Chapter

3241 Ansel was in shock, but Colton remained expressionless; nobody knew exactly how he was feeling.

He then walked over before tapping Harvey on the shoulder.

Harvey stood still, just as expressionless.

"I told you Harvey was impressive, Father. Do you believe me now?"

Ansel smiled faintly.

"Can Sir York have a look at your injury now?"

Before Colton spoke up, a voice echoed from outside.

"Uncle Torres! Where are you?"

"Let's go to the hall."

Colton clapped his hands.

"Sienna's here."

"She told me she'd find me a well-known doctor a few days ago."

"She was planning to get me fixed."

"Sir York. Sienna's from the Wright family," Ansel whispered in Harvey's ear.

"Her father is my father's good friend. That's why both our families have a good relationship."

"I didn't know she was going to come with a doctor. I'm really sorry about that."

"The Wright family?"

Harvey smiled after hearing Ansel's words.

"The head of the top ten families in Country H?"

"Is Sienna the legendary princess of the family?"

"The one who every young master and prince wants to cling to?"

Ansel nodded lightly.

Colton curiously looked at Harvey; he didn't think Harvey could figure out Sienna's identity so easily.

He walked out of the garden to the hall without saying a word.

Soon after, a few people entered the hall.

The person leading the group was a slender woman seemingly in her twenties.

She wasn't wearing any makeup, but her face was still beautiful and elegant. Her sophisticated aura was radiating out of her simple attire of white t-shirt and skinny jeans.

Any man would fall to their knees once they saw such a woman.

Following right behind her was a blonde man.

The man looked to be in his thirties; he was tall, and had sunken eyes with a tall nose. A bossy expression could be seen on his face.

Behind him, a dozen people were carrying a lot of luggage. They were most likely sophisticated medical devices.

"Uncle Torres, this is Mr. Rudolph. I invited him here all the way from Switzerland." "He's a professor of a medical school and also the youngest director of the International Medical Federation."

"He's well-versed in both western and eastern medicine. Plus, he went through advanced studies in Country H's medical school when he was younger."

"The queen of The Empire of the Sun that Never Sets even hired him for a high price as the royal doctor."

"I went to The Empire and found out about Mr. Rudolph's medical skills by coincidence. That was why I asked him to take a look at your old injuries." After seeing Colton walk out, Sienna quickly introduced the westerner beside her.

Ansel froze after hearing Rudolph's name.

"Ms. Wright, is Mr. Rudolph the legendary Deathbuster?"

Rudolph smiled upon hearing the title.

"Hello, Mr. Torres. That's just a name. It's nothing worth mentioning," he said with a humble expression.

"It's an honor for me to serve Elder Torres today."

Ansel was exhilarated; his father had been tormented by the Lifestealing Finger for too long. There was a good chance the man would end up dying this very year.

Ansel invited Harvey here, but he wasn't too hopeful that Harvey would be able to cure Colt on either.

Nobody expected that Sienna would actually get a man like Rudolph here.

Chapter 3242 Rudolph's title wasn't just for show. It was said that he had studied ancient medical skills from both India and the Island Nations, as well as western and eastern medicine. His skills were considered unparalleled.

He was also able to filter out most of the useless information and keep only the essence of said medical skills, further pushing him to more lengths.

It's said that even the royal families of Northern Europe would occasionally hire him to treat them, prolonging their lives in the process.

However, Rudolph's price was extremely high; he would charge at least millions of dollars every time.

If he had to operate on anyone, it would cost exponentially more.

Despite that, his business was still flourishing.

Ansel had already heard of the legendary Deathbuster before. Even though the Torres family was quite well known throughout Flutwell, they were still not good enough to get someone like Rudolph here.

If it weren't for Sienna, Rudolph probably wouldn't have shown up here.

"Mr. Rudolph heard about Uncle Torres's experience. He said that Uncle Torres was a hero, and that it was his honor to treat Uncle," Sienna said after winking a few times.

Rudolph understood Sienna's intentions immediately.

"Princess Wright is right," he said with a warm smile on his face.

Colton casually smiled back.

"You're too kind, Sienna."

Harvey glanced curiously at the princess. Safe to say, Sienna was no ordinary woman.

