Chapter 201 You Are Surrounded

Nathan Cross said calmly, "I don't care who you are, but you have to look at this rationally. Remember, rationality is the root of all success. Without it, you can't do anything."

"Are you here to preach?" Douglas Hayes let out a scoff. "Fine then. Why don't you tell me how rationale it is for you to beat my nephew and son up like this?" he continued.

With a cold tone, Nathan responded, "Your nephew is flippant and flirted with my wife. He even asked his bodyguard to break my limbs. I'm sure that it is fair for me to snap just one of his bones?"

"As for your son, he brought a dozen people to smash up someone else's restaurant and even threatened to beat up anyone who protested. Don't you think that he deserved what he got? Even with that, I have only broken just one of his limbs."

Instantly, Douglas turned displeased. "So, according to your logic, I should be punished too? After all, I was the one who sent the men to destroy Thomas' restaurant and injured his men."

Nathan told him with a faint smile on his face, "It seems like you are rather smart. I am giving you one more chance now."

"Let go of Thomas, compensate him, then apologize. I will forget everything that has happened."

Upon hearing his words, Douglas, Caleb Lowe, William Hayes burst into a fit of laughter, along with Jerry Zabinski and the rest.

This young man was indeed fearless! He was still boasting up till now!

A wry smile appeared on Douglas' face as he snorted, "Pfft, you may forget what happened, but I don't think I would be able to do that."

After saying this, he turned his head to look at William and Giovanni as he asked, "You two, tell me how you want to vent your frustrations. Should I beat them to

“Or maybe I should send them to the mines and work them to their deaths?”

With a sinister expression plastered on his face, Giovanni replied, “Uncle, I have no patience for prolonged torture. I prefer things to be quick, simple, and violent. Let’s just kill him tonight.”

Upon hearing this, Douglas told Caleb, “Did you hear them? Send these three idiots to their deaths now.”

Meanwhile, Nathan had a nonchalant expression and Thomas was unfazed. On the other hand, Jack, who was unaware of Nathan’s identity and prowess, collapsed onto the floor with his face as pale as a sheet as he was terrified.

Narrowing his eyes, Nathan said, “As it

Douglas jeered at that, "Haha! You are still so full of pride even when you are on the brink of death. Caleb, hurry up! Are you waiting for me to do it myself?"

Just as he finished speaking, Caleb fished out a gun and pointed it at Nathan with a sly smile. He asked, "Young man, why are you this arrogant?"

At that moment, a loud rumble followed by loud gasps could be heard from outside.

The next thing they knew, the loud emergency sirens of the Armed Forces approached the scene.

Douglas and the rest turned suspicious and was surprised. What was going on outside?

Suddenly, one of the sentries rushed in and exclaimed, "Sir! Something happened outside!"

“What is going on! Stop behaving so frantically! Don’t forget that you guys are reserved soldiers. What are you so afraid of?” Douglas’s voice boomed at the sentry.

He responded with a face full of panic, “Sir, special forces are outside. They have surrounded us entirely!”

Terrified, the sentry continued, “They are the Dragonfury Special Forces from the North. They have just surrounded us in a very aggressive manner!”

“They even came in tanks and combat vehicles, and said that they will destroy this place if anything happens to Nathan Cross and Thomas Dunn!”

Chapter 202 I Have To Report This

How could the Dragonfury Special Forces surround this place because of two insignificant men like Nathan Cross and Thomas Dunn?

They even said that they will destroy this place if something happens to them?

All of them looked at the sentry in disbelief. Douglas yelled as he was infuriated, "How dare they!"

Then, there came loud and powerful footsteps approaching the door.

The next second, an officer kicked down the door and entered in an imposing manner, along with a group of heavily-armed Dragonfury soldiers.

The Dragonfury soldiers raised their assault rifles and pointed them at Douglas and the rest the moment they stepped in.

Colin commanded in a deep voice, "This place is under the control of the Dragonfury Special Forces. Whoever moves will be shot!"

The soldiers replied loudly in unison, “Yes, sir!”

Caleb and his men tossed their weapons onto the ground and raised their hands to surrender.

