Chapter 3541

Jeff shot Harvey a mocking look.

"There's a saying: give a dog a bad name, then hang it!"

"Even if I prove my innocence, judging from how arrogant you've been acting, you'd probably look for another excuse to give me a bad name, wouldn't you?"

"But trust me. When I die, you'll be joining me soon after!"

"And not just you-your family and friends will pay for the price too!"

"Your ancestors will be dug out from the ground just to be burned to a crisp!"

Slap!

Harvey swung the back of his palm across Jeff's face again, making the latter stumble backward.

"You're threatening me?" Harvey sneered coldly.

"You think this is going to work?"

"Besides, do you really think that I have no proof?"

"There were bodyguards from Longmen's Law Enforcement with my wife."

"Since they wouldn't dare fight back, they were all crippled before they were sent to the hospital unconscious!"

"My wife's body is nowhere to be found, even until now!"

Harvey's gaze immediately turned a few degrees colder.

"Your bodyguards left your courtyard and took a stroll just this morning."

"Are you going to tell me that it's all just a big coincidence?"

Everyone turned dead silent after hearing those words.

They believed Jeff would go against people head-on; he wouldn't resort to petty tricks like kidnapping.

However, there were only a few people who could scare the disciples of Longmen's Law Enforcement.

Harvey's explanation made it seem like Jeff was the actual culprit.

"I'm sorry."

Jeff smiled without giving an answer.

"I pity you. You seem like you're telling the truth..."

"But I swear to God that this has nothing to do with me!"

"That's right! Young Master Bauer has been so busy with the charity event! He's been looking through the university students' documents the entire time! Why would he even kidnap a woman out of nowhere?!" Clare yelled coldly.

"With his talent, why would he resort to something that scummy in the first place?!"

Harvey was poker-faced.

"There are a lot of people willing to do his bidding if he asked."

"While I was on my way here, I was ambushed by the Skipjack Gang as well."

"If it weren't for Young Master Bauer, why would they even come at me in the first place?"

"If he's not guilty, then why make such a big show about all this?"

Harvey took a step forward and glared furiously at Jeff.

"It's only natural to pay back what you owed, Young Master Bauer."

"You couldn't run away from your debt, so you decided to kidnap the person you owed money."

"You have no honor!"

"You're completely shameless!"

Instantly, Harvey slapped Jeff's face again.

"Have over my wife and I'll let you off the hook for now!"

"We'll talk about the debt tomorrow."

"But if you don't hand Mandy over to me right now, I'll make sure you don't live when tomorrow comes!"

Harvey didn't like killing, but he wouldn't mind dealing with Jeff once and for all if the latter kept acting high and mighty.

"You need to stop slandering Young Master Bauer, Harvey!" Clare exclaimed.

"He's been here the entire time!"

"There's no way he's done the things you claimed!"

"I'll sue you for slander!"

Harvey shrugged nonchalantly.

"Ask yourselves this: do you believe the words you're spouting right now?"

Chapter 3542

While Harvey was busy slapping Jeff relentlessly...

A bodyguard of the Bauer family charged forward courageously as he took off the safety of his firearm.

"You little b*stard!" he yelled fiercely as he pointed at Harvey.

"How dare you talk to the young master like that! Who gave you the courage?!"

"Not only are you blaming Young Master Bauer for something he didn't do, but you're also humiliating him in front of everyone!"

"Young Master Bauer was generous enough to leave you alone!"

"But I will not allow you to act like this in front of him, no matter what!"

Naturally, the bodyguard was already quite infuriated at Harvey.

He waved his firearm around, looking confident.

"Come at me if you dare!"

"If not, I'll f*cking kill you!"

Harvey smiled at the bodyguard.

Bang!

He swiftly moved the firearm placed on Jeff's head and pulled the trigger.

"Aaagh!"

The bodyguard screamed in pain before lying on the ground, covering his injured hand.

