

Chapter 21.

She sent Holden the picture of herself wearing a swimsuit!

There is a peace agreement between the two people, so they added contact information of each other. She remembered that she also asked at the time, should I add your WhatsApp?

At that time, Holden was not used to using such things and naturally frowned at her question. Later, he found she has added him on the platform.

What did she doing?

Are you possessed?

Elena quickly thought of withdrawing, but it was too late and the time had passed.

She is really going crazy.

Usha's WhatsApp came again, and she sent a few pictures... show me if your measurements have changed. Recently, Victoria's Secret has released several new styles of nightdresses. She wanted to know the likes and dislikes of the man?

How swollen is this one, with a little freshness in the waves.

This one is burning in innocence.

Elena,

At this time, tens of thousands of feet above, in the highest business office building on Financial Street, the company executives with a blue card hanging between their necks were sitting on both sides of the long conference table in the Vip meeting room. The financial director was reporting on the sales this year.

Everyone held their breath and listened carefully, but still couldn't help taking a sneak peek at the man sitting on the main seat now.

Holden is dressed in a black suit today, with white silk handkerchiefs in his pockets. All the bangs on his forehead are pushed up, revealing his exquisite and handsome facial features. His neck hanging down and intently looked through the documents, and his gestures were an aurora successful businessmen.

Noble, mature, powerful, and overwhelming.

In the VIP meeting room, even the sound of a needle falling off can be heard. At this moment, there was a sudden "ding" and a mobile phone rang.

Everyone's gaze fell on Holden's body, and it was his cell phone that rang.

Holden raised his eyes, and the phone prompted a WhatsApp message.

He had asked the secretary to download the WhatsApp and added only one person.

This person is Elena.

At this time, personal Secretary Yannini came over, leaned down and asked what he meant.

Holden raised his hand and told Yanni to retreat, so that the chief financial officer and the senior officials continued the meeting.

After everyone's eyes moved away, Holden opened WhatsApp and saw the picture sent by Elena.

Elena had just come out of the hot spring, wearing a swimsuit made of grass-green florals, and her long hair, pure and silky, draped over her fragrant shoulders. She was walking ashore on the ladder with both hands.

It was not a frontal photo, but a side photo. Her beautiful side face lines turned out to be a bit stunning behind the looming veil.

The picture of a beauty going out in a bath is extremely restrictive.

Since getting to know her, Holden had never seen her wearing such bright colors and so little fabrics. Two people were in the same room, and she covered herself tightly every night.

However, he knew how good her figure was.

Holden sent a WhatsApp message in the past... kiss me?

kiss me?

Elena quickly received these two words. She blushed and was about to gush. She could almost imagine what kind of low, magnetic voice the man used to say these two words.

At this time, Holden sent another WhatsApp message... it was still daytime here.

Jet lag, she is there in the night, but he is in the daytime.

Elena touched her small face, which was red and hot. It had nothing to do with whether it was daytime, old driver!

Chapter 22.

Did she imply to tease him at night?

Elena quickly replied... if I say I sent it by mistake, would you believe me?

Holden frowned his sword eyebrows... Who do you want to send it to?

Elena suddenly felt a sense of being caught, and she could only take a screenshot of her chat with Usha and send it to him... you can see for yourself.

Holden saw those pajamas. He raised his sword eyebrows, his narrow eyes overflowing with the style of a mature man.

He returned one... I see. You can buy them all and try them on for me. Then I will tell you which one I like.

Elena sat up on the bed, she read his reply back and forth three times, and finally sent it to him with trembling fingertips... rogue!

Holden raised his sword eyebrows when he saw the word "rogue", and a low and cheerful laugh came from his throat.

She has a smart and calm personality, and when she rarely gets angry, he knows that he annoys her.

Holden responded slowly... scold me? I'll come back and pack you up!

Elena lay back on the bed again, her whole person now looks like a cooked prawn, and his last sentence "come back and pack you" simply made her unable to look directly at herself.

Closing her eyes forcefully, Elena shook off Holden's nasty handsome face in her mind, and then began to think about business.

Obviously, Pollard was against her when he came back this time. He is now one of the four giants in Darenvil, powerful and talented, and difficult to deal with.

This situation is very unfavorable to her.

It's also weird. Why does Pollard say she is dirty and that she is a worn shoe by someone else?

