Chapter 3447

Ai Kamino

calmly blew out a puff of smoke before it dispersed right in front of Harvey York soon after.

Ai then showed a faint smile.

Naturally, he was pretty content with his total control of the situation.

Ai believed that Harvey was a slightly capable man, but he would still kneel before him and pick up the check.

Harvey was not upset after having smoke blown toward his face.

"Mr. Kamino, I'm not happy with your proposal at all," said Harvey while holding his teacup.

"I do hope that you can do what I requested immediately.

"Nobody has the right to bargain with me."

"You're still too young. There's no need to be this stubborn," replied Ai with a profound tone, smiling faintly.

"You should know that harmony brings wealth.

"Respect goes both ways.

"If you pay me some respect, I can do the same to you, right?"

Harvey merely smiled.

"It's a shame that your respect means absolutely nothing to me.

"It won't give me a fair statement."

"I already told you what I can offer," replied Ai casually with a smile on his face.

"If you're really unhappy with this and can't accept this..."

"I can tear my check apart and make you come get it yourself."

"I do want to see just how capable you are."

Ai was showing a cold gaze.

Crushing Logan Bowie was nothing.

Logan may seem quite fierce to ordinary people, but he was just a lackey to the prominent figures.

Harvey was quite impressive for dealing with Logan...

But it still was not enough to scare off Ai.

After all, he was the leader of the Capital Gang, with support from the Golden Palace.

"Impressive."

Harvey nodded before stepping on the check on the ground.

"To be honest, I prefer dominant people like you. I'll have more fun destroying you this way .

"I do hope that you can keep up the show."

"It'll be boring if you kneel before me too early."

Harvey then stood up before lifting Xynthia Zimmer.

"We're leaving."

Without saying a word, Vivian Hall took the inspectors and suspects before following Harvey's lead.

"You're disrespecting me here, young man!

"You had a way out...

"But you just had to dig yourself a hole!

Ai showed a disdainful expression.

"You just had to flaunt your strength!

"Who do you think you are?

Ai calmly glanced at Senior Miller before he exclaimed coldly, "Call Ansel Torres. I want a statement for this."

Ai did not believe that Harvey could suppress Ansel the same way he did Logan.

Senior Miller stumbled back with a horrified look after making the phone call.

"Mr. Kamino! They said that they're only enforcing the law!

"And you should complain to the higher-ups if you have a problem with it!

"As for your statement, nobody's going to give it to you."

Ai frantically twitched his eyes. He just realized that Harvey's authority might have been way beyond his imagination.

Chapter 3448

After pondering the situation for a while, Ai Kamino quickly regained his composure.

He was a local powerhouse backed up by the Golden Palace.

It did not matter where Harvey York came from. He had no chance to go against Ai in a place like Flutwell.

As for the police, Ansel Torres said they would only enforce the law, meaning that the police had remained neutral.

Ai believed he could crush Harvey no matter what if that were actually the case.

If he could not do it publicly, he would surely have other ways of getting what he wanted.

The Capital Gang had three thousand men. It would not be hard for them to deal with an outsider, whether it was a young master or a prince.

Without a second thought, Ai took another huff of his cigar to regain his calm.

"Find me that b*stard's address and tell Mrs. Lee that he was the one who loaded the bullet into the prop firearm," said Ai calmly.

"Tell her that he's the main culprit of Larisa Lee's situation.

"Send word that everyone who supports Harvey in Flutwell will be going against me!

"I want that b*stard to be forced into a corner!"

Ai showed a cold look. An outsider was challenging him, as if he had more power...

He would not be able to survive in the underworld if he did not flaunt back his strength!

After hearing Ai's orders, Senior Miller and the others respectfully replied, "As you wish!"

At the same time, Harvey told Vivian Hall and the others to get Xynthia's university mates back. He wanted them to call him if anything were to happen in the future.

Then, Harvey sent Xynthia to a hospital to treat her injuries. After getting Kayden Balmer's men to keep watch, he returned to rest in the Hatchet Gang's base camp.

Vroom!

While Harvey was preparing to lie down so he could recuperate to bring justice for Xynthia the next day...

Sounds of engines roaring were getting closer and closer.

An arrogant and domineering aura could be felt from the roars.

Soon, five Toyota Prados were parked right in front of the Hatchet Gang's base camp.

The central car must have been modified beforehand.

When the car door opened, a pitch-black coffin could be seen inside.

Dozens of men in robes alighted from the cars.

After that, they picked up the coffin and strutted toward the front door.

"Who are you?!"

"Don't you know that this place belongs to the Hatchet Gang?!"

"How dare you come here to show off?!"

Kayden showed up as soon as he could after hearing all that commotion from the outside. He showed a cold look as he glared at the people before him.

After all, this was the Hatchet Gang's base camp. He could not just let a bunch of nobodies barge in. His pride was at stake here! Harvey was surprised by the commotion as well. He calmly strode to the entrance after having a change of clothes.

"What?! What do you think you're doing?!"

"We're from Longmen's Flutwell branch!"

"I'm the senior of the branch, Dillon Lee!"

"I have word that someone intentionally loaded a bullet inside a prop firearm to harm my junior, Larisa Lee!"

"The suspect will give us a fair statement about this!"

A middle-aged man wearing a black robe with a sword on the side of his waist strutted forward with a domineering expression.

Chapter 3449

Dillon Lee was disdainfully glaring at Kayden Balmer, Black Rose, and the others from the Hatchet Gang.

He was from Longmen's Flutwell branch, after all.