A few simple words were enough to prevent Colton from rejecting Rudolph's treatment.

Colton shifted his gaze toward Harvey before revealing a faint smile.

"Let me introduce you, Sienna."

"This man here is Harvey York. Ansel brought him here to treat my injury."

"Since we're all here, we should have a competition."

Ansel wanted to say something, but he couldn't even make a single sound.

Sienna glared at Harvey with a suspicious look.

"Mr. York, which medical school did you graduate from? Which doctor did you work under?"

"I'm not a doctor. I have no medical skills," Harvey replied.

"I only know the Art of Killing."

"Then why are you trying to treat Uncle Torres's injuries?"

Sienna was confused.

"I don't know where you come from, Mr. York..." she said with a bitter look.

"But I have to warn you: if you're only here to trick us, you better leave now."

"Uncle Torres will not let you off the hook. You'll end up horribly if you try to fool him!"

"You can still leave now..."

Naturally, the princess was kind enough to give Harvey a warning even when she had a feeling that he was a conman.

Rudolph naturally had ulterior motives regarding Sienna; he couldn't help but frown after seeing her being so nice to a mere conman.

"Ms. Wright, I heard that there are a lot of barefoot doctors and scammers in Country H, but I didn't think we'd bump into one right here!".

"The doctors' reputation is ruined by people like him! I suggest we throw him out of the door right now!"

"The conman wants to compete against me?!"

"Not a chance!"

Rudolph looked as if he was about to leave if Harvey was allowed to stay.

Sienna felt quite pressured by the turn of events.

She hoped that Rudolph would cure Colton.

However, she was just too nice; she couldn't simply throw someone she had just met out of the front door.

Even if he was just a scammer...

Chapter 3243 Seeing Rudolph's disdainful expression...

Harvey calmly said, "I'm no doctor."

"And you're the legendary Deathbuster."

"If you really are that impressive, why couldn't you fix your own sickness?"

"Every time you feel like doing it, you have no strength to actually go through with it. You feel miserable about it, don't you?" Rudolph's prideful look froze in an instant. He looked at Harvey, filled with disbelief.

He didn't think that Harvey knew about his unspeakable secret!

His reputation would be tarnished if the word about this were to spread!

Rudolph furiously changed his expression.

"You investigated me?!"

Colton and Ansel looked at Rudolph with a strange gaze upon noticing the change in his expression.

They naturally knew what Harvey was talking about.

Sienna was a little dumbfounded, but then she realized what the conversation was about. She couldn't help but swallow her spit, her face bright-red.

"Why would I? Do you think you're some hotshot that I'm interested in?"

Harvey felt speechless.

"Besides, this is our first time seeing each other. How would I have the time to do that?"

"That said, I should warn you..." "Animal intestines are high in estrogen. It's good for your vitality."

"But you're eating that too much." "You're not well-versed in your own sickness. You can't just visit a doctor for that either, since you have such an extraordinary identity. You'll lose it completely if this goes on."

Rudolph's body trembled, and then he froze. One can't see the forest for the trees. Rudolph had been researching his condition for some time; he was sure it wasn't anything too serious! He thought that it was just a mental illness... He didn't expect that it was due to such a simple reason; apparently, his estrogen level was too high because of his love for animal intestines.

Sienna's face was bright red after seeing Rudolph's face of realization.

'He's no good after all.'

'I can't believe he's trying to pursue me!'

Sienna didn't know whether she should remain speechless or thank Harvey at this point.

Rudolph's expression worsened after feeling Sienna's gaze on him.

"I admit, you're pretty good!" he exclaimed, scoffing coldly.

"I heard that you people from Country H are well-versed in eastern medicine! You must be an expert!"

"However, saving lives isn't so simple! We need top-of-the-line medical skills!"

"Is that so?"

Harvey shrugged, nonchalant. "If that's the case, why don't you let us see just how impressive the legendary Deathbuster really is?"

Colton looked highly curious.

He was already quite impressed by Harvey, but he never expected Harvey to be able to make Rudolph suffer this badly with just a few words.

Not to mention, Rudolph was completely embarrassed in front of the princess...

Rudolph took a deep breath, and gestured for his assistants to set up his equipment.

He had no choice but to cure Colton so he could regain his reputation.

