach..."

"Perhaps it's truly as you said, but no matter what, it is completely behind the times, so it should be eliminated from modern society!" Frank sneered.

"Oh? If it is something that should be eliminated, then how did a great scientist in our country obtain artemisinin through her knowledge of Chinese medicine and eventually win the Nobel Prize?" Tang Yin said coldly.

Frank's expression soured as he stared at Tang Yin with anger.

"Tang Yin, I know who you are talking about. She is a great scientist and a hero of mankind..." Jenny added. With that, she grabbed Tang Yin and continued, "I'm sorry, I used to think like Frank before. I also used to think that Chinese medicine is nothing but a farce, but today you have given me extraordinary insights! You can help this little girl fight her polio symptoms, am I right?"

Seeing how nicely Jenny was speaking, he said with uncertainty, "I can't guarantee this..."

"Then can you give it a try?" Jenny looked at Tang Yin pleadingly.

Chapter 145 First Attempt

“Tang Yin, if you’re willing to give it a try, you’ll be making a great contribution to my research even if you only achieve success in one stage!” Steve said.

Tang Yin was stunned for a moment before he nodded. “Let me make a call to ask about this first...”

“Okay!” Jenny nodded.

Tang Yin took out his mobile phone, walked aside and called Ji Youyou. Then, he asked her to let Hu Song answer the call.

After hanging up the phone, Tang Yin had a solemn expression.

According to the information given by Hu Song, Tang Yin wouldn’t be able to cure this disease at all. Although he could provide relief for her symptoms, he might not be able to cure her completely.

“How about it, Tang Yin?” Jenny looked at Tang Yin curiously.

Tang Yin looked at Shen Xin, then at Madam Shen, and finally said softly, “I can’t cure her now...”

Chapter 145 First Attempt

"See? I knew it! He is a liar. It was a coincidence just now!" Frank laughed.

"Shut up, you son of a b*tch!" Jenny was dissatisfied.

Tang Yin glanced at Frank and said softly, "I can relieve her symptoms through massage, but I'm not sure how effective it is!"

"You can give it a go. It's just a massage, so it won't cause any damage to her body, right?" Steve looked at Tang Yin with anticipation.

Tang Yin nodded and looked at Mrs. Shen.

Although Mrs. Shen was a little upset, she still agreed because she felt that the massage would not negatively affect her daughter's health anyway.

Tang Yin took Shen Xin in his arms and walked toward the house. After entering the bedroom, he put Shen Xin on the bed and smiled encouragingly at her.

He hesitated for a moment before stretching out both hands. According to Hu Song's instructions, he had to massage several acupuncture points on Shen Xin constantly. Tang Yin was not familiar with these acupuncture points and only knew their approximate location, so he could only help to roughly massage her body.

Ten minutes later, Tang Yin's forehead was already covered with a layer of fine sweat. He wasn't the only one who was sweating; beads of sweat had appeared on Shen Xin's forehead as well, but they were so small that they were not visible to the naked eye unless one looked carefully.

After about half an hour, Tang Yin stopped the movement of his hands, gasping slightly.

"Okay, let's see how it went!" Tang Yin said.

Frank was just beside them, disdain on his face. "Your technique is bullocks. If this little girl can really be cured, I'll go back to the United States by foot!"

Tang Yin just glanced at this guy coldly, not bothering with his provocations.

"You're done already?" Jenny asked.

Tang Yin hesitated. "I think so. You all can stay here and observe her; I will go back first. If you have any questions, you can call me!”

“Alright!” Steve nodded.

“By the way, I will arrange for someone to come and compensate you for the two instruments just now. Don't worry!” Tang Yin said.

“Compensate? How are you going to compensate us? Do you know how much the appliances are worth? Their value is immeasurable. They're the latest scientific research products of the Reese-Gandalf company...” Frank recalled and said loudly.

“Frank...” Steve's voice was icy cold.

Frank snorted coldly and kept quiet.

Tang Yin glanced at Frank indifferently. With that, he turned around and went downstairs to take a taxi back to the hospital.

In the hospital, Hu Song sighed hesitantly upon hearing Tang Yin's words. “It might not be polio...”

“Huh?” Tang Yin was taken aback for a moment. “Not polio? Then, how about her symptoms?”

"Something might have gone wrong! When you go see her tomorrow, pay attention and observe whether the child is wearing anything weird on her body..." Hu Song said suspiciously.

Tang Yin nodded, and suddenly asked, "Elder Hu, can this disease be cured?"

"Yes!" Hu Song nodded.

"How can we cure it?" Tang Yin asked.

Hu Song looked at Tang Yin and suddenly smiled. "Do you really want to cure this child?"

"If possible, of course I do!" Tang Yin also smiled.

"You don't have the ability, and it's also not the right time for me to make my appearance yet..." Hu Song smiled. After walking a few steps in the room, he suddenly said, "Do you want that ability? "

"What ability?" Tang Yin asked.

"If you want to cure that child's disease, you may need Qi..." Hu Song smiled.

"Qi? What is Qi?" Tang Yin asked back.

Chapter 145 First Attempt

Hu Song smiled and shook his head, not saying another word.

Suddenly, the phone rang.

As soon as Tang Yin answered the phone, Jenny's surprised voice sounded, "Tang Yin, you are really amazing. Do you know what happened?"

Tang Yin was taken aback, wondering what Jenny was trying to say.

"Impossible! This is absolutely impossible! This is just witchcraft, so how could it have such an effect..." Frank's voice that was laced with utter disbelief also sounded from the other end of the line.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

“Oh my God! It’s incredible!” Steve’s cry of wonder rang out from the other end of the line.

