

Chapter 764

Chuck didn't say anything else.

"Have a safe journey," Patricia said softly. That was the only thing she said after being silent for a while.

"Sure."

Chuck left and went to Alexandrina.

In fact, Chuck wanted to pay a visit to Sophia. However, it would not be appropriate.

Seeing Chuck leave, Patricia sighed and said to herself, "What are you thinking about?"

She turned around and continued her work. Suddenly, she had a question on her mind. After five years when she and Chuck's agreement came to an end, what was she going to choose?

Would she continue working for Chuck or leave?

She went to work in the office alone.

"Hey, Patricia." Chuck's voice was heard suddenly.

Patricia was taken aback. "What?"

"When you have time, let's have a drink together!"

"Sure." Patricia smiled. He still remembered that.

Chuck then left.

Patricia felt dejected. He was leaving for his country.

Who was going to drink with her from now on?

"It's not that I don't want to drink with other people, I'm just more at ease when I drink with him." That was the truth. She trusted Chuck.

"Your casino business is doing pretty good. In a very short time, you can open another branch. In fact, you can start operating several at once."

Betty felt that Chuck had found the right person. Patricia was really capable.

"I hope so." Chuck boarded the plane.

He arrived at Alexandrina's place.

Chuck went to her bar.

Without saying much, he gave her a hug as soon as he entered.

He was still alive.

"Chuck, are you going back?" Alexandrina was a smart woman.

Betty was waiting for Chuck outside, which meant that he was leaving for his home country.

"Yes."

"Do you want me to go back with you?"

"No, there's no need for that." Chuck shook his head and refused.

Alexandrina pinched Chuck and said, "Don't you dare say no to me. I'll beat you if I hear you say that again."

She didn't want to part with him.

Chuck's face was covered with obvious scars after confronting Loomis.

Obviously, it was not easy for Chuck to still be alive!

"I'm about to leave."

"I'm not letting you leave! Can't you just stay with me for a little longer?"

"Sure."

Chuck shrugged and said with a smile, "Stay with you and do what?"

"What would you like to do? I'm fine with anything you want to do." Alexandrina finally smiled.

"I don't dare to do that. Forget about it." Chuck quickly waved his hand.

He certainly wouldn't dare to do that.

Besides, he didn't have the mood to do it as he was there to say goodbye.

Alexandrina snorted, "Coward, are you afraid that I'll eat you?"

"No, that's not it."

Chuck was speechless. Alexandrina was gorgeous, sexy and perfect, but she was also a thorny rose. It wouldn't hurt if a person touched it, but the person would be poisoned.

It was something he couldn't get rid of, so he would rather choose to forget about it.

Chuck didn't want to provoke her too much.

Alexandrina was disappointed. "You are really a coward. Where did that courageous man I first met go?"

"He's in hiding." Chuck was embarrassed.

"Screw you."

"I'm leaving."

"Go! I don't want to see you anymore." Alexandrina drank alone, feeling deserted.

Chuck also felt embarrassed. He went over to comfort her, but Alexandrina walked away suddenly. Chuck avoided her quickly.

It was embarrassing...

"Three seconds to get out of my sight, or I'll never be done with you! I'll give the order to kill you." Alexandrina was furious and aggrieved. How could he do this?

She had already taken the initiative, and yet he was still avoiding her!

What did he mean 'in hiding'? What a coward!

"I'm sorry. I'm not ready," Chuck coughed and said.

"Go to hell!" Alexandrina threw a glass at Chuck and he did not dodge. She felt sorry for him. "Didn't you dodge just now? Why didn't you dodge this one? Does it hurt? Let me have a look."

"No, it doesn't hurt."

"If it doesn't hurt, then get out of here!"

"Oh..."

Chuck went out and boarded the plane. Betty took him back home.

"He actually left after I told him to? He never listens to me!" Alexandrina continued to drink, feeling depressed.

.....

"What did you say? Karen has a plane flying back?" Sophie was dumbfounded. What did that mean?

She finally figured it out.

She put down the phone in shock and sighed, "He left? Why didn't he come and see me? He doesn't want to see me, or... I just hope he'll have a safe journey."

