

Ye Fan and Chen Nan had already entered the elevator by this time, so he didn't hear anything that Kong Hui and the rest said.

Then again, even if he heard it, Ye Fan wouldn't have cared.

People like Liang Hao-Nan were just passersby in Ye Fan's life.

He might never have any dealings with them after today.

Since they had met by chance, he wasn't going to care about their feelings.

But Chen Nan wasn't as indifferent as Ye Fan.

Liang Hao-Nan and Kong Hui were her seniors in school, while Professor An was her supervisor. She would still have to come into contact with them for a long time to come.

"Fan, I'm so sorry for the way my seniors and professor treated you before," said Chen Nan apologetically after they reached their room.

Ye Fan just smiled faintly.

“It’s their fault at the end of the day, so why apologize for them? But seriously, Nannan. I think those people are really not fit to be your supervisor or your classmates. If you want to, I can help you to get another supervisor instead,” said Ye Fan as he sat down and poured tea for himself and Chen Nan.

Even though he had only spent one short evening with the three of them, he could already tell that these three were not of good character and only cared about their own benefits from their behavior tonight.

That so called professor was the worst. He was supposed to be a teacher but he didn’t have the moral character of one.

For the sake of his own benefit, he was even willing to push his own student into the blazing fire.

If Ye Fan hadn’t been around by chance, he really didn’t dare to imagine what could have happened.

But Chen Nan shook her head.

“Fan, I don’t think that’s necessary. The school has its own rules, so it's not so easy to bend them. Since I was the one who chose this supervisor in the first place, I should bear the consequences of my own choice.”

Ye Fan could tell that Professor An's character was questionable, and so could Chen Nan.

Actually, before this, Chen Nan had asked her father to think of a way for her to change supervisors.

But Jiangdong was just a small province after all. Huaqing University was located in Yanjing and was one of the best universities in China, so Chen Ao's reputation and authority wasn't enough to do anything about this.

Even though Chen Ao had used all the connections he had, nobody could get this done for Chen Nan.

She wasn't even related to Ye Fan, so she was already grateful enough that Ye Fan had gotten her out of the sticky situation earlier. She felt bad troubling him to do her another favor.

Besides, this was a very difficult favor too.

“You silly girl, why bother being so polite with me? Leave this matter to me. Take the next few days to think about which professor you prefer and tell me before returning to China. I’ll get this settled for you,” said Ye Fan very nonchalantly.

“But Fan, my father used all his connections to do this before, and the school refused him, saying that the school rules cannot be bent. So I think...”

“Don’t worry. I can do things that your father isn’t able to. Just concentrate on picking a new supervisor,” Ye Fan cut her off.

Even though Ye Fan had no connections with Huaqing University, surely Xu Lei did?

The Xu family had a lot of leverage in Yanjing.

A huge and influential family like theirs definitely had connections across industries in Yanjing.

It was true that the school rules were set in stone for ordinary people. But these were nothing to Ye Fan.

All these rules were all just to keep weaker ones in check!

Once you amassed enough power, you could ignore any rules!

On the other side.

After sending Ye Fan to his room, Abe Chuunan followed Nakai Koichi back to his room.

Abe Chuunan closed the door behind him and looked at Nakai Koichi.

“Koichi, who on earth is this Chu Tian-Fan? Why are you so afraid of him? Is he even more formidable than yourself and the Abe family? You’re a grandmaster level fighter who isn’t afraid of bullets and you can break even gold and jade. I only need to give the command and a thousand men would come at once. Given our powers combined, who in this world could possibly make you feel so afraid?”

After thinking about what happened earlier, Abe Chuunan felt indignant.

He was the head of the Abe family and was a powerful and influential man in Japan, but he had been ordered about by this rude young man.

He had never felt so humiliated before.

If not for his firm trust in Nakai Koichi, Abe Chuunan would have overturned all the tables and called on all his bodyguards to fight Ye Fan to the bitter end.

But after hearing Abe Chuunan's words, Nakai Koichi just shook his head.

"Chuunan, you really underestimate martial arts and you've really underestimated the name 'Chu Tian-Fan'. Never mind a hundred or a thousand men – even if you sent 10,000 men after him, you wouldn't even be able to hurt this man. You have no idea what on earth has really happened in Japan during this time, and you really have no idea how terrifying that man is," said Nakai Koichi in a low and solemn voice. His tone of voice made Abe Chuunan's face paler and paler.