Tang Yin gripped his phone tighter as his eyebrows knit together. “What on earth are you talking about?”

“Tang, it’s amazing! Do you know that yesterday, the patient fainted once every hour, and needed at least ten minutes to come to each time, but ever since your visit earlier, she has only fainted once, after three hours, and this time, she woke up in just two minutes!” Jenny was in utter disbelief, and it shone through in her voice. “Tang, you’re incredible! I apologize about what I said earlier; I could never have imagined that you would have such an incredible skill!”

The crease between Tang Yin’s brows soothed out. “So it looks like the child is getting better!”

“Yes, and that isn’t all. She’s much more energetic than before!” Jenny exclaimed excitedly.

Tang Yin nodded, then hung up and turned his gaze toward Hu Song.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

This old man isn't as normal as he appears; he's actually a great man with incredible skills! No wonder grandfather brings him around with him and even sent him to me!"

"Mr. Hu, what a man you are!" Tang Yin had no words to express his feelings.

Hu Song chuckled. "That was nothing; just a little trick!"

"Earlier, you said that the child needed Qi to get better. What did you mean by that?" Tang Yin hastily asked.

Hu Song smiled knowingly and gave him a mysterious reply. "Do you know that humans contain Qi within their bodies? A lot of us also know it as Inner Energy, but it also goes by the name of Inner Strength!"

"Inner Strength?! Such a thing actually exists?!" Tang Yin cried out in astonishment.

Hu Song just smiled. Then his hand shot out, and the curtains in the hospital room flapped and rustled as if they had been caught in a strong wind.

Tang Yin's eyes widened with surprise and he looked at Hu Song with alarm. "Is...is that Inner Energy?!”

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

“That’s right! This is Inner Energy, otherwise known as Qi!” Hu Song beamed at Tan Yin. “Most of us prefer to call it Inner Energy, and you can heal that child with it! You were able to improve her condition with just a massage; you can do so much more if you mold Inner Energy into your technique!”

“Then...” Tang Yin faltered.

Hu Song looked at him and smiled. “Do you want to learn it?”

Tang Yin contemplated it in silence.

Hu Song smiled and disclosed, “The Second Master of the Tang Family actually played a part in my coming here, but whether or not you manage to learn anything from me depends on your capabilities in the first place!”

Tang Yin studied the mysterious look on Hu Song’s face and lowered his head in thought. Looks like even he is worried that something will happen to me; that’s why he sent Hu Song over.

It would most likely be useful if I manage to pick up a thing or two from Hu Song's myriad skills.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

The Tang Family was a gaping, cavernous hole that devoured countless lives at its whim and fancy. If I'm capable of the things that Hu Song can do, then it shouldn't be a problem to at least save my own hide if it comes to it. If I'd been capable of even a trick or two like that, I would have stood a chance even when Yin Ang had set his assassins on me!"

"You can talk to me about it if you really want to learn, but there's no such thing as a free lunch in this world. If you do learn it from me, then you'll need to do me a favor..." Hu Song's voice trailed off as he studied Tang Yin.

"What do you want me to do?" Tang Yin demanded.

"You'll find out when the time comes! It probably won't be much easier than becoming the next head of the Tang Family, so you should probably think hard and long before you make your decision. Regardless of whether or not you take up my offer, I'll stay here and protect you, at least until the Second Master says otherwise!" Hu Song chortled and turned to walk out of the room.

Later, Tang Yin lay on his bed and his lips spread into a wry grin. He was still hesitant, but the knowledge that having some of Hu Song's tricks up his sleeve would prove to be useful ate at him.

Tang Yin did have to consider Hu Song's favor, but he didn't attach much significance to it. It paled in comparison to what would happen if he didn't manage to gain control over the Tang Family, and his very life would be at stake, never mind owing Hu Song a favor. Tang Yin truly understood the numbness that overcame one faced with a wreath of problems.

Tang Yin slept restfully that night. He received an IV infusion when he woke up in the morning and walked out of the hospital.

Hu Song was slightly taken aback by Tang Yin's condition; he hadn't expected him to compose himself so quickly.

Tang Yin hailed a cab and headed for Lakeside Residences, climbed off the cab when it reached the community area, then walked through its gates.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

Jenny had long been waiting in front of the mansion's doors, and her face lit up at the sight of Tang Yin. "Tang, you're simply beyond our expectations! Did you know? The patient's condition has been stable ever since you left yesterday, and even her sleep-walking tendencies were so much milder yesterday!"

"Oh?" Tang Yin nodded and walked into the mansion with Jenny.

Frank's face was stony and he seemed to be gathering something, but he threw everything in his arms onto the floor when he saw Tang Yin enter the house. "What a drag!"

"Ignore him; he's always like that!" Jenny spat in disgust.

"Jenny, do you know what you're saying?!" Frank abruptly raised his voice and roared, raising a foot and kicking the equipment case beside them to pieces. "You're actually holding his hand?! Don't you squeam at just the thought of it?!"

"Frank, watch yourself! I'm not like you; I'm not prejudiced against anyone!" There was a hint of suppressed dislike on Jenny's face.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

“Dammit, Tang, you’d better get away from Jenny this instant!” Frank glared coldly at Tang Yin and clenched his teeth while stretching a finger out toward Tang Yin. “Do you know? Whenever I see you, my disgust toward everything else fades away. That’s just how much you disgust me!”

