

Chapter 86

“I’m afraid you won’t understand this, although I made a deal with the Yorks...” Mandy Zimmer sighed and shook her head as she knew that the Zimmers won’t be too happy if they heard that the funds were decreased from fifty million dollars to thirty million dollars.

Both of them left after saying their goodbyes to Cecilia Zachary.

At York Enterprise, Yvonne Xavier was about to leave the office as she had just handled the incident at Northland Restaurant.

As she walked past Wendy Sorrell’s office, she saw Wendy frowning over a big bag of luxurious items.

Being a woman herself, Yvonne was quite interested in the stuff.

“It looks like some rich guy is trying to court you, Miss Sorrell.” Yvonne said with a smile.

“What rich guy? It’s just Zack Zimmer. He’s trying to make me approve the investment on the Zimmers. Who am I to decide, after all the CEO already had plans with the Zimmers.” Wendy said while still frowning.

“Oh, Miss Yvonne, can you accompany me to the Zimmer Villa and return these stuff to Zack? Hopefully we can get this sorted out or else my mobile phone would explode from all the calls from Zack for the past few days.” Wendy asked.

“Sure, I’ll go take care of something first while you arrange the meeting with the Zimmers, we’ll pay them a visit later tonight.” Yvonne accepted after checking the time on her watch.

Yvonne didn’t want to go at first but she then thought that she should go pay a visit since it had something to do with the Zimmers according to the CEO’s orders.

Meanwhile, the Zimmers were already waiting in the Zimmer Villa. Everyone was expecting some good news from Mandy, even Senior Zimmer's hands were trembling while smoking.

The truth is, everyone was here for the whole day already, they were waiting for a reply from Mandy. Who would've thought that Mandy went shopping afterwards. At last, Senior Zimmer couldn't wait any longer so he called Mandy back.

Mandy took a seat and looked uneasy while Harvey York was eating the fruits placed on the table.

Everyone noticed Harvey since he was the only one eating, all of them despised Harvey and judged him for coming to the meeting as a useless live-in son-in-law.

“You useless live-in, who do you think you are to attend our family meeting? Do you think that you're in a restaurant?” Zack stood up yelling at Harvey while pointing at him.

“As useless as I am, I still wouldn't go and harass some front desk staff from another company and lose a fifty million dollar deal. I may be useless, but unlike someone, I'm not a failure." Harvey dragged Zack with him while insulting himself. 2

"You f*cking son of..." Zack yelled angrily.

"Enough! Sit down!" Sean Zimmer cut in and glared at Zack for embarrassing himself in front of the crowd.

Senior Zimmer ignored Harvey and stared at Mandy while sipping his tea.

"Mandy, I heard that your advertising company is currently facing some problems, do you need any financial support?" Senior Zimmer asked while everyone was shocked that Senior Zimmer talked about another topic.

Mandy was also stunned for a while as she was not sure what Senior Zimmer was trying to do.

"I did face some issues a while ago, but it was solved after it got an eight hundred thousand dollar investment." Mandy replied to Senior Zimmer's question.

“Good, it seems that I’ve made the correct choice, keep it up and the CEO of the Zimmers could be you one day.” Senior Zimmer praised her with a smile.

“So, how was the deal today?” Senior Zimmer then asked.

“Grandpa, I’m sorry that I can't give you a specific report. The thing is, the CEO is quite unhappy and ordered Wendy Sorrell to follow up with our case, which she had only promised to give us a thirty million dollar fund while they demanded an extra ten percent of the profit.” Mandy replied with an awkward look.

“What? I thought we agreed on fifty million, how could they change it like that? They even wanted an additional ten percent? That’s ridiculous!” Senior Zimmer exclaimed.

Chapter 87

Senior Zimmer was feeling anxious, as it was clearly shown on his face, since the Zimmer family won't be getting much profit out of the deal.

“Mandy, how did the terms change so drastically? Surely, you weren't planning to frame our family alongside outsiders, are you?” Sean Zimmer asked Mandy Zimmer.

