

Chapter 762

Tom's sudden move startled Lexie. She didn't expect him to do so, and her body tensed up again!

Lexie looked at Tom in disbelief. How dare Tom take advantage of her! After all, her grandfather was Joseph, Tom's superior, one of the most powerful men in the country!

Although Lexie seemed to be lascivious and bold, in fact, she was a virgin and had never been so intimate with a man.

She was picky. Because of her background and her character, she looked down on every man she knew. Even a man like Lucian was ordinary in her eyes. So she had never done something intimate with a man.

But she was offended by Tom... Indeed, in her opinion, Tom's behavior was offensive!

Tom's strong body made her even more flustered. Her heart was pounding as if it would jump out.

And Tom's chest was pressed against hers, which made her feel ashamed and flustered.

"Tom, you..." Her eyes widened and she tried to look fierce. But Tom was not frightened at all.

To be honest, Tom didn't want to do that. It was Lexie who had gone too far. If he didn't teach her a lesson, Lexie might continue. If she even followed him home, he would be in trouble.

If she did have an affair with him, he would not feel wronged. But it was only the second time Tom saw her and they had no relationship at all! So Tom decided to teach her a lesson.

Tom secretly breathed a sigh of relief when he saw Lexie being flustered because it meant that she was just pretending to be lascivious.

Tom even put on a devilish look, raised Lexie's chin, and teased her, "Why, are you afraid now? Didn't you say that you wanted to be my woman?"

Tom's expression was full of ridicule and teasing.

"You!" Lexie had been treated like a princess. No one dared to tease her like this before. She glared at Tom embarrassedly and angrily with a red face.

She was indeed panicking now, mainly because she did not expect Tom to be so bold.

"Let go of me!" Lexie was annoyed and angry. She ordered Tom.

Well, ordinary may be scared when she was angry. After all, she was Joseph's granddaughter, so she had an overwhelming aura.

But Tom wouldn't let her go so easily. Now everything was up to him, and he decided to teach her a good lesson.

So, Tom gently caressed Lexie's cheek, then her chin, neck, arm, waist...

Lexie's face was burning. She was trembling uncontrollably as if she got a shock. "H-How dare you!"

Lexie was totally panicked.

Tom smiled. He thought he had achieved his purpose, so he said, "How dare I? Anyway, everyone in your circle knows that I'm your man. It's normal for me to do that, right?"

Lexie wanted to resist but she failed. Tom grabbed her hands with one hand and she was unable to move. She had never been treated like this, and her eyes immediately turned red.

But Tom was sensible. When he saw that Lexie was about to cry, he let go of her. "You wanna cry? That's boring."

Lexie breathed a sigh of relief and wanted to scold Tom, but Tom stared at her and said, "For your grandfather's sake, I let you go. If you dare to do that again, you know what will happen."

After that, he disappeared.

"Bastard!" Lexie stamped her foot hard. Annoyed and embarrassed, she was breathing fast, and her face was red.

She looked at herself. She seemed to still be able to feel Tom's touch on her waist, which made her unable to calm down.

She was embarrassed and annoyed, but strangely, she was not angry. She thought she should have been furious and wanted to avenge herself. However, she did not want to do that. Instead, her heart had been beating very fast. There was a feeling that she had never felt before deep in her heart. When she thought of Tom, her face was burning.

"Damn Tom, I will never let you go!"

She stamped her foot hard, took out her phone, and made a call.

Of course, she didn't call someone to teach Tom a lesson. She didn't want to and wasn't able to do that now. She was calling her subordinates to arrange a place for her. She planned to stay in H City.

Finally she met an interesting man. Just like when she was a small girl and got her favorite toy, she would have great fun with it.

On the way home, Tom could not calm down either. What he did just now was to teach Lexie a lesson and make her retreat.

But actually he felt embarrassed to do that. After all, Lexie was Joseph's granddaughter. If Joseph knew it, he would be punished.

Fortunately, it was not his fault, and he believed that Joseph would not make things difficult for him.

Back at home, Tom didn't dare to go straight into the room. He took a shower and washed the smell of Lexie off his body. Although he and Lexie didn't have any relationship, it was difficult to explain it to Phoebe.

Phoebe was already asleep. Tom walked into the home quietly without waking her up and began to meditate on the ground.

In the following days, Tom was once again busy. Kungfu Cup was coming, and he became busier and busier.

The Kungfu Cup was a great event that could promote economic growth.

Ordinary people did not know the Kungfu Cup. They were just curious about why there were so many foreigners.

Those foreigners could stimulate consumption, but they might also do harm to the country.

And the ordinary police force could not deal with them because they were all top fighters. So Military Intelligence 3 should take the responsibility.

Several foreigners had stirred up trouble. But Military Intelligence 3's average agents could handle them.

But something severe happened.

Chapter 763

That day, as soon as Tom came out of his house, he received a call. "Hello, Tom, are you free now?"

The call was made by an agent from the Fourth Group. He sounded very flustered. Tom immediately asked, "What happened?"

He said, "Well..."

After listening to what the agent said, Tom realized that some foreign martial artists had stirred up trouble in H City. They had a conflict with the locals and beaten them hard.

"What are their levels of cultivation?" Tom asked.

Tom was not surprised by this. After all, the Kungfu Cup was approaching. As many foreign martial artists swarmed into H City during this period of time, it was inevitable to see conflicts and frictions between them and the locals. Tom had already known more than ten such cases.

However, most of the trouble was stirred up by ordinary martial artists, and no master of the Innate Realm had been involved yet.

When receiving this call, Tom immediately realized that some masters of the Innate Realm were making trouble.

To be honest, Tom discriminated against this kind of behavior. These foreigners, boasting their high physical quality, looked down on them and were especially arrogant.

He had met such foreigners before, and he had killed them all.

If these foreigners really committed crimes in H Country, he didn't mind giving them a painful lesson!

The agent on the other end of the line said, "They are masters of the Innate Realm with high levels of cultivation. None of us is a match for them."

Tom frowned and looked serious, saying. "They even dared to attack you?"

These foreigners, who stirred up trouble in H Country, actually dared to attack the agents of the Military Intelligence 3. They were indeed swollen with arrogance and obviously did not respect H Country!

The agent stammered and said embarrassedly, "Chief Instructor, I'm sorry. We've disgraced the Military Intelligence 3."

At this point, Tom would not blame them. This was not what a qualified leader should do. He said directly, "Where are you? I'll go over now."

Soon, the agent gave him an address, not too far from Tom.

Time was running out. So Tom didn't drive there. It only took him one-fifth of the driving time to walk there.

When Tom arrived at the scene, he could immediately tell that there had been a battle here.

"Chief Instructor, it's great that you're here."

At the door, there were two agents waiting there. They were both relieved to see Tom, their mainstay, was here. They quickly walked forward and saluted Tom with admiration.

Tom nodded and asked directly without any nonsense, "Where are they?"

"Inside." The agent pointed inside, and another agent said angrily, "Chief Instructor, these foreign devils are too arrogant. In our territory, they don't follow our rules but stir up trouble everywhere. They even dare to hit us!"

"Chief Instructor, we officials asked them to compensate for our losses. However, they turned a deaf ear to us and took a tough stance. They obviously didn't take our Military Intelligence 3 seriously! Buffalo and others couldn't stand them anymore. So they stood out and scolded them. But those foreigners attacked them. Our men were hurt badly!"

Tom nodded, black in the face. Originally, he had no prejudice against foreigners, but some foreign devils were so hateful that they looked down on H Country from the bottom of their hearts.

"What about Buffalo and others? Are they okay?" Tom asked with concern.

"They were fine. But they were all injured. Those disgusting guys even broke Jim's and Bei's ribs! Damn it! Unfortunately, I'm not good at Kung Fu. Otherwise, I would press them to the ground and slap them hard!"

