Chapter 3307

Harvey turned speechless.

"But I'm really not interested in this. I don't want to be the master of Longmen, either."

"I know you don't care about reputation, Sir York."

"But there are some things only you can do."

"If Longmen falls, so will the underworld. If that happens, the country will follow." "Are you just going to watch as outsiders ravage our country?"

Harvey became completely speechless upon hearing Colton's words.

After a moment, he sighed.

"At this point, I'll be seen as ignorant if I don't go."

"Where do I sign up? I'll go take a look."

"No need."

Colton brought out a registration form with a signature on it.

He happily handed the paper to Harvey.

"Just sign the paper here."

"Right. The representative of Flutwell will be chosen tomorrow. You'll be competing at the Flutwell Gymnasium. Don't miss it!"

When Colton gave him a list of things to keep in mind during the competition, Harvey felt like he was being tricked into the situation.

But at this point, he had no choice but to go along with everything

After putting the papers aside, Harvey was reminded of another thing.

"Right, Elder Torres. I caused some trouble for the Indians this afternoon."

"This wouldn't affect me in the competition, right?"

Colton's hand, which was holding a cup, shivered. Some of the tea inside spilled out.

"Who? Who is it?" he asked instinctively.

Naturally, the Indians' influence in Flutwell was quite immense, with prominent figures all around the place. If that wasn't the case, Colton wouldn't be so shocked in the first place.

"Some guy called Nolan Myers. He's the military advisor of the Bharata Business Council," Harvey said truthfully.

"There's also a man named Aaron Garcia."

"I slapped Nolan around for a bit and then crippled Aaron completely." "I demanded a statement from them tomorrow as well." "After all, they kept going after my sister-in-law and hurt my wife." "This needed to happen."

"So it's Nolan..."

Colton took a deep breath. Then, he smiled faintly.

"I thought you were insane enough to go against Cody Garcia himself when you just got here." "It's fine as long as it's not him."

Harvey was curious.

"Cody Garcia? Is he strong?"

"He is," Colton replied, wearing a grave expression.

"That man is one of India's three Demon Monks. For the past few years, he's been training in Flutwell in the name of exchanging martial arts." "Not only did the Golden Palace allow his request, but they also made him the Outer Elder."

"The Bharata Business Council's influence became stronger because of this."

"It might seem like things are sailing smoothly for them because of the Bauer family's help..."

"But in truth, Cody is their one true support."

"The Bharata Business Council wouldn't ask for his help if it isn't anything too dire."

"Of course, there's no need to be scared of Cody if he does show up. I'll stand up for you."

"Thank you for that."

Harvey didn't think about that too much, anyway.

"In any case, since it's all come down to this, I'll gladly put this behind me if they give me a proper statement."

"But if they're still planning to go against me, I wouldn't mind destroying the Bharata Business Council."

Chapter 3308 Even though Harvey was quite discreet and didn't have too much ambition... He wouldn't just sit still and let someone trample all over him.

For the sake of impressing Noal with his attitude and courage, Harvey decided to give the Bharata Business Council another chance.

If they didn't change their ways and kept going for Harvey, he wouldn't mind dealing with them once and for all...

Colton did not say another word to doubt Harvey's confidence.

In reality, he had already said good things about Harvey to the Bharata Business Council before he came here.

Logically speaking, the matter would pass quickly.

After reminding Harvey to join the Longmen Summit tomorrow, Colton then stood up and left.

Harvey lay on the reclining chair and closed his eyes; he didn't pay too much mind to the Bharata Business Council.

Two hours later, rapid footsteps could be heard approaching

"This is bad, Sir York!"

Rachel ran over with an anxious look.

Harvey froze.

"Did something happen in the hospital again?"

"No!"

Rachel took a deep breath.

"It was Flutwell Hotel!"

"Half an hour ago, a large group of inspectors raided the hotel and took the place down! No body dared to do something like that for the longest time!"

"Hundreds and millions of dollars of gambling money was confiscated ! Aaron and the other higher-ups were arrested as well!"

"Flutwell Hotel – no, the entire city of Flutwell is in an uproar..."