Douglas, William, Jerry and Giovanni were all stupefied.

Nathan approached Caleb and said calmly, “Didn’t you ask me why I was this arrogant earlier?”

The latter’s face cringed in horror. He stuttered but no words came out of his mouth.

Nathan raised his leg and sent a kick towards Caleb’s kneecap. Instantly, the bone snapped and his leg was broken.

Caleb knelt in front of him as he screamed in agony,

“Everyone of us from the North Army behaves this arrogantly!” Nathan told him casually.

Douglas and the rest were already shocked with how Colin Dunne had surrounded this place along with his men.

However, their jaws dropped even more when they saw Nathan broke Caleb's legs with just one single kick.

Douglas looked at Nathan in shock.

Caleb Lowe was his right-hand man and similar to his assistant. Was Nathan Cross not afraid that he would suffer the consequences if he lay a finger on him?

Douglas looked at Nathan Cross, Colin, and the rest of their men. Then, he spoke with a pale face, "How dare you surround the Armed Forces and even injured my right-hand man! I will definitely report this to the superiors and make sure you are held responsible for your action!"

Nathan's lips twisted slightly and a faint smile crept onto his face. Fixing his eyes on Douglas, he said, "You are such an interesting character. When I was trying to be reasonable with you, you just had to resort to violence. Now that I use violence, you do a 180-degree turn and try to talk reason with me.”

Colin looked at Douglas and his gang and scoffed, “You behave exactly like a despicable man!”

Douglas was seething with anger. As the Captain of the reserved army, his position was the same as Colin’s, and they were both officers!

Nevertheless, Colin had no respect for him. How could he remain calm and composed?

However, Douglas also knew that Colin Dunne was an officer in an active unit. Not only that, he was an officer in the special forces.

Naturally, he could afford not to show a man like him any respect!

Just then, a man rushed in suddenly.

It was none other than Douglas Hayes’ superior, Bruce Lennington. He was also the person-in-charge of Channing's Armed Forces.

Bruce saw the soldiers from Dragonfury pointing their guns at Douglas and the rest the moment he stepped in. He also saw Nathan and Colin, as well as Caleb who was still yelling in pain on the ground.

His body went numb upon seeing the mess!

Unlike Douglas, he knew clearly who Nathan Cross was.

He cursed Douglas under his breath when he knew that he had offended Nathan who was regarded as the Ares of the North.

Douglas could have offended anyone else, but not him!

I suppose if I came a little later, the whole battalion may have been wiped out by the Dragonfury forces.

Bruce jogged into the room with panic

“How dare you say that we are all from the military? You guys are just rats! Rats! Did you hear me?”

Douglas and the rest looked at Bruce as though he was their savior.

After all, Bruce was a Colonel and was higher in rank than Colin Dunne.

The military was extremely strict about ranks and superiority. Hence, everyone thought that Bruce Lennington’s appearance would make Colin back off.

However, Colin’s behavior was beyond everyone’s expectations. He showed no respect towards Bruce and even chided

Bruce was on the verge of bursting out in anger. He wanted to tape up Douglas Hayes' mouth so badly so that he would not spout nonsense anymore.

Report this to the superiors? Nathan Cross was the General for the North Army, China's Ares of the North!

You want him to be punished? It is good enough that he is not punishing you now!

Bruce sniffed slightly and wiped the cold sweat from his forehead. He continued to explain by showing a pitiful face to Nathan and Colin, "I'm sure there are some misunderstandings here..."

Colin scoffed, "I don't think so. This man here wants to report this to the superiors. Why don't you go ahead and do it? If I could remember correctly, you guys are under General Franklin Wilson in Channing's Navy Division. If you don't have his number, I can call him for you!"

Upon hearing Colin’s words, Douglas’ heart skipped a beat and he knew immediately that something bad was about to happen.

Colin placed the phone on speaker and passed it to Douglas.

The latter was shaking from head to toe. This was a call to Franklin Wilson so he dared not reject the call. He could only take the phone from Colin quickly.

Cautiously, he greeted Franklin over the phone.

Franklin’s powerful and loud voice rang from the phone, “Hayes!”

