

Guardians 411

Chapter 411 Quill actually fooled all the members of the Quinn family. Old Madam Quinn slumped on the chair with a dull gaze. She really did not want to believe this but Homer definitely would not joke about it! In the yard, it was dead silent. "Mr. Larson, you... what you said is true?" Samuel remained silent for a long time and stared at Homer with eyes widened. "Mr. Simon, do you think that I'm very free?" Homer frowned slightly upon hearing this. "Uh... no, no. Mr. Larson is the chairman of the Larson Pharmaceuticals, which has a thriving business, so I understand that you're quite busy..." Samuel was stunned for a moment and quickly smiled and waved his hand to explain immediately afterward. "So, does Mr. Simon think that I'll deliberately take time out to joke with you?" Homer's tone was already a little impatient. He originally wanted to count on this matter to get closer to Sean. Only now did he know that he was merely a cat's paw of Quill, which put him in an embarrassing situation.

Homer's current mood was so bad now.

"No no no, Mr. Larson, that's not what I meant, I just..."

Samuel coughed and explained with a blushing face.

Although he was also the person in charge of the Quinn Corporation.

The business of the Quinn family had declined a lot now.

After all, the Quinn Corporation was less vibrant than the Larson Pharmaceuticals, which was in their golden era. "Mr. Simon, you don't need to explain to me. "I came here today to make things clear. "As for what you think or do, that's the Quinn family's business.

"I'll leave first."

Homer waved his hand slightly and he was about to leave.

"Mr. Larson, what's the relationship between you and Sean? "He was just a catatonic cripple for two years. What ability does he have to let the Larson Pharmaceuticals do this?"

Old Madam Quinn got up slowly and asked this question. This question also made Simon and the others extremely puzzled.

"Halalia!" Homer laughed upon hearing Old Madam Quinn's words. The Quinn family was even more puzzled. "It turns out that Mr. Lennon was just a catatonic cripple for two years in the eyes of old Madam Quinn. "Do you know that it was Mr. Lennon who kept your family safe and bountiful?" Homer stopped smiling. He did not want to say more but the attitude of the Quinn family really made him uncomfortable. "Mr. Larson, I don't agree with what you said. "How can you say that the survival of the Quinn family lies on him? "If he really has this ability, why is he still a loser two years later?" Simon curled his lips and felt very disdainful.

Although the words he said to Homer were rude, they made sense. However, instead of being angry, Homer shook his head and chuckled after hearing Simon's words. "In ancient times, there was the king of the Kingdom of Yalissi endured hardship to plan revenge, and the king of the Kingdom of Ceva accomplished nothing for three years, but they had achieved great ambitions and an empire later. "The more talented people usually succeed later. The greatest achievements are often the most immeasurable."

Chapter 412 "He never stood out at all but he can make amazing achievements all of a sudden.

"That's all I wanted to say. You're on your own now!"

Homer turned and left after he finished speaking. His group of bodyguards in black followed behind him. Vroom vroom! With the roar of the engine, Homer's motorcade quickly left.

Samuel reacted, after a pause. He actually wanted to see him off.

However, Homer did not even look at him at all and directly made for his car and walked away.

The courtyard was still silent after Homer had left.

Everyone looked puzzled with mixed feelings. Homer's words today were just like a big stick knocked on their heads. It directly knocked on Old Madam Quinn's and the other's heads until they felt dazed. "Old Madam, uhm... this..."

After a long pause, Simon was the first to react. He stuttered as he looked at Old Madam Quinn.

The others gradually came to their senses after hearing Simon's voice.

"Old Madam Quinn, this Sean..."

"Is Sean... really not an ordinary person as what Mr. Larson said?"

Samuel and the others also all looked at Old Madam Quinn.

However, how would Old Madam Quinn know about this!

"Whew!"

Old Madam Quinn exhaled slowly and leaned against the back of the chair.

"The cooperation with the Larson Pharmaceuticals was brought together by Sean."