Rachel kept watch of Flutwell Hotel in case something would happen, but she didn't actually think that anything would actually happen, let alone something this terrifying

Harvey sat up straight. A frown appeared on his face.

"Flutwell Hotel's been taken down?"

Harvey was planning to do something similar, though he wanted to see what kind of statement Nolan would give after giving up. Not only did that plan fail, but the Flutwell Hotel was also taken down, with the higher-ups all arrested.

In other people's eyes, this seemed like Harvey's revenge!

"Someone's trying to make me the scapegoat..."

Harvey laughed.

"It'd be weird if the Bharata Business Council didn't blame me for this."

Rachel had a horrible expression; she couldn't even smile. "After such a big conflict, anyone would put the blame on us!"

"Before, we said we'd call the cops!" "Even if we didn't actually do such a thing, there's no way for us to refute."

"I contacted Ansel just now. He said he didn't know about this, either. Apparently, a lower branch was in charge of the case."

"The procedures, reasoning, clues, and other details seemed pretty fair as well. The higher-ups weren't able to find anything fishy about it."

"But... Not only did they not ask for Ansel's permission to do something like this, but they even made it so that everyone in Flutwell knew about it. There's no way anyone without a strong background and support could pull this off." Harvey smiled.

"One problem after another..."

"Someone's trying to force my hand against the Bharata Business Council."

"They're even using Cody to kill me at this point..."

"Pretty impressive!"

Chapter 3309

Rachel's phone started vibrating at that moment. Someone had sent her a text.

After looking at the text, Rachel's expression worsened.

"We know who did this. It was the outer disciple of Longmen's Law Enforcement, Mitchell's men."

"That said, you have control over Longmen's Law Enforcement."

"Whether you like it or not, you'll have to take the blame!"

"What do we do? Should we tell everyone about this person?"

"No need," Harvey replied.

"We can figure out who's leading the group. The Bharata Business Council aren't idiots. They know this."

"But since Mitchell's already dead, it's only natural that they put all the blame on me."

"If we say we have nothing to do with them, we'll be slapping ourselves in the face!"

"Pretty impressive move, I'd say!"

"They're trying to make us panic while also keeping us quiet at the same time..."

"Interesting."

"So you're saying that you know who it is already?"

Rachel was shocked.

"It's simple, really. Or rather, the enemy never intended to hide it anyway. After all, you and I both know that

- Mitchell belongs to Joseph."
- "If not him, then who else is responsible for this?"

"So we..."

Harvey waved his hand around.

"Joseph did this to force me to go against the Bharata Business Council."

"At the same time, he's hoping I'd get distracted so I won't participate in the Longmen Summit."

Harvey revealed a profound look.

"But why should we follow his lead?"

"We'll deal with the Bharata Business Council. We'll join the summit as well."

"Joseph likes to play tricks, doesn't he?" "We'll see how he likes it when we take down one of his supporters..."

"Send Kayden to the Bharata Business Council."

"I changed my mind.
I want my statement tonight." "If they can't give me anything, I'll destroy them immediately!"

Ten o'clock at night, in the Bharata Club.

Kayden and a dozen of his companions charged the king sized box at the end of the hallway and kicked the door down.

Kayden's face was cold, and his eyes were a fierce glare.

Ten tables could be seen inside the box.

A few people were seated around every single one of the tables. Indian bodyguards with fire arms were posted all over the place.

Eli sat in the middlemost seat, with his legs crossed and a cigar in his mouth. It was quite a fearsome sight.

Eight Indian women were serving him, all bearing sweet smiles.

Not far away from him, Bohdi was singing a random song off-tune. The sound was no different than the sound of pigs being slaughtered.

Even so, the people around him were happily cheering for him.

Kayden walked forward with his men and kicked the screen down. The place went dead silent immediately after.

Bohdi narrowed his eyes before glancing at Kayden.

"I was wondering who it was. Aren't you the leader of the Hatchet Gang?" he said, chuckling coldly. "What? Did you forget that you're the worst out of the Gang of Six?"

"Have you considered the consequences of showing off in our turf?»

Chapter 3310

Bohdi clapped his hands. Immediately after, his companions stood up and glared coldly at Kayden.