Chapter 3244 Rudolph crossed his arms as his assistants pulled out all sorts of precision instruments.

"You've never seen all these things, have you?"

"Let me tell you something: these are special equipment only found in Switzerland! You'd have to work your entire damn life just to have one of these!"

"The doctors in my country use real medical skills to save their patients!"

"I'll show you just how good I am right now!"

Harvey glanced curiously at the equipment for a short while.

"Elder Torres isn't even sick, but you'll probably misdiagnose him as having heart failure."

"I'm no doctor, but I can already tell."

"Don't tell me that you're going to use all this equipment just to do exactly what I predicted."
"Sienna was confused.

"You can tell what's wrong with Uncle Torres?"

"You're not just spouting nonsense, are you?"

Harvey chuckled without giving a reply.

Rudolph coldly scoffed; he felt utterly embarrassed after all the humiliation from before.

He put up a front, and started preparing his equipment to inspect Colton's body.

Rudolph frowned after doing the inspection; he hesitated before saying, "Elder Torres. Judging from the diagnosis, it does seem like heart failure. But based on the other readings on your heart, it looks quite healthy..."

"This strange sickness is affecting you really badly..." "If I'm correct, you'll die in under three months!"

"What?!"

Sienna froze. On one hand, she was shocked by Colton's sickness. On the other hand, she was surprised about Harvey's judgment.

Colton was impressed. He didn't think that Harvey could tell his condition just by a single glance.

There were three months left before the final Lifestealing Finger would take effect. If there was no way to cure it, Colton would definitely die.

The sickness was indeed quite similar to that of heart failure..

And Harvey was able to reveal everything so quickly.

Sienna came to her senses and she looked at Rudolph.

"Can Uncle Torres be saved, Mr. Rudolph?" "Yes," Rudolph replied with a serious look. "There's a thirty percent chance that I'll be able to save him!"

"The only option right now is a heart transplant!" "I need to remind you about the risks, though. If the heart isn't compatible with Elder Torres's body, he will die..."

"That said, the success rate of this operation is the highest one in the entire world right now!"

Rudolph was confident.

He was an expert among experts in heart transplants.

"Thirty percent?"

Colton smiled.

"Simply put, I have a greater chance of dying if I do the surgery." "In that case, I'm done with this. I'll live the rest of my life to the fullest. It's better than dying on the operating table, anyway."

Sienna froze before. Her face was miserable. "Uncle Torres..."

Ansel's expression worsened as well. He never thought that there was only a thirty percent chance that his father could be saved.

At this point, the odds were the same as going against Death itself!

Chapter 3245 Colton chuckled.

"Life and death, poor and rich, it's all destined to be."

"Since there's not a good chance that I'll survive, let's just drop this."

"It's hard for Mr. Rudolph to come all this way here. Write him a 1.5 million dollar check."

Naturally, Colton didn't want to take his last breath on the sick bed.

Rudolph flashed him a bitter smile.

"Thank you for that, Elder Torres..."

"But I'm afraid I cannot accept it." Sienna wasn't planning to give up just yet. "You're the youngest director of the International Medical Federation, Mr. Rudolph! You're a talented man! You're the Deathbuster! Do you really have no other way of helping Uncle Torres?"

"There's no other way!"

Rudolph took a deep breath.

"We either take the chance, or we let him die after three months."

"Not just me, even the chairman of the federation won't be able to help!"

Sienna went silent after hearing Rudolph's words.

Harvey smiled calmly and tapped Rudolph's shoulder. "You have impressive skills, Rudolph, but you lack knowledge." "Country H has an extremely broad history. You wouldn't be able to understand everything just by studying here for a few years. Since that's the case, I won't blame you for this."

"But in the future, you should probably stop showing off."

Harvey narrowed his eyes as he turned to look at Colton.

"Elder Torres. I can cure your sickness."

Sienna's body trembled. She was filled with disbelief.

"Can you? How?"

"Are you saying that you're better than Mr. Rudolph?"

Rudolph's face went bright red after hearing Harvey's words.

A mocking expression crossed his face after Harvey said that he could cure Colton.

He suffered some losses to Harvey just now, but he was still extremely confident in his medical skills! He was sure he had the right judgment.