Elena talked to Usha about this topic, and Usha...he is a pervert, my Elena is still good.

Elena... but why does he say that?

Usha... need to ask him.

Elena felt that it made sense. It was useless to guess and come up with her own versions. She wanted an opportunity to ask in person.

Usha... Elena, to be honest, perverts are not that difficult to deal with. He likes you. If you want, you can give it a try.

Elena didn't return. Of course, she understood what Usha meant. There were actually many ways to turn passiveness into activeness when treating men who liked her.

At night, Pollard took Yoselin to the presidential suite of the hotel.

Pollard had just taken a shower and was wearing a white bathrobe. He poured a little red wine into the goblet and took a sip elegantly.

At this time, Yoselin hugged him from behind after bathing, "Pollard, do you think my dad loves Elena's mom, he hasn't forgotten her for so many years?"

Pollard looked at the neon lights outside the floor-to-ceiling windows and curled his thin lips, "Why do you say that?"

"I know that my dad's wallet has always had a picture of Elena's mommy. That photo is very precious. He never let anyone touch it. And for so many years, my dad doesn't allow anyone to say anything about Elena's mommy. My mom said that today. My dad is like a different person. He is such a face-saving person. He would never let others joke in public, but he actually slapped my mom outside the hotel."

A beautiful face appeared in Pollard's mind and said lightly, "Elena mom was a legendary woman."

Yoselin has never seen Elena's mom. Elena's mom passed away ten years ago. This woman seems to have evaporated from the world, and it is difficult to hear the news of her life.

Yoselin also thought about how big a hand and how powerful it is to erase all the information of a person in this Darenvil

Whenever she thinks of this, Yoselin feels scared.

"Pollard, my mother is right. Elena's ability to seduce men is really great. She married to Green Garden for joy. She also befriended a handsome man outside, and now she has something to do with the Imperial Hotel. I don't know how many men there have been!"

Chapter 23.

Speaking of this topic, the red wine glass in Pollard's hand suddenly stopped, and a cold haze fell on the handsome eyebrows.

As one of the four giants in Darenvil, Pollard certainly knew the Lu family, but unfortunately, he knew no more than any other outsider.

Holden, the young master of the Lu Family, is too low-key and mysterious. He has never appeared in the public. Pollard once sent someone to investigate, only to learn that Holden has only come to Darenvil in recent years. His true belonging is.... Imperial City.

The imperial capital city is the most prosperous financial city. Anyone who meets on the street may be a rich second-generation. The average wealthy family can't reach the financial center.

Of course, the Imperial City also has its own top-notch giants. The top-notch giants are real business giants, and they hold the economic lifeline of all of Asia.

Pollard had heard of Lu's, the home of the first business nobleman in the Imperial City.

All of this is a coincidence, isn't it?

In fact, Darenvil's deep-rooted powerful family was still the Gu family, and the young master Henry grew up wearing a pair of crotch pants with Holden.

Yoselin had already felt the change in Pollard's mood, and she continued to work hard, "Pollard, have you forgotten that Elena was with a man in the countryside, and the two of them slept all night in the cave? At that time, how old Elena was, she messed with wild men."

Pollard drank the red wine in the glass, then reached out and pushed Yoselin directly onto the bed.

Pollard's movements were very rude. Yoselin's head hit the bed cabinet with a "boom", and she shed tears in pain.

Pollard pressed up, and he stared at Yoselin with red eyes.

Yoselin was frightened by Pollard's appearance. Every time she said that Elena was with other men, he would lose control like this and become terrible.

But Yoselin really liked Pollard, so she reached out and put her arms around Pollard's neck, "Pollard, I love you, you are my only man, my first time is for you."

Pollard's face is hideous, that's right, Elena betrayed him, she was a flirty woman, not worthy of him at all.

He wants to forget Elena!

Pollard stretched out his hand to pull down Yoselin's pajamas. Yoselin hugged him happily, "Pollard, I want to be with you forever."

Pollard closed his eyes, and what lingered in his mind was the face of Elena. She was still very young that year. Elena's mom took her to Pollard's house as a guest. Elena's mom asked him, Pollard, Elena will be your wife in the future, okay?

At that time, he was already a big boy, his face blushed, and he went straight into the room without saying a word all shy and blushing like a girl.

On that day, the two baby kisses were decided like this.

