

Chapter 695

Henry also breathed a sigh of relief when he saw the old man sitting up. What he had just done was just an attempt, and he didn't have absolute confidence. Everything was based on his understanding of the human body. Now it seemed that he was right.

At the same time when Henry breathed a sigh of relief, the black blood from the old man's mouth made Henry's heart slightly cold. Henry could see at a glance that there were many toxins in this black blood! Someone deliberately poisoned the patient, and then used it to blame Chinese medicine!

These two things, poisoning the patient and deliberately framing Chinese medicine, were enough to make Henry angry.

Henry's eyes swept over the crowd outside the emergency room. According to the psychology of normal people, the person who poisoned the patient would definitely be there, waiting for the result.

When Henry saw Dr. Lance, he caught a slight panic in Dr. Lance's eyes. Although Dr. Lance thought he had hidden it very well, it still could not escape Henry's eyes.

The panic in Dr. Lance's eyes made Henry 80% sure that the poisoning had something to do with him!

"President Ma, please give him another check." Henry wiped the sweat from his forehead. The needles that he had concentrated on had consumed a lot of his strength.

President Ma nodded and stepped forward. He first felt the patient's pulse, and then checked the patient's head. Under the blockade of the patient's meridians, the fluid that was pressing the patient's nerves had been removed.

A few minutes later, President Ma was sure about it and said loudly, "He is cured!"

The three words "He is cured" came out of the emergency room, so that everyone standing outside the emergency room could hear them clearly.

The patient's family cried again, but it was not hysterical cry as before, but tears of joy.

"Is Chinese Medicine really so awesome?"

"Even though his heart stopped beating for five minutes, he still got cured!"

"If that's the case, how many people can they save?"

When the onlookers saw that traditional Chinese medicine was not what they had just heard, they all changed their views. The reason why they could change their views so quickly was related to Henry's consultations in the past two days.

He could give a diagnosis of the patient's disease only by looking at him, which made many people feel amazed.

Now, the patient who had been announced as dead by Western Medicine was rescued by the doctors of Chinese Medicine. People once again saw the magic of Chinese Medicine.

The reason why Dr. Lance called them was that he wanted to attract more people and make traditional Chinese medicine infamous in front of more people. Now, he was building up momentum for traditional Chinese medicine.

"Chinese martial art is great, and so is Chinese medical skills!" A middle-aged European man held out his thumb and said in lame Chinese.

"This time, the medical skills of Chinese doctors really widened our horizon!"

"I really want to see if there are such miracle workers everywhere in the Chinese Hospital!"

All kinds of admiring voices came one after another. When Dr. Lance heard them, he was about to go crazy.

Yesterday, when Dr. Lanss was seeing patients, he heard a lot people praising Chinese medicine. At this moment, he heard even more.

"That's enough!" Dr. Lance finally couldn't help but shout out, "This thing was orchestrated by the doctors of Chinese Medicine. They did the bad thing and then cured him. I think that they did it on purpose to increase the popularity of their Chinese Medicine!"

"Yes." The western doctor also followed and said, "Did they do this on purpose to let everyone think that they are good at Chinese medicine? Yes, they earned a good reputation. But what's the point of doing this to the patient? They could cure the disease immediately, but they did so many things. What's the meaning of making the patient suffer and his family worried?"

The words of Lance and the western doctor made many people suddenly stunned. Were these doctors of Chinese Medicine really like that? If so, their way of doing things was simply too evil!

Dr. Lance saw that the people around him finally didn't praise Chinese medicine for being good. He finally felt a lot more comfortable.

"Come on, get out of the way!"

A shout came from behind the crowd. Then, a doctor in a white cloak and four tall policemen pushed the crowd aside and strode over.

The doctor walked to the front of the crowd, glanced at all the people who came with President Ma in the emergency room, and finally fixed his eyes on Henry. He stretched out his hand and pointed to Henry, saying, "That's him. Please arrest him!"

When the four tall policemen heard this, they immediately pulled out their batons and walked toward Henry.

Lewis, who was beside Henry, changed his look and immediately stood in front of Henry. He said to the doctor, who had just arrived, "Dr. Inner, I don't understand. What do you mean by this? We didn't violate any rules."

Dr. Inner said with a sneer, "Lewis, the doctors in your group who came to this exchange needed to show their legal Certificate of Medical Practice. I'm sorry. I needed to investigate this."

