

Chapter 2689

Miyata intended to choke Harvey to death and use the opportunity to trample on Country H's martial arts.

Yet, Harvey completely evaded the attack.

That said, the shock only lasted briefly for an expert like Miyata.

He regained his composure quickly, and launched a barrage of kicks.

Fwoosh, fwoosh, fwoosh, fwoosh!

The air was constantly rupturing from his swift attacks.

They were quick and deadly. Any ordinary person who got hit would have their heads explode.

Scarlett and the rest of the rich heirs found such might and offense a breath of fresh air.

The beautiful women's faces were bright red as they cheered for Miyata, pumping their excited fists in the air, desperately wanting Harvey to die.

Harvey remained calm as always, merely sitting on the stone chair while casually sipping his tea.

His body occasionally swayed slightly here and there as he dodged Miyata's attacks with ease.

Miyata wasn't phased when the barrage of kicks missed. His claws gleamed as they slashed forward, moving in tandem with his wide sleeve.

Clang, clang, clang!

Loud sounds filled the air, while shattered rocks and withered leaves flew all over the gazebo.

Harvey was aloof and expressionless, as if finding the whole thing very dull. He kept dodging the attacks, not a trace of fear in his eyes.

He wasn't blocking any hits, nor was he fighting back. He was only tilting his body constantly, as if fighting back against Miyata wasn't worth it.

Swish, swish, swish!

Miyata's attacks were swift, every single hit was packed with deadly strength...

But none of them were able to even scratch Harvey.

Miyata screamed in fury after seeing Harvey unscathed. He leapt into the air and flipped around before slamming his feet on the stone table in front of Harvey.

There was a loud crack, and the table shattered into pieces.

Miyata waved his hand, shoving the shattered pieces right toward Harvey's direction.

There was no way Harvey could dodge the rocks.

Thus, he had no choice but to crush all of them with his hands.

Miyata finally found an opportunity at this very moment. He pounced at Harvey in an instant, swinging his claws forward.

Swish!

Yet, Harvey still managed to dodge the attack without breaking a sweat.

Miyata's well prepared attack landed on the stone pillar of the gazebo. The pillar crumbled in just a single moment.

Harvey easily stepped out of the gazebo's range.

His clothes were spotless. His emotions were calm and controlled.

Miyata's attack seemed extremely terrifying, but none of them managed to land on Harvey.

“Damn you!”

Even the God of War was getting mildly infuriated.

His gaze turned colder, and his nerves tensed up.

He was the Island Nation God of War from the Shinkage Way.

For him to defeat a young man, normally, was as easy as beating a dead horse.

He had used up almost eighty percent of his strength. Yet, what happened?

He couldn't even touch a single hair on Harvey! For Miyata, this was absolutely unacceptable.

He represented the martial arts of the Island Nations. It was already bad enough that he couldn't kill Harvey off with a single move, but now...

He couldn't even scratch Harvey after all that!

This was just embarrassing!

At this, Miyata's already ugly expression worsened.

Chapter 2690

Mitchell, Scarlett, Daito, and everyone else frowned.

Since Miyata, the Sword Saint himself, took action...

They felt it would be easy for him to kill Harvey within two to three moves.

He had launched way more attacks than that, yet Harvey was still unscathed. Even Harvey's hair was perfectly fine and untouched.

This made no sense! No sense at all!

“Maybe Sword Saint Shinosuke's trying to take it easy on Country H citizens!”

Scarlett realized something after seeing that something was amiss.

“He could've killed Harvey with just a single move, but he tried to make the fight longer for our sake.”

“This represents the kindness and modesty of the Island Nations’ martial arts!”

“Mr. Shinosuke! In place of Country H’s martial arts, I thank you!”

“We will remember you for being so considerate about our reputation!”

“The Island Nations and Country H will surely stay as great allies forever!”

“Don’t you worry. After you kill Harvey, I’ll have the higher ups force his family and friends to pay for his sins!”

“I swear to God, the martial arts world of Country H will not have another idiot like him, who will provoke the Island Nations willy-nilly!”

Scarlett said all this to show Miyata her sincerity, and to explain the situation to the others.

After all, this was the only way she could rationalize how Harvey was able to dodge Miyata's killer moves.

Daito, whose expression had worsened, narrowed his eyes. "You're too kind, Ms. Leithold."

"Our two countries have always been on the same ship together. Your country's reputation is very important to us as well."

"After all, as long as we continue to support each other in the far east, world peace will be maintained!"

"I do hope you properly tell everyone about the situation later."

"Tell the younger generation of Country H's martial arts world to stop causing us trouble!"

“How can Country H still stand as the world’s best nation if we kill one of your people next time?”

“That’ll just be embarrassing!”

“Right, right. You have a fair point!”

Scarlett smiled coyly.

“I’ll tell those fools that the true sacred martial art training grounds are the Six Schools of Martial Arts. The Island Nations are the best martial arts country in the world!”

“Us Country H citizens are just too ignorant!”

“People should know how to stay humble!”

The rich heirs around Scarlett were quick to put on airs, as if they understood the situation.

No wonder the God of War Miyata didn’t manage to kill off Harvey in a single move.

This was why that vermin could keep dodging Miyata's killer moves over and over again.

The Island Nations were just showing Country H respect!

If not, useless filth like Harvey would've died a thousand times already!

The rich heirs of the sacred martial art training grounds looked at Miyata with excited gazes, and at Harvey with disdain.

'Does this idiot not know his limits?!'

'Look at him, jumping around like a monkey! Kneeling is his only way out!'

Chapter 2691

All of the rich heirs present truly believed they had excellent etiquette.

If a God of War went easy on them, they would've long given up.

They wouldn't be like Harvey, who was shamelessly prolonging a pointless fight.