"I'm sure you saw the news about the huge avalanche on Mount Fuji ten days ago?" Nakai Koichi asked again.

Abe Chuunan nodded. "I saw that. Wasn't that a normal natural disaster caused by an earthquake?"

"And you know about how the buildings around the Tokyo Skytree collapsed two days ago, right?"

Abe Chuunan nodded again. "Weren't those buildings deemed to be dangerous and demolished by the government?"

Nakai Koichi chuckled.

"Chuunan, you've looked at these matters too simply. The avalanche on Mount Fuji ten days ago was caused by Chu Tian-Fan! The chaos at the foot of the Tokyo Skytree two days ago was also caused by Chu Tian-Fan! This young Chinese man had killed ten grandmaster fighters in Tokyo within one night singlehandedly. Even the number one fighter in Japan, Yukiteru Tenshin, was defeated by him."

"He's a fighter on the Sky Ranking! He's the strongest in Asia! He's the number one genius martial artist of our generation! He alone can lord it over our country!"

KABOOM!!

Nakai Koichi's words felt like thunder rumbling and exploding within Abe Chuunan's heart.

Every sentence he said made Abe Chuunan's face turn one shade paler.

Abe Chuunan was on the verge of despair by the end.

All was silent.

The room remained silent for a long time.

The two of them sat in the room in silence.

The only sound was Abe Chuunan's gasping.

Abe Chuunan finally realized what sort of person he had actually offended earlier that day.

HUU!

A cold wind gusted outside the window.

After a long time, Abe Chuunan suddenly got up and yelled anxiously to his men outside,

Chapter 962 Emperor Suite

“MEN! Come here right now! Go to the Supreme Suite on the ninth floor and get Mr Chu to move to the Emperor Suite on the tenth floor! NOW!”

Mr Chu was so formidable that even the Supreme Suite on the ninth floor wasn't good enough for him.

Only the Emperor Suite on the highest floor of the hotel was good enough for Mr Chu to stay in.

This hotel had a total of ten stories.

The Supreme Suite where Ye Fan was in right now wasn't the most luxurious room of the hotel.

The Emperor Suite on the tenth floor was the most luxurious room this hotel had to offer.

Even someone as rich and powerful as Abe Chuunan had only booked rooms up to the ninth floor for this dinner party and didn't book the tenth story.

It was because the tenth floor was simply too expensive.

The cost of that suite for one night was enough to cover one night of the entire hotel.

But of course, cost was only one problem. The other problem was that Abe Chuunan didn't think anybody he knew was fit to take that room either.

What about Nakai Koichi?

Even though Nakai Koichi had saved his life before, he was still just a bodyguard who had protected him until he became the head of the family.

He respected him and gave him preference purely out of gratitude.

Allowing Nakai Koichi to stay in a room on the ninth story was already more than enough for a bodyguard's status.

But after he found out about what Ye Fan had done and what he was capable of, Abe Chuunan realized that someone worthy to be called the 'emperor' had appeared!

This one man could fight a country.

Calling him 'emperor' wasn't even enough.

So just like that, Abe Chuunan and his men respectfully escorted Ye Fan and Chen Nan to the Emperor Suite.

Chen Nan stood in one of the most luxurious suites and looked down at the rest of the city.

She found it hard to sleep.

In the past, even though Ye Fan was the King of Jiangdong, she didn't think that she was too far off from Ye Fan.

After all, she was the daughter of the previous King of Jiangdong, and the only daughter of the almighty Chen Ao of Jianghai.

Her family alone surpassed Ye Fan by leaps and bounds.

So from that perspective, Chen Nan felt that she wasn't too far from Ye Fan, and they were actually on par with one another.

But tonight, she finally realized how far she really was from this man.

It was like the difference between a firefly's glow and the glow of a full moon in the sky.

Chen Nan knew that if not for Ye Fan, she would never have the chance to be in this room and be above the rest of the people here.

In the past, Chen Nan joked with her father and said that if Ye Fan wasn't already married, she would definitely become Ye Fan's wife, because they were well matched in terms of family background and ability.