They were all gnashing their teeth and their faces were red, obviously very angry.

Tom knew what was going on. So he strode straight in without saying another word. As soon as he approached, he immediately heard an arrogant voice. "Our respected Mr. George said that you H Country people shouldn't leave here if you can't compensate us ten million dollars!"

As soon as he finished speaking, an angry voice rang out, "You lackey! Tell these foreign devils not to go too far! This is our H Country. You foreign devils should abide by our rules here. How dare you hit our people! You should compensate us!"

When Tom heard this voice, he was slightly stunned. It sounded familiar to him. But for a moment, he couldn't remember where he had heard him.

Then another voice rang out, "You are too presumptuous! Do you really think that no one in H Country can teach you a lesson? Wait and see. Our Chief Instructor will be here soon. When he comes, he will beat you hard!"

Tom recognized this voice. It was Buffalo.

One foreigner said in their language, "Ha ha ha, H Country people are as thin as a monkey. How dare you teach us a lesson? You are all rubbish, losers. I can knock all of you down with my fist. This time, you can't even get into the top eight in the Kungfu Cup."

There was also a burst of ridicule, sounding especially arrogant.

Tom scowled and hurried over.

He pushed the door open and appeared in front of everyone.

He immediately attracted everyone's attention. All of a sudden, they looked at him. Buffalo, Jim, and other agents were overjoyed to see him. They immediately saluted respectfully and shouted, "Chief Instructor!"

At the same time, Tom also made a clear judgment of the situation. There were more than 20 people in total, including six foreigners. Two of them were masters of the Innate Realm, and the other four were the experts at Extrinsic Peak. They were especially tall and burly, looking very tough.

On the other side, there were about 20 people. Except for a few agents like Buffalo and Jim, the rest were ordinary people. Tom knew them all.

The people standing in front of him were all his family members...

Eldest Uncle Samuel, cousin Dylan, cousin Michael, and his half-blooded elder brother Owen were all here.

"Tom?"

When he recognized them, his family members also recognized him. Their eyes were wide open, full of surprise and shock.

In particular, his elder brother Owen's pupils constricted and he was shocked. He never expected that the person who appeared here would be his younger brother Tom, whom he had always looked down upon!

Just now, he had heard from Buffalo and others that their Chief Instructor was so powerful that he had reached Major Perfection Realm of the Innate Realm. As long as he came over, he could definitely teach these foreign devils a harsh lesson.

However, he never expected that this mysterious and powerful Chief Instructor would be Tom...

Chapter 764

Tom was also surprised. Speaking of which, he had not seen anyone from the Howards for almost two years. Although he had been in H City, he had always deliberately avoided the Howards and did not want to have any relationship with it. Unexpectedly, he met the people from the Howards.

At this moment, his feelings were quite complicated.

In the past, he disliked and even hated the Howards because they had mistreated and humiliated him.

However, two years ago, he went to the Howards and took revenge. But he didn't kill Owen at that time.

Now two years had passed, too many things had happened, especially his status had improved a lot. His structure and vision were way better than before. So, he didn't hate the Howards anymore.

He glanced over and saw that Owen was badly injured with his face swollen and looked especially miserable.

Besides Owen, Michael, Dylan, and others were also injured. Even his Eldest Uncle Samuel was slapped in the face.

Now they were in a state of depression, decadence, and anger.

Tom knew immediately that it was obvious that the Howards had clashed with these foreigners and had been taught a good lesson.

It seemed a lot if you wanted to explain, but in fact, it was only a matter of a second or two. Those foreigners found a tall and thin young man, who looked very ordinary, come in. They immediately laughed contemptuously, not taking Tom seriously.

One of the foreigners, who was 1.9 meters tall, said contemptuously, "This is the Chief Instructor you are talking about?"

His tone was filled with contempt and disdain.

Buffalo nodded hard and said with a sneer, "That's right. This is our Chief Instructor. He can kill you with only one finger. You're doomed."

The translator quickly translated Buffalo's words. The six foreigners laughed their heads off.

"I'm so amused. Is this boy the Chief Instructor in H Country? It seems that your H Country is so weak. Rubbish. It's all rubbish."

"I thought that even if H Country couldn't make it into the top eight, at least make it into the top 16. Now it seems that nothing H Country can do. You can't even make it into the top 16." They burst into laughter.

They did not hide their ridicule. Seemingly, they need to be given a spanking. And a foreigner even pointed his little finger at everyone, raising his head, and said with great contempt and disdain, "You guys are sick men and trash."

nd he deliberately said in Mandarin, "You are trash."

His words immediately enraged everyone. Buffalo and the others were even angrier, pointing at them and scolding them.

"Hey, what are you talking about? Do you want to get killed? Why don't you say it again?"

"That's ridiculous. How dare you foreigners come to H Country act wild? Do you want to die?"

"Cut the crap. Take them down and lock them up. Let's see if they're still mad!"

"They are too presumptuous. How dare you do this in front of our Chief Instructor? You're getting yourself killed."

Buffalo and the others squared up, surrounding them, and wanted to attack them.

These foreigners disdained and did not take them seriously at all. Instead, they waved their fingers, provoking.

At this moment, Tom said, "Stop."

Buffalo and the others respected Tom so they immediately stopped and said to Tom, "Chief instructor, they are really going too far. We must teach them a lesson, or they will push our luck and not take H Country seriously."

The others also expressed their opinions one after another. Their eyes were red, and it could be seen that they were really angry.

The dozen people from the Howards were staring at Tom, but they didn't say anything. To them, Tom's appearance made them feel awkward.

A few years ago, they kicked Tom out like a dog and humiliated him as much as they could. At that time, the Howards was still the first in H City, having their time, while Tom was just a stray dog.

However, every dog had its day. Unexpectedly, their status had changed drastically in just a few years.

Owen, in particular, felt more depressed.

"You are no match for them." Tom said coolly, making Buffalo and the others feel ashamed and they lowered their heads and said, "Chief Instructor, we're useless. Sorry to embarrass you."

Tom waved his hand and said to the foreigners, "How dare you to cause trouble in H Country?"

He stepped out and stared at them fiercely, looking overbearing.

However, the foreigners did not know who the young man they were facing was. They thought that Tom was an apple of sodom. Immediately, a tall foreigner said arrogantly, "I cause a scene in H Country. What will you do? It's your honor to have me here. H Country should treat us with the best sincerity. Otherwise, we won't invest in you or give you technology. Your country will return to the feudal society in an instant."

Tom narrowed his eyes. He was angry, "I am the Chief Instructor of the Military Intelligence 3 of H Country. Since you get to H Country, you should abide by the rules of our H Country. Not only did you break the law, but you also beat up our fellow and extorted them on the spot. According to the law of H Country, you will all go to jail. However, H Country has always been a country of etiquette. Since you are the first offender, I can forgive you. Apologize and compensate immediately. I won't arrest you and put you into jail."

The foreigners all laughed loudly as if they had heard a big joke. They looked at Tom as if they were looking at a clown.

One laughed and said, "Didn't I hear it right? This yellow monkey said he was going to take us to jail?"

"Is he a lunatic?"

"No, he is a fool. He is mentally deranged."

"No wonder H Country is weak. Even such a fool can become the Chief Instructor. There is no talent in H Country."

Everyone gritted their teeth when they heard these words. The people from the Howards had hoped that Tom would do something. But now they felt that Tom was afraid of these foreigners.

Tom smiled at this moment, "I've given you a chance. Since you don't cherish it, don't blame me."

As soon as he finished speaking, he attacked.

Chapter 765

Tom's movements were not fast, so everyone in the room could see his movements clearly. Because of his actions, the atmosphere in the room suddenly changed. Buffalo's agents all got excited. Their faces blushed and their eyes widened. They wanted to see Tom teach these damn foreigners a lesson.

