

Chapter 593

Henry's heart skipped a beat. The man died, but the other party still wanted to continue with the marriage. Wasn't this a ghost marriage? This kind of thing was clearly prohibited. How could it still exist?

"Why don't you call the police? The police should be in charge of this matter, right?" Henry asked.

Lam's stepmother shook her head. "It's useless. Their family is so powerful that no one in the local area will care about it. Moreover, they know about Lam's father. If we call the police, Lam's father will die. After running for such a long time, if those businessmen knew about it, Lam's father would definitely die!"

"Brother-in-law, the most important thing is that Lam's father has been taken by the family now. They insist on you showing up. I'm afraid that they have also heard of the news during the past two days." Daisy added.

"Ha." Henry chuckled and said, "Ghost marriage, kidnapping, talking nonsense and they still want me to show up?"

Henry didn't even need to think about it. He knew why the other party wanted to see him. It was a traditional family which definitely could not accept the news that Lam was with a married man. They just wanted to get even with him!

Henry turned to look at Lam's stepmother and asked, "Is the date fixed?"

Lam's stepmother nodded. "We've set the date. It's been four days since the man died. We're going to do it on the seventh day. They want us to go back before the seventh day."

"Where?"

Lam's stepmother looked at Henry and slowly said, "Meng Province, the Zhao family's county!"

As soon as Lam's stepmother finished speaking, Henry's cell phone rang. It was a call from an unknown number.

Henry picked up the phone, it was Alex. "Boss, the patriarch of the Tang clan told us that the Zhao clan is in Meng Province, and Azra has also found out that the man from Zhao's Group had been to Meng Province some time ago!"

Henry hung up the phone. The Zhao clan was also in Meng Province! He asked Lam's stepmother, "Is the county you mentioned the largest one of the Zhao family?"

"Yes." Lam's stepmother nodded without hesitation.

After receiving an affirmative answer from Lam's stepmother, Henry immediately linked the Zhao clan with this matter. The feudal ghost marriage had already been forbidden, but the other party had been willing to continue with it. If there was the shadow of the Zhao family behind it, then everything would be clear!

The Zhao clan! He was about to look for them, but they came to him on their own initiative!

"Let's book the tickets." Henry said gently.

As soon as these three words came out, Lam's stepmother suddenly showed a surprised look. She was very clear that this matter had nothing to do with Henry at all. If Henry was not willing to take care of it, there was no need for him to get involved at all!

"Brother-in-law, I..." Lam said. This was the first time she made a sound since Henry entered the room.

"Lam, do you remember what I told you in the car that night?" Henry directly turned around and interrupted Lam.

There was a hint of confusion in Lam's eyes.

"If a friend can help you, don't be so polite. I think we are already friends, don't you think?" Henry smiled at Lam.

Lam was stunned for a few seconds, and then her face showed relief. "Thank you, brother-in-law."

After making a plan with Lam and her stepmother to set off tomorrow, Henry left Yinzhou University. He still had a lot of things to arrange.

Since he was going to have a head-on confrontation with the Zhao clan this time, he must be well prepared. Henry had never been an easy rival. He would go all out even when fighting against a small enemy, not to mention when dealing with a clan!

Henry didn't know how many clans there were around China, but what he knew was that the clans that could be passed down until now were definitely not simple.

Henry asked Peze to inquire about the Zhao clan. At the same time, he gathered his men and told them to go to Meng Province.

As the third largest province in China, the land area Meng Province occupied had reached one-ninth of entire China. It could be said that Henry had to cross more than half of China. The place he was going to was still a little far away from Yinzhou.

After arranging the matters of the island, Henry contacted Wade and others to let go of all the things in their hands and set off to Meng Province. Just after this matter was over, he would ask them to return to the island. As the top figures on the island, they had to enter the Qi-controlling Realm as soon as possible.

As he gradually got in touch with the clan, Henry realized that the world was no longer what he had been in contact with before. It was much wider and more mysterious side was gradually revealed. His strength, which he was originally proud of, now seemed to be completely useless.

Fortunately, at the same time, Henry also had a sense of awe. He never thought that he was invincible. During the battle with The King Region, he had experienced the trace of Qi.

Now, what he had been in touch with was exactly what he had been exploring all along.

When Henry returned home, it was already six o'clock in the afternoon. There were a pile of colourful new clothes at home. Lisa was sitting in this pile of clothes. There was a silly smile on her lovely little face. She had been living in Spring residential home. When did she ever see so many new clothes? She couldn't believe that these were all hers!

Every time Henry went to Spring residential home, he mainly gave money to buy clothes, which was done by Dean Cui.

Sylvia squatted next to the pile of clothes, picked up one from time to time, put it on Lisa's body, and then took pictures. Henry looked at the smile on Sylvia's face unconsciously, and his heart was filled with warmth. This was the feeling of having a home!

"Honey, didn't you buy too many clothes for Lisa? Don't spoil her too much." Henry closed the door and changed into slippers.

"Too much? Not at all?" Sylvia shook her head. "Honey, tell me, why are these children's clothes so nice now? I bought them all without holding back. Lisa will look beautiful in them!"

Henry covered his head. Sylvia now acted like a typical parent who wanted to spoil her child. She wanted to buy whatever she saw for the child.

"But you can't buy her all these things. She is still young, and she grows up every day. She will definitely not be able to wear all these clothes." Henry glanced at the pile of clothes. Sylvia not only bought the autumn clothes but also bought the winter and spring clothes. She even bought the summer clothes, and summer had just finished.

"When she grows up, there will be more beautiful clothes for her." Sylvia put on another piece of clothes on Lisa.

"Honey, the child can't be spoiled. At her age, she has to learn some basic principles." Henry came over. He still wanted to say something, but when he saw Sylvia's disappointed face, he didn't say anything.

"Honey, I know, but I can't help it." Sylvia pouted and said, "I will control myself tomorrow and won't buy so many things."

Tomorrow?

Henry covered his head. Did his wife listen to what he just said?
