

NH

“Surprisingly, the Hunter Association is still stalking me,” Chen Hao said, looking at those Hunters in purple coldly.

“Humph! Kid, you’ve killed so many members of the Hunter Association, and you must pay in blood!” the leader of the Hunters in purple roared, brandishing the sword in his hand at Chen Hao.

Just after he had said that, the few Hunters in purple swiftly rushed Chen Hao in an attempt to attack him.

These Hunters in purple were different from those in black. Their strength was evidently much greater than those in black, and their speed was also a few times swifter.

Chen Hao knew that the leader of the Hunters must be enraged, thus he ordered these Hunters in purple to hunt and kill them.

In total, there were five Hunters in purple, and they attacked him from different directions.

They didn’t target Zhen Ji and the others; they only directed their attacks at Chen Hao. They came from different directions and used different attack tactics; they looked immensely powerful, but to Chen Hao, they were nothing to be concerned about.

“Billowing Dust!”

Chen Hao abruptly planted himself and spun in a full circle. In a flash, there was a billow of dust, its force so great that the five Hunters in purple were forced back.

Astonishment was written on the faces of all five Hunters in purple.

“A Cultivator!” the five of them exclaimed at the same time.

They had never thought that Chen Hao was a Cultivator; no wonder he was this powerful.

“Well, since you’ve found it out, then don’t dream of leaving here alive!” Chen Hao snorted, sneering.

After saying that, he lunged forward. With just a single step forward, an afterimage was left where he was standing.

Hiss!

With a slash, blood spurted into the air at once.

Yes, with just a strike, the sword pierced the chest of one of the Hunters in purple, effectively killing him in that instance.

The remaining four Hunters in purple were also shocked. However, they didn’t choose to retreat; rather, they once again attacked Chen Hao.

A Hunter’s principle was to never retreat. No matter how strong an opponent they encountered, they would never back down until they died in battle.

In this sense, they were honorable; at least,

NH

Hunters were not cowards who were afraid of death.

But precisely because of this, the members of Hunter Association lost all their humanity and became cold-blooded animals.

For instance, the seventh team of Hunters which Chen Hao and the others encountered that afternoon. They had no humanity to speak of. Someone who had even a speck of humanity would never have committed such brutality.

Swoosh!

In that instance, glints from the slashing swords filled the entire forest.

Within just a few minutes, several dead bodies lay scattered on the ground.

Yes, they were the bodies of the five Hunters in purple.

They were no match for Chen Hao, so they were all killed by him.

After dealing with those five Hunters in purple, Chen Hao hung their bodies and even wrote four words on the tree with their blood—“They deserved to die!”

After writing those four words, he then left with Zhen Ji and the others.

“Chen Hao, isn’t it time for us to hide our tracks? Otherwise, Hunters will always catch up to us,”

NH

Zhen Ji suggested just then, looking at Chen Hao.

“Yup, you’re right. We should indeed think of a way to hide our tracks.” Chen Hao expressed his agreement with her suggestion.

It would indeed be bad to be besieged by Hunters all the time. They needed to shake off this extremely troublesome Hunter Association. Otherwise, they wouldn’t be able to get far, and they would also need to keep up their guards at all times.

At this moment, Chen Hao came to a halt and scrutinized the map given to him by Mr. Fan.

“Here. Let’s go to this place. Here, we can go around Phosphorous Rock Mountain. The only thing is that it’ll take some time. Also, there’s a town here, so we can replenish ourselves here,” Chen Hao suggested, pointing at a town on the map.

“Sure, we’ll go with whatever you say.” Zhen Ji had no objection toward his suggestion and promptly agreed.

After the conversation, the four of them changed routes at once and headed to the town on the map. That town was called Wuxing Town, whose name was derived from none other than its geography.

After walking overnight, Chen Hao and the others finally arrived at the entrance to Wuxing Town.

They then walked right into the town. It wasn’t a deserted town. On the contrary, there were plenty of people milling about, and the atmosphere was very lively; it was just like a bazaar.

NH

“Come and see! There’ll be a black market auction of a crystal skull today. Everyone can go and have a look!” a young man proclaimed loudly just then. In no time, the proclamation caught everyone’s attention.

Chen Hao and the others were intrigued as well. They never dreamt that they would be a black market in Wuxing Town.

“Let’s go and take a look as well!” Lei Lie suggested then, feeling quite curious about this.

“Sure, let’s go and take a look, then!” Chen Hao didn’t refuse him but agreed at once. After all, he, too, wanted to go and see what was being auctioned.

Promptly, Chen Hao and the others arrived at a relatively huge space after following the crowd. This was Wuxing Town’s black market.

There were all sorts of things for auction in the black market, even guns and ammunition. It was truly shocking.

Chen Hao and the others found a spot to stand in.

A man wearing a cap and a fur coat then stepped out onto the stage.

“Hello, everyone. I’m the manager of the black market. My name is Gu Ming.” The man wearing the fur coat introduced himself to the crowd below.

“Welcome to today’s black market auction! Let me tell you, today’s item for auction is not any ordinary item. It’ll definitely be an eye-opener. Perhaps many of you had already heard of this, but I still want to tell you that this item is unique in the entire world. It’s a rare treasure!” Gu Ming exclaimed excitedly.

The crowd below was also extremely excited after hearing that, and many people cheered.

“Alright, let’s all bear witness to it now!”

Someone, bring the item onto the stage!” Gu Ming then ordered.

A man brought a box onto the stage and handed it over to Gu Ming.

Gu Ming placed the box in his palm, then opened it and showed the item inside to everyone.

“Everyone, please take a look. This is today’s item for auction—a crystal skull!” Gu Ming introduced in a booming voice, looking down at the crowd below.

Rate the Translation to Get 2 Pearls.

Wait! I Have Something to Say!

Send a Gift to the Writer!