Longmen was considered the king of the underworld.

It was only natural for them to look down on the mob bosses.

After getting the order to take down the suspect who hurt his junior, Dillon was surprised that the Hatchet Gang was also involved in the situation. That said, he brought his entire team here without a hint of fear.

After all, Flutwell was Longmen's main base.

The daughter of Longmen's Flutwell branch leader was also severely injured.

Under those circumstances, Dillon had no other choice but to take down the suspect.

Without a second thought, Dillon pointed at the crowd and coldly exclaimed, "I don't care what relationship you have with the suspect!

"I don't care who's supporting you people either!

"I'm only here for one thing!

"I want the suspect right now!

"If he doesn't comply, we'll kill him here and carry him in a damn coffin!

"If anything happens to my junior, I want him buried under the damn coffin!

Dillon waved his hand with a cold gaze.

"Go! All of you!

"Kill whoever tries to resist!

"I'll bear all the responsibility for this situation!"

"Though, it's a shame that you can't...

Even before Dillon's men could take action, a slim figure passed right through Kayden and the others into the crowd.

"For the sake of you being Longmen's disciples...

"And the fact that you're being blinded from the truth..."

"I won't make this any harder for you."

"Take your men and leave, and I'll pretend that you never came."

Harvey York crossed his arms with a calm look on his face.

"If not, I'll treat this as you looking for trouble here."

"I'll even kill you if that's the case."

Harvey was surprised to know that Larisa's father was the branch leader of Flutwell's Longmen branch...

But he had no intention of talking peace at this point.

Besides, he was not in the wrong in the first place.

And since Dillon was still blaming Harvey for Larisa's incident...

It was already nice enough to tell him off for the sake of them being in the same organization.

"You must be Harvey, right?"

"According to our intel, you were the one who loaded a bullet into a prop firearm! Were you trying to kill my junior?"

"Pretty cocky if you ask me!"

"You made a huge offense, yet you're here threatening me instead of hiding?!"

"Who are you even?!"

Dillon was showing a cold gaze.

"Let me tell you something! I'm the best disciple here in Flutwell!

"You must have a death wish for going against me!

"I'll give you one chance! Give up and come back with us! Then, give Mrs. Lee a fair statement!

"If not, we'll just bury you in the coffin! Either way, we'll achieve our goal!"

"How dare you?!"

Kayden and the others screamed in anger. Harvey was their boss. They would not let him be insulted like this.

Harvey was not fazed at all. He glanced at Dillon with a playful expression on his face.

"Dillon, right?"

"Kneel and apologize right now, then get out of here. I, won't blame you for slandering me if you do as I say.

"Remember. You only have one chance. You won't get another one after this..."

Chapter 3450

"Oh? Do you call this slander?"

"And I won't get another chance after this?"

"Mr. Kamino informed us that you like to show off!

"He's not wrong at all! You're really fooling yourself at this point!" exclaimed Dillon Lee with an odd tone.

"Stop pretending already, kid!

"Even if you're the king, I'll make you pay the price for hurting my junior!

"Do it!"

Dillon Lee was here with a mission.

After getting word from Ai Kamino, Mrs. Lee issued the order to take down Harvey York. Whoever was able to bring him back would be heavily credited.

That was why Dillon came as soon as he could after getting the mission.

A dozen people in robes pounced forward simultaneously after hearing Dillon's orders, trying to take Harvey back for his punishment.

Slap slap slap!

Harvey casually gestured to Kayden and the others to stay back before he casually threw a bunch of slaps forward. The air seemed motionless while he was moving around.

In the very next moment, people were sent flying in waves. Screams of pain could be heard when they crashed onto the ground.

The Longmen disciples were nothing before Harvey.

"You b*stard! How dare you go against Longmen?!"

Dillon was boiling with anger after seeing the sight.

He drew his sword and pointed it toward Harvey's nose "I'll cut you down!" exclaimed Dillon furiously.

"You're not worthy."

Harvey calmly smiled.

Then, he calmly pulled out a badge and threw it at Dillon. 1

Dillon instinctively grabbed the badge before he became sluggish.

He stared at the badge with a horrified look. At that moment, he was at a complete loss.

He instantly knew what the badge meant since he was born into Longmen.

"The head of Longmen's Law Enforcement!"

A simple title was enough to freeze Dillon, as if he was hit by a blizzard.

His eyes were frantically twitching while his entire body was frozen to the core.

"You..."

"You're the head of Longmen's Law Enforcement?!"

Harvey calmly walked forward and patted Dillon's cheek.

"You're pretty quick on the uptake."

Harvey's words shook Dillon. Cold air could be felt from the bottom of his foot.

He wanted to say something to reclaim his pride...

But his body told him that he had no chance to resist the person in front of him.

The title alone was enough to suppress ninety-nine percent of the people in Longmen.

Thud!

Soon after, Dillon instinctively kneeled.

His body was not in control at all. He could not help but tremble uncontrollably.

"Talk. Who sent you here?"

"Who told you to charge me with such an offense?"

Dillon's eyes frantically twitched.

"Mrs. Lee!" he replied instinctively.

"It's Mrs. Lee!

"Mr. Kamino gave Mrs. Lee a call, saying that you were the one who loaded a bullet into the prop firearm!

"Mrs. Lee didn't believe it either, but she was utterly infuriated!

"She thought more people needed to take responsibility for Larisa Lee's situation!

"That was why she told me to come.

"She said that she wanted you back, whether you were, innocent or not..." 2
