

Chapter 241

Laurel and the others froze!

What was going on? They were the ones who offered. Why did Tom ask Clarissa to see him home?

It was not fair. Was it because Clarissa was the prettiest?

Damn!

Especially Laurel. She couldn't accept. She had said explicitly, but Tom still asked Clarissa.

Nash looked at Clarissa meaningfully and said, "Clarissa, since Mr. Howard asked you to see him home, you must behave well. You can't disappoint Mr. Howard, okay?"

Clarissa's heart raced, and her pretty face was as red as blood. She nodded and said shyly, "I understand..."

When Tom saw this, he was speechless. Did he look like a pervert?

In the end, Tom and Clarissa left together under the envious and hateful eyes of Laurel and other stars.

It was not proper to say that Clarissa sent Tom home, because Clarissa didn't even have a driver's license. Of course, they were all drunk tonight, so they couldn't drive.

"Miss Brown, where is your address? I'll see you back." Tom said after getting into the car.

The blush on Clarissa's face did not dissipate, and she was absent-minded and ignored Tom's words. Tom repeated it, and she came back to her senses and asked, "Mr. Howard, what did you say?"

Tom rolled his eyes again, and he had to repeat what he had just said, but Clarissa still misunderstood, thinking that Tom was planning to make out with her at her place. Her face turned redder, and she bit her lips gently, telling Tom the address.

Tom knew that Clarissa had misunderstood, but he didn't want to explain and asked the driver to drive to Clarissa's house.

It was quiet in the car, and there was no sound except for the melodious music.

Clarissa's heart was beating fast, and her mind was in a mess. She couldn't calm down at all. She kept thinking about what would happen when they arrived!

Although she had always maintained her innocence in the entertainment industry, she was not an ignorant little girl. She knew about that thing between men and women.

At the thought of what might happen next, her face grew even redder, and the red color wouldn't fade.

She couldn't help but peek at Tom beside her. He closed his eyes and was resting, and he was quiet and motionless. She wasn't sure if he was asleep.

She peeked from time to time. After a long time, she found that Tom did not move. He was so quiet as if he was really asleep. So she mustered up her courage and looked at him intently.

She found that although Tom was not very handsome, he was actually charming. His side face looked especially masculine. This kind of man was rare in the entertainment industry.

She was even more attractive to Tom after seeing the confidence and power he showed just now.

Suddenly, an idea came to her mind...

It seemed that giving her first time to this man was not a loss. It was better than those fat people with big bellies, right?

In fact, when she entered the entertainment industry, Clarissa knew that it was difficult for her to still be a virgin. Now that she was talented, Nash would protect her, but one day when she wasn't anymore, she would not be able to make her own choices...

Clarissa was looking at him dreamily.

Tom suddenly opened his eyes, looked at her strangely, and said, "What have you been looking at me for?"

"What?!"

She was startled and immediately retreated. In a hurry, she hit her head, and it hurt so much that tears flowed out of her eyes, and a bump appeared on her forehead.

Tom was lost for words.

He was really speechless. Why was this girl so clumsy? She didn't match her cold and aloof image on the Internet at all.

"Are you okay?" Tom asked with concern.

Clarissa felt embarrassed and wanted to find a hole to hide. What was wrong with her? Why was she so stupid and even hit her head?

"I'm fine..." she said, but the painful expression on her face wouldn't lie.

Tom sighed and said resignedly, "Come here, let me blow it for you."

"What? No need for that!" Clarissa was shocked.

Tom ignored her and moved over. He held her head and blew gently. The cold air blew on Clarissa's wound, and she felt much better.

She looked up at Tom in front of her and felt as if time had stopped.

"Okay, apply some ointment to it. It'll be fine in two days." Tom let go of her and said.

He let go of Clarissa, but she was deeply disappointed.

Not long after, the car stopped and arrived at the neighborhood where Clarissa lived. Tom said, "Okay, we arrived. Go back home and take some rest. I have to go."

Clarissa was stunned and said, "Mr. Howard, aren't you going to my house?"

"When did I say I was going to your house?" Tom asked.

"But... You asked me to see you home, aren't you going to..." Clarissa was too embarrassed to continue. She was a shy person. It was too shameful for her to say that.

Tom smiled and said, "You think too much. I just want to go home. Okay, it's getting late. Go back."

more than an hour and found nothing. Mark's information was simple. He was the son of Kiwi, who owned the KL Group. He had no other identity other than that.

"Am I really mistaken?" Tom frowned.

At the same time, Mark, who had just been beaten by Tom, did not go home to see Kiwi. He came to a high-end club instead to see the man that was enjoying the massage.

"Brother, you have to help me. Someone beat me!" Mark talked about what happened today exaggeratedly..

Clarissa got out of the car in a daze. She really didn't understand. Wasn't Tom going to make out with her? Why did he leave? Was it because he didn't like her? Or was Tom not that shallow?

After returning home, Clarissa suffered from insomnia because she couldn't stop thinking about these questions.

Tom didn't think about that at all. When he returned to the villa in Dragon Bay, he took a shower and began investigating Mark.

After meeting Mark tonight, his intuition told him that this man was not that simple.

However, he tried to investigate for more than an hour and found nothing. Mark's information was simple. He was the son of Kiwi, who owned the KL Group. He had no other identity other than that.

"Am I really mistaken?" Tom frowned.

At the same time, Mark, who had just been beaten by Tom, did not go home to see Kiwi. He came to a high-end club instead to see the man that was enjoying the massage.

"Brother, you have to help me. Someone beat me!" Mark talked about what happened today exaggeratedly...

Chapter 242

This man was in his thirties, and his muscles were extremely strong. He was full of strength and his skin was extremely tight. It took the masseur a lot of effort to massage him. Anyone with a discerning eye could tell that he was a martial artist, and he was very powerful.

After hearing Mark's words, he turned over and slapped Mark. He scolded Mark rudely, "You good-for-nothing."

Mark was slapped by two men. After being slapped by Tom, he was especially angry and arrogant. However, when he was slapped by this man, he didn't dare to say anything and was even more flustered and scared.

He then slapped himself twice, "Boss, you're right. I'm a good-for-nothing!"

If anyone who knew Mark saw this, they would be shocked. They would never have thought that Mark, who was so arrogant and imperious, would be so humble in front of this man.

The man waved his hand and said, "It's enough. Don't fish for sympathy. Tell me his name."

Mark immediately said, "Boss, I've found out that the guy's name is Tom, the chairman of the ZQ Media. He's rich, and even Nash has brought a lot of female stars to curry favor with him. Of course, he's nothing compared to you, boss."

"Tom?"

When the man heard the name, he frowned slightly and repeated it twice. He seemed to recall something, and he felt that he had heard this name before.

Mark's heart skipped a beat and he asked carefully, "Boss, do you know this guy? He's not from the organization, is he?"

Mark was afraid that Tom was also a member of the organization. If so, he would not be able to take revenge and maybe he would have to apologize to Tom!

"Tom, Tom..." Suddenly, the man suddenly sat up from the bed, his pupils dilated and he said excitedly,

"Fuck, it's him?!"

Mark was immediately startled by his reaction. In his impression, his boss had always been very calm, did everything calmly, and had never been so flustered. His reaction made Mark even more fearful. Could it be that he had offended a big shot?

"Boss, I was wrong. I failed to recognize and offended a big shot in the organization. Please save me." Mark trembled in fear and knelt down directly to the man. His behavior puzzled his boss, and he said, "Mark, what are you doing? Who tells you that Tom is a member of the organization?"

"What?" Mark was stunned, not knowing what was going on. If Tom was not from the organization, why was boss so surprised?

he man showed a thought-provoking expression and said, "Mark, stand up. You've made a contribution this time."

Mark, who was still confused, said, "Boss, I-I don't quite understand. Do you know Tom?"

The boss lit a cigarette. He waved his hand to let the masseur out, then said, "Tell me more about it."

Mark didn't know what his boss meant, but he still said it honestly. After that, Mark said, "Boss, Tom seems to be a good fighter. I can't defeat him with the moves you taught me."

The boss smiled and said, "Of course you can't defeat him. He is the most outstanding genius in the Howards. Most importantly, he is the son of our Saintess. His genes are much stronger than ordinary people."

"W-What?!" Mark's eyes widened in fear and he said, "He's the son of the Saintess of LT Organization!"

"That's right." The boss nodded and said, "But don't worry, he is a blot on our organization. I don't expect Tom to dare to stay in H City. This is interesting..."

Seeing his boss's sneer, Mark couldn't help but shiver. He felt his hands and feet were cold, and at the same time, he couldn't help but sympathize with

Tom. Now that Tom was targeted by his brother, he was going to come to a terrible end.

Thinking of this, Mark couldn't help but laugh.

Tom was popular because someone photographed him sending Clarissa home that night and posted it on the Internet, and the news immediately became a trending topic.

Who was Clarissa? She was a popular superstar in the entertainment industry with several titles. She was also the goddess of otaku, guide of teenage girls, and had a lot of fans.

Many people wanted Clarissa to be their girlfriend and wanted to meet her. All along, Clarissa had never had any scandals, so the fans were so loyal to her.

However, Clarissa was photographed having a date with a mysterious man now.

This was big news in the entertainment industry, so it became a trending topic soon, and the server almost broke down!

Fortunately, because it was late, there was only the outline of Tom's face in the photo, but not his clear front face.

Even so, anyone who knew Tom could easily figure out that the person in the photo was Tom.

For a moment, the Internet was denouncing the hateful man who had been dating Clarissa.

"Sis, that's too bad. Brother-in-law hooks up with a superstar!"

In the villa of the Scotts, Logan was playing with his mobile phone and suddenly called out loudly. He was so excited that everyone was shocked.

Today was a monthly gathering of the Scotts. The people of the Scotts gathered together for a meal. His voice was heard by everyone.

Ever since Phoebe became the chairman of the SK Lighting, her position in the Scotts had been much higher.

In fact, that was not the case. In fact, the entire the Scotts disliked her and pushed her aside. She didn't want to come to this gathering, but her parents insisted on her coming.

Phoebe frowned and scolded rudely, "Logan, what's wrong with you? You startle everyone."

Logan quickly ran over and showed Phoebe his phone, "Sister, look, the news about brother-in-law is a trending topic. It turns out that the mysterious man who had a date with Clarissa last night is brother-in-law!"

His words exploded like a bomb at the scene.

Clarissa was a famous star. She earned tens of millions dollars a year. How could she date Tom? This must be kidding!

Phoebe was stunned for a moment. Then she looked at Logan's phone. Sure enough, she saw the figure standing close to Clarissa in the photo. Although there was only an unclear profile, Phoebe, who had lived together with Tom for four years, still could tell at a glance that this man was Tom.

For a moment, the corner of Phoebe's mouth twitched violently, and she was especially upset.

The rest of the Scotts also reacted and quickly took out their phones to see if it was true.

Chapter 243

"It's really Tom!"

"What's going on? How can Tom hook up with a superstar? Isn't he a nobody?"

"Is this fake? We all know what kind of person Tom is. How can a superstar like him? Besides, Tom is a live-in son-in-law of our the Scotts."

"It must be fake! It's that his figure looks similar to Tom's. It can't be Tom."

All of a sudden, the news stirred the blood of entire the Scotts. Many people took out their phones to read the news and they saw the photos too.

In fact, many of them could tell that this was Tom as they were at least 90% alike. Even so, there were still people who thought that the person in the news could not be Tom and he just looked like Tom, especially the younger generation. They were all fans of Clarissa. In their minds, Clarissa was like a fairy, and Tom was just a bastard. The difference between the two was the difference between an immortal and an ant. How could they know each other, let alone fall in love?

No matter what, all of them looked at Phoebe.

Everyone gloated and laughed at her. Ever since Phoebe got promoted, although they didn't dare to say anything, they secretly hated Phoebe even more. Now when they saw Phoebe embarrassed, they were very happy.

Phoebe finally moved her eyes out of her phone. Now her mind was a little blank. For some reason, she felt especially upset. She wanted to squeeze out a smile, but found it difficult.

"By the way, Phoebe, where's Tom? Why doesn't he come this time?"

"Yes, he used to be a fixture at family gatherings like this. After all, he could have a good meal. Why doesn't he come today?"

"Isn't what's on the news true?"

Many of the Scotts members, who had always disliked Phoebe, took this opportunity to tease her.

Phoebe tried to keep herself calm and said faintly, "He's gone back to his hometown."

Elizabeth and James also saw the photos on the Internet. Now they were in a particularly bad mood. Ever since they met Tom in Dragon Bay, their attitude towards him had changed. They knew that Tom had been lucky and made a lot of money, so they wished Tom and Phoebe could remarry quickly. But nothing happened, which made them anxious.

Now that they saw this news, they were even more anxious. This showed that Tom was really rich, and even could hook up with a superstar!

"Phoebe, isn't the mysterious man on the news who had a date with Clarissa really Tom?" One of the Scotts members asked.

Phoebe did not answer.

Elizabeth immediately stood up and said, "Of course it can't be our Tom. It's just another man who looks like Tom. Tom and Phoebe love each other very much!"

When Phoebe heard this, her lips moved and she wanted to say something. Nonetheless, she didn't say anything in the end and gave tacit consent to what Elizabeth said.

At this moment, a teasing voice sounded, "I think it's probably true.

Now Tom is rich. He bought a big villa in Dragon Bay not long ago. He paid for the house of more than 38 million dollars in one go."

Hearing this, everyone gasped!

He paid for the house of more than 38 million dollars in one go? He was too rich!

As members of the Scotts, they were considered to be born in the purple, but they never expected to spend nearly $40 million in one go on the house.

Soon, someone came back to his senses and said, "This must be fake! Tom is unemployed. How can he have so much money? Grace, you're joking again."