Dr. Inner pointed at Henry and said, "He has no certificate. According to our laws, he must be punished."

As for whether Henry had the qualification for medical practice, Dr. Inner had begun to investigate yesterday. After all, Henry's observing method had a great impact on him.

This investigation really let Dr. Inner find out a lot of things. This Henry not only did not show the medical certificate but also Dr. Inner could not even find any record, which made him mad with joy. He chose to call the police immediately and brought people to arrest him.

"Sir, you don't have the right to practice medicine. You are not allowed by the law. We will give you a ten thousand-euros punishment and a year's imprisonment. You can inform your embassy, but please come back with us." A policeman said and reached out directly to grab Henry's shoulder.

At this moment, Henry could clearly see the sneer on Dr. Inner's, Dr. Lance's, and another western doctor's face.

"I'm sorry, Doctor Inner. It's just that we haven't had time to register, but we do have the qualification for medical practice." Lewis said repeatedly. Then he turned to Henry and asked, "Magical doctor, what's the number of your Physician's Qualification Certificate?"

Henry shrugged his shoulders and said, "In China, I really don't have the Physician's Qualification Certificate."

"Ah?" Lewis was stunned when he heard this. In his opinion, Henry, with such good medical skills, was definitely the best in Chinese medicine. How could he not have the Physician's Qualification Certificate?

Doctor Inner could understand a word or two in Chinese. When he heard that Henry admitted that he didn't have the certificate, the smile on his face became brighter.

"Police officers, he admitted that he was unqualified to practice medicine. You can take him away," Dr. Inner said.

Henry smiled and said, "I only said that I don't have the Chinese Physician's Qualification Certificate, but I did not say that I don't have the certificate here."

Chapter 696

He had the certificate here?!

Henry's words confused everyone present, including Lewis and the others.

"The Physician's Qualification Certificate here?" Doctor Inner smiled scornfully. "Boy, this is Germany. What qualifications do you have to get our Physician's Qualification Certificate?"

In the past two years, German Physician's Qualification Certificate was the most difficult to get in the world.

It was especially difficult for foreigners. The previous policy made it impossible for the members outside of the union to get the Certificate of Medical Practice. This policy had been changed in the last two years, but there were still many restrictions. It was still difficult to get the certificate.

If Chinese people wanted to get the Certificate of Medical Practice of Germany, the first step was to get the certificate in China. But, Henry did not even have the certificate in his own country.

"Officer, please don't listen to this person's nonsense. He has seriously affected our work. Please take him away!" Dr. Inner said again.

Henry stood there and said again, "My medical license number is OZDY010. You can check it out."

Upon hearing this, Doctor Inner's face changed. "This guy dares to say the number of his medical license. Does he really have the license?"

The man who grabbed Henry's shoulder looked at Doctor Inner and asked, "Sir, do you need to verify it?"

"No!" Dr. Inner shook his head directly. "Take him to the police station for investigation!"

Dr. Inner was now very clear that no matter whether Henry had the Certificate of Medical Practice or not, he must not stay there any longer. As for the following, even if Henry had the Certificate of Medical Practice, at most he would apologize. But until the investigation was done, the meeting would come to an end. Now the most important thing was winning the exchange.

"Officer, if he has the Physician's Qualification Certificate, you can't arrest him." Lewis stood in front of Henry and said.

"Take him directly! If you have any objections, go to my office to complain!" A loud voice came from behind, and a middle-aged European man in a suit strode over.

When they saw the middle-aged man, the four officers stood straight in unison. Then they gave a standard salute to the middle-aged man and said, "Earl Brewer!"

Brewer nodded at four policemen, pointed at Henry, and said, "Take this man away. If there's anything they need, tell them to call their embassy and negotiate with you!"

"What you are doing is not legal at all!" Lewis shouted loudly.

Hearing this, Dr. Innerer, Dr. Lance, and the western doctor looked at each other with a ridiculous look in their eyes. How dare he say such words to Brewer? Wasn't that looking for death?

Brewer adjusted the collar of his shirt, took out a cigar, and lit it with his mouth. He walked slowly to Lewis, bowed slightly, and looked down at him. Then he spat out a cloud of smoke to Lewis's face, stretched out a finger, and pointed at Lewis's chest. "Chinese person, do you know what you are talking about? Talk about the law? Do you know who is in charge of this area? The law?"