Old Madam Quinn murmured with eyes were filled with complicated emotions. She still remembered that the Quinn family was preparing to let Sean recognize the reality and let him leave the Quinn family voluntarily. Speaking of the cooperation with the Larson Pharmaceuticals, Sean actually mentioned that he could interrupt the cooperation between the Larson Pharmaceuticals and the Quinn family with a single word.

No one believed him at the time,

After that, the cooperation between the Larson Pharmaceuticals and the Quinn family continued as usual and they even felt that Sean was just bragging. Now, they had finally understood everything, recognized everything, and understood the facts.

Sean never lied. It was just that they never believed whatever Sean said.

“Tell me, what are your thoughts?” Old Madam Quinn was silent for a long time and looked at the crowd and asked. Simon the others looked at each other and all sat down on the chairs again afterward. “Grandma, could it... could it be that Sean paid a lot of money to invite Mr. Larson to play this scene? Simon’s Adam’s apple rolled, swallowed a mouthful of saliva, and spoke with eyes widened. “Yes! It’s very possible!” Faye was stunned when she heard the words and clapped her palms and spoke.

“B*stard!”

However, Old Madam Quinn slammed the table and angrily reprimanded both of them in silence. “I said I want to listen to your thoughts, not your ridiculous ideas! “What’s Mr. Larson’s identity? Was he bought by Sean to fool us? “How much do you despise Sean to the point that you deny everything about him?”, Old Madam Quinn reached out and slammed the table, stared at Simon and the others and asked.

Chapter 413 “Grandma... didn’t you also... looked down on him...?” Simon Quinn cleared his throat, lowered his head, and threw the question back at Old Madam Quinn, causing her to be at a loss for words. She had definitely not thought highly of Sean Lennon.

However, that was in the past. The Sean in the past was nothing but a veg, a disabled cripple that could not stand up. In the two years that he was at the Quinn’s, he relied on Willow completely to survive. How would people like this gain approval from Old Madam Quinn? Yet, Sean had regained full consciousness. He also had refined healing skills and have saved Old Madam Quinn’s life twice. Besides that, it was also proven that he was the one behind the partnership with Larson Pharmaceuticals.

After all that he has done, how dare anyone still call him useless?

That was why Old Madam Quinn had a drastic change in her attitude towards Sean.

“Old Madam, it seems like Sean is really behind the deal with Larson Pharmaceuticals.

“I’d never thought that he would be this capable. When did he become so acquainted with the Larsons?” i

Samuel spoke slowly, confusion filling his eyes. They would not pay close attention to what happened with Willow and her family.

Indeed, they were clueless as to when Sean had any interaction with Larson Pharmaceuticals.

“Cut the bullsh*t. I wanna hear about what we should do next right now!” Samuel Quinn and the rest were crystal clear about what Old Madam Quinn meant.

It was none other than the kind of attitude they should have when they face Sean from here on out.

They had to choose between Sean Lennon and Quill Zimmer. “Grandma, to me, even if Sean was indeed the one behind this partnership, it couldn’t really mean anything much.

“Perhaps Sean had some coincidental ties with Larson Pharmaceuticals. So, all in all, it’s not entirely Sean’s doing “Young Master Zimmer on the other hand is the firstborn son of the River City Zimmer family, and the future of the Zimmer family is in his hands.

“Hence, even with few capabilities that Sean had portrayed, I’d still think it’s better for Willow to be with Young Master Zimmer.

“As for Sean, just get him to go back where he came from.” Simon would stand firm on Quill Zimmer’s side, no matter when it was. “I think the same too, Old Madam.

“Even if Sean is really not that simple, we can’t just let him be with Willow because of that.

“I still think Young Master Zimmer will be a better fit for Willow. The union in marriage with the Zimmers is greatly beneficial to us Quinns.” Samuel said the same after a short pause. The others were nodding their heads as well.

How strong the River City Zimmer family was no new news. Sean was only acquainted with Homer Larson. Even if he knew other VIPs, it was useless. 1 To be acquainted with someone was just one line of network. As the firstborn son of the Zimmer family, Quill came from formidable background.