“Is that so?” Tang Yin tilted his head and watched Frank, and a smile abruptly lit up his face as he put an arm around Jenny’s waist. “Jenny was right. Your soul is dirty, and you give off an unbearable stench! I find it hard to imagine how you and Jenny study under Dr. Steve’s tutelage together; it really makes me feel sorry for her!”

“Say that again?!” Frank bellowed.

“Frank!” Jenny barked, training a glare that could curdle milk on Frank.

“Jenny, you had better walk away from him right now, or I’ll make Steve cast you off! You want to learn the most recent advances in medicine? You want to learn it from the best?! I can crush your dreams with just one word!” Frank pointed at Jenny and threatened.

Jenny flushed with rage.

Chapter 146 A Miraculous Effect

“Frank!” Mr. Steve walked in through the door at that moment. “What are you doing?!”

“Steve! I’m ordering you to fire Jenny immediately, or I’ll make my family withdraw all support from your research programs!” Frank pointed at Jenny and raged. “Seeing her with this b*stard makes me sick to my stomach! Fire her now, or I’ll cut off every single penny of your funding!”

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

Steve stared at the scene before him as he shook his head. "Frank, please remain calm."

"Do it immediately! I've had enough of this! How do you expect me to remain calm when I have to deal with this bunch of monkeys every single day?!" Frank bellowed. "Fire Jenny immediately! I don't wish to stay in the same room as this woman anymore!"

"Frank, I am really disappointed in you," said Jenny as she shook her head.

Frank glared at Jenny with a ferocious look on his face as he smirked.

Steve was silent for a moment before he sighed. "Since you are unwilling to ask your family to support me, then I am sorry but you have to leave. I won't use any more funds from your family to conduct my experiments. Of course, that also means I will not share my research results with your family anymore."

Frank was stunned. Following that, he seemed to have understood the meaning behind Steve's words. "What did you say?"

"I think I have made myself clear. From now on, your family and I have parted ways. My laboratory and my projects do not need your family's participation anymore," said Steve as he spread his hands.

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

"Steve, do you understand what you are doing? You are ruining your future! Nobody is willing to support you in America, other than my family. Without them, you are nothing! How dare you ask me to leave because of a Chinaman and another person?! You will regret it, for without my family, you won't have a single cent..." bellowed Frank.

Steve's expression looked dark, but he pursed his lips.

Jenny was scared out of her wits by Frank. That was because many of Steve's experiments required the help of Frank's family, and that was also the main reason why Frank was able to become one of Steve's students.

If Frank left, then Steve would not have any more funds to conduct his experiments.

At the moment, Jenny subconsciously released her grip on Tang Yin as she looked at Steve with an apologetic look on her face.

However, Tang Yin pulled Jenny back as he tilted his head and looked at Steve. "Mr. Steve, if Frank's family—the Frances Family—backs out of this, may I know whether I am allowed to invest in your project? I am quite interested in the projects that you are working on in the laboratory."

"Really?" Steve looked delighted.

"You wish to invest in this project?! What gives you the right to do so?!" Frank roared.

"Money gives me the right!" Tang Yin cast him a look as the corners of his mouth curved upwards into a smirk. He even deliberately put his arms around Jenny and pulled her to his side.

Jenny had not reacted yet. However, she could sense the delight on Steve's face, and that made her look at Tang Yin subconsciously. Tang Yin seemed to be growing more and more mysterious in her mind.

"Money?! Hah! Do you know how much a laboratory costs? How dare you pretend to be a rich tycoon in front of me?" Frank was enraged.

Tang Yin smirked as he turned around and dragged Jenny upstairs.

“Tang, Frank’s family...” Jenny opened her mouth hesitantly.

Tang Yin smiled. “Don’t worry. I’ll handle everything.”

Jenny took a look at Tang Yin’s face and was momentarily stunned as she stood rooted to the spot. She felt a certain sense of calmness within her heart. Tang Yin’s smile made her feel at ease, a feeling that she had never felt before.

Tang Yin went to Shen Xin’s bedroom upstairs.

On the other hand, Frank was still bellowing in rage downstairs and only God knew what he was shouting about. Then, they heard a loud slam. Apparently, Frank had slammed the door behind him as he walked out.

Tang Yin and Steve did not pay much attention to it at all.

For Steve, Tang Yin was a good choice if

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

Frank did not plan to increase his investment. Furthermore, although the Tang Family wasn't the top in the medical field, they held a substantial share within the industry. Steve knew this from the very beginning.

In the ward, Tang Yin nodded his head gently at Shen Xin, who looked curious.

Although Tang Yin did not know Shen Xin's condition, he could see that she looked better compared to yesterday. Anybody with eyes in their heads could see this.

"Tang, isn't this amazing?" said Jenny by the sides. "I have never seen this kind of thing before. I mean, how could a person's illness get better with a simple massage alone? This is a major discovery for me!"

"If this is a major discovery, then I am afraid that your future discoveries would shock yourself more," said Tang Yin with a smile.

"China is really a mysterious country. I think I am in love with it!" said Jenny excitedly as she looked at Tang Yin.

Tang Yin was stumped as he did not expect this foreign lady to be so direct.

Did she have to blurt her love for China out like that?

It might be the difference in their culture. After all, the people of China were more reserved, while foreigners were more open and direct.

"I need to examine her body." Tang Yin turned his gaze toward Mrs. Shen.

"Ok! Ok!" Mrs. Shen quickly nodded her head as she agreed.