As for the people from the Howards, they didn't think much of Tom, thinking that Tom would definitely suffer this time, because two of these foreigners were in the Innate Realm, especially the blond-haired one, who was considered to be powerful among the masters in the Innate Realm. How could Tom be their match?

Seeing that Tom dared to attack him, the foreigner suddenly showed a cruel and disdainful sneer. He said in English that Tom was looking for death, and then he was about to punch Tom in the face.

Although he was only at the Extrinsic Peak, he was a professional combat expert. He would participate in many competitions in a year, and his strength was strong. Even ordinary martial artists were not his opponents. In particular, his punch was especially hard. He had always been known as a "Strong Artillery Man." He could knock off his opponent with one punch. Now that Tom's body was two laps smaller than his, and they were not in the same weight class, he could knock Tom unconscious with just one punch.

The other foreigners also laughed gloatingly, thinking that Tom was doomed.

But soon, what happened shocked them.

Tom came to the foreigner and slapped him. Instead of dodging, Tom hit the foreigner's fist with one palm, and his bone fractured directly. Then Tom slammed his shoulder and it broke again. He directly slapped the foreigner to the ground.

With a plop, the foreigner fell heavily to the ground and let out a miserable scream.

The shock that Tom caused to those present was huge, especially because Tom's body was much smaller than the foreigner's. It was like a child slapping a strong adult to death.

"Well..."

The people from the Howards opened their eyes wide and looked very surprised. They all thought that Tom was going to suffer a lot, but they did not expect that Tom would beat him down with such a destructive strength.

As Tom's half-brother, Owen frowned excitedly. Ever since he was young, he had been bullying Tom. Even if he lost to Tom last time, he didn't feel that there was a big gap between him and Tom. Owen firmly believed that one day he could catch up with Tom and revenge.

But now, Tom's unconscious display of strength was beyond his imagination.

If it was a one-on-one match, Owen could defeat the foreigner, but he could never be so relaxed.

Buffalo and the others were not surprised. They all knew Tom's strength, the devil in the Major Perfection Realm of the Innate Realm. For Tom, fighting the foreigner at the Extrinsic Peak was as easy as stepping on ants.

But those foreigners reacted the most, and they immediately became furious.

"Damn it! You yellow-skinned monkey, how dare you hurt Jack? You're dead!"

"Despicable H Country man, you must have used some despicable means to plot against Jack! How dare you!"

"Shameless and despicable H Country man, you are looking for death!"

They cursed and surrounded Tom in an instant, and there were two foreigners who started to attack Tom from behind fiercely. They hit Tom's head hard and wanted to kill Tom.

It was obvious how arrogant and rampant they were. As foreigners, they dared to act so recklessly in a foreign country. It was not just looking down on H Country.

Naturally, Tom would not be merciful to such bad foreigners. He had always been a man who could clearly distinguish kindness and hatred. He snorted coldly and kicked them with ten percent of his strength.

Even if Tom only used this strength, it was not something that the two foreigners, who were at the Extrinsic Peak, could bear. The two foreigners, who weighed more than 200 kilograms, flew out in the air and hit heavily against the wall behind them, making a loud thud, and the whole house began to tremble.

When they fell down, they were already unconscious.

Moreover, Tom used a hidden force in this kick. Even if he didn't kill them, they couldn't live a normal life in the future. They would live in pain forever.

Tom had never been a kind person. Although he was usually polite and gentle, once he became cruel, he was like a devil.

In just three seconds, the three arrogant foreigners were knocked down, and it was in such a crushing manner. The foreigners' anger was immediately reduced by more than half, and their pupils were obviously constricted. They stared at Tom. The other two masters in the Innate Realm put away their arrogance and contempt, but their eyes were still full of hostility.

But the last foreigner at the Extrinsic Peak was already trembling with fear.

specially when he was glared at by Tom, he was so scared that he trembled and almost peed his pants.

It was not that he was timid, but that Tom's eyes were too sharp. In the moment he met Tom's gaze, he seemed to see death, as if a cold and merciless scythe was hanging on his neck, ready to take his life away.

He had never experienced such an aura in his life, as if he was really going to die at any moment.

The scene suddenly quieted down. There were more than a dozen people from the Howards on the side. The look in their eyes towards Tom was no longer as simple as surprise, but shock, disbelief, and deep strangeness and awe.

There was even a moment when they suspected that he was not the Tom they had known.

They watched Tom grow up. Although he was very talented and learned everything very quickly from a young age, he was still relatively simple and kind in character. He was definitely not as decisive and domineering as he was now. If Tom had been like this since he was a child, they wouldn't have kicked Tom out of the Howards.

Tom noticed their eyes and glared at them with a half-smile.

And this look made them even more frightened. Their faces turned pale and they did not dare to look at Tom at all. They quickly lowered their heads.

Their hearts were pounding nonstop.

Owen couldn't bear Tom's gaze either and lowered his head, but he was very confused and unwilling. He couldn't figure out how his younger brother, who had been always bullied by him, had grown to this extent.

Chapter 766

It had to be said that Tom was quite relieved to see the Howards falling into decadence.

Back then, he inherited his grandfather's property and made achievements in martial arts. Then he did go back to the Howards to avenge himself. He defeated Owen and vented resentment in his heart.

However, it was unrealistic to say that his hatred for the Howards was immediately eliminated. Although there was not too much hatred left in his heart, he still resented them. Now he saw that they were extremely shocked, and he was quite satisfied.

However, no matter how shocked they were, there weren't any feelings in his heart, because he had improved himself too fast in the past two years. Unknowingly, he had become a man with a breadth of vision. The members of the Howards couldn't compete with him at all. They were no match for him now. The Howards was just like his ex. He once had a deep affection for them, but many years later, when he saw them again, his feelings had faded a lot.

Although he came from the Howards, he had no feelings for them at all. His grandfather's death completely severed his connection with his family.

The other two foreigners finally paid attention to Tom. One of them, a white man in the second stage of the Innate Realm, said, "It turns out you are also an S-level Ultra-capable Man. No wonder you dare to be so arrogant and hurt our people!"

Tom looked at him and said faintly, "If you commit a crime in H Country, you must go to jail. The two of you are both masters of the Innate Realm. I don't want to embarrass you. You'd better give in. Otherwise, when we get physical, you will end up more severely injured than these three useless men."

Hearing Tom's words, the two foreigners wore a solemn expression on their faces, especially the blond white man. He stared at Tom. There was a piercing look in his eyes. However, no matter how hard he tried, he could not see through Tom.

This made him very afraid of Tom.

"I'll count to three. If you don't give in, I'll start." Tom took two pairs of handcuffs from Buffalo and threw them on the ground.

The handcuffs were not ordinary but made of special materials. They were much tougher than steel, and there was high voltage electricity on them. If the handcuffed person resisted, the high voltage electricity would be released. Even the Innate Realm masters would be seriously injured by the electricity.

nly when one reached the fourth stage of the Innate Realm, which meant he was a so-called 4S-level Ultra-capable Man, could he resist the electricity and not be hurt.

The two foreigners looked at each other and laughed.

"You! I admit I misjudged you. I didn't know you were an Ultra-capable Man. But do you think you can defeat us just by yourself? You're too arrogant!"

"You don't know who we are at all. I'm a 2S-level Ultra-capable Man, and this is a 3S-level Ultra-capable Man beside me. You're just at S-level. Any one of us can easily defeat you!"

They stared at Tom with intimidation and coldness in their eyes. Even though Tom had shown his abilities just now, they still didn't take him seriously, because what Tom had just shown was only the power of an S-level Ultra-capable Man.

If they had taken action just now, it would not take Tom three seconds to defeat the three foreigners.

