

Chapter 2753

Bang!

Akio was immediately sent flying, before crashing right into a boulder right afterwards. He coughed; blood spurted out of his mouth immediately.

Akio was shocked. His nerves were a tense knot, and his eyes were a profound gaze.

From the very beginning, he had already treated Harvey as his arch-nemesis and came up with all sorts of plans to deal with Harvey.

Despite that, Harvey didn't even get cocky even when he had the upper hand. He remained calm throughout the entire situation.

Akio finally got Harvey on his turf after pretending to be cowardly for so long, but he still took a slap to the face while Harvey remained unscathed.

The man in front of him was just too strong!

Clank!

Akio wasted no time to care about the palm print on his face. He gritted his teeth and leapt forward before slashing downward, determined to defeat Harvey.

His attack was lightning fast, like a meteor falling from the sky.

Harvey, however, calmly swung the blade in his hand.

The clash of metal resonated sharply in the air as the two crossed each other once again. Harvey was standing at the edge of the cliff, while Akio stood nearby the forest.

“What a young hero we have here!”

Akio touched his sword, his expression fierce and vicious.

“If you had a few more years to grow, I might not even be a match for you anymore...”

“But right now, I can definitely kill you.”

“If you’re really that confident, then what’s with all these small tricks?” Harvey asked.

“Even if you’re a God of War, you’re not worthy of being named as such.”

“From the moment you dove into the sea, you’ve already fallen far behind me.”

“I didn’t kill you before only because I wanted to see the tricks you’ve prepared for me.”

“Safe to say, you truly disappoint me.”

“I, disappoint you? You must be mistaken!”

Akio chuckled lightly.

“Do you know what this place is, Harvey?”

“Do you know the consequences of showing up here?”

“If you don't, then allow me to enlighten you!”

With a wave of his hand, Akio pierced the ground with his sword.

The earth shook violently, and a crack formed right under where Harvey stood.

Harvey's gaze turned scornful. Then, he flung his knife forward.

Slash!

The knife pierced right into Akio's body, and crimson sprayed all over the place. A maniacal laugh could be heard from him as he stepped back, no traces of remorse on his face.

Harvey fell before he could grasp what happened.

A three hundred feet fall from the cliff would surely end anyone's life.

Harvey's tension rose exponentially and clapped his hands together. While he did so, rocks, growing branches, and other objects appeared to slow his fall.

Bang!

Harvey clapped again and flew right into the air, heading toward a natural spring.

Harvey fell into the water, landing with a great splash. All the force from the fall immediately vanished.

Almost at the same time, a woman bathing inside the spring instantly jumped out of the water.

Her long hair flowed as she stepped on the ground barefoot. She was clad in a towel, which revealed her smooth shoulders and silky legs.

Harvey's eyes twitched when he finally got out of the water. He quickly realized he got into a woman's bath.

Swish, swish, swish!

Immediately after, several robed young women rushed forward with long swords in hand. They pointed their swords toward Harvey.

“What happened, Maiden?!”

Chapter 2754

“Maiden?”

“Those robes...”

“The Five Virtues Temple?!”

“You’re Teal Leithold?!”

Harvey stared at the woman who had her whole body revealed to him, confused beyond anything.

He never expected to land right where the Maiden was.

Looking at such a clean and beautiful face, Harvey finally understood why this woman was called a Maiden.

Judging from her looks alone, she was no different than an angel.

Was Akio’s big plan consisted of Harvey landing in the Maiden's bath so he could see her in all her glory?

If that was the case, shouldn't Akio fear Vince beating him to death?

If Harvey remembered correctly, Vince was interested in Teal as well.

Teal's bright eyes flashed with a hint of fear. She forcefully calmed herself down before shifting her gaze toward Harvey.

After a moment, she finally recognized the pervert that had suddenly showed up in her bath.

"Harvey York?!" she exclaimed coldly.

"What?! This man is Harvey?!"

"He's the one who's been disrespecting the Five Virtues Temple! He's the one who ruined our auction as well!"

"He got Scarlett killed, yet he dares to demand us to give him a statement within three days?!”

“How is he so shameless?!”

“Him showing up here is your biggest defilement, Maiden! He deserves to die!”

A disciple of the Five Virtues Temple pounced forward with a furious look, ready to put a hole in Harvey.

Clang!

Teal flicked her finger and flung the long sword away.

She then strode behind a paper wall to put on some clothes.

The disciples immediately bowed their heads low.

“We were too reckless, Maiden. We’ll drag him out of there before we kill him!”

The disciples pulled out their swords fiercely as they glared at Harvey, who was still inside the bath.

‘This man has been going against the Five Virtues Temple! How dare he barge into the Maiden’s bath?!’

‘He deserves to die!’

“Can I at least explain the situation? There’s no need for violence.”

Harvey sighed.

Harvey dove right into a woman’s bath and saw every single inch of her body. No matter how he looked at the situation, he knew he was clearly in the wrong.

Thus, he had no intention to fight back.

“I got tricked to stand on a cliff. I fell down after that.”

“I saw a natural spring here while I was in midair. That’s why I jumped in.”

“It wasn’t intentional.”

“Huh?!”

The disciples were completely shocked.

They would never believe that Harvey fell all the way from a three hundred feet tall cliff.

It was a height of three hundred feet, after all!

Yet, Harvey didn’t die from that!

What was this sick joke?!

Did the Maiden pull him into the bath to give this man a so-called statement...?

Was she frightened because she had no experience in such things?!

Was that why she made such a big ruckus out of this?

The disciples would usually watch tons of dramas. Teal and Harvey's meeting was enough for them to fill in the blanks.

They didn't dare show anything on their faces, scared of the Maiden seeing right through them.