Mitchell, Carrie, and all disciples of Longmen's Law Enforcement glared scornfully at Harvey.

They thought Harvey's actions had humiliated Longmen in its entirety.

Looking at Harvey's calm appearance, Scarlett felt that Miyata should've gone all out.

She would finally be relieved if Harvey the vermin was beaten to death right there and then.

Without a second thought, Scarlett took a step forward and exclaimed righteously, “Thank you for your kindness, Mr. Shinosuke!”

“But you’re here to take revenge! There’s no need to show us any respect!”

“End this now!”

“Make this bastard suffer as you wish!”

Scarlett was confident that Miyata would fight with all his might if she said that.

She was deeply regretful. If only she knew Miyata would be this generous, she would’ve told him that sooner!

“People like Harvey should be beaten down immediately! Don’t give him any respect! Crush him with all your might!”

“You idiot!”

Miyata, who couldn’t even land a single hit on Harvey despite launching dozens of moves, threw her a horrible expression.

Scarlett's words almost made him cough out blood.

Right there and then, he stopped pretending to be an expert. He hurriedly unsheathed the Island Nations longsword from his waist.

Swish, swish, swish!

The blade shone brightly as Miyata swung it with masterful moves. A bright light flashed forward, locked on to Harvey's position.

Air waves formed in the air along as he launched multiple swings with his longsword.

Dust blew all over the place. Sharp pains could be felt on everyone's skin.

Many instinctively stepped back, fearing what the blade could do to them.

Scarlett grinned coldly at the sight.

No one from the younger generation could block an attack like that!

She could even visualize Harvey getting ripped to shreds.

A disdainful smirk graced her beautiful red lips.

In her eyes, people like Harvey should just die a horrible death!

Yet against such monstrous killing intent, Harvey remained calm.

Occasionally, he would step back and tilt his body, all the while still sipping his tea nonchalantly.

Menacing air waves kept flying past his head, cheek, neck, and chest.

Every slash held terrifying power, but none of them affected Harvey the slightest.

Other than the gazebo, some of the acacia trees that had been planted for many years blew up in half from Miyata's attacks.

Mitchell and Scarlett couldn't help but exchange glances after seeing the carnage.

They already told Miyata to go all out, but...

A long time had passed, and yet, Harvey was still standing...

Every single slash was filled with horrifying murderous intent.

But not a single one landed on Harvey!

Was Miyata planning to torture Harvey before ending his life, just like a cat and mouse game?

Or was he going to scare Harvey to death with his killer moves?

There was no point for that! Why waste time on someone like Harvey?

Chapter 2692

Miyata then unleashed another barrage of killer moves on Harvey.

He displayed every manner of swordsmanship and Zephyr Slashes from the Island nations.

Cracks began to form on the ground, and the poor trees were cut down and fell all over the place.

Despite it all, Harvey remained ever calm. In fact, not a single one of Miyata's attacks landed on him.

It was then that Scarlett and the rest finally realized something crucial.

It wasn't that Miyata was going easy on Harvey. No, Harvey was just too fast!

He had been dodging every single attack by a hair

's length!

“No wonder he dares to kill the Shinkage Way’s top talent and challenge Miyata despite knowing that Miyata’s coming!”

“He must’ve learned some strange sorcery!”

Scarlett was boiling with anger.

“You call yourself a man, Harvey?!”

“You’re a little faster and you can dodge Mr. Shinosuke’s killer moves, but so what?!”

“You think there’s a point to keep dodging him in a life-or-death battle?!”

“Not only are you disrespecting him...”

“You’re embarrassing the entire martial arts world of Country H!”

“You’re wasting all of our time, too!”

“As the referee, I order you to stop evading his attacks! Have a proper fight against Mr. Shinosuke!”

“I do hope you know what’s best for you, seeing as you’re a man of Country H!”

“Since you’re not the Sword Saint’s opponent, you won’t be able to dodge for long anyway!”

“Don’t you know that you’ll turn us into a joke if you keep doing this?!”

Scarlett was enraged. The consequences of the situation were dire...

In her eyes, Harvey should’ve long been cut in half.

Whether he was dodging or fighting back, it would still be an embarrassment for Country H’s martial arts.

Since he was destined to lose, what was the point of struggling in the first place?

Why not just accept defeat and embrace death?

That way, at least he would still die a real man.

As for the rest...

Scarlett was filled with disdain the more she looked at Harvey.

“Am I not showing my strength by dodging the attacks?” Harvey said, curious, as he nonchalantly evaded the barrage of attacks.

“Am I supposed to be brain-dead like you, and take the attacks head-on?”

“Besides, this trash Miyata can't even touch a single strand of my hair. Isn't he just weak?”

“You should be questioning if he had something to eat on his plane ride here!”

“If he hadn't, I can let him have some food before we go another round!”

Miyata was indeed a God of War.

But Harvey immediately saw through his limited number of tricks in his swordsmanship.

Harvey could definitely send the man flying with a single slap the moment Miyata became weak.

As such, Harvey didn't want to waste too much energy against Miyata. In fact, he was trying to drag the fight out longer.

“Bastard! How dare you?!”

“Mr. Shinosuke is just paying his respects to the martial arts of Country H! Do you really think you're that good?!”

Scarlett's face was as cold as ice.

“Let me warn you, Harvey, I always return people's kindness tenfold!”

“Since Mr. Shinosuke’s being so kind to us, surely we’ll have to do the same for him!”

“As the representative of the Five Virtues Temple, I order you to stop dodging and fight him head-on!”

“If not, the sacred martial art training grounds will declare this match as a loss for you!”

“From now on, you’ll be a public enemy of the entire martial arts world of Country H! Everyone can throw their fists at you as they please!”
