Chapter 3413

For Harvey, nobody could stop him from killing Cody.

Cody's son, disciple, and so many of his people had been taken out by Harvey.

There would be a lot of trouble if the situation wasn't dealt with then and there.

Harvey had no choice.

"Do you have a death wish?!"

Clara was infuriated upon hearing Harvey's calm words.

"You're insane!"

"Do you realize who you're dealing with here?"

"Do you know what the Golden Palace represents?"

"Do you know who Master Garcia is to us?!"

"We're in the middle of the day!"

"You're being a little too arrogant!"

"We haven't even settled scores with you for killing Freddy yet!"

"And now, you're here beating people up again?!"

"Not only are you being disrespectful to the deceased, but you're disrespecting every single one of us!"

"Who gave you such courage?!"

Clara shot Harvey a frosty look as she lectured him.

"On behalf of the Golden Palace's Law Enforcement, I'm warning you..."

"Surrender now and wait for us to deal with you!"

"If you resist, then don't blame us for what happens next!"

"There's evidence of you killing Freddy anyway! You're caught red-handed right now!"

"Nobody will say a word even if I shoot you right here!"

Clara tilted her head. The people behind her unsheathed their swords and surrounded Harvey.

They had disdainful looks, as if they had already won. They were confident they would be able to trample on Harvey.

Harvey looked at Clara, intrigued. He didn't think that the woman from the Golden Palace would be so hostile towards him.

She didn't even hesitate to take action.

But he realized something...

She didn't seem like a woman from Country H at all.

This woman was clearly from India; or at least, she had roots that belonged there.

Judging from Harvey's relationship with the Indians, it would be odd if she didn't decide to take him out.

Simply put, Clara was abusing her powers for a personal grudge.

Harvey smiled calmly, but his eyes glared coldly at Clara.

"You can't just say things like that."

"Freddy was killed by a servant of the John family. It has nothing to do with me."

"Frankie knew about the truth, yet he was still trying to frame me for it. I only crippled him out of self-defense. It's only natural, right?"

"Cody had almost a hundred people surrounding me. He wanted vengeance; what else could I do besides fight my way out?"

"Don't tell me that I'm the one who surrounded them and made them fight for their lives!"

"They've been trying to kill me and frame me so many times."

"And yet, the Golden Palace's Law Enforcement won't uphold justice for me even though you claim you control Flutwell's underworld?"

"Now that I've fought my way out, you barge in here pretending to be Captain America, saying that you represent both the law and the truth?" 1

"Don't you think that's a little ridiculous?"

Chapter 3414

Harvey didn't hesitate to humiliate Clara.

Clara's expression kept changing; she naturally understood full well what Harvey was saying.

However, she chose to ignore him.

"I'm not aware of that. Anyway, you have no proof for your words!" she snarled, glaring icily at Harvey.

"It's useless running your mouth in front of me!"

"I can see you hurting people—you're trying to kill people right in front of my eyes!"

"Master Garcia is a servant of the Golden Palace!"

"Not only are you ruining the reputation of the underworld..."

"But you'll also cause a diplomatic dispute and ruin Country H's image!"

"From this perspective, you're the villain!"

"Forget arresting you..."

"You deserve to be shot dead at this point!"

"I don't care why you decided to do this! You need to drop your weapon and accept your punishment right now!"

Clara was clearly challenging Harvey then and there.

"Try to disobey me if you want!"

"You'll learn exactly why the Golden Palace is considered one of the sacred martial arts training grounds!"

Naturally, as a part of the Golden Palace's Law

Enforcement, Clara was filled to the brim with confidence.

Even people from Longmen would have to show her respect.

She was not only bossy, but she was also as arrogant as one could be.

Cody couldn't help but laugh at the sight.

"Harvey is a ruthless and shameless man!"

"If he wasn't threatening me with my disciple's life for an opportunity to sneak up on me, I couldn't possibly have lost!"

"You need to give me justice! Give me and the Indians here a fair statement!"

Cody started fanning the flames, as he was afraid Clara and the others would be scared off. He decided to paint Harvey in a bad light in hopes that such a thing wouldn't happen.

He wanted everyone to know that Harvey wasn't really that strong.

Clara raised her head high upon hearing Cody's words, her face filled with pride.

"Don't you worry, Master Garcia. I'll make sure of that!"

"This is our duty, after all!"

"We'll make sure that the underworld stays in balance!"

