

Chapter 642

Henry held Lisa and walked to Sylvia. He grabbed her hand and said, "Honey, thank you."

"You don't need to thank me." Sylvia glanced at Henry and said, "Food is the most important thing. Eat quickly."

"It's cold. I'll go back to the grocery shop and make dinner again." Henry looked at the dining table.

"Forget it." Sylvia shook her head. "Lisa also didn't want to eat until you come back. We've been waiting for you. It's too late to cook. Let's go out to eat."

"Well, okay." Henry nodded.

The four of them walked out of the house. Because of Lisa, they chose a slightly low-key Maserati instead of Sylvia's Benz GT.

"Lisa, what do you want to eat?" Henry sat in the driver's seat. He turned his head and looked at Lisa, who was held in Sylvia's arms and sat in the back seat, and asked with a pampering face.

Looking at Henry's current appearance, who would have thought that half an hour ago, he was the one deciding whether some people should live or die?

Squinting her big eyes, Lisa said sweetly, "I want to eat prawns!"

"Well, then let's eat prawns!" A few seafood restaurants suddenly appeared in Henry's mind. Finally, he chose the Q restaurant, which was the property of the Chow's. There was a casino on the top floor, and it was opened for 24 hours. Although the price was relatively expensive, the advantage was that the ingredients were fresh.

Henry drove to the restaurant. It was almost ten o'clock in the evening, but the restaurant was still brightly lit. Two rows of girls stood neatly in front of the generous entrance and luxury cars were parked everywhere around the parking.

Henry parked the car and the four of them walked into the building.

"Hello, sir. Do you need a private room?" The girl at the door took a look at the three people behind Henry and asked politely.

"No need." Henry shook his head. Compared with the enclosed space of the private room, he still enjoyed the lively atmosphere of eating in the hall with everybody. Sometimes listening to the jokes of the people at the other table added some flavour to his life.

"Please come with me." The girl bowed slightly and made a gesture of invitation to lead the way for Henry.

"Honey, you go upstairs and order the dishes first. President Qin and I will take Lisa to see the fish." Sylvia's voice came from behind Henry.

Henry turned around and saw Lisa who was pulling Sylvia's and Jenny's hands. They were standing in front of a big fish tank and Lisa was curiously looking at the fish swimming inside.

These fish were very common, but Lisa did not have much opportunity to see them. The children seldom left the Spring residential home, and rarely saw this kind of fish. Henry also had this kind of experience, and he was also curious when he saw things for the first time.

Henry still remembered that he once squatted in front of a fish tank and watched the fish swim for an hour. At that time, his mother was by his side. Standing for an hour, she didn't pull him away until he had seen enough and was ready to leave.

"Then let Lisa watch the fish first. I'm going to order. What would you like to eat?"

Sylvia smiled and said, "You decide. Anyway, you are a chef, so it's all up to you."

"Haha, okay." Henry laughed loudly. He had always been searching for this feeling of home.

He followed the girl to the second floor. The hall of the restaurant was sumptuously decorated. There were rockeries placed in the hall, and the floor was paved with marble. The weight-bearing pillars in the hall were carved with dragons and phoenixes and inlaid with gold rims. It proved that this was a high-class place and was not cheap.

Henry chose a small table by the window and sat down. The waiter came over and handed over the menu.

When Henry looked through the menu, he subconsciously ignored the price marked on it. This was a habit he developed many years ago. For a long time, Henry had a feeling that he could never spend all the money.

Henry ordered three vegetarian dishes, a steamed crab, and five prawns after thinking for a while.

Henry ordered these five prawns for Lisa, so it was enough for the little fellow to eat. She couldn't eat too much. She had to create a habit of controlling herself from a young age.

Henry ordered three vegetarian dishes for Sylvia and Jenny, which were in line with the tastes of these two women who liked to eat.

As for Henry himself, at this time, he had no appetite. He would eat steamed crab and that would be enough.

Most people who chose to eat seafood in this restaurant had a lot of money. When ordering dishes, they would order a lot. In other people's eyes, the way Henry ordered the food was a bit petty.

The waitress who had been well-trained did not have any opinion. She recorded Henry's dishes and left respectfully.