His firearm had been completely pierced by the bullet Harvey shot.

He had no choice but to shiver on the ground, all color from his face lost.

He didn't expect Harvey to act without hesitation.

The bodyguard represented the Bauer family, but Harvey had instantly crippled him without a single thought.

Pure dominance wasn't enough to describe Harvey's attitude any longer.

Harvey blew the smoke off the muzzle of his gun, as if nothing ever happened. Then, he pointed the scorching barrel at Jeff's head once more.

"You have one minute."

"There's not a lot of time left.

The crowd couldn't breathe after seeing the bodyguard trembling on the ground and hearing Harvey's threatening words.

Nobody dared to step up.

Langston and Clare's throats went dry from fear.

Harvey's ruthlessness couldn't be described with a single word.

Calling him lawless was a total understatement at this point.

Everyone here was a prominent figure who had crippled and killed people before.

But since they were all public figures, they were used to scheming behind the scenes while hiding in their ploys.

After all, smart people wouldn't get themselves involved in dangerous situations.

That said, this was their first time seeing such a fearless man standing in front of them.

They found it hard to believe that there was someone more dominant than them in a place like Flutwell.

The beautiful women's faces had gone completely pale; their bodies were shaking, and they were on the verge of passing out.

The guests beside them took the women in their arms, looking utterly shocked.

"Impressive! Truly impressive!"

"I have to admit, you're quite the talented and skillful man! You have no fear, too! Truly dominant behavior!"

"Your threats are quite effective, too!"

"I'm furious, I'm scared, and I want to beg for mercy..."

"But I have to tell you that I won't admit to something that I've never done, even if you beat me to death!"

"My teachings and self-restraint will never allow me to do such a thing, let alone admit to this kidnapping!"

Chapter 3543

Jeff seemed afraid, but the calm yet mocking look in his gaze never faded away.

"I can't prove my innocence."

"There's no need for me to do such a thing, either."

"If you want to blame me for this so badly, then just shoot me already!"

"I even show you a single frown right now, I'll be nothing more than a coward!"

Jeff grabbed a glass of 1982 Lafite wine on the table and took a large swig.

He then spread his arms wide, with a smile on his face.

"I believe that the world is just."

"Everyone here will surely bring me justice for this!"

Upon hearing Jeff's words, Clare's expression changed constantly. She stood up, gritting her teeth.

"If you lay even a single finger on Young Master Bauer..."

"Not just the Bauer family, the Osborne family will fight you to the death as well!" she exclaimed coldly.

"You should know what the top ten families and the five hidden families represent!"

"Are you sure you want yourself, your family, and your friends to be in danger because of your arrogance?"

"Besides, I can make sure that you won't have any chance of getting out of this place alive if you touch him!"

Clare made a gesture.

At once, many bodyguards of the Osborne family rushed out and glared fiercely at Harvey.

They wouldn't hesitate to take action if Harvey actually dared to do anything to Jeff.

The air was thick with tension; a fight was about to break out at any moment.

"Oh, right, Harvey. I forgot to tell you something."

"There's a place called East Wood Hall not far away from Charity Garden."

"Let me enlighten you. That place belongs to Longmen's Eight Inner and Outer Halls."

"The people there surpass that of the thirty-six Longmen branch leaders. Every single one of them is a talented fighter as well."

Jeff was quite content with how everything turned out. He shot Harvey a playful glance, all smug and confident.

"The head of East Wood Hall is a good friend of mine."

"Right when you barged in here, I had already sent him a message."

"I think he should be here soon!"

"You should kill me while you still can."

Jeff casually provoked Harvey, as if the gun pointing at his head was just a toy.

He then finished the wine in his hand.

What a fearless and dominant man!

He was completely unaffected by the entire situation.

Disdain filled him when he saw Harvey keeping his finger off the trigger.

"What? You're not done thinking?"

"You should pick up the pace."

"The people from East Wood Hall are about to be here."

"Their strength is beyond your wildest imagination!"