The bodyguards weren't hiding their murderous intent any longer.

Kayden completely ignored those people and walked toward Eli.

"Young Master Burton, right?" he said while squinting.

I SO

"Sir York got me here to tell you something." "He doesn't want a statement tomorrow. He wants it now."

"Sir York? Who's that?"

Eli was confused.

"Oh? Aren't you Head Balmer? I was wondering why an idiot is running around the place!"

"It's been a while! I didn't know you became the kept man's subordinate!"

"You're one of the leaders of the Gang of Six! Your gang's well-renowned!"

"Why are you working for somebody else?"

"I guess Hatchet Gang is only good for showing off at this point..."

Eli blew out a puff of smoke; he was looking down on Kayden completely. The women there were giggling with their mouths covered. They firmly believed Kayden was looking for his death

"Enough talk, Eli."

Kayden changed the subject immediately.

"I'll ask you again: how are you planning to give a statement for beating up Mandy Zimmer?"

"A statement?"

"You're asking me?"

"Harvey wants it?"

Eli scoffed arrogantly.

"You think I don't know anything?"

"That man called the cops to clean up Flutwell Hotel! Advisor Myers and Head Garcia got arrested because of him!"

"You realize what that means, right?"

"He poked the f*cking hornet's nest!"

"Young Master Garcia won't let him go for this!"

"He's done for!"

"You think a man like that has the right to demand a statement from me?!"

Eli stood up and tapped Kayden's face with an arrogant look.

"You think he's worthy of a statement?"

"And you—have you considered the consequences of

- working for a damn outsider who's about to be dealt with?"
- Kayden's expression worsened; he didn't think Eli would be so disrespectful.

"Let me make it clear to you since you're the leader of the Hatchet Gang!" Eli exclaimed.

"Harvey's already dead for laying his hands on our money tree!"

"It doesn't matter how strong he is! He's done for!"

"As for you, I'll keep you alive if you kneel and call me Daddy! Don't forget to lick my shoes, too!"

"If you don't, I'll make sure your life is a living hell!"

"What did you say to me, you b*stard?!" Kayden screamed furiously.

Eli scoffed before flicking the cigar ash away with a small grin.

"What did I say?"

"I admit, I should watch who I go against in a place like Flutwell."

"I might've been scared of you before, Kayden..."

"But now that your support's dead, you'll end up the same soon enough!"

"You're still trying to show off in front of me now? How

- are you still not changing sides yet?"

"Do you want to die?!"

Eli tapped Kayden's face with a grin; he couldn't give a damn about how Kayden felt.

The beautiful women were laughing disdainfully at Kayden as well. 'That's one of the leaders of the Gang of Six?'

'He's a nobody compared to Young Master Burton!'

Chapter 3311

Kayden slapped Eli's hand away, his gaze ice.

Eli revealed a deep smile, planning to cross the line even further.

"How about this? Let's not talk about Harvey for now." "After all, Young Master Garcia wants him dead. Us small fries don't have the right to get involved."

"At most, I can promise you that Harvey will have one of his arms left to beg for food on the streets when Young Master Garcia wants to break all of his limbs. I'll make sure to plead for that, at least."

"But you'll have to return the favor."

"I really like Xynthia Zimmer!"

"I miss her so much that I just can't sleep!"

"You're a good person, Head Balmer."

"Why don't you send her straight to my bed and release me from my pain?"

Eli blew a puff of smoke on Kayden's face before bursting out laughing.

"Don't you worry. I'll thank you properly after that."

"I'll have to return the favor somehow, right?"

Bohdi and the others scoffed. They believed Kayden wouldn't dare go against Eli.

Kayden's expression worsened.

"You're saying you're not going to do as I say?"

I

"You're planning to go against me?" Eli laughed.

"That's right! You local powerhouses are mine to trample on!”

“You have a death wish or something?!” Kayden snarled. “I’ll be damned if I don’t kill you right now!”

Eli shrugged before revealing a small grin.

“Right. There’s something I forgot to tell you.”

“Young Master Garcia will be back from India after his work.”

“His plane will show up half an hour later.”

“You want to kill me?”

