

Chapter 2411

“Your subordinates went missing?”

Harvey York frowned.

“Did you report this to the authorities?”

Fabian Hamilton shook his head.

“Never. To be honest with you, since my family runs a big business, we naturally have some secrets hiding from the outside world. I just can't call the cops as I please.

“Even though I didn't do that, I invited three private detectives from Hong Kong and Las Vegas to help, but they couldn't find anything either. It felt like my subordinates just disappeared in thin air.

“If their quarters weren't there, we'd even doubt whether these people even existed in the first place.

“Now, because of this, the people from the Hamilton Residence are panicking. Something dangerous is going up against the Hamilton family, and they can feel it.

“Please help us out on this, Branch Leader York.”

Harvey’s interest peaked as he pondered about the situation.

“If you don’t mind, is it fine if we find a quiet place so I can check your pulse?”

Fabian was confused, but he still showed a warm smile and replied, “Of course. I’ll do whatever you ask of me.”

Booom!

Right at that moment, Harvey’s look frantically changed before he pushed Fabian out of the way and rolled to the side.

A black staff immediately pierced right where the two stood before.

A giant hole was formed on the ground soon after.

“Tee hee hee...”

Ominous chuckles could be heard echoing all over the place before three men from Thailand wearing robes showed up.

Fabian’s expression changed frantically.

“The Three Demon Monks?” he exclaimed unwaveringly.

“Who are they?”

Harvey was confused. He wasn’t afraid of attacks of this level, but it’d be better if he knew who he was facing first.

“They’re the Demon Monks of Thailand’s

Buddhist Temple.”

Fabian quietly explained.

“They’re an organization like Dragon Palace, but slightly different.

“Country H’s Dragon Palace serves the country, but these Demon Monks only do shady things behind the scenes, usually for the financially able.

“I rejected the king of Thailand’s request to buy a share of my casino badge previously. That tyrant of a king must’ve felt disrespected and sent the monks here to kill me.”

Fabian calmly analyzed the situation.

Harvey came back to his senses. Those Demon Monks weren’t after him in the first place. They were actually going for Fabian.

They might have been spying on Fabian for a long while, but they never got the chance to kill him.

Without any bodyguards following Fabian while the two came to such a secluded place, those three so-called Demon Monks found a chance to strike.

“Fabian Hamilton. It seems like you know the consequences of denying my king!”

The Demon Monk leading the group talked in a strange voice as he squinted at Fabian.

“It is your utmost honor for my king to work with you. He was willing even to give you the title of Thailand’s Lord!

“But you actually dare reject his offer?! What would happen to my king’s reputation then?!

“Las Vegas is indeed the territory of Country H, but it is just an enclave!

“Nobody can protect you here!

“You certainly have a death wish for you to reject my king!

“I’ll give you one last chance! Give up and kneel before my king, offer all of your assets as an apology, and only then we’ll let you off the hook!”

Fabian chuckled.

“I’m the King of Gambling. Why would I concede to such a small nation like Thailand? Aren’t you being a little too cocky?

“I refuse the offer.”

Chapter 2412

“How dare you?!”

The Three Demon Monks burst out in anger. Almost simultaneously, staves were brought out from behind them.

Fabian Hamilton squinted slightly.

“I don’t mind you going against me. We can fight it out if that’s what you really want.

“That said, Harvey York here is innocent. He has nothing to do with the situation. Let him go.

“We can play after he leaves.

“After all, he’s the prince of South Light and Mordu’s Longmen branch leader. If he dies, you’ll be in big trouble.

“I’m telling you this for your sake!”

Fabian spoke calmly, as if he didn't fear death.

He got Harvey into trouble because of this heart-to-heart conversation. That was why he wanted Harvey to escape no matter what.

“You're underestimating me, Mr. Hamilton!”
said Harvey calmly.

“I also know how to fight! Even if I don't, I can't just leave you here!”

He then calmly glanced at the Three Demon Monks.

“You people from Thailand dare to cause trouble in a big place like Country H? Are you underestimating us or something?”

The Demon Monks burst out laughing, then glared at Harvey with cold looks on their faces.