Clara glared coldly at Harvey after giving her righteous speech.

"Are you really prepared to die fighting us?" she exclaimed.

"Have you thought of the consequences of doing that?"

"Consequences?"

Harvey chuckled, not giving a straight answer.

"You conspire with the enemy to take advantage of someone without even figuring out right from wrong, but have you considered the consequences of doing that?"

"I won't talk about how you're pointing fingers at whoever everyone else is pointing at. Judging from your intelligence, you won't understand what I'm saying."

"But... Aren't you scared of what I can do if I get angry?"

"Can I take that as a threat, Harvey York?"

Carla's face was ice.

"Enough talk. Just know that you made a big mistake here!"

"Keep yapping, and I'll make sure that you pay for it!"

"I'll shoot you dead and then whip your damn corpse on the ground!"

"By then, you'll know that the Golden Palace isn't to be trifled with!"

Chapter 3415

To Clara, naturally...

Harvey was just a small fry. She was infuriated that someone like that dared to question her authority.

Feeling

that her pride was being challenged; she unsheathed her sword covered in jewelry before pointing it at Harvey's throat.

"Grovel and surrender!" she coldly exclaimed.

"I'll kill you if you don't!"

"Idiots..."

Harvey scoffed. Just then, the sound of an engine roaring could be heard from outside again

Clara was about to lash out, but she and the people behind her stopped; their eyes twitched slightly upon seeing the license plate of the Bentley behind them.

The exquisite license plate came from Wolsing, a clear sign to everyone that the people inside were extraordinary people.

Sienna, who was clad in a dress, stepped out of the car with an icy expression.

A few men in black were following beside her.

These men were a lot different than the bodyguards she had before. They all raised their heads up high, their expressions similarly icy.

A badge with the symbol of a dragon could be seen on their chests as well.

Clara looked over instinctively, and her pupils shrunk.

"The Dragon Guards?!" she exclaimed.

There were four cornerstones of Country H: Longmen, Dragon Palace, Dragon Cell, and the Dragon Guards.

Out of the four, the Dragon Guards were the most extraordinary. Their entire existence revolves around protecting the people of Country H with special identities.

Simply put, it was enough to prove the magnitude of the beautiful woman's identity.

Clara didn't know who the woman was, but she clearly recognized the Dragon Guards. She quietly sheathed her sword.

Upon seeing Sienna, Clara instinctively took a step forward.

"Good evening."

"We're still on a mission right now. Please stand back..."

Naturally, Clara was warning the woman before her to not get involved with the situation.

Sienna ignored Clara completely and walked toward Harvey with a smile.

"You've been through too much trouble, Sir York."

"You could've called me if you wanted to deal with the incident that night."

"I've already asked my father about this, after all."

"He told me that it was right to abide by the law..."

"However, I should deal with the culprit immediately before anything else!"

"They should not be allowed to do whatever they please!"

Harvey smiled.

"You're too kind. There's no need to dirty your hands for this."

"They're not worthy, after all."

Sienna chuckled. Then, she glanced at Cody and the rest.

"You're right about that, but when did I say that I was going to do it myself?"

Sienna then made a gesture.

"Why don't we have some midnight snacks together? We haven't seen each other for a while."

Harvey smiled and nodded.

"Excuse me. I don't care where you're from, but how...?"

Carla's face darkened in an instant as she took a step forward.

But before she could say anything, Dahlia rushed forward and covered her mouth instantly.

Naturally, Dahlia recognized Sienna's face.

Not only was Sienna Colton's goddaughter, but she also had people from the Dragon Guards protecting her.

Dahlia was faced with a terrifying realization...

Chapter 3416

"You think you can just come and go as you please, you b* stards?!"

Cory was infuriated when he saw Harvey about to leave. He thought Carla was spooked.

"We're not done here! We...!"

An expert from the Dragon Guard stepped out after a long silence. He casually picked up a sword on the ground and flicked it with his finger.

Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh!

Dozens of shards flew right into the Indians' throats in an instant.

"Ngh!"

Screams of pain could be heard—Cory and the others covered their throats as they lay on the ground, their faces the picture of horror. 1

Disbelief and rage could be seen in their eyes.

They didn't think that the expert could kill them so easily. They had no other choice but to glare at the expert, helpless.

Sienna opened the car door for Harvey, as if she didn't see anything happen at all.

"Come, Sir York. You're disrespecting me if you don't have this meal with me."