“Try it, then!”

“See if that b*stard Harvey can protect you!”

Bam!

The door was kicked down once again.

Harvey and Rachel could be seen walking in soon after.

“Why should I protect someone from dealing with useless filth like you?”

A cold tone with an aura of an elite could be heard.

Harvey crossed his arms with a calm look, but his words made him seem unbelievably confident.

The crowd went dead silent upon seeing Harvey show up.

After all, this was the man who went up against Nolan and Aaron.

These people had no choice but to fear Harvey.

"Oh? You're finally here."

Eli held his cigar in his mouth. His lips bore a cold smile.

"Now, we can finally settle our scores!"

Bohdi held his butt cheeks, a resentful look on his face.

He never forgot what had happened that fateful night.

Every single person in the room stood up instantly.

They were all glaring at Harvey. Clearly, he was the main target.

Harvey ignored them completely and said calmly, "You're right. It's time to settle the scores."

"If you don't give me a statement tonight, I'll give you one instead."

The beautiful women looked disdainfully at Harvey upon hearing his words.

'Even Kayden, one of the leaders of the Gang of Six, wouldn't dare go against Eli.'

'What can this man do?'

'Call the cops?'

Everyone wore scornful gazes as they recalled the incident.

Chapter 3312 "Sir York!"

Eli frowned upon seeing the sight before him.

Kayden walked toward Harvey respectfully, and then bowed at Harvey with his hands flattened neatly at the sides.

Eli's heart skipped a beat. He kept insulting Kayden, but he knew full well that Kayden was still one of Flutwell's gang leaders.

Kayden belonged to the Gang of Six!

Even if Kayden belonged to the worst gang out of the six, seeing him acting so respectful toward Harvey was enough to show Harvey's strength.

However, Eli didn't understand what was so special about the kept man who needed help from the cops.

Eli didn't pay too much mind to it, though.

After all, Harvey's fate had already been sealed the moment he called the cops to clean up Flutwell Hotel.

Frankie would stop at nothing to kill him.

"You should just let me handle this, Sir York," Kayden said respectfully.

"You didn't have to come on your own."

"Since Young Master Burton laid his hands on my wife and hospitalized her for a few whole weeks..."

"Surely I'll have to repay the favor myself, right?"

Harvey tapped Kayden's shoulder before glaring coldly at Eli.

"Fancy seeing you again, Young Master Burton!"

"Did your brain get damaged after all that drinking?"

"You couldn't win against me, so you resort to underhanded tricks?"

"You're scared of me, so you went against my wife instead?"

"Do you have a death wish?"

"Or are you saying that you had a little too much fun that night and got carried away?"

Bohdi felt a sharp pain behind him after hearing those words; he thought blood was flowing right out of his butt cheeks...

He glared furiously at Harvey, gritting his teeth.

"How dare you talk about that, you b*stard?!"

"I'll kill you!"

"I don't think you can."

Harvey laughed.

Bohdi was boiling with anger when he stepped forward. "Calm yourself, Young Master Bohdi. Don't get so worked up about this."

Eli looked at Bohdi before shifting his gaze toward Harvey, a smile on his face.

"It's been a few days."

"You're not a kept man anymore, are you?"

">

"Interesting..."

"No wonder you'd dare go against both Aaron and Advisor Myers!"

"That said, you'll have to pay the price for going against the Bharata Business Council!"

"You can't escape! Xynthia, your parents, and even your ancestors will end up the same as you!"

"The moment you went against me, your fate was sealed!"

Eli wanted to rip Harvey to shreds when he recalled the romantic night he had with Bohdi in the bathroom stall.

Harvey was just too ruthless...

"Is that so? You're still threatening me at this point?" Harvey said calmly.

"Not only are you not giving me a fair statement, but you're also still showing off here?"

"Aren't you scared I'd kill you?" "Kill me?"

Eli burst out laughing, his face disdainful.

"You can't even protect yourself! What right do you have to kill me?"

"Can you even touch me?! You wouldn't dare!"

Eli swayed his cigar around with a proud look.

Frankie, his support, was about to arrive! Why would he be scared of anything?