Tang Yin reached out his hands and pressed down on Shen Xin's shoulders. Then, he pinched her frame as he worked his way downwards all the way until her toes. When both of his hands reached her chest, he stopped his movements as he felt something pressing down upon Shen Xin's chest.

Tang Yin stretched out his hands and fished out a piece of dark green jade from Shen Xin's chest.

There was a strange pattern inscribed upon this jade which made it look mysterious to the eyes.

"This jade was passed down by the Master of Old Master Shen. My granddaughter had it on her since she was born," explained Mrs. Shen.

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

Tang Yin hesitated for a moment before saying, "I will keep this first and I will return it to you by tomorrow..."

"Sure." Mrs. Shen kept nodding her head.

Tang Yin put the jade into his pocket. Then, he placed one hand at the bottom of her navel, and another hand upon her acupuncture point at the midline of her sternum as he started to knead those areas gently.

Since this method was effective, Tang Yin obviously had to try it out more.

Jenny watched from the sides with a curious look on her face. She even took out her mobile phone and started recording Tang Yin's techniques.

10 minutes later, Tang Yin's forehead was already soaked with sweat.

Half an hour later, everything was done.

"How is she?" asked Jenny.

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

"Let's continue our observations for now," said Tang Yin hesitantly.

"Steve, you did not expect this, did you? The people from Reese-Gandalf Company came here to pay you a visit just as you tried to drive me away just now. Have you ever thought about the fact that you are a nobody without the medical equipment?" Frank's voice could be heard from the living room downstairs.

Tang Yin frowned as he quickly turned around and headed downstairs.

"Tang, please don't get into a fight with him. The Frances Family owns some shares in the Reese-Gandalf Company. I don't wish for you to become his enemy," said Jenny as she held onto Tang Yin.

"Don't worry. I am here," said Tang Yin with a smile once again.

Jenny was stunned as she thought to herself, How could his smile be that contagious?

Tang Yin went downstairs and saw the grim look on Steve's face.

Frank was sitting on the couch in a

Chapter 147 A Piece of Jade

carefree manner. He smirked when he saw Tang Yin coming down from the stairs. "Steve, do you wish to obtain medical equipment from the Reese-Gandalf Company? You should chase him out if you want it."

Following that, Frank pointed his finger at Tang Yin.

Tang Yin approached him slowly. He saw a few impeccably dressed men standing in the center of the living room downstairs. Their gazes were fixed upon Tang Yin.

"Oh, I want you to chase out that person also." Frank pointed at Jenny, who was standing behind Tang Yin.

Jenny still had some lingering fears as she clung onto Tang Yin. On the other hand, Tang Yin smiled.

The expression of one of the men in suits changed abruptly when he saw Tang Yin.

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

"Hans, all of you must listen to me today. As long as I don't give the command, no one is allowed to sell them the equipment." Frank smiled arrogantly and pointed at Steve. "Steve, I hope that you will apologize to me immediately, or else you won't get a single thing."

Steve was enraged.

Jenny's expression looked dark as she quickly stood up and said, "Frank, let's talk about this back home. Please stop your antics here."

"So, you know how to beg me now, huh?" Frank smirked as he took two steps forward and looked at Jenny smugly. "Since you are begging me for a favor, then you should show your sincerity. You should let me feel that you are actually begging me for something."

Jenny's face flushed. "Frank, this matter has nothing to do with Tang. I hope that you won't drag other people into this."

"Oh?" Frank smirked as he looked at Tang Yin. Then, he directed his attention toward Jenny. "You mean you want to help this guy?"

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

Jenny looked ill at ease as she fixed her gaze upon Frank.

Frank shrugged. "You can help him if you want, but I feel disgusted whenever I look at him. I heard that there is a custom in China whereby one would kneel and kowtow in front of somebody they greatly admire. If he kowtows to me, I may consider to let him off the hook this time..."

Tang Yin smirked as he took a step forward.

Jenny quickly grabbed Tang Yin's wrist. "Tang, don't be rash. Please leave this matter to me and Steve."

"So, how do you plan to settle this?" Tang Yin shrugged.

Jenny's expression did not look too good.

"I am talking to you!" Frank exploded with rage as he pointed at Tang Yin. "You better kneel down and kowtow to me now, or else I will never sell these two pieces of equipment to you!"

Faced with his threats, Tang Yin merely smiled. "Did you think things will go as you wish?"

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

“That’s right. If I say I won’t sell it, I won’t. Do you have a problem with that?” Frank looked at Tang Yin in a mocking manner.

Tang Yin cocked his head to the side as he looked at Hans. “Put the equipment down.”

“Yes!” Hans nodded his head and did not say anything further as he quickly placed the two equipment on the floor.

“Hans, what do you think you are doing?! Who allowed you to put the equipment down?!” Frank was enraged as he looked on in disbelief. “What do you think you are doing? Pick up the equipment quickly. Unless I give the orders today, you cannot sell these equipment to them! I am a shareholder, so I have the final say in this matter. If they don’t do as I say, they can forget about the medical equipment!”

Hans’s gaze turned cold in that instant as he gave Frank a cold, sweeping look.

Frank was enraged. “I asked you to keep the equipment! Are you deaf or something?! You cannot sell these equipment to them!”

“Are you sure you don’t want to sell it? I have the money,” said Tang Yin as he smiled in a mocking manner.

“Do you think you are so high and mighty just because you are rich?! Did you think that you can buy anything just because you have the money?!” Frank was roaring with rage. “This is the most advanced piece of technology in the world, and it is not something a person like you can get their hands on. You better forget about it. These equipment are worth more than your gold.”