Just as the waiter left, a voice sounded on a table not far from Henry.

"Hey, isn't that Henry Zhang?"

Henry followed the source of the sound and saw more than a dozen people sitting on a round table not far from him.

"Teddy Gao?" Henry looked at the person who spoke.

"Hey, it's surprising that Henry still remembers me, haha!" The man called Teddy laughed loudly.

The people sitting at the same table as Teddy and Teddy also burst into laughter.

Teddy was the class leader of Henry's class when he was studying in a welfare school set up by the Family Lin.

The welfare school that the Family Lin was running was for the kids with financial troubles. But Henry remembered that this Teddy did not have any financial problems. When Henry was in the second year, Teddy was transferred from another school. It was said that he had been expelled from previous schools. The principal of this welfare school that the Family Lin was running was Teddy's father.

Thinking about it, it had been a decade. After such a long period of time, it was like a dream.

Henry smiled at Teddy and said, "We are all classmates. How could I forget?"

"Haha, he said he and I were classmates!" Teddy laughed and said to the man on his table. Then he grabbed a wine glass and threw it at Henry. "Who said I was classmates with you?"

The wine glass cracked directly under Henry's feet.

Teddy flushed all the way from his neck to his face. Obviously, he had drunk a lot of wine.

When the people sitting at the same table as Teddy saw Teddy, none of them stopped him. Instead, they all looked at Henry with smiles on their faces, waiting to see what would happen next.

Henry frowned. At that time in school, because of his own family background, he was the one that was the most bullied. And because Teddy's father was the headmaster, it could be said that he was a tyrant at school. At that time, Henry, who was thin and poor, was the one that Teddy was bullying.

"Henry, looks like you don't have much money. You order a few dishes just now. Do you want me to order a few more dishes for you?" Teddy looked at Henry proudly.

"No need." Henry waved his hand.

"No need? Don't you want to show me some respect? Hmm!" Teddy slammed his hand on the table heavily.

Henry frowned more tightly. "We're all old classmates. I don't want to cause trouble."

"You don't want to get into trouble. I want to!" Teddy kicked off the chair behind him and strode toward Henry.

Chapter 643

Teddy drank a lot of wine. When he walked, he was shaking. He angrily walked to Henry and stared at him. "Do you know? Do you know how much trouble your family had caused to my family? Do you know how much your mother caused my family to suffer?"

Teddy stretched out three fingers and said, "Three million yuan. Because of that matter, the authorities punished our family with three million yuan? Security problems? Henry, tell me, are you and your dead mother worth three million yuan? Do you deserve it?"

Back then, Henry's mother jumped from a tall building because she was diagnosed with an incurable disease. She chose the school.

Teddy knocked on the table in front of Henry. "Ten years! I've been looking for you for ten years, and I finally met you today. You have to pay the price for what you have done!"

"Teddy, I don't want to make trouble with you." Henry frowned and said, "Your family had to pay because there were issues with security. No one had fixed the fence of the fourth floor for a whole semester, so it had nothing to do with my family."

"Haha." Teddy sneered. "If your mother wasn't so eager to jump from the building, would she find the school? The three million yuan should all be paid by your family!"

Teddy's voice was so loud that everyone sitting at the other tables turned to look at him.

When the waiter saw that something had happened, she quickly came over and said to Teddy, "Sir, this is a public place. Please control yourself."

Teddy clenched his fist at first, but when he heard the waiter's words, he slowly calmed down. Although he did not know who ran this restaurant, he still could not afford to offend someone who could run such an exclusive restaurant. If he dared to make trouble here, he would just make trouble for himself at the end.

Teddy stretched out his finger and pointed to Henry. "I'm telling you, I saw you today. Don't think about disappearing again. I'll get even with you when we go out!"

After saying that, Teddy walked to his seat. Halfway through, he suddenly turned around and said, "By the way, Henry, if you don't have the ability, don't pretend to be a big shot. This is a seafood restaurant, not a place for you to order vegetarian dishes!"

As Teddy's voice fell, all the people sitting at his table burst into laughter.