The blond white man licked his lips. He looked at Tom with excitement in his eyes, as if he had found prey and could have a good time.

Tom shook his head and said, "So you guys like to settle things the hard way. Alright. Since you are so reckless, I have to do something."

Then, Tom hooked his fingers to the two foreigners and said, "Go ahead, you two."

He didn't say this in a very domineering way. Instead, he remained calm. To him, he was just doing something as simple as eating and sleeping.

But these two foreigners felt a strong sense of provocation and offense, which caused them to raise their eyebrows fiercely, and anger appeared in their eyes.

"Hey, you from the H Country, you are very arrogant. You don't know who you are going to fight."

"Since you're so arrogant, then I won't be merciful. I'll teach you a lesson in front of your men. Then, I'll see what the people from H Country can do to us!"

There were grim smiles on their faces. They rubbed their hands and fixed their eyes on Tom. It was obvious that they wanted to kill Tom. They wanted to punish him to relieve their hatred.

Of course, Tom would not take nobodies like them seriously. To him, no matter how many masters of this level he must fight, he could defeat them easily.

Coincidentally, he could punish these two foreigners as a warning to others. Otherwise, if other foreigners came into H Country and committed such crimes, he would be the one who had to teach them a lesson.

Just then, a voice came from behind Tom, "Brother Tom, don't underestimate your enemy! These two westerners are both masters of the Innate Realm. They are very powerful, especially the blond white man. He is the most powerful! I think you should call your superiors and ask them to send help to fight them!"

Tom looked back. The person who spoke was Dylan, his distant cousin. At that time, after Tom got his grandfather's inheritance, Dylan was the first to come to him.

In the entire the Howards, it was this cousin that Tom did not dislike the most, except the butler.

He nodded and said, "Don't worry, I'll be fine. These men are nobodies. They can't hurt me."

He said calmly. But when his words were heard by others, they could feel his incomparable arrogance and confidence. And they had never seen such arrogance before. At this moment, Tom was more and more unfamiliar to them.

Somehow, they even revere Tom and they were unable to look him in the eye anymore.

Tom's uncle, Samuel, moved his lips and wanted to say something, but he didn't say it in the end.

When Tom was expelled from the Howards, he humiliated Tom a lot. At that time, he had looked down on Tom. He thought that since Tom had lost his parents and was expelled from the Howards, there was no way that he would make a name for himself again.

But he never expected that Tom had unknowingly become a man that they must look up to.

This feeling was really uncomfortable.

Tom ignored them because one of the foreigners had already started to attack him.

It was the westerner in the second stage of the Innate Realm. His body was strong and he made powerful moves. He was indeed quite intimidating.

His move immediately made the people from the Howards hold their breath. Even Owen was shocked. If he was there, he would never be able to stop that man's punch.

Owen couldn't figure out what Tom had to do to withstand the punch.

But what happened next made him dumbfounded, as if he had seen a ghost.

Chapter 767

Tom didn't dodge the punch at all. Instead, he let the other party hit him with a bang.

Everyone of the Howards thought that Tom was scared out of his wits so that he didn't know how to dodge. After being punched, he must be knocked over.

This foreigner was so tall and powerful. How could Tom bear it?

When the foreigner saw that Tom was motionless, the corners of his mouth rose and a sneer appeared on his face. He was confident enough that this punch would kill Tom!

But in fact, what they saw was that Tom was not moving at all, not even moving his feet. However, the floor tiles under his feet had cracked, as if he had shifted the strength of the punch to his feet.

Then Tom said, "Is this your strength? It's too weak."

"You..." The foreigner's eyes widened in an instant. It was inconceivable. He could not regain his senses at all. This punch had gathered 90% of his strength. Not to mention a person, even a thick wall had to be cracked by the punch!

But the foreigner only felt that he had hit an iron plate, even making his fist painful. He couldn't help but twitch the corner of his mouth.

The other blond foreigner was also surprised and shouted "impossible."

As for the dozens of people from the Howards behind them, they were even more dumbfounded, as if they had seen a ghost.

Just now, Tom and Dylan had joined forces to fight this foreigner. They acted less than three moves and were defeated completely. They were not on the same level with the foreigner at all.

But now, such a master could not do anything to Tom. The gap was too big, and the scene was too dramatic.

They all seriously suspected whether the man was really the Tom they knew.

What happened to Tom in the past two years?

The foreigner reacted quickly. He gritted his teeth and immediately launched a second attack on Tom.

His speed was fast. As a master of the second stage of the Innate Realm, his boxing was very quick and neat, paying attention to the most direct way of attack. By using the most powerful strength of the body, he could often achieve great effects.

And he was half a doctor. He knew the weakness of human beings very well and cared about defeating the enemy in only one move.

Now he immediately calmed himself down. Then, he quickly straightened his fingers and thrust them heavily into Tom's neck, intending to hit Tom's throat directly.

This was one of the weaknesses of human beings. Even a master in the Innate Realm would definitely suffer to the extreme after such a blow.

And he didn't believe that Tom wouldn't dodge again.

Tom had a penetrating insight, and he knew clearly what the other party was thinking. Then he sneered again and did not dodge, just letting the foreigner's fingers hit his throat.

However, what happened next overturned everyone's perception once again. There was a clang sound, as if the fingers of the foreigner had not hit his throats, but a hard metal.

Then there came a painful scream.

But it wasn't from Tom. It was from that foreigner. He really felt that his fingers had pierced the hard steel. His fingers were bent and even broken.

When he tried to pull them out, he found that Tom lowered his head and grabbed his hand with his chin, so he was unable to move his fingers.

"Are you a human or a ghost?!" The foreigner no longer had the arrogance just now, but was full of fear and horror. The power that Tom showed had already overturned his understanding. He had never seen such a powerful person. Even a 4s level superpower man could not do this!

Tom nodded directly, breaking his fingers. When the other party retreated in fear, Tom reached out, grabbed the other party's neck casually, lifted him with one hand and said in a domineering manner, "Such an ant like you dares to act wild on the ground of my H Country. I think you are tired of living."

He was obviously shorter than the foreigner, but now, his image, in everyone's eyes, was much taller and stronger than the foreigner, like gods. And the foreigner in Tom's hand was as weak as a chicken.

In fact, the foreigner was not seriously injured, but he was already frightened by Tom. His mind was in a panic, and he had no intention of resisting at all. He was kicking in the air, especially when Tom pinched his neck, as if Tom had pinched his pulse directly, making him unable to break free.

His pupils were now filled with intense fear and pleading, "Help, help..."

Of course, Tom wouldn't let him go so easily. His right hand kept tightening, and the powerful force made the foreigner's neck crack, which sounded especially scary.

The foreigner couldn't breathe now, and his face was flushed. He looked at the blond foreigner beside him with difficulty and pleaded with his eyes:

save me, save me...

The blond foreigner was also frightened by this scene. Before this, he had never thought that such a thing would happen. In particular, he had a deep contempt for H Country, and he never thought that such a perverted master would appear in H Country. This was too unexpected for him, causing him to break out in cold sweat for a while. He didn't know what to do.

Buffalo and the others, clenching their teeth tightly, were so excited that their faces turned red. They were too happy. These arrogant foreigners thought they were awesome, but in front of the general instructor, they were like ants! Tom's behavior greatly honored H

Country.

As for the people from the Howards, they could no longer describe their current mood. They were stunned, completely in awe and disbelief. They were suspecting if they had hallucinated. Was this man in front of them the Tom they knew?

Time passed little by little. The foreigner in Tom's hand had already begun to roll his eyes and was about to be strangled to death. Finally, the blond foreigner couldn't help it. He took two steps forward, took a deep breath, and put away his arrogance. His attitude suddenly became much better. He said to Tom, "Hey, I admit I underestimated you just now. I didn't expect you to be a superpower man too. You won this time. I'll stop pursuing this matter for the sake of you. Please let go of my companion."