Tang Yin smiled. “Regarding the decision to sell it or not, I don’t need to stand here and listen to your nonsense. Hans, do you want to sell these equipment or not?”

“I won’t sell it, but I will give it to you as a gift.” Hans nodded his head.

“What did you say?! How dare you give this advanced piece of technology to a Chinaman?” Frank was furious.

Hans’ expression turned cold in that instant.

Steve wasn’t surprised with this turn of events. However, Jenny was shocked.

Equipment produced by the Reese-Gandalf

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

Company were considered one of the most advanced pieces of technology in the world, and Tang Yin only needed one sentence to make them put the equipment down. Moreover, he was able to make them give it to him as a gift. Originally, she intended to help him out just now, yet in the blink of an eye, he had shocked her.

Who is Tang? What does he do for a living? How can he be that powerful?

“Did you hear that? He said that he will give it to me...” Tang Yin spread his hands with a mocking expression on his face. “I feel that your words don’t carry any weight, huh?”

Frank was beside himself with rage as he pointed at Hans. “What do you think you are doing? Pick up the equipment immediately!”

Hans looked at him coldly, as if he was watching a fool.

“Hans! You ungrateful b*stard!” Frank was enraged as he pointed at Hans. “What do you think you are doing?! You better resign from your position as supervisor immediately after you get back!”

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

Hans stopped in his tracks. His cold gaze was directed upon Frank. "I feel sad for your stupidity. How could there be such a stupid person like you in the Frances Family?"

"What did you say? How dare you scold me?" Frank's expression changed abruptly.

Tang Yin tilted his head as he walked toward him, one step at a time. He looked at Frank and then at the two pieces of equipment on the floor. Then, he lifted his leg and kicked the equipment with all his might.

Smash!

Two precision instruments flew away in that instant and were smashed into pieces.

"Bring me two new pieces of equipment! I don't like these!" said Tang Yin with a smile.

"Ok! No problem!" Hans quickly nodded his head.

Everybody at the scene was shocked, especially Jenny. The two equipment just now were very valuable. How could you kick it to pieces just like that? Moreover, they even said that they would give him another two machines tomorrow!

“Hans, you...” Frank was furious.

Steve was the only one amongst them who knew what was happening. That was because he knew that although the Frances Family owned some shares in the Reese-Gandalf Company, it wasn't a substantial amount. The person who had actual control of the Reese-Gandalf Company was none other than the Tang Family as they owned 80% of Reese-Gandalf Company's shares. This was indeed a shocking piece of news.

Tang Yin walked slowly toward Frank. Then, he reached out and patted Frank's face. “See this? They are willing to give me the equipment that you said you wouldn't sell to me as a gift, and if I don't like it, I can kick it to pieces as they will give me two new ones tomorrow. These equipment do not look valuable at all!”

“You...” Frank felt that Tang Yin's smile was like the Devil himself.

“Technology? Hah! You will never understand the fact that no technology is more valuable than me!” Tang Yin smiled as he patted Frank's face again.

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

“Get lost! You better not touch me! You moron!” Frank seethed.

Tang Yin’s expression turned cold as he gave Frank a vicious slap on his face. Then, he used his other hand to grab hold of Frank’s hair and slammed him against the balcony violently.

“Argh!” Frank screamed and wailed.

Tang Yin pulled the curtains down and covered Frank’s body with it. Then, he started beating him up.

When Hans saw this, he quickly followed behind Tang Yin and gave him a helping hand.

Steve finally couldn’t hold it in anymore as he went up and gave him a kick or two as he cursed, “Scumbag!”

Jenny also rushed forward and kicked Frank’s face with her high-heel shoes.

“This is really amazing! It’s so exciting. Tang, I realized that I love this feeling!” said Jenny as she kicked him with all her might. “Did you know that I have wanted to kick him since a long time ago? Everytime I see his face, I can’t help but get pissed!”

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

“Tang, Jenny... How dare the both of you beat me up?! You guys are finished! Argh!” Frank cried out as his body trembled.

“Oh my god, Frank. I tried to hold Tang back, but I am merely a woman, so I failed to do so. You should know that my hands are only good with the scalpel,” explained Jenny as she kicked him at the same time, pity written all over her face.

Tang Yin cocked his head and looked at her. She looked very sexy kicking him with her fair, slender legs. Moreover, she was wearing a tight-fitting T-shirt on her upper body. Her bosom bounced up and down following her movements. They looked plump and full.

“Y-You all...” Frank continued to cry out.

It took more than 10 minutes for Tang Yin to stop. Frank was on the verge of death after being beaten up like that, his body twitching from time to time.

Tang Yin smirked as he crouched down and lifted the curtains, revealing Frank’s face.

“Tang! You disgusting Chinaman!” Frank cursed.

Chapter 148 Ripping Your Mouth

Tang Yin's gaze looked cold as he reached out his hand and grabbed the corner of Frank's mouth. Then, he yanked it forcefully. "I have tolerated you for many days already. If it wasn't for Steve, the only possibility left for you is death."

"Argh!" Frank gave a blood-curdling cry. However, his cries sounded strange because the corners of his mouth were in Tang Yin's grasp.

Tang Yin's gaze looked cold to the point where it made people tremble. "Did no one ever teach you any manners while you were growing up? Did no one tell you that you can die easily for saying the wrong thing?"

Frank felt the corner of his mouth was hurting more and more. At the moment, he finally came to a realization that Tang Yin might rip his mouth wide open, and that he might be killed.

Frank finally panicked.

"Tang, I am from the Frances Family. My family is very powerful in America..."

