

Chapter 2505

After seeing Vince leave, Carol circled around Harvey while chuckling with her arms crossed.

“Did you learn your lesson today, Sir York?”

“Do you understand now that you shouldn’t just stand up for anyone in a place like Hong Kong or Las Vegas?”

“Have you thought about the consequences?”

Carol had an arrogant look on her face then.

She didn’t think that there would be a light at the end of the tunnel.

She thought that she would be completely dominated by Harvey and disrespected by the Hamilton family then.

But she didn’t know that Vince would pay this much respect toward her and Naoto.

It was safe to say that the outsider, Harvey, was just really unlucky. He could've survived if he only bumped into Carol...

But he had gotten involved with Vince instead.

Even though Carol couldn't see how Harvey posed a threat to Vince...

She was a smart woman, so she could tell by Vince's attitude...

That he wanted Harvey dead!

Since Vince wanted this, Carol was more than happy to oblige.

Destroying a man that dared to provoke the Briewood Gang while also selling a favor to Vince from the Yorks of Hong Kong was a really good deal.

Harvey calmly sipped his tea.

“I did learn my lesson here. I didn’t think everything would end up this way,” he said steadily.

“I thought there would be someone more capable to uphold justice.”

“But Hong Kong and Las Vegas are just filled with a bunch of snakes.”

“What’s the point of talking big at this point, kid?”

Naoto took a step forward and calmly glanced at Harvey.

“Now, I’m afraid you’ll have to give us a statement that’ll satisfy us.”

“Are you going to kneel so we keep your body intact when you die?”

“Or are you going to resist and die without a single bone left in your body?”

Naoto waved his hand. A few Islanders drew their longswords with playful looks on their faces.

Carol chuckled lightly while moving forward with the Briewood Gang elites. She was clearly ready to take action with Naoto and kill Harvey.

Harvey set down his teacup.

“A man that has to take drugs to sleep with a woman doesn’t have the right to show off in front of me, Naoto,” he calmly said.

“I’ll give you a chance right now. Castrate yourself and I’ll consider not killing you.”

“After all, it doesn’t feel rewarding to kill off some filth.”

“If you don’t do as I say, you’ll die a painful death when I snap my fingers.”

Harvey had a stern expression on his face.

Naoto froze for a moment before he burst out laughing.

Carol looked at Harvey as if she was staring right at an idiot.

She believed that Harvey was just trying to scare them off.

‘Naoto’s going to die with a snap of his fingers?’

‘He might as well lie about killing someone with a puff of air.

‘Who does he think he is?’

Naoto took out his longsword and glared at Harvey.

“Come on then! Snap your fingers! Kill me!” he coldly exclaimed.

“If you can’t do that, then you’re just a cowardly bastard!”

“As you wish.”

Harvey reached his hand out and snapped his fingers.

In the next moment, the extremely arrogant Naoto was in immense pain all of a sudden. He clutched his chest while falling flat onto the ground.

The crowd was dead silent.

Chapter 2506

Cries of pain could be heard then. Naoto's entire body was twitching as white foam seeped out of his mouth. He seemed like he was in deep pain, as if someone had stabbed him through the heart.

The arrogant, heinous, and brutal Naoto was in agony.

He could only scream and tremble using the last of his strength. He couldn't even beg for mercy.

A sight like this was way worse than death.

“Young Master Takei!”

“What's going on here?!”

“Does that kid know witchcraft?!”

Carol and the Islanders were frightened stiff after seeing Naoto's state.

Harvey only snapped his fingers before Naoto even fell to the ground.

Was it merely a coincidence? Or was Harvey really that powerful?

The discreet Elder of the Shinkage Way showed a horrible look on his face as if he thought of something. He then rushed toward Naoto and covered up his chest with his right hand.

That person's name was Ryuichi Furuta. He was an Outer Elder of the Shinkage Way, and Naoto's personal bodyguard.

He was also quite proficient in medical skills of the Island Nation.