Although he put down his arrogant posture, he was very haughty and refused to admit his mistake to Tom. His tone revealed that he just did not want to deal with Tom.

Naturally, Tom would not agree. He ignored him and continued to strangle the foreigner. It seemed that Tom wanted to strangle him to death.

Chapter 768

When the blond foreigner saw that, his brows jumped fiercely twice. He could see that Tom was trying to make him bow his head and apologize!

To be honest, Jack was reluctant to do this. He admitted that Tom was indeed very strong, and his strength had surpassed his, but his instructor, however, was much more powerful than Tom. Moreover, he firmly believed that the people from H Country were a despicable race, far less noble than their white counterparts!

He even once thought that the people from H Country were just monkeys. As a person from a noble race, it was impossible for him to admit his mistake to these monkeys.

However, if his companion died here, he should be blamed for it.

He stared at Tom, took a deep breath, and intended to apologize to Tom. He decided that when he got back he would tell the instructor to come and punish this guy.

So, he reluctantly lowered his head and said to Tom, "Dear sir, you are a 4S level superpower with outstanding ability and distinguished status. Please let go of Tom. We will appreciate that!"

Tom gave a half-smile and let go of this foreigner named Tom. It seemed that he had accepted the apology.

Tom, who was already dying and unconscious, fell to the ground. There was still a pool of water in his crotch. He was actually scared to pee by Tom just now.

Jack was furious, but the only choice he could do was to suppress his anger. Now Tom was indeed stronger than him, and he could not fight against Tom.

He took a deep breath and was about to carry Tom.

When he came over, Tom stepped forward and stepped on Tom's chest, not letting him carry Tom away.

Jack said, "Sir, what are you doing?"

Tom looked at him indifferently and said, "You haven't apologized to my fellow countrymen."

The corners of Jack's mouth twitched twice again as Tom pointed to the Howards behind him. This damned man even humiliated him!

He could apologize to Tom, because Tom was indeed a super-strong man, but the people behind him were all rubbish. None of them were powerful and were no different from ants. If he apologized to these ants, God would blame him!

So he simply refused and said loudly, "Sir, you are a 4S level superpower. I can apologize to you, but these are ants, trash. As a noble superpower, I can't apologize to them."

His words immediately made all the people look sullen. They were greatly humiliated. This kind of humiliation was even greater than before Tom came!

Owen, in particular, clenched his fists tightly. His face turned green and he lowered his head, never having felt upset before.

All along, he had been superior to Tom. Five years ago, it was his covert manipulation that caused Tom to be expelled from the Howards.

But now that things had changed, Tom had already surpassed him too much and became an insurmountable master. This feeling was really worse than killing him!

Tom's eyes turned cold and stared at Jack.

The aura that emanated from him slowly, was particularly terrifying. At first, Jack could bear it, but slowly, Tom let out the aura of the Major Perfection Realm of Innate Realm, and Jack could not withstand it at all. His legs and lips were trembling uncontrollably, and he looked at Tom in horror, "You are not a 4S level superpower, you are a 5S level superpower..."

Now Jack was on the verge of collapse. The young man in front of him was actually a 5S level superpower. Even his instructor was not that powerful!

Tom ignored Jack's fear and speak directly, "I will warn you one last time. Kneel down, apologize, and compensate. Otherwise, I can end your life in three seconds."

Jack gulped nervously.

Jack swallowed heavily. He believed Tom. A 5S level superpower was the most powerful one who could only exist in legend! Even there weren't many 5S level superpower in Country M. But now Tom, a young man, was standing in front of him, and he could not describe his fear and shock at this moment.

"I..." Jack finally couldn't bear Tom's horrible eyes. He lowered his head and said, "Sir, I'm willing to compensate you five million dollars. Please let me go."

He would rather compensate than kneel down and apologize. He was still a noble white man. How could he kneel down to the ants from H Country? If this were to be spread, it would not just be his Jack who would lose face.

Tom was unsatisfied with it. He shook his head in disappointment and said, "I've given you a chance. Since you don't cherish it, don't blame me."

As soon as he finished speaking, his eyes widened and his terrifying aura pressed directly on Jack, making Jack feel as if he was facing death at this moment, and Jack's mind went blank. Jack blurted out, "Sir..."

However, before he could finish his sentence, Tom had already slapped him down on his knees. With a loud thud and great strength, the floor tiles were cracked and even sunk a few centimeters, while Jack screamed painfully.

His knee was broken.

"Apologize, or I'll break your neck." Tom said evenly, but his voice like the voice of death to Jack, making his soul tremble, completely unable to resist. And at this moment, he had forgotten all about dignity and nobility. He only had one idea: to obey Tom, the great devil, or he would lose his life.

He kowtowed to the Howards and pleaded in a trembling voice, "I was wrong. I shouldn't have bullied you.

Please forgive me. Please let me go."

There was still endless fear and crying in his voice, and it seemed he had been terrified.

In fact, Jack had been through a lot and not a coward.

However, Tom's power was simply too great. Now Jack saw Tom like a mouse meeting a cat, that was to say, now his behaviour, no longer had much to do with his thoughts, was done by instinct.

Buffalo and the other agents didn't feel much, because they had long been used to Tom's powerful strength. But for a group of the Howards members, it was unparalleled shock, deep awe, and pangs of regret!

Chapter 769

That was for sure. Originally, Tom was the heir of the Howards. And he showed much talent when he was young, but because of their momentary mistake, they expelled such a genius from the Howards in this way. Now it would be strange if they said they didn't regret it!

Apart from regret, they were also afraid that if Tom really wanted to take revenge on them, they would be done for.

At this moment, they did not have the pleasure of revenge at all. Instead, they trembled.

On the other hand, the blonde foreigner was even more scared when he saw that the Howards did not respond and was in such a state of panic. Under Tom's pressure, he had lost his dignity and kowtowed directly, "Please forgive us..."

He was very angry now, but there was nothing he could do. If he didn't yield, he felt that this horrible person from H Country in front of him would really kill him.

Moreover, it was in H Country. If this person really killed him, he would probably be fine without any accusation.

Tom frowned slightly. the Howards didn't respond, so he cleared his throat and said, "Are you not going to forgive these foreigners?"

Samuel finally came to his senses. He shook his head and said hurriedly, "No, no, Tom, I didn't mean that. It's all up to you."

Other people followed, "Yes, Tom, everything depends on you."

The elders, who were originally proud and cocky, did not dare to straighten their backs, and they spoke humbly to Tom. There was no other way. Tom was so powerful. He was the master of Major Perfection Realm of Innate Realm, and was also the Chief Instructor of Military Intelligence 3. He was in a high position. They did not dare to offend him at all. There was even a strong impulse in their heart that they would do everything they could to curry favor with Tom, and it was best to get Tom back to the Howards so that the Howards could regain the top one position among ranks of families in H City in minutes!

Tom stopped at the right time. He had already given these foreigners a lesson. If they were really killed, although there would be no big trouble, it would still cause some problems. So it was not necessary.

So he nodded and ordered the blonde foreigner to compensate the Howards for their losses. The blonde foreigner didn't dare to say no now and directly took a cheque of ten million dollars out.

When the Howards saw this cheque, they were completely stunned. And their feelings for Tom were more complicated.

Now the Howards had long lost its former glory, and their business had been falling. the Howards had become a second-rate family in H City. This cheque was not a small sum for them.

But Samuel gritted his teeth and offered the cheque to Tom with both hands. He bent down and said respectfully, "Tom, this cheque of ten million dollars is credited to you. You should keep it. We are very grateful that you can help us take the revenge."

Now Samuel had completely put down his pride and tried his best to please

Tom. Although he wanted the cheque, he still decided to give it to Tom for the sake of the overall situation.

