

Chapter 672

"Doctor, are you a doctor?" The middle-aged woman looked at Jessica with eyes full of hope.

"Of course, Jessica is the best surgeon in the world. Get out of her way and let her have a look," Jessica's fan answered the middle-aged woman loudly.

Upon hearing this, the middle-aged woman felt much relieved and said to Jessica, "Thank you, doctor."

Jessica looked at the middle-aged man lying on the ground unconscious, and then looked at the fans around her. Listening to the shouts of the fans, she forced a smile. "You don't have to thank me. Saving people is a doctor's duty. Let me have a look."

The middle-aged woman made way for Jessica. Jessica walked over, squatted down, and pretended to examine the middle-aged man. She had played the surgeon's role before, and suddenly it looked like she was a professional.

"Look, she is so awesome."

"Jessica, we love you."

All sorts of cheers rang out.

Jessica stood up and said to the middle-aged woman, "It's nothing. He's just too tired. Just let him rest more. There is a car next to us. Let's ask someone to carry him to the car first. He should exercise more in the future."

After saying that, Jessica took a step forward.

At the same time, as soon as Jessica's voice fell, several fans rushed up and volunteered to say, "Come on, I'll help you."

"I'll help too."

Several fans ran towards the middle-aged man who had fainted.

"All of you, move out of the way!" A loud roar rang out from nearby.

This roar made the fans of Jessica who rushed over subconsciously stunned and look at the place where the roar was made.

Henry strode over and pushed aside Jessica, who was in front of him, "Don't move him!"

"Don't move him? Who are you? Are you responsible if something happen to this man?"

"I know him. He's from the Lins Group. The one next to him is the president of the Lins Group. They are bullying our Jessica!"

"It turns out to be trash, the Lins Group!"

Henry ignored the curses around him and strode to the middle-aged man who fainted. He squatted down, put two fingers on the middle-aged man's artery to check, then gently supported the middle-aged man's back, took out the other hand and pinched the middle-aged man's philtrum hard.

"What are you doing?" A fan strode up and was about to pull Henry away.

"Get out of my way." Henry directly pushed away this fan. At the same time, he glared at Jessica and shouted, "Who told you that person with heart disease should be moved? Every big movement may make the patient's heart stop suddenly, don't you know?"

"What do you know? We'll do what she says. Do you know anything about medicine?" The fan who was pushed away by Henry shouted at Henry.

With Henry pressing the middle-aged man's philtrum, the middle-aged man's pale face became a lot more ruddy, and his chest fluctuated slightly. Henry gently placed the middle-aged man on the ground and reached out to press on the middle-aged man's chest. After a few consecutive times, the middle-aged man started breathing evenly, and his eyes slowly opened.

Seeing the middle-aged man opening his eyes, the middle-aged woman breathed a sigh of relief and rushed up to hug the middle-aged man. "Old Sun, are you all right?"

"I'm okay, I'm okay." The middle-aged man shook his head weakly, then looked at Henry gratefully. "Sir, thank you if it weren't for you..."

"Speak less and breathe more." Henry interrupted the middle-aged man. "Your situation is not serious. You should go to the hospital and observe for a few days. During these days, try not to have any intense exercise and try to rest if possible."

"Alright." The middle-aged man nodded.

Henry stood up and pushed aside Jessica's fan, who was standing in front of him. He walked to Jessica, stared at her, and said, "You don't know anything about medicine, don't pretend you do. You like to use all kinds of methods to hype yourself. This is your way of doing things, and I can't control it. But please don't pretend to be a doctor and don't talk nonsense!"

Jessica frowned. "What do you mean?"

"You should know what I mean." Henry turned around and his voice reached Jessica's ears. "It's your own choice to be a piece of trash who lives in its own world, but don't use your rubbish behaviour to harm others, understand?"

After Henry finished speaking, he strode away without giving Jessica a chance to reply.

"Stop right there!" A fan of Jessica stopped Henry, "Who let you talk to Jessica like that? Apologize to Jessica!"

"Right! You said that she didn't know anything about medicine. But do you know?"

"Your Lins Group is the real rubbish, isn't it?"

Jessica's fans were very vocal.

Henry shook his head and ignored these fans.

An ambulance drove into the film city with a siren and stopped outside a lot of fans.

The two doctors rushed out of the car at once and shouted, "Where is the patient? Where is the patient?"

"Doctor Hu!" The middle-aged woman shouted at the leader.

Dr. Hu looked over. When he saw that the middle-aged man had woken up, he breathed a sigh of relief and said, "It's good that you woke up. It's good that you woke up. I was so worried all the way. Come on, bring the bed."

The middle-aged man waved his hand and said, "Doctor Hu, no need. I can walk by myself."

"Walk? Who told you to walk?" Doctor Hu raised his eyebrows. "According to your current situation, any action may cause your heart to stop abruptly. If you don't want to end up in the emergency room, just lie down and don't move!"

What Doctor Hu had just said was exactly the same as what Henry had just said, but it was totally different from what Jessica had said.

Jessica asked people to carry the patient aside first and then suggested that he should exercise more.

"Doctor, shouldn't the patient exercise more in this situation?" A fan asked.

"Who told you that?!" Dr. Hu stared at this fan. This misleading would easily make the patient's situation worse and if he received the wrong treatment, it would lead to a life-threatening situation.

"Our Jessica. She's the best surgeon!" The fan said proudly.

Doctor Hu looked at Jessica, who was standing there. Jessica was a popular first-class actress, but she was well-known among young people. The older generation did not know these young stars.

Doctor Hu looked at Jessica with displeasure and asked, "Are you a surgeon?"

"I..." Jessica opened her mouth but did not know how to answer.

