Chapter 3465

"Who am I?

Harvey York casually loaded his revolver and took off the safety.

Then, he smiled coldly before placing the revolver right on Mrs. Lee's hand.

"Didn't I tell you already?

"I'm Harvey York! I'm Xynthia Zimmer's brother-in-law! I'm only here to reclaim justice for her!"

Soon after, Harvey calmly pulled the trigger.

The bullet pierced right through Mrs. Lee's wrist. 1

The crowd screamed in fear before they covered their mouths.

Nobody thought that Harvey would actually do as he said without hesitation.

After all, it was only natural. Even Joseph Bauer meant nothing to him...

Let alone Mrs. Lee!

He could do whatever he wanted!

Mrs. Lee's body trembled slightly while the crowd was screaming. At that very moment, the shock had completely masked her pain. She could not return to her senses when she saw her crippled right hand.

Things had been smooth sailing for Mrs. Lee for the past few years because of the support behind her back.

She never needed to care for who she crushed, but she also never expected she would end up this way at this moment.

Bang!

Then, Harvey calmly aimed the revolver toward Mrs. Lee's leg before pulling the trigger again.

He said that he was going to take one of her arms and legs. He never intended to hold back.

Mrs. Lee trembled before she fell to the ground.

She wanted to scream but was afraid that she would die a horrible death after provoking Harvey.

"Are the rest of you going to step up? Or do you want me to drag you out here instead?"

Harvey calmly blew on the barrel of his revolver.

Some of Mrs. Lee's followers looked at each other before stepping forward while gritting their teeth.

They knew there was no point in pretending and running away from a ruthless man like Harvey.

Harvey wasted no time kicking them down before pulling the trigger, crippling their arms and legs. 1

At this moment, Harvey was indifferent. Other than reloading the bullets, he did nothing else.

The followers covered their mouths with all their might. They would not dare to let out even a single shriek.

They had always been flaunting their authority beside Mrs. Lee to take advantage of others.

They would always scoff at the weak begging for mercy....

But they did not expect that they would also suffer the same fate!

Never in their wildest imagination would things end up this way!

What goes around, comes around!

Bang!

Then, Harvey tossed the revolver to Dillon Lee.

"I want 1.5 million dollars from every single person here to be sent to Xynthia. I also want you to apologize to her," commanded Harvey calmly.

"Remember. Be sincere about it.

"If there's even a hint of dishonesty coming from you...

"Then you should just pick a grave to lie in first."

Soon after, Harvey turned around and left the Shangri-La

Hotel.

He could not be bothered how Mrs. Lee and the others were being taken care of any longer.

With Harvey's word and Dillon acting as his lackey...

Everything would go as he wanted.

Without Joseph's support, not just Mrs. Lee, it would be useless even if the branch leader of Flutwell's Longmen branch showed up himself.

In the end, Longmen was still governed by the Law Enforcement no matter how strong they were.

After all, they were the most powerful organization of Longmen.

At this very moment, inside the Bauer family's manor, Joseph smashed his phone out of rage and fear.

Chapter 3466

"Harvey! Harvey!"

"That b*stard again!"

After hearing Mrs. Lee's call for help, Joseph knew full well that if he didn't protect her, he wouldn't just lose his reputation...

But many would also turn to Harvey's side after realizing that Joseph feared Harvey!

That said, Joseph was at a total disadvantage after what had happened at Flutwell's new district.

He still had some troublesome things he was desperately trying to fix.

If he kept challenging Harvey, no doubt he would have an all-out war waiting for him.

And if that were to happen, Joseph firmly believed that his two brothers would definitely take the opportunity to crush him once and for all.

Everything he fought for would be for naught.

Because of this, Joseph had no other choice but to let Mrs. Lee fend for herself.

"I'll kill you as soon as I rise to power, Harvey!"

It was Joseph's first time feeling so powerless.

Other than screaming in anger, there was nothing else he could do.

"You taught us to have the patience to do great things, Young Master Bauer," Ruby said after a brief moment of hesitation.

Joseph calmed down quite a bit after hearing her words.

"You're right. I need to calm myself. If not, others will find an opportunity to strike me."

Just as Joseph was about to come to his senses and lay out his plans, a servant entered the room with a gift box.

"Someone sent you a gift, saying that you have to open it yourself."

Joseph was confused. There wasn't any ongoing event for him at the moment. Why would anyone send him something like this?

Without thinking too much about it, he opened the box.

A carefully -framed calligraphy art could be seen inside.

Two rows of elegant-looking words were present.

"When there's a will, there's a way!"

"Hard work always pays off!"

Pfft!

Joseph's body trembled; he was on the verge of coughing out blood there and then.

He was being ridiculed for recklessly burning his bridges!

Joseph's face darkened in an instant. He gritted his teeth.

"Who gave the present?!"

The servant was terrified.

"It was an errand boy, saying that a person named Harvey sent it..."

"B*stard!"

"B*stard!"

"B*stard!"

Joseph was trembling in anger.

"I'll f*cking kill you, Harvey!"

Ruby dared not utter a word.

After a moment, Joseph managed to calm down again.

He shivered as he took a huff of his long and thin cigar.

"That b*stard's trying to force my hand."

"I'm in my hometown, after all."

"I suffered quite a big loss against him before. I fully admitted defeat as well."

"It'd be inappropriate for him to continue suppressing me if I don't come for him."

"He's trying to lure me out!"

"That b*stard! No wonder he's able to get the upper hand against me!"

Joseph sighed.

