

Chapter 709 Falling Into the Hands of the Enemy

First Madam nodded her head and led the way in front of Jiang Hui while she looked around cautiously. As Jiang Hui's personal bodyguard, First Madam was well-versed and capable of dealing with any sudden danger.

Jiang Hui trailed behind her, with her feet making a rattling sound. However, at this moment, First Madam stopped her movements abruptly and stopped Jiang Hui with her hand. This was because, from the corner of First Madam's eyes, she had found that there were already two men behind her. They seemed to be men from a foreign force that were sent to block their retreat. What's going on?

Clap, clap, clap! A burst of applause sounded from the dark shadow in the distance as Qi Tia nwei slowly walked out from the dark shadow. "I see that you are very alert!"

"Who are you?" First Madam's expression became gloomy.

Qi Tianwei smiled, and he turned his gaze toward Jiang Hui, questioning arrogantly, "B*tch, I bet you didn't expect that you would fall into my hands?"

The murderous intent in Jiang Hui's eyes was overwhelming.

"Have you ever thought that a day like this would come when you killed my brother back in the Snow Mountain of Nine Dragons?" Qi Tianwei gritted his teeth and looked at Jiang Hui angrily. He said coldly, "Today, I will provide you a way out. If you were to kneel down and crawl under my crotch, I would let you live for a few more days. What do you think?”

“You are going to die...” Jiang Hui lifted her eyelids. “In this world, only I can make others kneel in front of me, and no one can make me kneel before them!”

“You’re seeking death!” Qi Tianwei was furious, and he waved his huge hand. “Go on, kill her!”

Bang! First Madam had sharp eyes and agile hands, therefore she had already drawn her pistol in the blink of an eye. Immediately, she aimed it at Qi Tianwei.

Qi Tianwei was taken aback for a moment and hurriedly dodged the bullet. However, First Madam was a trained personal bodyguard after all, so the moment Qi Tianwei raised his hand, she had already fired her shot, which tore his lower abdomen apart.

“I want to kill her!” Qi Tianwei howled loudly.

“Madam encountered an assassination! Requesting for backup now!” First Madam yelled loudly into the walkie-talkie before firing three shots in a row at the man.

Although Qi Tianwei’s lower abdomen was injured, his movement did not stop as he immediately hurried to the side. Meanwhile, the other two men had already taken action and rushed toward Jiang Hui and First Madam.

Jiang Hui flicked her hand and drew a military bayonet from her backpack, stabbing it straight at the people who came toward her. Although she had also received a certain level of training before as well as drank a lot of stalactite water, she was no match for these men from the Eight Great Families. The moment she took out the military bayonet, the man's Emeici had already slit through her wrist as he grabbed her hair. The other men came to First Madam's side. As they started to fight, Qi Tianwei had endured the sharp pain from his abdomen and grabbed First Madam's shoulders.

First Madam was caught off guard when Qi Tianwei grabbed her shoulders. The man who was her opponent took the opportunity to slam his palm onto

First Madam's chest, leaving her a broken chest bone.

"You shall die!" Qi Tianwei howled and gave a slap onto First Madam's forehead.

"Don't you dare!" Jiang Hui was furious. She watched First Madam's body go weak after Qi Tianwei gave her a tight slap. "You will die..."

"B*tch, kneel down and beg for mercy!" Qi Tianwei took a step forward and grabbed Jiang Hui's hair as he shoved her under his crotch.

This woman was the one who killed Qi Tianbao, so how could Qi Tianwei let her go? In Qi Tianwei's preconceptions, the members of the Eight Great Families were always the superior ones. In this mundane world, if someone dared to kill his elder brother, the person must pay the price!

“You’re seeking death...” Jiang Hui’s forehead had started to bleed.

“You better crawl under it...” Qi Tianwei was still pressing onto Jiang Hui’s head.

Jiang Hui held her neck up, and her eyes turned bloodshot. The moment First Madam died, Jiang Hui was already unable to restrain her anger. The man in front of her must pay the price. Even if she couldn’t cut him into pieces, she would make sure his bones were shattered!

“B*tch, crawl under me...” Qi Tianwei was still howling.

“Someone’s here, so we better go...”

The other two men exchanged glances and hurriedly dragged Qi Tianwei backward. However, he was still grabbing onto Jiang Hui. “Bloody lowlife c*nt, I will make sure you crawl under my crotch sooner or later...”

The crowd in the distance rushed over in an instant, but Qi Tianwei came prepared. He dragged Jiang Hui into the car and drove away.

After Jiang Hui was taken away, the same issue happened to Miao Bai. Compared to the tragic story that happened to Jiang Hui, Miao Bai’s encounter seemed much more gentle.

Guan Shanyue covered her mouth and giggled. “Come on, kneel on the ground and crawl out of here with me...”

There was a hint of struggle on Miao Bai’s face. However, he had no choice, so he knelt on the ground with a thud. At the sight, Guan Shanyue was convulsed with laughter. “Tell me that you’re just my dog...”

“I’m just your dog...” Miao Bai gritted his teeth and echoed.

“Hahaha!” Guan Shanyue laughed loudly and caressed Miao Bai’s head with her hand. “Tell me that Tang Yin is a b*stard...”

There’s a tiny hint of struggle on Miao Bai’s face as if he wanted to regain clarity. However, there was a slight charm in Guan Shanyue's voice. "Say it. Say that Tang Yin is a b*stard!"

"Tang Yin is a b*stard!" Miao Bai said blankly.

Pleased, Guan Shanyue laughed as she covered her mouth with her hand, thinking that Tang Yin was nothing. "Come on, be my obedient dog and come with me!"

Miao Bai obediently crawled on the ground and followed Guan Shanyue all the way out of his office. At this moment, he was just like Meng Cuiping back then, as if his mental state was being stripped off.

Jiang Hui and Miao Bai's simultaneous accidents had caused Tang Lijiang's heart to sink. He knew that something was really off this time.

"Patriarch, we have to leave this place as soon as possible," two men from the Dragon Camp came forward and told Tang Lijiang softly.

Tang Lijiang glanced at Zhuge Liu's corpse from a distance and said with much thought, "This matter must be kept as a secret, so no one can mention what happened, especially to Tang Yin!"

"Yes, sir!" The two men from Dragon Camp nodded with respect.

Tang Lijiang took a deep breath and dragged his leg that was broken as he walked away. "Send me over to the hospital to bandage this leg first. Then, follow me to Tang Island...”

The people around him were stunned, but they still nodded slightly.

Tang Lijiang’s face was sullen. He raised his head and glanced at the night sky, then said with a gloomy face, “Find someone to get Tang Miao and bring him along. It’s time he paid the price...”

“Yes, sir!”

Tang Lijiang smiled, with a hint of mockery on the corners of his smile. As he dragged his leg and walked, his pace was neither fast nor slow.