"Yes, if Tom could afford such an expensive house, I would be the richest person in the country."

"Right. Grace, you are really good at joking."

When they thought about it, they didn't believe it was true and thought it was a joke.

However, Grace walked out with a teasing expression on her face and said, "I'm not joking. This is the truth. If you don't believe me, ask Phoebe."

Phoebe frowned and did not answer.

Elizabeth said, "That's right. Our Tom did buy a big villa in Dragon Bay. It's not expensive. It's only 389.99 million dollars."

This news was too shocking for the Scotts. It was like a poor guy they had known for a long time, who suddenly said he became the richest man in the world. It was too ridiculous.

"Is this true or not? Is Tom rich?"

"It looks like it's true. Grace said it's true. Grace can't lie, can she?"

"Damn, it looks like Tom really makes a fortune. God is really unfair. Even such a good-for-nothing can make a fortune. Why haven't we, the talented ones, made a fortune yet?"

Elizabeth felt especially happy when she saw how envious and jealous everyone was. Originally, with her personality, she should have publicized it a long time ago. Unfortunately, Tom had divorced Phoebe, and the big villa had nothing to do with them. Besides, Phoebe had warned her specifically not to tell others about it, so she couldn't tell anyone, which made her very uncomfortable.

Now she finally had the chance to say it, and she felt relieved immediately.

However, Grace continued, "Tom must be rich. He can afford a big villa and have a date with a superstar. I really envy you, Sister Phoebe. You married such a good husband. Tsk tsk. When you get home later, remember to ask my brother-in-law for Clarissa's autograph. My brother-in-law and Clarissa are on good terms, so he definitely can get her autograph, right?"

When she said this, the whole room became much quieter.

Since Tom had made a fortune, it was true that he had a date with Clarissa!

All of a sudden, everyone looked at Phoebe with a different expression.

Their eyes were full of schadenfreude and derision. Tom cheated on Phoebe.

Elizabeth was also stunned. She did not expect that Grace's purpose was this. She was fooled!

So she also became embarrassed.

When Grace saw Phoebe like this, she was even more ostentatious and pleased. She continued, "Sister Phoebe, are you not willing to help me with this? For brother-in-law, it's just a simple task. Brother-in-law has already had a date with Clarissa, so he must be on good terms with her, haha..."

Phoebe now knew that Grace said these out of vicious intent, intending to touch Phoebe on her most sensitive spot.

She clenched her teeth, feeling extremely upset. There were even tears in her eyes.

Chapter 244

Phoebe now understood how the weak tiger felt when it was bullied by a dog!

She bit her lips, trying not to let her tears fall.

But it was really hard. She had never experienced such embarrassment before.

Richard, who walked over with a sullen face and said angrily, "Phoebe, what's going on?! Tom is the Scotts's son-in-law. How could he hook up with other women? If this gets out, our the Scotts would lose face!"

"Yes, it's too outrageous. Our the Scotts is a prestigious family in H City. Now Tom is actually messing around. This is not a shame to you, but also a shame to the entire the Scotts!"

"Phoebe, how do you care about Tom? How can you not even do this well? You are too useless!"

"That's right. She can't even control her husband. She even wants to manage SK Company. Does she have the ability?"

"I think she should resign as chairman of the board!"

Suddenly, a lot of people in the Scotts began to add insult to injury and say nasty words.

These words, like thorns, pierced into Phoebe's heart, making her extremely uncomfortable, and tears finally fell down!

She said loudly, "Enough! Tom and I have been divorced for a long time. It has nothing to do with me that he is dating other women outside, and I have no right to stop him!"

She couldn't help but expose it.

When the Scotts heard the news, they were all surprised.

What, Phoebe divorced Tom? Did they hear it correctly?

"Are you serious? You and Tom are divorced?" One person of the Scotts asked.

Phoebe nodded and said, "Yes, I've divorced Tom. No matter who he is dating with, it has nothing to do with me or the Scotts. So you don't have to worry that I'll embarrass you!"

Elizabeth and James sighed, feeling particularly disappointed. Destiny was changeable. Now that Tom had finally made a fortune, he divorced Phoebe.

Grace was the happiest when she heard the news. She couldn't help but burst out laughing and said, "Wow, Phoebe, do you really divorce Tom? Tom is now a big boss. Not only can he afford to buy a big villa in Dragon Bay, but he's also flirting with Clarissa, a popular star. That's on the top searching rank. Phoebe, are you dumped by Tom?"

Phoebe pretended not to hear Grace's words and clenched her fists under the table with tears in her eyes.

Others realized the exact situation and also began to ridicule Phoebe. Now Phoebe had become a joke.

"That's enough!"

Finally, Phoebe couldn't help it. She slammed the table and shouted.

Everyone was shocked by her.

Now her tears could not stop flowing down her face. She said angrily and wrongly, "Yes! I divorced Tom. Tom is rich now. I am indeed ashamed in your eyes! But it's not your turn to mock me! Are you my enemies or my family?!"

"Ever since I was a child, I've been very obedient in my family. I've never embarrassed my family before I married Tom, have I? Besides, isn't it you who asked me to marry Tom? In the end, you blame me? Are you still human?"

One of them whispered, "It's been so long. Is it interesting to bring it up?"

When Phoebe heard his words, she immediately looked over and said, "I don't want to talk about the past, just talk about the recent things! The Scotts has encountered difficulties twice, and it was I who saved the whole family. If I hadn't borrowed 20 million from the president of ZQ Inc, the Scotts would have disappeared long ago! Fortunately, the money I borrowed helped the Scotts get through the difficulty. But Zack lost all the money in gambling and our family fell into crisis again. It was me who borrowed a hundred million from the ZQ Media and saved our family once again! To put it bluntly, if it weren't for me, you would all have gone to eat the northwest wind. It would have been impossible for you to live such a pleasant life or get dividends every month."

"But what about you? Not only are you not grateful to me, but you bite the hands that feed you and mock me. Is this how you behave? Are you my family or my enemy?!"

Phoebe said so much in one breath, completely in a roaring and hysterical manner, and her face was already covered with tears.

Ever since she was young, she had never been so excited. Even when she married Tom and suffered a lot, she still held back her grievances and managed to be calm.

But now, she really couldn't help it. The whole family went too far! If someone else mocked her like this, she might accept it, but these were all her relatives. They were either her elders or her siblings. Now they were mocking her like enemies. Why? Wasn't her surname Scott? Wasn't she human?

This time, everyone was stunned. They all looked at Phoebe in a daze. They were surprised and did not expect Phoebe to be so aggressive. This was something they had never seen before in Phoebe.

After a while, a voice rang out, "Isn't it just a joke? Why are you so excited?"

It was Grace. She complained in a low voice. There was no guilt or regret on her face. Instead, she seemed indifferent.

Not only her, but many of the Scotts also thought so. They had no sympathy for Phoebe at all.

When Phoebe saw this, she fell silent, feeling extremely cold in her heart. She had never felt so cold before. At this moment, she finally realized how indifferent and heartless of her family and that they were not worth her sacrifice!

She walked over to Grace and stared straight at her. "Just a joke?"

Grace looked up. "It's just a joke. Why are you..."

Before Grace could finish her sentence, Phoebe slapped her on the face.

Grace was stunned for a moment, then she became extremely angry and scolded like a shrew, "Phoebe! Are you fucking sick?!"

Phoebe smiled and said, "Why are you so excited? I was just joking with you."

Grace felt like eating shit. She didn't expect Phoebe, who had always been gentle, to hit her. When Grace wanted to fight back, she heard Phoebe threaten her. "If you dare to fight back, I promise you won't get a penny from now on!"

Hearing this, Grace was frightened.

Yes, Phoebe was now the chairman of the SK Lighting and had the supreme power. If Phoebe really wanted to target her, she really couldn't get the money.

So she had to admit defeat.

After teaching Grace a lesson, Phoebe turned around and gave the others a had never felt so cold before. At this moment, she finally realized how indifferent and heartless of her family and that they were not worth her sacrifice!

She walked over to Grace and stared straight at her. "Just a joke?"

Grace looked up. "It's just a joke. Why are you..."

Before Grace could finish her sentence, Phoebe slapped her on the face.

Grace was stunned for a moment, then she became extremely angry and scolded like a shrew, "Phoebe! Are you fucking sick?!"

Phoebe smiled and said, "Why are you cold look. Now no one dared to mock her. She snorted heavily and strode away.

Chapter 245

Phoebe left, leaving behind other members of the Scotts who were embarrassed. Grace in particular was dejected.

She gritted her teeth and looked in the direction of Phoebe with resentment.

Phoebe had humiliated her. She hated Phoebe!

She must avenge herself, otherwise, she would explode!

Many members of the Scotts were complaining. They felt that Phoebe had gone too far and was arrogant to them. And how dared she to hit Grace!

However, no matter how much they man in front of him. He staggered back and fell heavily on the table, and even knocked the table over.

This unexpected event immediately aroused the anger of all the members of the Scotts. Several young people from the Scotts came over and shouted, "Who are you? How dare you come to disturb us!"

"How dare you be rude to Brother Hao? You scumbags are looking for your death!"

"Let's go together and kill these brats!"

These young men had already been angry because of Phoebe but they had nowhere to vent their anger. Now, these people rushed in and hit Zack, hated her, they could do nothing. Phoebe was now the chairman of SK, and the family was supported by her. Even if they were dissatisfied with Phoebe, they had to swollen their hatred.

However, at that moment, a sound of footsteps came from the door, and then a group of people rushed over.

"Hey, who are you? Get out. This is the place for the Scotts dinner!"

When Zack saw the group of people barging in, he immediately walked toward them and scolded them to chase them out.

However, as soon as he finished speaking, he was pushed away by the us? If you don't explain clearly, we will call the police!"

"Big brother, it indeed is the Scotts party. It seems that we're right." Mark said obsequiously to the tall man beside him.

Yes, they were Mark and his big brother and other thugs. They were so arrogant that they rushed straight to the Scotts.

The big brother nodded. He looked around, but did not see Tom. He frowned and said, "Where's Tom? Tell him to come to me!"

Mark was extremely excited when he heard his big brother's domineering words. He could not wait to see Tom into the room and locked herself up.

Elizabeth sighed heavily and said, "Oh! Why did Tom divorce Phoebe? Phoebe is so beautiful. Is Tom mad?"

James glared at Elizabeth and scolded, "Thanks to you!"

Elizabeth said angrily, "Why did you say that? Explain to me clearly!"

It was rare for James not to be timid. He widened his eyes and said loudly, "Did I say anything wrong? For the past few years, you humiliated and insulted Tom every day. Without your stupid behaviors, would he divorce Phoebe? I think you are at least 80% responsible for what happened today!"

Elizabeth was stunned. After being married for so long, James had never been so fierce to her. She shrank her neck and her aura weakened a lot. She said, "Why are you so fierce? You used to humiliate him a lot. At that time, Tom was really a loser. Who knew he would get lucky and make a fortune?"

Elizabeth felt aggrieved and confused. She really couldn't understand how a loser like Tom could become rich overnight. That was unrealistic!

She was now rather regretful. If she had known this day would come, she would not have humiliated Tom. Alas!

James said, "Every dog has its day. That's true! Who would have thought that Phoebe's ex-husband would be so successful?"

At that moment, James felt very depressed and mocked himself.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the door, which was very hard.

Originally, Elizabeth and James were in a bad mood, but now someone suddenly slammed the door so hard, as if they were going to tear it down. They immediately became angry and frowned.

"Who is it? Why knock on the door so hard? How rude!" Elizabeth cursed, rolled up her sleeves, and walked over to open the door.

She opened the door and saw a group of people standing at the door, including Grace, who leaned against the arms of a young man.

"Grace, it's you? How dare you come to my house?" Elizabeth said coldly, "And you guys. You slammed the door so hard. If you break my door, can you afford it?"

Grace nestled in Mark's arms and said coquettishly, "Mark, she is Phoebe's mother and Tom's mother-in-law."

When Mark heard that, he strode in evilly.

Elizabeth immediately scolded, "Hey, what are you doing? Who approved you to come in? Get out of here! Or I'll call the police!"

Then Mark got noisy.

Mark pushed her away violently and impolitely. With a bang, Elizabeth's back of her head was hit on the door. It hurt so much that she bared her teeth.

James was reading the newspaper in the living room. When he saw this scene, he immediately stood up and said loudly, "Hey! Who are you? Who let you in... Grace? What are you doing here? Who are these people?!"

Grace snuggled up to Mark and walked in with a smile, "Where's Phoebe? Tell her to get out. Mark is looking for her."

They rushed in. About ten people filled the room.

James then realized that those people were here to cause trouble. He immediately said loudly, "Hey! I order you to get out of here, or I'll call the police!"

As he spoke, he took out his cell phone and was about to dial 110. However, not long after he took it out, a young man stepped over, grabbed it, and threw it hard on the ground. The phone fell into pieces.

Then, James was pushed and fell to the ground. Mark stared at him condescendingly and scolded, "Old man, I warn you, you'd better behave yourself! I'm here to find the bastard Tom today. Be good and hand him over. Otherwise, you're doomed! Do you understand?"

Looking for Tom?

James could not help but shiver and start to fear. He was originally a timid person, or else he wouldn't be so afraid. He had never seen such a scene in his life, and now he began to shiver.

Elizabeth also realized the danger, and she said in a shrill voice, "You've got the wrong person. Tom is not in our house. He divorced my daughter long ago. What he did has nothing to do with us!"

"What? Divorced?" Mark frowned and looked at Grace angrily.

Grace hurriedly explained, "Mark, don't listen to her. She must be lying. Just a few days ago, Tom was with them buying a villa in Dragon Bay, a 40 million one! They couldn't have divorced. As long as Phoebe called, Tom would definitely rush over."