"I hate that man, but I have to admit that his moves are a lot more terrifying compared to our well-laid plans!"

"Simplicity is everything, after all!"

Chapter 3467

Joseph was hesitating whether to go all out against Harvey or not...

Harvey, on the other hand, had already forgotten about the gift he gave Joseph.

He was sitting in the hospital, waiting for Xynthia's test results.

Xynthia was quite lucky. Since Rudolph and his team were still around, they had been treating her with extra care.

After an entire night, she had mostly recovered from her injuries.

She seemed a lot better mentally as well. Not only was she awake, she even had a huge appetite for food.

"Here's your favorite Acorn Mush. I already blew on it for you. You can just eat it."

Harvey casually opened the package and put the casserole on Xynthia's bedside table.

Harvey knew how to make his own food, but there was simply no time for that for the time being. Ordering takeout became his go-to.

"My hands hurt, Brother-In-Law! You feed me!"

Xynthia opened her mouth slightly with a helpless look on her face.

Harvey was speechless; he sighed as he glanced at her hand, which was swiping on her phone.

"You still want me to feed you? Don't you want to get married in the future?"

"Tch!"

Xynthia scoffed before giving him a warm smile.

"I don't want to! Brother-In-Law won't be able to take care of me when that happens."

Harvey flicked Xynthia's head instantly.

"What do you even mean by that? You say that like I'll die as soon as you marry someone."

Xynthia pouted.

"I don't care! I want my brother-in-law!"

"I've made my decision! I'll look for someone like you in the future!"

"I won't marry anyone else!"

Harvey burst out laughing.

"Your mom will break your legs if you're really going to look for a man like me."

"Besides, you can't just find a man like me anywhere you want."

"I'm the one and only!"

"I don't care! I won't marry anyone unless I find someone like you!"

"I'll stick with you forever!" Xynthia exclaimed.

She put down her phone and caressed Harvey's head with a bitter look on her face.

"I'm sorry, Brother-In-Law. I got you in trouble again."

"Don't tell my sister or my mother about this. They'll come for you if you do!"

"Don't worry. Just do everything as you please."

Harvey quietly slipped away from Xynthia's hand before letting out a sigh.

"Don't worry too much about it."

"If I'm right, Mrs. Lee and the others will come to apologize to you tomorrow."

"Keep the money, but don't let them off that lightly."

"Ask anything you want. They'll definitely do whatever you ask of them."

"Brother-In-Law, I..." Xynthia said quietly.

Harvey knew that Xynthia was soft-hearted.

"I know you're not that kind of person," he said after letting out a sigh.

"But if you don't teach them a lesson about the law, and they keep flaunting their authority as they please..."

"Many more like you will be taken advantage of!"

"You can't be soft about this, even if you're only trying to teach them a lesson."

"Get them to do whatever you want!"

Xynthia hesitated before smiling.

"Don't worry. I'll make sure to do that!"

However, Xynthia had no intention to do that even though she said so.

Chapter 3468

Harvey sighed after seeing the look on Xynthia's face.

Sometimes, he couldn't help but be impressed that the sisters had nothing in common with their mother.

An insufferable woman like Lilian being able to give birth to two well-mannered daughters was already a good enough blessing.

At this moment, Harvey knew he couldn't joke with Xynthia about this any longer.

"Fine. I won't make it harder for you," Harvey said after letting out a sigh.

"Don't worry. They've already received their punishment."

"Just tell them to kneel for an entire day tomorrow."

"Alright. I'll listen to you."

Xynthia let out a sigh of relief.

She was reminded of another thing soon after.

"How's Larisa, anyway?"

"I heard she's been acting sluggish the entire time. It's not because I shot her, right?"

The kind-hearted young woman couldn't help but worry about her friend.

"I don't know."

Harvey smiled.

"But the shot probably didn't affect her that badly."

"She's not sick either."

"Huh? What happened to her, then?"

Xynthia was shocked.

"She was just shocked, wasn't she? She'll be patched up soon."

Harvey smiled.

"The shot only injured her on the outside. There's almost nothing else wrong with her."

"That said, since the doctors and nurses got the wrong treatment for her, she naturally won't be able to heal."

"There are some things western medicine can't do. We might have a chance to cure her if eastern medicine is involved."

Harvey

immediately changed the subject; he didn't want to continue explaining the situation.

"Are you so worried about Larisa? You're not angry that you took a beating because of her?"

Xynthia sighed, and her beautiful face lit up.

"I was angry..."

"But I realized that she was a victim as well."

"Since we're both innocent, why try to hurt each other?"

"I feel a little sorry for her too."

"I was just hurt on the outside, but she ended up way worse than me."

"Her family's rich and has a high status..."

"But her relationship with her family has never been good. Other than having a lot of money, her parents never cared for her."

"She almost ended her own life out of depression because of that. It's why she left university and came back to Flutwell."

"And then, this thing happened..."

Xynthia then hesitantly looked at Harvey.

"I know this isn't a good time..."

"But you could tell that she was surrounded by evil energy before. If you can help her..."

"Can you...?"

Harvey quickly interrupted Xynthia before she could continue.

"Don't worry about that for now. Drink the mush," he said after letting out a sigh.

"Rest well. We'll talk about other things after that."

"I have to ask for debt with your sister tomorrow too. I don't have time for other things right now."

"Okay..."

Xynthia nodded slightly without saying a word after seeing Harvey's angry look.

Early in the following morning, Harvey sent a few people to guard Xynthia. After making sure that Mrs. Lee and the others wouldn't cause any more trouble, he went to Hearthstone Corporation.