There was indeed no need to compare between the both of them. “Don’t hesitate, grandma! “So what if Sean knew Larson Pharmaceuticals? No matter how big they are, it still didn’t mean that Sean’s the one the is the strong, capable one. “Let’s just talk about booking the entire Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. Could Sean do it? “Even if he could fork out that huge sum of money, could he even snatch the hotel from under Young Master Zimmer’s nose? “This is why, compared to Young Master Zimmer, he is a nobody.” Faye sat by Old Madam Quinn’s side and chimed in as well. “All of you, you’re right.” Old Madam Quinn nodded heavily after being quiet for a while. “The conversation ends here.

“We’ll not chase Sean Lennon out for now.”

Chapter 414 “The plan will go on as usual for Young Master Zimmer and Willow. “The ninth is around the corner. After Quill Zimmer confesses his love for Willow, if Sean Lennon is smart, he would leave on his own accord.” Alas, Old Madam Quinn weighed the pros and cons of both men and leaned towards Quill Zimmer’s side.

In Willow’s house.

“Mr. Lennon, I’m sorry, I’m really sorry, I didn’t think...”

Homer Larson came straight to Willow’s house right after he left from Old Madam Quinn’s.

The point was not that he had done wrong.

Instead, it was whether he was willing to repent after he had done wrong.

Homer Larson was sure that he wanted Sean to know where he stood. “It’s fine. Quill Zimmer wants to put on a show, just let him be.

“I knew about all these things.”

Sean waved his hand slightly, his tone was nonchalant.

“Mr. Lennon, y-you knew? “If you knew, why didn’t you tell me, so I could clarify things sooner?”

Homer was stunned as he asked in confusion.

“No need for that.”

Sean opened the washing machine lid and loaded the clothes in there into the dryer, then he pressed the button to turn it on gently. “It’s just merely Quill Zimmer. There’s no need for me to bother about him.

“Who cares about the little antics he’s up to?”

Sean really did not care one bit about Quill Zimmer. The enemies he had faced were all eloquent, well-spoken, witty, and of great caliber. Amongst the commanders of the enemies that Sean had slaughtered, each one of them was a lot more powerful than Quill Zimmer in terms of personal capabilities and family background.

These fine men were all slain by Sean. Quill Zimmer was nothing but a pompous heir to a rich family. What else was his worth? How would the chickens understand what an eagle plans to do? How could mere ants see the same as what a mighty tiger would see?

“Mr. Lennon... t-this is...”

“Frankly, you don’t need to live with the Quinns to achieve great things.

“I’m curious, you...” Homer’s mouth twitched as he carefully asked Sean.

“Don’t be curious of things you should not be curious about.”

Sean’s reply had Homer nodding his head quickly.

“Okay, I know what you’re here for.

“I don’t blame you. Go home.” Sean waved his hands again, pressed the stop button on the dryer, took the clothes out, and was about to hang them up. “Mr. Lennon, how could you be doing all these things? “Could I get you a domestic helper?”

Homer looked at Sean and suggested quietly.

“No need. Willow has taken care of me, fed me, bathed me for the past two years.

“Washing a couple of her outfits for her is nothing.” Sean shook his head slightly as he hung the clothes up on the rack.

“Okay then... “Mr. Lennon, Quill Zimmer has already announced to the world that he will confess his love for Ms. Quinn three days later.

“All of River City knows about this. Do you need me to do anything?”

Homer nodded slightly as he asked for Sean’s opinions.

Chapter 415

“No need to do anything for now. I have my own arrangements.

“When I need you, I’ll let you know.”

Sean Lennon waved his hand as a sign of rejection. Homer Larson was silent for a while before he nodded dejectedly.

After all that, Homer did not dare to disturb Sean any longer and left.

Right after Homer left, Willow arrived home.

Sean noticed that Willow was not in a good mood.

“Sean...”

Willow looked at Sean, wanting to say something but nothing came out.

“Did someone say something to you out there?” Sean turned his head slowly towards her with a smile in his eyes.

“Yea...” Willow shook her head dejectedly.

Since the news of Quill Zimmer wanting to confess his love for her went out, everyone in the company was talking about it.

There were even people who went up to Willow and congratulated her. They knew that Willow had a fiancé, yet they congratulated her. It was clear that they did it on purpose.