He still remembers Elena's soft and smart appearance when she was a child, looking up at him with bright and dark eyes, and smiling at him... Pollard.

Pollard buried his handsome face in Yoselin's hair, and whispered a person's name in a low voice... Elena

Yoselin heard this "swirl", as if a basin of cold water pounced directly from her head, drenching all her fantasies about love and happiness.

Yoselin was already asleep, Pollard leaned on the bedside in the darkness, reached out and lit a cigarette, smoking quietly.

When a cigarette was about to be smoked out, Pollard pulled out the phone and dialed a phone number.

Soon, there came Elena's clear voice, "Hey."

"It's me." Pollard spit out a puff of smoke from his mouth.

Elena was silent for a few seconds, "Is something wrong with you?"

"Come to room 8206 tomorrow night, I'll wait for you."

"Pollard, are you mentally ill?"

Chapter 24.

Pollard licked his lips, "Why, isn't it easy to play in front of other men? Others can play with you, why can't I?"

Elena wanted to hang up the phone directly, and wanted to block his number.

But Pollard already realized that she was going to hang up, so he interrupted her, "Elena, haven't you been investigating the cause of your mommy's death?"

The Elena on the other side trembled, yes, she came back this time to cure her grandfather and find out the real cause of Mummy's death.

It was said that Mommy died of illness, but her mother was in good health, how could she suddenly die of illness, she suspected that someone had murdered her mother.

But Elena couldn't find out anything. Everything about her mommy's life was erased, wiped cleanly.

Elena always felt that there was a big conspiracy behind this. Ten years ago, with the death of mommy and grandpa's coma, all the people around her who loved her all seemed to put her to death. , They all changed.

Elena grabbed her phone tightly, "What is your bargaining chip?"

"You shouldn't be able to find anything now, there are no clues, I have someone in my hands, you must be very interested, she is Aunt Lin."

Elena's pupils shrank, and Aunt Lin was the servant who served Mummy, she watching her grow up.

Aunt Lin is not in the Xia family, but she still was with Mommy.

It's a pity that when Mommy passed away, Aunt Lin disappeared from the world, she didn't find her after searching for so long.

Aunt Lin was in Pollard's hands.

"Elena, room 8206 tomorrow night, I'll wait for you." After speaking, Pollard hung up the phone directly.

Listening to the busy tone of the beep, Elena put down the phone. She must see Aunt Lin, but is she really going to make an appointment?

Pollard was not at ease, he was not Mr. Wang, and her little actions could not hide her vulnerabilities.

Holden's deep magnetic voice suddenly rang in Elena's ears... call me if there is any problem that can't be solved.

This was the last word he said to her before leaving.

Should she call him?

Elena picked up her phone, searched for Holden's number, and dialed it out.

There was a melodious cell phone ringing on the other end, and it had not been connected. The waiting time was not long, but it was already a time of suffering for Elena.

She suddenly found herself reckless, what if he was in the office?

When the phone is connected later, how can she tell him that he must take time out of his busy schedule and needs to help her. Is she just a burden?

Elena's head was in a mess, when the phone was suddenly connected, Elena quickly said, "Hey."

That end is not Holden's voice, but a sweet female voice, "Hey, hello, who is it?"

It was a phone call received by a woman.

Holden's call was answered by a woman.

Elena's head exploded with a "bang", and all the chaos receded like a tide in such an instant, and she broke out in a cold sweat.

Elena didn't say a word, and the woman over there felt very puzzled, "Hello, are you looking for Mr. Holden? Mr. Holden is taking a bath, it is not convenient for him to answer the phone..."

With two beeps, Elena hung up the phone directly.

Chapter 25.

Who is that woman?

Holden is a mature man, and that is his personal mobile phone. How could it be possible for someone to answer if it wasn't for a close relationship?

Besides, he is still taking a bath

Is that woman his lover?

What is she doing?

Elena didn't know what she was doing?

What is the relationship between her and Holden, why does Holden help her?

She is just married to her. The two have a peace agreement. It is normal for him to have a lover outside.

Elena broke out in a cold sweat. When she was nine years old, her life changed and she was abandoned by everyone. For ten years, she taught herself to grow independently, to adapt to loneliness and it is her only strength. Except for Usha, she no longer dare to easily entrust her sincerity to anyone.

She didn't want to be stabbed from behind by her loved ones, and she would be pushed down forever.