Chapter 2755

Just then, Teal emerged fully dressed. She was so breathtaking, really did seem like an actual angel.

Her cold eyes gazed right into Harvey's eyes. She began coldly, "Before, you wanted us to give you a statement about Scarlett."

"Logically speaking, I should be killing right now for barging into my bath."

"But we do owe you a statement."

"We'll call a truce here, unless you have any other opinions."

"Huh?!"

The disciples all went slack-jawed at Teal's words.

They couldn't believe the Maiden brushed off such a big thing that easily.

The statement that they were supposed to give Harvey would be resolved as well.

Then... Who was the one suffering the biggest losses?!

Some of the disciples glanced at Teal, their eyes twitching frantically.

Was the Maiden interested in the man that had been going against the Five Virtues Temple?

Harvey was rendered speechless as well.

He had no idea what this heavenly woman in front of him was thinking...

Nevertheless, he still felt that he was in the wrong. He walked out of the natural spring and grabbed a fragrant towel to dry his hair, all under Teal's murderous gaze.

After seeing Harvey's actions, a disciple subconsciously reprimanded him, “Hey! The Maiden used that to wipe her...”

Swoosh!

Teal’s face went bright red before the disciple could even finish her sentence. Then, Teal took a step forward and swung her palm toward Harvey’s chest.

Slap!

Harvey blocked the attack with a slap of his own. He felt a little embarrassed, so he didn’t use that much force against her before he stumbled back at the entrance.

Once he came to his senses, the fragrant towel was back in the Maiden’s hands.

“You pervert!”

Teal regained her calm before she sent Harvey a cold glare.

“Our scores are settled! Now leave!”

Harvey’s eyes twitched. He could feel Teal’s rage.

If he didn’t get out right there and then, the Maiden would probably start cutting him down with a long sword.

And so, Harvey smiled and turned around with little fuss.

“I’ll be leaving now, but there’s something I need to say first.”

“If everything here was just a coincidence, then I owe you an apology.”

“But...”

Harvey’s gaze suddenly turned cold.

“If I find out that you’ve joined forces with the Islanders to deal with me...”

“I wouldn’t mind tearing the Five Virtues Temple down myself.”

“You...”

Teal retaliated with a cold glare of her own.

“You dare say things like that when I showed you respect?”

“How shameless can you get?!”

“Do you honestly think you’re that powerful?”

“You can’t even beat me, yet you’re planning to cause trouble at the Five Virtues Temple?!”

“I suggest you stop being so ignorant.”

“I’m no filth like Scarlett. If you infuriate me, you won’t get out of Hong Kong alive!”

“That’s why, since we’re here, I should give you a suggestion.”

“Please, do continue,” Harvey said, tilting his head innocently.

“Get out of Hong Kong!”

“Never set foot here again!”

Chapter 2756

“If you can get out of Hong Kong within twenty-four hours, the Five Virtues Temple will let you off the hook for your past actions. We’ll even let you in on some benefits...” Teal continued, her tone cold and stern.

Yet, Harvey could only laugh.

“This is only the second time we’ve met. Isn’t that right, Maiden?”

“Do you really hate me that much?”

“Do you want me to get out of Hong Kong this badly?”

“That’s right!”

“Ever since you came here, Hong Kong has been constantly changing. Cracks are starting to form in the Yorks of Hong Kong.”

Teal took a cup of tea from one of the disciples and took a sip, her cold expression unchanging.

“The stability of the Yorks is what keeps Hong Kong and Las Vegas standing.”

“Your existence will cause great trouble here, so I hope you can get out of here as fast as possible.”

“This is for the sake of the Yorks...”

“As well as for both Hong Kong and Las Vegas.”

“If you leave now, we can kill three birds with one stone. It would be great for everyone, wouldn't it?”

Harvey tilted his head, smiling softly.

“You're a little biased, Teal.”

“So many things have happened. One thing is for certain: Vince is not worthy of taking the position as the new head of the family.”

“Even without me here, his position as the head will not be set in stone.”

“This has nothing to do with me.”

“I won't leave for such trivial matters, either.”

Teal frowned.

“Are you really going to be this stubborn, Harvey?”

“This isn't me being stubborn. I have nothing to hide. Why should I leave Hong Kong in the first place?”

Harvey shrugged. He was being extremely straightforward.

“I don't like it here, but nobody has a say in where I'm going next.”

“Besides, you people still owe me a statement.”

“Even if that’s out of the picture, do you honestly want me to leave Hong Kong just because I happened to take a few glances at you?”

“You’re a little too good at doing business, don’t you think?”

“Besides, you’re as flat as a cutting board! My eyes are getting sore just by looking at you!”

“If you want to use that as a fair statement, then so be it.”

“I’ll take it!”

“But to force me out of Hong Kong?!”

“You must be overestimating yourself quite a bit.”

“You think I’ve never seen a woman before?”

“You really think you’re some sort of goddess?”

“You’re the one who has no right to look me in the eye!”

“I don’t have the right?”

Teal calmly walked forward and raised her head, narrowing eyes at Harvey. A refreshing scent wafted out of her body.

“Do you know why I've hated you since the first time we met?”

“Because you’re a man who doesn’t know when to back down!”

“Vince could ignore his shame and please the Islanders for the sake of his position and the York family, as well as the stability of Hong Kong and Las Vegas.”

“But you? Other than showing off in public, what else can you do?”

“Let’s talk about the Head Coach’s sword while we're at it.”

“You were clearly trying to cause trouble to Murphy, but you act like you're competing for the item fair and square!”

“You lost in the end, but you dare tell everyone that you're the Head Coach?!”

“You don't look like him one bit!”