“It’s fine.

“We’ve already endured the past two years. Another three days is nothing.

“Three days from now, I think I can give you an answer that you’d be satisfied with.”

Sean did not say much. His eyes that were filled with the brim with solemnness were locked on Willow.

“Sigh, let’s not talk about this.

“Worse comes to worst, I’ll bring you out on a trip that day to hide away from all of this.”

Willow stood up and went to her room to change.

“Sean, get ready and come with me to a gathering.

“I have a classmate that had just returned from overseas, and he’s treating us to a meal. Lexie and the rest will be there as well.”

Willow’s voice carried out of her room as she was changing “I’ll pass.”

Sean really wanted to go with Willow, but he did not want Willow to be humiliated because of him at her schoolmates’ gathering.

“No, you have to go. “This classmate of mine is a postgraduate in the medical field. After going overseas to further his studies, his skills are now even more enhanced.

“He’s gotten a Ph.D. as well.

“There are many hospitals overseas that had hired him with a handsome salary.

“It’d be great if he could give you a check-up.”

Willow was pretty adamant about this. “Willow, I know what’s going on with my body. Actually...” Sean wanted to explain to Willow before she cut him off. “I know you have healing skills as well. But there’s a saying that goes ‘a doctor cannot heal himself’, right?”

“What if that classmate of mine has a way to cure you?”

Willow initially did not want to go as well, but she was now adamant about going all because of Sean and his disability.

“Okay then.”

Sean nodded helplessly.

Quickly, Willow had gotten ready and was ready to leave.

With her looks, she did not need to put on too much makeup.

Her naturally exquisite face would shine glamorously even with the slightest makeup. Even though she was only wearing something ordinary and mundane, it had accentuated Willow’s great figure perfectly. Without the office wear, Willow looked less ‘strong woman’, and more ‘gentle, doleful woman !, which was enticing. “Let’s go. What are you doing, dumbfounded right there?”

Willow looked at Sean and frowned.

“You look beautiful.”

Sean snapped back to his senses and replied softly.

“Pffft, of course I know I’m beautiful.”

Willow smirked but was elated in her lieart.

Women dressed up nicely for no one but themselves.

To be able to earn Sean’s praises was something that was not easy to do.

Ziegler drove the BMW series as he took Sean and willow to Lakeside Park. 3

This was where Willow, Lexic, and the rest had planned to meet.

Kent Quinn had to go to a business meeting today, so he took the Bentley with him as a confidence boost.

Sean did not mind that. To him, cars were only a tool to get them to places.

This was why, if kent needed the car, he could just take it.

Lakeside Park When Sean and Willow had arrived, Lexie and the rest were already there waiting for them. Herbert Zael, Jay Bennett, and the rest were surprisingly there as well.

However, since they were all classmates, Sean was not caught off guard.

“You’re finally here, Willow!”

Lexie Lincoln walked up immediately and weaved her hand through Willow's arms.

"Hali! Fake sisterhood!"

Demi Lucien at the side snickered and made a snide comment under her breathe.

Willow nodded as she smiled. Then, she spoke. "Of course, for such a busy man like Brother Wade to make time for a meet-up with us, it really is no easy feat."

Chapter 416 Herbert chuckled meaningfully. "Of course, of course!" The boys beside Herbert nodded.

Only Jay smiled awkwardly at Sean and remained silent.

Jay no longer dared to act rashly in front of Sean.

Vroom vroom!

At that moment, the sound of a sports car could be heard from afar. Just from the sound of how hard the driver revved the engine, one could feel the arrogance of the driver.

Everyone turned around, and a car that looked completely purple and extremely cool sped over. Then, suddenly, he stopped in front of everyone. This car cost at least a million.

A young man in a high-end casual suit stepped down after that. The young man was 1.8 meters tall, and his appearance was not bad. The way he dressed showed that he was worth quite a lot. This person was Willow's classmate, Wade. "Ah, Wade!" "Wade is driving a sports car. Amazing!" "That's true. Wade is a doctor who went overseas for medical studies. He is quite famous in the medical field overseas."