After hearing what Sean asked, everyone around started to believe Sean's accusation as all of them had done something similar before. It didn't take too long for them to be suspicious about Mandy.

Mandy was mad as all of her effort had not been recognized, furthermore got accused of framing the family.

Smack!

Before Mandy said anything, a piece of watermelon skin flew through the air and landed on Sean's face.

“Ugh! Ptooeey!” Sean spat in disgust as he was quite germaphobic.

“What the f*ck are you doing? You worthless piece of trash!” Zack Zimmer yelled at Harvey York as he saw his father getting hit by a piece of watermelon skin.

“I was just throwing garbage,” Harvey replied with a confident look.

Zack couldn't hold his anger any longer as Harvey had insulted his father. He grabbed a nearby ashtray and tried to hit Harvey with it.

Bam!

“What the f*ck!” Zack screamed in pain as Harvey snatched the ashtray and slammed it onto Zack's forehead.

“You f*cking piece of sh*t! I'll kill you!” Zack yelled as it would be an insult to both father and son if he remained silent.

“Enough!” Senior Zimmer halted both of them.

“Harvey, you better give me an explanation or else even Mandy couldn’t save you today.” Senior Zimmer threatened with a cold stare.

Mandy was shocked by Harvey’s actions as he had caused a scene in front of Senior Zimmer, who was the head of the Zimmer family.

Chapter 88

However, deep inside Mandy Zimmer's heart, she agreed that Sean Zimmer and Zack Zimmer deserved the humiliation.

Harvey York had no intentions of giving excuses as he then casually grabbed another piece of watermelon.

“Nothing much, I was just throwing garbage, it's not my fault that somebody's words are as stinky as a trashcan.” Harvey replied calmly.

“You little...” Sean grunted as he glared at Harvey while wiping his face. Sean was so offended that his body was trembling.

“What about me? It's your son who had caused the trouble, which my wife settled. Despite ignoring her effort and giving her the gratitude she deserves, you guys even had the gall to accuse her for framing the family. How ironic is that? Fine, let your son handle it then!” Harvey defiantly replied to Sean.

“Harvey York, you’re just a live-in son-in-law, who do you think you are to speak at our family meeting?”

“Besides, as a Zimmer herself, Mandy should work for our family...” Sean yelled at Harvey.

“And let your precious son take all the glory, am I right?” Harvey interjected.

“What if he goes and harass their staff again and makes us bankrupt? Shouldn’t you be afraid of that as well?” Harvey then asked.

At that moment, the crowd was a bit worried as they thought that Zack would’ve done something like this again according to their impression toward him.

The crowd got scared as they would instantly lose everything and become nobodies if the Zimmers went bankrupt.

“Senior Zimmer, Harvey’s got a point there. We can’

t afford to let Zack screw up this time.”

“That’s right. He was the one who caused the trouble, and at least Mandy had brought us a deal.”

“The point is we get the funding, losing a bit of profit won’t be too much of a problem.”

“That’s right. Thanks to Mandy for bringing us the deal!”

In just a matter of minutes, the standpoints of the crowd went around and turned against Zack.

Meanwhile, Senior Zimmer frowned as he had also been suspicious toward Mandy a while ago.

However, he had no chance but to agree with the deal as he was also concerned that the Yorks might cancel the offer if they had changed to another liaison.

“Mandy, since the Yorks had already offered, we’ll just accept it. However, can you try to negotiate with them about taking back the ten percent profit? If not then we’ll just be merely working for them.”

Senior Zimmer asked after thinking for a short while.

Chapter 89

“About that...” Mandy Zimmer was not very confident about the request. She glanced at Harvey York unintendedly.

“Just accept the request.” Senior Zimmer laughed as he thought that Mandy had connections with someone from York Enterprise’s top management. At the very least, that was what he thought after seeing Mandy managed to accomplish such a difficult task.

“Okay grandpa, I promise...”

“”No!” Harvey interrupted as Mandy was about to accept.