Chapter 3313

Harvey smiled politely.

"There's something you may not know, Young Master

Burton."

"In my eyes, you're no different than the stray dogs running around outside."

Bohdi's face turned fierce and he screamed, "What did you say, you b*stard?!"

"Say it again and I'll kill you! I dare you!"

Eli waved his hand to calm Bohdi and the others.

He sized up Harvey, and scoffed.

"Come, Sir York. I'm right here! Do it!"

"Do it for your wife!"

"Can you?"

"Or rather, are you even worthy?!"

Eli's face bore utter disdain. In his eyes, not only did Harvey lack the courage to do something like this, but Harvey also didn't have the right for it.

Harvey wouldn't dare, nor was he even worthy.

The beautiful women glared at Harvey with contempt.

"This b*stard can only play dirty and call the cops! What useless filth!"

'How can someone like this even dream of going against Young Master Burton?'

Bam!

Harvey wasted no time grabbing a beer bottle and slamming it on Eli's head.

It was a quick and powerful swing; nobody could even react to it.

Eli's head was covered in blood, beer, and glass shards.

The cigar he was holding fell to the ground as well.

Psssh!

Harvey didn't stop there. After picking up the cigar, he pressed the butt of it right on Eli's head.

"Aaah!"

Screams of pain could be heard, the sound just like pigs being slaughtered.

Eli had been pampered his entire life. He had never been treated like this before.

He kept struggling, trying to get away from the scolding hot cigar.

But Harvey had no intention to let him go; while he was still screaming, Harvey shoved the cigar right into his mouth.

"Guh—"

His screams grew louder. Tears rolled down Eli's face as he tried to endure all that pain.

The crowd was shocked.

Bohdi and the rest were dumbfounded. Nobody expected Harvey to be so reckless. Eli's bodyguards were at a complete loss. The sight was enough to make them forget about their job.

The beautiful women shrieked in fear before they hurriedly covered their mouths.

They didn't want to attract Harvey's attention. They'd be done for if that was the case!

Right there and then, everyone understood.

There was no way Harvey was just a kept man!

He was ruthless!

Bohdi came to his senses soon after.

"Get them!" he yelled.

The bodyguards and companions let out a furious roar before charging ahead with their weapons in hand.

Rachel calmly took a step forward and grabbed one of them with her bare hands, and then slapped him to the ground.

Pffft!

A mouthful of blood gushed right out of his mouth. It was a wretched sight.

Without even batting an eye, Rachel immediately sent him flying toward the rest of the enemies with a single kick. They quickly tumbled to the ground.

"Sir York's in the middle of something right now. I'll kill whoever disturbs him! Mark my words!" Rachel threatened.

Her cold tone was enough to keep the crowd still.

Bohdi and the others exchanged frightened glances; they wouldn't dare take another step forward.

Chapter 3314

Bam!

Harvey calmly picked up another beer bottle before slamming it on Eli's head again without restraint.

"Since you won't give me a statement, I'll come get one myself."

"This one's for my wife!"

Bam!

"This one's for my sister-in-law!"

Bam!

"This one's for my mother-in-law!"

Harvey shattered three whole bottles in just an instant. Eli's head was completely covered in blood and glass shards as he screamed in pain.

The beautiful girls had never seen that much blood in their entire lives; they screamed fearfully as they took a few steps back, their expressions horrible.

"So what if I hit you?"

Harvey tapped Eli's shoulder.

"Nolan's no different than a stray dog to me. Aaron kneeled in front of me as well..."

"Who do you think you are?"

"You think you're that powerful? You're just a damn worm."

Eli gritted his teeth, filled with unbridled rage.

"You insult us noble people, and you still won't stop hitting me! Do you realize the consequences of your own actions?!"

Naturally, in Eli's eyes, people like him shouldn't be humiliated.

--

Slap!

Harvey swung the back of his palm across Eli's face.

"Noble people?" "Consequences?"

"Even Nolan wouldn't dare show off in front of me. What right do you think you have?"

Slap!

"You can come at me all you want, but you went to get my wife instead! Since that's the case, you pretty much have a death wish!"

Slap!