"You won't have a chance when they get here!"

However, at this very moment, a woman's cold voice echoed.

"Pardon me."

"Since those from East Wood Hall were mobilized without proper reason..."

"They were all detained."

"I'll take my time to question every single one of them tomorrow."

"I'd like to see what kind of punishment they'll get after doing something like this!"

The gate of Charity Garden was kicked down.

The crowd was shocked once more.

Chapter 3544

A group of people in black robes charged into Charity Garden, swords in hand.

Their heads were raised high, and their hands were heavily callused. It was apparent that they were experts.

They moved orderly and surrounded Jeff's men as soon as they got inside.

Langston looked horrified.

"Rachel?! What are you doing here with your men?"

Clare was immediately furious.

"Longmen's Law Enforcement have no business being here!"

"You think you can get yourself involved in anything that you want?!"

The rest of the crowd watched with frantically twitching eyes.

Everyone in Flutwell knew what Longmen's Law Enforcement represented.

They were Longmen's police force.

Not only were they powerful, but they also wielded powerful authority.

They were granted special permission to take out whoever was necessary before making their reports by the royal court.

Recently, Rachel had been rising to power within Flutwell's upper social circle.

A lot of people understood how she operated.

While the head of Law Enforcement was secluding himself, Rachel had been acting on behalf of Law Enforcement.

The people she brought with her were specifically handpicked after she rose to power.

Not only were they strong, but their loyalty was also top-notch.

Simply put, with such people supporting her, Rachel could be considered a prominent figure in Flutwell.

Those in the know could immediately sense danger.

Jeff, who had been in control of the entire situation, finally frowned.

"You should realize what you're doing right now, Rachel!"

"Half of the Eight Inner and Outer Halls are with me!"

"Right now, you're forcing my hand!"

However, Rachel ignored Jeff completely.

"Confiscate every single firearm! Whoever resists will be executed immediately!"

The Law Enforcement disciples stepped forward, pointing their swords at the Osborne family bodyguards.

"Drop your weapons!"

"We'll kill you if you don't!"

The bodyguards frowned; they came from one of the five hidden families...

Yet, they were already disarmed before they could even move a single inch. What an embarrassment!

They instinctively looked at Langston.

Swish, swish, swish!

Before they could make a decision, a disciple had already taken action.

"Aaagh!"

Blood spurted out of a few bodyguards' wrists, and they dropped their firearms. They had no choice but to lie on the ground while covering their wounds.

The other bodyguards were furious at that. They raised their weapons, wanting to fight back...

But before they could make any other sudden movements, they could feel the cold steel of swords against their necks.

Compared to the experts of Longmen's Law Enforcement, the bodyguards were completely inferior.

Clare was horrified when she saw the bodyguards all taken down immediately.

"Do you know what you're doing, Rachel?!" she screeched, enraged.

"You're causing trouble for the head of Law Enforcement!"

"Young Master Bauer is destined to become the master of Longmen and the Bauer family!"

"You must have a death wish if you're planning to go against him!"

"That's right! Who do you think you are, Rachel?" the two mistresses on the side screamed angrily.

Chapter 3545

"I'd like to see how you'll get out of the situation after acting so high and mighty!"

"You'll regret it soon enough! You'll pay for your ignorance!"

The mistresses bore ugly, wretched looks.

They were already used to Jeff's arrogance and dominant attitude.

Usually, they would usually be the ones humiliating others behind Jeff.

When had they been on the receiving end?

Thus, they couldn't accept this fact.

Rachel showed no emotion, unaffected by their outbursts.

"Even if God shows up in the flesh, I'll still stand with Sir York!"

"Anyone who goes after him, dies!"

Langston and the others were horrified.

Everyone knew Rachel was the vice head of Longmen's Law Enforcement. She was considered to be half a citizen of Flutwell.

Despite that, she was working for an outsider with reckless abandon!