He took out a quick-acting heart-saving pill and pushed it into Naoto's mouth.

It was a shame that the special medicine had no use whatsoever as Naoto was still in immense pain.

Ryuichi looked frantic before pulling out an exquisite syringe. He then injected the entire tube of bright red liquid into Naoto's body, but to no avail.

Finally, Ryuichi brought out a set of needles and started puncturing Naoto's body with them. The crowd was completely dazzled while seeing the sight.

Harvey looked at Ryuichi's attempts at rescuing Naoto full of interest. When the final needle was used, Ryuichi sighed. Right when Naoto seemed to have calmed down, Harvey smiled.

“Your medical skills are pretty impressive.”

“It's a shame that nothing will work on him anymore.”

“He's already crippled.”

Naoto's face turned dark in an instant before he kept twitching again. The needles in his body wriggled inside his body, hurting him even more.

Carol looked frantic while she glared at Harvey.

“You did this, Harvey!” she screamed furiously.

“Speak! What did you do to Young Master Takei?!”

The others felt terrified while staring at Harvey. How did he do something like this with just a snap?

“Since the others won't give Zina a fair statement, I'll give her one myself,” Harvey said with a calm look on his face.

Harvey's words were enough to make Zina tremble; she was moved.

The fighters of the Hamilton family hung their heads in shame.

Vince glared at Harvey.

“Since someone’s trying to kill me, it’s natural for me to deal with them first, right?”

Harvey shrugged before shifting his gaze toward Carol.

“Besides, I already gave him a chance. Right, Ms. Parker?”

“Why don’t you try kneeling in front of me? If you don’t, you’ll die a worse death than him.”

Harvey’s smile was extremely charming, but Carol only saw a demon in front of her.

She gritted her teeth and exclaimed, “You’re not worthy to make me kneel!”

She wanted to provoke Harvey into killing her at first, but after seeing Naoto’s state, she swallowed her words in an instant.

If Carol were to suffer the same fate as Naoto because of a single finger snap...

She instantly felt cold chills up her spine.

Chapter 2507

Ryuichi had already used up all of his tricks, but none proved to be useful.

White foam had completely stopped seeping out of Naoto's mouth. He didn't even have the strength to shiver any longer. His breathing slowed down exponentially then.

It seemed like he was on the verge of death.

Carol was terrified. If the people of the Shinkage Way were to lash out because of Naoto's death, Carol wouldn't be able to handle the consequences.

Without a second thought, Carol bit the bullet despite her fear of Harvey.

“I'll give you exactly one minute! Cure Young Master Takei right now!”

“If not, I’ll rip you to shreds!”

“Oh really? I’d like to see how you’ll do that!”

Harvey snapped his fingers once again.

Naoto’s stiff body wriggled around violently after hearing the snap. His eyes popped out while blood seeped out of his orifices. He had a look of anguish on his face, as if he was going to stop breathing at any moment.

Carol was horrified. She tried to threaten Harvey, but she wouldn’t even dare move a single inch then.

Vince, who had been observing the entire situation, seemed to have figured out something.

“Young Master Takei has a heart disease. He just took the blue pill too. Harvey only snapped his fingers to make sharp noises to aggravate his condition.”

“This is only effective against Young Master Takei, who just took the pill, and nobody else.”

Vince was quite perceptive to be able to see the truth in an instant.

At the same time, he sighed quietly.

‘Harvey’s pretty amazing. He got the entire crowd under control with just a single snap of his fingers...’

Zina froze slightly. Thinking back, she remembered that Naoto had clutched his chest when he took the blue pill.

That was clearly a sign of a person with a heart disease.

Carol came back to her senses. She trusted Vince with all her heart. That was why she calmed down after hearing his words.

No matter how meticulous and cunning Harvey was, as long as he didn't know any witchcraft, Carol was confident that she could deal with him.

“As long as he doesn't snap his fingers for the third time, Young Master Takei should survive.”