"Grace! Are you insane?! We are your relatives, but you betrayed us like this!" Elizabeth screamed and pointed at Grace furiously.

However, Grace didn't take it seriously at all and smiled scornfully.

"Mark, don't worry. Phoebe is at home too. As long as Phoebe makes a phone call..."

Then, a door was suddenly opened. Phoebe, who was dressed in her work clothes, came out. When she saw the scene in the living room, she was immediately stunned. Grace was overjoyed and pointed at Phoebe and shouted, "Mark, she's Phoebe, Tom's wife!"

Chapter 247

Grace screamed loudly and harshly. In an instant, everyone looked at Phoebe.

Mark looked up and down at Phoebe lustfully.

Without Phoebe, Grace had outstanding beauty, but Phoebe shadowed Grace to such an extent. Grace was like Phoebe's servant when they showed up together, so the moment Mark saw Phoebe, he immediately felt moved.

When Phoebe saw this, she finally came back to her senses and said loudly, "Hey! Who are you? What are you doing in my house? Dad, mom..."

When she saw James sitting on the ground, she was immediately shocked and rushed over to help James up.

"So this is Tom's wife. She's not bad looking." Mark whistled and stammered. He eyed Phoebe up, which made him obscene to the extreme.

As he spoke, he was about to walk over and feel Phoebe up.

Phoebe was startled. She quickly stepped back and said loudly, "Get out of here, or I'll call the police!"

Mark was not angry. Instead, he started to enjoy her reaction, as if he had found an interesting toy. He said, "Oh, I didn't expect you to be quite tough. Not bad. I like you very much.

You are Tom's wife, and it will be more fun to fuck, hahaha..."

Phoebe's heart skipped a beat when she heard this. Was this man looking for Tom?

Mark continued to come on to Phoebe. Grace was so angry. She had just spent a lot of effort to curry favor with Mark. On the way here, Mark felt her up all along, and she almost rode on his coattail. However, as soon as Phoebe appeared, Mark immediately took her as his new sweetheart, which made Grace furious!

Ever since she was young, Phoebe was superior to her from every aspect. Not only did she have a good study grade, but she was more beautiful than her, and Phoebe had more wooers than her! Why?

She quickly stepped forward and said, "Mark, don't touch her. She has AIDS!"

Hearing this, Mark was shocked and quickly took two steps back. "What?! AIDS? Fuck!"

A dissolute person like him was most afraid of AIDS. Once he contracted HIV, his life would be over.

Elizabeth was very angry and scolded, "Bullshit, what nonsense..."

However, before she could finish her sentence, Phoebe stopped her. Phoebe's reaction was so fast. Grace said so, in a sense, to help her, at least Mark did not dare to touch her.

So she simply admitted it generously and deliberately cursed angrily, "Grace! You fucking bitch, how can you reveal my secret. Didn't you promise me that you would never tell?"

At this moment, Phoebe had masterly performance, like a furious person whose secret was discovered by everyone.

Grace was stunned for a moment, and then she understood Phoebe's thoughts. She snorted disdainfully and did not explain.

In this way, Mark was even more afraid of Phoebe, as if she was the god of plague. However, he still felt very sorry that such a beautiful woman actually had AIDS. Unbelievable!

But then he thought to himself that Tom must be infected with AIDS, hahaha.

"Call Tom and tell him to come here. I'm going to kill him!" Mark was impatient and ordered directly.

"Why are you looking for Tom? He's not here. We're divorced!" Phoebe said in a deep voice, "Now we have nothing to do with Tom. If you don't leave, we will call the police."

"Damn it, you choose the hard way, do you? I'm not a man of patience. I'll give you three minutes to call this bastard Tom over! Otherwise, I'll throw your family into the sea to feed the sharks!"

Now Mark's expression was very ferocious, full of threats, looking particularly terrifying. In addition, the men behind him were all strong, and they didn't look like good people. At this moment, Elizabeth and James were trembling with fear, and they were extremely scared.

Phoebe was just a woman, and she was too scared now, but she was calmer than Elizabeth and James. She swallowed her saliva and said, "It's useless for you to scold me. I really can't get in touch with Tom. We're divorced. If you don't believe me..."

Before she could finish her sentence, Mark slapped her on the face. "You fucking bitch! Your sister has already said that you and Tom are not divorced. How dare you lie to me? I'll count to three now. If you don't call Tom over, I'll break the legs of your three!"

A raging fire rose in Mark's heart and he spoke rudely.

Phoebe was slapped and fell to the ground. Blood flowed from the corner of her mouth and tears flowed down her face. She had never been beaten like this before.

When Grace saw that Phoebe had been beaten, she felt extremely pleasant and said, " Sister Phoebe, you'd better obediently call Tom over and you can suffer less. Do you know who Mark is? He's the son of the chairman of the KL Group, a real rich man, a real big shot. A man like Tom is like an ant to him. This time, Tom is over, but you don't have to die with Tom."

Hearing the name KL Group, Elizabeth and James were scared out of their wits!

As people from H City, they were aware of how powerful the KL Group was. They often use the logistics of the KL Group to deliver goods. This was a real big company, not ordinary people like them who could fight!

To put it bluntly, even if they called the police, nobody would help.

After Phoebe heard this, she was also very scared, but she still did not choose to betray Tom. She gritted her teeth and said, "It's useless even if you are the God. I really can't contact Tom!"

Mark looked confused. Could it be that Phoebe really couldn't get in touch with Tom?

However, Grace immediately said, "Mark, don't be fooled by her. She must have had Tom's number. You just need to snatch her phone and call Tom."

Phoebe suddenly raised her head, stared at Grace, and cursed, "Grace! I'm your sister. You are a heartless monster to betray me."

Grace didn't feel guilty at all and said even more disdainfully, "Weren't you arrogant just now? Are you very superior? How dare you slap me? Now show me arrogance again. Ask yourself. Do you ever treat me your sister? Hmph!"

"Grace, you're a monster!!" Phoebe was shaking with anger.

Next, Grace urged Mark to grab Phoebe's phone. Phoebe's phone was locked and needed face unlock. Phoebe closed her eyes and refused to unlock her phone. Mark slapped her to the ground again.

Elizabeth couldn't stand it any longer. She said loudly, "Stop beating my daughter! I have Tom's number too! I'll call him. I'll call him. Are you satisfied!"

and their anger was ignited again. They all came up to teach these people a lesson.

However, they were beaten by the other party, especially embarrassed.

This unexpected event scared all the Scotts members. The Scotts had long enjoyed a privilege in H City and had never encountered such a thing before.

Many of the people of the Scotts were scared when they saw the other party's aggressiveness.

In the end, Richard, the head of the family, stood up and said in a deep voice, "Who are you? Why did you break into the Scotts party and attack kneeling in front of him and begging for mercy!

He had blind confidence in his big brother. He thought that as long as his big brother was here, they could definitely deal with Tom. Mark had never been insulted like this by Tom since he was born. To him, it was a great shame. If he didn't take revenge, he wouldn't be able to sleep in the future!

Many of members of the Scotts frowned when they heard this.

Mark stood up and said, "Ask Tom to show up. If you dare to protect him, I will make your entire the Scotts disappear in H City from now on!"

Now, Mark was proud, arrogant, and dominating. He was a super-rich second generation, and he was so arrogant now, which trembled and scared the Scotts.

But Richard said, "We have nothing to do with Tom. You should come to us."

Bang!

Mark slammed on the table and crushed it. He cursed fiercely, "How dare you to lie? I've already investigated. Tom is Phoebe's husband, and today is your family party. He must be here! If you are sensible, hand him over immediately. Otherwise, I will kill all of you!"

A hot-tempered member of the Scotts stood up and said, "Who the hell are you? How dare you say that? Do you have the power?"

Mark walked over and slapped him. He sneered, "My name is Mark. Kiwi, the chairman of the KL Group, is my father. You said I didn't have the power to kill you? It seems that you are determined to protect Tom, right? Then you will be buried with him!"

Hearing Mark's words, all the members of the Scotts were scared and stunned.

KL Group!

This was a real giant company with a market value of tens of billions. Their the Scotts was as weak as ants compared to the KL Group.

Now, they were completely panicked. Immediately, some of them took out their phones to search. As expected, they saw Mark's information. He was really the son of the chairman of the KL Group.

Richard was also frightened and he quickly said, "Misunderstanding! It's a misunderstanding! Tom has nothing to do with us now. He has divorced my granddaughter Phoebe, and we don't know where Tom has gone!"

"Yes, yes, we really have nothing to do with Tom. You must investigate clearly! To be honest, we also hate Tom very much. We can't wait for him to die early. Why will we protect Tom?"

"We hate Tom the most..."

"The point is that we don't know where Tom is now. He didn't come to our family party. If you don't believe me, you can see the surveillance video of the restaurant. We're innocent."

All the members of the Scotts tried to get rid of Tom and said a lot of bad things about Tom.

When Mark heard this, he frowned. He especially called for someone to come to the Scotts's party to look for Tom. He had thought he would definitely succeed in taking revenge, but he didn't expect this to happen.

"I don't care! You must hand over Tom, or I'll punish you!"

Hearing this, all the members of the Scotts cursed Tom. It could be said that they hated Tom to the core.

However, at this moment, a voice came, "I know where to find Tom!"

It was Grace. She walked out gracefully and looked at Mark. She was somewhat beautiful. Although she was not comparable to a beauty like Phoebe, she was also pretty.

Mark immediately walked over and said, "Hurry up and tell me where to find him!"

Grace smiled and said, "It's very simple. As long as you can find Tom's ex-wife Phoebe, Tom will appear."

Chapter 246

According to her behavior, Grace truly had a heart as malicious as snakes and scorpions.

Even many of the Scotts took a deep breath and looked at Grace in horror. Their feet were cold.

Grace's were undoubtedly betraying Phoebe. After all, Phoebe was Grace's cousin, who shared the same grandfather. They were related by blood. Even if they didn't get along well with each other, Grace shouldn't have betrayed Phoebe.

Those people were aggressive and bold. Grace was clearly throwing Phoebe under the bus.

After hearing that, Mark's eyes lit up. He immediately said, "Do you know where Tom's wife is?"

Grace smiled and said evilly, "Of course I know."

"Then take me to her!" Mark said.

Grace replied, "If I take you there, what benefits can I get?"

She ogled Mark, who knew her implication clearly. Mark went over and put his arms around Grace's waist and said with a smile, "Of course I'll repay you. When it's done, I will definitely satisfy you."

Mark deliberately emphasized the word "satisfy". The two looked obscene as they acted in collusion with each other.

Phoebe and her parents came out of the Scotts Party and went straight home.

Along the way, Phoebe did not speak. She was gloomy and her eyes were red. Anyone could tell that she was in a bad mood.

At that time, Elizabeth did not dare to say anything more. She showed her concern about Phoebe with a few words. After being ignored by Phoebe, she quieted down for fear of offending Phoebe.

When she got home, Phoebe rushed

Chapter 248

Elizabeth couldn't stand it anymore, gasping. Her heart broke when she saw Phoebe being slapped!

"That's right. If you had done this earlier, how could she have suffered? Haha!" Mark laughed loudly in an overbearing manner.

"Mom! No! Don't call Tom. I beg you!" Phoebe burst out.

Grace said sarcastically, "Well, Sister Phoebe, it turns out that you're so deeply in love with Tom. Why are you still protecting him at this moment? Tsk, tsk, how I envy you guys!"

Elizabeth said, "I'm calling Tom right now and will ask him to come over. Please don't hurt my daughter again. Please."

Trembling, she took out the phone from her pocket and was about to make a call.

Phoebe shouted even more agitatedly and hysterically, "Mom!! I beg you. Don't call Tom ever. He'll die, no..."

Phoebe was crying so pitifully. Her face was wet with tears, which was heartbreaking to watch.

However, apart from Elizabeth and James, no one else would show pity on her at all. Grace, on the other hand, smiled even more brightly. She was flushed with excitement. The more miserable Phoebe became, the happier she was!

Elizabeth also got angry and scolded loudly, "Phoebe, are you out of your mind? Why are you still covering for Tom at this point? He's clearly the trouble maker! Why should we be on the receiving end of everything! If he really loved you, he wouldn't divorce you, nor would he throw us under the bus, yet you're still covering for him. Are you insane?"

Phoebe clenched her teeth and burst into tears. In fact, she didn't know why she had to protect Tom like this. Apparently, she didn't love Tom, but she was still covering for him. She also suspected that she was crazy.

However, she could never betray Tom or watch him being tortured with her own eyes!

"Mom, Tom has saved me, as well as our family many times. We can't do this to him," Phoebe pleaded.

Mark flared up immediately. He grabbed Phoebe's hair, jerked her face up, and snarled, "You chose to solve the problem the hard way. At this stage, you can't betray him because he has saved you a lot of times, right? It seems that if I don't give you a lesson, you won't realize the gravity of the situation!"

Mark was about to continue beating Phoebe as he spoke.

Seeing that, Elizabeth cried like crazy, "Don't hit her! Don't hit her! I'm calling Tom right now! I'm calling Tom right now..."

Only then did Mark let go of Phoebe. When Elizabeth was making the call, he snatched the phone from her. Soon, Mark got through and Tom's voice came on the line, "Hello, mom, are you looking for me?"

Since Mark turned on the speaker, Tom's voice was heard by everyone. When Phoebe heard it, her pupils contracted.

Mark smiled maliciously and said to the phone, "Tom, finally I've got you. You're so mysterious."

Tom was in a meeting at the new advertising company. He was curious to get a call from Elizabeth because usually, she rarely called him, so it was abnormal for her to make a sudden call to him at this moment.

But when he answered the phone, a man's voice came from the other end of the line, and it sounded a little familiar.

Soon, Tom recognized that it was Mark's voice!