"I'll break your damn legs today! You'll see just how much you overestimate yourself!"

"That said, I know you're resentful about this!"

"That's why I'm giving you a chance!"

"Aren't you people supposed to be impressive?"

"Come on! Make a phone call! See if anyone's coming for you!"

Harvey sent Eli flying with another slap on the face.

Bohdi and the others were at a complete loss.

'He has completely disrespected both Eli and Frankie ...'

'And now he's telling Eli to call someone?!'

'How arrogant can he get?!'

Harvey's actions were incomprehensible to them.

Eli stumbled off the ground and resentfully dialed a number...

Vroom!

Half an hour later, the sounds of engines were roaring outside. A few dozen SUVs could be seen surrounding the entire place.

Under the dim light, two hundred people hopped out of the cars.

They were clad in black suits, and wielded baseball bats. Their murderous intent could be clearly seen on their faces. The sight would make anyone nervous.

They weren't in a rush to take action; after getting in the king-sized box, they sealed off the place completely.

Six people could be seen getting out of their cars soon after.

A middle-aged man was leading the group. He wore a suit and a pair of golden-framed glasses, and emanated really thick perfume.

The man looked quite similar to Eli.

The good-looking women around him had impressive figures and domineering auras as well.

Their eyes were cold as they followed the man into the box.

Chapter 3315

A bald young man in a robe was following behind the middle-aged man. He strutted into the box pompously, as if he was the king of the world.

An imposing aura could be felt from the middle-aged man as he walked in steadily with his companions.

In the box, Harvey was sipping his tea with his legs crossed when he saw the middle-aged man.

"Who are you?"

"You don't look like Frankie at all..."

"How dare you?!"

The middle-aged man took off his glasses and cleaned them with some tissues.

"You must be Harvey."

His eyes were cold.

'A skinny young man. Even though his aura is quite special, he's still just an ordinary person...'

'Eli's completely useless at this point. He couldn't deal with one man even when he brought so many allies with him. He even had to ask for my help.'

'This son of mine is no good for me...'

Harvey didn't react to the man's questions, and instead looked at the man curiously. He could tell that this man belonged to the Burton family after a few quick glances. Eli made himself sound so impressive, but his status was still too low.

He had no right to call Frankie.

That was why he called his father instead.

"CEO Burton's asking you a question! Are you deaf?!" After seeing Harvey's judgemental look, the bald young man took a step forward and revealed a fierce glare.

Harvey ignored the young man completely.

"You're Eli's father?"

The young man exploded in anger.

"You think you can just say Young Master Burton's name as you please?!"

The beautiful women shot Harvey disdainful looks upon hearing those words.

'How dare he call Young Master Burton's name like that!'

'Who does he think he is?'

"Calm down, Boris."

"I told you. It's not all about fighting and killing people. Give them a chance to speak first."

"It's a hassle if I have to question a damn corpse every single time."

The middle-aged man waved his hand to stop Boris, the bald man, from taking another step. His tone was very calm, but the threat in his words could be felt clearly.

Ordinary people would be scared to death at that point.

The middle-aged man squinted at Harvey before giving him a warm smile.

"Let me introduce myself. My name is Donnie Burton. I am a Kshatriya from the Burton family."

"I'm also Eli's father."

"Oh? So what? Are you going to stand up for your dear son?" Harvey asked calmly.

"I basically understood everything that happened."

Donnie revealed a faint smile before putting on his glasses.

He didn't have a bossy look like Eli, but he did seem a lot more elegant.

"I think there's no point to bring up who's in the wrong here."

"We're all adults. There is no right and wrong, only the strong and the weak."

"Would you agree?"

"So what if I do? So what if I don't?" Harvey's tone remained calm.

"It doesn't matter."

Donnie smiled calmly.

"At least, not to me."

"I came here for one thing..."

"And that is to stand up for my son and take him home."

"Are you going to cripple yourself? Or are you waiting for my men to do it for you?"

Donnie revealed a gentle look.

Chapter 3316 Donnie Burton's words were gentle and structured. He was on another level than Eli Burton, who had been acting all high and mighty. That said, Eli's tone was quite unpleasant. Boris slammed the table and screamed, "Do you hear that?!"