Perhaps an officer like Bruce would be demoted to become a sergeant too!

It was literally sending him to hell!

He would not be where he was today without Nathan’s training.

It didn’t matter whether it was Douglas Hayes or Bruce Lennington, Franklin would not hesitate to punish them as long as they crossed Nathan.

He hung up immediately without giving any chance for Douglas to object.

The latter could only look at Colin. His eyes were full of desperation, anger, and fear at once.

Bruce’s eyes darted towards Nathan for a second before he responded, “I think this arrangement is reasonable. I agree with it and there is no objection from me.”

Meanwhile, Nathan was not in a rush to leave. His gaze moved over to Jerry and Giovanni who were quivering at the corner.

Fixing his gaze on Jerry, he said indifferently, “Didn’t I tell you to stay away the last time we met? I can’t believe you dare to offend me. Well, congratulations then, you have provoked me successfully.”

Astonished and terrified, he slowly made eye contact with Nathan.

This threat is so ruthless!

After that, Nathan ignored the rest and walked out with Colin and Thomas.

The moment Nathan and Colin led the Dragonfury Special Forces out of the place, the crowd in the hall heaved a sigh of relief and started murmuring among themselves.

Everyone focused their attention on Bruce Lennington.

They felt that he must know something since he was so afraid of Nathan and Colin.

As such, Bruce dared not reveal who he really was. As he looked at the number of questions from the crowd, he could only keep his response vague, "I heard that Nathan and Thomas used to be part of the North Army. They must be Colin Dunne's soldiers so it's natural for him to be so protective over them then."

Nathan arranged for Thomas to be treated at a hospital and left Jack and a couple of men to stand guard.

After which, he returned home. It was almost dawn by then.

He quickly headed to bed. When he woke up, it was already in the afternoon.

Nathan did not want to poke his nose into Kylie’s personal life. However, he frowned upon hearing what those two men had to say about Shawn.

His phone rang at that moment and it was Thomas Dunn who called.

Thomas reported, “Sir, ten days have passed. The Zabinski family gave no sh*t about your warning. There was no sign of retreating from them.”

He set up this reunion deliberately after learning from Jane that Kylie would be coming to Channing for a visit.

The few classmates in the private room including Jane were all bribed by him.

All of them only had one motive, and that was to make Kylie Tonkins as drunk as possible so that Shawn would have an opportunity to sleep with her.

Hence, the moment they stepped in, Shawn and the rest tried various ways to make Kylie drink.

With a lewd smile, Shawn replied, “Well, it seems like you aren’t all that foolish after all. Unfortunately, you only realized it now and it’s too late! Kylie, my beauty, I have waited long for this day to come.”

Shawn was seething with anger too when he saw Nathan, "Dude, are you here to spoil the fun?"

Nathan replied coldly, "Let go of her, and I will let you off. But if she were to report you to the police later, that's none of my business."

With a sly smile, Shawn said, "Haha, so you want to be the hero here? Take a look around, do you know where you are? This club is protected by Scorpion from Channing. That man is my sworn brother. But it's alright if you want to die, I'm more than happy to grant you this wish!”

The moment Shawn said this, a group of people entered from the corridor outside.

The lead was a man who looked around thirty years old and was dressed in a black leather jacket.

There was a horrific-looking scorpion tattoo on his neck. It was clear that this was none other than the follower of the Zabinski’s family in Alberesque, Scorpion.

Behind him stood a dozen of men who were armed with knives and pipes. He stole a glance at the door and moved his murderous gaze onto Nathan, “Are you here to destroy this place?”

Shawn treated Scorpion like his saviors and immediately approached him, “Scorpion, this man tried to spoil my mood and even vandalized your place. You have to punish him for me.”

Everyone glared at Nathan but he treated them as though they were not there.

Chapter 207 Those Who Stop Me Shall Pay

He walked over and carried Kylie who had been drugged and drowsy while he comforted her calmly, "It's alright now. I will get you out of this."

Kylie merely let out a soft groan amidst her drowsiness.