Her attitude toward the situation would only cause more confusion.

"I have to admit, you're pretty damn bold!"

"Not only did you suppress East Wood Hall, but you also surrounded my men and ruined my plans."

"Have you thought of the consequences of doing such a thing?"

Jeff narrowed his eyes as he stared at the beautiful woman in front of him. A smirk hung on his lips as he tried to resist his intrusive thoughts.

"Don't you understand that your mistakes will shame the head of Law Enforcement and tarnish Longmen's reputation as a whole?!"

Jeff's ruthlessness was hidden behind his small smile.

"Your actions will ruin everything you've worked for!"

Slap!

Rachel wasted no time slapping Jeff across the face.

"Do you think you can teach me how to do things?"

Jeff grunted in pain. He didn't think Rachel would dare to do this to him.

A palm print could be clearly seen on his face. For him, it was a mortifying sight.

Filled with disbelief, Jeff glared at Rachel.

He never expected things would turn out this way.

When facing him, the Eight Inner and Outer Halls would have to show their respect...

Rachel was just a mere vice head of Law Enforcement, yet she didn't even hesitate to slap him in the face.

This was simply unbelievable!

Compared to an outsider like Harvey, Rachel's interests were aligned with Longmen since she was a disciple of Law Enforcement.

It would be easy for Jeff to deal with her once and for all...

But she still slapped him in the face.

Langston and the others were bewildered. They couldn't believe what they had just witnessed.

Harvey, on the other hand, was poker-faced.

Rachel was announcing her absolute loyalty, showing Harvey that she would stand with him no matter what.

For an elite, a subordinate like her was no doubt the most trustworthy.

Jeff came to his senses soon after. He squinted at Rachel while covering his face.

"Good. Good. I'll remember you for this!"

"Right: Time's up," Harvey calmly said.

"Where's Mandy?"

Jeff spread his arms, grinning.

"I'm sorry. I really don't know."

Bang!

Harvey wasted no time pulling the trigger on Jeff's left arm.

The bullet pierced right through, and blood gushed everywhere. It was a sight!

shocking

Chapter 3546

Clare and the other women almost screamed out of fear.

Langston and the others watched with frantically twitching eyes; they went weak after seeing what happened in front of them.

They could tell Harvey was a dominant man...

But they didn't think he was actually ruthless enough to shoot Jeff!

Did he really not fear the consequences?

"Ngh!"

Jeff's body swayed to the point he almost fell, but he still gritted his teeth, desperately stopping himself from screaming.

A prominent figure like him wouldn't be able to stand any kind of shame.

Harvey pointed his firearm at Jeff's right arm, his eyes cold.

"Where's Mandy?"

Jeff chuckled coldly, his face filled with disdain.

"I don't know!"

"Shoot me again if you dare!"

The guests were infatuated by his show of courage and quietly cheered him on.

'That's what a real man looks like!'

Ordinary men would've given up at this point.

"Fine."

Harvey nodded.

Bang!

This time, he pulled the trigger on Jeff's right arm.

Even the all-powerful Jeff could only see stars circling around him. He was on the verge of passing out.

He couldn't resist the pain any longer; he instantly slammed his knees on the ground.

Harvey casually moved the firearm on Jeff's head.

"Are you sure you want to see if I'm willing to pull the trigger on your head as well?"

Jeff was gritting his teeth. Rachel stepped forward.

"I know how Sir York operates, Young Master Bauer. If you don't tell him where his wife is, he'll definitely blow your brains out."

Jeff's eyes twitched frantically, but he calmed down right after. He couldn't allow himself to be humiliated this way.

"I contacted your fifth mistress while I was on my way here. She has already told me a few things."

"You shouldn't be too cocky at this point."

"Don't forget what you were setting out to do in the first place!"

"Don't you understand what you should be doing right now?!"

"For your own goal, shouldn't you be swallowing your pride?"

"Because of your recklessness, you chose to fight Sir York to the death and forgot about your original intentions."