However, this man named Holden broke into her life so powerfully and domineeringly, and it took such a short time to break what she had learned in ten years, and she became dependent on him.

Dependence will become a habit and will make her weak.

Elena's hands and feet were cold, but she also calmed down. She took out her mobile phone and sent a text message to Pollard... See you tomorrow night!

Overseas, in the presidential suite, Haron, the director of public relations, looked at the mobile phone in his hand strangely. At this moment, Yanni walked over, "Director Haron, who asked you to enter the president's room?"

Haron put down an emergency document, "Secretary Yanni, this is an urgent document for the president, I will send it in."

"The president doesn't like that someone enters his room and touches his personal belongings. The next emergency document will just be handed over to me. Remember, don't take it lightly. Go out quickly."

"Yes, Secretary Yanni."

“By the way, who called just now?” Yanni asked.

Haron shook his head, “I don’t know. The man hung up the phone without speaking at all.”

Yanni didn’t take it seriously either, and waved her hand, “Hurry up and go out to work. The president has advanced the time to return.”

“Secretary Yanni, why is the president so anxious to return?”

“Director Haron, do your business well and don’t waste your brain in places it doesn’t belong.”

Haron is gone, Yanni can’t help thinking privately, the president is flying back probably because of...that photo, who is that person sending him photos?

The next day.

Elena went to the place of appointment. She stood at the door of the Presidential Suite 8206 and rang the doorbell.

Soon, the door of the room opened, and Pollard stood by the door.

Elena walked in, and Pollard closed the door of the presidential suite.

” Pollard, where’s Aunt Lin? How do I know if you are lying to me? If you make a call, I want to hear Aunt Lin’s voice.” Elena went straight to the subject.

Pollard nodded, took out his cell phone, and dialed a phone number.

Chapter 26.

Soon, the other end was connected. Pollard handed the phone to Elena. Elena put it next to her ear to answer, and Aunt Lin's familiar voice quickly passed over, "Hey...hey , Is it Pollard, why don't you speak...When will you let me see the little lady..."

Aunt Lin has always called Elena's mommy Miss, and Elena is the little Miss. Ten years have passed. Elena has grown up, but Aunt Lin still calls her Little Miss.

Elena's eyes instantly turned red. Everyone changed, but Aunt Lin, who loved her, did not change at all, "Hey, Aunt Lin, it's me."

"Miss, is it really you? Cough cough cough cough..." Aunt Lin at the other end began to cough violently.

When Elena heard it, she knew that Aunt Lin's health has badly depleted in the past few years, and she seemed to be dying.

She grabbed the phone and said nervously, "Aunt Lin..."

Pollard grabbed the phone directly and hung up, "It is confirmed, I didn't lie to you."

Speaking, Pollard pulled out his legs and approached Elena.

Elena took a step back, "Don't come over, our deal is, you hand Aunt Lin to me, and I will sleep with you."

Pollard frowned, his face darkened, "Elena, have you not figured out the situation, now you are begging me to give Aunt Lin to you!"

"Pollard, you are the one who hasn't figured out the situation. Now you are begging me to sleep with you!"

"Elena, where did your confidence come from?"

Elena sneered, "Last night you slept with Yoselin, but you called me late at night and asked me to accompany you tonight. Your struggle to meet your desires and that dissatisfaction is my greatest confidence."

Pollard quickly pressed his thin lips into a cold arc.

Elena took the bag and left, "Enough for today. We will trade when you bring Aunt Lin over."

"Elena, don't force me!" Pollard dragged her.

But Elena was prepared for a long time, she slammed the bag in her hand on Pollard's handsome face, "Pollard, who is forcing whom? Ten years ago, you accused me and let me be accused by thousands of people. Ten years later, you used Aunt Lin to force me to sleep with you. Are you worthy of my mommy? Are you worthy of her love for you?"

Pollard suddenly froze in place.

Elena stared at him with red eyes, like an angry little beast.

After a long time, Pollard stepped forward and reached out and held Elena's shoulders, "After all, you still don't want to sleep with me. I don't understand why, why other men can, but I can't?"

Seeing his paranoid look, Elena did not refute, she just asked calmly, "When did you know that I was with another man?"

Pollard didn't want to mention this topic. He squeezed Elena's shoulders, his hands were violently moving, "Heh, do you think no one knows what you are doing? I didn't return all night. I looked for it all night, and I was going crazy. Finally, Yoselin told me that you spent the night in the cave with a wild man. When I rushed over, I saw you sleeping together!"