While she could not make out Nathan's face, she still felt reassured and at peace as she rested her head against his sturdy chest. Kylie felt that this man carrying her was an extremely reliable one.

With her in his arms, Nathan walked over to the door and warned, "Block my path, and you shall pay the price."

Scorpion scoffed and waved his hand,
“Boys, destroy this arrogant prick.”

Immediately, the men who stood behind him charged at Nathan’s direction aggressively.

Even though Kylie was streaming in and out of consciousness, she knew what was going on and instinctively grabbed onto Nathan’s shirt.

One of the men approached Nathan, raised the pipe in his hands, and wanted to hit it on his head.

Nathan raised his legs and kicked the man’s kneecap in retaliation.

Snap! The man’s knee was broken as he collapsed onto the floor in agony and knelt in front of Nathan.

Meanwhile, Nathan continued to walk towards the exit.

Another two men armed with knives went forward.

Chapter 208 Destroy This Arrogant Prick

Within a flash, Nathan sent two kicks to each of their chests and they flew out with blood spewing out of their mouths.

It was like he was a predator in its element as he strolled casually out of the room with Kylie in his arms. With every step he took, someone was bound to scream in agony.

Scorpion did not expect him to be an adept fighter. None of his men was Nathan's match!

He fished out a sharp dagger, let out a growl in anger and dived towards Nathan.

The latter struck with a high kick and hit Scorpion in the chin.

Upon the impact, a resounding crack of some bones echoed throughout the room.

Scorpion's body flew out just like the string to the kite that had just snapped off.

With a loud rumble, he landed on the wall along the corridors and slid down onto the floor. Nobody knew whether he would be able to survive this ordeal.

Shawn and the rest looked on with a stupefied expression on their faces. As much as they wanted to run, their legs were shaking and they could only stand rooted to their spots.

They could not muster up the strength to run due to their fear.

Just as Nathan sent the kick to Scorpion, he stopped right in front of Shawn and his gaze drifted to him.

As Shawn made eye contact, he felt as though he was struck by lightning as his body shook uncontrollably. He tumbled to the ground and knelt in front of Nathan.

His shivering lips wanted to beg for mercy, but all he could do was to stutter.

With a nonchalant expression, he stared down at Shawn who was trembling, and told him, "Please wipe the blood off my shoes."

Chapter 208 Destroy This Arrogant Prick

Shawn was puzzled for a moment as he looked at the leather shoe on Nathan's left leg.

There was a blood-red stain on it, that was there when Nathan kicked Scorpion earlier.

"Yes, yes, I will wipe it off for you..."

He wanted to get his handkerchief but could not find it in a state of panic.

Frantically, he leaned forward and used his shirt to wipe off the bloodstain on Nathan's shoe.

"Thank you!"

Nathan thanked him quickly and walked off with Kylie in his arms.

Shawn only heaved a sigh of relief after he made sure that this omnipotent figure disappeared from his sight.

However, the next moment, he felt a warm sensation in between his legs. It turned out that he had pissed in his pants.

Chapter 208 Destroy This Arrogant Prick

Meanwhile, Kylie held onto Nathan's clothes and wrapped her arms around him tightly.

She could roughly make out the situation while she was still drowsy and could not see what happened clearly.

It was just the same when a man was tipsy but still conscious of his surroundings.

She knew that a powerful and brave man saved her by risking his life. He was her hero!

Nathan carried Kylie out of the Indigo Club. Then, he opened his car door and placed her into the backseat.

The aphrodisiac was taking its effect on Kylie. She continuously pulled on Nathan's shirt and did the same with her face flushed. Not only that, she continued to moan and squirm in the seat.

Nathan felt very embarrassed so he quickly freed himself of her grasp and closed the car door.

He went over to the driver's seat to start the car and sent Kylie to the hospital.

Just as the car sped off, Thomas brought close to a hundred men and barged into Indigo Club.

With a low voice, he commanded, "Destroy this place!"

In an instant, everything inside the Indigo Club was smashed. The floor was scattered with glass pieces, furniture was overturned and walls were vandalized. It was truly a destitute sight.

