

Chapter 505 Letting Go

“Are we going to announce it today?” Yuan Zhian was stunned. Tang Yin didn’t seem to be joking around. Hence, she could only fish out her cell phone and called Pei He’s number.

After she briefed him about the situation, Yuan Zhian hung up the phone and followed Tang Yin out.

“We are going back to the estate!” Tang Yin ordered in a low voice before he placed his hand on his knee as he drummed his fingers in a rhythmic manner.

“Miss Pei Ruo completely controls Anderson’s rights in Wuhan...” Yuan Zhian pondered for a moment before she added, “Moreover, with your orders, Anderson did not dare to try to take control of Venture Capital Finance.”

“Okay!” Tang Yin nodded. “Have you found out who is the person behind this?”

“Our power in the Americas is weaker by comparison, hence we are still unable to find the culprit,” Yuan Zhian reported honestly. “However, I predict that Tang Lishan is behind all these. Ever since we arrived in the Americas, we haven’t been able to contact her anymore...”

“I see...” Tang Yin nodded slightly as a cold glint flashed across his eyes.

“I heard that Tang Lishan’s son, Tang E, will participate in the debutante ball this time.” Yuan Zhian extracted a document before scanning the name list upon it. Then, she said in a low voice, “Other than Tang E, you have to pay attention to Pedesi’s niece, Daisy. Under normal circumstances, those who are able to attend the debutante ball are wealthy, respectable people. Although Daisy’s father has made a name for himself in New York City, it still wasn’t enough for her to attend this ball.”

“In a manner of speaking... she got in because of Tang Lishan?” Tang Yin raised his eyebrows and asked.

“I believe so.” Yuan Zhian nodded.

Tang Yin smiled and took the list of attendees for tonight’s debutante ball from Yuan Zhian’s hand. Then, he scanned the list, silently remembering the names.

There were some brief introductions on the list. Hence, Tang Yin could distinguish who was worthy of his acquaintance, and who he had to pay attention to.

While the car returned to the estate, news from the media started to bombard many people.

News of Mojade Company's bankruptcy immediately spread like wildfire throughout Los Angeles. This piece of news quickly caught the public's attention after it appeared on the headlines of the afternoon papers.

Mojade Company's bankruptcy meant the loss of hundreds of thousands of jobs for the people of Los Angeles. That meant that a lot of lives would be affected.

After the afternoon news came out, somebody uploaded Pei He's interview on the Internet. From the recording, Pei He was seen talking eloquently during the interview. He said that Mojade Company could not meet the requirements of the staff, and they were rejected by their partners as well. Hence, their only choice was to file for bankruptcy protection.

The moment this recording got out, the entire Los Angeles was in an uproar.

Ordinary people would not know what was going on. Thus, they still did not know what kind of problems would the bankruptcy of Mojade Company represent.

Ever since Pei He's recording got out, more people finally understood that Mojade Company was indeed going to file for bankruptcy.

Pei He ignored all these problems as he left Mojade Company after the interview.

The moment he walked out of the entrance of the company, his phone started ringing.

Pei He lowered his head to take a look. Then, he smiled. He did not answer the call; instead, he got into his car.

The bankruptcy protection this time was different from the usual. A lot of people knew that once the bankruptcy protection was given the green light, the livelihoods of 100,000 employees would be gone. Naturally, the employees who were affected weren't resigned to their fates. On the other hand, the business partners who were affected broke into cold sweats out of fright.

The business partners stopped their cooperation with Mojade Company under the orders of Pedesi. Moreover, they did receive some hints from Anderson as well. He was hinting for them to stop their cooperation with Mojade Company temporarily, and wait for his return. He promised that he would offer them better benefits upon his return. However, before Anderson could come back, news of Mojade Company's bankruptcy broke out.

Once Mojade Company went under, who could the business partners make a deal with? Hence, when the news of Mojade Company's bankruptcy broke out, putting aside the employees' worries, the people who were most nervous were none other than the business partners who refused to cooperate with Tang Yin in the first place.

They started calling Pei He's phone after the news broke out. After all, their company would be affected as well if Mojade Company went under.

Pei He did not have any intention to answer their calls. He merely rode in the car alone and returned to Tang Yin's estate in Los Angeles.

During that one hour journey by car, Pei He's phone kept ringing incessantly as somebody kept trying to call him.

After he returned to the estate. Pei He briefly reported back on the situation in Mojade Company.

"Did Pedesi not stop you?" Tang Yin was curious about Pedesi's actions.

"No," answered Pei He.

Tang Yin nodded his head slightly for he already knew the answer to that. The reason why Pedesi did not stop Pei He wasn't because she didn't want to. In fact, she merely felt that he and Pei He did not have the courage to bankrupt Mojade Company. Moreover, this was a competition among the higher-ups of the Tang Family.

“What do you plan to do?” asked Yuan Zhian.

“So what if we give up on this vote?” Tang Yin laughed drily while glancing at Pei He. “I want you to accompany me for a tour tomorrow. It is time to enjoy life after working so hard over the past few years. As for Mojade Company, we will just leave it as how it is for now. However, I want to take back everybody's rights to sign and negotiate.”

“Okay!” Pei He agreed.

Tang Yin waved his hand, dismissing

Pei He. Then, he sat on the couch in silence.

“Do you want me to contact Tang Lishan?” Yuan Zhian asked again.

“No need for that. Since we can’t contact her, then there is no reason for us to continue. We will just wait for her to contact you.” Tang Yin smiled as he cast his gaze outside the window. “I want you to choose a few clothes tomorrow. After all, we still need to prepare for the debutante ball.”

Tang Yin stretched himself. Then, he sat on the couch and gave Ji Youyou a video call. Afterward, he turned around and went upstairs to sleep.

Due to the time difference, Tang Yin still had some problems sleeping.

After allowing it to simmer for one whole day, the news of Mojade Company's bankruptcy seemed to be circulating around. However, Tang Yin, who was supposed to be involved in this crisis, did not make an appearance at all. On the other hand, he brought his entourage to the beach the next day to enjoy their afternoon there. When it was nearly nighttime, they went on a shopping spree, just like a purchasing agent.

After two days, Mojade Company's problem became more and more serious. Moreover, their business partners seemed to realize that something was going on. It seemed that Mojade Company was indeed prepared to file for bankruptcy.

As night descended on the third day, news of Tang Yin's participation in the debutante ball was leaked by a person with ulterior motives.

How could a person who single-handedly bankrupted Mojade Company think of participating in the debutante ball? How could they let it happen?

Pedesi stood at the top of Mojade Company as she took in the night view from a distance. She had her back to Modric as she said, "Find some men to hold a protest at the venue of the ball. I want to see whether he still dares to attend this so-called debutante ball.”