At that time, Chen Ao just shook his head and laughed, saying that she was dreaming of the impossible. He even said that if not for Qiu Mu-Cheng's grandmother's birthday party, Ye Fan would never even have met her at all, because the two of them hailed from two different worlds that would never meet.

Back then, Chen Nan wasn't bothered by all this. She just felt that her father had placed Ye Fan on a pedestal and made her way too lowly. But now, she believed what her father said.

"Daddy was right. Fan is like the bright sun in the sky, radiating with authority and makes others look up at him in admiration."

Many thoughts ran through Chen Nan's mind as she felt a greater sense of admiration towards Ye Fan.

But while Chen Nan was still sighing away, Ye Fan was on the bed in the room next door, having a video call with his wife and telling her very inappropriate dirty jokes.

The beautiful woman on the other line was so angry and embarrassed that she started scolding Ye Fan for being shameless.

No matter how formidable one was, he would always reveal his true side to the people he was closest to.

Ye Fan was no different. Even though he was already so reputable and influential, he would still have to kneel on the washing board when he got home because his wife was upset.

“Ye Fan, you horrible man! You said that you’d be back in two or three days, but it’s already been two weeks and you’re still not back yet! You’d better come clean with me. Are you hiding a mistress out there?” snarled Qiu Mu-Cheng.

“It can’t be helped, all men have needs, you know? No matter how beautiful the flowers at home are, if I can only look at it and can’t touch it, then I’ll have no choice but to pick some wild flowers from outside,” said Ye Fan as he crossed his legs.

“How dare you do such a thing! When did I say that I wouldn’t allow you to touch me?” roared Qiu Mu-Cheng so angrily that her nose was nearly twisted.

“Oh my, so you’re saying that it’s okay for me to touch you? Alright then, you wait for me at home and I’ll rush home tomorrow. Let’s work hard together and make a son together in just one night,” teased Ye Fan shamelessly.

Qiu Mu-Cheng’s face was all red from embarrassment when she suddenly realized that Ye Fan had purposely trapped her into saying this.

“Who wants to make a son with you? You’d better keep your mouth shut since you simply can’t stay serious. You’d better come back within the next three days. It’s our mum’s birthday in three days’ time, so we should go home and celebrate her birthday,” snapped Qiu Mu-Cheng.

But Ye Fan was slightly confused. “Birthday? Isn’t our mum’s birthday in October? Did I remember it wrongly? That can’t be. We’ve celebrated it in October for the past three years now.”

Ye Fan had married into the family for three years, so besides remembering his wife’s birthday, the other birthday he had to remember was his mother-in-law's.

Han Li's birthday had always been celebrated in late autumn, but now Qiu Mu-Cheng was saying it was in three days' time, so Ye Fan was puzzled.

Qiu Mu-Cheng immediately rolled her eyes. "Are you an idiot? I'm talking about your mother, my mother-in-law. Don't tell me you've even forgotten your own mother's birthday?"

Ye Fan suddenly remembered that his mother's birthday was indeed in May.

Ever since they left the Chu family, Ye Fan did not remember nor celebrate his mother's birthday.

If Qiu Mu-Cheng hadn't reminded him, he wouldn't have remembered this.

"Mu-Cheng, thank you so much. If my mum knew that you wanted to celebrate her birthday, she would be so happy."

Ye Fan was a little touched and rather ashamed of himself at the same time.

He was his mother's son, but her daughter-in-law was more thoughtful.

Ye Fan realized that he hadn't celebrated his mother's birthday in so many years.

"My goodness! You really forgot your own mother's birthday? What sort of son are you! If I were your mother, I'd have died from being too angry. Alright now, you're busy tomorrow, so you'd better rest early tonight. Remember, come back within the next three days! Mum and I will cook and wait for you at home, did you hear me?" said Qiu Mu-Cheng sternly to Ye Fan.

Ye Fan nodded. "I will do that, my dear. Don't worry, I'll get home in time."

It was just enough time. A cruise took about two days to reach China from Japan.

If everything went smoothly, Ye Fan would reach home in just two days.

So he would be in time for his mother's birthday.

This was the first time Qiu Mu-Cheng was going to celebrate his mother's birthday, so as her husband and his mother's son, he had to get back in time to attend the celebration!