He could still appraise the situation clearly. It was Tom who helped them get the cheque. If it weren't for him, they wouldn't have gotten the compensation, but they would have paid a lot of money. He could still tell right from wrong.

The other people looked distressed, but they didn't stop Samuel at this time.

Tom looked at Samuel with a fake smile and said, "Patriarch Samuel, you're so generous. You gave the cheque of ten million dollars to me so easily."

This title of Patriarch Samuel made Samuel's heart skip a beat and he let out a hollow laugh. For a moment, he didn't know how to answer.

Tom ran his eyes over the other people and shook his head. He didn't want to bother himself with them now. Five years ago, when he was expelled from the Howards by these so-called family members, he was heartbroken. He had nothing to do with them anymore.

He shook his head and said, "Never mind. You can take it. This cheque is a drop in the bucket for me."

After saying this, he did not talk to Samuel anymore. Instead, he turned around and ordered Buffalo to detain these foreigners. If they committed a crime in H Country, it was impossible to let them go so easily.

Because of Tom's suppression, these foreigners did not dare to be arrogant anymore. They were very obedient. After being put in handcuffs, they were unable to struggle.

After everything was done, Tom was about to leave. Samuel spoke again, "Tom, stay..."

Tom stopped, turned around, and asked calmly, "Patriarch Samuel, is there anything else I can do?"

Samuel swallowed hard. He seemed to have gathered his courage and said, "Tom, you haven't been back to the family for a long time. Why don't you take this opportunity to go back to the Howards today?"

He was Tom's elder. As the patriarch of the Howards, he used to be very dignified. In the previous time when Tom saw him, he had to be submissive. But now, their identity had completely changed. He became the submissive one. He was careful, frightened, and afraid to make Tom' unhappy.

The other people put to the same expression. They just wanted to do everything they could to please Tom and let him return to the Howards so that their family could regain its glory.

But Tom saw through them immediately. He shook his head and said, "It is meaningless to go back.

Since five years ago, I have had nothing to do with the Howards."

"This..." Samuel's expression was very terrible, full of guilt and sadness. He slapped himself hard, bowed to Tom, and said pitifully, "Tom, what happened five years ago was my fault. I was possessed. I believed slander and mistook you for the murderer... It's all my fault! But, Tom, you always have the blood of the Howards in your body. It's undeniable!"

His words were very moving, and even tears welled up in his eyes. Coupled with his withered look, it was really touching.

Anyone else would definitely be moved by him and forgive him.

But for Tom, he could tell that Samuel was just acting at a glance. In fact, Samuel saw him become a big shot and wanted to lure him back to the Howards so that the Howards could regain its glory.

Tom was very clear about that.

Buffalo and the others on the side were surprised to see this scene. They knew that Tom was awesome, but they didn't expect Tom to have such a past.

For a moment, they respected Tom even more.

Chapter 770

"That's good." Tom laughed.

Samuel's eyes lit up and he couldn't help but say happily, "Tom, do you agree? That's great!"

Other people were also happy. As long as Tom was willing to go back to the Howards, then it meant that he still cared about them.

Now, they knew how powerful Tom was. Tom had reached the Major Perfection Realm, and he was the Chief Instructor of the Military Intelligence 3. The Howard Group to which Tom belonged was also a giant. Its scale had already surpassed that of H City. Its scale of influence had expanded to the whole province, and even to the whole country!

Tom sneered and said, "What did I agree with? Back to the Howards?"

"Yes, come back. Tom, don't worry. When you come back this time, I will definitely inform everyone and give you the grandest welcome party!" Samuel persuaded him loudly, his eyes filled with sincerity and pleading.

Other members followed suit.

"Right, Tom, come back. We've missed you all these years."

"Brother Tom, you have to come back. You're part of the Howards."

"It's said that fallen leaves return to their roots. Tom, you are always from the Howards. You should return home."

"Now we also need a capable man to lead the whole family to a brighter future. Tom, you are the one! You should be our leader!"

They talked so sweetly, but Tom knew that they didn't mean it. If Tom hadn't known their true colors, he would have believed them.

"Are you done?" Tom sneered and interrupted them.

When they heard this, they all stopped and looked at Tom with hope.

"If so, get out of here. Don't disgust me. If you make me angry, I'll immediately give an order to destroy your family in H City!" Tom said coldly.

He had never been a benevolent man. He still remembered clearly how the Howards treated him in the past. It was true that he did not want to make things difficult for them, and he had slowly let go of his hatred. But it did not mean that he had forgiven them. He definitely didn't want to return to the Howards. He found the idea extremely ridiculous!

As he said this, a dozen agents immediately stepped forward. They surrounded the members of the Howards and stared at them.

At this moment, all of the family members, including Owen, became nervous and scared. Buffalo and other agents were very intimidating to them.

Besides, they worked for the Military Intelligence 3. If they really did attack the Howards, they had no chance to resist.

Tom said again, "Don't come to fawn on me, or I won't be as kind as I am today!"

Their faces were much paler, but they did not dare to speak for a moment. They could only lower their heads.

Tom snorted and turned to leave.

Just then, a weak voice came out, "But, Brother Tom, grandfather's death anniversary is coming. You haven't visited his grave. Don't you plan to do it this year? Grandfather loved you the most when he was alive..."

The person who spoke was Dylan. He looked scared, being in awe of Tom. His face was a little pale. He looked at Tom timidly and then he mustered up all his courage to say this.

When Tom heard this, he stopped. He was touched.

Indeed, he did not go back to visit grandpa's grave... To be exact, he didn't go with the Howards to visit his grave formally. He went back to visit his grave several times, but he went there by himself.

Now, his grandpa has been dead for almost three years.

They all saw Tom stop. They held their breath and looked at Tom nervously.

Even Owen did not dare to make a sound now. Although he had always looked down on Tom and bullied him, now he had to admit that the gap between him and Tom was getting bigger and bigger, and it was impossible for him to surpass Tom for the rest of his life...

Once he knew that he couldn't surpass Tom, he didn't dare to be hostile to him. All he felt now was fear and awe.

Everyone stared at Tom, and the place suddenly became quiet.

After about ten seconds, Tom said, "I will be back on grandpa's death anniversary. Now get out of here."

Hearing this, they heaved a sigh of relief. As long as Tom was willing to go back, it meant that there was still a chance for them to bring him back.

After they left, Tom did not linger. He followed Buffalo and the others back to the Military Intelligence 3 to deal with what had happened today.

He could take this opportunity to give a warning to others. Of course, he would not miss this opportunity.

Sure enough, not long after, many foreigners who came in from abroad knew about this. They knew that there was a Chief Instructor who reached the Major Perfection Realm of Innate Realm in the Military Intelligence 3 and he did things in an especially swift and efficient way. Therefore, they all restrained themselves and did not dare to be so arrogant anymore.

Tom wanted these foreigners to be in prison for at least two or three years before they would be released because they were so arrogant.

However, after this matter was reported to the superior, an order was given that they would be held for a few days and then released after they compensated for the loss and wrote a guarantee. After all, H Country had always been a country of etiquette, and this matter should be dealt with wisely.

Tom didn't agree with this, but it wasn't his turn to make the final decision.

Anyway, he was only in charge of arresting people.

A few days later, in a high-end villa, there were many tall foreigners gathered here.

Moreover, they held a party in broad daylight, and many handsome men and beautiful women were there. The atmosphere was particularly lively. Among them, Jack and Tom were also here.

"Jack, I heard you were taught a lesson by a man from H Country this time? And you lost a lot of money?"

"What? Is there such a thing? Jack is a 3S-level Ultra-capable Man. Is there a powerful man like him in a technologically backward country like H Country?"