Herbert and the others immediately went up to greet him enthusiastically. "Long time no see." Wade smiled faintly before turning to look at Willow.

"Willow, long time no see. You've gotten prettier."

Wade's attitude towards Willow was extremely gentle.

Herbert sneered when he saw this.

He also liked Willow but he naturally did not dare to compete with Wade.

Last time, Sean's BMW had really amazed them.

Today, Wade drove a Maserati worth millions.

How could Sean compare to Wade?

Sean was destined to be humiliated on this day. As Wade spoke, he walked to Willow's side and actually opened his arms, making to hug her.

"Wade, what are you doing?" Lexie harrumphed in displeasure. "Overseas, hugging is considered the most basic greeting." Wade's words carried a sense of superiority. "Cough, but we are in Great Solaria.

"Therefore, we should follow the local greetings." Willow coughed lightly. Then, she extended her hand and shook Wade's hand. "Wade, let me introduce you. This is my...friend." Willow pushed Sean forward without waiting for Wade to say anything else. "Sean, meet Wade."

Willow was still thinking of getting Wade to look at Sean's legs. Sean frowned slightly, not wanting to shake hands with Wade. However, he could not resist Wade's intense gaze and still reached out his hand. "Hello, I'm Sean."

Sean reached out to Wade.

However, Wade looked down at Sean. He had no intention of shaking hands with Sean. "Sorry, I'm a clean freak."

The moment Wade said that, the atmosphere changed. Herbert, Demi, and the others were trying to hold back their laughter. Sean's hand was raised in the air. This awkward scene made people laugh uncontrollably.

Were you not capable?

In front of Wade now, are you not being slighted?

Sean retracted his hand slowly as a cold glint flashed across his eyes.

"Wade, what did you mean by that?" Willow's smile gradually disappeared, and her tone carried unhappiness. "Haha, Willow, it's nothing. "Long time no see, my classmate. I'll be the host today.

"Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. I've already reserved the location."

Wade did not even look at Sean as he greeted everyone else.

He had already heard about Sean's identity from Herbert, so he would not treat Sean well. However, there was no rush. He had plenty of opportunities to humiliate Sean today. "What? Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel?"

"Wow, a six-star hotel. I've never been there before."

"Thanks to Brother Wade, I'm getting to go today, haha!" Everyone was excited when they heard that. After all, such a high-end place was not a place that one could go just because they wanted to. "Sean, are we still going?" At that moment, Willow felt somewhat uncomfortable. "Yes, of course."

Sean smiled, which confused Willow.

Chapter 417 Willow felt that Sean's smile seemed to have a deep meaning behind it.¹ However, she would never have thought that Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel could be associated with Sean.

If one was sick, he had to treat the illness.

Wade wanted to eat at this place, and Sean could treat him and his clean freak behavior at the same time. "YO, BMW 5 Series?" "Our classmate is doing pretty well. Whose car is it?" Wade praised him on the surface, but he actually shook the Maserati key in his hand as he spoke. "Cough, Wade, it's campus belle Willow." Herbert stepped forward and said to Wade.

"Oh? It's Willow!"

"Actually, there are not many women who drive BMWs overseas. "Willow, I think the Maserati suits you better. What do you think?"

Wade smiled and looked at Willow.

However, Willow did not say anything. She only leaned closer to Sean.

The meaning was obvious.

“Haha, just kidding.”

Wade shook his head and smiled. He found a way out for himself and called everyone to leave.

“Hey, Yancey, bring me along.

“Count me in. I’ve never sat in a sports car before.”

More than ten ex-classmates surrounded Willow like stars surrounding the moon.

“Sean, Wade has a good family background and is quite arrogant. “Don’t take it to heart. After he finishes looking at your legs, we’ll find a reason to leave. What do you think?”

Willow shook her head helplessly and asked Sean. Sean sneered in his heart. If Wade could do something that even he was helpless to fix, it was already impossible.

However, Willow had always taken this matter to heart. If Sean were to reject it, it would be a waste of her good intentions.

“Okay, I’ll listen to you.”

Sean smiled faintly and got into the car with Willow.

Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel

Sean and the others arrived together.

“Campus belle Willow, this place is not bad, right?”

Herbert looked at Willow and asked deliberately.

“Pretty good.”

Willow nodded. It was the only six-star hotel in River City, of course it would be good.

“Haha! We’re just basking in Brother Wade’s glory today!” “Otherwise, campus belle Willow, I’m afraid Sean will never be able to treat you to a meal here.

A male student behind Herbert said jokingly.

“His cooking is even better than a star chef’s.

“I think it’s better than eating outside.”

Willow’s expression did not change, and her reply was neither servile nor overbearing.

“Pfft.”

Hearing Willow’s words, everyone laughed secretly. Only a man like Sean would learn to cook, right?

As they spoke, everyone had already reached the hotel entrance.

“Long time no see, my classmate. I’ll be the host today.

“I promise to let everyone enjoy themselves, so leave it to me.”

Wade waved the high-end watch on his wrist and smiled proudly.

Herbert and the others immediately followed behind Wade, their faces filled with flattery.

“Swoosh!”

When Wade passed by the two security guards at the entrance, he threw the car keys over to them.

He felt that it was his right to have this security guard park his car for him. The security guard caught the key and was stunned when he looked up.

Was that Mr. Lennon on the wheelchair?

The two security guards looked at each other in confusion.

They had all witnessed Sean beating up Quill and his bodyguards in the hotel!

However, when the manager of the hotel arrived, he stood on Sean’s side. To be able to be a security guard at Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel, they naturally had the ability to tell things apart.

Therefore, even if the deputy general manager did not say anything, the employees could guess that Sean’s identity was not simple. “Should we inform the manager?”

A security guard retracted his gaze and asked the person beside him.

“Is there a need for us to inform the management? Stand guard.” The other security guard replied before helping Wade park the car.

In the lobby of the hotel. Seeing the luxurious and high-end decor, Demi’s eyes lit up. The last time Wade had invited them to play, the level was on a completely different ballpark. “Welcome to Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. Do you have a reservation, sir?” A hostess walked up and asked Wade who was walking at the front.

“I’m Wade Yancey.” Wade loosened his collar and directly said his name. “Mr. Yancey?” “The private room you booked is on the first floor.” A woman wearing a black suit and black stockings walked over. “Mm.”

Wade nodded.

The usher smiled and was about to lead the way when she saw Sean. At this moment, Sean’s expression was calm. He was being pushed by Willow while he was leisurely examining his nails.

“Ah...”

The female usher was stunned.

Chapter 418

“What is it?”

Wade saw that there was something wrong with her expression and frowned. “Ah, no, Mr. Yancey, this way please!” The female usher reacted and immediately bowed to lead the way.

Wade acutely noticed that the usher’s attitude seemed to be even more enthusiastic than before.

However, he did not think too much about it. With his status, he should receive such warm hospitality. After the female usher brought Wade, Sean, and the others to the private room, she immediately went to look for the floor manager.

“What did you say? Mr. Lennon came to eat with his friend?”

Inside the office, the floor manager’ stood up and asked in surprise.

“Yes, sir. It’s Mr. Lennon. I’m not mistaken.” The female usher nodded and confirmed what she saw.

The floor manager stood up and walked to the windowsill. Then, he slammed a hand on the table.

“I’ll go entertain them!”

The floor manager was about to leave after saying that, but he stopped after taking two steps.

“Manager, what’s wrong?” The female usher asked curiously. “... I’m not even qualified to entertain Mr. Lennon! “The general manager has already informed us. If Mr. Lennon comes again, we are to inform him so that he will come personally to receive Mr. Lennon.” The floor manager shook his head helplessly. He had to obey the general manager’s words. The female usher nodded and asked softly. “Then what should we do now?”

“I’ll inform the general manager now. “Do it this way on your end first...”

After giving instructions to the female usher, the floor manager immediately went to call the general manager.

In the private room,

“Wow! Isn’t this way too luxurious?”

“Is this really a place to eat? The environment is so good!” Demi, Herbert, and the others exclaimed in admiration.