Elena finally knew the reason, why he insisted that she was sloppy, one winter she once rescued a man in the ice and snow.

The man was in a coma, the road was blocked by the heavy snow, and she couldn't go home at all, so she took the man into the cave overnight.

It turned out to be so. Yoselin said that she had been lingering with the man all night, and he believed it.

"Ha, ha ha ha..." Elena laughed suddenly, she was about to laugh out of tears.

"What are you laughing at?" Pollard asked.

Elena pushed him away forcefully, then picked up the bag on the carpet, "Nothing, I still said that, give Aunt Lin to me, I will trade with you, you think about it."

Elena left.

Back at Green Garden, Usha directly cursed Pollard as stupidest on WhatsApp... How old you were then, why these people are so dirty, but Elena, do you remember the man you saved?

Chapter 27.

The man she saved back then?

Elena recalled that when she was twelve years old that year, she rescued a man who had been unconscious in the ice and snow. She was sure that if she went a little later, that man would die in the snow.

At that time, the road was blocked by heavy snow, and it was almost dark. The person was shaking as the temperature were very low. She struggled to take the man to a nearby cave, and lighted the twigs and branches to keep him warm, but it was still very cold, and the man's limbs were already frost bitten.

Elena took off her clothes and hugged the man tightly, using each her body temperature to keep him warm.

In this way, the man survived.

Now Elena thinks about it. At that time, she was only 12 years old, and she only wanted to save people, but in the eyes of others, it turned into an extremely fragrant picture. Under Yoselin's instigation, Pollard always think she is a dirty girl.

Usha was right to scold, these people are really nasty.

About that man

Elena replied... Eight years have passed. I can't remember the man clearly. Even if he stands in front of me, I probably won't recognize him, but he once gave me a jade pendant after he was sober. He said he would come back to find me.

Usha... Where is the jade pendant?

Elena... I lost it , can't find it.

Usha directly sent an emoticon that smashed her into a faint with a small stone... have you read the romance novel? According to the usual routine, the man you saved must be a rich prince. You saved him, and he pormoised to return.

Elena...

She really didn't know where the jade pendant was. She clearly remembered that she locked the jade pendant in the drawer of the room, but when she opened it again, the jade pendant was gone.

At the time of rescue, Not only her and the man, but also Pollard and Yoselin were present.

So many people were there.

At this time, Usha's message came... Elena, this was found by tracking Pollard's phone. The call he made was in a residential house on the outskirts of Darenvil, where Aunt Lin was living.

Elena looked at the address sent by Usha. In fact, she had planned to go to Room 8206 to attend the appointment. She used herself as a bait to make Pollard call, and Usha relocated and tracked Aunt Lin's location.

Pollard hid Aunt Lin in a home in the suburbs.

Great, she found it!

Elena sent a big heart and ended the chat. It was already night and it was very convenient to move. She wanted to find Aunt Lin immediately.

Regarding Yoselin's slander, she would naturally find a good time to give Yoselin a big gift.

The most urgent thing is to rescue Aunt Lin.

When Elena was about to go out, suddenly her cell phone rang and the call came.

She looked down and saw the words "Mr. Lu" jumping on the phone screen.

It was a call from Holden.

The slender body trembled a few times, and Elena did not answer, but let the phone ring again and again.

Soon there was a "ding", and WhatsApp came.

Elena clicked to see that it was from Holden... asleep?

Elena looked at this word, which was his always concise and strong style, and then turned up, the two people's chat still remained at the sentence "Dare to scold me? come back and clean up you".

At that time, I was very sweet, like a young girl who was in love, she was not wanted by him. Now she has recovered to a calm and sober state.

Chapter 28.

She wants to build a high wall in her heart to keep him out, no longer be tempted by him, nor give him a chance to hurt her.

Only by closing her heart can she make herself more independent and powerful.

Elena didn't reply to WhatsApp, put her mobile phone in her bag, she went out and went straight to the house in the suburbs.

Holden had already returned to Darenvil. Just after getting off the plane, Henry and James came to pick him up at the airport and got into the extended luxury business car together.

Holden looked at the mobile phone in his hand, waiting for a reply for a long time before replying, he had already frowned.