Tom stood up from his chair instantly, and startled everyone else in the conference room.

Tom gestured with his right hand for them to continue the meeting. Then he walked out of the conference room and said in a low voice, "Mark, if you dare to touch them, I will make you as good as dead."

Tom's voice was extremely cold, full of anger and murder. Even through the phone, Mark still felt bone-chilling cold, and couldn't resist shrinking at heart.

However, he recovered immediately, became annoyed and laughed out of fury, "Well, how dare you threaten me? OK! I just want to see how you will make me as good as dead."

After that, Mark squatted down in front of Phoebe and said to the phone, "Now I have your wife. So, do you want to hear her voice?"

Mark pulled Phoebe's hair and held the phone out to Phoebe's face. "Speak. Let your husband hear your voice."

Phoebe bit her lips hard and refused to speak. Her behavior angered Mark, and Mark gave her another slap across the face. The loud noise came clearly to Tom.

Tom punched the wall next to him angrily, and the wall cracked open with a bang, which scared a few passers-by.

Tom rarely had the urge to kill, but now he wanted to kill Mark! Mark actually dared to go to Phoebe's house and kidnap her family. What Mark was doing had completely broken through Tom's bottom line!

"That's enough! I'm coming over now!"
Tom said loudly with his teeth clenched, "Mark, if you're a man, don't hurt women. Just come at me!"

Mark smiled suddenly. When he was about to speak, Phoebe, who was shocked at what Tom said, shouted hurriedly, "Tom, don't come over. They will kill you! You don't have to worry about me. Just call the police for me..."

Before Phoebe could finish her sentence, she was slapped to the ground by Mark again. "Bitch, quiet."

After that, Mark said to Tom on the phone, "Now listen carefully. If you dare to call the police, I will let my men screw this bitch, and I will take a video and post it online for everyone to enjoy."

Tom took a deep breath and clenched his fists, his knuckles cracking. If Mark was here, he would see the fire in Tom's eyes. It looked like the devil lifting himself up from hell, about to destroy the world.

"Okay, where are you? I'll be right there!"

"Very well. I'm at your wife's house. Remember, come alone, or you won't see your wife again."

After that, Mark hung up the phone.

Tom listened to the busy tone on the phone and snapped his phone with a crack!

There was a fire in his chest, almost burning this man up.

Taking a deep breath, Tom tried to calm himself down. He counted down from three to one, opened his eyes and strode away.

Along the way, he drove as fast as he could to Phoebe's house. It was unknown how many stop lights he had gone through, and he was even in the local news for that for a time.

Tom swore that he would make Mark suffer. Even if Mark was the young master of KL Group, he would still kill him!

It was originally a half-hour drive, but it took Tom only ten minutes to finally arrive. The drive was in the downtown area, but his average speed was over 80.

Tom saw two strong men at the gate downstairs. Seeing Tom coming alone, they put on a mocking face. They swung at Tom with the electric batons in their hands to electrocute him, but before they could reach Tom, they were kicked away by him. They hit the wall behind them and passed out.

The expression on Tom's face never changed, just like the ice that never melted. He rushed upstairs.

Chapter 249

On the way, a few neighbors met Tom. When they saw Tom's fierce look, they were a little scared and didn't dare to say hello to Tom.

Indeed, now Tom looked too scary, or even ferocious as if he had changed completely.

Finally, he rushed up to the Scotts floor as fast as he could. In the corridor, he saw a few people standing at the door. A raging fire rose in his chest again!

He quickened his pace. When others heard his footsteps, they all looked over. Someone tipped off the man in the house, "Mark, this guy is here."

Mark's teasing voice came from the room. "Oh, is he here? Invite him in. I've been waiting for him for a long time. Haha."

Tom tried to control his anger and walked straight in.

Suddenly, he was immediately angry at this scene that his eyes were about to burst into fire!

Phoebe's family was tied to the ground. There were obvious palm prints on Phoebe's face. Her eyes were red and swollen from crying. She was grief and fearful, which made Tom extremely worried.

The anger that had been suppressed was like a volcano erupting at this moment and it filled his whole body!

He was so angry that he couldn't help but tremble and pant like a cow.

Elizabeth and James were also beaten up.

At this moment, Tom was both angry and guilty. They suffered because of him!

He was full of guilt and heartache. He walked up to Phoebe and gently wiped the tears off her face. He said, "Phoebe, I'm sorry. I'm sorry that I incriminated you this time. I'm really sorry."

He had never felt so guilty before. His whole heart was twisted!

It wouldn't matter if he had suffered all these. But the Phoebe family had been implicated and wronged. He was really too guilty and uncomfortable.

Phoebe had been holding back her tears and trying not to cry. But Tom's words directly caused her to burst into tears. She couldn't help but cry.

When Tom saw her like this, he was even sadder. At the same time, he was even angrier. He could not suppress the anger!

Tom had to hug her and keep apologizing to her.

Elizabeth scolded, "Is it useful to say sorry? If you hadn't caused trouble, would we have been implicated? In order to protect you, Phoebe still refused to call you. She was afraid that you would be beaten to death. So, she would rather choose to suffer by herself!"

Hearing this, Tom felt even more guilty.

At the same time, his anger reached a critical point. He said, "Mom, don't worry. I won't let you suffer in vain."

After that, he finally helped Phoebe wipe away her endless tears and stood up.

"Mark! You ask for it!" Tom's eyes burst into a bone-chilling coldness as he stared at Mark. His fists were clattered by his grip, which was very frightening.

However, Mark was not afraid of him at all. When he saw his fierce look, he burst out laughing. "Hahaha, I ask for it? Okay, then come and kill me!"

As soon as he said this, a group of people stood in front of Mark and stared at Tom with great vigor. It was obvious that they were not good guys but professional fighters with extraordinary skills.

Tom did feel that they were fierce. But Tom still smiled disdainfully. "How dare you use such trash to challenge me?"

In an instant, a great momentum erupted from Tom, as if there was a storm emanating from his body, which was very frightening.

Moreover, his eyes were extremely cold and devoid of emotion. He looked like a Killer God who would kill everyone in front of him.

Mark was so frightened by Tom's murderous aura at this moment that he trembled.

But soon, he calmed down. This time, he was protected by his big brother. So he was not afraid of Tom at all. He had seen his big brother beat others with his own eyes. He was like the protagonist in an action movie. He was invincible. Tom could only be a loser in front of his big brother.

Now he couldn't wait to see Tom kneeling and begging for mercy.

"Come on, break his legs first!" At Mark's command, the professional fighters standing in front of him moved together and launched an attack on Tom. Their movements were very neat that obviously they were professionally trained. The common practitioner who did not master Kungfu was far from their opponent.

Seeing these people rush up, Tom gave a sneer of disdain. Then he moved too.

He was so fast that Elizabeth and James felt Tom disappeared in front of them in a flash. The next moment, they heard the sound of fists hitting people, and faintly heard the sound of bones breaking. Then, someone hit the table heavily.

Tom punched the man in his chest and his ribs were broken. When he fell to "Really? I don't think so. Maybe there's another way. I'll kill you and bring your head to her." Tom also laughed.

A trace of anger appeared in the man's eyes but was quickly erased by him. He shook his head and said calmly, "How arrogant you are! Do you think you are invincible after you learn a little kungfu from mortals? Today, I will eliminate you for the sake of our organization and bring your head back so that Saintess will give up on you."

He put his right hand behind his back and looked at Tom with a smile. He hooked his finger at Tom and signaled Tom to attack him.

He didn't say anything arrogant and flamboyant. He had always been very amiable and kind. If people hadn't heard what he said, they would have thought that he was Tom's friend, not an enemy.

Of course, that was not the fact. Tom felt that he was looked down on by the man.

Tom had seen too many arrogant people, but it was the first time Tom had met someone who was so arrogant that he even surpassed Owen in a sense.

The man didn't take him seriously and treated him like a child. It was completely a flirtatious mentality and a sense of superiority against Tom.

To be exact, his contempt was not only for Tom, but for everyone in the room. It seemed that he was the only one who was human, and the others were just pigs and dogs.

Tom smiled. "Really? I've seen countless arrogant people since I was a child. It's the first time I've met someone like you who despises your opponent so much. Do you think you're a god, not a human?"

The man shrugged and said indifferently, "It's fine if you think so. Mortals are just ants. And you, as the illegitimate child of Saintess, are just a stronger ant."

His tone was very flat, but the arrogance he displayed was strong and shocking. Except for Tom, everyone else could not help but feel that they were inferior to others. They seemed to feel like the man was not a person, but a god.

Even Phoebe couldn't help but feel this way.

the ground, he couldn't get up. He rolled on the ground in pain and screamed.

Tom was really angry this time. In the past, he would not have hit someone so hard in such a situation. But now, every time he punched out, he would definitely beat his opponent till his bones were broken.

In about ten seconds, the professional hitters who stood in front of Mark had been defeated by Tom. They all lay on the ground and lost their fighting ability, unable to even climb up.

Tom only felt that all the cells in his body had come back to life. He was extremely excited. But his eyes were cold. He looked at Mark with murderous intent.

At this moment, Mark felt his scalp numb, as if he had fallen into an ice cave. His face suddenly turned pale and his body began to tremble.

Tom walked towards him step by step. When Tom approached, he felt the extreme pressure, as if Tom's steps were on him, making him unable to breathe.

Walking up to Mark, Tom looked down at him. "Tell me, choose one way to die."

Mark shivered violently. At this moment, he seemed to understand what kind of figure he had provoked.

He even stopped thinking about it anymore as he had never encountered such a situation before.

Just then, there was a sound of footsteps and applause from the corridor. Then, a man with a teasing smile said, "Not bad, not bad. You deserve to be the son of the Saintess. Her genes are good. Your martial arts are so strong."

When Mark heard this voice, his stagnant mind immediately returned to normal. He hurriedly looked back and begged, "Big brother! Save me..."

Tom looked over and narrowed his eyes. "Saintess? Was that my mother's nickname in the LT Organization?"

Chapter 250

In fact, Tom had known that Mark must have support from someone since he dared to create trouble here. It was very likely that Mark found someone powerful to help him. Before Tom came, he realized that and was prepared.

But he didn't expect that Mark would find someone from the LT Organization.

Tom had never seen this man before. At first, he thought he was a master Mark had found elsewhere.

When he learned the truth from Chou, he had a premonition that he would meet someone from the LT Organization in the near future, but he did not expect it to be so soon.

It must be fate.

After the man calmly walked out, he began to look at Tom. Instead of answering the question, he said, "No wonder that you're the son of the Saintess. Even if she married a loser, she still had such an outstanding son. Not bad."

There was no hostility in his eyes when he looked at Tom, only appreciation, as if he was looking at a work of art, not a person.

When he looked at Tom, Tom also looked at him. Tom found that his opponent was very strong. His body seemed to contain explosive power and Tom could vaguely feel that the man was extraordinary, who was different from the people Tom had ever seen. The man was definitely not an ordinary person.

Tom had seen a lot of people, but he had never seen a man with such a temperament. None of the powerful big bosses brought him such a feeling!

Now he recalled that his mother was a similar person. Although he could meet her every day, he always felt that she would disappear at any time. At that time, he didn't know his mother's identity and thought it was her unique temperament. Now it seemed that people in LT Organization would have this temperament.

Now he was getting more and more interested in the LT Organization!

There were still a lot of people in the room. When they heard their conversation, they felt very confused and could not understand it at all. Only Mark could roughly know something. He was now looking at Tom with his eyes wide open and full of horror!

As his big brother's follower, Mark knew that his big brother was very powerful, who came from a mysterious organization. His KL Group was nothing when compared with this organization. That was why he was so eager to join this mysterious organization. Now, it turned out that Tom was also a member of this organization. What was more, Tom's status in it was high.

Fortunately, his big brother was hostile to Tom and did not seem to be in an alliance with Tom.

As for the Scotts, they were completely confused. What was going on? According to their knowledge, Tom was just a poor guy from the countryside whose family background was awful. How did he become the son of the Saintess?

Were they hallucinating?

Grace, who had been hiding in a corner shivering and looking at Tom disdainfully, was shocked. Tom, who was once a despicable loser in the Scotts, turned out to be so capable of fighting, and his identity seemed to be unusual. Gosh, that was insane! Did she have an illusion?

Phoebe bit her lips. After a brief moment of astonishment, she had come back to her senses. Combined with Tom's various magical performances recently, Phoebe realized that Tom's identity must be very amazing.

Now, another thought popped into her mind uncontrollably. Tom had told her that he was...

Tom didn't think that much. He just wanted to take the man down and question him.

"Very well, you know her. I was looking for her too. Now that you're here, it's great. Take me to her." Tom stared at him.

The man shook his head with an evil smile and said, "You still want to find Saintess? You won't be able to see her for the rest of your life."

Suddenly, he thought of something and added, "Of course not absolutely. There is a way you can see her. That is when you are dead, and your body can see her. Haha."

Tom's eyes grew cold and he clenched his fists. From what the man said, he got a lot of information. He was even more disgusted with this so-called LT Organization!

Chapter 251

Mark worshipped the man and muttered to himself with his eyes shining. "He has such a dominant temperament. Outside the organization, people's as lowly as ants."

Grace also adored the man. It seemed that she had entered a new world where she found herself to be enthusiastic about the guy.

Even Elizabeth and James had the same reaction. Instead of worshipping him, they had a humble idea and agreed with what the man said. He was a human, but they were ants.

Tom felt the reaction of the crowd. He frowned slightly as he realized that he had underestimated the other party. The man was deliberately instilling such an idea to people.

Of course, Tom had to stop the man from doing so. He coughed twice. His voice was not loud, but when it fell into everyone's mind, it was undoubtedly a bolt from the blue. It exploded with a loud bang and instantly regained clarity.