Doctor Hu was in his fifties, so it was easy for him to tell whether Jessica was a doctor or not. He said, "If you are really a doctor, the world will be destroyed! If you don't know anything about medicine and pretend to know, it is equivalent to killing people!"

The ambulance took the middle-aged man and his wife away, and Jessica stood where she was with an ugly look on her face.

Chapter 673

Not only were Jessica's fans among the crowd, but also many media outlets.

Jessica said that she had studied medicine and played the role well. She wanted to save the world. Therefore, she ranked first among the most searched hashtags in an instant. Naturally, she attracted many people's attention.

Many people were staring at Jessica.

At present, many cameras were shooting, including media reporters and private investigators. It could be imagined that what Jessica had just done and what doctor Hu had said would be recorded by the cameras. How would the following videos be edited and released? The reporters had too many ideas.

What could be sure was that after the incident just now, Jessica would definitely be questioned. To put it simply, she pretended to understand medicine and deliberately hyped others. But to put it in a more serious way, it was just like what doctor Hu said just now, deliberately taking someone's life. Finally, how to respond to it depended on Jessica's PR team.

Katie's phone rang in less than three minutes.

Katie held the phone with a terrible look on his face. "Jessica, it's Sister Tiffany."

"Do not answer now!" Jessica's face was also not looking good. She looked at the direction of the crew of Lins Group and then strode over.

Katie hurried and followed Jessica.

On set, Sylvia was arranging a new scene. Henry just received a message that the people he arranged would arrive in ten minutes at most.

"Everyone, let's continue our work. We'll arrange supper later. After we're done with this project, everyone can have a good rest." Sylvia's voice encouraged everyone's morale.

The fact that the Lins told Jessica to get out of here made the people in the crew relieved. At this time, they were also full of energy. Even though the people were busy, they did not feel any fatigue or tiredness.

Jessica strode into the studio and scolded, "The Lins, what do you mean? Are you deliberately making things difficult for me?"

Jessica's scolding made everyone look at the place where she was.

Sylvia looked at Jessica with a puzzled face, "What do you mean?"

Jessica snorted and walked to Sylvia. Staring at Sylvia and Henry in front of her, she snorted and said, "Do you really want to have a life-and-death battle with me?"

"A life-and-death battle?" Henry couldn't help laughing.

It was not that Henry looked down upon Jessica. Let alone Jessica, even the agency behind Jessica did not have the capital to fight a life-and-death battle with them.

Henry's laughter irritated Jessica.

"Okay, you want to play, right? Then let's have fun. I don't care about the compensation of several million yuan, but I want you to know that your company will lose hundreds of millions of yuan. We will see!"

As Jessica spoke, she grabbed the mobile phone from Katie's hand. Then she clicked on the screen and wrote another post for social media.

"From today onwards, I, Jessica Shang, am not on good terms with the Lins Group from Yinzhou. Whoever works with them will be going against me. I, Jessica Shang, and that person will not be in the same place!"

This post represented too much. When Katie saw Jessica writing the post, she wanted to stop her, but it was too late.

Jessica gently tapped on the screen and the post was published.

As a famous artist, Jessica's post in other people's eyes did not only represent herself but the agency behind her.

Jessica knew that if she did this, she would definitely be punished by the agency. She had also said earlier that she did not care about the loss of millions. It proved that she was ready for compensation. She was going to make the agency behind her make a move and make the Lin Group pay the price for this!

Jessica's words caused a stir immediately. Originally, it was just her fans who were paying attention to this matter. Now, most of the people in the industry were paying attention.

Jessica sneered and said, "The Lins, let me tell you. In the future, no one will dare to accept to be your spokesperson. Whoever dares to accept it, he or she will make trouble with me!"

Jessica's voice just fell, and a voice sounded at the entrance of the crew.

"It turns out that there is such a big risk for me to accept this deal. It seems that I have to be really careful in the circle in the future. Otherwise, I might be banned one day."

As soon as the voice sounded, Jessica replied without even looking at who it was because it made her feel that she had been provoked.

"Which b*tch..."

Jessica opened her mouth, and as soon as the word "b*tch" came out, her mouth was covered by someone.

It was none other than Katie, who was by Jessica's side, who covered Jessica's mouth.

Jessica pushed Katie away and said angrily, "What are you doing?"

"Jessica, look over there..." Katie pointed with her finger.

Jessica looked over and saw a charming woman in her thirties striding toward them. The moment Jessica saw the woman, the arrogance on her face disappeared and she murmured, "B... Bianca..."

The woman Jessica called Bianca was Bianca Gao.

Although Jessica was now the first-class actress, she was far less famous than Bianca, because Bianca was not only famous in China, but she had a large number of fans around the world. She had an amazing song and was regarded as the most beautiful voice in the world. Because of all of this, it could be seen that Bianca's status in the entertainment circle was very high.

Even if it was the boss of Jessica's agency, when she saw Bianca, she had to call her 'Sister Gao' respectfully.

"Oh, now you call me Suster Bianca instead of b*tch?" She smiled gently.

"Bianca, I didn't know it was you. I, I'm sorry." Jessica repeatedly lowered her head to admit her fault because she knew clearly that this woman in front of her could seal her faith with just one sentence.

Bianca smiled and asked, "Then I'm going to take this deal now. Do you have any problem with that?"

"I don't." Jessica didn't even dare to raise her head and just spoke with her head down.

"Haha." Bianca chuckled. "We are in the same circle. If you have any opinions, I can hear you out. But it's hard to say whether they would listen to you or not."

Bianca raised her head and ignored Jessica.

"They?" Jessica asked in confusion. She subconsciously looked towards the entrance of the set and opened her mouth wide. Her eyes were filled with disbelief.

Not only Jessica but also the crew, the staff of the Lins Group, all opened their mouths and looked at the entrance with a dull look.