James in the front passenger seat smiled and said, "big brother, how come you came back two days earlier than planned, and you flew back overnight, and there are some beauties hidden in your phone? I think you just got off the plane. Been watching..."

Holden pursed his thin lips and said nothing.

Henry's cold, black eyes hidden behind the glasses were full of smiles, "Your big brother is not looking at beauties."

Holden lifted his long legs, which were nowhere to be placed even in a commercial vehicle, and kicked Henry beside him, "Can you stop?"

After stopping him, Holden dialed out and called Green Garden.

When Freddy, the housekeeper, answered the phone, Holden pursed his lips and asked, "Where's the young lady, is she already asleep?"

Henry snorted, and slowly wiped the kicked footprints on his trousers, "Don't you admit that you are catching the love flue?"

Uncle Freddy had already replied respectfully, "Master, the lady just went out."

"I see." Holden hung up the phone.

James exploded, with a look of gossip, "Damn, what's the situation? big brother, it's eight o'clock in the evening. You just came back from a business trip, and you said that you don't win the newlyweds. This is not a milk rose for your wife. Petal bath, wearing a nightdress on the bed, waiting for you to return to her, she even ran out to play by herself, brother, are you cuckolded?"

Holden glanced at James faintly, meaning... Shut up, and then looked at his personal Secretary Yannini in the driver's seat, "Check where Mrs. Lu is."

Yanni nodded respectfully, "Yes, President."

Elena went to the outskirts and found the old house.

She gently opened the door, and quickly smelled a pungent western medicine. Aunt Lin is not in good health. It seems that Pollard has given Aunt Lin treatment.

Elena quickly saw Aunt Lin. Aunt Lin was lying on the bed. Ten years later, Aunt Lin was much older, her face pale.

“Aunt Lin,” Elena quickly walked over, gently shook Aunt Lin up, “Aunt Lin, open your eyes and see, it’s me.”

Aunt Lin opened her eyes weakly. When she saw Elena clearly, her sick eyes instantly burst into light, “Little Miss, it’s really you, so little Miss. It seems that Pollard didn’t lie to me. He said to Take me to see the little lady.”

Aunt Lin looked at Elena up and down carefully, tears of relief came out, “Miss, you have grown up.”

Aunt Lin was so excited that she soon coughed violently and vomited a mouthful of blood.

Elena quickly caught up with Aunt Lin’s pulse. Aunt Lin’s body was completely empty. If it hadn’t been for the belief that she had come to see her, she would have fallen.

“Aunt Lin, don’t say anything now. You need to go to the hospital for treatment. I will take you out of here now.”

Elena supported Aunt Lin, and the two left the residence together.

The outside of the house was brightly lit, and Pollard came.

Chapter 29.

Pollard came and this time he brought a group of bodyguards in black. He looked at Elena, "Elena, where do you want to take Aunt Lin?"

Elena stopped, "Pollard, did you know I will come?"

"Elena, I really don't know how you found Aunt Lin here, but we grew up together, I know you more than anyone else, you are too smart, so people have to guard against, so I called some People and have been waiting for you here, and you really didn't disappoint me."

Elena looked at Pollard, "Aunt Lin vomited blood just now. Although I used a needle, I still need to send Aunt Lin to the hospital. We can talk about it later, okay?"

Pollard looked at Elena's bright, clear eyes, shining brightly, beautiful and dazzling, he shook his head, "Elena, I don't know what you are thinking in your head. There are many dreams in the night. I can send Aunt Lin to the hospital, but you have to stay and complete the transaction we haven't completed yet."

Elena twisted her eyebrows, obviously, she had no right to say no now.

The two men in black stepped forward and took Aunt Lin into the car. Pollard buckled Elena's slender arm and dragged her into the house.

After closing the door, Pollard directly pushed Elena onto the bed.

Elena thought about getting up, but Pollard buckled her two hazy wrists on top of her head, and then reached out to unbutton her clothes.

Elena closed her eyes, holding back her voice and did not resist, "Pollard, I can't escape, you let me go first, you hurt me."

The girl deliberately begged for weakness, her clear and beautiful voice became soft, Pollard let go of her, and took off her coat, "Elena, don't play tricks with me, I don't want to really hurt you."

Elena raised her little hand and took the initiative to help him undress.

The corner of Pollard's eyes was a little scarlet. In his cognition, this girl was his bride and belonged to him.