“What the f*ck is wrong with you! Who are you to refuse?” Zack Zimmer yelled while holding his head as he was starting to be afraid of Harvey’s reckless actions.

“Harvey, I ignored your rude actions earlier because I respect Mandy. Do you think that you're qualified to speak in this house?" Senior Zimmer threatened while giving Harvey a cold stare as Harvey had really gone up his nerves after causing ruckus multiple times.

"Previously you promised that Mandy would become the CEO if she got the deal, but now you're just making new conditions and letting her do some nearly impossible stuff. I think you're just trying to make my wife look bad." Harvey replied with a cold tone.

"I'm trying to make your wife look bad?" Senior Zimmer angrily questioned while he stood up and pointed at Harvey.

'Is this live-in trying to get into trouble? Who does he think he is? If only we're not trying to lure Mandy, he won't even be standing right here. Even a dog from the Zimmers deserves more respect than him.'

The other Zimmers around was astonished by Harvey's words while all of them looked at him like some maniac.

"Harvey, stop, that's enough."

"Grandpa, I will try to negotiate with the Yorks, but I can't guarantee that it will be successful. Worst case scenario would be them taking back the offer, I hope you could be prepared for that."

Mandy halted Harvey and said to Senior Zimmer.

Senior Zimmer was stunned for a while as he had not thought of this before. If things go wrong, the Zimmers would get into big trouble.

"You can stop acting now Mandy."

"You really think you're the only one who can handle the deal? Wendy Sorell from York Enterprise texted me, she said she'll be paying a visit tonight!"

Zack said loudly while holding his mobile phone.

"Wendy Sorell? From York Enterprise?" Sean got very excited after hearing what Zack said.

“Correct!” Zack replied while putting up a despicable look toward the crowd, specifically at Mandy.

“Since Manager Sorell’s coming to our place, it’s most probably about the deal. Besides, we can get a better bargain since she’s the one paying us a visit. Grandpa, it seems like somebody’s show must end.” Zack told Senior Zimmer while still trying to discredit Mandy.

Bam!

Zack slammed his mobile phone onto the table for the others to look at.

“Is it really Manager Sorell?”

Chapter 90

“Zack Zimmer is truly the hope for our family!”

“Looks like even without that ‘somebody’ who went this morning, the Yorks would contact us after all.”

The crowd changed their standpoints again, this time turned against Mandy Zimmer.

“You sure about that Zack?” Senior Zimmer asked with a frown on his face.

“Of course!” Zack replied as he called Wendy Sorrell and put her on the speaker.

“Hello, Mr. Zimmer.” Wendy’s soft voice came out from the speaker.

“Hello Ms. Sorell, I’ve already notified Senior Zimmer about your visit tonight, may I know when will you arrive?” Zack replied with a smirk.

“No need to cause a scene, I’m just here to hand some stuff over to you.” Wendy replied.

“My pleasure. Do you need a ride?” Zack offered.

“No need, I have my own transport, I’ll arrive around 7pm.” Wendy replied.

“Alright, we’ll be waiting for your arrival!” Zack replied with a proud look before hanging up the call.

‘Stuff? What stuff? Could it be the contract?’ The crowd was astonished.

“Zack, I remember she told you to get lost a few days ago, how come...” Senior Zimmer asked with a surprised look.

“Grandpa, don't you know what every woman wanted was fortune? I had already sent a few hundred thousand dollars worth of presents to her for the past few days, I bet she had already fallen for me! Don't forget to let me claim the money back after everything's done, grandpa!” Zack answered with a smirk.

“No problem! You can even get the CEO title if you want after you bring us profit.” Senior Zimmer offered.

“Grandpa, you’re not being fair!” Mandy protested as she worked hard to get the deal but at the end, all the glory and recognition was given to Zack.

“Fair? Mandy Zimmer, you’re not the only one who has something under your sleeves. You only managed to get a nearly useless deal, while I got their manager over for a visit! It’s not that I stole your glory, it’s just that you weren’t capable enough to keep it.” Zack taunted with a humiliating tone.