"Your hypnosis technique is quite high. You hypnotized so many people unknowingly, who almost took you as a god. It seems that this is how you fooled Mark and made him the boss of the KL Group your lackey." Tom said disdainfully, exposing the other party's trick.

The man was surprised that Tom was not affected by him and even broke his hypnosis with a cough.

"Interesting." Instead of getting angry from embarrassment, the other party clapped and looked at Tom. "Indeed, no wonder you're Saintess' bastard. Impressive."

The word "bastard" enraged Tom and made his blood boil.

The man felt his anger, and the curve of his mouth was even higher. He said, "Are you angry? You're an ant indeed. After I say a few words and you get angry. It's shame that you have the blood of Saintess, who's from our organization. Since that's the case, then I will help Saintess and take back your life. A bastard like you has no right to live in this world without the permission of our organization."

After that, he began to fight.

His movements were very subtle and did not make a sound. Clearly, he was very fast, and his feet stepped hard on the ground. It should make a huge noise or even shake the earth, but there was no sound. It was as if he was a cat with a thick meat pad on his feet.

The huge contrast between reality and their feeling made people extremely uncomfortable.

The reason why people got carsick was that their anticipation was different from the shaking in reality. There was a of the man's. Tom's movements were small but heavy. His movements seemed to be light. However, when he stepped on the ground, he was like an elephant weighing a thousand kilograms. Every step made the house shake as if there was an earthquake. People were all shocked.

Now, people felt that Tom was extremely heavy.

Elizabeth and James were stunned. They were as confused as the first time they met Tom. They even suspected that they had hallucinated! Otherwise, why was Tom so powerful?

After all, not long ago, Tom was a loser who couldn't even find a job. However, he suddenly became a big shot that deviation, so they got carsick and retched.

When the man rushed towards Tom, he could give everyone such a carsick feeling. Obviously, his kungfu could be said to be extremely brilliant!

However, he could influence others, but he could not affect Tom, because Tom had already expected that.

Although he was not affected, he was a little nervous. He felt the strength of the man, who was a strong opponent!

"Good timing."

He didn't retreat but intended to confront him.

His footsteps were the exact opposite they all had to look up to.

This strong contrast made it difficult for them to accept for a while.

Bang!

They fought.

At the moment their fists and feet collided, the ground shook visibly, and even the chandelier above their heads shook slightly. It was conceivable how powerful they were.

Sensing their strength, they were both a little surprised that they underestimated each other's strength.

However, the man from the Raoul organization was more shocked. He did not expect Tom to be so powerful.

It was rare for him to feel pain after a collision just now!

Although he was not the most outstanding person in the organization, he was still a member of it. There was a fundamental difference between him and the ordinary people.

It seemed that Saintess's genes were too strong. The son she had with an ordinary man could even have such great power.

But, so what? Ants were always ants, and they could never be god's opponents.

"Yes, you're not bad. I'm getting more interested in you."

He smiled, but he did not stop at all.

Instead, he launched a more ferocious attack.

Soon, Tom became even more stressed.

Tom did not say anything. His eyes were cold. He was serious now, not because he could not beat the man, but because he was angry.

They fought so fast that ordinary people could not catch up with them with their naked eyes, which was completely beyond ordinary people's understanding. After all, most ordinary people did not know that there were people in this world who were so capable of fighting, and their speed and strength could be so extreme!

As they fought and moved their positions, the floor that they had stepped on began to crack, creating cracks after cracks.

A few people were hurt by their fists and feet because they were too close. They were all injured by the degree of fracture. Others people were so scared that they quickly hid in a corner and shivered.

"This... Is too fierce!" Mark's eyes flashed with a crimson glow, and he was extremely fanatical. "This is the realm I want! It turns out that big brother didn't lie to me. He's really powerful!"

He licked his lips and was no longer afraid of Tom. He thought that Tom was definitely no match for big brother.

Not only him, but the rest of the people thought so too because they saw that Tom was constantly retreating. Tom was like a candle in the rain, ready to be blown out at any time.

At that moment, Tom finally spoke and said calmly, "Is this what you call god's power? I don't think so. The speed is too slow and the power is too weak."

When the man heard this, his eyes narrowed and his heart thumped. He thought that Tom was not his rival. Tom was at the end of his tether. However, Tom still had the energy to speak and his breath was so stable, which meant that Tom was capable!

But how could this be?

As soon as he finished speaking, Tom retaliated fiercely. At this moment, the momentum on his body had undergone earth-shaking changes. The image that he had been struggling to support suddenly became powerful. In the spiritual world for everyone, the sleeping lion had awakened!

The next moment, he suddenly sped up and punched the opponent in the eye, breaking through his defense and hitting him hard on the chest.

With a bang, the sound was loud and dull as if it was from a sledgehammer. Tom hit the man heavily. It was completely the force that the man could not bear, causing the man to spurt out a mouthful of blood, fly out like straw, hit the wall heavily, and then slide down feebly.

Chapter 252

The power was so great that the paint on the wall fell off and there was a faint dent. It could be seen how powerful Tom's punch was just now!

Whoosh...

Tom took a long breath. Grace, who was about ten meters away from him, could feel his breath. It was like a powerful fan, which made her feel cold!

All of a sudden, the whole room was absolutely quiet, and everyone was dumbfounded.

No, it should be said that they were frightened. They were astonished.

Now their minds were blank. At that moment, they all lost their senses and were frightened by Tom.

Before today, they did not know that people could reach such a state. They thought that the boxers and sandals on TV were standing at the peak of human fighting.

However, it was only now that they realized that people's fighting ability could reach such a state!

Tom won. In fact, he knew exactly how capable he was from the beginning, but he still underestimated the other party who forced him to use 80 % of his power.

This punch showed Tom's strength and was wrong! Mr. Howard! Please forgive me this time. Just treat me like a fart and let me go! I promise I won't bother you again!"

Tom didn't bother to talk to him at all. He kicked Mark over, then kicked him out. Finally, Mark fainted.

Elizabeth and James were both shocked by his violent behavior and became frightened! Elizabeth, in particular, was scared to tremble. In the Scotts, Elizabeth was the one who bullied Tom the most. Usually, she not only asked Tom to wash her underwear, but also often fed Tom rotten rice and vegetables. In various ways, she humiliated Tom in order to drive Tom out.

spirit, and all his internal strength was injected into the opponent's chest, causing a hole in his chest. So it was more serious than a fracture.

This way, that man would not survive.

Many neighbors were attracted out due to the noise. They thought it was an earthquake. Tom went out in time, greeted them, and closed the door to avoid causing panic among the neighbors.

Now, the whole room was controlled by Tom. When Tom looked at Mark, Ma immediately shook violently, and his face turned pale instantly. He was so scared that he knelt down in front of Tom and slapped himself. And Ma cried and begged for mercy. "Mr. Howard, I

But now, Tom was not a useless man at all, but a big shot. Now Elizabeth was finished! If Tom wanted to settle the score with her, she wouldn't even have the chance to resist.

So she was pale and trembling with fear.

She didn't even dare to look straight at Tom.

As for Grace, she was confused and regretful. She couldn't figure out why Tom, who had been a waste for so long, suddenly became so powerful that she could never provoke him. She regretted that she was so stupid that she ran over to betray Phoebe and made such a big trouble for herself.

Now that Tom's gaze swept over her, she immediately broke down. She knelt down in front of Tom without hesitation, kowtowed, apologized and begged for mercy. "Brother-in-law, brother-in-law! I was wrong... It was my stupidity. I shouldn't have listened to Mark's slander. I... I didn't want to betray you and sister Phoebe. I don't want to die yet. Can you let me go? I beg of you... I'm willing to work for you, as your slave..."

She had a nervous breakdown, and she was crying so miserably with tears and snot. All her arrogance had gone.

However, Tom was too lazy to talk to her at all and said coldly to Grace, "It's no use begging me. You should beg Phoebe. If she's willing to forgive you, I can forgive you. If she isn't... Hmph!"

Tom stepped hard, and with a click, a tile on the ground cracked!

When Grace saw this scene, she was extremely frightened and lost control of her expression.

She was originally a person who was afraid of death. Now that Tom had shown more strength than she could accept, she even suspected that Tom was not a person, but a god. Only a god could have such a terrible strength!

So she was in a state of complete madness. She knelt down in front of Phoebe, kowtowed hard, and begged for mercy, "Sister Phoebe, I was wrong. For the sake of our friendship in the childhood, can you let me go this time?

I beg you, I sincerely beg you. I don't want to die yet, please..."

Phoebe was a soft-hearted person. She was really angry with Grace at first, but now, when she saw that Grace was so pitiful, most of her anger disappeared, and she couldn't bear to scold her. No matter what, Grace was her cousin, with the same blood in her bones. She really couldn't just let her die.

So she slapped Grace and scolded, "If you dare to do this again, I'll let you die!"

Grace was overjoyed and quickly kowtowed. "Thank you, Sister Phoebe.
Thank you. I won't do this anymore. I won't do this anymore! I wish you and brother-in-law a long life together and love forever! Thank for your mercy!"

When Phoebe heard this, she bit her lips and felt worried. Did she have a chance to grow old together with Tom?

She looked up at Tom and found that Tom did not look at her at all. Instead, he walked over to the so-called 'god' of LT Organization and looked down at that 'god'. "What's your name?"

That man tried to stand up, but he was so badly injured that his ribs were stuck in his internal organs. As long as he moved, it would hurt him to death.

Now that Tom saw that he still wanted to move, he stepped on him and that man screamed like a pig. "Tom! Kill me if you have the guts. Don't try to humiliate me!"

"Really?" A teasing smile appeared on Tom's face, and then he began to push hard, stepping on the man's chest and pressing down bit by bit.

That man was in so much pain that his body was convulsing, his face was pale, and he felt the pain that human beings couldn't bear.

Finally, he couldn't help it. He suddenly broke down and began to beg for mercy, "Stop! Don't step on it! If you do it again, I'm really going to die!"

"Die?" Tom smiled disdainfully and said, "Don't you call yourself a god and your life form is one level higher than mine? Why are you afraid of death now?"

When that man heard Tom's words, he was very embarrassed, and his eyes had lost brightness, arrogance and contempt. He looked at Tom with only fear and deep jealousy.

Chapter 253

Yes, it was jealousy. Tom could tell that the man was jealous that he was the son of Saintess.

Before that, Tom didn't know anything about the LT Organization. He just knew that the organization was mysterious and powerful. His mother came from this organization, but he didn't know the nature of this organization or where it was headquartered.

Now, after he met Mark's eldest brother, he had a vague understanding of LT Organization. According to the situation, his mother's status in the organization was not low. The 'Saintess' should be his mother's identity, not the name. In this way, he became more interested in the LT Organization.

That man's life force was very strong. He had been seriously injured and had not stopped breathing. He was just coughing and extremely weak. Now he had completely lost his arrogance and began to fear death.

"I don't have much patience." Tom said coldly, stepping harder on his opponent's chest.

In this way, that man screamed even harder, and his whole body was in spasm from the pain. At this moment, he felt Tom's murderous intent. If he didn't say it, Tom would really kill him. His strong desire for life made him shout quickly, "Raven! My name is Raven!! Please don't kill me, please."

Raven? The Raven who betrayed the Apollo?

Tom was stunned for a moment. Then he picked up that man with one hand, pinched his neck, and scolded coldly, "How dare you tease me in such a dangerous moment? I think you're really not afraid of death, are you?"

As he spoke, he began to exert himself.

"No, no, no! My name is really Raven. This is my nickname. The members of our organization use the names of immortals. My real name is Colman. I swear I didn't lie to you!"

Raven cried. He looked extremely embarrassed and miserable. No one could find his arrogant and extraordinary look. This strong contrast made Tom more powerful. Everyone looked at him with more shock and awe.

Tom believed his words. At this time, he could tell that the man was not lying, which could be seen by his superiority just now.

Tom sneered disdainfully. "It seems that you LT Organization really thinks of yourselves as gods. You even have the name of a god."

Raven was a little awkward. Now that he was a prisoner and had no right to negotiate, he could only smile and flatter, saying, "Then can you let me go?"

I promise I won't reveal your information."

Tom immediately smiled, "How dare you threaten me at this time? It seems that I can only kill you."

At this moment, a suffocating killing intent erupted from Tom, as frightening as a landslide and tsunami, pervading the entire house, and everyone's heart involuntarily tightened!

As the party concerned, Raven felt even stronger. He was completely terrified and begged for mercy without any dignity. "Don't kill me. I didn't..."

However, before he could finish his sentence, Tom's hand hit on the back of his neck. Like a computer power cut off, Raven's voice died instantly, and his neck tilted down.

In the eyes of the others in the room, Raven was killed by Tom.

Instantly, fear and panic crept into everyone's hearts, especially Mark, who was trembling to the extreme.

"You, you, you killed him?" Mark was shivering and his teeth were shaking.

Did Tom really kill Raven?

Of course, that was impossible. He just knocked Raven unconscious.

The killing was illegal. Even if he really wanted to kill Raven, he wouldn't be so stupid as to do it in front of other people.

He turned around and saw the way everyone looked at him, especially the way Phoebe and her parents looked at him, then he could not help but sigh in his heart. What happened today was really far beyond his expectations.

So sometimes life was like this. Even if you planned carefully, there would still be unexpected happenings. No one can completely control their life in their hands, and the future was full of uncertainty.

But it did happen. It was useless to regret it. Now it was a matter of how to explain it.

He walked up to Phoebe and said guiltily, "I'm sorry for getting you involved in this and making you scared because of me."

Phoebe looked at Tom and wanted to ask a lot of questions, but she could not say them out. What happened today completely overturned her world view. Even if her psychological quality was strong, it would be difficult to accept it for a while.

In the end, she had to shake her head and say softly, "It's okay."