Colton looked at Harvey, curious.

"What are the chances of me surviving?" he asked. "A hundred percent."

'A hundred percent?!'

Everyone's expressions changed slightly.

Even the Deathbuster himself said that he only had a thirty percent chance of succeeding. Yet, Harvey was confident that he could cure Colton!

"A hundred percent?"

Sienna had a pretty good temper, but she still got upset.

"I don't know where you get this courage to show off like this, Mr. York!"

"But there are some things that you just can't say!"

"Even the best doctors around wouldn't dare say something like that!" "Uncle Torres has a heart disease, after all!" "You'll only give him false hope at this point!" "This is cruel!"

Ansel, meanwhile, took a deep breath.

"I believe Sir York!" he exclaimed with utmost seriousness.

Ansel was shocked by Rudolph's words...

But since the Head Coach himself said that he could save Colton, then that must've been the truth!

Ansel let out a long sigh.

"Heh! A hundred percent?!"

Rudolph looked at Harvey with a mocking glare. "I admit, you're pretty skillful to be able to diagnose Elder Torres with just a single glance!" "However, true talent is needed to save a patient! Not showing off!" "If you can actually cure him, I'll kneel and call you my teacher whenever I see you in the future!"

Chapter 3246 Rudolph believed that his medical skills were unparalleled. He had been treating people from the royal family or the nobility in Northern Europe for many years.

Together with his title as a director of the International Medical Federation, it was safe to say that he was quite influential in the medical world.

Nobody else could save a patient that he himself couldn't help! He was already quite unhappy with Harvey exposing his secret...

Naturally, he was a lot angrier after Harvey showed utter disrespect for him in the field that he was well-versed in.

The assistants and nurses beside Rudolph were glaring disdainfully at Harvey.

They thought that Harvey was just too arrogant.

'Just because he figured out Mr. Rudolph's secret, doesn't mean he gets to show off like that!' 'He can't perform that way, but his medical skills are unparalleled!'

"Would you like to try, Elder Torres?"

Harvey completely ignored Rudolph's insults, and instead looked calmly at Colton.

"As I said, I'm no doctor. However, I do know the Art of Killing." "No matter how terrifying the Lifestealing Finger is, it's still just a technique of the Art of Killing."

"If I can kill, I can save you."

Colton's eyes lit up upon seeing Harvey's calm look.

He was a very experienced man; he could tell that Harvey was absolutely confident in his ability. The latter wouldn't be this calm if that wasn't the case.

"Are you sure you can cure me, Harvey?" Colton asked.

"You're one hundred percent sure?"

"I never go back on my word," Harvey replied calmly. "Right!"

Colton chuckled lightly.

"Since you're that confident, you have my permission to do everything in your power!" Colton was interested in Harvey. He didn't know Harvey's true identity, but he could tell that the youngest son he took pride in trusted Harvey. Colton wanted to see if Harvey was just an arrogant young man, or if he was actually a true talent.

He would know as soon as he accepted Harvey's treatment.

Sienna frowned; she was worried.

She wanted Colton to be cured...

But at the same time, she was afraid that he would be in danger.

Rudolph kept shaking his head.

"You shouldn't, Elder Torres!"

"You're in a precarious situation right now! You might die if you let this nobody operate on you!"

"Heart diseases aren't so easily cured!"

Colton, however, waved his hand in dismissal.

"It's settled!" he said.

"How are you planning to fix me, Harvey?" Sienna glared at Harvey.

"You better not do anything stupid, Harvey! I'll settle scores with you if anything happens to Uncle Torres!"

Harvey ignored Sienna, and turned back to Colton. "Of course, we'll fix the problem the way you got it in the first place."

"I'll heal you the exact same way you got injured."

"That's why I need your full cooperation."

Colton frowned before nodding lightly.

"Right! I'll do as you say." Harvey then turned his gaze on Ansel. "Tie him up. Make sure he doesn't move a single inch."

Ansel trusted Harvey; he instantly found a rope to tie up and hold down Colton as soon as he heard Harvey's orders.

Rudolph's assistants and nurses watched the show with mocking expressions. 'What's he trying to do?'

'Is he trying to cast a spell or something?' 'What a damn joke!'