"Is your pride more important than that? Are you going to die just for something as trivial as this?"

"Of course, I can lend you a hand if you turn back right now. Nobody will talk about what happened today if you do."

Jeff's expression flitted between different states after hearing Rachel's words.

At the end of the day, he was only putting on such a big show to test Harvey.

He wanted to see if Harvey was as impressive as Elanor had claimed.

As it turned out, Harvey was much more impressive than he expected.

Jeff was forced to a corner even after making such concise plans.

Everything had deviated from his original intentions completely...

Still, he couldn't bear with himself if he gave up so easily.

Harvey chuckled.

"Since Young Master Bauer's not afraid of dying, I'll keep you alive. The bullet holes in your arms are pretty easy to fix..."

"But I'll be putting two more in your legs."

"Even if the wounds manage to heal, you'd be sitting in a wheelchair for the rest of your life."

"I wonder if Longmen and the Bauer family would accept a cripple as their master..."

"What about your good brothers?"

"How would a crippled young master live his life in the future?"

"When that happens, your territories, your wealth, and every single one of your mistresses will belong to them..."

"Just thinking about that excites me."

Chapter 3547

Jeff's expression changed once again.

He could accept a lot of things...

But he couldn't accept the fact that everything he owned would be given to his two brothers.

Especially Joseph!

In the past, Joseph was only his follower-his servant.

How could he accept the fact that Joseph would be taking his place?

After pondering the situation, he finally cast away his useless arrogance and calmed himself down.

He would end up a lot worse if he didn't, after all.

"Let me call someone," he said, his face a horrible expression.

Rachel smiled, and took the phone out of his pocket.

Jeff then dialed a number. A cold voice could be heard from the other side.

"What are your orders, Young Master Bauer?"

Jeff's expression changed before he exclaimed, "Send Mandy Zimmer back to Hearthstone Corporation right now!"

Jeff slowly pushed the firearm away from his head, remaining absolutely calm.

"One more thing," he said, his eyes blank as he looked at Harvey.

"I decided to give you back the money I owed with interest!"

"I hope we can bury the hatchet after this."

"I guarantee you, I won't speak about this in the future!"

"I hope you'll accept my sincerity."

"I did all this just to see if you're capable of being my ally."

"And right now, you definitely are!"

Harvey couldn't help but be impressed by Jeff's words. This man was truly a prominent figure.

Not only was Jeff able to give up when he needed to, he also managed to deal with the entire situation with just a single word.

'He took all this embarrassment just to test someone?'

'Nobody would call him weak if word spread about this in the future.'

Harvey stared at Jeff with narrowed eyes for a long time.

"Fine. I'll accept your offer."

"That said, I'll only accept if my wife is safe and sound."

"If not, I'll reenact this little play another time!"

At Hearthstone Corporation, Mandy was dropped off at the entrance.

At the same time, a man with a camera who looked like a director approached her respectfully.

"I'm very sorry, CEO Zimmer."

"Everything's all just a big misunderstanding!"

"We were filming a reality TV show when your convoy passed. We thought you were one of the guests who were joining us."

"After confirming your identity, we decided to send you back here immediately."

"Please accept our apology."

The director signed a hundred and fifty thousand dollar check and shoved it in Mandy's hand.

He quickly ran away afterwards, leaving a nonplussed Mandy.

Inside a Toyota Alphard not far away, a few Longmen disciples who saw everything quickly sent a message to Harvey.

Flutwell, in the side hall of Charity Garden.

The chaos outside had already been dealt with.

Jeff was immediately sent to the hospital to treat his injured arms.

The

person who now stood in front of Harvey was none other than the elegant- looking Fifth Mistress, Elanor.

Harvey's phone chimed; after taking a glance at the pictures sent to him, the tense look on his face dissipated.

From the pictures Rachel had sent, not only was Mandy safe, but she was also completely in the dark about the entire truth. This was the most important thing.