Harvey sighed and made a gesture to Rachel before getting in Sienna's car.

As the Bentley left the place...

Dahlia let go of Carla before she fell to the ground, a terrified look on her face.

Carla and the others were completely shocked by the sight.

They made a lot of preparations before they came here.

No matter if Harvey planned to fight till the end or not- no matter what kind of support Harvey would bring, the Golden Palace would be able to deal with it all.

After all, the sacred martial arts training ground wasn't just for show.

It would be easy to capture Harvey and keep Cody alive.

However, they never expected that the mysterious woman would suddenly pop up with men from the Dragon Guards.

Not only did they deal with the Indians instantly, but they even took Harvey for a midnight snack.

Carla and the others wouldn't have believed such a thing if they didn't see it themselves.

Carla wasn't just shocked—she was horrified.

The newcomers had dared to kill those under the protection of the Golden Palace. The Bentley's license plate came from Wolsing. The Dragon Guards came along as well...

A powerful person like that would definitely know the consequences of doing such a thing.

However, that also meant that the person wasn't afraid of the Golden Palace at all.

"That b*stard!"

"How is he so lucky?!"

"His luck with women is insane!"

"He's just a kept man!"

Carla quietly cursed Harvey as the Bentley zoomed out of sight completely.

She was left with no other purpose than to clean up the mess.

After the midnight snack, Harvey went to the police station on his own and handed over Thirty-Nine and Wren. He then gave his testimony to the police before casually walking out of the police station.

After all, he wasn't at fault; he had no reason to be locked up for two whole days.

The next day, Harvey showed up at the hospital and brought some food and drinks for Mandy, as if nothing ever happened.

Mandy shot him an odd look, but she didn't ask anything about anything.

She knew Harvey was protecting her.

After a quick chat, they turned on the TV in the sick room. The screen was broadcasting the news.

"Today, the second phase of property in Flutwell's new district by the thirteenth young master of the Bauer family, Joseph Bauer, is fully capped. Preorders will be up tomorrow..."

Chapter 3417

"Flutwell's new district is the first big deal for Young Master Bauer's alliance."

"It's said that the district has both the Holy Mountain and the Holy Lake surrounding it. Not only is the scenery extraordinary, but the location of it is quite strategic as well!"

"A geomancer master said that those who live here would definitely be extremely talented!"

"Young Master Bauer is creating a whole new district for the nobility; perhaps even the first hot real estate in Country H's northwest region!"

"Nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine houses will be sold! That is all that remains for the district's property!"

"Since the houses are not for investment, Young Master Bauer will sell the property of the second phase at a low price tomorrow morning."

"The original price was twenty-one thousand dollars per ten square feet, but now, it's been reduced to fourteen thousand dollars!"

The journalist on the screen appeared terribly excited. Clearly, he had been bought off by Joseph. He wouldn't have done so much if that wasn't the case.

Soon after, Flutwell's new district was shown.

The scenery of both the Holy Mountain and the Holy Lake was extremely beautiful.

There were fourth-generation buildings, commercial streets littered with luxurious brands, and high-end equipment...

The new district looked better and better.

As Harvey watched the news, intrigued, Lilian cut in with a nasty chuckle.

"What? Are you jealous?"

"This is Young Master Bauer's big move right there!"

"He told me about it before!"

"He's planning to create the top silk-stocking district out of the northwest region!"

"He wants every single wealthy person to be living in it!"

"There are ninety-nine floors on this building there!"

"With that, there'll be nine thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine houses in total!"

"You'd need at least 1.5 million dollars to even buy one of those!"

"People who live here will all be powerful and wealthy people!"

"And once these houses get sold...'

"After a few years, these people will all turn into Young Master Bauer's connections!"

"When that happens, the big shots of the business world, government powerhouses, and bosses of the underworld

")

"Will all become Young Master Bauer's friends and neighbors!"

"Look at him, and then look at yourself!" 1

"You're both young, but what can you even do against someone like that?!"

"I think you should just stop showing up in front of Mandy at this point! You'll ruin her luck!"

"Mandy's going to be married into a wealthy family!"

"I can't enjoy my life in luxury without Young Master Bauer, after all!"

Naturally, Lilian was still infatuated with Joseph's riches despite suffering at his hands before.

She believed she would have the chance to become the top-rated mother-in-law if Joseph really was interested in her daughter.

This was her lifelong pursuit!