"This is true. Jack not only lost money, but also knelt down to that man and begged for mercy. Alas, Jack, you are really a disgrace to Country M!"

Next to Jack, there were several foreigners, all masters of the Innate Realm, who mocked Jack mercilessly.

Jack looked humiliated. He was annoyed and said angrily, "Shut up! You haven't met that man before. You don't know how powerful that man is! He's a 5S-level Ultra-capable Man, comparable to our leader! You can mock me, but you need to know that even if you fight him together, you were no match for that man!"

Hearing his words, they immediately quieted down and looked at him in astonishment.

"That's impossible!"

"Jack, you must be exaggerating to cover up your incompetence."

"Jack, damn it! How dare you compare a lowly man from H Country with our chief!"

Jack gritted his teeth and said, "This is true. I'm not lying... Chief!"

All of a sudden, Jack saw a man walking towards him, and immediately stood up, bowing in reverence and fanaticism.

Chapter 771

When the others saw what Jack had done, they immediately straightened up and quickly retreated. When they saw the chief coming over, they bowed respectfully and greeted him, "Chief!"

The originally noisy scene became quiet instantly because of the arrival of the chief. Everyone looked at the chief as if they were admiring a god, full of worship and awe.

There appeared a westerner who was not too tall, but extremely domineering. He was not very strong, and he looked no different from an ordinary westerner. However, his aura was extremely powerful, particularly frightening.

The chief nodded calmly as a greeting, then said to Jack, "Have you and Tom been taught a lesson by a person from H Country?"

When Jack heard this, he looked straight into the chief's eyes. His heart could not help but beat fast and he was very flustered. He said quickly, "Chief, this person..."

He did not dare to hide anything and quickly told all, because he knew that the chief in front of him was terrifying, who could kill him with just one punch as a 5S-level superman.

Internationally, the chief enjoyed so important a reputation, who had killed many famous strong people and was known as the God of Death.

In particular, the chief's temper was very different and unpredictable. If Jack did not explain the details properly and provoked the chief to be angry, then Jack might cause trouble. Not long ago, he had seen that a 4S-level strong man, because of a small matter, contradicted the chief, and was crippled, not recovering yet!

Jack still felt nervous after explanation. He lowered his head and felt extremely uneasy.

After hearing this, the others did not dare to speak. They also knew the chief's character and absolutely did not dare to mock Jack as they had just done. Moreover, after they heard that, they finally realized that Jack was not lying. The person who hurt Jack and Tom were really powerful!

After the chief heard this, he said with interest, "It's interesting that over the past few years, H Country has such a powerful person. How old is this person?"

The chief smiled and asked curiously.

Jack recalled for a moment and said, "This person looks very young, as if he's only about thirty years old."

Hearing this, the chief, who had been expressionless for a long time, finally changed his face. "What? Only about thirty years old?!"

He was at a loss while the others became more annoyed.

They were all martial artists and knew very well what a 30-year-old 5S-level superman meant. Even the respected chief, who was known as a genius in Country M, was now over 40 years old with the high-tech training and only reached the level. How could a small H Country now be able to cultivate a 30-year-old 5S-level superman?!

So they thought that Jack was lying and bragging.

Jack seemed to have expected their reaction. He said bitterly, "Chief, this is true. He is also the Chief Instructor of the Military Intelligence 3 in H Country. He is really strong! People there are very respectful to him!"

The chief tapped on the railing gently, and a smile finally appeared on his face. He said, "It's interesting. A 30-year-old 5S superman. It seems that H Country has made a breakthrough in science and technology this time, and only then has it cultivated such an outstanding superman. This time, the Kungfu Cup is held in H Country. H Country must want to win the championship. It seems that he is H Country's trump card."

The smile on his face was very thought-provoking. The others had been with the chief for many years and knew his temperament very well. They knew that once the chief showed this expression, it meant that the chief was interested in the person.

That meant a hunter's interest in prey.

The chief had been invincible for too long and felt lonely. This time, he came to H Country for the Kungfu Cup. He was already 42 years old this year, but he hid his age and announced that he was only 39 years old this year and was qualified to join the Kungfu Cup.

Jack and Tom were extremely happy to see the chief's expression. They knew that the chief was targeting the person and wanted to avenge them!

When they thought of the humiliation that person had given them back then, they were extremely angry. It would be a great pleasure to see the chief avenge!

Moreover, they absolutely believed in the chief's strength. Even if the person reached the 5S-level, he was definitely not the chief's opponent. It was known that there existed difference among people at the same 5S-level.

Just two years ago, the chief had done something that shocked the world. At that time, the chief alone defeated two 5S-level supermen in the neighboring country. From then on, the chief's reputation in the world was even more sky-high!

For Tom, he did not take Jack and the others seriously. Even if he knew that after Jack and Tom returned, they would definitely ask a more powerful person for help. But so what? With his current strength, no matter how strong the enemy was, he would not be afraid.

He was not worried that a God Becoming Level master would target him, because he knew that the strong men of the God Becoming Level would not casually step into a foreign country, which meant a provocative behavior for another country. In other words, if a man at the God Becoming Level in Country M really stepped into H Country, Albert, the God of War, would fight back. Moreover, the master of God Becoming Level would not pay attention to Tom.

It began to drizzle.

Tom came out of home, sat in a Rolls-Royce and drove to the Howards.

He really should go back because his grandfather's death day was coming soon.

When arriving, it rained heavily. People walking on the street soon got wet easily.

But even so, when Tom got there, all the people from the Howards were waiting at the door. All the people came out, including those children.

When they saw the car coming, they all perked up and were extremely excited, not feeling impatient or angry though they had waited for so long.

Tom saw that in the car and felt sarcastic.

Five years ago, he was like a dog who had been humiliated and expelled from the Howards. But now, the people of the Howards treated him with the most respect like dogs.

These people did not know that the more sincere and respectful they were, the more Tom felt disgusted.

"Welcome second young master back to the Howards!"

When Tom got out of the car, Samuel took the lead, shouted at Tom, and bowed. They admired and respected Tom so much!

Chapter 772

When Tom saw this, a mocking smile appeared on his face and he strode up.

"Tom, you're finally here. It's raining today. The wind and water is a good sign. Your dead grandfather must know that you're coming back, so he changed into the wind to welcome you. Ha ha ha." When Samuel saw Tom coming over, he quickly took the umbrella and held it for Tom.

He was the Patriarch of the Howards, Tom's Eldest Uncle. Noble as he was, he lowered his profile in front of Tom.

Others didn't think anything was wrong either because Tom's current status was too noble to be compared to theirs.

Every dog had its day and one should never despise someone at a low ebb.

Owen, who was in the crowd, saw this scene but felt no hostile to Tom. His eyes were full of endless despair and helplessness. Tom was much stronger than him and he was no match to Tom. Owen only hoped that Tom would not get even with him because Tom would strangle him to death with just one finger.

Back to the Howards, Tom had mixed feelings when seeing the familiar scenes. After all, he grew up here and had too many memories.

He sighed deeply in his heart and suppressed this feeling.

"Almost everyone is here." Tom said with a faint smile when seeing so many people.

Samuel said quickly, "Of course, Tom. Everyone knows that you are coming back. So they returned to see you. Tom, do you want to see your room? In fact, over the years, I always have your room tidied up and keep it as same as before."

He looked at Tom with a fawning expression, as if he were a servant, waiting for Tom's praise.

However, he didn't know that Tom only felt disgusted when seeing him like this. He ignored Samuel directly and said, "You don't have to waste your time flattering me. I came back this time just to visit grandpa's grave. After that, I'll leave."

As he said this, the atmosphere became a little awkward.

They really wanted Tom to come back because he was the only hope to bring them back to glory. However, they really didn't have the right to ask him to come back. Five years ago, they really went too far.