"Okay." Tom felt guilty, but for now, he couldn't explain much and had to deal with Mark and Grace.

He looked at Elizabeth and James and said, "Dad, mom, I'm sorry to scare you."

I'll help you untie the rope."

The rope was hemp rope which was very thick, and had to be cut with scissors. Of course, it was not a piece of cake for Tom. He could break it at will. Anyway, now that his martial arts were exposed, he didn't have to hide it like before. He just broke the rope and untied them.

Elizabeth and James saw that Tom broke such a thick rope easily. They couldn't help but tremble and didn't dare to look Tom in the eye. Elizabeth smiled nervously and said, "It's okay. You don't have to be so polite..."

James also said, "Yes. Tom, you're too polite. We're fine. We're fine."

Sensing their fear for him, Tom felt helpless, but he didn't want to explain anything more.

Finding something, Tom said coldly, "Mark, if you move again, I'll break your leg."

Mark, who was preparing to escape secretly, shivered when he heard this. His face turned pale with fear. He stopped stiffly and did not dare to move anymore. He turned his head mechanically and saw Tom's sneer. He felt as if he had fallen into the ice. He shivered and quickly explained, "Mr. Howard, don't get me wrong. I don't want to leave. I just stand for a long time and want to stretch my muscles."

Seeing Tom walking towards him with a cold face, Mark broke down immediately. He knelt down and kowtowed to Tom to apologize and beg Tom to forgive him.

The others also knelt down and begged for mercy. Now they had no intention to resist at all, and they were in a state of complete reverence for Tom.

Tom didn't make things difficult for them, but he didn't let them go easily. He gave them a kick and kicked them in the ribs as punishment. Finally, he said to Mark: "For the sake of your father Kiwi, I'll spare your life this time. And next time, I'll not only break your ribs. Of course, you can also choose to call the police and seek revenge on me. I know you have the guts anyway."

"I dare not, I absolutely dare not!"
Mark shook his head like a rattle drum, and then asked carefully, "Then Mr.
Howard, can I go now?"

"Get lost." Tom waved his hand and told them to leave.

Then Tom called Malcolm to send someone over to tie Raven up and take him away. Next, he had to interrogate Raven about the LT Organization.

Chapter 254

Tom didn't call Master Chou here. Instead, he called Malcolm. He just didn't believe in Master Chou. Anyway, Master Chou was a member of the LT Organization. Maybe he would let Raven go. Tom had always been cautious. With his character, he would never do such a stupid thing.

As for Grace, after what happened today, she was already a little out of sorts. Tom did not make things difficult for her and let her go.

After everything was settled, Tom breathed a sigh of relief. The fight with Raven just now had consumed a lot of his mental and physical energy, and he was a little tired.

Turning around, he saw the lines of sights of Phoebe and her other family members. They looked at him in a more or less unfamiliar way and in awe, and he felt quite uncomfortable.

He walked over, smiled, and said, "The house is in a mess now. Why don't we move to the villa in Dragon Bay first? There are many rooms there."

Elizabeth was originally quite afraid of Tom. But upon hearing Tom's words, her eyes lit up immediately and she blurted out, "Okay, okay! Move over now?"

James was also a little excited. It was a big villa worth almost 40 million dollars. Living there was a symbol of status!

Phoebe immediately called out to Elizabeth, winked at Elizabeth, took a deep breath, and said to Tom, "That won't be necessary. We can rent a room outside and live there for a while without disturbing you."

Tom said, "No bother. I won't be that bored when you come here. Besides, you're implicated because of me. Just give me a chance to make up. Don't refuse me, okay?"

Tom looked deeply at Phoebe. Ever since their divorce, their relationship had become even more subtle.

Elizabeth became very excited when she heard this, and her reverence for Tom had disappeared a lot. She had been thinking about the scenery after she lived in Dragon Bay. If this spread, she would be admired by more people!

She quickly pushed Phoebe and winked, "Phoebe, Tom is right. Anyway, our house has been damaged and we can't live here for a while. We have to renovate it. And it's not convenient to find a room to rent in the middle of the night. I think we should go to Tom's place first. We are a family. Now that Tom is doing well, it's good for us to gain some advantage from him!"

As she spoke, Elizabeth gestured James, indicating that James should not remain silent and shall echo her words.

That made the two secretly breathe a sigh of relief and made up their minds that Phoebe and Tom must be remarried so that Tom could be firmly tied up to the Scotts.

As for Phoebe, she was full of doubts and wanted to ask Tom. From time to time, she looked up at Tom.

After arriving in Dragon Bay, Elizabeth became even more excited, as if she had forgotten what had happened just now. She also took photos and shared them in her Facebook. The content was that from now on, she would live in the most high-end villa area in Dragon Bay and felt what it was like to live in a 40 million villa.

When this piece of Moments was seen

James said quickly, "Yes, yes. Let's go to Tom's place first. We're a family anyway."

Phoebe bit her lips gently. She hesitated for a moment and finally said softly, "Well. Thank you in advance."

Tom was overjoyed and quickly waved his hand. "It's okay"

That way, Phoebe, Elizabeth, and James packed up their things and followed Tom over.

Along the way, Elizabeth and James's fear of Tom disappeared because they found that Tom didn't change at all. Tom still respected them very much. He did not become very superior to them and arrogant after he got rich.

by others, a sensation was caused immediately. Not only did many people pressed the button of LIKE and leave comments for her, but also many people came over specially to ask Elizabeth if it was true.

Elizabeth was a very vain person. At this moment, she felt that she was at the peak of her life and felt extremely proud. Many noble women who used to look down on her now also lowered their attitude and chatted with her. She felt great!

So she had fallen into the vanity of living in the big villa and had forgotten about what happened to Tom just now.

When James saw his wife like this, he couldn't help but feel excited. He also did a similar thing to what Elizabeth did. As expected, it caused a great sensation. All of a sudden, many people envied him, and they wanted to come over to him for tea and see the big house of 40 million dollars.

Of course, the most shocking thing was the group of people from the Scotts. When they saw Elizabeth and James's Facebook Story, they were completely confused. They couldn't figure it out. Just now, wasn't the Young Master of the KL Group still looking for trouble for Tom? Only a few hours had passed, but they now went and lived in the imperial Dragon Bay villa?

Could it be that this matter was solved?

When they entered the villa, Elizabeth and James were even more amazed by the luxurious atmosphere inside. They kept taking out their cell phones to take photos and were so excited.

They also kept praising Tom.

When Tom saw that the two of them looked like that they had never seen the world before, he was also satisfied as he had a lot of vanity at this moment. After being a live-in son-in-law for so many years, it was the first time he had been praised like this by his father-in-law and mother-in-law.

It would have been even better if he hadn't divorced Phoebe.

Phoebe came in and saw the luxury of the villa. She was also a little surprised, but that was all. She and Elizabeth were the opposite. She was not vain at all and did not care about material enjoyment.

Tom saw that she had been absent-minded and full of thoughts. He knew that he had to explain this to Phoebe.

Sure enough, Phoebe was the first one who couldn't resist the urge. When Elizabeth and James went upstairs to pick their room, Phoebe took a deep breath and said to Tom, "Can we talk?"

Tom nodded and said, "Okay."

They walked to a place where they could chat. Tom said, "Phoebe, actually..."

Phoebe interrupted him without waiting for him to finish. She looked at him nervously and said, "Are you really the Chairman?"

In fact, Phoebe had countless questions just now that she wanted to ask Tom, but she didn't intend to ask this question first. But when she really asked, she couldn't help but ask this. This was also the question she cared about the most.

Tom was silent for a moment. He didn't expect Phoebe to ask this question first.

Seeing that he hadn't answered for a long time, Phoebe became sad. She tried to squeeze out a smile and said, "Forget it if it's not convenient for you to answer."

Tom looked at her and said, "It's not that it's inconvenient to answer or not, but that if I answered, would you believe me?"

In fact, this sentence was already the answer. Phoebe bit her lips even tighter. "I believe it."

Tom said very seriously, "I am."

Chapter 255

Even though Phoebe knew the fact in advance, when she heard Tom admit it himself, it was still overwhelming! Her whole body was in shock, and she felt like bottles of condiment spilled over in her heart.

She opened her mouth and wanted to say something, but she could not utter a word, and her mind suddenly went wild.

What had happened before now surged into her mind and reappeared in front of her eyes.

The first time she met the chairman of the ZQ Inc, she went to ZQ Plaza alone. As the president of the ZQ Media, Elliot was greatly respectful to her. He even fawned and feared her and sent her to the chairman's office personally.

When she met the chairman, he was actually wearing a mask, not showing his true face, and he was so polite to her. They were alone in a room but the chairman did not try to take advantage of her and gave her 20 million dollars without an IOU attached.

Later, she was tricked by Brian. When she fell into danger, the chairman of ZQ Inc seemed to have the ability to see the future and appear in front of her in time to save her. And immediately, he met Tom...

And then Malcolm's respect for Tom, the flattery, and so on...

Too many coincidences were connected. Now that she thought about it, who else could the chairman of ZQ Inc be if he wasn't Tom? Anyone with half a brain could understand this, but she couldn't. She thought Tom was lying!

The point was, Tom also explained to her. But she didn't believe him and said so much to hurt Tom. When she thought of this, she couldn't stop her tears from flowing down her face.

Seeing that she was crying, Tom was worried and at a loss. "Hey, why are you crying? Weren't you fine just now?"

When Phoebe heard his words, she cried even harder. She couldn't hold back her tears and it attracted the attention of the passers-by beside her. They thought that Tom was a scumbag and did something to hurt Phoebe.

"Why did you, why..." Phoebe sobbed in a broken voice.

Seeing her so aggrieved and sad, Tom thought that Phoebe could not accept the fact that he was the chairman of ZQ Inc. He felt a sharp prick in his heart, then he forced out a smile and said, "I lied to you. I'm not the chairman of some ZQ Inc. Why don't you think about it? If I were the chairman of ZQ Inc, why would I be willing to be the live-in son-in-law of the Scotts for so long. So you can rest assured that the chairman of ZQ Inc is someone else.

He's a handsome man. I happen to know him well. I'll introduce him to you another day..."

Tom didn't get to finish the last word when his eyes widened suddenly, full of disbelief, because Phoebe actually stood on tiptoe, wrapped his neck with both hands, and kissed his mouth.

Bang! Something exploded in Tom's mind.

This was the first time they had kissed in so many years of marriage!

In an instant, Tom felt his head was spinning and he was in a complete daze.

Phoebe actually kissed him. Even though it felt so real now, he still thought it was an illusion because it was too dreamy.

Lips parted.

Tom looked at her as if she was a ghost, swallowed heavily, and said, "Phoebe, you..."

Phoebe's face turned a bright pink now. She got especially shy, but she did not escape Tom's gaze. Instead, she mustered up the courage to say, "Tom, let's getting back together."

"What, what?" Tom was stunned. He opened his mouth so wide that he could swallow an egg.

Phoebe bit her lip gently, then leaned into Tom's ear and said softly and seriously, "Let's getting back together."

This time, Tom heard it clearly. But even if he did, he was still in a daze.

What did that saying go?

"It's just happening so fast when happiness strikes."

Soon, Tom was overwhelmed by this joy, which made him dizzy.

Seeing that he had stayed silent for so long, Phoebe deliberately snorted and said, "Why, don't you agree? Then Forget it."

Tom finally came back to his senses and said quickly, "I agree! Of course, I agree! How could I not agree?!"

Phoebe's face also beamed with joy. It was like a brilliant flower the world had ever seen and everything else would be humbled by its beauty.

Tom got carried away for quite a while before muttered, "Phoebe, you're so beautiful."

Phoebe's joy was obvious and she deliberately scolded, "You goose".

Today was arguably Tom's happiest day. In fact, every day after his divorce from Phoebe, he never stopped thinking about remarrying to Phoebe, even though he knew that the hope was very slim.

When this day really came, he was really happy!

On the way back, Phoebe held Tom's hand all along. They had never been intimate like this before.

The two of them had talked about a lot tonight, and they didn't go back to their room to sleep until three in the middle of the night.

The next day, when Elizabeth and James found out about their plan of getting married again, they were so excited that they could hardly speak.

Tom was also very happy about this, but he did not forget his business because of this. After Phoebe went to work, Tom also went out. He was going to see Malcolm.

Of course, it was actually Raven that he was going to see. Now Raven was imprisoned by Malcolm.

"Chairman, you're here!"

When Malcolm saw Tom come in, he quickly stood up and bowed respectfully to Tom.

In fact, Tom was not very used to it. After all, Malcolm was in his sixties. He was still so respectful to Tom every time he met him, which made Tom embarrassed for it would make people think that he didn't know how to care for the elder.

However, this was strongly requested by Malcolm. The gap between their previous identities was too big. If Malcolm was not allowed to be so respectful, he would probably scare Malcolm and made Malcolm think that he had done something wrong.

So Tom simply didn't say anything and let Malcolm continue to be so respectful to him.

"Well, Malcolm, thanks for the hard work. You've been watching the prisoner for me all night." Tom said.

"Not at all!" Malcolm said quickly. "It's my honor to work for the chairman!"

Tom smiled and said, "Where is he? Take me to him."

Malcolm said, "Okay, he's in the confinement room."

Soon, under Malcolm's guidance, Tom went into the basement's confinement room and saw Raven.

When Tom saw him, he almost didn't recognize Raven.

Chapter 256

How could Raven look as extraordinary, superior, and condescending to all living things as he was in the beginning? Now, he was a prisoner. It was not too much to describe him as a beggar.

His clothes were dirty and torn, stained with blood. He looked as if he was about to die at any moment.

When he saw Tom, there was a flash of panic in his eyes. In an instant, his eyes returned to gloominess and fear.

The corner of Tom's mouth rose slightly, revealing a meaningful smile. He turned to Malcolm and said, "You beat him so badly."