"Mom, what did you say?" Elise woke up, looking pale.

She bit her tongue so hard that she could not even speak clearly.

"Nothing." Sophia continued to take care of her daughter.

"Mom, where's Chuck?" Elise knew that it was Chuck who had saved her and her mom.

"He left for his home country."

"What? Why did he go back?" Elise was so shocked that she jumped out of the bed.

Chuck saved her again and she was grateful.

"Maybe, there's nothing worth staying in this place for... Or maybe, he has work there, or..."

"Mom, can I go back too?" Elise asked cautiously.

"You? Let's talk about it after you recover," Sophia said with a sigh.

Her words revealed what her daughter thought about Chuck...

What should she do?

Sophia was devastated.

"Sabina, Chuck has returned to his home country!"

Sabina received the news when she was in the Yeager family.

"Got it. Continue to keep an eye on him!"

"Yes!"

"You want to run away, do you? Do you feel guilty for shooting me? I won't let you get what you want!" Sabina stood up and strode out. Her pretty face was cold!

"Miss, Chuck has returned to his home country," Nelson said cautiously.

The unfazed Adriana opened her eyes and said, "Oh, it's normal. Chuck's heart is always at that place."

"So, do you want to go there?"

"How can I go to that kind of place? I won't go," Adriana objected without hesitation.

However, one second later, she was stunned, "He went home? He left without saying goodbye to me... I won't go... I... Prepare the plane, I'll go there now..."

Nelson was dumbfounded.

Adriana was talking to herself. What was she hesitating about?

"Why are you still standing there?"

"Yes!"

.....

Loomis was resting in a place which was very ordinary. He suddenly saw a gorgeous lady.

She was tall, had a perfect figure and a gorgeous face. She was a foreigner. She was the person who went after Black Rose and ended up in the United States, Frieda Olmedo!

Loomis needed to vent his anger, so he decided to strike up a conversation with Frieda.

"Stay away from me!" Frieda said coldly.

"Gorgeous, let's have a chat. I'm from the Yeager family!" Loomis was straightforward when he flirted with girls.

Frieda's cold gaze shone brightly. "You are from the Yeager family?"

When she was carrying out her mission, she overheard the news of the hidden family. One of them was Yeager...

Chapter 765

When he saw the expression on Frieda's face, Loomis laughed proudly and said, "That's right, are you interested in having a conversation with me?"

"Yes, I am."

Frieda shrugged.

They went to a room.

Loomis glanced at Frieda's perfect figure. For a foreign woman, she had such an exquisite figure! The only other foreign woman he knew that had a good figure was Willa.

It was rare.

"Tell me, are you from a hidden family?" Frieda asked.

"Oh, you know about the hidden family?" Loomis was a little surprised.

But, he soon realized that a woman with such a figure meant that she must have undergone some physical training.

She must be a combat expert!

"Of course. Otherwise, why would I come over to talk to you?" A woman like Frieda would not even glance at people who were of no use to her.

"I like women who are straightforward. What do you do?" Loomis said with a smile, satisfied with Frieda.

"I'm an assassin!"

"Oh, the assassin organization?"

"Yes, do you know our boss?"

"I do. She's quite beautiful, she's not bad." Loomis approached her closer. How could he not know who the boss was?

He initially still had some ideas but unfortunately, he had forgotten about it.

"Do you want me to be your boss? Do you want me to be the boss of the killer organization? I'm happy to do that for you," Loomis said with a smile.

Could he do that with his existing power?

Of course not!

In order to win Frieda's heart, he said something so pretentious!

He could no longer use the name of the Yeager family to his liking.

He couldn't say anything related to the Yeager family.

If he continued to boast using the title of Yeager family, eventually Sabina would know his whereabouts.

Fortunately, he had had quite a handful of money while he was traveling around the world.

The amount of money he had was beyond imagination. It was enough for him to make a comeback.

It was the reason why he still had the mood to flirt with Frieda, given his situation.

"I don't need you to do that. I have my own ways." Frieda shook her head. She still had Alexandrina behind her, and she was keeping it a secret.

"Oh." Loomis pinched Frieda's chin.

Frieda did not evade him.

"Then what can I do for you?"