Brewer seemed to have heard something funny, and his eyes were full of banter. "Let me tell you, if I want to, today, all of you will go to prison and stay there!"

After saying these words, when he saw the unacceptable expression on the faces of Lewis and others, he laughed proudly again.

"Come, now. Take him away!" Brewer once more shouted.

This time, the four policemen did not hesitate. They pushed Lewis away, who was standing in front of Henry, and pulled Henry to leave.

Lewis and others were extremely anxious in their hearts, but there was nothing they could do. In a foreign country, they didn't have any power at all. Even if they had to call the embassy, it would take time.

Just as Lewis took out his mobile phone and was ready to immediately contact the embassy, the sound of glass breaking suddenly rang out.

The windows on the second floor of the clinic were cracked at the same time, including the windows in front of the emergency room.

Along with the sound of broken glass, several strong figures came in through the window. All of them were fully armed with loaded guns. Their sudden appearance startled all the people present.

The four policemen who caught Henry looked at the figures who showed at the hospital. When they saw the badges on these people, which belonged to the European's highest authority in the royal family, they all showed respect on their faces. Those who could be recruited into this army were all the elites of the elite.

A policeman immediately walked up and said to one of them, "Sir, I am..."

"Retreat!" A loud shout came from the front of the policeman. At the same time, the dark muzzle, emitting a cold aura, aimed straight at the policeman's face.

Countless infrared rays were aimed at the four policemen in front of the emergency room at this moment.

Such a scene made the four policemen's legs go weak.

Brewer's face changed. He did not understand why the guards, which belonged to the biggest royal family in Europe, suddenly appeared here.

Outside the window, there was a propeller performance of the helicopter. Looking out of the window, people were stunned by the scene outside.

Dozens of armed helicopters were hovering above the hospital.

The gate of the hospital was also wide open at this time. Armoured cars and tanks, one after another, slowly drove into the hospital, surrounding the whole building. The dark tanks could destroy the whole building at an instant.

"Retreat, all of you, retreat!"

Cheers could be heard coming from the gate of the clinic.

Hundreds of armed elite soldiers rushed in from the door with guns in their hands. Then, they stood in two lines, as if they were facing a big shot.

A golden car with an exaggerated shape stopped in front of the clinic building.

As soon as he saw the golden car, Brewer's face instantly became filled with respect. As an earl, he knew very well who the owner of this car was, and there was only one person who could ride in this car.

Even the members from other royal families from the union with many territories would behave as servants in front of the owner of the golden car.

This was an ancient family. The existence of this family was even longer than the existence of the union. They were so powerful that no one could take them for granted because no one could figure out how strong this family was.

The only thing everyone knew was that in this country, this union, this continent, this family had a supreme position!

Chapter 697

The Nuoman family!

No matter who the ruler of a country was, no matter what era he was in, he was always ranked under this family.

The golden car in front of them was the exclusive car of the heir of the Nuoman Family!

Only the king could ride in this golden car.

When the door of the car opened, Red Hair in a black cloak walked out.

When Brewer saw Red Hair, he had difficulties breathing. There was a mental pressure. In his heart, this youth in front of him was a natural ruler, while he himself was a natural follower. The words of this youth in front of him were the law!

After the appearance of Red Hair, Brewer's previous arrogance completely disappeared.

Red Hair looked up at Henry, who was standing in front of the emergency room on the second floor. He smiled and strode toward the second floor.

"This boy, why do you like to put on a grand show every time?" Looking at the countless elite soldiers around him, including the sky full of planes and the tanks on the ground, Henry felt a little helpless.

The arrival of Red Hair was naturally organized by Henry. When Dr. Inner appeared with the police, Henry felt that something was wrong. Then, when Dr. Inner insisted on making the police arrest him, Henry sent a message to Red Hair. The message was very simple.

"Come to the hospital, or I'll be taken away."

Together with this message, there was also a location.

The place where Red Hair lived was in Bai City. At the moment when he received Henry's message, a row of planes and tanks paved the way and arrived at the hospital as fast as they could.

As Red Hair went up to the second floor, Brewer walked up to him shakily, and said respectfully, "My lord, I am..."

"Shut up!" Red Hair snorted with displeasure. "Do you think you have the right to speak?"