"Are you going to cripple yourself?! Or are you letting me do it for you?!"

"I'm asking for a fee if you need my help!"

After hearing those words, the beautiful women beside Donnie looked down on Harvey York.

'Other than kneeling and begging for mercy, what else can a loser like that do when he's going against Donnie?'

"You want me to cripple myself?"

"So you can stand up for your son?"

Harvey let out a chuckle with a gentle look on his face.

"But I'm not even done with your baby boy attempting to force himself on my sister-in-law..."

"He even beat up my wife."

"And yet you're still standing up for your son?"

"How can you not distinguish right from wrong?"

"Or are you saying that all Kshatriyas are just shameless like you?"

Harvey was showing a profound look on his face.

He could tell Donnie was not trying to flaunt his strength. He was merely trying to disrespect Harvey.

Harvey did not hold back his laughter.

"You're laughing?!"

"You're f*cking laughing?!"

Boris slammed his fist on the marble table, shattering it to pieces.

"Do it already! I'll f*cking kill you if you don't!"

Harvey kept a straight face against the threat. He calmly looked at Donnie, as if he had total control over the situation.

Donnie took a huff from his long, thin cigar before squinting at Harvey.

"I know that you have connections with the Torres family

...

"But, you should know that they belong to the government.

"The Torres family isn't the most powerful in Flutwell, though.

"The Bauer family and the Golden Palace are!

"They can make you disappear with just a single word!

"Do you really think that nobody in Flutwell knows who you are? You're just a live-in son-in-law who got kicked out of your own family!

"I can make your life a living hell with just a single nod!

Donnie showed a compassionate look, as if he was giving advice to his friends.

"Besides, both your wife and sister-in-law are perfectly fine.

"But my son here is covered in blood. Aren't you supposed to give me an explanation about this instead?"

Since everything happened so suddenly, Donnie's information was quite limited.

He read the documents about Harvey's connections with the Torres family, but he believed that the Bharata

Business Council, the Bauer family, and the Golden Palace were supporting him.

That was why he never thought that Harvey was anything impressive.

After all, what could a live-in son-in-law even do?

The beautiful women showed playful expressions when they heard about Harvey being a live-in son-in-law.

They hated kept men like these the most.

Harvey only cracked a smile after being constantly pressured by Donnie's words.

"Do you think I can't go against you?"

"Are you really that confident?"

Chapter 3317

Donnie Burton chuckled coldly with his arms spread out.

"I'm not trying to ruffle your feathers, but there are some people you shouldn't be provoking in the first place."

Donnie believed that he was incredibly patient.

If it were not for him turning over a new leaf, he would still be using violence.

He would have slapped Harvey York across his face at this moment.

"Two things.

Harvey remained indifferent.

"Number one. I'll cripple Eli Burton no matter what. Nobody can protect him. Mark my words.

"Number two. Since it's the parent's fault for not teaching their own child, you should kneel for him instead.

"If not, I wouldn't mind razing your entire family to the damn ground.

"I'll personally remove you from Flutwell.'

Donnie's face twitched before he let out an awkward scoff.

"You want to remove us from Flutwell?"

"Since you're so confident, I think I'd like to see you try!"

The beautiful women were chuckling derisively after hearing those words.

'How dare he say something like that?!'

'How ignorant can he get?!'

Harvey took a sip of his tea and calmly replied, "You'll regret saying that."

"This kid's so f*cking arrogant, CEO Burton! Let me have a go at him!

At the time, Boris' murderous intent was blatantly obvious.

"I'll give you three minutes! If you don't kneel and break your own limbs, I'll do it myself!

"I'll kill off every single one of you after that!"

Boris clapped his hands before two hundred people surrounding the place stepped forward.

The beautiful women squinted their eyes as they kept laughing at Harvey.

They thought that Harvey had crossed the line and that he would end up horribly after infuriating Boris.

Harvey let out a chuckle as he glanced at Donnie.

"You should at least put your dog on a leash.

"Unless you really want it to bite me."

Donnie immediately chuckled,

"I can't keep him down, though! "I don't like to talk with my fist, but my brothers and sisters are all India's upperclassmen.