Tang Yin's expression was cold as he said quietly, "I don't care whether your family is powerful, even in Heaven. A lot of things demand that you pay the price.”

With that, Tang Yin yanked hard.

"Argh!"

Frank let out another blood-curdling scream as he writhed on the floor in agony. The corner of his mouth was ripped open by Tang Yin as blood continued to pour out of his wounds.

Tang Yin's expression was cold as he grabbed Frank's hair. "We do have the custom of kowtowing as a form of apology in China. I really want to try it on you."

Frank looked at Tang Yin's face in fear as he tried to curl his body up subconsciously. "Tang, I am one of the members of the Frances family..."

Tang Yin kicked him in the face. "Do you know how to kowtow and apologize?"

"Yes..." Frank gritted his teeth as he trembled in his heart. He felt that if he did not apologize today, he would be unable to walk out of here alive.

Tang Yin smirked. "No need for that. I feel that it is such a disgrace to have you kneeling in front of me like that."

Frank gritted his teeth, his heart full of rage.

Tang Yin looked at Hans. "You guys met Young Master Frank, who was beaten up outside, hence you guys came to his rescue, understand?"

"Understood!" Hans did not even bother to lift the curtains that were covering Frank's body as he lifted him up and walked outside.

Jenny was scared out of her wits by Tang Yin, and thus she was anxious. "Tang, you shouldn't do that. It is alright for us to give him a good beating, but there is no reason for you to humiliate him like that. The Frances family is terrifying..."

Tang Yin pressed his lips together into a smile. "No worries."

"Tang, if you did it for my sake, I would feel guilty," said Jenny with an apologetic look on her face.

"It's nothing like that. Don't worry, I can handle it alone." Tang Yin gave her an embarrassing smile and did not say anything further as he turned and left the mansion.

He felt refreshed after leaving the mansion. Even the air he breathed felt refreshing.

Frank had a foul mouth, hence Tang Yin wanted to give him a taste of his own medicine. If Frank continued to spew utter nonsense from his mouth, Tang Yin would definitely cripple him.

Tang Yin hailed a cab and made his way to the hospital.

Back in the hospital, Tang Yin fished out the jade pendant and placed it in front of Hu Song.

Hu Song stared at the jade pendant as a shock expression flashed across his eyes. "Did you find this on that girl?"

"That's right!" Tang Yin nodded his head.

"Kid, you are really lucky. Do you know what this is?" Hu Song looked surprised, even shocked.

"What is this?" Tang Yin could feel Hu Song's intense gaze. As such, he felt that the jade pendant was no ordinary item.

Hu Song groaned slightly. Then, he said softly, "I told you this before—regarding the concept of Inner Energy and Qi. Actually in a martial arts practitioner's eyes, Inner Energy is just another form of inner strength. However, in the eyes of certain people, Inner Energy and inner strength are collectively called Qi. Nobody knows exactly what Qi is..."

Tang Yin listened intently for he did not dare to interrupt Hu Song.

Hu Song continued, "When humans started cultivating their Inner Energy, they found a certain type of jade which could enhance the speed of their Inner Energy cultivation. Hence, they collectively refer to these jade artifacts as the Qi-Conveying Jade. This jade can help a person in his cultivation. As for its effects, I am not sure about it to this day..."

"Is it really that amazing?" asked Tang Yin with a frown.

Hu Song smiled and nodded his head. "The world is full of wonders. Actually, this jade pendant is considered a treasure by itself. If an adult wears it, it will enhance their circulation and prevent all kinds of diseases. However, if a child wears it, it will affect his or her growth and development.

If I am not mistaken, these strange symptoms occurred after the child wore this jade pendant..."

Tang Yin was stunned. "In a manner of speaking, if we were to take this jade pendant away, then would she be back to normal?"

"Not necessarily." Hu Song shook his head. "It might alleviate her symptoms slightly, but I am afraid that it would be difficult if she wants to make a full recovery. That child has worn this jade for too long, hence I am afraid that it might have done some damage to her body. If she wants to make a full recovery, you have to inject some Qi into her body to guide the Qi in her body..."

After listening to Hu Song's words, Tang Yin felt that this jade pendant was a mysterious thing. Growing up, he had heard his fair share of legends and myths, but this was the first time he heard of such a realistic explanation.

At the moment, the phone rang again.

Tang Yin answered the call. Jenny's delighted voice was heard through the other end of the phone. "Tang, it is really amazing! 3 hours have passed since you left, and that girl is doing great. She does not exhibit any prodromes at all. I am really impressed. Can you tell me how you did it?"

Tang Yin laughed drily as he said, "I will tell you this in the future."

"Ok, I will wait for you then. You are really awesome." Jenny laughed happily.

Tang Yin hung up the phone and gave Hu Song a thumbs up. It seemed that Shen Xin exhibited polio-like symptoms due to this jade pendant. Now that the jade pendant was taken off her, her body was on the road to recovery.

"I will take this jade pendant away with me first. I will leave for a few days as I need to find somebody to check this jade pendant to see whether there are any other problems with it..." Hu Song kept the jade pendant and turned around to leave. "I will return in 3 days. For now, let Yin Number One protect you. It shouldn't be a problem at all."

"Ok!" Tang Yin nodded his head and did not say anything further.

Hu Song wanted to take the jade pendant away as he might have his own means of investigating it. Hence, Tang Yin wasn't particularly worried about it.

That night, in a dark corner of Wuhan, Frank was looking murderous at the moment.