Being scolded, Brewer immediately shut up, and there was no anger or embarrassment on his face, because he knew that he was not qualified to do so. He was just puzzled about why Red Hair suddenly appeared here.

Just as Brewer was thinking, he saw Red Hair walk up to Henry and give him a heavy hug. He shouted, "Boss, you're so rude. Why didn't you tell me you're coming?"

Henry smiled and said, "I just came to deal with something and will leave. Who asked you to make such a big show every time?"

"In fact, I also refused in my heart, but the group of stubborn people in my family insisted on doing so. Boss, you haven't been here for so many years. The old man in my family often talks about you and keeps good wine for you. Would you like to have a drink today?"

"Forget it." Henry waved his hand. "I'll go back as soon as I'm done here."

"Fine." Red Hair nodded.

Brewer, who was standing on one side, looked at everything that was happening in front of him, and his face turned blue. "The king, called this Chinese man "boss"? And it seems that the two of them have a very good relationship. Moreover, this Chinese young man also knows the father of the king, the current ruler of the Nuoman family!"

A strong sense of inauspicious foreboding filled Brewer's mind.

Dr. Lance and the others also sensed that something was amiss. Although their status was lower than Brewer's, and they didn't know the identity of this red-haired young man, judging from his manner of travel, they knew that he was definitely someone they couldn't afford to offend.

Red Hair talked to Henry about the old days, then he looked at the four police officers and shouted, "Who allowed you to arrest him? What's your reason for arresting him? Tell me!"

The four policemen looked at each other, and finally focused their eyes on Brewer. If Brewer hadn't appeared and insisted on arresting this man, they would only act according to the law and check Henry's Physician's Qualification Certificate.

"You ordered someone to arrest him?" Red Hair turned to look at Brewer.

The instant Red Hair's gaze turned to look at him, Brewer's back was drenched in sweat, and his face turned deathly pale.

"Answer me, are you the one who ordered to arrest him?" Red Hair's voice was calm, but it gave Brewer an enormous amount of pressure.

Brewer nodded his head with difficulty.

"Tell me the reason?" Red Hair gently opened his mouth.

"I... I..." Brewer's lips quivered as he tried to find an excuse. "I suspect he has no Certificate of Medical Practice."

"It's not like that!" Lewis said on the spot. "The magical doctor had already told them the number of his Physician's Qualification Certificate, but he insisted on arresting him."

"Hmph." Red Hair grinned slightly and then slapped Brewer in the face. "A Certificate of Medical Practice? Your leader was begging my boss to accept the certificate. Do you think my boss doesn't have a Certificate of Medical Practice?"

Hearing this, Brewer's legs trembled more seriously. He knew very well what the identity of "the leader" mentioned by the king was. He was the biggest political leader of the union!

This young man was begged to accept the Physician's Qualification Certificate. Who on earth was he? What kind of person did he provoke?

Brewer stared at Doctor Innerer with hatred in his eyes. If it weren't for this man, why would he have come here to make trouble for him? Now he was also in trouble. The current furnaces couldn't imagine what kind of consequences he would face. Not to mention the real identity of this young man from China, just the identity of Red Hair was enough to ruin his life.

"Break their limbs," Red Hair said softly, "and then, inform their families that we're going to build a tombstone. This person is a rebellion."

A rebellion!

Brewer's legs gave way. With a 'plop', he fell to his knees. The word 'rebellion' was enough to sentence him to death countless times!

"My lord, I beg you. I beg you. Please spare me this time. This is all because of him. It was Dr. Inner. It was Dr. Inner who made me do this!" At this moment, Brewer didn't care about any sort of friendship. No matter how great the friendship was, could it be as important as his own life?

Red Hair frowned. "Who is Inner?"

Brewer hurriedly pointed his finger to one side.

The face of Inner, who had been pointed at by Brewer, changed. "Let's deal with this according to our plan against treason."

The two soldiers went forward. Without any extra nonsense, they directly raised the handle of the gun and slammed it on Dr. Inner's legs.

Doctor Inner let out a scream of pain and fell to the ground.

"By the way," Henry suddenly said.

"What's wrong, Boss?" Red Hair turned back.

"Have someone investigate these two to see who gave the patient in the emergency room medicine." Henry stretched out his hand and pointed to Dr. Lance and the western doctor.