"It's enough that you are from the Yeager family. I need the Yeager family's abilities to help me with one thing," Frieda said.

She had a good eye. The noble temperament of Loomis could not be fake. He must be the offspring of the Yeager family.

That was enough.

"Oh, what's the matter?" Loomis laughed. She took the bait so easily. It seemed like his name was quite useful!

He approached her, but Frieda remained still and did not refuse him.

They were on the bed.

Frieda stared at the ceiling. She sat up and put on her clothes. Loomis smiled happily and said, "Do you have to leave in such a hurry?"

"Yes," Frieda said without hesitation. After putting on her clothes, she continued, "I want you to use your Yeager family's influence to help me deal with a person!"

"Who do you want to deal with, gorgeous?"

"Chuck Cannon!"

Loomis was taken aback. "You want to deal with Chuck too?"

"What do you mean? Do you hold a grudge against Chuck?" Frieda asked in surprise.

"Yes, a big one!"

"Oh, then we're on the same side." Frieda had no expression on her face. Why would Loomis let her go?

He pulled her to lie down again.

"Inform me when you're dealing with Chuck. I want to enjoy the show." Frieda thought that the support of the Yeager family could be of great help to her in the future.

However, she had no progress after so long.

What Frieda didn't know was that she wouldn't get much help either, because Loomis had already been kicked out of the Yeager family!

"Of course, but I'm going back to my home country. Do you want to come along with me?"

Frieda had been going after Black Rose for so long but she lost her tracks and never found her again. She was ready to seek help from Alexandrina.

However, after listening to Loomis, it gave her the idea of going back home too.

She had changed over the years. She was no longer that girl who would be manipulated by a man!

It was time for her to head back.

"Alright, no problem. I'll deal with my things, then head back to my home country! After all, it's my home! ...You, are you done?" Frieda was furious.

Loomis laughed heartily.

Frieda's perfect figure mesmerized him...

.....

Back in the home country!

In the City Square!

Yolanda checked the day's work and patrolled around the plaza. In the past six months, the place seemed very lively.

Chuck was right back then!

The traffic to the plaza drastically increased after Yolanda's management in half a year.

No matter what day it was, it was always crowded. The plaza was at the stage of profiting. A few days ago, Yolanda had even built a cinema on the top floor. It was just completed recently and it was luxurious. The youngsters especially liked it. The place was always bustling with people.

The cinema was ready for business!

If Chuck returned, he would be very pleased!

Yolanda was kind of looking forward to it.

"Yolanda..." At that moment, Lara ran over.

Almost once a day for the last six months, she would ask her when Chuck would return. Yolanda was also very helpless.

Was Chuck not coming back?

How could he do that?

"Lara."

Yolanda was going to the construction site. The land which Chuck bought earlier had started to undergo construction work.

She was going to have a look. In addition, after getting Chuck's consent, she took over a nightclub, and the business was booming.

She was very occupied with managing the business.

"When will Chuck be back? It's been a long time." Lara did not dare to call Chuck.

Even if she called, Chuck would definitely not pick up!

"I don't know, probably not soon." That was what Yolanda replied to her every time. Chuck did not call her, nor did she call him. How would she know when he would return?

Lara sighed disappointedly.

"What do you think Chuck's life is like in the United States?" Lara was wondering about it.

She had thought of looking for Chuck, but where would she begin to look for him? The United States was huge.

"How would I know? Lara, your business is so good. Please hire a few more employees." Yolanda then went downstairs.

Lara followed her down the stairs.

Because the traffic in the plaza had increased, Lara's milkshake shop had better business too.

She had already opened a branch store, and was prepared to buy a car.

It was Chuck who gave her the opportunity. Therefore, she was grateful to Chuck from the bottom of her heart. With Willa's introduction, she started to take part in the film industry. Although she took part in meaningless supporting roles, she was still satisfied because she still had a few of her own fans.

Many people in school had watched her movie.

"I see. Then, I'll go back to work. You must tell me when Chuck will be back!" Lara went to her shop.

Yolanda was speechless. She thought, "Why should I tell you?"

Unwittingly, Yolanda also missed Chuck. After all, they hadn't seen each other in a long time...