Malcolm said quickly, "Chairman, he wanted to escape, so I used some methods. Please don't worry, chairman, our subordinates have a sense of propriety. He only suffered beating. There is no danger of life!"

Malcolm was in a panic, afraid that he had done something wrong.

Because that day, Tom called him over by phone and handed him the person directly. He did not tell him who he was or how he should be treated. Malcolm had no idea what to do. He could only make a judgment based on Tom's attitude towards Raven at that time. He thought that Raven was Tom's prisoner. So today, when Raven wanted to escape, he asked his subordinates to teach Raven a lesson by beating him.

Tom sighed. When Malcolm heard this, he was even more afraid. Just as he was about to apologize, Tom said, "You are too gentle with him. You can't hurt him at all."

After saying that, Tom suddenly kicked Raven. Raven's pupils suddenly contracted. All his muscles tensed up. He was very sharp and about to dodge. However, his speed was still a little slower than Tom's. Finally, Tom kicked him in the waist. He kicked him hard against the wall like a ball bouncing to the ground. Raven spat out a mouthful of blood!

"You should be like me. Only through this way can you hurt him, or it would be tickling to him." Tom said with a smile.

When Malcolm saw this scene, he was obviously in a daze. When he came back to his senses, he swallowed hard. He looked at Tom with quite different eyes and he became more afraid.

He knew that Tom was not simple. He was the chairman of the ZQ Media, which was worth several billion dollars. He also had something to do with the underground emperor of H City, Master Chou. But he didn't know that Tom was so skillful and ruthless.

At this moment, he felt the majesty of the fairy dragon from Tom. He was not to be blasphemed or offended.

"Yes, yes..." Malcolm nodded quickly, "Thank you for your guidance, Chairman."

Tom walked over to Raven with a bright smile on his face. He said to him like his friend, "Raven, your injuries are recovering very quickly. I was almost fooled by you. If I were here one day later, you would have run away by now."

A strong fighter beside him said, "That's impossible. With our brothers watching him, he can't escape!"

"Yes, he seems not strong. And he is seriously injured. How can he escape? He's not a god." Another fighter said with some dissatisfaction. They thought Tom was underestimating their ability.

When Malcolm saw that his two men were actually retorting Tom, he was so anxious that he quickly went over and slapped them in the face and scolded them, "Bullshit! What kind of people are you? If you dare to question the chairman's words, slap yourselves and apologize!"

They were still very afraid of Malcolm. Being slapped by Malcolm, they didn't dare to talk back. They lowered their heads and apologized to Tom. But there was still obvious dissatisfaction on their faces.

Their performance angered Malcolm so much that he was afraid that two idiots offended Tom. When he was about to teach them a lesson, Tom stopped him. "That's enough, they haven't seen Raven's Kungfu before. It's normal not to believe me"

"Chairman, both of them are brainless. You don't want to bother yourself arguing with the likes of them." Malcolm pleaded.

Tom waved his hand to show that he didn't take it to heart. Then he said to Raven, "All right, Raven, you don't have to pretend anymore. I can feel your vitality is very strong now. You're about to recover half of your strength."

"Cough, cough, cough..." Raven coughed with difficulty as he seemed dying. He said to Tom, "I don't understand what you mean. Don't you know how much you've kicked me? I'm dying now. Tom, for the sake of my relationship with your mother, can you please let me go? I can give you a lot of money."

"Oh? How much can you give me? Tell me." Tom raised his eyebrows, looking very interested.

There was some hope in Raven's eyes. He coughed with difficulty and said, "One billion. As long as you let me go, I can transfer it to your account soon."

Hearing the amount of money, the others in the room widened their eyes. Their breathing became rapid. Even Malcolm's eyebrows jumped. He was moved.

One billion!

He had worked hard for so long. He didn't have a billion dollars in savings. However, as long as Tom said one word, he could get the billion!

At this moment, Tom in his mind became even greater.

As for the other fighters, they couldn't imagine that amount of money. They might have to work hard for ten generations to earn that much.

Tom smiled. "Raven, you're dying. Do you think I'll believe your trick? Besides, a billion is just a small amount to me. Do you think you can really seduce me? If you promise me ten billion, I can consider letting you go."

Hearing this, Raven also understood that Tom could not let him go. He was just playing with him. For a moment, his expression changed uneasily.

Then, while he was lowering his head, he found a breakthrough around him. Then, without warning, he suddenly jumped and began to run in another direction, intending to jump out of the window and escape!

His sudden outburst scared Malcolm and the others. It was completely out of their expectations that Raven, who had been injured so badly, had such explosive power. He was faster than an athlete!

And the two strong men standing in front of the window were easily pushed away by him. They were like little kids who couldn't resist at all.

This scene was too unexpected for them. The two fighters who had just expressed their dissatisfaction with Tom, especially, were completely dumbfounded.

Seeing that Raven was about to run out and jump out of the window, a man moved.

It was Tom. He was as quiet as a virgin and moved like a rabbit. Tom took three or four steps forward and reached behind Raven. Then he grabbed Raven's neck and pinched it hard. With a crack, Raven's spine was twisted and dislocated. He screamed miserably and became paralyzed. He was caught by Tom's hand and could only walk back slowly.

Seeing this scene, everyone in the house was filled with shock.

Chapter 257

For a moment, the room became very quiet, leaving only Raven's moan and the sound of Tom dragging Raven over.

Malcolm and the others were stupefied by Tom.

They had just seen how explosive Raven was. He was not as weak as the injured. He was stronger than anyone else here. Raven's power was beyond their imagination. Just now, Raven was about to jump out of the window, when Tom stepped forward and caught Raven easily.

They thought Raven was the Monkey King who made a big fuss in the heavenly palace, while Tom was Buddha who easily pressed Monkey King down the Buddha Mountain.

Tom carried Raven back to his original position. Tom put Raven down and said to Malcolm, "Okay, you guys go out. I'll talk to him alone."

Malcolm took his eyes away from Tom, but could not hide his shock. He nodded hard. Unconsciously, Malcolm became more respectful towards Tom!

It was reasonable. Tom was the chairman of the ZQ Media and the master of Master Chou. He became so rich and powerful at such a young age! Malcolm had lived in this cruel society for so long and had seen various people, but it was the first time he had seen someone as astonishing as Tom.

In Malcolm's mind, Tom was no different from an immortal.

It was also at this moment that Malcolm completely surrendered to Tom and had no intention of resisting at all.

So when he heard Tom's order, he left in a hurry.

After coming out of the room, Malcolm closed the door and lapsed into long silences before hearing the sound of swallowing saliva.

"Boss, who on earth is the chairman? Why? Why is he so powerful?" One of the thugs who had been unconvinced of Tom asked carefully. Then he looked at the room nervously, afraid that Tom would hear him.

Others also shared the same doubt, who were all looking at Malcolm curiously and anxiously.

Malcolm grimaced and coughed for warning, "Why do you ask so much? He's the supreme among the big shots. Is it proper for mortals like you to inquire about him?"

They felt very aggrieved after being scolded by Malcolm.

After a pause, Malcolm added, "Of course, since you are eager to know, I can tell you. But you mustn't tell anyone else. Remember?"

"We promise!"

"Don't worry, boss. We won't tell anyone!"

"I won't tell anyone..."

Everyone nodded, like chickens pecking at rice.

Malcolm raised their curiosity and began to say, "He is the chairman of the ZQ Media and the master behind the secret controller of H City, Master Chou. He is also a highly skilled martial artist! Such a person can be called an immortal. You mustn't talk about him behind his back in the future. Once heard, even the god can't save you!"

Hearing Malcolm's words, all of them gasped and their heads went numb.

They were all gangsters, and they didn't understand what the chairman of the ZQ Media meant, but they knew about Master Chou!

Master Chou was the underground emperor of H City, the supreme being in their circle, and it was not too much to call him god. But even people like Master Chou were Tom's servants? Jesus, they couldn't even imagine how powerful Tom was.

When they were talking about Tom, Tom had already begun to interrogate Raven.

"Now tell me everything you know. If what you said please me, I can let you go." Tom said.

Raven lay on the wall. His spine had been broken by Tom, so now he could not move at all even if he had the intention to run away. Besides, Tom kicked him so hard that he was seriously injured that it was impossible for him to escape. And now that Tom was watching him, which made it even more difficult to flee.

"So, are you still unwilling to tell me? It seems that you're really not afraid of death. Well, I can invite you to experience some punishment tools which can loosen your muscles." As he spoke, Tom was about to torture Raven.

Raven sensed Tom's murderous aura and knew Tom was not joking. Being frightened, Raven quickly said, "I'm just a nobody in the organization. I don't know that many things. It's useless for you to ask me."

"Then tell me everything you know. You know what I want to know. I don't have much patience." Tom sat in front of him and said.

Raven was thinking about whether to say it or not, with his eyes rolling quickly.

Tom got impatient and started torturing him. He broke one of Raven's fingers. The nerves of the fingertips were linked with the heart. The intense pain made Raven unable to breathe, and his will was instantly broken.

"I said, I said, I said! Please don't step on my fingers again!" He quickly begged for mercy.

Tom let him go. "Spit it out. It's your last chance."

Raven looked at Tom for a few seconds and then said, "Tom, you are not like the Saintess at all. Saintess is so kind. How could she give birth to... Ah! It hurts. Sorry, I'm wrong!"

"One more word of nonsense. I'll kill you." Tom said coldly, impatient.

Raven sweated heavily and gasped, "Your mother, Luna, is the Saintess of our organization. She was to marry the Saint King in the future. But once she went out on a mission and fell in love with an ordinary person. It was your father, Romain. Later, Saintess was missing. She left the organization and gave birth to you, which made the organization furious and mobilized a lot of people to find Saintess. After searching for many years, they finally found her four years ago."

"They found out that Romain has passed away, but the kid of Saintess is a smear to the organization. The organization can't accept this kind of thing. It was Saintess who managed to save you alive."

"Not long after that, Saintess returned to the organization, but she was imprisoned and could not leave the organization and that place for the rest of her life."

Tom fell silent after hearing this. What

Raven told him was almost the same as what Chou had said. This indicated that the truth of the matter was probably what they said.

"What does your organization do and where is it?" Tom asked.

Raven was stunned for a moment, then realized something. He shook his head and asked, "Do you want to find the organization to save Saintess?"

Tom acquiesced.

"I advise you to get rid of this idea as soon as possible. You don't know how powerful the organization is. You can't provoke it at all." Raven said with disdain on his face.

Chapter 258

He showed a strong sense of disdain. It was the disdain from his bones. He thought that Tom's resistance against the organization was like crushing a stone with an egg.

He had seen Chou showed the same expression as Tom. He thought that Tom overestimated himself, and was trying to kill himself by fighting against the organization. He suggested that Tom give up his innocent idea.

Tom was a stubborn person. The man's reaction inspired his thought of challenge!

"According to you, your organization is very powerful. If I make trouble with you, I will die?" Tom asked.

Raven said, "Almost the same. You don't know our organization, so it's normal that you don't know how powerful our organization is. After all, the power of our organization is completely beyond the imagination of ordinary people. You may think you're the chairman of the ZQ Media now and you have billions of dollars in wealth and your martial arts are strong, then you're almost invincible in the world. Stupid! But for the sake of being the mere son of Saintess, I'd advise you to give up the idea of fighting against the organization, or you'll die without a burial ground."

When Raven said this, he was apart and above when Tom first met him. He looked at Tom with contempt.

Tom did not say anything, but just stepped on it. In an instant, Raven felt painful and he began to beg for mercy again.

"Cut the crap. Tell me where your organization is, tell me what your organization does, and where my mother is locked up. I'll let you go." Tom said.

When Raven heard the last sentence, his pupils shrank, and asked tentatively, "As long as I tell you, are you really willing to let me go?"

Without waiting for Tom to respond, Raven shook his head again. He looked afraid and muttered, "No, no, no. If the organization finds out, I will be finished!"

And he shivered, which showed that his fear of the organization came from his soul.

"Say it!" Tom stepped down again and threatened him.

After Raven hesitated for a while, he gritted his teeth and made a difficult decision, "Actually, I don't know where the headquarters of the organization is. I'm just a nobody in the organization. I have no access to the key information."

Seeing Tom's grim expression, Raven's heart skipped a beat. He was scared, and quickly explained, "I'm serious. I definitely didn't lie to you! I'm really just a nobody in the organization. I don't know where the headquarters is. But I can tell you what the organization does."

"Say it." Tom said quietly.

Raven cleared his mind and added, "The work of organization covers a wide range of fields and our people hide in all walks of life. You are almost unable to imagine how powerful and huge our organization is. Moreover, the organization's power is not only at home, but also in many Asian countries... Tom, I know you are very good at martial arts, but I still advise you to give up the idea of fighting against the organization as soon as possible. Otherwise, your fate will be very miserable."

"Besides, I can tell you that you can survive in this world only because your mother, the Saintess who had pleaded for you. But it doesn't mean that you will be safe in the future. The stronger and more high-profile you are, the easier it will be to get the attention of the organization. Once you exceed the tolerance of the organization, you will be wiped out. So, if you want to live a peaceful life, you should keep a low profile and just think about how to be a good chairman without thinking about looking for the Saintess. Besides, I have a GPS system in my body. Someone in the organization already knows that I'm here to find you. If you really kill me, then the organization will definitely avenge me and kill you directly."

Raven looked at Tom sincerely. He was really thinking about Tom.

If it was an ordinary person, he would have been fooled by Raven. But Tom had experienced so many things, and he was a very smart person. How could he be fooled so easily? He said, "Raven, at this juncture, you are still lying to me and trying to threaten me."

Raven's eyes flickered a little and shook his head, "Tom, you are too suspicious. I've already said the truth. You don't believe me yet."