"Tom..." A senior granduncle said, "We didn't deliberately kick you out five years ago. This is a misunderstanding. You're smart. You grew up here and still have the blood of the Howards. If there wasn't a misunderstanding, how could we have done this? But now that the misunderstanding has been removed, we do admit our mistake. the Howards needs you now."

This man, who was of the same generation as his grandfather, had few achievements throughout his life and idled away his life. When Tom was framed, he did not stand up for him. When knowing that Tom succeeded now, he began to teach Tom as a senior.

Tom glared at him coldly. "What do you need me to do?"

His granduncle said, "I need you to come back and save the Howards. You are always a member of the Howards. You can't just watch our family decline step by step, can you? Originally, we were the number one family in H City, receiving the admiration of countless people. But ever since you left, the Howards has been declining day by day. Now, the position of the number one family has also been taken away by the Scotts. How could that happen? the Scotts is just a third-rate family. Tom, have you heard the rumors? They say that you are ungrateful and would rather support your wife's family than your own!"

His criticism was harsh. In his opinion, Tom was an ungrateful culprit who caused the decline of the Howards.

Other seniors echoed with him and took advantage of their seniority to lecture Tom.

Others immediately felt a little pleased when seeing that Tom did not refute and remained silent.

They thought that Tom was soft-hearted and guilty. After being criticized, he knew that he had done something wrong.

In their opinion, they knew clearly about Tom's temperament and found it easy to control him. They were confident that Tom would come back. With Tom's current status, the Howards would soon recover its glory and regain the title of H City's top family.

They even dreamed that they might become the number one family in G State as Tom was now the Chief

Instructor of the Military Intelligence 3 and the top master of the Major Perfection Realm!

However, they underestimated Tom.
They had no idea what he had gone through in the past five years. His temperament had changed and his hatred of the Howards intensified.

"Good." Tom smiled and even applauded.

The granduncle's eyes lit up and he said, "Tom, are you willing to return to the Howards? Well, you are indeed very filial! As a member of the Howards, you have the obligation to lead us to glory. I believe that your dead grandfather will be very happy to know about it, ha ha ha."

Others also began to smile, thinking that they had already controlled him.

However, just as they were all complacent, Tom's voice turned cold, "I had already let go of the Howards. This time, I came back just to visit my grandpa's grave. I don't want to get even with you. But you old stuff, take advantage of your seniority to put on an act and teach me a lesson."

As soon as he finished speaking, Tom stomp his feet. Suddenly, the whole villa gave a thud, as if an earthquake had happened, which was especially frightening. Even the ceiling on the roof began to shake. This scene immediately scared everyone.

"What's going on? Is it an earthquake?!"

"Oh my god, what happened?"

Tom stamped his foot again and the ground beneath his feet had cracked like a spider web.

This time, everyone finally realized that it was not an earthquake, but Tom's "masterpiece".

In an instant, they didn't dare to speak anymore and looked at Tom in horror.

Tom looked at them coldly. "Do you really think I'm a fool, or do you think I'm still the Tom from five years ago who you can easily control?"

Now Tom's aura was so domineering that their legs kept shaking as if they were in the face of a storm.

Those seniors who blamed him did not dare to speak anymore.

Tom glanced at all of them and finally said, "I came to visit my grandpa's grave, not to listen to your nonsense! From now on, if you dare to talk nonsense and spoil my mood again, I don't mind wiping the Howards out of H City."

They immediately tucked their necks into collars and realized that Tom was not joking. Then they did not dare to say anything more.

Chapter 773

They did not doubt what Tom had said at all, because they had investigated Tom thoroughly over the past few days, and they knew that Tom was no longer on the same level as them. In fact, if Tom wanted to expel the Howards from H City, it would really be a piece of cake.

It suddenly became awkward, and they did not dare to say anything more. The arrogant elders now felt timid and scared. They realized that the man standing in front of them now was no longer the kind and innocent Tom he used to be.

When the time came, Tom rushed straight to his grandfather's grave.

When he came to his grandfather's grave again, he saw the yellowed picture on the tombstone. Tom stood there in a daze and recalled the image of his grandfather before, and the education and care his grandfather had given him over the years.

Because of his grandfather, he was able to live a happy life, but because of his grandfather's death, his life went worse.

Strangely, the heavy rain gradually stopped and it drizzled again. Then the rain stopped and wind blew slowly.

"Grandpa, I'm here. How are you doing?"

Tom knelt in front of the grave, muttering to himself, and fell into endless memories. Behind him stood a large row of people of the Howards, but no one dared to make a sound. Now Tom was someone they could not afford to provoke. Tom was so powerful now that no one dared to provoke him.

Tom personally swept grandpa's grave. As for what others thought, he did not care at all.

After everything was settled, Tom left directly. Tom did not talk to the Howards people all the time. For him, it was absolutely impossible to go back to the Howards, moreover, he did not take revenge on the Howards.

Everyone sighed as they watched Tom leave, feeling extremely regretful. If they had not expelled Tom so cruelly back then, it might have been better!

Unfortunately, it was useless for them to regret it.

Tom came out of the cemetery and felt relaxed a lot. This time when he came back, he saw how regretful they were. To be honest, he was quite happy. Five years ago, they treated him so ruthlessly, and he did not forget it!

However, with this incident, he should let it go.

He came down from the mountain and wanted to call the driver to pick him up. But just then, a car stopped in front of him. The window rolled down and a pretty woman appeared, saying to him,

"Tom?"

Tom took a closer look and was also stunned. He did not expect that he would meet someone he knew here. What a coincidence.

He quickly smiled and greeted politely,
"Hi, Snow."

The woman in front of him was an old acquaintance of his, or even a childhood sweetheart. They two grew up together. Even his grandfather and Snow's parents had agreed that when Tom and Sbo grew up, they would get married.

However, after Tom was expelled from the Howards, the marriage was naturally canceled.

Now when seeing Snow, Tom was quite emotional, and he couldn't help but think of those days he had spent with Snow since he was a child.

To be honest, at that time, Tom really had feelings for Snow. He also believed that when he grew up, he would marry Snow. But everything changed later.

Five years had passed, and Snow had not changed much. She was still so beautiful. Her skin was white, and she was a beauty.

If Tom had not gotten married, he must have been very happy when meeting Snow again. But now, he changed. When he saw Snow again, what he thought in heart was just those memories with her before.

Snow stared at him and quickly looked at him, then said, "Long time no see. Where have you been all this time?"

Tom also smiled and said, "Yes, long time no see. I've been..."

Just as he was about to speak, a man also appeared in the back seat. He stared at Tom wearing such plain clothes. There was some ridicule and disdain on his face. He immediately said, "Snow, is this what you call childhood sweetheart? The one who was kicked out of the family five years ago? I don't think he looks very good, either."

After Snow heard it, she was a little embarrassed, and Tom also slightly frowned. Obviously, Tom knew that it was Snow who told that to the man.

Just now, Snow pretended not to know about it and asked where Tom had been for the past few years...

Thinking of this, Tom sighed. It seemed that in the past five years, not only had he changed, but also others had changed. Everything was different.

However, he did not make Snow embarrassed. He smiled and said, "Snow, I still have something to do. I won't chat with you. I'll see you when I have time."

He was about to leave.

Snow moved her mouth. She seemed to feel a little embarrassed and said to Tom, "Wait a minute!"

Tom stopped and looked at Snow. "Anything else?"

Snow said, "Tom, we haven't seen each other for so long. Since we have met again, let's have dinner together. Let's have a good chat."

Snow looked at Tom with anticipation in her eyes. Tom hesitated for a moment and agreed, "Okay, it's up to you."

He had not seen Snow for many years. In any case, Snow was the childhood sweetheart he grew up with, and they two almost got married in the beginning. Now that they were reunited by fate, it was okay to have dinner.
