Chapter 3525

"Do you know just how many branches of the Capital Gang are in Flutwell? Do you know how many fighters are in each of those branches?"

"You understand nothing yet want to destroy the Capital Gang?"

"What a joke!"

"Keep on dreaming!"

The beautiful women were laughing their stomachs off.

They were enjoying the show too much! This was all too exciting!

They did not think they would be able to see a clown performing right before their eyes!

Ai Kamino pulled out a thin and long cigar before lighting it up.

As long as Nelson Torres and the others did not take action, he would not be scared at all.

Senior Miller's phone suddenly rang. He froze up momentarily before putting the phone beside his ear.

The moment he heard something from the other side, his facial expression instantly darkened.

Ai had a bad feeling about the situation after seeing the sight.

"What happened?" asked Ai instinctively.

Bam!

Senior Miller slammed his knees on the ground in disbelief.

"This is bad, Mr. Kamino!

"The Eight Heavenly Kings were all crippled in their homes! They're now being rushed to the hospital!

"Fifteen of our bank accounts with dirty money were all found out! The banks have completely frozen our accounts!

"Thirteen bars, six KTVs, and three underground gambling sites were also seized!

"Our headquarters and four of our biggest branches are being raided as we speak!

"Those people are clearly experts! They took down our men in just a matter of minutes!

"Our men were either being captured alive, or they were crippled instantly...

"The Capital Gang is done for..."

'What?!'

Ai and the others shuddered involuntarily. They were filled with utter disbelief.

The wealthy lady lost her voice when she exclaimed, "How is this even possible?!"

They quickly turned around and stared at Harvey in shock.

Nobody thought that Harvey was actually capable of destroying the Capital Gang!

He did all of this in an instant!

'Who is this man?!'

'How does he have this much power?!'

Vroom!

A few minutes later, cars with blaring lights appeared in front of the Martial Hall. A dozen inspectors showed up soon after.

The leading inspector respectfully saluted Nelson and Ansel Torres before showing a permit.

"We're from the Flutwell Police Station's Law Enforcement Brigade!" she exclaimed coldly.

"There were people who brought evidence to us, proving that you have been laundering money and opening up illegal gambling sites as well as causing fights and homicides!

"I'm afraid you'll have to come with us now!"

The high and mighty Ai sluggishly glanced at the contents of the permit.

His body trembled before he dropped his cigar.

The inspectors immediately swarmed him before holding him still.

The leader of the Gang of Six was finished once and for all.

"You're finished, Mr. Kamino.

"You have to pay for what you've done.

"I took a look at the contents already. Once all your charges are proven true, you'll be behind bars for the rest of your life.

With an earnest expression, Harvey walked up and patted Ai's face.

"Besides, this is all just the beginning. If Clyde Osborne doesn't know when to stop...

"I wouldn't mind dealing with him either."

Chapter 3526

Ai's face lost all color as soon as he heard Harvey's words.

"Things won't end this way, Harvey!" he exclaimed.

"You're no match for Prince Osborne, even if you're this cunning!"

"He'll make sure you're dead for good!"

"I'll be waiting for you behind bars!"

Under the crowd's shocked gaze, Ai was slapped in the face twice by one of the inspectors after he ran his mouth. He was kicked inside the trunk of the car soon after.

The day after Ai was thrown behind bars...

Clyde was training in his garden as usual. When he was finally done, he sat under a balcony and waited for his servants to bring him breakfast.

Clyde valued his mornings more than anything else.

He believed successful people would never sleep in. People like that should train themselves early in the morning to keep their bodies strong and their minds sober.

He would use the shortest amount of time to finish every single one of his tasks.

The time that was left would be used to enjoy himself...

When his servants brought him his food, he scrolled past his laptop, occasionally dealing with the documents that were quite urgent.

At this moment, a beautiful secretary quickly approached Clyde.

After taking a look around the place, the secretary then said carefully, "This is bad,

Prince Osborne."

Clyde didn't move an inch.

"Talk."

"Commissioner Thompson and Mr. Kamino are in trouble," the secretary replied.

"They bumped into the Torres family, Kayden, and Rachel when they went for Harvey York last night."

"They couldn't deal with Harvey..."

"The Capital Gang is now gone. Ai has eighteen charges pressed against him, and Commissioner Thompson had no choice but to resign..."

The secretary had a horrible look on her face.

"Safe to say, they were utterly humiliated."

"Another thing. I asked someone to look into Harvey York this morning."

"He's suspected to be from one of the five hidden families. He's most likely a collateral relative."

"Other than that, his wife is the head of the Jean family's ninth branch."

"He seems to have connections with Longmen as well."

"He's been acting quite arrogantly during his time in Flutwell. Not only did he go against the Indians, but he even managed to trample on Joseph's people."

"He's no ordinary man. We've greatly underestimated him."

The secretary was worried sick; she didn't care for the lives of Ai and the others...

But she was terrified over the fact that the man she loved would be dragged into the mess!

"Oh? Is that so?"

"He has a pretty good background..."

"And here I thought we were only dealing with a small fry."

"Looks like I'll be able to have some fun."

Clyde had a curious look on his face.

"Prince Osborne, should we get Ai and the others out of jail first?"

"No need. Let them stay inside for a few days. That'll teach them a lesson."

Clyde flashed her a tiny smile.

"Besides, I'll save my men sooner or later since Harvey put them all in there."