Chapter 209 He Is Not A Good Match For My Sister

Nathan drove to Channing Central Hospital and carried Kylie to the emergency room. He found a female doctor and said, "Doctor, her drink was spiked. Please save her."

The female doctor quickly called a few other female nurses and they carried Kylie onto a bed and perform the necessary procedure.

Not long after Nathan settled the bills, the doctor came over to inform him that Kylie was fine and could be discharged half an hour later when she woke up.

He was worried that Kylie would feel embarrassed because of what happened earlier.

As such, he decided to withdraw himself from the matter and told the doctor not to reveal who he was.

After which, he left.

As he stepped out of the hospital, he noticed that one of the buttons on his shirt was gone. Perhaps it was yanked out by someone else earlier.

Chapter 209 He Is Not A Good Match For My Sister

He shook his head with a bitter smile on his face. What is going on tonight?

Meanwhile, Kylie woke up to find herself in a hospital ward.

She felt rather weak but was starting to gain her sense and became more clear-headed.

The first thing she did was to check on herself. She looked down to check her clothes and saw that they were neat and tidy. Most importantly, there was nothing wrong with her body apart from feeling weak.

Kylie heaved a sigh of relief after confirming that she was not sexually violated.

Upon this, she recalled the heroic man who risked his life and saved her amidst facing attacks from a bunch of ferocious and aggressive gangsters.

Chapter 209 He Is Not A Good Match For My Sister

She looked around the ward but there was no sign of that man.

However, there was a shirt button in her palms. She recalled that she accidentally yanked it off because she held onto him really tight.

At this moment, the doctor came in with her fellow nurses and checked on her with a smile, "Ah, you are awake. Are you feeling alright?"

"I'm alright. May I know who sent me to the hospital? Did he leave any contact?" Kylie asked hurriedly.

The doctor remembered Nathan's instructions and replied with a smile, "It was just a kind-hearted man, but he did not leave his name nor any contact number."

Kylie looked so disappointed after hearing that.

She looked down at the button in her palms. Suddenly, she lifted her gaze and asked the doctor curiously, “Doctor, is that man uh...handsome?”

Chapter 209 He Is Not A Good Match For My Sister

The doctor seemed to understand her intentions and told her, “Well, he looked around the same age as you. As for his appearance, I would say he is quite good looking and charming.”

Kylie’s eyes flashed with excitement. I wonder when can I meet him again?

Nathan returned home at night.

Leah was busy preparing dinner in the kitchen.

Penny Smith was helping her daughter with her homework. When she saw Nathan returning home alone, she asked him with a shocked expression, “Nathan, why are you alone? Where is Kylie?”

Nathan replied calmly, “She said that she wanted to attend a gathering so I didn’t need to pick her up. She would come back on her own when the gathering is over.”

Penny and the rest nodded after hearing his explanation.

After half an hour, dinner was cooked and Leah asked everyone to gather at the dining table.

The doorbell rang and Penny went to open the door hurriedly. It was indeed Kylie.

However, the latter looked rather lethargic and Penny thought it was because of the long hours she spent traveling.

Without thinking much, Penny greeted her enthusiastically, “Kylie! You are here! Come on in.”

Benson and Leah brought Queenie out too and greeted Kylie in a warm and welcoming manner.

“Aunt!” Queenie waved to her and greeted her affectionately.

“What a good girl,” Kylie picked her up and gave her a kiss.

However, Kylie quickly realized that everyone else welcomed her arrival except her brother-in-law. He sat at the dining table quietly and drank his soup without greeting her at the door. He only gave her a small nod when he saw her.

A long time ago, Kylie heard that Penny was bullied by an alcoholic, homeless man. After which, she got pregnant and was looked down upon and bullied by the rest of the Smiths.

She even heard that this man came to look for Penny recently and got together with her again.

As an educated woman, Kylie thought that this was ridiculous and felt that Penny should not be stuck in such a predicament.

Needless to say, Nathan left an extremely bad impression on Kylie.

However, she could not comprehend why

Penny's family treated him so well.

Leah noticed that Kylie kept staring at Nathan and quickly introduced him, "This is your brother-in-law, Nathan Cross. He went to the airport to pick you up this afternoon. I'm sure you two have met."