“Fabian, you're saying this kid here has an extraordinary identity?”

“So, he’s worth a lot of money then?”

“If we capture him, wouldn’t we be able to ask for a huge ransom?”

“We were only planning to kill you off, Old Man. The situation just got a lot better because of this pleasant surprise.

“After all, our king loves young and tender meat like this with an extraordinary identity!”

Harvey frowned slightly.

“Thailand’s one of the strongest countries of the southeast waters. Why are you people talking like you’re a bunch of criminal scum?”

“Did all of you forget that the Chief Instructor completely destroyed your Forbidden Army back then? Your king kneeled and swore not to set foot on Country H ever again!

“What? Are you going to break that promise?”

Are you not scared of the Chief Instructor at all?”

The Demon Monks were frantically twitching their eyes before they chuckled loudly.

“Harvey, right?”

“You don’t need to scare us with that name!”

“We heard that he retired from the military three years ago!”

“You’re going to use the name of a man who disappeared from the face of the earth three years ago? You must be joking!”

“Besides, if we capture or kill both of you right now, there’s no way you’ll be able to spread the word about this matter!”

“And when we’re done sucking your money dry and dispose of you, everyone will be none the wiser!”

“I’m warning you, Kid. You better not resist. We’ ll make sure you die a painless death if you do. If not, we'll break all your limbs before taking you back to Thailand..."

Harvey couldn't be bothered to listen to the Demon Monks' babble anymore. He took a step forward and instantly swung his palm out.

A resounding slap could be heard soon after. The leader of the Demon Monks was not ready to defend himself against the slap. He did not expect the scrawny and weak-looking man would strike first. When he came to his senses, it was already too late.

Harvey's slap across the Demon Monk's face immediately sent him flying.

Bang!

The Demon Monk landed on the ground with a sore throat, as if he was about to cough out blood.

“How is this possible?!”

An unbelievable thought came across the Demon Monk’s mind.

‘Is this the power of a God of War?!’

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>

Chapter 2413

Before the leader of the Demon Monks could come back to his senses, Harvey York rushed forward and swung his palm forward.

The Demon Monk furiously screamed, but he didn't have any chance to dodge Harvey's attack. He didn't even have time to raise his staff at that moment. All he could do was throw a right punch in front of him.

Bang!

The two attacks were emitting sparks after they connected, as if hammers were clashing against each other. At that moment, a deep and crisp sound could be heard.

Crack!

Along with the sounds of bones cracking, the Demon Monk's expression frantically changed.

He immediately casted the staff aside and started attacking with both hands, trying to soften the blows of Harvey's slap.

Slap slap slap slap!

A string of smacks could be heard, but they were not effective at all. Harvey's slap was unrelenting, as if it had already locked onto the Demon Monk's face as soon as he swung forward.

Swoosh!

Cold sweats were dripping down the Demon Monk's back. While he was throwing out punches, his feet were steadily retreating backward.

He was fast, but Harvey was faster. It was as if his own shadow was chasing after him.

It seemed like Harvey would stop at nothing until his slap connected with the Demon Monk's face.

Slap!

A reverberating slap could be heard once again while the Demon Monk was sent flying in the air. When he landed on the ground again, his face was as swollen as a pig.

Everyone was dead silent.

If Harvey's first hit was a sneak attack...

Then his second one was a show of his full strength.

“Interesting. You Demon Monks have the strength of the best King of Arms out there.

“Just a small step left, and you'll be Gods of War.”

Harvey took out some tissue and wiped his hand.

“But you dare call yourselves Demon Monks when you're this weak? Who gave you the audacity to do so?

“Do you really think you guys are invincible just because you live under a rock your entire lives?”

“You...”

The leader of the Demon Monks pointed at Harvey while coughing out blood furiously.

The Demon Monks had traveled across the southeast waters after all those years. Even if they weren't invincible, they were still widely respected.

The Demon Monks' name alone was enough to stop children from crying at night...

At this moment, those so-called Demon Monks wanted to rip Harvey to shreds.

When did they even get trampled on their entire lives? When were they even looked down upon by anyone?