This room was called the Grisaille Pavilion, and the interior decoration fit the theme of the Grisaille Pavilion.

The eye-catching murals and the lush greenery in the room made one feel more at ease.

The spacious room, coupled with the charming decor, left Herbert and the others speechless.

To be able to eat at such a place was definitely something to be proud of. Demi and the rest hurriedly took out their phones to take pictures and hurriedly posted on their Moments.

Wade definitely had to show off, “At overseas, this place is nothing.” Wade loosened his collar and said proudly. Hearing Wade’s words, Scan could not help but frown. In the past, as a member of the army, he had protected the nation’s peace.

In order to protect this peace, one had to kill the nation's enemies and exterminate the bandits. It was unavoidable that they would fight with foreigners.

Therefore, Sean did not have a good impression of those hostile forces.

As a citizen of Great Solaria, Wade had repeatedly used a tone of contempt to trample on locals. He kept praising everything overseas, which made Sean feel annoyed. However, Sean took a deep breath and suppressed his emotions.

"Wade, have you turned into a foreigner in the past few years?"

Lexie was a little uncomfortable, so she immediately mocked him.

"Hey, you're right!" Herbert immediately replied, "Brother Wade is now a foreigner!" Hearing this, Lexie immediately shut her mouth. "Haha, it's not that I want to say this, but if you guys have the chance, you really need to go overseas to take a look.

"Broaden your horizons, the environment, and living conditions overseas are much better than here."

Wade waved his hand and took a sip of tea. Then, he frowned and said, "The water from overseas is much better than the water here."

His words were filled with pride,

Sean finally found it unbearable, "Is the grass much greener on the other side?"

Sean looked up slowly and asked Wade.

"Huh? It is indeed that green!" Wade laughed and reached out to flick his high-end suit.

"Did you see my clothes? They're all from overseas. None of them are from Great Solaria."

Wade's attitude made Willow and Lexie frown slightly.

Herbert and the others began to flatter Wade, saying that he was right.

Sean's eyes slowly turned cold.

He remembered that he was once a soldier. Back on the battlefield, he had personally witnessed countless of his brothers dying at the hands of enemies.

Indeed, Sean would not bring the hatred on the battlefield to the civilian world, nor would he hate all foreigners because of this.

However, as a citizen of Great Solaria, Wade had belittled Great Solaria and praised foreign nations. Sean could not tolerate this.

"You said that this country is not as good as overseas, so I would like to ask, before you went overseas to study, where did you grow up? "If Great Solaria did not teach you so much, what right do you have to be valued in the medical field overseas?"

"Unfortunately, Great Solaria taught you knowledge but did not teach you how to be a human.

“You said the grass is greener overseas than in Great Solaria, so why did you come back here?” Sean narrowed his eyes slightly. His words were powerful. “Wham!” Wade slammed the table and looked at Sean with disdain. “I ignored you, so you’re going crazy now? “Are you jealous that I’m a foreigner, so that’s why you’re being such a sour grape? “Let me tell you, a lowly person like you will never be able to enjoy such treatment.

“You, Sean, will never reach the level of us foreigners.”

Wade’s tone was extremely arrogant, and his eyes were filled with disdain.

Sean smirked coldly.

“Indeed, I cannot reach your level.

“But the number of foreigners who died at my hands was more than ten thousand.”

When Sean said that, the entire room fell silent.

Chapter 419 Was he crazy?

What nonsense was Sean talking about?

Tens of thousands of foreigners’ lives?

What a joke!

“Oh my God! You’re making me laugh.”

Wade slowly stood up, his eyes filled with a sneer.

Just as he was about to speak, someone knocked on the door.

“Come in.” Wade snorted and shouted towards the door. The female usher immediately pushed the door open and entered. “Mr. Yancey, ladies and gentlemen, excuse me.” “Our general manager has personally informed us that since you are our hotel’s VIPs, so please come to our hotel’s private room.”

Everyone was stunned by the female usher’s words.

Wade was the first to react.

“Your manager has a good eye.”

“Let’s go then.” Wade’s heart was filled with pride.