"I don't care what method you use, but I want him to disappear completely from the surface of the Earth! I want his entire family to disappear as well! Leave no one behind!"

"Young Master, we have contacted some men already, but none of them are willing to take on the job." A cold voice was heard from the other end of the phone.

"What the f*ck do you do for a living?! How could you not understand a simple matter such as this?!" Frank growled as he said angrily, "I will give you one week to settle this as I will stay in China for a week. You must act after one week, you hear me?!"

There was only silence at the other end of the phone.

"Do you hear me?!" Frank bellowed. The corner of his mouth was so painful that his body started to tremble.

“Ok!” The person at the other end of the line finally responded. Then, he said softly, “Young Master, I will re-post the mission again. However, I cannot be certain how many people will show up. I will contact the Mafia organization in Italy and ask them to come to China as quickly as possible.”

(T/N: I think there might be a typo, it might be 意大利, instead of 意利)

“Good!” Frank hung up the phone directly as he kicked away the stray cat in the alley. Then, he turned around and entered a slum.

Frank could not accept what happened today. He could not accept the fact that he was beaten up by a Chinaman, hence he had to have his revenge. Not only would he exact his revenge upon Tang Yin, he would exact his revenge upon Steve as well. In addition to that, he would also exact his revenge upon that b*tch, Jenny.

Several people saw this scene from a distance as they gave each other a wink before rushing back to report this.

At dawn the next day, Tang Yin was started on drips in the hospital. In the afternoon, after greeting Meng Wan and Ji Youyou, he left for Lakeside Residences again.

When Jenny saw that Tang Yin had arrived, she greeted him warmly. She looked delighted as she said, "Tang Yin, do you know that since you left yesterday, the patient's polio-like attacks have been reduced to only four times."

"Only four times?" Tang Yin felt relieved as he looked at Shen Xin, who was lying on the couch at a distance.

"It's true!" Jenny was extremely happy to the point where she did not know how to convey her emotions. She leapt with joy as she said, "Do you know that this is nothing short of a miracle? It is totally unheard of in the history of medicine!"

Tang Yin smiled, but he couldn't bear to interrupt her. If what Hu Song said was true, then Shen Xin's recovery had nothing to do with medicine; instead it had some kind of inexplicable connection to the mysterious Qi.

He could not explain this to the girl before him, hence he decided to keep his silence.

A travel-worn Mr. Shen arrived today. His eyes were slightly red when he saw that his granddaughter was on the path of recovery.

“Tang Yin...” Mr. Shen held Tang Yin’s hands, his face full of gratitude. “Thank you for all that you have done for us. The Shen Family swears their loyalty to you. They are yours to command in the future.”

Tang Yin waved his hands. “Let’s just follow our original agreement. By the way, I need to keep that piece of jade and I might return it to you in a few years.”

“I will give you that jade as a gift. It is not really a valuable jade anyway as it is merely a keepsake left behind by my Master back then. I haven’t even thanked you properly yet for curing my granddaughter. This ordinary jade is nothing to me, so take it,” said Mr. Shen gratefully.

Tang Yin knew that it wasn’t any ordinary jade; it was a treasure. The only thing was, he could not explain this to Mr. Shen for now, hence he decided to keep it a secret. If this thing was really a treasure and was highly valued by people like Hu Song, it would cause some trouble if he were to hand it back to Mr. Shen now.

Tang Yin only turned around and left the Shen Family after giving Shen Xin another massage for half an hour.

Mr. Shen caught up to him. "Tang Yin, there will be a Jade Fair next month. If you want to launch your own jade shop, you should take this opportunity to participate in it. Moreover, if I can complete the jade artifact that you requested of me, we can try..."

"Is that true? Well, we should go there to take a look for ourselves." Tang Yin smiled and agreed.

After bidding Mr. Shen farewell, Tang Yin waved down a cab and rushed toward the hospital.

A BMW was seen following close behind him.

Yuan Zhian was driving the BMW. Her gaze looked intense as she called Yang Qin's number and asked, "How are the preparations on your side?"

"Everything is ready. We can make our move tonight," whispered Yang Qin. "Zhian, I am sure that Tang Yin will accept your feelings after tonight and Ji Youyou will leave here dejectedly.”

“Ok, then we should make our move now.”
Yuan Zhian nodded her head as she floored the accelerator and followed behind him.

Chapter 150 Yuan Zhian's Schemes Part Two

After returning to the hospital, Tang Yin first went to Ji Youyou and Meng Wan's ward.

Both of them have made tremendous progress in their recovery these days, especially Meng Wan. Her injuries were not serious, but her collarbone was cracked. She wore the fixator for two days before medical experts assessed that she had recovered and gave her permission to take off the fixator.

As long as she avoided touching her collarbone, Meng Wan was no different from a normal person.

Ji Youyou was in worse condition. Although she could walk already, she still could not walk at the speed of a normal person.

After chatting a while with them in the ward, Tang Yin found that both of them were a little reserved, especially Meng Wan who hardly spoke. Ji Youyou was not very interested in conversing with them, looking a little shy.

Tang Yin pursed the corners of his mouth in frustration and had no other choice but to return to his ward for now.

At night, the nurses in the hospital hooked Tang Yin up to IV drips.

Tang Yin looked at the nurse who walked in, frowning slightly. "Didn't I already receive my IV infusions in the morning? Why do I need to be hooked up to the IV drip again at night?"

"This is for your physical rehabilitation. I was assigned by the doctor to do this, so I don't know the specifics!" The nurse smiled reluctantly.