Chapter 3548

Elanor had a faint smile when she saw Harvey calming down.

She glanced at Harvey with a profound look on her face, and said quietly, "I have to admit, you're very bold. The things you do are out of the ordinary."

"You killed your way to Charity Garden all by yourself, then you humiliated Young Master Bauer before shooting him in the arms."

"Aren't you scared of him lashing out?"

Elanor's voice seemed to grow a little colder.

"Am I supposed to call you reckless or bold?"

A hint of rage could be seen in Elanor's distant expression.

Instead of losing her classy persona, the unspeakable aura she exuded was amplified by the emotions inside her.

She had a face that was asking for punishment, yet, any man would want to be with her.

She would be hated at first, but any man would want to conquer her after being with her for a while.

"Are you done talking?"

Harvey showed no emotion.

"Sit down already."

"I'm already giving you enough respect for letting you off the hook for what happened."

"Besides, I wouldn't mind killing or crippling Jeff if he's really planning to fight me."

"All I need to do is to pull the trigger anyway."

Elanor couldn't help but be enraged upon looking at Harvey's calm expression.

After a long while, she sat down angrily in front of Harvey. She gulped down a glass of water to calm herself down.

"Speak. You came all the way here to negotiate for Young Master Bauer, didn't you?"

"You were the one who suggested he should become allies with me, right?"

Harvey took a sip of his tea, still calm.

"That's right. The enemy of my enemy might not be my friend, but they'll definitely be good allies."

"I didn't think you'd be reckless enough to cause this much trouble, though. There would've been no end to this fight!"

Harvey chuckled.

"You think so?"

"The other two brothers are the ones benefiting from the fight."

"Young Master Bauer only held back because he wanted me to deal with Joseph."

"Am I wrong?"

Elanor's face darkened in an instant.

"You're right," she said after a sigh.

"Young Master did mean to do this, but remember, we aren't using you. This is an alliance!"

"After all, we all have enemies to deal with. It's better to fight them together than alone, right?"

"An alliance? That's nice of you to say."

"If I'm guessing correctly, I'll be the only one taking action while Young Master Bauer adds fuel to the flames!"

"After I deal with both of his enemies and he takes the position of the master of his family, he may even come back and bite me."

"He might just kill me once and for all to reclaim his pride."

"Am I right?"

Chapter 3549

Elanor's expression changed; drops of sweat could be seen gliding down her head.

She didn't expect Harvey to be this hard to deal with, and that he was able to see through Jeff so easily.

Simply put, Jeff's actions were as clear as day to Harvey.

Harvey narrowed his eyes at Elanor for a while before flashing her a small smile.

"But don't worry."

"Since I'm here, that means I'm willing to work together with your young master despite his schemes."

"After all, we'll all get what we need in this cooperation."

"You staying here is enough to show Jeff's attitude toward the situation."

"Why don't you tell me what Jeff wants me to do instead?"

"I'll be able to let go of today's grudge, and I'll happily cooperate with him."

Elanor finally let out a sigh upon hearing Harvey's words.

She thought Harvey would go against Jeff without hesitation because of Mandy's kidnapping.

But judging from the situation, Harvey had his bottom line and his way of doing things as well.

Since Jeff didn't actually hurt Mandy, for the sake of looking at the bigger picture, Harvey was able to let go of his grudge to some extent.

Elanor was glad Jeff was able to let go of his pride and choose to cooperate at the most crucial moment.

If he didn't, he would most probably die to Harvey in their fight.

"You're the first person who can make Young Master Bauer bow his head after so many years!"

"The entire city is in your hands now. Perhaps even the entire northwest region of the country!"

Elanor took out a check from her Hermes bag and put it in front of Harvey.

"This is all the money that's been owed."

"One hundred and fifty million dollars, and seventy million dollars worth of interest."

"The debt is settled once and for all!"

"Not only does the interest represent Young Master Bauer's sincerity, but it also represents the respect he has for you."