It must be because of his status as a foreigner that this Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel dared not neglect him, right?

“Sean, take a look. This is what you call, having status.

“What’s the point of saying so much? You don’t even have the right to enter this Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel

“But if you follow Brother Wade, not only will you be able to eat here, but you will also be able to sit in the top private room. This is your honor!”

Herbert chuckled and mocked Sean

“What if this hotel gave us their best room because I’m here?”

Sean replied calmly

“Hehe, I like hearing you brag with a straight face. “I’ll find a time to listen to you brag all day.” Herbert’s face was filled with mockery as he followed behind Wade.

At Riverleaf Lakeside Hotel. In the Top VIP room, Purple Firmament Hall.

Purple Firmament Hall was located on the top floor of the entire hotel, and there was only one top-class private room on the entire floor.

The highest level of status. The interior of the room was truly luxurious beyond belief. On the ceiling, the beautiful crystal lights shone brightly, and the countless small lights around them complemented each other. High-end furniture could be seen everywhere. They were wrapped in real leather, and many of them had gold trim.

It was majestic, luxurious, and not vulgar for one bit at all. A purple fog that resembled the fog from dry ice kept gushing out and interweaving on the carpet. Being on the top floor of this hotel, being in such an environment, it felt like he had arrived at the Odin’s Vault in Valhalla.

The private room was even larger. It was filled with food, entertainment, and all sorts of equipment
“Wow, this place is awesome!”

Herbert and the others exclaimed as they looked around.

Even Willow and Lexie were stunned.

Such a high-class place really made people exclaim in admiration. However, Wade’s head was currently in a daze. He knew that he did not know the manager of this hotel. Yet now, this hotel had brought them to such a distinguished room. Is this a set-up?

Chapter 420 After all, a place like this would definitely not be cheap.

“Ahem, I say, since we are VIPs, shouldn’t you give us a discount on the price? “I don’t care about the money, but I should enjoy my power. Overseas, they pay a lot of attention to these kinds of things.”

Wade glanced at the female usher and asked seriously.

“Mr. Yancey, I am merely following my manager’s orders. “Only the most distinguished guests can enter this room. “Since you’re all VIPs here, they will not charge anything.” The female usher smiled and explained.

She meant that since Sean was present today, all their expenses would be waived. As for Wade and the others, they understood that the fee for the use of Purple Firmament Hall was waived.

Wade did not panic at all since they waived the cost of the private room.

He could afford to pay for everyone’s meals here.

“Alright, you may leave. “I’ll call you if I need you.” Wade smiled proudly and waved his hand.

“Yes!”

The female usher smiled and nodded before bowing and retreating. “Oh my god, Brother Wade, aren’t you being too proud?” The moment the female team leader left, Herbert sliouted.

“That’s right! This kind of top-class private room, I think the time here is worth actual gold!”

“Brother Wade actually elevated me with just one sentence. This is unbelievable!”

“See, this is what you call giving face! This is status!”

Herbert and Demi surrounded Wade to flatter him. Meanwhile, Wade looked at Sean with disdain.

“Why? You keep saying that you look down on my identity as a foreigner.

“But it just so happens that my identity can bring me a privilege that you can’t even imagine.” “Now, when I say the grass is greener overseas than the ones in Great Solaria, does anyone have any objections?”

Wade loosened his collar and said proudly. “No! Definitely not!”

Herbert immediately shook his head and chuckled.

The others also nodded repeatedly.

“Haha!

“Sit! Order whatever you want.”

Wade smiled smugly and gestured for everyone to sit down. “I thought you were quite thick-skinned.

“Now I realize that I was wrong. You’re not being thick-skinned anymore.

“You’re shameless!”

Sean shook his head slightly. His words made Wade’s expression change. “F*ck! What did you say?”

Wade suddenly turned around and looked at Sean coldly. “Do you really think that they changed us to this room for your sake?” Sean slowly stretched out his arms and placed them on the table. “If it’s not because of me, then it’s because of you?”

Wade sneered, his tone filled with disdain.

“It’s all because they’re giving face to me, Sean.”

Sean’s tone was calm, and his eyes were calm.