“But if he snaps his fingers again, he will surely die.”

Vince's calm judgment was the same as telling Carol and the others how to deal with the situation then.

“You fool!”

Ryuichi reacted quickly and stopped trying to cure Naoto. He slammed his right hand to the ground and flew right toward Harvey.

His movements were fast, and his power was immense. If his attack landed, even a cow could be knocked unconscious.

Harvey calmly looked at Vince. When the two locked eyes with each other, sparks seemed to be flying in the air.

Harvey was not bothered with Ryuichi then.

Edwin took a step forward and unsheathed his sword in an instant before swinging it right toward Ryuichi's head.

Ryuichi looked frantic. He could feel the terrifying force of Edwin's sword and had to stop his movements mid-air. At the same time, he unsheathed the longsword on his waist and swung it forward.

Clang!

Ryuichi let out a deep grunt after the two blades clashed. He stumbled a few steps back the moment he landed back on the ground.

Carol and the others were flabbergasted.

Naoto's personal bodyguard had lost in just a single move?!

Chapter 2508

Who was Ryuichi Furuta?

He was the Outer Elder of the Shinkage Way, and a legendary peak King of Arms. He was on the verge of becoming a God of War himself.

But Edwin was just a rich playboy of the Mendoza family! Even Carol knew this.

How did someone like that defeat a peak King of Arms in just a single move?

Before the others even came back to their senses, Edwin calmly walked forward before swinging his sword once again, ready to cut anything blocking in his path in half.

There were no fancy tricks involved in this cut, only speed.

Just like how Harvey had taught him, no martial art was impenetrable, and only speed was the only way for long success.

Ryuichi's expression turned frantic. He tried to raise his sword and defend himself against Edwin's cut.

Clang!

Ryuichi's expression became worse immediately after the blades clashed.

He took another few steps back before regaining his balance in front of Naoto.

Everyone could see that blood was seeping out between Ryuichi's fingers.

Carol and the others were filled with disbelief. They didn't believe that Edwin had such fighting skills.

Even Vince was staring at Edwin with a profound gaze.

Soon, the crowd came back to their senses.

No wonder Harvey was being such a show-off in front of everyone, trying to bring justice for Zina.

He had the support of an expert like Edwin!

Everyone was in deep shock after seeing Edwin's fighting skills, while condemning Harvey, who was using someone else's power to take advantage of the situation.

“Screw you!”

Ryuichi could not hold back his shame any longer after seeing a young man from Country H force him back constantly.

Along with the wave of his right hand, dozens of shurikens came flying out.

Clank clank clank!

Edwin calmly swung his sword around and completely deflected every single shuriken without fail.

Before the elites of the Briewood Gang could even come back to their senses, the shurikens had already pierced their bodies.

All of them fell to the ground paralyzed with horrible looks on their faces before they could even scream.

The crowd was dead silent after seeing such a sight.

Carol's expression turned ugly. She didn't think that her subordinates would be the ones suffering losses in this fight.

“Damn you!”

Ryuichi was showing a dreadful expression.

Killing one of his own was a terribly shameful thing for him as well.

When he was about to move, Edwin took a step forward and swung his sword. The cut resembled a blue moon rising from the sea.

“What?! Impossible!”

Ryuichi had a ghastly look on his face. He could feel an unspeakable power behind Edwin’s blade swing.

It felt as if the attack would definitely land on him.

Swordsmanship like that was way beyond his wildest expectations.

At the most crucial moment, Ryuichi instinctively raised his longsword, trying to block Edwin’s attack.

Clang!

A loud clang could be heard once again. The sword in Ryuichi's hand was immediately split in half while Edwin continued his swing.

Ryuichi frantically stepped back, but it was all too late.

Pfffffft!

A right arm was sent flying in the air. Blood splashed all over the place. It was a shocking sight.

Ryuichi was about to scream while covering his right shoulder, but his expression immediately turned stiff the next moment as Edwin's sword had already pierced his throat.