"If they don't like you, even I won't be able to do anything about it.

"I gave you a chance, Harvey. If you don't appreciate it, I won't waste my time on you either!

"I tried talking to you all this while so that you can have a chance to survive. After all, if you just crippled yourself, you would've been able to walk out of here safe and sound.

"Who knew that you were this ungrateful... "Do you really think that you're actually on par with a nobleman like me?

"Don't be naive. You won't have that right even after twenty years.

"I'm giving you one last chance. Kneel and break your arms in one minute. Only then I'll let you go.

"If you're still acting this way, don't blame me for what happens next."

Donnie took a few steps back before calmly looking at Harvey.

Obviously, he was prepared to let Boris do his job if Harvey kept fighting back.

The eyes of those beautiful women lit up instantly. They loved the confident attitude when Donnie was sure that he would win no matter what.

After all, men like this would usually attract the ladies' attention.

Compared to him, Harvey was just an ugly country bumpkin, a damn loser!

Harvey just chuckled.

"What? You're going to come at me with numbers?"

Donnie also let out a chuckle.

"You shouldn't say that, Sir York! That simply isn't the case!

"We have two hundred when you only have three right now...

"But we still only have two hundred if you bring more here.

"Call for backup then if you can!"

Chapter 3318

Harvey York let out a chuckle.

"Fine. I'll call someone here then."

The women glared at Harvey coldly as they scoffed.

'He's still trying to pretend?'

'What's the point?'

Boris strutted forward with a wretched smile on his face.

"You're still not kneeling? Are you waiting for me to get furious?"

Two hundred bodyguards started moving forward.

Harvey heaved a long sigh before he snapped his fingers.

Tap tap tap!

Clamoring and rapid footsteps could be heard coming from outside the box.

The sound felt especially resounding in total darkness . The crowd's hearts could not help but skip a few beats at this moment.

"Who is it?"

Donnie Burton and the others instinctively turned around.

They were all shocked when they saw what was behind them.

A few figures could be seen from inside...

They were wearing suits with hatchets in hand, showing emotionless expressions.

But then, the sound came from every single direction.

"One thousand men of the Hatchet Gang at your service, Sir York!"

The sound alone from those people was so terrifying!

The Hatchet Gang had the box completely surrounded ! The bodyguards were outnumbered one to five!

The women were all shocked by the sight.

'At his service?

Those simple words were enough to frighten the crowd. They never thought a thousand people would just show up out of nowhere with a single snap of Harvey's fingers.

Considering only the important members of the gang, only about a thousand knew how to fight.

But every single one of them came!

Simply put, Kayden Balmer had bet everything he had on Harvey!

Donnie was already keeping his guard up by bringing two hundred people to deal with Harvey.

But Harvey still managed to play him down somehow.

Compared to the thousand men of the Hatchet Gang, a mere two hundred bodyguards meant absolutely nothing.

The women were so shocked that they had to retreat a few steps back.

Boris was also showing a horrible look on his face.

"Who the Hell are you?!"

Donnie was not an idiot. At this point, he clearly understood something was wrong with his intel.

He furiously glared at Harvey.

"I've never heard of someone like you in Flutwell before!" exclaimed Donnie coldly.

Donnie was quite the prominent figure himself. He would occasionally hang out with the young masters here.

A powerful character like Harvey must have been extremely well-known!

How come he only heard of him just before?

After seeing the furious looks from Kayden and the others, Donnie realized he had gone up against someone way out of his league.

The Hatchet Gang was the worst out of the Gang of Six, but seeing every single gang member gathered in one place was still terrifying.

"There are tens of thousands of people here in Flutwell. You're just an outsider. Obviously, there's still a lot that you don't know about.

"Why are you this surprised?"

Harvey calmly glanced at Boris and the others.

"Enough talk.

"Kneel and surrender. I'll let you live if you do."

Kayden took a step forward.

"Kneel! Surrender!" he exclaimed.

There were a thousand men on Harvey's side!

This was utter domination!

Boris and the others were utterly shocked. They were the ones who insisted Harvey to call for backup in the first place...

But this was just insane!