In the past few years, he has made many girlfriends, including Yoselin, but all he thinks of is her when he is lost.

Pollard stretched out his hand to lift the veil on her face.

At the moment his hand was about to touch the veil, Elena's eyes became cold, and the silver in her hand pierced the back of Pollard's neck.

However, Pollard grabbed her hand and said, "Elena, I know you too well, can you hide your little actions from me?"

Elena sneered, "Oh, am I doing something?"

In the next second, she directly bent her knees and pressed against Pollard's pants fiercely.

hiss.

Pollard snorted in pain, cold sweat on his head.

Elena pushed him away hard and ran away.

Pollard's handsome face has become sullen and hideous. He most hates her deceiving him and betraying him. He strode down, and dragged the escaped Elena into his arms, bowed his head and kissed her on the face. "Elena, you shouldn't irritate me! I have said that you are mine, and your heart and body belong to me!"

Elena struggled and shoved, avoiding wanting to kiss him. This man was no longer her Pollard, and he wanted to climb to her right after she got off Yoselin's bed, which made her feel extremely sick.

"Pollard, get out, don't touch me!"

Suddenly there was a strange sound outside, and then with a "bang", the door of the residence was kicked open.

The huge sound was accompanied by a thrilling hostility. The cold wind from the outside instantly invaded, and a deep and magnetic voice rang in the ear, "Take your dirty hands off and let her go."

Elena quickly raised her eyes, she saw a tall Daying body by the door, and Holden came.

Holden had just returned, dressed in a formal suit, a white shirt and tie, a well-fitted black suit, and a black overcoat. His gestures were filled with elegance and nobility, as well as a powerful and overwhelming aura.

Chapter 30.

Pollard also saw Holden. He hadn't met Holden, so naturally he didn't know him.

But Holden's narrow eyes fell on his big hand that was still clasping Elena's waist. Pollard felt his scalp numb and let go of her hand subconsciously.

At this time, James clapped his hands and ran over, "big brother, I have taken care of those people."

This time someone familiar with him came, and Pollard was surprised when he saw James. James was the little lord of Darenvil, who did not know him?

At this time Henry walked over at a gentle pace. It was obvious that he hadn't taken a shot just now. He didn't come in until James solved the problem. His cold black eyes looked at Pollard and brought some frightening smile, "Man, We have all come to grab people this night, you should let them go."

Pollard was shocked when he saw James, and when he saw Henry, the young master of the great family, a huge wave was already in his heart.

He saw all of the two families in Darenvil today, then...Who is this man? Pollard looked at Holden.

Holden didn't look at Pollard again, he pulled out his long legs and came to Elena's face.

Elena didn't know why he came back so early, she was still held by Pollard when he kicked in just now, and her clothes are messy, which makes her feel embarrassed.

Elena stretched out her hand to cover her neckline.

Holden looked at the girl's drooping figure, his voice was low and cool, "You didn't tell him whose woman you are?"

Elena curled her fingers, just like a child does when scolded by the teacher.

Holden stretched out his hand, hugged her sideways, and walked towards the door.

Pollard has never seen such a big man in Darenvil. This man is accompanied by the young master of the Gu family and the Huo family prince. His identity is either rich or noble. Moreover, he has the cold and ruthless killing looks that a high-ranking person should have. Dageruous and unforgiving.

Pollard couldn't help but ask behind the Holden's back, "Who are you?"

Holden's footsteps didn't stop, but a little cool sneere at the corner of his lips appeared, "She is my woman, if things like this happen again, you will naturally know who I am by then."

When the words fell, Holden and Elena also disappeared from sight.

Pollard squeezed his fist suddenly, in a crazy tone, but he quickly thought of a possibility, is this man just... the legendary generation of big men who started playing business in their teens... Holden?

how is this possible?

How did Elena get involved with a big man like Holden?

However, how to explain the company of Henry and James, how to explain the Rolls-Royce sent by the Dorsett Hotel, and tonight the most distinguished men of Darenvil landed here to snatch her away, this is all mind boggling for him?

How can there be such a coincidence in this world?

Elena was hugged by Holden in the extended business car. Holden was sitting in the back seat and she was still sitting in his arms.

Elena suddenly thought of Aunt Lin, and quickly said, "Aunt Lin..."

"Sent to the hospital."

Elena raised her eyes to look at the man, and Holden was also looking at her.