Mandy's face darkened in an instant upon hearing Lilian's words. She instinctively looked at Harvey, about to say something...

Harvey, however, simply smiled.

"Along with the houses sold to prominent figures, that place will no doubt turn into the top silk–stocking district of the northwest!"

"People will flock all over the property tomorrow for sure!"

"Young Master Bauer has the chance to be the richest descendant of his family! In fact, he might even have the chance to rise to power because of this!"

Chapter 3418

Lilian revealed a stupidly proud look.

"So you do know just how inferior you are compared to Young Master Bauer!"

"His strength knows no bounds!"

"You're right about that—if he sells all that property, he'll have at least billions in his bank account!"

"No need to get jealous; according to my information, Young Master Bauer's agent already made the announcement!"

"Because of popular demand, everyone will need to have their capital verified and draw lots before they can even buy anything!"

"People without at least 1.5 million dollars can't even get past the reception hall!"

"Even so, it's said that at least ten people are hogging over one house on average!"

"Every single hotel in Flutwell is full!"

"Everyone's waiting to get their houses! They can't wait to live in the new district!”

“What? Are you planning to buy one as well?”

“Look at you! Can you even buy one?”

“Even if you can, do you really think that you’re worthy enough to live in it?”

Lilian’s face was filled with disdain. She was naturally biased against Harvey.

She stubbornly stuck to the assumption that Harvey was the evil b*stard ruining Mandy’s chances to be with Joseph.

Harvey stood up with a faint smile.

“Since you’re so excited about the place...”

“How about I go and get you one tomorrow?”

“I’ll give it to you for free as long as you’re willing to stay in it.”

Lilian was planning to ridicule Harvey even further until she heard Harvey’s words; she froze for a short while before standing up immediately.

“You hear that, Mandy?! This b*stard said that he’s going to buy one for me!” she screeched.

“I’d like to see what sort of house you’re going to buy for me!”

“You better not say you weren’t lucky enough to get one!”

“Just buy other people’s slots if that’s the case!”

“Don’t worry. I won’t need to draw lots for tomorrow,” Harvey said calmly.

“Just have a rest for today, Mandy. Let me borrow Xynthia as well.”

“It’s been a while since she’s the acting CEO. It’s time for her to see the business world.”

Harvey walked out of the sick room and dialed a number.

“Hello, Princess Wright.”

“I really like those ten houses you gave me before.”

“I heard that about a hundred of them were sold to Wolsing’s prominent figures in the first phase.”

“Can you do me a favor real quick? Tell them I’ll buy those houses for double the price.”

“I want them now.”

Harvey then dialed another number.

“Kayden. Send your men to dig some graves.”

“We’ll send our dear Indian guests to another home.”

On the next day.

The entire northwest of Country H was in an uproar during the sales of Flutwell’s new district.

Not only were prominent figures of the northwest there to buy houses...

Even wealthy families from Mordu, Wolsing, Las Vegas, and Hong Kong were on the move.

Everyone heard that a mysterious man bought off every single property in the first phase for a high price.

The price of the houses had fallen into utter chaos!

Simply put, anyone would be able to flip the houses for double the price!

As soon as word got out about this, Flutwell was flooded with wealthy people crying to buy a house in the new district.

This soon became the most important event in the entire city.

Clap, clap, clap!

At nine o'clock in the morning, the doors of the reception hall were opened officially.

Chapter 3419

Bright lights and jewelry filled the entire hall, and there was a bright red carpet on the floor. It was an extravagant sight.

On both sides of the hall, bunny girls could be seen walking around to excite the guests.

A luxury car showed up, and several people in traditional clothing entered the hall. The members of Flutwell's business alliance came in soon after.

They were all extremely prominent figures of Flutwell's businesses; they were considered Joseph's most trusted team.

Without them, Joseph wouldn't be where he was.

The crowd got riled up when they saw these people enter the hall.

Those who came here from all over the northwest were filled with excitement as they waited for their turn to buy the houses.

Everyone felt that the houses here were just too cheap for their value!

As the members of the business took a picture, a beautiful host from Flutwell TV walked over and stood on the platform with a warm smile.

"It's an important day, folks!"

"Let's bring our biggest investor of Flutwell's new district and the organizer of today's event, Joseph Bauer of the Bauer family, to give us a speech!"

Everyone gazed at the passageway behind them with a burning passion.

The wealthy ladies and internet -famous celebrities were exhilarated as well.