Henry looked at Teddy, who returned to his seat. If he didn't bring Lisa today, Henry would definitely go up and deal with Teddy. But today the child was here, and Sylvia and Jenny didn't have dinner. Henry decided to tolerate him first.

A mature man would always put his temper behind his family's needs.

Teddy returned to his seat. He stopped drinking and stared at Henry.

"Dad." A crisp cry came from the side. Lisa took her small steps, opened her arms, and ran happily toward Henry.

On her way to Henry, Lisa had to pass by Teddy. Teddy sneered and deliberately stretched out one of his feet to trip Lisa.

Lisa, when she was trotting, didn't notice the foot stretching out in front of her eyes. The little body staggered and fell forward.

Henry's eyes were sharp and his hands were fast. He quickly took a step and hugged Lisa, so that she did not fall to the ground.

"Lisa!" Jenny, who followed Lisa, let out a cry of surprise and quickly ran over. After seeing Henry hugging Lisa, she was relieved and touched her little arms. "Lisa, are you all right?"

"Mom, I'm fine." She smiled sweetly every day. "Dad has caught me."

"Mom?"

The way Lisa addressed Jenny and Henry made Teddy, who was sitting next to them, feel suspicious. He looked at Jenny's beautiful face and tall figure, and his eyes showed a jealous look. Such a beauty was unreachable for even his family. How could an orphan like Henry be with her?

With a dry cough, Teddy said, "Henry, take care of your child and don't let her run around. I'm wearing a pair of shoes worth 3000 yuan. Can you pay for it if she makes them dirty?"

Teddy deliberately showed off in order to attract Jenny's attention.

"Why are you like this?" Jenny said to Teddy, "Obviously, it was you who saw the child running over and deliberately stretched out your leg."

"Beauty, you can't say that." Teddy said with a smile, "The table I'm sitting on is so big, so is the space. It's my own business how I will stretch my legs. If you have this ability, you can ask someone to sit at a big table."

"You!" Jenny was about to refute Teddy.

Henry said, "Forget it, sit down."

Jenny heard Henry, so she didn't argue with Teddy anymore. Fortunately, Lisa was not injured, otherwise, she would definitely not let it go.

Teddy sneered and said, "Henry, I don't mean to blame you. Although you have been poor since you were a child, you must have a backbone. Look at you. You came here to eat with your wife and child. You ordered a few dishes, and almost all of them are vegetarian? If you want to eat vegetarian dishes, find yourself a small restaurant. You don't have to come here and pretend."

"Yes!" One person at Teddy's table said. He was also Henry's former classmate. "I really don't understand how people like you found a wife. Look at Teddy, who had been good when he was a child. Now he drives a Benz. The dishes on this table are worth at least 5000. This is life!"

At this time, several women who were sitting with Teddy also had smiles on their faces. When Jenny just appeared, these women were more or less jealous of her. Women loved comparing with each other. When they found that no matter in appearance or figure, they were not as good as Jenny, they were somewhat dissatisfied with her.

But now, these women don't think so. Jenny was very good-looking and in good shape, but her husband was a loser. They were eating fish and meat, but Jenny could only eat vegetables.

Jenny sat opposite Henry and did not care about what Teddy said. She asked Henry what he had ordered.

"Three vegetarian dishes, five shrimps for Lisa, and a steamed crab for myself. Is it enough?" Henry asked.

"Enough, enough." Jenny nodded. "I feel that it's a little too much. Why don't we cancel one?"

Jenny and Sylvia didn't eat too much at night. If it was lunch or normal dinner, these dishes would not be enough. But now it was 10 o'clock in the evening, and these dishes seemed a bit too much.

Hearing this, the disdain on Teddy's face grew. How poor these people were that they order just four dishes? But, such a beautiful woman followed Henry. How blind was she?!

After thinking for a while, Teddy waved to the waiter and said, "Waiter, give me another 2.5kg of shrimps, 2.5kg of crabs, 0.5kg of clams, and 0.5kg of sashimi!"

These dishes were worth at least a couple of thousands yuan. Teddy usually didn't like spending too much. After all, he had already spent more than 5,000 yuan today. But now in order to show his financial ability and humiliate Henry, he decided to spend more.