"After all, how could I face myself if I just let him humiliate me like this?"

"Didn't Harvey open up a Budokan?"

"Send him a meeting gift for me."

Chapter 3527

While Clyde was preparing a surprise for Harvey...

At the Bauer family's courtyard inside Flutwell.

Elanor strutted into the Bauer family's most well-known entertainment spot while scrolling through the documents on her phone.

Jeff was training with a few wolfhounds, his defined muscles on his body clearly visible.

The wolfhounds had been starving for days. They had fierce and ruthless expressions, as if they had completely forgotten who their master was. All they thought about was food to fill their stomachs.

Jeff remained as steady as a rock even in front of the starving dogs; every punch he threw was as enough to send the dogs flying.

Jeff was in a playful state before he saw Elanor. He instantly grabbed one of the dogs with both hands and twisted its neck, drawing its final breath.

After throwing the dead dog to the ground as food for the rest, Jeff took the warm water his servants brought and wiped his body with it.

He then respectfully walked toward Elanor.

"You're early today, Fifth. Is there good news that you want to share with me?"

Jeff had a warm smile...

But people who knew him could see that he was just hiding his murderous intent.

"It's not good, but it's not bad either."

Elanor returned his smile and stood beside Jeff. The two then went on a walk soon after.

"Harvey's a lot more powerful and ruthless than we thought."

"When I met him yesterday, I was planning to use the bulls to take control of the negotiation."

"But he killed the yellow bull and foiled my plans immediately."

"I wanted to show him our strength, but he was the one who got the upper hand instead."

"Another thing. He said he'll give us three days to pay the money back. He'll add fifteen million dollars of interest after each passing day."

"And if he still doesn't get the money after that..."

"He'll kill you for good."

Elanor carefully looked at Jeff. Seeing the curious expression on him, she continued speaking.

"Based on my analysis, Harvey will definitely use force if he doesn't get the money back."

"He might just kill his way here!"

"Plus, Harvey has been doing a lot for the past few days."

"He managed to trample all over Ai and Commissioner Thompson just last night."

"He's a ruthless man..."

"His actions seemed illogical, but it's actually a lesson for us."

"He's warning us that our identity can't scare him off."

Elanor handed the phone to Jeff, showing the details of what had happened the past few days.

She couldn't help but sigh.

She didn't want to pay any attention to Harvey, nor did she want to pass his words to Jeff...

But after Commissioner Thompson and the Capital Gang were dealt with that easily, she had no choice but to keep her guard up.

"Interesting. He dealt with both the Capital Gang and Commissioner Thompson?"

Jeff revealed a faint smile.

"Did Clyde say anything about this?"

Chapter 3528

Elanor took a deep breath.

"According to my reports, Prince Osborne hasn't done anything major yet. He's probably shocked by what he heard."

"After all, Harvey is a tough nut to crack. He's been dominant during his time in Flutwell recently."

Jeff chuckled lightly after hearing those words. An unspeakable aura of power could be felt on him.

"Interesting. Very interesting!"

"Someone dares to act this arrogant in front of me in this day and age?"

"My two brothers are quite prominent figures as well. They have no choice but to behave themselves in front of me anyway."

"No matter how strong Harvey actually is, he's still just a castaway from the Yorks of Hong Kong!"

"What can he even do besides being a kept man?"

"Run his mouth? Ha!"

"Or does he think he's impressive because he killed Cody?"

"He's just a mortal no matter how impressive he is at martial arts! He's no match against planes and cannons!"

Jeff's face was frosty.

"If I wanted it, I'd have an entire army against him with just a wave of my hand!"

"A mere outsider has no right to show off in front of me!"

"How dare he ask me for money?!"

"Even Joseph wouldn't dare ask me for that money!"

"Who does he think he is?!"

Naturally, Jeff was smarter and far more knowledgeable compared to the others.

He didn't care about Harvey at all. When Mandy was trying to collect the debt, Jeff had already gotten someone to investigate Harvey.

He was filled with disdain toward Harvey, but he didn't think that Harvey could actually win against him either.

After all, he had half of the Longmen branch leaders', along with half of the Eight Inner and Outer Halls' support.

If he wanted to, he'd be able to send thousands of men just to kill off Harvey.

Elanor smiled.

"Harvey's quite powerful, but that doesn't just concern his combat expertise."

"His schemes and the people behind him are just as outstanding."

"Mmm. Joseph suffered because of Flutwell's new district..."

"Prince Osborne is at a loss after Capital Gang's downfall..."

"But so what? He wants me to compromise for him? There's just no way!"

Joseph admired Harvey, but his gaze held utter disdain. Naturally, he didn't think that Harvey had the right for him to care.

Elanor thought about the situation before revealing a smile.

"It's actually not that bad for Harvey to act this way."

"Since he's treating you this way, that means that he's treating everyone the same."

"There are two people blocking your way right now..."

"The other two brothers of the Bauer family."

"Joseph is going against Harvey now."

"If we can think of something for him to go against Ken..."

"We wouldn't have to deal with him afterwards."

"After all, you're the eldest son. You have to care for your reputation, unlike the others. They can do whatever they please."

"For us, rising to power is the most important thing right now. We don't need anything else as long as we can do that."

* suggest you return the money to Harvey. Give him another seventy million if you have to, just to make friends with him."

"Surely he'll acknowledge and think of you as his backup while he's in Flutwell."