Tom said, "You just don't feel threatened until the knife is beside your neck. Do you think you can trick me at this time? You come here by yourself. You don't have any GPS system, and no one else in the organization can know where you are. Because you didn't care about me from the beginning, you just wanted to play the cat-and-mouse game with me. So if I kill you now, your organization won't know."

Hearing this, Raven's body trembled violently, and for the first time, a frightened expression appeared on his face. It was obvious that Tom was right!

"What, there's nothing else to say?"
Tom wore an indifferent smile.

Raven almost broke down and he begged for mercy, "Son of the Saintess, please let me go, for the sake of so many organizational secrets I've told you!"

"You haven't told me many secrets, have you? You haven't told me where the Saintess is imprisoned." Tom said.

Raven said with a bitter face, "I really don't know. The status of the Saintess in the organization is noble. How can a cipher like me be qualified to know? But I really didn't lie to you. You can't be too high-profile. Otherwise, the organization will really trouble you. Once the organization takes action, you will definitely be unable to resist."

Tom believed this. After all, his existence was a stain and a shameful thing for the LT Organization. If he became extremely powerful, the LT Organization would definitely make trouble for him.

But, so what? When had he ever been afraid of anything?

He wasn't afraid that the organization would trouble him. Even if the organization wouldn't trouble him, he would trouble LT Organization in the future! After all, his grandfather died because of LT Organization, and his mother was imprisoned because of the LT Organization. It was very likely that the death of his father, Romain, was also related to this LT Organization!

Next, Tom asked Raven a lot of questions about the LT Organization. He had a deeper understanding of this organization and his mother Anna.

Her mother, Anna, was the Saintess of the LT Organization. She had been trained and kept her virginity since she was a child. When she grew up, what she should do was to marry the Saint King of the LT Organization and become the Saintess. But she fell in love with an ordinary man, Romain, and she disappeared and hid herself by constantly changing her identities for many years, which made the LT Organization very angry. In the end, she was found, and almost the entire the Howards was implicated!

Tom was what the LT Organization could not bear most. He shouldn't have been alive in this world. It was his mother, Luna, who finally used her freedom in exchange for his survival.

"Mom, don't worry, I will definitely save you! Wait for me!"

Tom clenched his fists with a terrifying light in his eyes, and swore in his heart.

After squeezing out Raven's value, Tom was ready to cripple Raven and let him go. At this moment, the locked door was suddenly kicked open violently. A figure walked in quickly. When that man saw the situation in the room, his eyes flashed with coldness. He came to Raven and clapped his hand, killing Raven.

Chapter 259

From breaking the door to slapping Raven to death, it took only two seconds, which was so fast. It would be difficult for ordinary people to react.

Even if it was Tom, he did not realize what happened at that moment. It was not that he was not swift, but that he was stunned to see that the person who broke the door was Master Chou. When he came back to his senses, Master Chou had already slapped Raven to death.

"Chou!" Tom's eyes widened and he grabbed Master Chou's collar. "What are you doing?"

Master Chou let Tom grab him and said, "If you don't kill him, you'll be killed."

Hearing this, Tom was not that angry.

Master Chou continued, "This man is Raven, one of the peripheral members of the LT Organization. His martial arts are great. Young Master, since you can take him down, your martial arts have already been better than his. If miss Saintess can see the scene, she will be very pleased. However, with your current strength, young master, it will still difficult for you to fight the LT Organization and save miss."

Before Master Chou continuing, Tom already knew what Master Chou meant. He just killed Raven so he couldn't tell the LT Organization.

"But you shouldn't have killed him."
Tom let go of Master Chou, sighed, and looked at Raven, who was lying on the ground, dead. Some regret flashed through his eyes.

Master Chou also looked at Raven on the ground and said, "Being merciful to the enemy means being cruel to yourself. Once you let Raven go, he will definitely report it to the LT Organization, and you couldn't afford the consequence."

Tom knew this. He also knew that Master Chou was doing this for his own good. He did not blame Master Chou. But he didn't want others to die.

"Young Master, you're too kind. Your character is really similar to the lady's."

Master Chou looked at Tom and said.

Tom smiled and said, "Haha, you and Raven have the opposite opinion of me. He said that I am not like Saintess at all. He said I am cruel but Saintess is kind."

Master Chou smiled, shook his head and said, "That's because Raven doesn't know you well."

While Tom and Master Chou were chatting inside, Malcolm and the others were shivering outside.

Just now, Master Chou suddenly appeared with a large group of people. He walked in with a gloomy face without saying a word. He had scared them out of their wits!

Master Chou was so famous in H City that he was the real underground 'emperor'. Even big brothers of the gangsters like Malcolm should be humble in front of Master Chou, let alone others.

After Master Chou rushed in, they were all controlled by Master Chou's men like chickens. They were helpless, and even Malcolm was not spared.

Gulp!

Someone swallowed his saliva heavily and asked timidly, "Mr. Edwards, what is Master Chou doing here? We don't seem to have offended Master Chou, do we?"

The others looked at Malcolm in fear.

Malcolm knew Master Chou's relationship with Tom, so he was not worried. He said angrily, "Do you think Master Chou would be so polite to you if you really offended him? He would have already thrown you into the sea. Don't worry. Master Chou is Mr. Howard's man. He's here for Mr. Howard."

"Is Master Chou really Mr. Howard's man? Mr. Howard is so awesome! And he is so young but very powerful. Amazing."

"You're not talking nonsense. Didn't you see how awesome Mr. Howard was just now? He's like a god. Otherwise, how would Mr. Edwards followed Mr. Howard?"

"Since Mr. Howard is so powerful and we have his support, we can do everything we like in H City!"

"That's right. From today on, Mr. Howard is my father. No, he's more important than my father!"

They all discussed excitedly, looking forward to the future.

Malcolm's smile could not be concealed. He deliberately put on a straight face and pretended to be serious. He said, "Mr. Howard is high up. There are countless people who want to follow him. How can nobodies like you be his men?"

After hearing that, they were very disappointed.

Malcolm coughed again and said, "Of course, as long as you follow me, I will not treat you badly in the future. I will recommend you to Mr. Howard if you perform well. As long as you become Mr. Howard's men, you won't have to worry about your future."

Malcolm's words excited them again.

Just then, when they saw Master Chou and Tom coming out of the room, they immediately stopped talking and quickly made a respectful gesture to welcome Master Chou and Tom.

Tom wanted to say hello to Malcolm, but as soon as he walked over, his phone rang. He took it out and saw that it was Phoebe. He had to answer the phone. "Hello, Phoebe, what's the matter?"

When others saw him making a phone call, they all shut their mouths, not daring to make a sound for fear of disturbing him.

Phoebe's voice came from the phone. "Tom, where are you? Can you pick me up?"

"Okay, where are you? I'll pick you up now." Tom asked.

Phoebe gave him the address, where was not far from Tom. It would only take about ten minutes to get there.

However, on the phone, he heard that the background was quite noisy, and there seemed to be a lot of people. He could clearly hear a man's voice.

Phoebe was talking in a strange tone. It seemed that she was in trouble and could not get rid of it.

Tom asked, "Phoebe, what happened to you? Are you okay?"

Phoebe said, "Nothing. Just come to pick me up."

"Okay, I'll be right there."

Tom was just about to hang up the phone when he heard Phoebe's voice again. "Well, if it's convenient for you, can you drive a car over?"

"Oh, okay, I'll be right there." Tom nodded, agreed, and then said to Master Chou, "Chow, I'm going to pick someone up. I'll leave this to you."

Master Chou nodded and said, "Okay."

"Lend me your car." Tom said.

Master Chou signaled his men. The man immediately bent over and handed a key to Bentley keys to Tom with respect. He said, "Mr. Howard, this car is the latest Bentley. Do you need me to drive you?"

Tom took the key and said faintly, "No need."

Malcolm and the others had been waiting for Tom to say hello to them. But Tom didn't even look at them, which disappointed them greatly. They didn't dare to complain at all, but regretted that they didn't do well and missed the opportunity to curry favor with Tom!

As Tom drove the Bentley to the address Phoebe told him, Phoebe was in trouble...

Chapter 260

It had been a long time since Phoebe had encountered such an awkward thing, and she didn't want to stay here for even one second.

She was especially regretful now. If she had known it was such a party, she would not have agreed to come. She had been deceived this time.

Looking at the women hanging off their arms off men and their sleazy behaviors, Phoebe could not help but blush. She had never felt so uneasy before!

She was forced to come here by an important client. She had thought she was here to have a meal and meet other bosses, but she didn't expect it to be such a party! If she had known this, she wouldn't have come over at all.

This client was a shareholder of a decoration company and had a good relationship with SK Lighting. She was close to Phoebe. She was quite virtuous and quiet. Phoebe never expected that she would be so different in her private life. She actually cheated on her husband! Her children were about to go to junior high school, but she was hooking up and flirting with other men. If she hadn't seen it with her own eyes, Phoebe wouldn't have believed it!

"Hey, Phoebe, where have you been? When did you come here?"

Just after Phoebe hung up the call with Tom, a voice came from behind her, and a hand was wrapped around her waist and someone blew in her ear. It was the important client who brought her here.

All of a sudden, Phoebe's muscles tensed up, and goosebumps appeared on her ear.

"Sandra, don't talk in my ear. I'm especially ticklish." Phoebe quickly moved away and said awkwardly.

Sandra was a woman in her forties. Her shape was not so nice now and she started to gain weight. When she saw Phoebe so young, with a nice shape, and so beautiful, her eyes unconsciously showed envy and jealousy. "Phoebe, twenty years ago, I also had a nice figure. I was beautiful and young, just like you are now. Unfortunately, time takes its toll."

When Phoebe heard this, she had no choice but to laugh dryly and say, "Sandra, you are very young now. You keep a good figure."

When Sandra heard Phoebe's compliment, she looked happy. She waved her hand and said, "Let's not talk about this. Let's go and play. Tonight's party is very rare. Many handsome men have come. They can't move their eyes when they see you, especially that Colin. He's one of the shareholders of Forever Properties. He's young, rich, and handsome. He's very famous in our circle and very popular. Many sluts want to hook up with him."

As Sandra said, she pointed to a man in the hall. He was dressed in a white suit, his hair was meticulously combed, and he was handsome. He was tall and straight and stood out.

Phoebe had to admit that this man was very charming to women, but he was not attractive to her.

"Sandra, I'm married." Phoebe said.

Sandra sneered and said indifferently, "That's nothing. Many of our sisters coming here for fun are married. Most of them have children. Some even have grandchildren. We are rich. If the money we earned was not spent on having fun, life would be boring. Besides, who said that only men can have fun in such places? Sister, I brought you into this circle because I think that you are a good person. Don't let me down."

Hearing Sandra's words, Phoebe was shocked. She regretted that she had come here with this woman in the first place!

If it was someone else that said this, Phoebe would have left. But this person was Sandra, a big client of the company, and she couldn't offend her, so she said patiently, "Sandra, I'm not suitable for this kind of place, so I'd better get going."

Sandra pretended to be unhappy and said, "Sister, you're embarrassing me! I've been taking care of your company's business a lot lately."

Phoebe quickly explained, "Sandra, you misunderstood. That's not what I meant. It's that I can't drink. I would be drunk after one glass. And it's getting late. My husband asked me to go back..."

"If you can't drink, then don't drink so much. Reject your husband. Besides, your husband is a good-for-nothing. Why should you care about his feelings? Have fun here. Trust me, this is your first time, so you don't like this place. After you enjoy the service here once, you'll know how fun this place could be. I promise you'll thank you."

As she spoke, Sandra took Phoebe's hand and walked towards the crowded place.

There were probably hundreds of people in this banquet hall. All of them were rich people in the upper class, but the scene was very sleazy. If Phoebe hadn't seen it with her own eyes, she wouldn't have believed this would happen.

Phoebe was the most beautiful woman in the room. She had the best figure. Besides, she was a newcomer, so after she appeared, she attracted the attention of all the men. They looked at her eagerly and passionately. This made Phoebe feel really uncomfortable and anxious. She didn't want to stay here!

But Sandra held her tightly and refused to let her leave.

"Oh, Sandra, I really need to go..." Phoebe said in a pleading tone.

Unfortunately, Sandra was already drunk and high. She had been like this before, so she knew that Phoebe was shy for the first time. Then she would lose her inhibition soon. She had been enjoying herself very much these years.

"I would like to introduce a new member, Phoebe, the new chairman of SK Lighting. It's her first time here. So guys, be gentle with my sister." Sandra said with a laugh.

The men's eyes lit up when they heard that it was Phoebe's first time to come here and that she was a chairman.

Colin's eyes were filled with eagerness. He stared at Phoebe without concealing his intense interest in her. He smiled slightly as a hunter smiled at his prey.

Being stared at by so many people, Phoebe was especially uneasy and panicked. She quickly said to Sandra, "Sandra, I really have to go. I have called my husband. He is coming soon."

Sandra's face immediately darkened and she said angrily, "Phoebe, what do you mean? I was kind enough to bring you in. You kept saying you were leaving and even calling your husband. Are you playing with me?"

"No, no, that's not what I meant!" Phoebe hurriedly explained. "Sandra, why would I do that? It's just that I can't fit in. I can't do anything wrong to my husband, so I really have to go. My husband will be here soon. If he sees this, he will be very angry."

However, when the men present heard her words, their eyes became brighter. They were more interested in those women who were happily married. They felt more sense of fulfillment after conquering such women. Plus, Phoebe was so young and beautiful! She was exactly what they liked.

Colin gulped down the wine in his goblet, then strode over and said to Phoebe, "Hello, Miss Scott. I'm Colin of Forever Properties. Since you are the chairman of SK Lighting, I believe we will have many opportunities to cooperate in the future."