The Three Demon Monks looked at each other and saw derisive gazes showing in each others' eyes.

All three of them were trained in the ancient martial art of the king of Thailand's lineage, making them on par with the greatest King of Arms to date.

The three of them had previously defeated a God of War from India on the battlefield.

Because of this, all three of them were extremely confident in their power.

And because of Harvey's actions, they were completely fixed on his next move.

Even though they wanted to strangle Harvey to death, they knew that fighting the young man alone would be a death wish.

The smartest plan was to attack Harvey simultaneously. They were planning to deal with Harvey before anything else.

“You really are impressive, Harvey. No wonder you were appointed as a branch leader at such a young age.

“I thought Fabian Hamilton was just talking big. Seems like he’s speaking the truth, after all.”

The leader of the Demon Monks covered his face as he showed an utterly horrible expression.

“Country H is too prosperous. I can’t believe there’d be an expert like this among the younger generation.

“If we don’t dispose of a top talent like you, you’d be standing on top of our heads in the next ten years!”

Chapter 2414

“That’s why for the sake of Thailand’s great future and our king...

“You will die just like Fabian Hamilton!”

The leader of the Demon Monks wiped the blood off of his mouth with a righteous look on his face.

Harvey York casually threw his tissue to the ground as he showed great interest in the trio.

“Are you three coming at me at the same time? Or would you like a head-to-head battle instead?”

Fabian was not too stunned after seeing the sight. He could already gauge that Harvey had extraordinary fighting skills.

After all, being Mordu’s Longmen branch leader was already enough to prove many things.

Fabian glanced at the Demon Monk and said, “Now that you know how strong Harvey actually is, you should just let him go.

“After all, I’m your top priority right now. Why would you cause more trouble for yourself?”

“Shut up!”

The Demon Monk showed a terrible expression on his face after hearing Fabian’s words.

“Fabian Hamilton, what right do you have to lecture us?!

“If it weren’t for you rejecting our king’s offer time and time again...

“Thailand would’ve had tons of top talents by now!

“And if that were to happen, our country would’ve had the chance to be one of the strongest ones without us scurrying all over the place!

“It’s a shame that an old dog like you wouldn’t cooperate with us! You certainly have a death wish!”

The other two Demon Monks showed wretched looks after hearing their leader’s words.

Even though Thailand was one of the strongest countries in the southeast waters, they could only act that way in other small countries.

The country didn’t even have any funds to raise talents. That was why they set their sights on the King of Gambling, Fabian himself.

After all, his wealth could rival even countries.

For people from Thailand, people like that would naturally need to serve them and pay the price.

Since Las Vegas was also located inside southeast waters, they thought that money for Las Vegas should’ve been money for Thailand.

Even Harvey was speechless after hearing such logic.

It was his first time hearing bandits and kidnappers like those acting so righteous.

Without a second thought, Harvey glanced at Fabian and asked, “If you don’t mind me asking, Mr. Hamilton, what did the king of Thailand come to you for?”

“I’m interested.”

Fabian chuckled.

“With all sincerity, he said that as long as I give out four casino badges, he would give me the title of Earl. My eldest son would also be able to inherit my title.

“If I donate all of the Hamilton family’s assets to their royal family, they’ll even consider giving me the title of marquis.”

Harvey froze, then burst out laughing.

“How sincere!”

In a small place like Thailand, a so-called earl could probably own two to three farms.

A marquis could probably own one more, at best.

Trading around four farms for all of the Hamilton family's assets was outrageously insane! Safe to say that the king of Thailand's deal was one-sided.

“Alright, Branch Leader York. It shouldn't be hard for you to kill your way out of here with your fighting skills. You don't have to cover my back.”

“These nobodies can't kill me anyway.”

Fabian chuckled with an indifferent look on his face.

An aura of an upperclassman exuded from his body, surprising Harvey quite a bit.

The King of Gambling seemed like an ordinary person, but anyone who could establish a family like this would naturally be someone special.

He didn't even flinch in the face of death, just like any average person would. Truly something that people look up to.

<https://t.me/HarveyYorkEnglish>