Tang Yin nodded. Although he felt a little suspicious in his heart, he didn't protest any further.

As the liquid in the IV bottle dripped into his blood vessels bit by bit, Tang Yin felt his body heat up; even his manhood was starting to have an erection.

Tang Yin sat up subconsciously, feeling that something was wrong. He hurriedly raised his head and glanced at the IV liquid, but everything in front of him had become fuzzy.

Feeling his consciousness slipping away, Tang Yin was shocked. He hurriedly pulled out the needle from the back of his hand and flung it aside, staggering out of bed.

At this time in Ji Youyou and Meng Wan's ward, the two girls had just finished receiving their IV infusions. Just as Meng Wan was about to help Ji Youyou replace the IV liquid, she found a black phone beside Ji Youyou's pillow.

"Is this... Tang Yin's cell phone?" Meng Wan was a little surprised.

Ji Youyou also froze for a moment. "Yeah. Why is it here?"

"I'll change the IV drip for you first. After that, I'll send it to him, lest someone try to contact him later on!" Meng Wan said, helping Ji Youyou change the IV drip bottle. She then looked at Ji Youyou, and said jokingly, "I'm going to tell Tang Yin that you mentioned his name when you were talking in your sleep last night!"

"No!" Ji Youyou hurriedly yelled, blushing a little.

Meng Wan giggled and walked out of the ward, cheerfully heading to Tang Yin's room.

At this time in the nurse's duty room of the hospital, Yuan Zhian had changed into a sexy nurse's uniform, a trace of confusion in her eyes. However, when she recalled Tang Yin's handsome face, she was filled with determination.

Yang Qin said to her by the side, "Go ahead, the medicine should have taken effect by now. You should hurry up! I have already started the video recording, and I will send it to Ji Youyou later. You must seize this chance!"

"Yeah!" Yuan Zhian nodded as she opened the door of the duty room and walked toward Tang Yin's room with a blush on her face.

Yuan Zhian felt a little scared thinking about how they drugged Tang Yin and pitted him against Ji Youyou. However, whenever she thought of him, she was determined to go through with their plan.

Just then, a beautiful figure entered Tang Yin's ward, giving Yuan Zhian a shock.

As soon as Meng Wan entered Tang Yin's ward, she realized that something was unusual with Tang Yin. His eyes were red while his breathing was heavy. He raised one hand feebly, staring at Meng Wan like a wolf.

"Tang Yin, what's the matter with you?"
Meng Wan was shocked and hurriedly walked up.

Tang Yin felt the heat coursing through his body as his reason and consciousness were dissipating bit by bit. "Quick, lock the door of the ward. I may have been drugged. Hurry up and lock the door so that no one else can come in!"

Meng Wan hurriedly locked the ward in shock.

At this time, Yuan Zhijian had quickly walked over to the door of Tang Yin's ward, but when she pushed the door, she found that the door was completely locked.

"Damn it!" Yuan Zhizheng was furious and slammed the door with her hand angrily, but to no avail. By then, the surrounding bystanders were all looking at her curiously, making Yuan Zhizheng a little flustered.

The phone rang. Yuan Zhijian hurriedly picked up the phone and heard Yang Qin's somewhat horrified voice on the other end of the line. “Zhian, why didn't you go in? What's the matter? Why is there another girl in his ward?”

“I had miscalculated my timing. How would I have known that someone would come over?” Yuan Zhian cursed.

“Come back now. Don't get discovered by anyone!” Yang Qin said hurriedly.

Yuan Zhi smashed the door angrily before turning around and walked towards the duty room.

In the ward, Tang Yin felt his strength fading away. The heat engulfing his body was becoming more and more intense until he licked his lips uncontrollably.

“Tang Yin, what's wrong?” Meng Wan turned pale with fright.

Tang Yin grabbed her wrist with one hand and felt a thud in his heart, as if an alarm had gone off in his head.

“Tang Yin...” Meng Wan was frightened and hurriedly took out her cell phone, wanting to make a call.

Chapter 150 Yuan Zhian's Schemes Part Two

"G-Go away!" Tang Yin yelled, his eyes bloodshot. "Go away! I was drugged, so you should leave now..."

"Huh?" Meng Wan took two steps back in panic and hurried to the door of the ward.

"Ah..." Tang Yin looked at Meng Wan's back. How charming and enchanting. Although Tang Yin had seen countless beautiful women before, he couldn't control the lust in his heart at this moment.

Meng Wan was indeed a beauty. Plus, due to her family background and the environment she grew up in, she had grown up into an elegant aristocratic woman. Each and every smile and movement of hers was gratifying. The refreshing feeling she gave off, in addition to her beautiful appearance, made her even more charming. The most amazing thing about her was her temperament, which had enchanted countless many men.

"Ah..." At this moment, Tang Yin's mind was already burning with lust. Looking at Meng Wan's back, he immediately pounced on her.

Chapter 150 Yuan Zhian's Schemes Part Two

Meng Wan had just touched the door of the ward. Before she could open the door, she felt an arm wrap around her waist roughly, pulling her back.

“Stop...” Meng Wan burst into tears immediately.

Even though Meng Wan had always loved Tang Yin in her heart, she never wanted things to turn out like this. The reason why she came to Wuhan was because she wanted to start a relationship with Tang Yin, not because she wanted to have sex with Tang Yin in such a state.

“Ah!” Tang Yin howled like a beast, and threw Meng Wan onto the bed.

Meng Wan burst into tears as pain seared through her collarbone. But at this moment, Tang Yin had already pounced on her with bloodshot eyes.