"Not only that, but this also means he's sincere about burying the hatchet between you two. I do hope you'll understand him."

Harvey smiled.

"Since he gave an extra forty-two million dollars for the interest, I'll believe your words."

"I'll keep the money."

"I'll let him off the hook for what happened."

"I'll be his ally too..."

"However, this isn't enough."

"This isn't enough for me to deal with Joseph yet."

Elanor's face darkened.

"You're crossing the line, Harvey!"

"You were already going against Joseph from the beginning! You're destined to go against each other because of Flutwell's new district!"

"Joseph is your problem in the first place!"

"We're already on your side at this point! What else do you want?"

"I want you to hit Joseph at his most vulnerable moment," Harvey replied without hesitation.

Elanor frowned.

"What do you mean?" she asked in hushed tones.

"I'm planning to teach Joseph a lesson."

"I'll let him know that his fate was already sealed when he asked for the Indians' help."

"I hope both Longmen and the Bauer family turn a blind eye to the situation when I do."

"This should be an easy task for Young Master Bauer, right?"

Elanor's expression changed slightly.

"Why would he even do something like that for you?"

Harvey grinned.

"Because, you'll tell him it's in his best interest to do so..." 1

Chapter 3550

Elanor froze.

"Why? What makes you think that I'd say that?"

Harvey stood up and picked up the check with a tiny smile.

"You're the fifth mistress. You'll never become the lady of the Bauer family..."

Harvey turned around and left after that.

While Elanor's expressions were constantly changing, Rachel entered the room.

She casually put down a check in front of Elanor.

Elanor's eyes twitched frantically after taking a look at it.

Seventy million dollars was written on it.

The check was clearly signed by Harvey beforehand.

Elanor's eyes sharpened into a hard glare.

"What's the meaning of this?" she demanded coldly.

"Is he trying to buy me off?"

"Let me tell you something! Young Master Bauer's women can never be bought!"

"We only live for Young Master Bauer!"

"Calm down."

Rachel tapped Elanor's smooth shoulder, calm.

"Sir York isn't planning to buy you off."

"He just wants you to know that there are times when all the emperor's concubines are sent to limbo."

"Let alone a rich playboy like Young Master Bauer,"

"You're called a mistress on the outside, but if we put it bluntly, you're just his plaything."

"If you don't secure a living for yourself while you're young, how are you supposed to survive when you're old?"

"You can't just turn yourself into a beggar after being someone else's mistress now, can you?"

Elanor's body trembled. Then, she let out a sigh.

"You got me."

"Tell Sir York I appreciate his gift."

"I'll make sure Young Master Bauer accepts his request."

"Also, please tell Sir York to hurry."

"After all, we both want Joseph to fall, don't we?"

Elanor then turned around and left, her face bleak.

After dealing with Jeff, Harvey had no intention to go for Joseph immediately.

Joseph deserved death, but Harvey wasn't in a rush to kill him just yet.

Rather, Jeff was the person who should be rushing.

As Harvey was planning his next steps, his phone rang all of a sudden.

Dillon's frightened voice could be heard on the other side of the phone.

"This is bad, Sir York!"

"One of our students died while he was training here!"

Harvey frowned at those words. And so, he immediately left the scene to Rachel before rushing to the Martial Hall with his Toyota Prado.

How was a student already dead before he even started his business?

What a joke!

Half an hour later, Harvey arrived in front of the Martial Hall.

It was already nighttime, but a lot of people had shown up at the entrance of the ancient-looking Martial Hall. Sounds of sobbing and shrieking echoed all over the place.

Harvey's vision became clear when he squeezed past the crowd.

Dillon's face was completely swollen. It was clear he was beaten up without even being given the chance to fight back.

Several fierce-looking people were there, carrying wooden sticks. They looked as if they were planning to kill Dillon.

Dillon's juniors were terrified; naturally, they had never seen such a thing.