Kylie remarked nonchalantly, "Yes, we met earlier. But I will not say that he is my brother-in-law. He is not a good match for my sister!"

Penny was confused so she asked her while at a loss, “Kylie, what are you saying?”

Kylie asserted, “I’m just telling the truth. Penny, you are already the boss of a listed company. What about him? I don’t even want to start with what he did to you then.”

“He is still the same after such a long time! On top of that, he’s unemployed and lives on you.”

Penny, Benson, and Leah were speechless and dumbfounded at her words.

Queenie heard Kylie bad-mouthing her father and she was the first to show her displeasure so she got down from Kylie’s arms.

The little girl jogged to Nathan and spread her arms out to protect Nathan as she huffed, “Aunt Kylie, I don’t like how you are bad-mouthing my Papa! He’s the best Papa in the world!”

Penny added in quickly, “Kylie, Nathan and I am in a rather complicated relationship. It's hard to tell you all at once now. But I can assure you that Nathan is not as bad as you think. I will find the time to explain everything to you, alright?"

Benson also stepped in and said, "Come on, let's eat. The dishes will turn cold soon."

So, the family sat down for dinner.

As they ate, Penny asked Kylie why she came to Channing for a visit.

Kylie told her proudly, "Remember I work at Dawn Medical Research Institute? We have managed to produce the first vaccine to cure liver cancer. Hence, Mad Doctor gave us a month's break."

Penny and the rest cheered for her happily.

Everyone knew that cancer was one of the most challenging terminal diseases in the medical field, and liver cancer was one of the most common ones.

Chapter 210 We Produced A Vaccine To Cure Liver Cancer

There was only an HPV vaccine available in the market right now. If the Dawn Medical Research Institute managed to produce a vaccine that could cure liver cancer, it would definitely be a breakthrough in the field of medical research!

All of them agreed that Kylie's work was extremely noble, and Kylie was very proud of her achievements too.

However, no one noticed Nathan's eyes flashing with excitement.

None of them were aware that Nathan was the one who invested and founded Dawn Medical Research Institute.

All these years, it was Nathan who gave the research institute all forms of support behind the scenes.

When they needed financial support, he would pour in money. When they needed manpower, he would source and engage the best talents and technologies from overseas.

Chapter 210 We Produced A Vaccine To Cure Liver Cancer

There was a reason why Nathan expended all resources to support the Dawn Medical Research Institute in their research to create a vaccine to cure liver cancer.

He did it for his mother who passed away from liver cancer many years ago.

Hence, Nathan was determined on producing a vaccine to cure liver cancer.

All these years, he had invested almost ten billion into the institute!

Finally, there was good news!

After dinner, Nathan walked out to the balcony on his own. He fished out his phone and called the President of the institute, Professor Noah Jenson, also known as Mad Doctor.

The latter picked up the call very quickly.

Recollecting himself, he asked calmly, "Jenson, I heard that you managed to produce a vaccine to cure liver cancer?"

Chapter 210 We Produced A Vaccine To Cure Liver Cancer

The Mad Doctor exclaimed in shock, “Sir, how did you know about this so quickly? I wanted to tell you two months later on your mom’s death anniversary as a surprise.”

Nathan replied with a smile on his face, “Well, I happen to hear it from one of the staff at the research institute. Congratulations, Professor Jenson.”

However, the latter replied, “Sir, we would not have done it in such a short period of time without your support. This is indeed a huge achievement.”

“Sir, I’ve thought through it. I would like to ask you to handle the production, marketing, and sales of the vaccine.”

“No!” Nathan rejected instantly.

Noah continued, “Sir, there will be many local and overseas powerhouse who will be gunning for the vaccine once news spread.”

“If the vaccine crosses the hands of those who are sly and unethical, they will surely hike the prices to earn a profit after manufacturing the vaccine.”

“This is against our initial mission of saving thousands of patients with liver cancer.”

“Sir, I’m sure you don’t want to see the vaccine being abused to the extent that normal families can’t afford it and the patients end up dying?”
