

Chapter 988

Tang Yin's body shook with realization as he hastily followed the demonic beast into the water and sat cross-legged on the ground. Then, he slightly raised his head and closed his eyes as if he was enjoying the moonlight.

The cold moonlight shone on Tang Yin's body; it looked as though a layer of silver-white was growing on Tang Yin.

As he quickly unleashed 'The God Record', the secret technique reverberated in his body for a long time before a vortex slowly formed around his body.

Clattering sounds converged from all different directions, and the phenomenon originating from Heaven and Earth's vitality poured into Tang Yin's body. The influx of such vitality caused Tang Yin's breathing to become steady as a white, sleek and long strand emerged from his mouth and nose.

Puzzled, Zhuge Pei watched from afar; Tang Yin had been practicing like this for the past few days, but the phenomenon that happened to his body didn't seem to change much.

A far distance away, the demonic beast in the lake lifted its head and cooed as it glanced at Tang Yin's direction, swimming away promptly as though it did not want to be near Tang Yin.

After a long time, Tang Yin opened his eyes. He carefully sensed his surroundings and chuckled dryly. He realized that the move just now was useless as the hand that was cultivating his body remained the same from a few days prior.

This doesn't seem like the way to induce celestial induction. Am I using the wrong method?

Tang Yin frowned as he pondered for almost the entire day. Since he couldn't come up with a conclusion, he stood up and walked around the lake to slip away.

The demonic beast in the lake seemed to have sensed Tang Yin's gaze as it turned around and swam away when Tang Yin got closer to the lake.

Tang Yin smiled, but he didn't give up as his gaze carefully surveyed the demonic beast's body. He felt that this demonic beast was definitely practicing celestial induction; otherwise, why would it surface to the lake in the middle of the night just to take a breath of fresh air?

While Tang Yin was observing the demonic beast, Jiang Hui and Ji Youyou's trip to Southeast Asia had ended as they flew back to Beijing.

After the Xu Family's downfall, there was a great shift in the country's situation which greatly benefited the Tang Family; they annexed many of the Xu Family's properties and managed to raise the Tang Family's strength to another level.

In fact, many families benefited from the midst of this turmoil apart from the Tang Family.

Under the Tang Family's wings, those families grew rapidly. Several third-rate families leaped straight into first-class families, whereas some even had faint signs of becoming Great Families.

When Jiang Hui landed in Beijing with Ji Youyou, these families appeared in droves as they attended the grand ball held at the largest hotel in Beijing.

Many families cracked their heads just to get invited to this ball; some of them even arrived at the hotel as early as noon. Not only did they want to show respect for the Tang Family, they wanted to see if they could connect with other powerful families at the ball if they arrived early.

Chapter 988

This was how businessmen were supposed to be—they did everything for the sake of profit.

When night fell, Jiang Hui quickly came over with Ji Youyou.

As soon as the majestic Rolls-Royce entered the scene, countless eyes were immediately drawn to it.

When the car came to a halt, eight bodyguards from the front and back came forward and respectfully pulled the car door open.

Jiang Hui, who was dressed in a black gown, helped Ji Youyou down from the car. Probably due to her consumption of stalactites, it made Jiang Hui look like she was only thirty years old.

Chapter 988

Meanwhile, Ji Youyou looked more like a girl who had yet to blossom in her white gown, giving off a bright and beautiful feeling.

Jiang Hui raised her hand and smiled faintly at her surroundings; a thundering applause rang out around her instantly.

The two of them walked all the way through the red carpet and entered the hotel lobby.

There were already hundreds of businessmen and celebrities gathered in the lobby, and they were here to admire the elegance of the Tang Family.

At the back of the lobby, Han Siyu brought people from the Han Family and surrounded the corners, while Tao

Chapter 988

Huaisheng also brought people from Beijing and occupied a corner; these two parties were like two forces that secretly protected Jiang Hui and Ji Youyou.

Among the crowd, Li Chengshuang watched as her daughter walked toward the center of the stage. She had mixed feelings in her heart; the rise of the Tang Family contributed to Ji Company's growth significantly, becoming a second-rate family from a third-rate one in just a swoop. Every time they headed out, people would even pay respects to the family.

Li Chengshuang knew that this would've been a huge difference to any ordinary family, but as the Tang Family's in-laws, Ji Company still bore mixed feelings.

Chapter 988

The Tang Family had gained such a great benefit, so why couldn't Ji Company gain greater benefits too? Becoming a top family might be impossible, but why couldn't they elevate their status to a first-rate family?

"Eh..." Ji Ding sighed softly by the side as he sullenly raised his cup; he had the same mixed feelings in his heart.

"I'll go and meet Youyou later on; after all, we are her parents..." said Li Chengshuang with certainty.

"You want to meet her?" Ji Mu sneered. "Don't you know that Youyou hasn't been answering your calls all this while? Besides, the Tang Family never announced that we're their in-laws."

Chapter 988

“What’s wrong with that? Blood is thicker than water; how could you possibly know what that is like?” Li Chengshuang snapped back arrogantly.

Ji Mu merely snickered and didn’t bother glancing at Li Chengshuang.

Standing on one side, Wang Lang said, “Our president has stressed that no one is allowed to disturb the two Madams of the Tang Family—especially those from Ji Company!”

Ji Ding froze and lowered his head in silence. Meanwhile, Li Chengshuang stood up irritatedly. “Who are you? You’re just a dog working under Tao Qingfan, and he is just another dog working under my son-in-law, Tang Yin! How dare you talk to me like this?”

Chapter 988

“Li Chengshuang...” Ji Mu glowered when she saw Wang Lang at a disadvantage.

Wang Lang was indifferent as he raised a hand. “Don’t blame me for not telling you; this matter was arranged by Madam Ji Youyou. If anyone from Ji Company looks for her, she will tell you to get lost immediately!”

“You...” Li Chengshuang’s expression changed slightly as she looked at Wang Lang’s jeering look. Rendered speechless for a while, she knew that Wang Lang had no reason to lie to her; he didn’t have the guts to do so either.

In that case, it was indeed Ji Youyou’s orders.

Chapter 988

“You’ve already burned your own bridges, yet you still want to ask for favors here? If I were you, I wouldn’t be so brazen as to come here today! Instead, I’d rather crawl back home and sleep!” Ji Mu mocked Li Chengshuang. She couldn’t be bothered about Li Chengshuang’s feelings.

“Who are you talking about?!” Li Chengshuang immediately exploded.