The Bauer family was the leader of the top ten families.

Joseph was a direct descendant; out of the three young masters, he had the most chance of becoming the master of his family.

Joseph, who had remained extremely discreet for the past six years, was a legend for many people!

There were even rumors saying that Joseph would be able to raise his family to another level if he were to rise as the master.

The most important thing was that he was still single.

Safe to say, he was the most desirable man in the city.

It was why Joseph was able to catch so many people's attention.

A man in a white suit casually strutted in, with a group of people trailing behind.

Joseph's handsome face and tall figure captivated the hearts of the women there completely. Simply put, not only was he the Prince Charming; he was the Prince Charming of all Prince Charmings!

Joseph smiled while waving at the crowd. Then, he stepped on the platform.

"Ladies and gentlemen! Good afternoon!" he said to the wealthy crowd before him. 1

"It's good to see that everyone showed up to the new district's sale site!"

"You should all know about a mysterious man buying every single property of the first phase for double the price—twenty-eight thousand dollars per ten square feet!"

"I can safely tell you all, even I don't know who that person is!"

"However, this means that an extremely powerful figure is interested in Flutwell's new district!"

"This also means that the price of the houses is just too low!"

"But I am a reputable man! Since I've said that the houses will be sold at fourteen thousand dollars per ten square feet, I will definitely keep it that way!"

"Please, buy as much as you like! I can guarantee that this is the best price you'll ever get!"

In truth, Joseph was starting to regret his decision.

He couldn't find the person who had bought all those houses in the first phase last night. He was contemplating whether he should've raised the price or not...

Unfortunately, at this point, he had no choice but to stick to the plan.

Chapter 3420

Joseph kept his thoughts private and instead showed off his heroic and virtuous facade.

Since there was no way for him to get more benefits out of the sales, he decided to sell everything out as soon as he could instead.

Without hesitating, Joseph waved his hand and smiled at everyone.

"Everyone! Believe me when I say that the price of the land will surely increase after ten years.

It wouldn't be possible if it was a hundred and fifty thousand dollars per ten square feet, judging from the beautiful scenery!"

"It'll be too late to buy the houses anymore when that happens!"

"In the near future, this place will become the top silk- stocking district of Country H's north west region!"

"This place is a symbol of your status and identity!"

"Trust me! You will become a true elite as soon as you buy property here!"

Joseph waved his hand harder; the crowd grew even more excited.

"I want one!"

"I want ten!"

"I have money to spare, anyway!"

The people in front of the crowd all belonged to Joseph. They were screaming with all their might, as if they would actually kill themselves if they couldn't buy anything here.

"I'd like to return the houses, Joseph."

Right as Joseph thought that everything would be smooth sailing, a single voice echoed from behind.

The voice was extremely unpleasant, making the entire place dead silent.

Everyone was in utter disbelief when they saw such an unlikeable man.

After all, they weren't idiots.

Not only did the man pour cold water on the entire situation for saying that at such a crucial moment...

He was completely disrespecting both Joseph and his business alliance.

Joseph put down his cigar that he hadn't lit up and coldly glared at the spot in front of him.

A man crossed his arms as he walked forward steadily.

Two women were walking closely behind. On the left, Rachel's cold expression and slender figure could be seen.

And on the right, Xynthia's pretty and innocent face was revealed to the crowd.

Everyone gasped at such a sight. After all, no ordinary man could have two enchanting beauties standing behind him.

'Harvey?'

Joseph frowned upon seeing Harvey's face.

He didn't think Harvey would show up to cause trouble all of a sudden.

'Did he know that I got the Indians to go against Mandy?'

The thought came to Joseph's mind, but under these circumstances, he couldn't confirm his assumption.

He lit up his thin and long cigar before narrowing his eyes at Harvey, a smile dancing on his lips.

"I was wondering who it was!"

"Sir York! If I remember correctly, you're not one of my customers!"

"You don't own any of the property here, either."

"You'll be making a mess out of my business if you're only here to yell about returning my houses!"

"You better justify your actions."

"If you don't, not only will I settle scores with you soon enough, but these people here also won't let you off the hook!"

"You should know that the people outweigh the law..."

Joseph gave a look soon after.

Some of the people in the crowd stepped out and screamed at Harvey right there and then.

"Are you trying to stop us from buying the houses, you b* stard?!"

"Are you trying to hog every property for yourself?"

"You have no chance!"
